LCDR Serfess,

You are more than welcome to address your concerns with the brig or NCIS.

The government cannot support a 2 July meeting in A-50. I've asked the brig if you can use the IRO room - but the brig is unable to accommodate. I suggest you liaise directly with the brig regarding any future visits.

CDR Mayo,

Please find LCDR Morgan and I's notice or representation attached.

Our understanding is the CSSN Copeland's cell was searched and his IRO package was taken from him because according to NCIS he cannot have that documentation. Is there a sealing or protection order in this case? Please let us know why CSSN Copeland cannot review and keep the documents associated with his case. Please let us know what the Government believes CSSN Copeland can have and review in his case. If NCIS has questions about how CSSN Copeland received documents, please have them reach out me and LCDR Morgan.

Please let me know if you need anything from me. Are we good for Wednesday? We have a couple of A/C spaces in the defense that we can use to meet with CSSN Copeland – the same spaces being used today with a client from the brig.

I'll also call the brig tomorrow and see if I can help with a contact visit. The room LCDR Serfess is referring to with the glass does require folks to get closer to the glass to talk. I've dealt with it, too. It's doable, but I understand the preference to meet in a different room. I don't have any SA on what RLSO Security will require here though. So - I'll get more information on that as well. MTF.

CDR Mayo,

We need to have a confidential meeting. The brig will not allow us to have a "contact" visit. We can only meet with him in the room with the glass – where we have to yell for him to hear us (not confidential) and frankly we cannot hear him and do want him to have to yell. Building A-50 is where the rest of the defense team is so that seems like the best place. Further, it seems like the least risk of a potential member seeing him in shackles.

Please let me know if you need anything else.

Ref: (a) Your ltr dated 01 Jul 25
(b) LCDR Amanda Serfess, JAGC, USN, Detailed Defense Counsel ltr of 1 Jul 25

1. Pursuant to Rules of Courts-Martial 707, the Government's request for excludable delay, reference (a), from 10 June 2025 to 25 July 2025 is hereby approved. In response to that request, I received reference (b), Defense Counsel's objection to the Government's request.

2. In weighing the Government's request against Defense's objection, I have determined that the Government's request is reasonable in both length and rational based on the Government's stated basis.

3. My point of contact for this matter is Staff Judge Advocate, CDR Beasley-Ledet, JAGC, USN (757) 322-2936, or via email at ronisha.t.beasleyledet.mil@us.navy.mil.

(e) My ltr of 16 Jun 25
(f) CDR Mayo ltr of 1 Jul 25
(g) CNRMA ltr of 9 Jul 25

1. Per references (a) through (d), CSSN Copeland, USN, through counsel, demands a speedy trial or immediate release from pre-trial confinement. On 9 June 2025, CSSN Copeland was placed in pre-trial confinement. On 1 July 2025, the detailed special trial counsel requested excludable delay until 25 July 2025 and Commander, Navy Region Mid-Atlantic approved the request. As of today, 25 July 2025, no charges have been preferred. Based solely on the fact that the offense of violating Article 118 appears on the confinement order, CSSN Copeland has been placed in "Maximum" status in the Naval Consolidated Brig Charleston, Detachment Chesapeake. CSSN Copeland spends 22 hours per day in his cell with no other human contact. He is not permitted to have contact visits with his attorneys. As such, CSSN Copeland demands a speedy trial and requests to be brought to trial immediately. Additionally, CSSN Copeland requests to have a private meeting with his attorneys.

2. Please contact me with any questions or concerns you may have at 850-452-5572 or via email at amanda.m.serfess.mil@us.navy.mil.

1. The Defense has already submitted two speedy trial requests in relation to the Government's investigation and case into CSSN Jermiah Copeland, USN. CSSN Copeland has been in confinement for over 50 days without charges. First, CSSN Copeland has the right to dispute his pretrial confinement, to do so requires discovery. Second, the professional rules of responsibility require fairness. If the trial counsel has access to discovery, out of fairness, it should be shared with the defense. Finally, providing discovery to the defense will assist in avoiding speedy trial prejudice and permit the defense to be prepared if the government pursues charges in this case. In accordance with references (a) and (b), which govern fairness to opposing parties and Government counsel responsibilities, and references (c) and (d), which govern pretrial confinement and pre-preferral sessions of court, the Defense requests the Government produce for use, inspection, and/or copying the following in the subject case:

a. Evidence

(1) Any evidence that is material to either the issue of guilt or the sentence, regardless of admissibility, that is known to the government or agents thereof, including closely aligned civilian authorities or entities, witnesses, or consultants.

(2) Any sworn or signed statements relating to the charged offenses, and any notes derived from those oral statements relating to the charged offenses.

(3) Any books, papers, documents, photographs, tangible objects, media, electronic records, or copies or portions thereof, which are within the possession, custody, or control of the government or agents thereof, including closely aligned civilian authorities or entities, and which are relevant to defense preparation or are intended for use by the trial counsel as evidence in the prosecution case-in-chief at trial.

(4) Any results or reports of physical or mental examinations, and of scientific tests or experiments, or copies thereof, which are within the possession, custody, or control of the government or agents thereof, including closely aligned civilian authorities or entities, and which are relevant to defense preparation or are intended for use by trial counsel as evidence in the prosecution case-in-chief at trial.

(5) Evidence known to the government that reasonably tends to negate the guilt or reduce the degree of guilt of the Accused on a charged offense, or is otherwise favorable to the Accused under reference (e).

(6) Evidence that adversely affects the credibility of any prosecution witness or evidence.

(7) All evidence or information of any identification of the Accused.

(8) A written list of, and access to, all evidence seized from the person or property of the Accused, or believed to be owned by the Accused, as well as any search warrant, consent form, command authorization or other basis upon which any search was conducted or any evidence was seized.

(9) Notice of the government's intent to offer any out-of-court statement under the residual hearsay exception.

(10) Copies of any diagrams that any witness has used for identification purposes and any notes or writing that any witness has reviewed and indicated was correct or adopted as an accurate statement.

(11) Copies of any subpoena or subpoena duces tecum issued in this case.

b. Investigative Documents, Records, and Procedures.

(1) A complete, legible, color copy, including all attachments, of any investigative report created by any investigative agency or command related to this case, specifically including but not limited to:

(a) All Naval Criminal Investigative Service (NCIS) Interim Reports of Investigation;

(b) All memoranda or reports drafted by personnel assigned to USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS (DDG 95) relating to this case; and

(c) All local law enforcement reports addressing the allegations, interactions, complaints, and arrests.

(d) All reports and notifications drafted by the Navy Absentee Collection and Information Center (NACIC) regarding CSSN Copeland and CSSN A.R.

(2) Any agency or law enforcement documents and data, made in connection with this case, including all attachments. This request includes all forms and documents, including witness reliability forms, data sheets, and other relevant documents. This request includes, but is not limited to, the following relevant documentation:

(a) Interview logs;

(b) Interview records;

(c) Source dossier and forms related to any Confidential Informants;

(d) Informants' notes;

(e) Any document detailing the disbursement of any funds in support of the investigation in this case;

(f) Investigative records checks, including NCIC checks, run on any person during the investigation of this case;

(g) Any documents related to searches and seizures;

(h) Internal communications, emails, or other documents used to brief, respond to, and/or request investigative activities related to this case. This request specifically includes any communication between law enforcement and a member of the Accused's command, the convening authority, the staff judge advocate, or any officer directing the investigation;

(i) All records reflecting the chain of custody of any evidence seized and/or tested; and

(j) All personal or business notes, memoranda, and other writings prepared by investigators in the case that are not furnished pursuant to any other provisions of this request.

(3) The names of all government investigators who have participated, or are presently participating, in the investigation of this case, as well as their accreditation, any previous law-enforcement or investigative jobs held, and a statement as to their length of service in such jobs.

(4) Any evidence of the revocation or suspension of the credentials of any investigators involved in this case, or evidence that any investigator was a subject or suspect in an internal affairs investigation.

(5) Notice of any expected forensic or scientific testing that may destroy evidence.

(6) All laboratory reports, expert conclusions or statements, chain of custody documents, forensic notes, and other evidence or documents relied on by government experts in the performance of their services. This includes any laboratory tests, field tests, and reports thereof, including but not limited to DNA, fingerprints, blood samples, handwriting exemplars, and chemical analyses of substances seized, regardless of the results of the tests.

(7) Copies of any inspections by accrediting bodies of any laboratory conducting forensic or scientific testing of evidence in this case.

c. Witnesses.

(1) The full names, locations, and telephone numbers of all individuals interviewed in this case or otherwise used in developing the case against the Accused.

(2) Any evidence from unit personnel files demonstrating any disciplinary actions against a potential government witness.

(3) Any evidence or information of any promises of immunity or leniency made to any potential government witness by trial counsel or military authorities or agents thereof, including closely aligned civilian authorities or entities. This includes the contents of any formal or informal pretrial agreement reached with any co-conspirator or potential witness.

(4) The contents of any prior inconsistent statement or any statement that tends to show bias or motive to fabricate made by any potential witness in this case known by the government or agents thereof, including closely aligned civilian authorities or entities.

(5) Any evidence that a potential witness consumed alcohol or drugs prior to witnessing the events that give rise to his or her testimony.

(6) Any evidence tending to show that any potential witness's ability to perceive, remember, communicate, or tell the truth is impaired.

(7) Any evidence that any potential witness has been diagnosed as an alcoholic, alcohol abuser, or controlled substance abuser.

(8) Any evidence that any potential witness sought or received mental health treatment, including specifically the mental health treatment records of the complaining witness.

(9) Notice of the government's intention to employ an expert witness or consultant and the name, contact information, and resume for the intended expert witness or consultant. This request includes the government's written request to the Convening Authority as well as the Convening Authority's written response.

(10) All personnel records for law enforcement and potential military witnesses for evidence of adverse performance, bias, or any evidence that would constitute grounds for impeachment.

d. Information and records regarding the Accused.

(1) The contents of all statements, oral or written, made by the Accused that are relevant to the case. This includes statements that are within the control of the government and military law enforcement agents, including closely aligned civilian authorities or entities, witnesses, or consultants.

(2) Any records of the Accused's prior civilian or court-martial convictions which the government may offer on the merits for any purpose, including impeachment.

(3) Copies of all documents, including emails, pertaining to any pretrial confinement or restrictions on the liberty of the Accused, including any change in the liberty status of the Accused since the alleged misconduct that forms the basis for the charges in this case.

(4) The Blue Ribbon copy of the Accused's service record book.

(5) Pursuant to Mil. R. Evid. 404, 413, or 414, all evidence or information pertaining to any other crimes, wrongs, or acts committed by the Accused that the government may seek to introduce at trial for any purpose, and notice of the government's intent to introduce such evidence.

e. Sentencing.

(1) Evidence known to the government which reasonably tends to mitigate the Accused's responsibility or might lead a fact-finder to adjudge a less severe sentence.

(2) Written material that will be presented by the government at presentencing proceedings, if any.

(3) The names, addresses, and a synopsis of expected testimony for the witnesses the government intends to call at presentencing proceedings, if any.

f. Unlawful Command Influence

(1) In light of reference (i), evidence of any direct communication, whether written or oral, by any senior military leaders—including civilians—which may have influenced the disposition decisions or actions of:

(a) Any officers acting under R.C.M. 305 in this case.

(2) In light of reference (j), evidence of any direct communication, whether written or oral, by any senior military leaders—including civilians—which might influence the post-trial disposition decisions or actions of:

(a) The Staff Judge Advocate under R.C.M. 1106; or

(b) The Convening Authority under Article 60, UCMJ, and R.C.M. 1107.

2. Specific Items Requested. In addition to the above items, these specific items are promptly requested.

a. The defense requests discovery of the following items that are relevant to defense preparation:

(1) Physical access for Defense to visit CSSN Copeland's barracks room in an unaltered state, which is located at X-2 barracks, room 335B.

(2) Any and all surveillance camera footage from X-2 barracks and Miller Hall from 28 May 2025 to 10 June 2025. If there is no surveillance camera footage at either of those two barracks, defense requests surveillance camera footage during the requested timeframe from surrounding buildings that are angled toward those barracks.

(3) The full autopsy report from the autopsy performed on CSSN A.R. on or about 11 June 2025.

(4) The names, contact information, and current commands of CSSN Copeland's and CSSN A.R.'s roommates from their barracks.

(5) All muster reports and liberty logs for the CS Department onboard USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS (DDG 95) from 26 May 2025 to 10 June 2025.

(6) All records of leave chits for CSSN Copeland and CSSN A.R. while stationed onboard USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS (DDG 95).

(7) Phone records and call logs for CSSN A.R. from 25 May 2025 to 10 June 2025.

(8) Bank records for CSSN A.R. from 25 May 2025 to 10 June 2025.

(9) Full phone extraction from CSSN A.R. and CSSN Copeland's cellular phones.

(10) Copy of the following documents listed in LT Maddrell's email to CAPT Santicola of 3 June 2025:

a. Initial CMEO report of 17 September 2024;

b. CDRE's disposition and LOI issued of 31 January 2025;

c. "CSSN Appeal" of 12 March 2025;

d. CNSL CMEO Denial letter of 30 May 2025; and

e. UA SITREP for CSSN Copeland and CSSN A.R. of 1 June 2025.

(11) Any and all enclosures, to include media, missing from the investigations previously provided to defense relating to the accused. This request includes enclosures and media from prior charges, acts or wrongs the government anticipates providing notice as M.R.E. 404(b) evidence.

3. The Defense expects that the government will make a diligent effort to comply with this discovery request. As to any particular requested information, the Defense will regard any nonresponse or response without comment as an affirmative assertion by the government that the requested information does not exist. This is a continuing request, and as such, this request includes a request for any information that the government later discovers before, during, or after trial of this case, if any.

4. The Defense requests a response in writing within seven (7) days of service of this request. Please contact us with any questions or concerns you may have. You may reach me at (757) 341-4486 or via email at clifton.e.morgan4.mil@us.navy.mil.

Subj: GOVERNMENT REQUEST FOR EXCLUDABLE DELAY ICO UNITED STATES V. CSSN JERMIAH COPELAND, USN

Ref: (a) R.C.M. 707 (2024 ed.)

1. Pursuant to reference (a), the Government respectfully requests excludable delay for the period beginning on 25 July 2025 through 15 August 2025.

2. On 10 June 2025, CSSN Copeland was placed in pre-trial confinement. Per reference (a), this event requires CSSN Copeland be brought to trial within 120 days of the imposition of restraint. On 1 July 2025, the Government requested excludable delay from 10 June 2025 through 25 July 2025. This request was granted 9 July 2025.

3. CSSN Copeland is under investigation for violating Uniform Code of Military Justice Article 107 (False official statement), Article 117a (Wrongful broadcast or distribution of intimate visual images), Article 118 (Murder), Article 120 (Rape and sexual assault), Article 128 (Assault), and Article 128b (Domestic Violence). These alleged violations primarily span four separate, complex alleged incidents and investigation remains ongoing into each.

4. Although NCIS and the Government have exercised all expedience in this case, several lengthy investigative steps remain. First, as to the allegation of murder, outstanding steps include receipt of the final reports of investigation, forensic analysis of multiple pieces of physical evidence, a report of the autopsy of the victim's body, a finalized toxicology report, and interviews of several witnesses. The Government is also waiting on returns from various providers relating to UCMJ Article 30a matters, and it is unclear when those results will be in the Government's possession. Second, regarding the sexual assault allegations, NCIS recently acquired information concerning pre-service incidents and a fifth post-service allegation, which may provide evidence regarding the current charges, or could constitute further charges. NCIS requires time to pursue these leads by interviewing witnesses, gathering court documents, and reviewing digital evidence.

5. Pursuant to reference (a), the Government may receive excludable delay to thoroughly investigate a case and prepare for trial. Accordingly, the Government respectfully requests the time beginning on 25 July 2025 through 15 August 2025 be excluded.

6. Thank you for your time and consideration in this matter. If you have any questions about this request, please contact me via e-mail at patricia.t.cannaday.mil@us.navy.mil or via phone at (757) 341-4509.

(2) Email from USS JAMES E WILLIAMS of 7 Aug 25
(3) Demand for speedy trial of 16 Jun 25
(4) Demand for speedy trial of 25 Jul 25
(5) Request for Discovery of 30 Jul 25

1. Per references (a) through (d), CSSN Copeland, through counsel, objects to any excludable delay and demands a speedy trial or immediate release from pre-trial confinement.

2. CSSN Copeland has been held in pre-trial confinement for 62 days – over two months – without being charged with a crime. Further, CSSN Copeland has not been provided any discovery, despite the defense submitting a formal request to the trial counsel for discovery. Therefore, he is being denied the ability to defend against whatever charges the government might prefer. CSSN Copeland is in a maximum status at the brig and remains in his cell for at least 22 hours per day.[1] His defense is not permitted to have in-person private conversations with him, and the trial counsel has expressed a lack of willingness to assist in solving this issue, as seen in enclosure (1) of reference (f).

3. On 1 July 2024, the trial counsel submitted a letter to you requesting excludable delay from 10 June 2025 to 25 July 2025, as set forth in reference (e). That same day, the defense objected to that request as many of the alleged offenses occurred over year ago and the government failed to state with any specificity why excludable delay was necessary in a case where the accused remains in the most restrictive confinement without proper access to counsel. On 9 July 2025, you granted the government request for excludable delay until 25 July 2025. On 25 July 2025, CSSN Copeland again demanded a speedy trial. The Office of Special Trial Counsel neither acknowledged or responded to this request. On 30 July 2025, the defense requested discovery citing Rules 3.4 and 3.8 of the JAG Corps Rules for professional responsibility because the defense requires and is entitled to fairness and equal access to discovery. Further, discovery would reduce the risk of prejudicial speedy trial issues if charges are ever preferred in this case. The trial counsel neither acknowledged or responded to this request. Instead, on 8 August 2025, the trial counsel once again requested excludable delay.

4. On 29 July 2025, the defense once again requested to meet with CSSN Copeland for an in-person private meeting. On 7 August 2025, the USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS denied CSSN Copeland's request providing no reasoning.

5. The defense again objects to this lengthy excludable delay request. The trial counsel must act with the diligence required when someone is incarcerated – they must take the "immediate steps" required by reference (c). A higher degree of specificity is required before granting a request for what amounts to continued pre-trial confinement, and you should request that higher specificity from the trial counsel. Especially in this case where the confinement is so severe and CSSN Copeland's access to defense counsel has been restricted.

6. Per reference (d), prior to referral, all requests for pre-trial delay, together with supporting reasons, will be submitted to the convening authority for resolution. The discussion section provides further instructions.

> The decision to grant or deny a reasonable delay is a matter within the sole discretion of the convening authority or a military judge. This decision should be based on the facts and circumstances then and there existing. Reasons to grant a delay might include, for example, the need for: time to enable counsel to prepare for trial in complex cases; time to allow examination into the mental capacity of the accused; time to process a member of the reserve component to active duty for disciplinary action; time to complete other proceedings related to the case; time requested by the defense; time to secure the availability of the accused, substantial witnesses, or other evidence; time to obtain appropriate security clearances for access to classified information or time to declassify evidence; or additional time for other good cause….

Here, the trial counsel once again provided no evidence or documents supporting the vague reason for the delay. The generalized notion of the need to "conduct further investigation" does not amount to the specificity required under the Rules. Why does the government require excludable delay until 15 August 2025? What specific actions do they expect to be completed by that date? What has trial counsel and NCIS done between 25 July 2025 and 8 August 2025 to take immediate steps to bring this case to trial? Why are there witnesses who have not been interviewed? The military has no jurisdiction over pre-service misconduct. CSSN Copeland should not linger in maximum confinement while law enforcement investigates civilian charges. You must demand more specificity; you must demand charges. Additionally, R.C.M. 707 does not address excludable delay when the accused is in pre-trial confinement.

6. Per reference (c), when accused is ordered into arrest or confinement before trial, immediate steps shall be taken to inform the person of the specific offense of which the person is accused and to try the person or to dismiss the charges and release the person. Immediate steps require more than diligence, it requires immediacy. CSSN Copeland has been in confinement for the last 62 days.

7. CSSN Copeland requests that the government take immediate steps to take him to trial or release him from pre-trial confinement.

8. The defense requests the government to provide the defense with the requested discovery and a written response to the government's excludable delay request.

9. Please contact me with any questions or concerns you may have at 850-452-5572 or via email at amanda.m.serfess.mil@us.navy.mil

Subj: REQUEST FOR REDRESS ICO CSSN JERMIAH COPELAND, USN

Ref: (a) U.S. CONST. amend. VI
(b) R.C.M. 502
(c) Article 138, UCMJ

1. On behalf of CSSN Copeland, the defense respectfully requests to be able to meet with CSSN Copeland in a private room to have a private conversation where he can consult with his attorneys without the risk of being heard by people who are not members of his defense. CSSN Copeland has been in pretrial confinement since 9 June 2025. Based solely on the fact that CSSN Copeland has "Article 118" on his confinement order, he has been placed in a "maximum status." Because CSSN Copeland is in that status, he cannot have a "contact" visit with his attorneys at the brig. This means that his attorneys can only meet with him separated by a plexiglass wall. This room is not soundproof – the brig staff or anyone else can hear from outside the room. Further, because of the plexiglass, it is difficult for CSSN Copeland to hear his attorneys and even more difficult for his attorneys to hear him. This is inadequate to properly represent CSSN Copeland and does not meet the requirements of reference (a).

2. Understanding that you cannot order the brig to have a different policy, you do have the authority to transport CSSN Copeland to a different location so that he can meet with his attorneys. Defense counsel regularly meet with clients who are in pretrial confinement at building A-50 on Naval Station Norfolk. Commands transport pre-trial confinees, including other pretrial confinees who are accused of murder and attempted murder, to consult with their attorneys. A-50 is a secure building, it is the same building where CSSN Copeland will meet with his attorneys should charges in this case ever be pursued. CSSN Copeland simply requests to exercise his constitutional right to counsel, which must include the right to meet and openly discuss his case. The right to counsel includes the right to effective counsel. CSSN Copeland's attorneys cannot be effective if we cannot meet and openly discuss the case with our client. Despite twice demanding a speedy trial, CSSN Copeland has been in pretrial confinement for 50 days without being brought to trial or being able to meet with his attorneys in a private setting. Please allow CSSN Copeland to have a privileged, in-person meeting with his attorneys.

3. If you have any questions, need amplifying information, or need assistance in coordinating the release of CSSN Copeland's personal property, LCDR Amanda Serfess, detailed defense counsel, can be reached at 850-452-5572 or via email at amanda.m.serfess.mil@us.navy.mil.

Subject: Request for Redress CSSN Copeland

CO,

Good afternoon. I, along LCDR Morgan (copied) represent CSSN Copeland. CSSN Copeland has the right to be represented by counsel. To effectuate that right, he needs to able to have a private conversation with his attorneys. We have made the request, but have not received a clear answer on why he cannot meet with his attorneys in-person in a private room. Please find a request for redress ICO CSSN Copeland attached.

I am available to answer any questions.

1. The Defense has already submitted two speedy trial requests in relation to the Government's investigation and case into CSSN Jermiah Copeland, USN. CSSN Copeland has been in confinement for over 50 days without charges. First, CSSN Copeland has the right to dispute his pretrial confinement, to do so requires discovery. Second, the professional rules of responsibility require fairness. If the trial counsel has access to discovery, out of fairness, it should be shared with the defense. Finally, providing discovery to the defense will assist in avoiding speedy trial prejudice and permit the defense to be prepared if the government pursues charges in this case. In accordance with references (a) and (b), which govern fairness to opposing parties and Government counsel responsibilities, and references (c) and (d), which govern pretrial confinement and pre-preferral sessions of court, the Defense requests the Government produce for use, inspection, and/or copying the following in the subject case:

a. Evidence

(1) Any evidence that is material to either the issue of guilt or the sentence, regardless of admissibility, that is known to the government or agents thereof, including closely aligned civilian authorities or entities, witnesses, or consultants.

(2) Any sworn or signed statements relating to the charged offenses, and any notes derived from those oral statements relating to the charged offenses.

(3) Any books, papers, documents, photographs, tangible objects, media, electronic records, or copies or portions thereof, which are within the possession, custody, or control of the government or agents thereof, including closely aligned civilian authorities or entities, and which are relevant to defense preparation or are intended for use by the trial counsel as evidence in the prosecution case-in-chief at trial.

(4) Any results or reports of physical or mental examinations, and of scientific tests or experiments, or copies thereof, which are within the possession, custody, or control of the government or agents thereof, including closely aligned civilian authorities or entities, and which are relevant to defense preparation or are intended for use by trial counsel as evidence in the prosecution case-in-chief at trial.

(5) Evidence known to the government that reasonably tends to negate the guilt or reduce the degree of guilt of the Accused on a charged offense, or is otherwise favorable to the Accused under reference (e).

(6) Evidence that adversely affects the credibility of any prosecution witness or evidence.

(7) All evidence or information of any identification of the Accused.

(8) A written list of, and access to, all evidence seized from the person or property of the Accused, or believed to be owned by the Accused, as well as any search warrant, consent form, command authorization or other basis upon which any search was conducted or any evidence was seized.

(9) Notice of the government's intent to offer any out-of-court statement under the residual hearsay exception.

(10) Copies of any diagrams that any witness has used for identification purposes and any notes or writing that any witness has reviewed and indicated was correct or adopted as an accurate statement.

(11) Copies of any subpoena or subpoena duces tecum issued in this case.

b. Investigative Documents, Records, and Procedures.

(1) A complete, legible, color copy, including all attachments, of any investigative report created by any investigative agency or command related to this case, specifically including but not limited to:

(a) All Naval Criminal Investigative Service (NCIS) Interim Reports of Investigation;

(b) All memoranda or reports drafted by personnel assigned to USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS (DDG 95) relating to this case; and

(c) All local law enforcement reports addressing the allegations, interactions, complaints, and arrests.

(d) All reports and notifications drafted by the Navy Absentee Collection and Information Center (NACIC) regarding CSSN Copeland and CSSN A.R.

(2) Any agency or law enforcement documents and data, made in connection with this case, including all attachments. This request includes all forms and documents, including witness reliability forms, data sheets, and other relevant documents. This request includes, but is not limited to, the following relevant documentation:

(a) Interview logs;

(b) Interview records;

(c) Source dossier and forms related to any Confidential Informants;

(d) Informants' notes;

(e) Any document detailing the disbursement of any funds in support of the investigation in this case;

(f) Investigative records checks, including NCIC checks, run on any person during the investigation of this case;

(g) Any documents related to searches and seizures;

(h) Internal communications, emails, or other documents used to brief, respond to, and/or request investigative activities related to this case. This request specifically includes any communication between law enforcement and a member of the Accused's command, the convening authority, the staff judge advocate, or any officer directing the investigation;

(i) All records reflecting the chain of custody of any evidence seized and/or tested; and

(j) All personal or business notes, memoranda, and other writings prepared by investigators in the case that are not furnished pursuant to any other provisions of this request.

(3) The names of all government investigators who have participated, or are presently participating, in the investigation of this case, as well as their accreditation, any previous law-enforcement or investigative jobs held, and a statement as to their length of service in such jobs.

(4) Any evidence of the revocation or suspension of the credentials of any investigators involved in this case, or evidence that any investigator was a subject or suspect in an internal affairs investigation.

(5) Notice of any expected forensic or scientific testing that may destroy evidence.

(6) All laboratory reports, expert conclusions or statements, chain of custody documents, forensic notes, and other evidence or documents relied on by government experts in the performance of their services. This includes any laboratory tests, field tests, and reports thereof, including but not limited to DNA, fingerprints, blood samples, handwriting exemplars, and chemical analyses of substances seized, regardless of the results of the tests.

(7) Copies of any inspections by accrediting bodies of any laboratory conducting forensic or scientific testing of evidence in this case.

c. Witnesses.

(1) The full names, locations, and telephone numbers of all individuals interviewed in this case or otherwise used in developing the case against the Accused.

(2) Any evidence from unit personnel files demonstrating any disciplinary actions against a potential government witness.

(3) Any evidence or information of any promises of immunity or leniency made to any potential government witness by trial counsel or military authorities or agents thereof, including closely aligned civilian authorities or entities. This includes the contents of any formal or informal pretrial agreement reached with any co-conspirator or potential witness.

(4) The contents of any prior inconsistent statement or any statement that tends to show bias or motive to fabricate made by any potential witness in this case known by the government or agents thereof, including closely aligned civilian authorities or entities.

(5) Any evidence that a potential witness consumed alcohol or drugs prior to witnessing the events that give rise to his or her testimony.

(6) Any evidence tending to show that any potential witness's ability to perceive, remember, communicate, or tell the truth is impaired.

(7) Any evidence that any potential witness has been diagnosed as an alcoholic, alcohol abuser, or controlled substance abuser.

(8) Any evidence that any potential witness sought or received mental health treatment, including specifically the mental health treatment records of the complaining witness.

(9) Notice of the government's intention to employ an expert witness or consultant and the name, contact information, and resume for the intended expert witness or consultant. This request includes the government's written request to the Convening Authority as well as the Convening Authority's written response.

d. Information and records regarding the Accused.

(1) The contents of all statements, oral or written, made by the Accused that are relevant to the case. This includes statements that are within the control of the government and military law enforcement agents, including closely aligned civilian authorities or entities, witnesses, or consultants.

(2) Any records of the Accused's prior civilian or court-martial convictions which the government may offer on the merits for any purpose, including impeachment.

(3) Copies of all documents, including emails, pertaining to any pretrial confinement or restrictions on the liberty of the Accused, including any change in the liberty status of the Accused since the alleged misconduct that forms the basis for the charges in this case.

(4) The Blue Ribbon copy of the Accused's service record book.

(5) Pursuant to Mil. R. Evid. 404, 413, or 414, all evidence or information pertaining to any other crimes, wrongs, or acts committed by the Accused that the government may seek to introduce at trial for any purpose, and notice of the government's intent to introduce such evidence.

e. Sentencing.

(1) Evidence known to the government which reasonably tends to mitigate the Accused's responsibility or might lead a fact-finder to adjudge a less severe sentence.

(2) Written material that will be presented by the government at presentencing proceedings, if any.

(3) The names, addresses, and a synopsis of expected testimony for the witnesses the government intends to call at presentencing proceedings, if any.

f. Unlawful Command Influence

(1) In light of reference (i), evidence of any direct communication, whether written or oral, by any senior military leaders—including civilians—which may have influenced the disposition decisions or actions of:

(a) Any officers acting under R.C.M. 305 in this case.

(2) In light of reference (j), evidence of any direct communication, whether written or oral, by any senior military leaders—including civilians—which might influence the post-trial disposition decisions or actions of:

(a) The Staff Judge Advocate under R.C.M. 1106; or

(b) The Convening Authority under Article 60, UCMJ, and R.C.M. 1107.

2. Specific Items Requested. In addition to the above items, these specific items are promptly requested.

a. The defense requests discovery of the following items that are relevant to defense preparation:

(1) Physical access for Defense to visit CSSN Copeland's barracks room in an unaltered state, which is located at X-2 barracks, room 335B.

(2) Any and all surveillance camera footage from X-2 barracks and Miller Hall from 28 May 2025 to 10 June 2025. If there is no surveillance camera footage at either of those two barracks, defense requests surveillance camera footage during the requested timeframe from surrounding buildings that are angled toward those barracks.

(3) The full autopsy report from the autopsy performed on CSSN A.R. on or about 11 June 2025.

(4) The names, contact information, and current commands of CSSN Copeland's and CSSN A.R.'s roommates from their barracks.

(5) All muster reports and liberty logs for the CS Department onboard USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS (DDG 95) from 26 May 2025 to 10 June 2025.

(6) All records of leave chits for CSSN Copeland and CSSN A.R. while stationed onboard USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS (DDG 95).

(7) Phone records and call logs for CSSN A.R. from 25 May 2025 to 10 June 2025.

(8) Bank records for CSSN A.R. from 25 May 2025 to 10 June 2025.

(9) Full phone extraction from CSSN A.R. and CSSN Copeland's cellular phones.

(10) Copy of the following documents listed in LT Maddrell's email to CAPT Santicola of 3 June 2025:

a. Initial CMEO report of 17 September 2024;

b. CDRE's disposition and LOI issued of 31 January 2025;

c. "CSSN Appeal" of 12 March 2025;

d. CNSL CMEO Denial letter of 30 May 2025; and

e. UA SITREP for CSSN Copeland and CSSN A.R. of 1 June 2025.

3. The Defense expects that the government will make a diligent effort to comply with this discovery request. As to any particular requested information, the Defense will regard any nonresponse or response without comment as an affirmative assertion by the government that the requested information does not exist. This is a continuing request, and as such, this request includes a request for any information that the government later discovers before, during, or after trial of this case, if any.

4. The Defense requests a response in writing within seven (7) days of service of this request. Please contact us with any questions or concerns you may have. You may reach me at (757) 341-4486 or via email at clifton.e.morgan4.mil@us.navy.mil.

CDR Mayo,

We have our Art. 6 inspection from 8-19 – but no one is coming to Pensacola so I could really be anywhere for that. Right now, I will be in Jacksonville from 24 Sept – 3 October. So really I could make anything before that work. The week of the 15th being my preference. (But, let me talk to Clifton).

We would like to meet with our client before the Art. 32. We'd request to schedule the hearing in the afternoon so that we can meet with him in the morning. (NCIS can meet with him in person, but we cannot….).

Please let us know what you need from us.

LCDR Serfess,

Please see the attached SOP regarding privileged correspondence. For safety and security, we may inspect incoming and outgoing privileged correspondence solely to ensure there is no contraband. We do not read the documents, and this inspection is done in the presence of the prisoner. He has been briefed on these procedures and understands his responsibilities WRT privileged correspondence.

Due to his custody classification, meeting in this facility would be conducted in the no contact booth. You can pass documents through the slots on either side of the plexiglass window. Video can be displayed through the same window. There would be nobody else in the room and we have sound machines that can be placed outside the room to create a layer of sound to mask conversations from the guards outside the room. Alternatively, his command could send escorts to take him to a legal office to meet which would allow for you to speak with him privately in the same room.

CDR Flanagan,

Please see below email. I'm trying to get some answers about bringing privileged documents to one of my clients confined at the Chesapeake Brig. Do you have an SOP for the prisoner management division. Will they review privileged documents?

Further, is it possible for CSSN Copeland's defense team to have an in-person, confidential, meeting with him at the brig, one where we can show our client evidence, including video evidence and speak with him privately in the same room.

I copied my XO for his SA.

Please and thank you in advance

| U N I T E D S T A T E Sv.JERMIAH COPELANDCSSN / E-3U.S. NAVY | GOVERNMENT RESPONSE TO DEFENSE MOTION FOR APPROPRIATE RELIEF: REVIEW OF PRETRIAL CONFINEMENT8 SEPTEMBER 2025 |

MOTION

1. This Court lacks jurisdiction to consider the Defense's motion. Specifically, because the Defense is not challenging the propriety of confinement as defined by R.C.M. 305 and 309 and is instead challenging the conditions of confinement, there is no jurisdiction under Article 30a, UCMJ to conduct a proceeding for this motion.

2. Alternatively, if this Court has jurisdiction, the Defense's motion is without merit and should be denied. The Accused's maximum confinement (MAX) status does not unlawfully interfere with private pretrial preparation with his Defense counsel. In this case, the Government's regulations are "reasonably related to legitimate penological interests."[1]

JURISDICTION

3. Article 30a, UCMJ provides limited bases for proceedings to occur prior to referral.[2] Included among these bases are "[p]re-referral matters relating to . . . [p]re-trial confinement of the Accused."[3] But Article 30a also directs that "[t]he President shall prescribe regulations" for these types of proceedings. Those regulations can be found in Rule for Court-Martial (R.C.M.) 309. What is not included in Article 30A or R.C.M. 309 are pre-referral motions like the current motion before the Court challenging the conditions of confinement.

4. Specific to pretrial confinement, R.C.M. 309 provides that pre-referral proceedings for pretrial confinement are limited only to a "review of the propriety of pretrial confinement" as previously decided by a reviewing officer under R.C.M. 305(j)(2)(C).[4]

5. Rule for Court-Martial 305(j)(2)(C) explains what that reviewing officer's previous decision entails. Within 7 days of imposition of confinement, a reviewing officer must review the initial probable cause determination as well as the necessity of continued pretrial confinement. This includes a review of the findings that "(1) an offense triable by court-martial has been committed; (2) the person confined committed it; and (3) confinement is required by the circumstances," including if the confinee will not appear at trial, pretrial hearings, or preliminary hearings, if the confinee will engage in serious criminal misconduct, and if less severe forms of restraint are inadequate.[5] The discussion section of R.C.M. 305(i)(2) provides a number of factors to assess when making this determination. Of note, the right to counsel is not included for consideration.

6. The motion submitted by the Defense does not challenge the propriety of pretrial confinement. The Defense does not allege a lack of probable cause or the necessity of pretrial confinement. Because access to counsel is not a consideration when weighing the propriety of pretrial confinement, there is no jurisdiction to hear this motion under Article 30a.

7. But should this Court disagree and find that it does have jurisdiction, the facts, law and argument put forth below establish that the Defense's motion lacks merit and should be denied.

FACTS

8. The Accused was ordered into confinement on 9 June 2025.[6]

9. The Accused is classified as a MAX prisoner and has been since the start of his confinement.[7] MAX is defined as "[p]risoners requiring special custody supervision because of the high probability of escape or are potentially violent or dangerous, and whose escape would cause concern of a threat to life, property, or national security."[8]

10. Initially, the Accused spent 22 hours a day in his cell. As of 11 August 2025, his status was stepped down and he now spends 21 hours a day in his cell but is still in a MAX status.[9]

11. Every 30 days, his classification is reviewed.[10] The board considers a range of factors from SECNAV M-1540.1, such as his behavior at the brig, the prisoners' civilian and military record, the seriousness of the offenses alleged, and the potential length of confinement awarded if found guilty in calculating a certain amount of points.[11] If a certain threshold is met, the classification is reduced.[12] The Accused has the option to appeal the board's determinations to keep him in a MAX status, but has not done so.[13]

12. The Accused's step-down on 11 August provides him an additional hour a day outside of his cell to clean.[14] This was done to allow him additional opportunity to prove that his behavior is improving and that re-classification may be appropriate.[15]

13. While in MAX, the Accused is allowed private phone calls and visitation with his defense counsel in a no-contact booth.[16] Private phone calls can be accommodated at any time as long as the request is made during business hours (0730-1530).[17] The no-contact booth is only occupied by the attorneys and the Accused, has plexiglass in the middle with slots to pass documents between client and attorney, allows for videos to be seen by the client, and can have white noise machines placed outside of the booth to avoid conversations being overheard by anyone outside of the attorney-client conversation.[18] No requests have been made by the Defense for the use of a white noise machine.[19]

14. Charges were preferred against the Accused on 22 August 2025.[20] These charges include allegations of premediated murder and violent sexual misconduct.[21] These allegations span five victims in a less than one-year period.[22]

15. Both during and after the commission of the alleged offenses, but before the imposition of pretrial confinement, the Accused searched for options to escape.[23] Specifically, he searched for directions to "Bermuda" on 29 May 2025, the date of the alleged murder, and conducted searches for "norfolk airport" and "virginia airport" in the following days.[24]

BURDEN

16. In this motion for appropriate relief, the Defense bears the burden of proof by a preponderance of the evidence and the burden of persuasion as the moving party.[25]

LAW

17. MAX status can be appropriate for pretrial prisoners, even if the sole reason for placement in that status is because of the seriousness of his or her offenses.[26] But an accused in pretrial confinement is entitled to the appointment of military counsel regardless of status.[27] This right, particularly as it applies to this case, is guaranteed by the Sixth Amendment to the Constitution.[28]

18. However, that right to counsel is not absolute for prisoners in pretrial confinement. "Prison regulations that impede an inmate's constitutional rights will . . . be upheld if the regulation 'is reasonably related to legitimate penological interests.'"[29] The Supreme Court held in United States v. Turner that there are four factors to consider when assessing the reasonableness of a prison regulation:

> (1) Whether there is a valid, rational connection between the prison regulation and the legitimate governmental interest put forward to justify it,
> (2) whether there are alternative means of exercising the right that remain open to prison inmates,
>
> (3) the impact the asserted constitutional right will have on guards and other inmates, and on the allocation of prison resources, and
> (4) the existence of obvious, easy alternatives may be evidence that the regulation is not reasonable, but is an exaggerated response to prison concerns.[30]

19. All four factors are not always "equally useful nor need be applied with equal value, depending on the circumstances of the case and the regulation that is challenged."[31] This test has been applied in military courts in a variety of challenges.[32]

20. In evaluating the first Turner factor, a court should only strike down a regulation when a logical connection between the regulation and asserted goal does not exist or is "so remote as to render the policy arbitrary or irrational."[33] "[An Accused's] complaint may not be plausible unless it contains specific factual allegations demonstrating why the government's justifications do not have a rational connection to the challenged restrictions."[34]

21. In considering the second Turner factor, the existence of alternative means to exercise a constitutional right means a regulation is less likely to violate the Constitution.[35] Some deference is owed corrections officials in assessing the validity of a regulation.[36] "Alternatives are interpreted broadly; if a prisoner can still exercise the asserted right in a similar, though not identical way, the prisoner's constitutional rights are preserved."[37]

22. In assessing the third Turner factor, "the right of the prisoner is weighed against the rights of other prisoners and prison employees, and where 'the right in question can be exercised only at the cost of significantly less liberty and safety for everyone else, guards and other prisoners alike, we should defer to the informed discretion of corrections officials."[38] "Deference to prison administrators is due '[w]hen allocation of resources and the ability of administrators to protect staff and detainees at the facility are at issue.'"[39] Prisons do not need to use the least-restrictive available options.[40] "The Turner analysis . . . does not invalidate a policy just because it restricts one of many forms of legal assistance.:[41]

23. And last, in reviewing the fourth factor, "if an inmate claimant can point to an alternative that fully accommodates the prisoner's rights at de minims cost to valid penological interests," the regulation may be unreasonable. "[T]he burden is on the inmate 'to point to an alternative that accommodates their rights at de minimis cost to security."[42]

24. In United States v. Moi, the United States District Court for Alaska found a difference in the adequacy of representation that occurred between a private contact visit and a visit conducted behind a plexiglass wall and that difference was an unreasonable interference on the right to counsel for inmates at a specific facility.[43] In Moi, the plexiglass barrier prevented the ability to physically exchange material and the room contained other people, including prison visitors.[44] This ruling did not specifically contemplate potentially dangerous prisoners and was instead a review of the prison's COVID protocols.[45]

ARGUMENT

25. The Brig's classification of the Accused as a MAX prisoner is not contested by the Defense and is appropriate. The options available to the Defense for in-person meetings with the Accused while he remains in that status are "reasonably related to legitimate penological interests"[46] as all four Turner factors favor the Government.[47]

26. First, there is a valid, rational connection for not allowing unrestrained contact visits between the Accused and his counsel. The Accused is charged with extreme instances of violent behavior, including murder and violent sexual offenses. And after he had committed his most egregious offenses, he sought to escape. MAX classification, including a limitation on contact visitation, ensures the safety of the staff and other persons and also works to prevent any escape opportunities.

27. Second, there are alternative means of exercising the Accused's right to confer with his counsel in private. In addition to phone calls, the Brig is willing to facilitate meetings behind plexiglass that still allow for the transfer of documentation and full privacy, unlike in Moi. The Brig is also willing to provide white noise outside of the room to ensure no communications are overheard. While not identical to a contact meeting, any interference with the attorney-client relationship is minimal and should not overcome the discretion given to prison officials.

28. Third, "[d]eference to prison administrators is due '[w]hen allocation of resources and the ability of administrators to protect staff and detainees at the facility are at issue.'[48] Unlike in Moi, the Accused is an alleged highly violent offender and would require additional security measures for a contact visit. Deference should be given to prison administration officials here.

29. And last, contact visits are not an easy alternative for the same safety concerns noted above. This is not an exaggerated response.

30. In summary, any differences between a non-contact visit under these circumstances and a contact visit are minimal. That minimal difference is vastly outweighed when considering the Tucker factors. The restrictions in place are "reasonably related to legitimate penological interests" and should be upheld.[49]

31. It should also be considered that the Brig is reviewing the Accused's classification status every 30 days and has already provided him an opportunity to develop a rapport by allowing an hour a day to clean unsupervised. As such, the Brig staff are acting in accordance with their instructions in doing so. The Accused has also never appealed his MAX classification determinations.

On 2 September 2025, CDR Lauren Mayo and LT Christopher Dempsey, JAGC, USN, interviewed CDR Brian Flanagan, USN, in the presence of Ms. Sharell Welch, RSC(AW) Amanda Cole, USN and LN1 Kathleen Vanetti, USN at RLSO MIDLANT. The following is a summary of the interaction and is not intended to be verbatim:

CDR Flanagan explained that CSSN COPELAND is currently in a maximum security confinement status (MAX), with some special conditions. As such, COPELAND is permitted to be out of his cell for three hours a day; one hour to clean the p-way and showers, one hour for personal time, and one hour for recreation. The hour to clean is a recent addition and is considered a "step down" from his full MAX status and is permitted without supervision. This began on 11 August 2025. Prior to 11 August, he spent 22 hours a day in his cell.

While in MAX, he is allowed phone calls and visitation by his defense counsel in a no-contact booth in addition to the three hours he is normally allowed out of his cell. The no-contact room is private, has plexi-glass with slots to allow the parties to pass documents between client and attorney, allows for videos to be seen by the client, and can have white noise machines placed outside of the room to further ensure conversations cannot be overheard by anyone outside of the attorney-client privilege relationship. Any phone call requests made by the defense attorney during business hours (between 0730 and 1530) will be accommodated, even if the requested call time is outside of business hours.

In accordance with the Chesapeake Brig Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and the SECNAVMAN-1640.1, contact visits between COPELAND and defense counsel would not be permitted while he is in a MAX status. Every 30 days, COPELAND may participate in a C&A Board that evaluates his security risk as a prisoner, and makes recommendations to the OIC, CDR Flanagan, as to any changes to COPELAND's security status. COPELAND has participated in the last two C&A Boards, and was informed that he has the right to appeal the determination of the C&A Board. COPELAND has not appealed any of the determinations of the C&A Board (which have kept him in a MAX status).

CDR Flanagan reported that there have not been any behavioral issues with COPELAND and that he has attended at least one class while at the Brig. In addition to his behavior at the brig, the C&A Board must consider factors such as the prisoners' civilian and military record, the seriousness of the offenses alleged, and the potential length of confinement awarded if found guilty in calculating a certain amount of points. Once a certain point threshold is met, the classification status can change. CDR Flanagan can override the decision of the C&A Board under limited circumstances. CDR Flanagan did not foreclose the opportunity that COPELAND may be able to leave MAX at some point based on consideration of these factors even with the charges he is facing. However, he acknowledge reclassification is unlikely. He explained that the opportunity for an hour to clean the p-way and his shower was a recent step down to allow COPELAND an opportunity to prove his good behavior. A recommendation from the trial counsel would not influence the brig's decision on classification.

CDR Flanagan expressed a separate concern that the general population of the Chesapeake Brig has been exposed to the local news and he has some concern for COPELAND's safety if COPELAND were to be moved to general population based on the news coverage his case has attracted.

To date, Defense Counsel has not requested to use a white noise machine during visits with COPELAND at the brig. The email sent by Defense Counsel that asked about having COPELAND attend a meeting at the Defense Service Office was responded to with a logistical explanation of such a movement, as well as what accommodations were available within the Brig for a meeting that ensured attorney-client privilege. If the command decided that such a meeting was appropriate, the Brig would not be able to prevent the command from taking COPELAND to meet with his counsel at a separate location.

Chapter 4: Control, Security, and Emergencies

Section 1. Prisoner Accountability System

4101. Master Control Center Function

1. The control center is the focal point for all military correctional facility (MCF) security and control operations. The control center must be utilized for 24-hour continuously staffed monitoring and coordinating of the MCF's security, life, safety, and communications systems. It is here that all prisoner movements are directed, controlled, and accounted for; that all active keys are controlled and accounted for; where the entry and exit of all prisoners, staff, and visitors are controlled; and where emergency equipment may be stored. Main communications terminals, both regular and emergency, are located in the control center. Outside telephone switchboards will not be operated from the control center during normal daytime working hours. Master count records and the brig log are maintained in the control center and the reports of daily counts are prepared and verified there.

2. The control center must be manned and its security integrity maintained at all times. Access to the control center will be limited to only authorized personnel designated in writing by the brig officer. Prisoners must not be allowed access to the control center under any circumstances.

4102. Control Center Accountability Systems

1. Certain basic information must be maintained and controlled to ensure adequate accountability of prisoners at all times. Accountability systems will be controlled and maintained in the control center. The extent of these systems will be tailored to meet local needs. Many required accountability forms and reports, required per reference (z) and this manual, can be generated and accessed by utilizing the Correctional Management Information System (CORMIS) or its electronic equivalent.

2. Accountability System Elements

a. DD 2707 Confinement Order. A copy of the confinement order will be delivered to the control center by the Receiving and Release (R&R) supervisor immediately upon receipt of a new prisoner. The control center supervisor will make necessary adjustments to count records and the brig log.

b. Prisoner Identification Badge. Four prisoner identification badges will be created by R&R upon arrival of a new prisoner. A badge is given to the prisoner. A badge is forwarded to the supervisor responsible for records management for inclusion in the prisoner's individual confinement record. A badge is forwarded to the control center for inclusion in the control center's master file. A badge is forwarded to the prisoner's quarters supervisor. The control center will maintain their copies of prisoner identification badges in alphabetical order and in a readily visible file in the control center. New badges will be added only when new prisoners are received and those on file will be removed from the master file only upon receipt of an updated prisoner badge or an executed DD 2718 Prisoner Release Order. Removed badges will be forwarded to the supervisor responsible for records management.

c. Quarters Assignment Record. This record will follow the living quarters configuration of the MCF and show where each prisoner is specifically assigned (rack or cell). This billeting information will also be maintained in CORMIS or its electronic equivalent.

d. Work Assignment Record. This record is established to accommodate local work assignments for quick verification of work detail and location of the prisoner. Work assignment information will also be maintained in CORMIS or its electronic equivalent.

e. Out-Count Record. Format may be a wall chart or a log that, at a minimum, has the prisoner's name, status, custody, destination, and departure time.

f. Daily Change Sheet (DCS). Initiated by the classification and adjustment (C&A) board, a listing of all authorized changes of status, custody, program, billeting, and work assignments must be prepared each workday. The DCS must be authenticated by the brig officer's signature and distributed to applicable posts. All housing moves, except emergencies, must be accomplished in conjunction with the DCS.

g. Daily Appointment Sheet. A daily appointment sheet will be prepared listing all authorized prisoner appointments for the following workday (e.g.; medical appointments, legal appointments, etc.) and distributed to all applicable posts. The daily appointment sheet will list prisoner name, date and time of the appointment, appointment location, and any other relevant information (e.g.; escorts' names for outside agency escorts, uniform, fasting required for medical). This may be generated by CORMIS or its electronic equivalent from data previously entered.

h. DD 2718 Prisoner Release Order. A copy of an executed release order will be delivered to the control center for verification, log entries, and updating the count log.

i. Brig Log. The brig log is the permanent record of daily and historical events and other significant events of the operation of the MCF. It will be maintained in the control center and reviewed and countersigned by the command duty officer (CDO) or duty brig supervisor (DBS) at the conclusion of each shift. An accurate running count must be included in this log. Refer to section 8104 of this manual for other pertinent information to be logged in the brig log. Where authorized by Bureau of Naval Personnel Corrections and Programs Office (BUPERS-00D) and Deputy Commandant of the Marine Corps (Plans, Policies, and Operations (DC PPO)), an electronic brig log may be maintained.

4103. Counts

1. A minimum of three formal scheduled prisoner counts must be made daily (reveille, end of workday, and taps). More frequent and informal counts may be required depending on prisoner population and physical characteristics of the MCF; however, the frequency of counts will not unduly interfere with normal workday activity. In addition to scheduled counts, work supervisors and quarters supervisors shall be required to make irregular but frequent checks of all prisoners under their supervision, the frequency of checks shall not exceed one hour. There must be periodic bed checks of all prisoners during the night; however, prisoners must not be awakened for this purpose and silent counts will be used. Routine formal counts will be scheduled at times that will not interfere with work, training, sleep, or recreation schedules. Results and times of all counts

(i.e.; scheduled, unscheduled, or others directed by local policy) must be entered into the brig log.

2. Brig officers will develop, publish, and train staff to conduct count.

3. Under no circumstances will prisoners assist staff with count.

4. Unscheduled counts may be conducted whenever deemed necessary.

5. The control center will verify prisoner accountability, by telephone, the presence of all overnight temporary absences during regularly scheduled counts.

4104. Prisoner Movement

1. Activities and movements of prisoners must be controlled, orderly, punctual, and well supervised.

2. Prisoner passes or electronic prisoner tracking systems (e.g., biometrics) will be used in MCFs to control unescorted prisoner movements (exceptions may be made for installation custody prisoners). Either system will be used for instances which require prisoners to leave their regular details. Strict control of either system must be maintained. All staff and prisoners must be instructed in the operation of the MCF prisoner movement system and procedures.

3. In lieu of an Armed Forces identification card, installation custody prisoners will carry a DD 512 Installation Custody Agreement describing their status and limits of movement when outside of the security perimeter of the MCF.

4105. Sally Port Operations

1. A sally port is basic to the secure operation of any MCF. Used properly, it affords security and control over entry to and exit from the MCF.

2. The following procedures must be followed in sally port operations:

a. Provisions will be made to prevent two doors or gates from being inadvertently opened at the same time;

b. If sally port doors or gates are electrically operated, the controls will be located inside the control center or within a secure post that has an unobstructed view of the sally port; and

c. If the sally port is used primarily for vehicles, it must be constructed so the largest vehicle entering can be contained inside with both gates closed. Ensure that any prisoners accompanying a vehicle have been properly logged out of the MCF by the control center supervisor. All vehicles entering and exiting a sally port must be searched for contraband and prisoner escape attempts.

Section 2. Prisoner Custody Classification

4201. Purpose and Definitions

1. Purpose. Custody classifications establish the degree of supervision and restraint needed for control of individual prisoners. Custody classification allows for and supports graduated release through a systematic decrease in supervision and a corresponding increase in prisoner responsibility as part of the classification program. Custody classifications provide guidance for supervision of prisoners and permit establishment of security measures consistent with requirements of the individual. Where there is fair and impartial treatment, prisoners generally present no serious disciplinary problems. There are some prisoners, however, who can be uncooperative or aggressive. Efforts must be made to identify all special cases and control measures instituted to ensure the safe and orderly administration of the MCF. An objective-based custody classification process that addresses the characteristics of the prisoners must be used per reference (z) and this manual. CORMIS, which incorporates the objective-based classification process, or CORMIS' electronic equivalent, will be employed.

2. Classification Definitions. Every prisoner must be assigned one of the following custody classifications:

a. Maximum Custody (MAX). Prisoners requiring special custodial supervision because of the high probability of escape or are potentially violent or dangerous, and whose escape would cause concern of a threat to life, property, or national security. Ordinarily, only a small percentage of prisoners will be classified as MAX.

(1) Supervision. When inside their cell, observation checks by MCF staff will be at irregular intervals not to exceed 15 minutes. DD 509 Inspection Record of Prisoner in Segregation must be posted outside the cell door and appropriate entries made at least every 15 minutes. Two or more staff members must be present when MAX prisoners are out of their cell or the cell door is opened, and supervision must be immediate (e.g., near at hand or close proximity) and continuous (e.g., without loss or interval of time) unless physical plant design negates this requirement. Camera cells may be utilized for constant observation but do not replace the requirement for staff to physically view the prisoner in the prisoner's cell.

(2) Work. MAX prisoners will not be assigned to work details outside of their cell.

(3) Quarters. MAX prisoners must be assigned to the restricted housing unit (RHU).

(4) Restraints and Escorts

(a) MAX prisoners must wear hand-irons when outside of their cells in the RHU, unless the facility's design supports security and control, negating this requirement.

(b) Max prisoners must wear full restraints (hand irons, transport belt, and leg irons) and be escorted by a minimum of two escorts at all times when outside the RHU area. Exceptions may only be made for exigent circumstances (fire or safety) or on a case-by-case basis (court appearance or military judge ordered). The brig officer or designee will be notified of any request to remove restraints.

b. Medium Custody In (MDI). Prisoners who present security risks not warranting MAX.

(1) Supervision. Direct supervision within the security perimeter, and immediate and continuous when outside the security perimeter.

(2) Work. MDI prisoners must not be assigned to work details outside the security perimeter.

(3) Quarters. MDI prisoners will normally be assigned to general population housing where direct supervision is required.

(4) Restraints and Escorts

(a) MDI prisoners will not normally wear restraints inside the security perimeter. Any MDI prisoner required to wear restraints inside the security perimeter will be assigned to the RHU.

(b) MDI prisoners must wear hand irons and a transport belt at a minimum when outside the security perimeter unless the brig officer or designee directs otherwise. Escorts will carry leg irons.

(c) MDI prisoners must be escorted by at least two escorts at all times outside the security perimeter. When transporting multiple MDI prisoners, the brig officer or designee may direct only one escort be required for each additional MDI prisoner. Exceptions may only be made for exigent circumstances (fire or safety) or on a case-by-case basis (court appearance or military judge ordered). The brig officer or designee (senior security personnel) will be notified of any request to remove restraints.

c. Medium Custody Out (MDO). Prisoners who present security risks not warranting MDI.

(1) Supervision. Direct supervision within the security perimeter, and immediate and continuous when outside the security perimeter.

(2) Work. MDO prisoners may be assigned to work details inside or outside the security perimeter.

(3) Quarters. MDO prisoners will normally be assigned to general population housing where direct supervision is required.

(4) Restraints and Escorts

(a) MDO prisoners are not required to wear restraints while inside or outside the security perimeter. Escorts will carry hand irons when escorting MDO prisoners outside of the security perimeter.

(b) MDO prisoners require at least one escort when outside the security perimeter. Working party and other escort ratios will be determined by the brig officer or designee when escorted by MCF staff. Escort ratios for command escorts must be no less than one escort per five MDO prisoners.

d. Minimum Custody (MIN). Prisoners who present security risks not warranting higher classifications.

(1) Supervision. Will be occasional (periodic, situational dependent, and accountable as necessary by supervisory staff) within the security perimeter or outside the security perimeter.

(2) Work. MIN prisoners are normally assigned work outside the security perimeter.

(3) Quarters. MIN prisoners will normally be assigned to general population housing.

(4) Restraints and Escorts

(a) MIN prisoners are not required to wear restraints while inside or outside the security perimeter. Escorts will carry hand irons when escorting MIN prisoners outside of the security perimeter.

(b) MIN prisoners will require at least one escort when outside the security perimeter. Working party and other escort ratios will be determined by the brig officer or designee when escorted by MCF staff. Escort ratios for command escorts must be no less than 1 escort per 10 MIN prisoners.

e. Installation Custody (IC). Prisoners who present minimal security risks not warranting higher classifications.

(1) Supervision. Require only limited supervision. They may work and move about much the same as individuals in normal duty status.

(2) Work. IC prisoners are normally assigned work outside the security perimeter.

(3) Quarters. IC prisoners normally will be assigned to general population housing but may be housed outside the security perimeter.

(4) Restraints and Escorts

(a) IC prisoners are not required to wear restraints while inside or outside the security perimeter.

(b) IC prisoners normally will not require escorts when outside the security perimeter.

(5) Selection Criteria for IC

(a) Have completed at least one half of the confinement adjudged or the convening authority has taken action, whichever occurs first.

(b) Not more than 12 months from adjusted minimum release date or approved supervised release date.

(c) Consideration must be taken into account as to the nature of offense and applicable Federal, State, and local laws concerning unsupervised release for work and recreation into local geographical areas (especially those areas with schools, daycare centers, housing, etc.).

(d) Have not been removed previously from this custody for cause.

(e) IC prisoners must sign DD 512 Installation Custody Agreement and carry it with them at all times when outside the MCF's security perimeter. A locally prepared agreement listing the limitations on movement outside the MCF must be agreed to, signed by IC prisoners, and countersigned by the MCF commanding officer (CO). The DD 512 will be turned in and checked out from the R&R supervisor as required.

Assignments will depend on the ability to handle responsibility and, whenever possible, be commensurate to the prisoner's previous training, skill, needs of the Service, and potential training value to the prisoner.

(6) Additional Privileges. Additional privileges such as attending the installation theater, library, sports events or similar activities, and messing sequence may be authorized by the MCF CO.

4202. Classification Criteria

1. Custody classification will be based on the amount of supervision and restraint each prisoner requires.

2. All new prisoners, except those specifically deemed serious management problems, must be assigned an MDI custody classification during the reception phase. Pretrial prisoners must not be assigned any custody classification except MDI or MAX.

3. Ultra-conservative custody classification results in a waste of prisoner and staff manpower. A large number of MAX and MDI prisoners reduces the number of staff available for supervision of the kinds of productive work available to lower custody classifications. Classification systems must follow established, but flexible, procedures.

4. Prisoners will be placed in a lower custody classification as soon as practical and as warranted.

5. Override of the Objective-Based Screening Decision

a. The below factors, though not all-inclusive, are considered in assessing whether to override the objective-based classification system to increase a prisoner’s custody:

(1) Assaultive behavior;

(2) Disruptive behavior;

(3) Serious drug abuse;

(4) Serious civil or military criminal record (convicted or alleged);

(5) Low tolerance of frustration;

(6) Intensive acting out or dislike of the military;

(7) History of previous escape(s);

(8) Pending civil charges or detainers filed;

(9) Serving a sentence that the individual considers unjust or severe;

(10) Poor home conditions or family relationships;

(11) Emotional or mental instability;

(12) Indication of unwillingness to accept responsibility for personal actions, past and present;

(13) Demonstrated pattern of poor judgment;

(14) Length, or potential length, of sentence;

(15) Gang affiliation or ties with disruptive organizations;

(16) Awaiting transfer;

(17) A sentence length exceeding the designated length of confinement authorized at the MCF; and

(18) Refusal to accept or participate in recommended treatment or education programs.

b. The below factors, though not all-inclusive, are considered in assessing whether to override the objective-based classification system to decrease a prisoner’s custody:

(1) Clear military record, aside from present offense;

(2) Close family ties - good home conditions;

(3) The offense(s) charged is not serious;

(4) Emotional and mental stability;

(5) Comparatively short sentence to confinement; however, length of sentence will not be a sole overriding factor;

(6) Behavior during confinement, and

(7) Successful completion of, or active participation in, offense-related treatment programs or groups.

c. The factors mentioned above are only indicators, not ironclad rules; therefore, the brig officer will consider objective-based overrides where applicable. An evaluation of all phases of the prisoner's performance will be made prior to each custody change. By following the criteria and concepts outlined in this chapter, the brig officer should be able to make more efficient use of staff and provide an atmosphere in which rehabilitative efforts will be more effective.

6. Adult Internal Management System (AIMS). An AIMS classification will be determined for each prisoner confined in level II MCFs. This is a five-level classification of prisoners based on aggressiveness of personality and methods of problem management used by an individual. AIMS is never used for custody or incentive determination but is very useful for housing and programming prisoners together in order to maximize their opportunities to succeed and to utilize programs offered. Each C&A Board will consider (but not be bound by) a prisoner's AIMS classification in assignment of berthing, program, and work assignment. AIMS classification is applicable only to male prisoners. AIMS is integrated within CORMIS or its electronic equivalent.

4203. Evaluation of Prisoners

1. All members supervising prisoners will be responsible for evaluating prisoners and must submit periodic written reports on their performance. Quarters supervisors and work supervisors will complete a prisoner evaluation, no less than monthly, to show levels of performance on a continuing basis. The evaluation must be submitted on DD 2712 Prisoner Evaluation.

2. A prisoner program plan must be developed for each post-trial prisoner to identify and prioritize all required and recommended correctional programs. The program plan will serve as the central source for documenting program progress and completion. The prisoner program plan should take into account the prisoner's sentence length, confining offense(s), needs, and program sequence.

3. Each staff member has responsibility for communicating information concerning prisoners to the proper authority in the MCF. The behavior and attitude of the prisoner in living quarters, at work, in recreation, and in a classroom provides a good overall indicator of problem areas and adjustment progress. Continuous documented staff evaluation of each prisoner cannot be overemphasized.

4204. C&A Board and Unit Team Management (UTM)

1. The C&A board will establish a prisoner's custody classification using objective-based classification or reclassification procedures. When the C&A Board convenes to develop prisoner classification and assignment, it will be composed of the brig officer, or designated representative, and members from varying departments of the MCF as appointed in writing by the MCF CO. At a minimum, the C&A Board must be comprised of a chairperson and no fewer than two additional members to ensure a multi-disciplinary perspective. See article 6401 of this manual for program functions of the C&A Board.

2. UTM. Level II MCFs may utilize UTM principles in the operation of their C&A boards. Unit teams oversee prisoner program plans, custody classification, incentive levels, and counseling on a routine basis. Unit teams are comprised, at a minimum, of a unit manager, case manager or counselor, leading chief petty officer or leading petty officer (or Military Service equivalent), and quarters supervisor(s).

4205. Quarters

1. General Population Quarters

a. To the largest extent that design and staffing allow, newly confined prisoners generally will be housed in an orientation quarters, that may be located in the RHU, and administered separately from post-orientation prisoners. During reception processing and orientation, prisoners will be objectively evaluated and a custody classification assigned prior to transfer to the general population.

b. Although preferred, there is no requirement that prisoners of different legal status (pretrial or post-trial) be berthed separately. Separation of prisoners may be by custody or AIMS classification or both (see article 4202.6 of this manual). Optimum situations permit housing different custody classification prisoners in different and separate areas. In many MCFs, practicality dictates commingling of prisoners in the same quarters; however, every effort will be made to maintain separate berthing where possible and when staffing allows. Direct supervision is required in general population housing.

a. The RHU provides living conditions similar to those of the general population; all exceptions will be clearly documented. RHU cells will be designed to permit prisoners to converse with and be observed by staff members. Prisoners are assigned to the RHU by the brig officer or designee and will not have normal privileges restricted unless privileges must be withheld for reasons of security or prisoner safety. In these cases, all restrictions must be documented on a special handling letter and signed by the brig officer or designee.

b. Definitions of Segregation Categories. Abbreviated segregation statuses listed below align with those in CORMIS or its electronic equivalent.

(1) Administrative Segregation (AS). A form of separation from the general population when the presence of the prisoner in general population poses a serious threat to life, property, self, staff, or other prisoners, or to the good order and discipline of the MCF. This segregation category is administrative in nature and may be for relatively extensive periods of time. Sub-categories of AS coincide with housing assignments in CORMIS or its electronic equivalent. Assignment to and removal from AS is authorized by the brig officer or designee.

(a) Medical Segregation (MED). MED is utilized for medical reasons.

(b) Prevention of Injury (POI). POI may be recommended by clinical, medical, CDO or DBS.

(c) Suicide Risk (SR)

1. Prisoners who are considered suicidal must be immediately referred to the medical department, clinical services, or mental health department for further evaluation and appropriate action, which may include hospitalization. References (aa) and (ab) provide guidelines in cases involving emergencies, specialized treatment or evaluation, or psychiatric treatment that cannot be deferred.

2. Such prisoners are normally hospitalized, but if not, the prisoner must be placed in the status of "SR" for continuous observation.

3. SR prisoners must be under continuous observation. Direct physical observation must be by a staff member and considered a primary duty. For documentation purposes, a logbook must be maintained by the staff observer (prisoner's name, date, observer, time the observer took over and ended the shift to include relief, and behavioral remarks as applicable). Annotation on the prisoner's DD 509 Inspection Record of Prisoner in Segregation will be made every 5 minutes. Supplemental (physical) sighting of and visit to suicide risk prisoners will be officially recorded on DD 509 and include date, time, name of visitor, and any appropriate remarks.

4. At levels II and III MCFs, a suicide watch companion program may be authorized by BUPERS-00D or DC PPO.

5. The brig officer or designee may direct removal of a prisoner's clothing and replacement with a suicide protection smock or privacy gown, or approved suicide blanket when deemed necessary by medical, clinical, or the CDO or DBS.

6. When no longer considered to be a suicide risk by medical officers, psychiatrists, doctoral-level clinical psychologists, or doctoral-level clinical social workers with clinical practice privileges, prisoners will be returned or stepped-down to POI or placed back in appropriate quarters.

(d) Escape Risk (ER). ER may be recommended by CDO or DBS or by the C&A Board due to seriousness of offense, misconduct while in confinement, or confinement capabilities.

(e) Potentially Violent or Dangerous (PVD). PVD may be recommended by CDO or DBS or by the C&A Board due to seriousness of offense, confinement capabilities, or dangerous conduct previously in general population.

(f) Pending Investigation (PI). PI may be recommended if the prisoner cannot be left in general population during an investigation.

(g) Loss of Privileges (LOP). LOP is used only when necessary to enforce loss of certain privileges requiring the prisoner to be housed in the RHU. LOP can also be served in general population based on the magnitude of the lost privileges.

(h) Awaiting Transfer (AT). A prisoner may be placed in AT when waiting to transfer to another facility.

(i) Protective Custody (PC). PC is a form of separation from the general population for prisoners requesting or requiring protection from other prisoners for reasons of health and safety. Admission to PC, to include rationale, must be fully documented with a consent form signed by the prisoner. Assignment to and removal from PC may be authorized by the brig officer or designee.

(j) Indoctrination (INDOC). Newly arriving prisoners assigned to the orientation program will normally be berthed in RHU on INDOC status until medically and clinically cleared to join general population.

(2) Disciplinary Segregation (DS). A form of separation from the general population directed by the approving authority after due process, in which prisoners committing violations of conduct, considered serious from an institutional standpoint, are housed within the RHU.

3. Procedures

a. Assignment to the RHU is not a punitive measure, except for DS, and must not be used as such. Prisoners must be aware of the reason they are assigned to the RHU and acknowledge in writing the limitations of their assigned status. All authorized special handling instructions that impact prisoners in the RHU must be annotated on a special handling letter.

b. When a prisoner is transferred to the RHU, health care staff will be informed immediately and will provide a screening and review as indicated by the protocols established by the health authority. Unless medical attention is needed more frequently, each prisoner in the RHU will receive a daily visit from a qualified health care professional. The visit ensures that offenders have access to the health care system. The presence of a health care provider in the RHU will be recorded on DD 509. The frequency of physician visits to the RHU is determined by the health authority.

c. All prisoners in the RHU will be under direct supervision. They will be sighted at least once every 15 minutes by a staff member and will be visited daily by members of the programs staff and the brig officer or designee. In addition, it is highly desirable that prisoners in the RHU be visited daily by a chaplain. Prisoners who are violent or who demonstrate unusual behavior may receive observation that is more frequent. The DD 509 must be used to document each sighting and visit to any RHU prisoner. Documentation of visits will include date, time, name of visitor, and any appropriate remarks.

d. Prisoners in the RHU must have the opportunity to be outside of their cell for at least 2 hours daily. The 2 hours may be comprised of opportunities for sunshine, recreation, exercise call, education, clinically appropriate treatment therapies, skill-building, and social interaction with staff and other prisoners. The amount of time and type of opportunity will depend on the prisoner’s status; however, at a minimum, all prisoners residing in the RHU who are not designated as on a specific restricted housing reportable status must receive 2 hours outside of their cell daily. If a prisoner is a safety or security concern and cannot receive 2 hours outside of their cell daily, they will be classified as a specific RH-reportable status and will be handled per article 4206 of this manual.

e. Alternative meal service may be provided to a prisoner in the RHU who uses food or feeding utensils in a manner that is hazardous to self, staff, or other prisoners. Alternative meal service will be on an individual basis, based on health or safety considerations only, meets basic nutritional requirements, and occurs with the written approval of the brig officer or designee, or responsible health authority. The substitution period must not exceed 7 days.

f. Prisoners in the RHU can write and receive letters on the same basis as prisoners in general population.

g. Prisoners in the RHU have opportunities for visitation unless there are substantial reasons for withholding such privileges. These restrictions must be documented on a special handling letter.

h. Prisoners in the RHU are allowed telephone privileges, unless restricted for cause or under investigation concerning the abuse of telephone privileges. Prisoners on DS are allowed limited telephone privileges. Regardless of status, prisoners in the RHU will have unlimited access to telephone calls related specifically to their attorney of record.

i. Prisoners in the RHU, regardless of status, must have access to legal materials, available legal reference materials, allowed access to legal counsel, access to courts, and access to reading or library materials.

j. Prisoners in the RHU will have access (which may or may not include attendance) to programs and services that include, but are not limited to, the following:

(1) Educational services;

(2) Commissary services;

(3) Library services;

(4) Social services;

(5) Counseling services;

(6) Religious guidance; and

(7) Recreational programs

4. Review of Segregated Prisoners

a. 72-Hour Review. The status of each prisoner placed in the RHU must be reviewed by the C&A Board within 72 hours of assignment of the RHU status. A prisoner placed in the RHU under PI status must be reviewed within 24-hours. This PI review may be accomplished through means other than the C&A Board as dictated through local policy.

b. 7-Day Review. A review of the status for prisoners in the RHU by the C&A Board must be conducted at least every 7 days for the first 60 days and every 30 days thereafter.

c. 30-Day Review

(1) A credentialed mental health provider must personally interview and provide a written report on any prisoner remaining in the RHU over 30 days. If segregation continues beyond 30 days, a credentialed mental health provider must make an assessment at least every 3 months, or more frequently if prescribed by the MCF medical officer, psychiatrist, or clinical services director. Prisoners in the RHU may develop symptoms of acute anxiety or other mental problems; regular psychological assessment helps ensure the mental health of anyone in the RHU for over 30 days.

(2) DS. A review of the status for prisoners in DS for more than 30 days must be reviewed and approved by the MCF CO. If a prisoner is in DS over 60 days, the prisoner must be provided the same program services and privileges as prisoners in AS (security and safety concerns permitting).

4206. Restrictive Housing (RH). Reference (ac) details RH policy for use within MCFs. RH-reportable status must only be utilized in extreme situations when no other corrections alternative is available.

1. Definition. Any type of detention or segregation that involves all three of these basic elements triggers an RH-reportable status:

a. Removal from the general prisoner population, whether voluntary or involuntary

b. Placement in a locked room or cell, whether alone or with another prisoner

c. Inability to leave the room or cell for the vast majority of the day, typically more than 22 hours.

2. Placement in RH-Reportable Status

a. Prisoners will be housed in the least restrictive setting necessary to ensure their own safety, as well as the safety of staff, other prisoners, and the public. Assignment of a prisoner to the RHU does not necessarily mean the prisoner is in an RH-reportable status. RH-reportable status may only be used for a prisoner in the RHU if there is no safer alternative. To administer the corrections mission safely, a prisoner in the RHU may meet the definitional parameters in paragraph 4206.1 of this manual.

b. MCFs must strive to limit the use of RH-reportable statuses whenever possible, and to the extent used, to limit the length of a prisoner's stay and to identify services including group, educational, and therapeutic services that the prisoner can safely participate in while in an RH-reportable status.

c. A RH-reportable status must always serve a specific correctional purpose. In each instance, MCFs must clearly articulate and document the specific reason(s) for a prisoner's placement and retention in an RH-reportable status. CORMIS or its electronic equivalent is the primary method for documenting all prisoner record entries. The reason(s) and duration for use of an RH-reportable status must be supported by objective-based rationale and factual statements. Prisoners will remain in the RH-reportable status for no longer than necessary to address the specific reason(s) for their placement.

d. A prisoner's initial placement in an RH-reportable status will be reviewed by the C&A Board the next business day and ongoing placement in an RH-reportable status will be reviewed by the C&A Board every business day in an attempt to remove the prisoner from the RH-reportable status as soon as possible. This review will include not only security and housing staff but also medical and mental health professionals and be endorsed by the MCF CO.

e. All correctional staff will be trained annually on RH policies (inclusive of pre-service and in-service training). Correctional supervisors must ensure compliance with RH policies and training standards. This training will be reflected in staff training records. Emphasis must be placed on the difference of being housed in the RHU vice actually being in an RH-reportable status.

f. MCFs will formally establish a RH committee, consisting of command and department-level correctional staff to regularly (i.e., not less than semi-annually) evaluate existing RH policy, develop safe and effective alternatives to the use of RH, and craft special handling letters and step-down plan strategies.

4207. Management of Mixed-Gender Prisoners and Staff Supervision of Opposite-Gender Prisoners

1. Background. Confinement of both male and female prisoners in a MCF manned by both male and female staff present significant correctional challenges and requires a gender-relevant approach to ensure safety, security, and meet identified privacy needs.

2. Definitions

a. Commingled Mixed-Gender Prisoners. Male and female prisoners mixed in the same space or area at the same time.

b. Opposite-Gender Supervision. MCF staff supervising a prisoner of the opposite gender.

3. Management and Supervision of Commingled Mixed-Gender Prisoner Policy

a. There must be no prisoners of the opposite gender confined in the same space at the same time. For the purposes of this manual, the term “space” refers to quarters, to include cells and open-bays. At no time will male and female prisoners be commingled in any space during the period between taps and reveille; or at any time or location without direct staff supervision.

b. MCFs must ensure visual and acoustic berthing separation of males and females confined, if simultaneous confinement of male and female Service members is authorized. For the purposes of this manual, "acoustic separation" is defined as out of range of normal conversation.

c. For operational planning purposes, the plan of the day must distinctly identify authorized commingled, mixed-gender events and times for general population prisoners. Adequate supervision and communication requirements must be in place prior to the commencement of the activity.

d. To the greatest extent possible, male and female prisoners will not be assigned simultaneously in the same program or work areas, while ensuring both have full access to a full range of programming opportunities. If assignment to the same work site simultaneously is unavoidable to ensure the same programming opportunities, the supervisor must provide direct supervision continuously and enforce prisoner rules that restrict mixed-gender communication to only that required to carry out the assigned work or task.

e. Mixed-gender prisoner working parties are not authorized outside the MCF security perimeter without specific authority of the brig officer or designee.

f. At no time will commingled male and female prisoners be unsupervised without a staff member being directly present in the program, workroom, or immediate area.

g. Staff members will permit no integration between opposite-gender prisoners except for verbal greetings and authorized exchanges during supervised activities (e.g.; work details, religious activities; morale, welfare, and recreation activities such as holiday functions; assigned group therapy sessions, etc.).

4. Staff Supervision of Opposite-Gender Prisoners

a. Staff must not be assigned duties that require supervision of prisoners of the opposite sex at times when routine nudity occurs.

b. Prisoners must be informed during reception that they are subject to observation by staff, to include staff members of the opposite sex. During the use of the toilet, showering, changing clothes, and similar periods of undress and nudity, mitigation efforts must be employed by the MCF to protect prisoner privacy. Efforts (temporary or otherwise) may include staff replacements to ensure observation by only staff members of same sex, privacy screens or partitions for each head area or shower area, etc. Nudity must not be permitted in common areas.

c. When both male and female prisoners are simultaneously confined in the MCF, at least one male and one female staff member must be on duty at all times and be positioned in a manner to support same-gender supervision requirements.

d. Accommodations must be in place to ensure camera monitoring by staff ensures adequate mixed-gender privacy (e.g.; during use of the toilet, showering, changing clothes, and similar periods of undress and nudity). Where necessary, staff augmentation will be employed to mitigate security and supervision concerns. For RHU prisoners in a camera cell, specialized clothing may be used to provide privacy from camera view. Such clothing will provide sufficient coverage of the body when seated on a toilet (i.e., longer than a standard uniform shirt).

e. MCF staff, volunteers, and all visitors who interact with prisoners of the opposite gender must always be under the continuous observation of correctional staff, at all locations. While direct observation is desired, frequent indirect observation such as camera or observation through a window is authorized.

f. Correctional staff must not conduct mixed-gender frisk searches, except as necessary in the event of an emergency affecting MCF safety and security. Such searches must be documented with an incident or information report and notated in the brig log.

g. Opposite-gender strip searches or opposite-gender visual body cavity searches (meaning a search of the anal or genital opening) are prohibited. These searches may only be performed by medical practitioners.

(1) MCF staff must not search or physically examine a transgender, intersex, or gender non-conforming prisoner for the sole purpose of determining the prisoner's genital status. Upon initial receipt and prior to search, if the prisoner's genital status is unknown, it may be determined during conversations with the prisoner, by reviewing medical records, or, if necessary, by learning that information as part of a broader medical examination conducted in private by a medical officer.

(2) Transgender, intersex, or gender non-conforming prisoners who do not feel comfortable being frisk-searched or stripped-searched by a staff member of the same sex will be searched by medical personnel.

h. Where mixed-gender correctional activities are authorized, there will be direct communication (radio) between the correctional staff and the control center. The CDO or DBS must pre-authorize and acknowledge mixed-gender presence, ensuring supervision requirements are in place prior to commencing the activity.

i. Male staff must not be permitted to enter places where females are housed, including a visual control center, unless they are accompanied by female staff or female staff are present, and only when entry is justified. The area must first be visually clear of prisoners who may be clothed inappropriately for the presence of male staff, and prior to entry, "male on deck" must be sounded loud enough to be heard. When female staff members enter a male area, the same procedures are followed and "female on deck" must be sounded. Justification for entry includes:

(1) Assist a prisoner;

(2) Restrain a prisoner;

(3) Accompany medical personnel; and

(4) Conduct official business.

j. Prisoner rules and regulations must be published at each MCF that:

(1) Identify mitigation efforts that provide privacy such as screens or partitions for each head area or shower area, etc., and the prisoner's obligation to use available protocols and procedures to avoid compromising themselves or undermining the staff

(2) Advise prisoners that they must not initiate or involve themselves in unduly familiar relationships with staff, volunteers, or other prisoners (e.g.; knowingly expose themselves in a state of undress where not authorized, conduct conversations of an intimate nature, or engage in sexual contact of any nature).

Section 3. Security Systems

4301. Responsibilities for Security

1. The primary purpose of a MCF is custody and control of prisoners. Control of prisoners requires impartial enforcement of reasonable rules and regulations that are necessary for the safe and orderly operation of the MCF. Custody and control measures must be adequate to maintain good order and discipline and to protect staff and prisoners.

2. An effective system of security, custody, and control must be established in each MCF. Every staff member must be aware that custody and security do not stand-alone but are interdependent with all other portions of the operation. Each staff member is responsible for security, custody, and control, regardless of duty assignment.

3. Fixed posts must be maintained to ensure all traffic is channeled with authorized access permitted to enter or leave only upon suitable identification and inspection. Use of armed staff within the security perimeter is not authorized. When necessary to post staff external to the security perimeter, staff must be located in a manner to ensure an unobstructed view of the observation area.

4. Security measures inside the MCF are the day-to-day control and supervision procedures designed to facilitate the movement of prisoners, to assure control of their whereabouts, to guard against violation of rules, and to promote good order and discipline. Posts must be established at key points such as in quarters and at entrances to work and recreation areas to afford control and direct supervision. Provisions must also be made for direct supervision during meals and plan-of-the-day activities.

5. Persons not assigned to duty at the MCF will not be allowed to enter the MCF except on official business or as authorized visitor. Authorized visitors shall wear a visitor's badge on the front of their outside garment, above the waist.

4302. Contraband and Searches

1. Contraband

a. Contraband is anything not specifically authorized by proper authority to be in a prisoner's possession, or any item authorized for use by a prisoner that has been modified for a use other than originally intended. Contraband can be controlled through close supervision and frequent searches.

(1) Unscheduled searches of prisoners, cells, visiting rooms, recreation areas, library, heads, dining facility, work areas, vehicles, deliveries, shipments, etc., are essential. Personal property and items of clothing that accompany new prisoners must also be closely searched to prevent the introduction of contraband.

(2) Staff will be provided sufficient furnishings, implements, and materials to conduct their duties. Introduction of unnecessary items into the secure area of the MCF must be strictly limited. Staff briefcases, purses, carrying bags, offices, and work areas are subject to search, along with all other areas of the MCF where prisoners may access for any reason. Regular and random searches of MCF staff should be conducted by the operations officer.

b. When contraband is discovered, a written report must be made listing the items and covering precisely the circumstances of discovery. The contraband items, along with the report, will be submitted to appropriate staff per local policy. It is essential that a strict chain of custody be maintained of any evidence that may be used in disciplinary action. OPNAV 5580/22 Evidence/Property Custody Receipt must be used.

2. Searches. Prisoners will be instructed that all persons, quarters, and work areas are subject to search at any time while confined. There are two types of searches, of a person and of an area. Searches are conducted to control contraband or recover missing or stolen property; use of non-intrusive methods (scanners) or other techniques instead of body searches should be used whenever feasible. Where random frisk or area searches are authorized, an objective-based method will be used; on-the-spot selection by staff is not an acceptable method. Random strip searches are not authorized. Searches are described below and will be used as the situation requires.

a. Search of the Person. Searches must be conducted by staff members of the same sex as the prisoner, absent emergency circumstances.

(1) Frisk Search. The prisoner's body, clothing, and possessions will be searched by the staff member. Requirements for prisoners to assume exaggerated positions are not authorized. Unnecessary force is prohibited. A quick, careless search is useless.

(2) Strip Search. A strip search must be conducted on prisoners being newly confined, entering or leaving the MCF on a temporary release, after visitation call, before and after transfer, or initially assigned to the RHU. Unnecessary strip searches must be avoided. Other than instances already stated, strip searches may be conducted only when specifically authorized by the brig officer or designee and there is reasonable belief that the prisoner may be in possession of an item of contraband or a good opportunity for concealment of contraband has occurred (e.g.; reliable information that the prisoner possesses contraband, the discovery of contraband in the prisoner’s living space, a serious incident in which the prisoner was involved or where the prisoner was present, refusal to be frisk searched, or breaks in custody). In these searches, prisoners must remove their shoes and all clothing. Clothing and personal effects must be physically searched. The prisoner’s body will be visibly searched. No contact is authorized. Strip searches must be made in privacy with only one prisoner at a time present and the searcher must have

INSTRUCTIONS FOR ASSEMBLING THE CERTIFIED RECORD OF TRIAL

Arrange and bind the record of trial with allied papers in the sequence indicated below. The court reporter is responsible for certifying the record of trial prior to transmittal for appellate review, in accordance with R.C.M. 1112 and JAG/CNLSCINST 5813.1G.

1. Pages 1 (Cover page) and 2 (Chronology Sheet) of DD Form 490 (enclosure 7).

2. Court reporter certification of Record of Trial (enclosure 8).

3. Military Judge verification of Record of Trial (enclosure 8).

4. DD Form 490 (pages 3-6 and any continuation pages if needed) (enclosure 7).

5. Completed Post-Trial Checklist from JAG/CNLSCINST 5814.1G (enclosure 2).

6. Completed Convening Authority's Action Checklist (enclosure 4).

7. Post-Trial Documents.

a. Certificates/Proof of Service of the Certified Record of Trial to the accused and victim, if applicable (enclosure 7).

b. Convening Authority's Action and Entry of Judgment (enclosure 6).

c. Any requests for copies of the court-martial record pursuant to R.C.M. 1106 or 1106A (attach written requests, and any certificates/proof of service, but do not attach the victim's post-trial rights advisement or DD Form 2704).

d. Matters submitted by the accused and/or victim under R.C.M. 1106 or 1106A, or any written waiver of the right to submit such matters. Include all responses to requests here as well.

e. Any deferment request and the action on it (including any request to waive automatic forfeitures under Article 58b).

f. Conditions of suspension and proof of service on probationer under R.C.M. 1107, if any.

g. All clemency recommendations by members or military judge, if any.

h. Statement of Trial Results (enclosure 1).

i. Crime Reporting Information.

j. Accused's request for appellate defense counsel, or waiver/withdrawal of appellate review under R.C.M. 1115, if applicable.

k. All transfer orders, confinement orders, and excess leave orders.

l. Briefs of counsel submitted after trial, if any.

8. Preliminary Hearing.

a. DD Form 457, Preliminary Hearing Officer's Report, pursuant to Article 32, if such hearing was conducted, followed by any other allied papers that accompanied the charges when referred for trial (including any matters submitted under R.C.M. 405(l), unless included elsewhere in the record of trial).*

b. Waiver of Article 32 Hearing (if applicable).

9. Pre-Trial Allied Papers.

a. Convening Order and all amending convening orders.

b. DD Form 458, Charge Sheet (unless included at the point of arraignment in the transcript).

INSTRUCTIONS FOR ASSEMBLING THE CERTIFIED RECORD OF TRIAL

c. Congressional inquiries and replies, if any.

d. Advice of staff judge advocate, when prepared pursuant to Article 34 or otherwise.

10. Record of Proceedings.

a. Substantially verbatim recording of court-martial proceedings. Segregate open and closed sessions of the court-martial in accordance with R.C.M. 1113 and the following guidance:*

b. Ensure that each closed session of the court-martial is recorded on a separate DVD marked CLOSED SESSION, placed in its own envelope marked CLOSED SESSION, and sealed.

c. Label all DVD(s) and envelopes with the information on page 1 of this template.

d. Mark all DVDs and envelopes with "1 of X." as necessary (for example, the second DVD of six DVDs and its envelope should be marked, 2 of 6). All DVDs of open sessions may be in one envelope.

e. Mark all DVDs with their beginning and ending timestamps. The timestamps for closed sessions should match those shown on the Index.

f. Verbatim transcript or summarized report prepared in accordance with JAGINST 5814.1G. Include the following:

I. A certificate of correction, if any (including any supplemental certification for additional proceedings).

II. Court reporter and transcriptionist certification of verbatim transcript.

g. Records of former proceedings (Article 30a) and/or trials, (e.g., electronic/digital record of former proceeding, including audio recording and any scanned documentation/transcripts, CD/DVD format).*

11. Prosecution exhibits admitted in evidence.

12. Defense Exhibits admitted in evidence.

13. Appellate Exhibits including but not limited to, proposed instructions, written offers of proof or preliminary evidence (real or documentary), briefs of counsel submitted at trial, request to be tried by military judge alone (if any), the accused election of members under R.C.M. 903 (if any), any statement by convening authority required under R.C.M. 503(a)(2), and the election for sentencing by members in lieu of sentencing by military judge under R.C.M. 1002(b).*

14. Redaction. The following information shall be redacted in accordance with JAGMAN 1059 from the record of trial prior to releasing it to any accused or victim (including any transcript made pursuant to R.C.M. 1114 and attached to the record of trial) unless the information establishes an element of an offense, or is otherwise required:

a. Any recordings of closed sessions, any transcripts of closed sessions, and any sealed exhibits.

b. Names of minor victims, and names of minor witnesses. If an identifier is used, use only the initials.

c. Social Security Numbers.

d. Financial account information.

e. Home addresses.

f. Telephone numbers.

g. Personal e-mail addresses.

h. Dates of birth.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR ASSEMBLING THE CERTIFIED RECORD OF TRIAL

i. Any other information that could be used to identify a specific person other than the accused.

*If the report of preliminary hearing or record of trial contains exhibits, proceedings, or other materials ordered sealed by the preliminary hearing officer or military judge, counsel for the Government, the court reporter, or trial counsel shall cause such materials to be sealed to prevent unauthorized examination or disclosure, pursuant to R.C.M. 1113. Sealed material shall be properly marked, individually placed in separate envelopes with a copy of the preliminary hearing officer or military judge sealing order affixed to it, and inserted at the appropriate place in the record of trial. Do not duplicate sealed material to include it in any copy of the record of trial. Instead, insert a copy of the sealing order in lieu of any sealed material, in any copies of the record of trial.

DIVIDERS ARE NOT NECESSARY TO SEPARATE EACH SECTION. IF USED, THEY CAN BE PAPER RATHER THAN CARD STOCK. IF A PARTICULAR COMPONENT IS NOT APPLICABLE IN THE RECORD OF TRIAL, SUCH AS AN ARTICLE 32 HEARING, EXHIBITS NOT ADMITTED, POST-TRIAL PROCEEDINGS AND VACATION HEARINGS, DO NOT INSERT A DIVIDER OR PLACEHOLDER.

FRONT AND BACK COVER MUST BE ON BLUE CARDS STOCK AND LABELED WITH GUM LABELS.

Binding. Each volume of a record of trial should be no more than 1.5 inches thick and bound at the top with metal or plastic fasteners. DO NOT interlace or "piggy-back" prong fasteners to create an oversized volume. DO NOT place hole punches where it covers up the evidence or language in the transcript. When it becomes necessary to assemble the record of trial in more than one volume, the volumes will be numbered consecutively, on the front cover, as illustrated below:

Volume 1 of 4 (Pages 1-250)
Volume 2 of 4 (Pages 251-400)
Volume 3 of 4 (Pages 401-652)
Volume 4 of 4 (Pages 653-901 and Exhibits)

Make the first volume of a multi-volume record an inch thick or smaller to allow for inclusion of post-trial documents. Limit subsequent volumes to 1.5 inches, unless dividing them requires assembling an additional volume smaller than a half inch.

30a PROCEEDINGS

another staff member present as a witness. Both staff must be of the same sex as the prisoner. Strip searches must be documented in a log with date, time, prisoner name, staff, and reason for search.

b. Area Search. All areas will be subjected to a thorough search at random times and on an unscheduled basis. Visiting areas, including visitor-parking areas, must be searched by staff before and after all visits and must be completed prior to any further access by prisoners. Area searches will be conducted in an organized orderly manner (zone search). Prisoners must not be present during the search nor be permitted to see how the search is conducted. If prisoners are occupying the area to be searched, they will be escorted out of the area, each being frisk-searched upon leaving. All authorized articles will be handled carefully and replaced as neatly as possible when the search is completed. Care will be exercised to avoid any undue disturbance of the prisoners' personal effects.

4303. Key Control

1. Control of keys is a major element of security. Key control procedures must be rigidly enforced. A key control system must include routine (at least monthly) inspections to ensure the authorized number of keys are available and will operate their corresponding locks. The key control system must identify each key or ring of keys and give its location at all times. No key will be marked to indicate its function; however, keys to emergency exits must be properly controlled and distinctly marked. Locks and keys for fire escapes and emergency doors must be checked frequently to ensure their operation.

2. There must be three identical sets of keys and all keys will be stored in lockable security containers. All three sets of keys must be rotated regularly (at least every 6 months) to ensure proper function and even wear of keys.

a. Active keys will be located in the control center unless an electronic key watch system is approved by BUPERS-00D or DC PPO; however, emergency keys must always be kept in the control center. Emergency keys must be readily identifiable and stored in such a way that provides accessibility in case of emergencies.

b. The second set of keys will be located on the premises of the MCF but outside the security perimeter.

c. The third set of keys will be located outside of the MCF and at a secure location providing 24-hour access.

3. The active key set must be inventoried daily for accountability and inspected monthly for functionality. All three sets of keys must be inventoried quarterly for accountability, and rotated at a minimum of every 6 months to ensure even wear. Results of inspections, inventories, and verification of rotation of keys will be documented and maintained on file locally for 3 years.

4. Only authorized staff members on duty will have MCF keys in their possession and then only during the performance of duties requiring the use of those keys. A sentry within a locked area must have only the keys to a locked sub-area (such as keys to cells within a unit). Keys, except permanently issued keys, must not be taken from the MCF. Staff members authorized to draw keys or key rings will use a metal tag, logbook, or personal identification number system for each key or key ring drawn and returned. An accurate inventory showing the number of each key, trade name of lock and its location, and number and location of keys for that lock must be maintained in a secure location. Each key or ring of keys will have its own hook on a lockable key panel board or key watcher location. All keys must be accounted for at all times.

5. In the event of lost, misplaced, or stolen keys, an investigation must be conducted immediately; thereafter, a determination to replace affected locks or cores must be made by the brig officer or designee. Any lock, core, or key replacement deemed necessary must be accomplished immediately. Replacement or reserve locks, cores, and keys must be secured to preclude access by unauthorized individuals.

6. A system for the control of MCF staff and visitors' personal keys must be implemented.

7. A key custodian and alternate key custodian must be appointed in writing by the MCF CO to administer the key control program.

4304. Tool Control. All MCFs must have a formal tool control plan that includes culinary, barber, and medical and dental instruments and supplies. Tools must be etched or tagged for identification and closely controlled. Where tools or equipment are kept in a MCF, a secure and lockable tool crib equipped with shadow boards, ladder racks, and garden tool storage racks will be provided. Ladders, ropes, cords, and hoses, as well as other equipment that can be used for escape purposes or for weapons, must be included in the tool control plan and highly supervised.

1. Restricted and hazardous tools must be easily identifiable, used only under supervision, and secured in a double-locked environment. A list of restricted tools (not all-inclusive) follows:

a. Workshops. Files, hacksaws, blades, welding torches, and pipe or bolt cutters;

b. Culinary. Kitchen knives, meat saws, cleavers, ice picks;

c. Medical and Dental Instruments and Supplies. Syringes, needles, and other sharps; and

d. Miscellaneous. Barber instruments

2. Procedures

a. A record of all tools, including life-cycle, must be maintained and monitored, tracking each item from the time it enters the MCF until the date it is removed from the MCF.

b. Keep tools to a minimum and maintain an accurate up-to-date inventory.

c. Utilize a shadow-board with outlines for tools where feasible.

d. Restricted and hazardous tools such as hacksaw blades, knives, culinary instruments, files and tips for cutting torches, and welding equipment must be specially marked, placed in identifiable containers and double-locked.

e. Account for all tools daily.

f. Maintain a tool log to include identification number of the tool, name of personnel or prisoner in possession, date and time issued and returned, and the issuing personnel.

g. Frequently verify location of all tools. Restricted tools and hazardous must only be used by prisoners under continuous staff supervision.

h. Tools allocated to various departments within the MCF will be distinctly marked or etched for ready identification and to determine which department has responsibility.

i. Prisoner utensils and culinary tools must be inventoried after each meal .

j. Broken, damaged, or worn tools must be turned in to the responsible supervisor for disposal. The responsible supervisor must account for all pieces and parts of a broken tool prior to its disposal.

k. Missing or lost tools must be reported immediately to the CDO or DBS. In the event of lost, misplaced, or stolen tools, an investigation must be conducted immediately and a search must be conducted in an effort to locate the missing tool(s). A report of the lost, missing, or stolen tool(s) will be forwarded to the brig officer or designee as soon as possible, but no later than the end of the shift in which the tool(s) were noted missing.

4305. Vehicle and Equipment Control

1. Authorization for entry of any vehicle into the MCF compound is contingent upon consent to search. No personal vehicles are authorized within the security perimeter. All vehicles entering or leaving the security perimeter must be carefully searched. A staff member will remain with the vehicle the entire time it is in the security perimeter unless the compound is clear of all prisoners. Containers entering the compound must be searched unless they were banded or sealed at a point of shipment and have not since been opened. Laundry, trash, and other containers must be searched before leaving the compound. All vehicles that remain in the security perimeter overnight must be disabled with security safeguards implemented per local policy.

2. Vehicles parked in the MCF staff or visitor parking area must be locked, keys removed, and windows fully closed.

4306. Flammable, Toxic, and Caustic Substance Control. Supplies, which may be dangerous, must be stored and secured per applicable Navy or Marine Corps policy, Navy Occupational Safety and Health standards, and reference (h).

1. Definitions

a. Flammable or Combustible. Flammable materials, liquids with a flash point below 100 degrees Fahrenheit.

b. Toxic. Materials or substances that through chemical reactions or mixture can produce possible injury or harm to the body by entering through the skin, digestive tract, or respiratory tract (e.g.; zinc, chromate paint, ammonia, chlorine, antifreeze, herbicides, and pesticides).

c. Caustic. Materials or substances that can destroy or eat away by chemical reaction (e.g.; lye, caustic soda, sulfuric acid).

d. Medical Supplies. Everything containing a narcotic or alcohol requires special handling and accounting. Refer to chapter 10 of this manual for further information on medical supplies.

e. Flavoring Extracts, Spices, and Food. When the MCF operates its own dining facility, close supervision by dining facility personnel must be maintained to prevent theft of material for making alcoholic beverages or weapons.

2. Control

a. Handling. If a material or substance possesses more than one of the above definition properties, the safety requirements for all applicable properties should be considered. Prisoners must never possess such items unless they are under the close supervision of qualified staff. Substances that do not contain one or more of the above properties but that are labeled "Keep Out of the Reach of Children" or "May Be Harmful If Swallowed" is not prohibited; their use and control, however, will be addressed in local policies. Safety data sheets must be maintained as applicable. Personnel handling flammable, toxic, or caustic materials must use appropriate personal protective equipment and be trained in their proper use.

b. Storage. All flammable, toxic, and caustic materials must be stored in secured areas that are inaccessible to prisoners and a prescribed system must be used to account for their distribution. Fuel (e.g.; gasoline or diesel) will be stored outside the MCF. If stored within the security fence line perimeter, hazardous material (HAZMAT) must be stored in locked authorized HAZMAT containers. HAZMAT items must only be brought into the security perimeter when necessary and then only in the amounts needed for the immediate work on hand and managed under staff supervision.

c. Safeguards. Staff will not introduce any form of unauthorized flammable, toxic, caustic material or substance into the security perimeter.

4307. Weapons. Immediate medical examination and treatment is required in all instances involving the use of a weapon. A written report detailing the use of force involved, detailing prisoners, staff, or others involved, and to describe the nature of the offense must be submitted to the MCF CO or designee no later than the conclusion of the tour of duty when any weapon or chemical agent is used. If injury or adverse public reaction occurs, an interim telephonic report must be made immediately to BUPERS-00D or DC PPO with follow-up reports as soon as additional information becomes known.

1. Restrictions. The MCF CO must ensure proper training of staff prior to employment of any weapons within the MCF. Firearms, ammunition, non-lethal, or chemical riot control equipment will only be allowed inside the security perimeter of the MCF when specifically authorized by the MCF CO, or higher authority, and then only to prevent or stop a riot or major disturbance. The officer authorizing such use will ordinarily be physically present during the period of authorized use.

2. Firearms. Use of firearms must be authorized by the MCF CO, or higher authority, only as a last resort. The MCF CO must ensure all MCF personnel authorized to use firearms receive appropriate training and demonstrate competency in their use before being assigned to a post involving the possible use of such weapons. Weapon competency will be renewed at least annually (each 12-month period rather than calendar year). Firearms training should be conducted using a systematic curriculum and be appropriately documented. Firearms must be used only to prevent serious injury, loss of life, or to protect staff or prisoners who are held as hostages. Persons must not be fired upon to prevent their escape unless in their efforts to escape, they harm or threaten to harm others seriously, or in any other way endanger the lives of others. Orders to halt will be given first. Warning shots will not be fired. Firearms must be used only by personnel qualified in their use.

3. Batons. Batons of any type (e.g., riot batons, asps, Monadnock PR-24, etc.) may be considered deadly weapons if used improperly. The MCF CO, or higher authority, may authorize their use only when the degree of force that can be applied by hand is inadequate to quell violence or control unruly prisoners. When authorized, the minimum force necessary to control the situation will be applied. Specific training and annual certification is required.

4. Non-Lethal. Use of non-lethal weapons may be authorized by the MCF CO or higher authority. The Marine Corps has been designated as the executive agent for the DoD Joint Non-Lethal Weapons (JNLW) Program for the responsibility in providing program recommendations and for estimating and coordinating JNLW requirements. Due to the array of applications available and unique scenarios appropriate for their use, pre-selection of such weapons or munitions is required. Purchase of non-lethal weapons for use by MCFs must first be authorized by BUPERS-00D or DC PPO. The MCF CO must publish policy governing training requirements and application consistent with JNLW Program guidelines.

5. Arms Locker. An arms locker must be provided outside the security perimeter for the storage of weapons carried by personnel who visit the MCF. An arms clearing trap must be provided outside the security perimeter to safely clear all weapons prior to storage in the arms locker. Instructions on the safe loading and unloading of common types of firearms utilized must be posted to assist personnel in the safe loading and clearing of their firearms.

4308. Chemical Agents. Chemical agents may be used only upon order of the MCF CO, or higher authority, and only by a person trained in its use. All personnel authorized to use chemical agents must receive thorough training in their use and in the treatment of individuals exposed to a chemical agent. A special training curriculum will be established that includes both individual and group instruction by competent authorities. A trained riot force of the MCF must be utilized. Oleoresin Capsicum (OC) and Ortho-Chlorobenzylidene Malonitrile (CS) gas may be used in all MCFs, with the exception of overseas facilities where OC or CS gas is prohibited by the status-of-forces agreement with the host nation. OC and CS gas must be inventoried and weighed at least monthly and after each use to determine condition, amounts available, and expiration dates. A record must be maintained on the use of OC or CS gas during disturbance control, training, or accidental release to monitor the number of individuals exposed and any attributed adverse outcomes. Immediate medical examination and treatment is required in all instances involving the use of a chemical weapon. A written report detailing use of force involved, detailing prisoners, staff, or others involved, and to describe the nature of the offense must be submitted to the MCF CO or designee no later than the conclusion of the tour of duty when any chemical agent is used. If injury or adverse public reaction occurs, an interim telephonic report must be made immediately to BUPERS-00D or DC PPO with follow-up reports as soon as additional information becomes known. Additional restrictions and responsibilities are provided below.

1. OC Spray. Exposure to OC spray may cause respiratory failure in susceptible individuals. If the situation and time allow, medical records will be reviewed to determine at-risk prisoners prior to deployment of OC. Ensure MCF staff members are appropriately trained in basic life support procedures before using OC spray.

2. CS Gas. CS gas may be used when there is a large number of rioters so situated that their removal would be hazardous to other prisoners or staff members. CS gas will not be authorized in conjunction with any other chemical agent.

a. Sufficient CS gas must be used at the first attempt to quickly break-up all resistance. Minimum effective amounts and maximum amounts that can be safely used in any given area must be computed in advance and be maintained as part of the riot control plan.

b. Provisions for equipment and personnel must be made for a follow-up action. CS gas will likely break the resistance, but prisoners may have to be forcibly removed. A follow-up squad equipped with gas masks must be ready to enter the affected area.

c. CS gas must be permitted to develop fully but not to dissipate before sending in follow-up squad(s).

4309. Instruments of Restraint. Instruments of restraint are never applied as punishment, discipline, coercion, convenience, or retaliation by staff and are applied only with the approval of the MCF CO or designee. Instruments of restraint should be used only as a precaution to prevent escape during transfer, for medical reasons if directed by the medical officer, or to prevent self-injury, injury to others, or property damage. Restraints should not be applied for more time than is necessary.

1. Definitions

a. Ambulatory Restraints. Corrections-related restraint equipment (as opposed to medical-related) that limits movement of body extremities without preventing the prisoner from moving about an area (also referred to as "walking restraints"). Ambulatory restraints generally allow the prisoner to eat, drink, move, and take care of basic human needs with no or minimum staff intervention.

b. Authorized Restraints. Restraints authorized by BUPERS-00D or DC PPO include steel handcuffs, leg irons, and waist chains (referred to as "hard restraints"), transportation or restraining belts, “body cuff universal restraint system,” and other restraints (referred to as "soft restraints").

c. Full Restraints. Full restraints include the collective use of steel handcuffs, leg irons, and transportation or restraining belts.

d. Progressive Restraint. Use of the least restrictive restraints deemed necessary to control the prisoner (e.g.; first use hand irons, then leg irons, then transportation or restraining belts, etc.). When MCF design supports single cells within the general population quarters, progressive restraint may also include de-escalation interventions such as staff directing a disruptive prisoner to return to his or her cell for a “cool down” period. Based on the prisoner’s behavior, more or less-restrictive restraints and transportation belts may be used.

e. Soft Restraints. Soft restraints are made of material such as Velcro, vinyl, plastic or leather and designed to prevent excessive movement of the prisoner’s body part to which they are attached in order to prevent the prisoner from Self-harm. Select soft restraints may also be considered “authorized restraints” when specifically authorized for use by BUPERS-00D or DC PPO.

f. Therapeutic Restraints. Therapeutic restraints include restraint equipment directed by a medical officer, most often a psychiatrist. Therapeutic restraints may include, but are not limited to, ambulatory soft restraints and immobilizing restraints such as “four-point” or “five-point” restraints, or a restraining chair. Immobilizing restraints secure the prisoner in such a way that the prisoner is prevented from self-rising, using toilet facilities, drinking, or eating. The use of four-point or five-point restraints is not authorized in MCFs but may be utilized during hospitalizations as prescribed by health care authorities. Medical, vice correctional, policy and regulation applies for use of therapeutic restraints. Neither the MCF CO nor staff have the authority to authorize the use of these restraints within MCFs.

2. Procedure

a. The MCF CO or designee is responsible for implementation of all aspects of prisoner ambulatory restraint policy and management with one exception. A military judge may direct restraints to be removed from a prisoner in the courtroom (and that the prisoner remain unrestrained while in the courtroom) if, in the judge's opinion, such restraint is deemed unnecessary.

(1) This exception does not extend to legal visits such as prisoner and attorney meetings occurring outside of court-martial proceedings.

(2) The MCF CO or designee is the approving authority (with exception to military judges as noted above) for any request to remove restraints outside of the MCF's security perimeter.

(3) Upon conclusion of court-martial, pretrial prisoners may be awarded "time served" or found "not guilty" resulting in pending release from confinement. In these instances, prisoners should be properly restrained based on their custody classification and returned to the MCF for out-processing and permanent release.

b. The MCF CO may delegate restraint authority to security personnel. MCF CO's will employ use of progressive restraint consistent with governing policy and guidance herein.

c. Restraint policy and guidance associated with prisoner custody classification is found in article 4201.2 of this manual.

d. The use of restraints on female prisoners during the active labor and delivery of a child is prohibited. Any deviation from this policy requires approval by, guidance on, and methodology from, the medical officer directing use of restraints and is based on serious security risks.

(1) The medical officer will provide guidance on the use of restraints on a pregnant prisoner prior to active labor and delivery.

(2) Restraints used on pregnant prisoners prior to active labor and delivery should not put the pregnant prisoner nor the fetus at risk.

e. Restraint equipment will be applied only for appropriate purposes and per applicable procedures. Staff and prisoner escorts must be specifically trained to each type of locally available authorized restraint.

f. Restraints may be authorized when regaining control during a disorder or when a prisoner is violent or escape-minded. If restraints are used because of a disorder or on a violent or disruptive prisoner, the brig officer will be notified immediately. The brig officer or designated senior security personnel will make an immediate on-site visit to observe that the use of restraints is appropriate and, where warranted, will report that use to their immediate superior in command. An incident report, a use of force statement, voluntary statements (including medical), and an updated scars and marks form must be submitted by the end of shift in all cases where restraints are applied in a non-routine use. In any case, senior security personnel will ensure restraints are removed as soon as practical.

g. Care will be taken not to unnecessarily display restrained prisoners to the public during transportation.

h. Staff may apply restraints to a prisoner who continues to resist after staff achieves physical control of that prisoner and may apply restraints to any prisoner who is placed under control by use of force (e.g., forced cell move). If a prisoner in a forcible restraint situation refuses to move to another area on his or her own, staff may physically move that prisoner by carefully lifting and carrying the prisoner to the appropriate destination. Staff members must not use the restraints for lifting or carrying a prisoner.

i. In circumstances when immediate use of restraints is required for control of the prisoner, the MCF CO or designee may require a prisoner to be restrained while in a cell or authorize restraints to remain on a prisoner once placed in a cell. Leaving prisoners restrained and unattended in a cell by themselves must not be authorized. Use of restraints on a prisoner in a cell must not be used unless a staff member directly and continually monitors the prisoner face-to-face. Staff must be cautioned and trained regarding the potential of injury to prisoners who are in restraints while in a cell by themselves. Injury can result from situations where prisoners fall and are not able to protect themselves from harm because of restricted movement.

j. Restraint equipment or devices must be used as designed and may not be used in any of the following ways:

(1) About a prisoner's neck or face or in any manner that restricts blood circulation or obstructs the prisoner's airway. Binding must never be placed around a prisoner's mouth, nose, and neck, or so tight to a limb that circulation is restricted. Staff protective gear generally provides sufficient insulation from a prisoner's spitting or biting; therefore, no effort should be made by use of towels, sheets, blankets, hosiery, masks or any other devices to prevent a prisoner from spitting or biting. However, when endorsed by a medical officer and approved by the MCF CO, the use of a medical mask may be authorized on a prisoner.

(2) In a manner that causes unnecessary physical pain or extreme discomfort and:

(a) Staff in general and supervisory personnel in particular must ensure that unnecessary pressure is not placed on a prisoner's body in applying restraints (e.g.; the prisoner's chest, back, or neck). While the proper application of restraints may result in some discomfort, examples of prohibited uses of restraints would include, but are not limited to: "hog-tying;" unnecessarily tight restraints; improperly applied restraints; or unauthorized restraints. Soft restraints, when specifically authorized by a medical officer, should only be used when all lesser measures to prevent the prisoner from harming him or herself are not working or such use is in the interest of safety. Helmets may also be considered as protective devices. Videotaping the application of restraints during a forced-cell move or for self-injurious prisoners is a good practice. Having medical personnel observe and examine the prisoner after application is also good practice.

(b) Restraints will be administered in a natural body position. If restrained in a supine position (face up), head should be free to rotate from side to side and, when possible, elevate head of bed to prevent risk of aspiration. Always avoid use of prone position (face down) due to possibility of a prisoner's airway becoming obstructed and lung expansion being restricted.

(4) To secure a prisoner to a fixed object, such as a cell door, cell grill, or vehicle component

k. De-escalation Interventions

(1) The effective handling of aggressive prisoners is one of the most demanding aspects of working in corrections. It is an area where good interaction and communication skills are required. The majority of situations, where there is a potential for violence, can be handled through effective communication. Staff must be trained to recognize the signs of aggression (e.g.; standing tall, red faced, raised voice, rapid breathing, direct prolonged eye contact, exaggerated gestures) and reasons for aggression (e.g.; frustration, unfairness, humiliation, immaturity, excitement, learned behavior, reputation, means to an end, decoy).

(2) Staff faced with aggressive prisoners should seek to defuse the situation as they continually assess the risk of violence. Staff should be cautious to do nothing to further escalate the situation, yet maintain control of the situation. Training must be provided to staff in methods to: appear confident; display calmness; create some space; speak slowly, gently, and clearly; lower their voice; avoid staring; avoid arguing and confrontation; show that they are listening; and calm the prisoner. Staff should adopt a non-threatening body posture: use a calm, open posture (sitting or standing); reduce direct eye contact (as it may be taken as a confrontation); allow the prisoner adequate personal space; keep both hands visible; avoid sudden movements that may startle or be perceived as an attack; avoid audiences, as an audience may escalate the situation.

(3) When MCF design supports single cells within the general population quarters, progressive restraint may also include de-escalation interventions such as staff directing a disruptive prisoner or prisoners to return to their cell for a "cool down" period. Such periods cannot exceed 30 minutes and all cases will be reported immediately to the CDO or DBS, be documented in the quarters supervisor’s log, and be brought to the attention of senior security personnel. Where warranted, the CDO or DBS can extend the cool down period by an additional 30 minutes.

l. Staff and prisoner escorts should be thoroughly trained in the use of locally authorized restraints. Restraints can be cumbersome to apply and harmful to a prisoner if proper training is not provided. In the rare cases where restraint is required for pregnant prisoners, an approved vinyl or leather restraint belt should be used instead of a metal waist chain, whenever possible, to prevent injury to the prisoner or fetus. Where a metal waist chain is directed for use on a pregnant prisoner, where possible, medical personnel should check for proper application.

m. All prisoners in restraints, internal or external of the MCF, must be under direct and continuous observation, supervision and, if under movement, assisted control.

n. To support prisoner escorts, restraint guidance for use on a specific prisoner must be indicated in the "Remarks" field (block 6) of DD 2708 Receipt for Pretrial/Post-Trial Prisoner or Detained Person.

o. Requests for use for other than traditional "hard restraints" must be forwarded to BUPERS-00D or DC PPO with pictures, design intent, technical specifications, application procedures, and training curriculum. For audit purposes, authorizations must be retained locally and readily available for review.

3. Staff Training

a. Brig officers will ensure all correctional staff, to include support staff and prisoner escorts, are thoroughly trained in the policy, application, and use of available authorized restraint equipment and such training will be inclusive within pre-service and in-service training programs and documented within staff training records.

b. At a minimum, restraint-related training should include such issues as: restraint terminology; types of restraints; staff authorized to direct restraints; proper procedures for applying and removing restraints; de-escalation interventions; communication skills; role of the medical officer; terminology, physiology, and medical risks associated with the application and the use of restraints; procedures for lifting or carrying a restrained prisoner; supervision, movement, and monitoring prisoners in restraints; measures to reduce the risk for asphyxia and death; and legal implications and liability.

Section 4. Disturbances and Emergencies

4401. Prevention of Disturbances

1. There are causes for all disturbances. Trouble may be indicated when prisoners become restless and flare-up easily or when they avoid contact with staff members. Excessive numbers of disciplinary reports, requests for work or housing changes, and suicide attempts are indications of potential trouble and must be investigated. To eliminate incidents that could result in a riot or disorder, staff should be able to observe and detect tensions and unrest among prisoners and report them promptly. Frequent causes of disturbances are mistreatment, untrained staff, failure to separate problem prisoners, and improperly prepared or served food.

2. When an incident or disturbance occurs, staff members must identify individual prisoners involved and report their actions. Immediate identification and isolation of leaders may prevent development of a major disturbance. Staff members will be trained in the exercise of patience in the control of troublesome groups. Unnecessary use of force or arbitrary actions may precipitate a disturbance.

3. Each MCF must implement adequate disturbance and emergency plans, and all MCF staff must be trained in their implementation. Work stoppage and riot or disturbance plans are communicated only to appropriate supervisory or other personnel directly involved in the implementation of those plans. An annual review of all disturbance and emergency plans must be an essential element of staff pre-service and in-service training. New staff must be thoroughly familiar with all disturbance and emergency plans prior to their permanent post assignment.

4. The principles of Incident Command System for Corrections (ICS-C) will be followed in the development and implementation of emergency bills. The ICS-C is based upon the National Incident Management System (NIMS) protocols, which identify steps for improved coordination in response to incidents that impact correctional operations. The result of the basic protocols is emergency management and incident response systems that provide a common operating picture, to include common incident response procedures, communication and language spoken, and universal priorities which applies across the spectrum of response agencies and departments whether Federal, State, local, or tribal governments. NIMS protocols directly relate to corrections and detention settings.

4402. Controlling Disturbances

1. Staff personnel must avoid use of force where the assigned responsibilities can be effectively discharged without its use. If security cannot be accomplished without the use of force, personnel will use the minimum amount of force necessary to control the situation.

2. When deciding a course of action, consideration must be given to general public safety, safety and welfare of hostages (if any), prevention of loss of life or injury to other personnel, prisoner welfare, and protection of property.

4403. Priorities of Force. Use of physical force is restricted to instances of justifiable self-defense, protection of others, protection of property, prevention of escapes, and to maintain or regain control, then only as a last resort per this manual. When use of force is necessary, it will be exercised according to priorities of force and limited to the minimum degree necessary under the particular circumstances. All instances requiring the use of force must be fully documented. Use of firepower is justified only when ordered by the MCF CO or higher authority, under conditions of extreme necessity as a last resort, and when all lesser means have failed or cannot be reasonably employed. Examples of such circumstances are stated in article 4404 of this manual. The application of any or all of the priorities of force listed or the application of a higher priority of force without first employing a lower priority of force will depend on and be consistent with the situation encountered during any particular disorder. Priorities of force and who may order them are as follows:

| Priority of Force | Who May Order (billet) |
|---|---|
| An order | Any staff member |
| Show of force (condition or code) | Any staff member |
| Show of force (organized) | Brig officer or authorized representative |
| Use of physical force (individual) | Staff member in self-defense or CDO or DBS |
| Use of physical force (organized) | Brig officer or authorized Representative (if immediate action is required; otherwise CO |
| Chemical agents (OC spray) | CO |
| Use of batons | CO |
| Non-lethal munitions or use use of high pressure water water | CO |
| Fire by selected marksmen or full firepower | CO |

4404. Deadly Force. Deadly force is defined as that force which is used with the purpose of causing, or which a person knows or should know would cause, a substantial risk of death or serious bodily harm.

1. The following are examples of extreme situations where use of deadly force may be directed:

a. To protect citizens, staff personnel, or hostages when a reasonable belief exists that they are in imminent danger of death or serious bodily harm; or

b. To prevent the commission of a serious offense involving violence and the threatened death or serious bodily harm to another prisoner

2. The CO must verify that all elements of intent, capability, and opportunity are in place prior to application of deadly force.

a. Intent. Threat or will of a person to cause injury to another

b. Capability. A means to carry out the threat; i.e., a weapon of some sort

c. Opportunity. Space in which a subject is in to complete the threat. Subjects with knives cannot injure individuals 50 yards away; however, if they had pistols the situation changes.

4405. Emergency Response Plan. The MCF emergency response plan will be prepared to ensure the safety of staff and prisoners in the event of an emergency and reviewed annually. At a minimum, the MCF must publish the following required bills; fire, escape, riot, hostage, natural disaster, work stoppage, hunger strike, and bomb threat. MCF staff must be trained in the implementation of written emergency response plans during pre-service and in-service training. Emergency response plans will specify the means for immediate release of prisoners from locked areas in case of an emergency requiring evacuation and provide for a back-up system in case the primary system fails. These plans must be safeguarded to ensure prisoners do not have access.

1. Fire Bill. Fire bills will provide for the following:

a. Secure and prompt evacuation of all personnel to a pre-selected control point and the means for the immediate release of prisoners from locked areas in case of emergency and provide for a back-up system of release;

b. Availability of efficient firefighting equipment at all times;

c. Modern, portable fire extinguishers in close proximity to all living quarters and at other strategic locations, as determined by the fire marshal;

d. Keys to emergency exits properly controlled and distinctly marked;

e. Availability of portable floodlight equipment;

f. Prisoners will be trained in fire evacuation procedures;

g. Prominent posting of primary and alternate evacuation routes and use of exit signs and directional arrows for traffic flow as information to staff and prisoners in quarters and administrative spaces;

h. Fire drills to be conducted at least monthly and recorded in the brig log;

i. All fire bills must be coordinated with and approved by the installation fire department. Fire bills must be reviewed annually, updated if necessary, and re-approved by the installation fire department; and

j. Detailed plan of building(s) for fire department only.

2. Escape Bill. All precautions must be taken to prevent the escape of prisoners. Reasonable precautions include proper custody classification of prisoners, adequate instruction and supervision of staff, alertness of all staff members, a system of security inspections, and issuance of an adequate escape bill. All staff members and prisoner escorts from other activities or units must be familiar with procedures to be followed in the case of an escape or attempted escape. In the event of an escape, or attempted escape, action as outlined below must be taken.

a. Attempted Escape from a MCF. If a prisoner attempts to escape from inside the MCF, take action in the following order:

(1) Command the prisoner to “halt” and repeat the command one time, if necessary.

(2) If unsuccessful using the command "halt," prevent the escape by physical pursuit and restraint as may be necessary under the circumstances.

(3) An escape, whether successful or unsuccessful, will tend to cause unrest and could lead to a disturbance. Care must be taken to ensure a proper count is conducted and the daily routine is resumed as soon as possible; and

(4) If the prisoner is injured when captured, request medical assistance immediately.

b. Attempted Escape from an Escort. If a prisoner tries to escape from an escort outside the MCF or if the person refuses to obey an order to remain with the detail, the escort will attempt to restrain the prisoner with any effective means at hand, provided it can be done without jeopardizing control over the remaining prisoners in the detail. If the prisoner successfully escapes, the escort will move the remaining prisoners to the nearest means of communication, report the incident to the MCF and request instructions.

c. Escape Bill Requirements. Specific procedures that can be used quickly when an escape occurs should be made available to all staff. Procedures must include the following: prompt reporting of the escape to the MCF CO; mobilizing of staff; implementing of a predetermined search plan; notify base security or provost marshal's office; higher headquarters; public affairs office; preparing of escape circulars for distribution and mailing; and, after apprehension of the escapee, promptly notify all who were previously alerted to the escape. Additional considerations include:

(1) Procedures for reporting absence of a prisoner and sounding the alarm without loss of time;

(2) Maintenance of an up-to-date list of all staff members with addresses and telephone numbers so they can be recalled when needed (emergency recall bill). The recall roster must be safeguarded to ensure compliance with personally identifiable information requirements and tested every quarter, at a minimum, to verify accuracy of recall numbers and response time of staff members;

(3) A listing of escape posts to be manned while the search is in progress. These may be divided into groups that provide for coverage according to areas and known circumstances;

(4) Escape post-specific instructions will be provided for each staff member assigned to an escape post. Instructions will include post number, location of nearest law enforcement agency, and any other information that will assist staff members when they arrive on the post. Portable communication will be issued for each escape post;

(5) Provisions for notification of military and civil law enforcement agencies in the area when an escape has occurred and their notification upon apprehension. The applicable Service Deserter Information Point (DIP) will be notified immediately via telephone with a message to follow the next working day, and DD 553 Deserter/Absentee Wanted by the Armed Forces will be completed and forwarded to the Service DIP by the most expeditious means available. The below points of contact are provided:

(a) USN: Toll free (877) 663-6772
Commercial (901) 874-2522

(b) USMC: Commercial (703) 604-0395, 6666

(c) USA: Commercial (502) 626-3711

(d) USAF: Toll free (800) 433-0048
Commercial (210) 565-3727

(6) Provisions for picking-up personnel assigned to outlying posts and for turn-in of equipment;

(7) Provisions for not disrupting unrelated activities of the installation or station; and

(8) Provisions for securing and preserving any evidence of, or related to, the escape.

3. Riot Control Bill

a. Personnel assigned to riot control response units must be properly equipped and trained in local riot control measures.

b. Each team must be given specific instructions in the course(s) of action to be followed.

c. An assessment of the situation must be made before committing personnel to a condition that could result in a hostage-taking situation. Reinforcements must be called as necessary to handle the situation and they will be assembled as soon as they arrive. This delay can be used to plan the operation and determine immediate objectives. Outer perimeter must be secured.

d. Chemical agents may be used as directed by article 4308 of this manual.

e. Prior arrangements must be made for appropriate emergency response units, not assigned to the MCF, to secure the outside perimeter of the MCF to prevent escape during the period of time spent in forming and briefing the MCF riot squad. Practice drills must be held on a periodic basis. Kind and amount of force used will be directed by the situation. A standby reaction force will be employed as required.

f. Riot control bills must provide for the following:

(1) Sounding the alarm;

(2) Basic procedures for dealing with riots in the mess hall, recreation area, auditorium, or any place where large numbers of prisoners normally gather; and

(3) Instructions for identifying, separating, and housing agitators and ringleaders

g. Provisions for notifying the MCF CO; security, fire, and utilities departments; public affairs; and staff members (emergency recall bill) who may be needed in controlling the riot

h. Safety measures for staff and prisoners who are not participants

i. Provisions for the protection of property

j. Taking immediate steps to close the security perimeter to any avenue of escape or breaching

k. Procedures for localizing the disturbance

l. Procedures to be followed in the event of a hostage-taking situation

m. Procedures for permitting withdrawal from the affected area by prisoners not wishing to participate

n. Provisions made for securing communications facilities, heat, water, and main electrical controls

o. Cause of the disturbance will be ascertained if possible. Rioters may be conferred with, but no promises will be made regarding any demands other than they will have a fair hearing. Use of a formally trained negotiator must be provided for in the emergency bill, but senior decision-making personnel must not become directly involved in negotiations with prisoners.

p. Personnel will be instructed to closely observe actions of the prisoners in order to provide future evidence concerning the agitators and ringleaders.

q. Use of cameras and video recording is encouraged during disturbances as they can serve as a deterrent, as well as providing graphic evidence in the case of future disciplinary hearings. A bullhorn, video camera, and tape recorder are practical equipment to have available for disturbances.

r. Detailed plan of building(s) (blueprint or video)

s. Steps must be taken as soon as the disturbance is under control to ensure no one has escaped and that the physical plant of the MCF is secure.

(1) Segregate all prisoner participants of the riot and assign sufficient supervision to prevent a recurrence of the disturbance.

(2) Account for all prisoners and involved staff.

(3) Provide extra supervisory personnel in all quarters and mess hall until it is certain the disorder is completely subdued.

(4) Segregate all prisoner leaders and agitators in the RHU pending investigation.

(5) Curtail all work and recreation activities, if necessary, and rearrange dining schedules so it is possible to provide adequate supervision for small groups of prisoners.

(6) Conduct a thorough investigation of the incident.

(7) Photograph all damaged areas and destruction before making repairs.

(8) Arrange for repair of damage to the MCF's physical plant and equipment.

(9) Debrief staff members.

(10) Evaluate use of traumatic stress teams.

4. Hostage Bill. Proper training of all staff members and specialized training of hostage reaction teams is imperative. A person, regardless of grade, held hostage has no authority. All orders received from an individual under duress or being held hostage will be referred to the applicable (non-hostage) staff member in the chain of command before being acted upon.

5. Natural Disaster Bill

a. If a MCF is not secure enough to withstand natural disasters, prisoners and staff may be evacuated prior to the final alert stage or condition. Pre-planning and coordination must be made with BUPERS-00D or DC PPO as appropriate.

b. Disaster bills must include the following:

(1) A secure area or structure must be predetermined for the security and prompt evacuation of all personnel

(2) Evacuation routes must be carefully predetermined for security and prompt evacuation of all personnel and take into account natural and manufactured barriers along the route

(3) Emergency food, water, first-aid supplies, fuel, and communications planned for either evacuation site or remain-in-place operations (3-day supply)

(4) If time permits, individual prisoner records will accompany personnel to the evacuation site.

(5) MCFs will be secured once evacuation is complete.

(6) Medical assistance must be provided for injured personnel.

(7) Procedures to account for all personnel and a plan to effect the orderly return to the MCF; and

(8) Working parties will be formed as necessary to repair damage and clear debris.

6. Civilian Work Stoppage Bill. A work stoppage occurs when civilian staff members actively demonstrate dissatisfaction by striking, calling in sick, and or creating work slowdowns or substandard performance.

a. Procedure. At a minimum, each MCF must maintain a work stoppage bill that includes:

(1) Continuity of operations based on the length of the adverse action(s);

(2) Security and safety;

(3) Communications with employees;

(4) Communication with the public affairs office; and

(5) Documentation of employee actions during adverse job actions.

b. After Action. At a minimum, upon resolution of a work stoppage, the MCF must:

(1) Devise a plan to release temporary assigned personnel from other commands;

(2) Resume normal MCF operations as soon as possible;

(3) Analyze cause of the action; and

(4) Analyze lessons learned for improvements.

7. Hunger Strike Bill. MCFs must publish a hunger strike bill consistent with the provisions contained within article 10201.6 of this manual.

8. Bomb Threat Bill. MCFs must prepare a bomb threat bill to react to bomb threats or explosions. Any type of bomb threat must be treated seriously and never ignored. All threats must be investigated before making a declaration that the threat is a hoax. The bomb threat bill must contain the following procedures:

a. Bomb threat by phone (bomb threat checklist);

b. Bomb threat by mail;

c. Suspicious items;

d. Event of an explosion;

e. Threat evaluation;

f. Bomb search procedures;

g. Bomb search techniques;

h. Evacuation;

i. Reporting or notification requirements; and

j. After action reports

Encl: (1) 48 Hour Notice of Classification Form

Cancellation. NAVCONBRIGCHASNSOP 401 of 28 Jun 2023.

Effective date. Twenty-four hours after issue.

1. Purpose. To set forth policies and procedures governing objective classification for prisoner custody level.

2. Applicability. To all staff and prisoners.

3. Definitions

a. Classification. A process for objectively determining the level of security and program requirements for prisoners based upon existing resources.

b. Custody. The degree of supervision each prisoner requires.

c. Prisoner. An individual in naval confinement. This includes individuals in pretrial confinement.

d. Unit Team. The Unit Teams are appointed by the Commanding Officer and comprised, at a minimum, of a Unit Manager, Unit Counselor, and Quarters Supervisor (s).

e. Security Perimeter. That area within the confines of the facility walls and/or the dual twelve-foot fence.

4. Policy

a. Staff will determine the degree of supervision, restraint and control needed for individual prisoners. This will be based on individual interviews and a review of all available records as from intake, orientation, program plan development, and evaluation by staff. Initial classification actions will be completed by the Command Duty Officer (CDO). Reclassification actions will be completed by the Unit Team and Classification and Adjustment Board (C&A Board) and approved by the Brig Officer or designee.

b. A written policy, procedure, and practice provide for a written prisoner classification plan. The plan specifies the objectives of the classification system and methods for achieving them, and provides a monitoring and evaluation mechanism to determine whether the objectives are being met (5-ACI-5B-01).

c. The classification system will specify the level of custody required and provides for a regular review of each classification (5-ACI-5B-02).

d. The classification plan will provide for maximum involvement of representatives of relevant institutional programs and the prisoner concerned in classification reviews (5-ACI-5B-03).

e. The institution or parent agency solicits and uses pre-institutional assessment information regarding the prisoner's progress and adjustment (5-ACI-5B-04).

f. At initial classification, each prisoner will be assigned to a staff member to ensure supervision and personal contact; a unit team may perform this function (5-ACI-5B-05).

g. The written plan for each prisoner classification status will be reviewed at least every 12 months (5-ACI-5B-06).

h. The classification plan specifies criteria and procedures for determining and changing a prisoner's program status; the plan includes at least one level of appeal (5-ACI-5B-07).

i. Unless precluded for security or other substantial reasons, all prisoners appear at their classification hearing and are given notice 48 hours prior to the hearing; such notice may be waived by the prisoner in writing (5-ACI-5B-08).

j. Prisoners may initiate a review of their progress and program status by submitting a request to their unit team (5-ACI-5B-09).

k. Special needs prisoners will be identified by receiving personnel, clinical, medical, or unit team staff or other qualified personnel (5-ACI-5B-11).

l. Adjudicated delinquent offenders and youths charged with offenses that would not be crimes if committed by adults will not reside in the brig (5-ACI-5B-12).

m. The maximum size of a single management unit is variable and is based upon the characteristics of its prisoner population but does not exceed 80 prisoners. The exact size of each management unit is determined by (1) the security classification of the prisoner occupants (higher security levels require smaller unit size), and (2) the ability of staff to complete regular security checks, maintain visual and auditory contact, maintain personal contact and interaction with prisoners, and be aware of unit conditions (5-ACI-2B-03). The Brig rated capacity is 175 which is designated by PERS-00D.

n. Security and program determinations necessary for any individual to be eligible for industries work are made by the unit team and the C&A Board, as outlined in ref (d) (5-ACI-7A-09).

o. Graduated release through a systematic decrease in supervision and corresponding increase in prisoner responsibility will be considered during the classification process (5-ACI-5F-03).

p. Staff and prisoner interaction are encouraged. Brig staff, particularly Unit Teams, follow the unit management system which provides staff with the authority to make decisions, and the ability to make recommendations regarding security, classification, services, and programs for prisoners as out lined in ref (c) (5-ACI-2B-02).

q. A graduated release through a systematic decrease in supervision and corresponding increase in prisoners responsibility is part of the classification program (5-ACI-5F-03).

r. The security and program determinations necessary for any individual to be eligible for industries work are made by the Classification and Assignment Board (5-ACI-7A-09).

5. Procedures

a. Initial Custody Classification. The initial custody classification is conducted during the reception process by the CDO using pre-institutional assessment regarding progress and adjustment (5-ACI-5B-05). The facility solicits and uses pre-institutional assessment information regarding the prisoner's progress and adjustment (5-ACI-5B-04). The CDO shall ensure the following are completed:

(1) Complete Prisoner Background Summary DD Form 2710.

(2) Complete Initial Custody Classification Form DD Form 2711.

(3) Determine prisoner level of custody and identify any special needs or problems (5-ACI-5B-11).

(4) An initial custody classification of MDI will be assigned to all pre-trial and post-trial prisoners, except when MAX is required due to special circumstances. Under no circumstances should a prisoner have an initial classification of MDO/MIN/IC.

(5) Classification actions are entered into the Corrections Management Information System (CORMIS).

(6) All prisoners shall be initially assigned to the Special Quarters' Chief to ensure supervision and personal contact, pending clinical/medical clearance and urinalysis. Once cleared, the prisoner will be assigned to the Orientation Housing Unit. (5-ACI-5B-05). Transient prisoners will remain in Special Quarters until transfer is affected.

(7) Policy, procedure, and practice provide for a written prisoner classification plan. The plan specifies the objectives of the classification system and methods for achieving them, and it provides a monitoring and evaluation mechanism to determine whether the objectives are being met (5-ACI-5B-01).

(8) Adjudicated delinquent offenders and youths charged with offenses that would not be crimes if committed by adults will not reside in the brig (5-ACI-5B-12).

b. Prisoner Notification. Unless precluded for security or other substantial reasons, all prisoners will be given the opportunity to appear at their classification hearing. They will be notified in writing at least 48 hours before the next Classification Review, using enclosure (1). Prisoners may waive the 48 hour notice and/or their right to appear at the hearing (5-ACI-5B-05). The right to appeal the outcome to the Commanding Officer is retained even if the prisoner declines to appear. Unless precluded for security or other substantial reasons, all prisoners appear at their classification hearing and are given notice 48 hours prior to the hearing; such notice may be waived by the prisoner in writing (5-ACI-5B-08).

c. Custody Reclassification. Custody reclassification shall be focused on the graduated release through a systematic decrease in supervision and corresponding increase in prisoner responsibility (5-ACI-5F-03).

(1) After orientation, prisoners will be reviewed by the Orientation Unit Team for placement in the general population, custody, housing, work, and special programs. Reclassification will be done if the following occurs:

(a) Meeting time requirements listed in paragraph (d) below.

(b) A guilty finding from a Discipline and Adjustment Board.

(c) Receipt of more than three negative spot reports within a 90-day period.

(d) After movement from disciplinary segregation.

(e) Any time determined appropriate by a unit team member or at the prisoner's request.

(2) To effect a reclassification review; the Unit Team will:

(a) Complete the Custody Reclassification Form DD Form 2711-1. This form is verified by the Unit Manager with input from the Unit Team. If the Unit Team agrees with the objective recommendation, "no" is circled on the override line. If the C&A Board disagrees recommendation, "yes" is circled with the override code and rationale written on the form for review by the Brig Officer. Override of the objective classification recommendation will be determined by the Brig Officer. An override will normally increase/decrease the custody by one level unless otherwise approved by the Brig Officer.

(b) Determine change in custody level and housing assignment.

(c) Notify the prisoner of the unit team decision.

(d) Forward form to Brig Officer via the Classification and Adjustment Board (C&A Board), a multi-disciplinary board, in accordance with SOP 635, and place completed form in the prisoner's file after Brig Officer's approval (5-ACI-5B-03).

(e) Input the classification actions into CORMIS after final approval is received.

d. Time Schedule for Reclassification. In accordance with reference (b), reclassification of prisoners will be accomplished by the Unit Team as follows (5-ACI-5B-02) (5-ACI-5B-06):

| Criteria | Pretrial | Post-Trial |
|---|---|---|
| At completion of orientation or upon change in legal status | Maximum Custody | All |
| Every 30 Days | Maximum Custody | Maximum Custody |
| Initiated by staff recommendation to change custody classification to a higher/more restrictive level based on identification of risk, other salient factors or management problems. (e.g., MDI to MAX) | Medium-In Custody | All except Maximum Custody |
| Initiated by staff recommendation to change custody classification to a lower/less restrictive level based on performance, risk or other salient factors. (e.g., MDI to MDO) | N/A | All except Installation Custody |

|---|---|---|
| Semi-annual* | N/A | All with sentences of 1 to 3 years |
| Annual* | N/A | All with sentences over 3 years |

*Reclassification may also be conducted based on review of the prisoner's hard-card, work evaluations, disciplinary actions, or other performance or security issues. This review is initiated by the Unit Team at its weekly meeting, which reviews prisoner hard-cards and other related performance information. A review of the prisoner program plan will also be conducted at least annually and documented in CORMIS.

e. Prisoner Initiated Reclassification. Prisoners may initiate a review of their progress and program status, and custody classification at any time by submitting a DD Form 510 request to their unit team (5-ACI-5B-09). If a request for custody classification is received, the Unit Team will assess the prisoner and make a recommendation to the C&A Board. The C&A Board will review the prisoners request and Unit Team recommendation, and forward their recommendation to the Brig Officer for approval.

f. Guidelines for Custody Reclassifications. The Unit Team shall take into consideration the degree of supervision and restraint needed for control of individual prisoners, inside and outside the security perimeter, as outlined in Reference (a), Article 4201. The Unit Team/C&A Board will use the following guidelines to establish proper custody classification assignments for all post-trial prisoners; exceptions to any of the elements listed below must be approved by either the CO or XO.

NOTE: Time awarded for pretrial confinement and other administrative credits deemed appropriate by the court will be considered as time served and used in computing minimum time eligibilities for custody classification.

(1) Maximum Custody (MAX). Pre-trial and post-trial prisoners requiring special custodial supervision because of the high probability of escape, are potentially violent or dangerous, and those who are at risk of harming themselves. Ordinarily, only a small percentage of prisoners shall be classified as MAX.

(2) Medium Inside (MDI). Pre-trial and post-trial prisoners who present security risks not warranting MAX and are not regarded as dangerous or violent.

(a) Assigned to all new prisoners, except those specifically deemed to be serious management problems (MAX), shall be assigned a MDI custody classification during the reception/orientation phase.

(b) All pre-trial prisoners will maintain an MDI custody classification, except those specifically deemed to be serious management problems (MAX).

(c) Assigned to General and Special Courts-Martial prisoners who have more than 90 days remaining on their sentence and who have not served one fourth 1/4 of their sentence to confinement.

(d) May also be used when special circumstances warrant (e.g., previous or current conduct in confinement, convicted of serious violent crime, previous convictions, escape risk, pending civil charges, etc.).

(3) Medium Outside (MDO). Post-trial prisoners who present security risks not warranting MDI are considered MDO prisoners.

(a) Will normally be assigned to Summary Courts-Martial prisoners after completion of orientation unless special circumstances warrant remaining MDI.

(b) Assigned to General and Special Courts-Martial prisoners who have served one fourth (1/4) of their sentence to confinement or have less than 90 days remaining on their sentence to confinement unless special circumstances warrant remaining MDI (e.g., convicted of serious violent crime, previous convictions, escape risk, pending civil charges, etc.).

(4) Minimum Custody (MIN). Post-trial prisoners who present security risks not warranting the above classifications are considered MIN prisoners.

(a) Summary courts-martial prisoners may be assigned upon completion of orientation if facility needs require.

(b) May be assigned to General and Special Courts-Martial prisoners who have served one third (1/3) of their sentence to confinement or have less than 2 years remaining on their sentence to confinement.

(c) Must be active in or completed all required programs associated with their convicted offense(s) or any other condition that may exist (i.e., Sexual Offender Education (SOED), General Violence (GO) Treatment, Innovative Skills, Techniques, Options and Plans for Better Relationships (STOP) Treatment, Substance Use Treatment).

(d) No DRs or negative Observation Reports within 90 days. If more than 3 DR's received, prisoner must have completed 120 days without incident since their last DR. Exceptions may be granted on a case-by-case basis. Should a minimum custody prisoner be found guilty at a disciplinary hearing, the prisoner shall be reviewed for increased custody.

(e) Work and Training Reports must reflect above average to outstanding marks.

(f) A prisoner increased from minimum custody will not normally be reassigned to minimum.

(5) Installation Custody (IC). Certain post-trial prisoners who require only limited custodial supervision. They may work and move about much the same as individuals in a normal duty status.

(a) Assigned to prisoners upholding the highest standards of personal conduct and behavior.

(b) Have completed at least one half (1/2) of their confinement adjudged, or the convening authority has acted, whichever occurs first.

(c) No violent charges or any charges that are of a sexual nature.

(d) No more than twelve months from minimum release date.

(e) Never previously removed from IC classification for poor performance or behavior.

(f) Must be active in or completed all required programs related to their offense or any other condition that may exist.

(g) No DR's or negative Observation Reports within 180 days of the nomination. If more than 3 DR's received, he must have completed 180 days without incident since his last DR. Exceptions may be granted on a case-by-case basis.

(h) Work and Training Reports must reflect above average to outstanding marks.

(i) Consideration will be taken when assigning jobs to prisoners adjudicated for serious sexual or aggravated assault offenses.

(j) IC Classification shall be administered in accordance with ref (e).

g. Other Factors Affecting Custody Classification

(1) Factors, though not all inclusive, to be considered in assessing higher custody classifications (MAX or MDI) include:

(a) Assaultive behavior.

(b) Disruptive behavior.

(c) Serious drug abuse.

(d) Serious civil/military criminal record (convicted or alleged).

(e) Low tolerance of frustration.

(f) Intensive acting out or dislike of the military.

(g) History of previous escape(s).

(h) Pending civil charges/detainer filed.

(i) Serving a sentence which the individual considers to be unjust or severe.

(j) Poor home conditions or family relationships.

(k) A mental evaluation indicating serious neurosis or psychosis.

(l) Indication of unwillingness to accept responsibility for personal actions past and present.

(m) Demonstrated pattern of poor judgment.

(n) Length, or potential length, of sentence.

(o) Gang affiliation or ties with disruptive organizations.

(p) Awaiting transfer to another confinement facility.

(q) Refusal to accept/participate in recommended treatment programs.

(2) Factors that indicate lower custody classifications (MDO, MIN, or IC) include:

(a) Clear military record, aside from present offense.

(b) Close family ties; good home conditions.

(c) The offense(s) charged is not serious.

(d) Apparently stable mental condition (responsible for own actions).

(e) Indications the individual wishes to return to duty.

(f) Comparatively short sentence to confinement; however, length of sentence shall not be an overriding factor.

(g) Behavior during a previous confinement.

(h) Completion of, or active participation in, treatment programs or groups.

(3) The factors listed above are indicators, not ironclad rules; therefore, the Brig Officer will consider objective based overrides where applicable. An evaluation of all phases of prisoner performance shall be made prior to each custody change. By following the criteria and concepts outlined above, the Brig Officer shall be able to make more efficient use of staff and provide an atmosphere in which rehabilitative efforts shall be more effective.

h. Staff and prisoner interaction are encouraged. Brig staff, particularly unit teams, follow the unit management system which provides staff with the authority to make decisions, and the ability to make recommendations regarding security, classification, services, and programs for prisoners (see SOP 633) (5-ACI-2B-02). The maximum size of a single management unit is variable and is based upon the characteristics of its prisoner population but does not exceed 80 prisoners. The exact size of each management unit is determined by (1) the security classification of the prisoner occupants (higher security levels require smaller unit size), and (2) the ability of staff to complete regular security checks, maintain visual and auditory contact, maintain personal contact and interaction with prisoners, and be aware of unit conditions (5-ACI-2B-03).

i. The security and program determinations necessary for any individual to be eligible for industries work are made by the Classification and Assignment Board (5-ACI-7A-09).

6. Appeals. Appeals of classification decisions shall be forwarded to the Commanding Officer via DD Form 510 in accordance with the Prisoner Handbook (5-ACI-5B-07).

7. Records Management. Records created as a result of this SOP, regardless of media or format, must be managed per Secretary of the Navy Manual 5210.1 of January 2012.

8. Review and Effective Date. Per OPNAVINST 5215.17A, the originator will review this instruction annually around the anniversary of its issuance date to ensure applicability, currency, and consistency with Federal, Department of Defense, Secretary of the Navy, and Navy policy and statutory authority using OPNAV 5215/40 Review of Instruction. This instruction will be in effect for 10 years, unless revised or cancelled in the interim, and will be reissued by the 10-year anniversary date if it is still required, unless it meets one of the exceptions in OPNAVINST 5215.17A, paragraph 9.

PROSECUTION EXHIBITS ADMITTED

NAVY-MARINE CORPS TRIAL JUDICIARY
CENTRAL JUDICIAL CIRCUIT
GENERAL COURT-MARTIAL

| United States of Americav.Jermiah CopelandCSSN/E-3U.S. Navy | STIPULATION OF FACT30 April 2026 |

I, CSSN Jermiah Copeland, United States Navy, stipulate and agree that the following facts are true, accurate, susceptible of proof, and are admissible into evidence without regard to any evidentiary rule, applicable case law, or Rule for Courts-Martial. I hereby waive any objection I may have to the admission of these facts and evidence. The military judge may consider these facts in determining the providence of my guilty pleas and in determining an appropriate sentence.

Jurisdiction

1. I, CSSN Jermiah Copeland, United States Navy, was born on 23 March 2005.

2. On 13 July 2023, I enlisted in the United States Navy. I have been on continuous active duty since my enlistment.

3. I was assigned to the USS HARRY S. TRUMAN (CVN 75) from 30 December 2023 to 22 January 2025.

4. I have been assigned to the USS JAMES E WILLAMS since 24 January 2025.

5. I did not at any time suffer from any mental defect or disease that caused me to commit the offenses to which I am pleading guilty. I was not forced or coerced to commit these offenses, nor did I commit them to save myself or anyone else from death or grievous bodily harm. I engaged in the conduct underlying these offenses voluntarily and I was unaware of any authority or entitlement allowing me to commit these acts.

Charge II, Sole Specification
128 – Aggravated Assault by Strangulation

6. "Strangulation" means intentionally, knowingly, or recklessly impeding the normal breathing or circulation of the blood of a person by applying pressure to the throat or neck, regardless of whether that conduct results in any visible injury or whether there is any intent to kill or protractedly injure the alleged victim.

7. I have reviewed Article 128 of the Uniform Code of Military Justice.

8. I admit that I violated Article 128 (aggravated assault) when I committed the acts described below.

9. On 24 July 2024, I was stationed onboard the USS HARRY S. TRUMAN (CVN 75). ABHAN C.R. was also stationed onboard the USS HARRY S. TRUMAN.

10. In the late evening hours of 24 July 2024, ABHAN C.R. asked if I would come to the fantail and talk to her. I agreed.

11. While we were on the fantail, I assaulted her. I grabbed her neck and squeezed by applying pressure to her throat impeding blood circulation. I intentionally put my hand around ABHAN C.R.'s neck.

12. I did not have ABHAN C.R.'s consent to touch her. I was not under the mistaken belief that she consented or wanted me to strangle her. I did not have any legal justification or excuse. My conduct was unlawful.

120c – Indecent Recording

13. I have reviewed Article 120c of the Uniform Code of Military Justice.

14. I admit that I violated Article 120c (indecent recording) when I committed the acts described below.

15. On 4 November 2024, I was stationed on board the USS HARRY S. TRUMAN (CVN 75).

16. CSSN S.S. was also stationed onboard the USS HARRY S. TRUMAN (CVN 75).

17. On 4 November 2024, the USS HARRY S. TRUMAN conducted a port visit to Oslo, Norway.

18. CSSN S.S. and I were not liberty buddies. Her and I went out with a large group of people from mixed friend groups.

19. That night, I was at a bar, Heidi's. CSSN S.S. and her liberty buddies were also there.

20. We went to the female restroom together. In the ladies' room, we had sex in a bathroom stall. I used my phone to make a recording of that sexual activity. In the video you could see CSSN S.S.'s naked buttocks.

21. I intentionally made the recording of CSSN S.S. and myself having sex.

22. CSSN S.S. did not know that I was recording her. She did not consent to me recording her.

23. CSSN S.S. was in a bathroom stall where she had a reasonable expectation of privacy.

131b – Obstruction of Justice

24. I have reviewed Article 131b of the Uniform Code of Military Justice.

25. I admit that I violated Article 131b (Obstruction of Justice) when I committed the acts described below.

26. On 5 November 2024, I was stationed on the USS HARRY S. TRUMAN. CSSN S.S. confronted me about having sex with her when she was drunk the night before. CSSN S.S. was upset and angry because other people had seen a video of us having sex. Given how she responded, I had a reason to believe that there would be criminal proceedings pending against me. I thought that my phone contained evidence that would be hurtful to me. Because I thought my phone contained potential evidence against me, I hid my cellular phone, by smashing it and throwing in the street in Oslo.

27. I hid my phone because I believed that there would be criminal proceedings against me because of CSSN S.S.'s accusations.

28. I hid the phone with the intent to impede the due administration of justice. Specifically, to prevent NCIS from obtaining evidence that could be harmful to my case.

131b – Obstruction of Justice

29. I have reviewed Article 131b of the Uniform Code of Military Justice.

30. I admit that I violated Article 131b (Obstruction of Justice) when I committed the acts described below.

31. On 2 June 2025, I was stationed on the USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS (DDG 95).

32. I had a reason to believe that there would be criminal proceedings pending because I was aware that CS3 A.R. was declared missing and law enforcement was looking for her. Because I thought criminal proceedings would be pending, I concealed the body of CS3 A.R.

33. I hid CS3 A.R.'s body because I believed that there would be criminal proceedings against me because I knew I had murdered CS3 A.R. and her deceased body was in my barracks room. I hid her body inside of a suitcase and put the suitcase inside my closet. On 2 June 2025, I transported the suitcase from my barracks room closet and dropped the suitcase outside in a wooded area near Cary Ave located in Norfolk, VA.

34. I had no legal justification or excuse to hide CS3 A.R.'s body.

35. My decision to hide CS3 A.R.'s body was intentional and not done by accident.

Charge VI
107 – False Official Statement

36. I have reviewed Article 107 of the Uniform Code of Military Justice.

37. I admit that I violated Article 107 when I committed the acts described below.

38. On 1 June 2025, I spoke with Special Agent Jessica Gokey, NCIS. When I spoke to her, I knew I was making an official statement. During that official statement, I told SA Gokey that I drove CS3 A.R. back to her barracks room on the morning of 29 May 2025 or words to that effect.

39. That statement to SA Gokey was totally false and I knew it was false. I knew it was false because I had not taken CS3 A.R. back to her barracks room. When I made that statement to SA Gokey, I did so with the intent to deceive her.

Charge VII
118 – Unpremeditated Murder

40. I have reviewed Article 118 of the Uniform Code of Military Justice.

41. I admit that I violated Article 118 on 29 May 2025 when I committed the acts described below.

42. I believe and admit that CS3 A.R. is dead. I know this because I caused her death.

43. On 29 May 2025, CS3 A.R. came to my barracks to hang out, drink, and make tacos with me. While we were hanging out, we started drinking alcohol. CS3 A.R. and I were hanging out in my barracks room on my couch. While we were on the couch, there was bright flash on my cell phone. CS3 A.R. became very upset after she saw the flash.

44. While she was upset, she made a lot of noise. I wanted her to be quiet and tried to get her to calm down and stop making so much noise. I was concerned that my roommates would wake up and assume I did something inappropriate to her. Despite my attempts to calm her down, she did not calm down.

45. To try and make her be quiet, I put my hands over CS3 A.R.'s mouth, which was unsuccessful at keeping her quiet. She continued to make lots of noise. While I was attempting to put my hands over her mouth, she tripped and fell to the floor. While she was on the floor, I got on top of her and strangled her with two hands. My intent while strangling her was to at least cause her grievous bodily harm because I wanted her to stop making noise. I caused CS3 A.R.'s death by strangling her with my hands while she was laying down on the floor in my barracks room. I had both hands around her neck, strangling her until she stopped moving and making noise. I knew she had died when she stopped moving and became unresponsive.

46. When I put my hands around CS3 A.R.'s neck, I intended to at least inflict great bodily harm to CS3 A.R.

47. The killing of CS3 A.R. was unlawful. I did not have any legal justification or excuse. While I had consumed alcohol prior to strangling CS3 A.R., I knew what I was doing and my actions were intentional. I have been advised of the defense of voluntary intoxication, and I do not believe it applies in my case. I was not acting in self-defense. I was not under duress. CS3 A.R.'s death was not an accident. It was caused by my intentional action.

Statement of CSSN Jermiah Copeland

I, CSSN Copeland, United States Navy, swear that all the foregoing statements in this Stipulation of Fact are true and that I entered into this Stipulation of Fact intelligently, voluntarily, and under no duress or coercion from anyone.

I understand that the Military Judge will use this Stipulation of Fact in determining my guilt or in determining an appropriate sentence if I am found guilty. I understand that by entering into this Stipulation of Fact, I am electing to give up my constitutional right to remain silent, to a trial of facts on these offenses, and to confront and cross-examine witnesses against me. I understand I am providing the Court with the strongest form of proof against me known to the law. By my signature below, I acknowledge that I have read this Stipulation of Fact completely, discussed it with my counsel, and understand it in all respects.

CONTROL: 26JUL24-NFXQ-00015-8CNA

S/COPELAND, JERMIAH TAYLOR/SN USN
[redacted]

RESULTS OF INTERVIEW OF [redacted]

1. As background, on 26Jul24 NCISRU USS HARRY S TRUMAN (CVN 75) was notified by MA1 Ronald CORTESELLI, USN, CVN 75, of an unrestricted reported of sexual assault aboard the ship that occurred on 23Jul24 at approximately 0200 hours. MA1 CORTESELLI reported [redacted], reported CSSN Jermiah Taylor COPELAND (S/COPELAND), USN, CVN 75, grabbed her vulva, breasts, and buttocks over the clothing while applying pressure to her neck so that it was difficult for her to breathe.

2. On 06Aug24 at approximately 2030 hours, [redacted] was interviewed by Reporting Agent (RA) aboard CVN 75, while at sea in compartment 02-88-4-Q. IT2 Morgan RODRIGUEZ, USN, Uniform Victim Advocate (UVA), CVN 75, was present for the entirety of the interview.

3. The interview was audio and video recorded in its entirety utilizing the CaseCracker system. This report serves as a synopsis of the interview and does not necessarily describe the information in the order in which it was discussed. For a verbatim account, please refer to the digital recording; Enclosure (A) pertains.

4. [redacted] related she is in a relationship with CSSN Fernando CUESTABRAVO, USN, CVN 75, and was in the mess decks with him in the early morning hours of 23Jul24 when he stated he was going to sleep. [redacted] stated after CSSN CUESTABRAVO left, she began receiving SnapChat snaps from S/COPELAND, who stated he was headed to the ship and expressed he wanted to talk to her about CSSN CUESTABRAVO. [redacted] agreed, and stated S/COPELAND arrived and requested the pair go somewhere private to talk.

5. After arriving to the area of the fantail, S/COPELAND told [redacted] that CSSN CUESTABRAVO was talking to other women and asserted CSSN CUESTABRAVO was not treating [redacted] the way she should be treated. [redacted] related S/COPELAND suggested SHE engage in a relationship with him (S/COPELAND) to "get back at" CSSN CUESTABRAVO. [redacted] stated she told S/COPELAND she did not "do those types of things." [redacted] recalled discussing her relationship with S/COPELAND for a short period of time before S/COPELAND began to play a "game" with her wherein he pretended to arrest her. [redacted] stated S/COPELAND forced her hands behind her back and grabbed her vulva over the clothing.

6. [redacted] related she turned around and punched S/COPELAND in the stomach.

C.R. related S/COPLEAND told her he heard she liked to be choked, at which time S/COPELAND applied pressure to her neck with one hand so that it was difficult for C.R. to breathe. C.R. recalled pushing S/COPELAND's hand away from her throat but that he would immediately replace it and keep applying pressure. While applying pressure to her neck, C.R. recalled S/COPELAND kissed her on the lips and grabbed her breasts, buttocks, and vulva over the clothing. C.R. related the physical contact lasted approximately a minute before S/COPELAND stopped of his own accord. C.R. stated she told S/COPELAND she was going to bed and left the fantail.

7. C.R. recalled being unsure if she should tell CSSN CUESTABRAVO because she was worried about his reaction, but texted him about what happened. C.R. stated CSSN CUESTABRAVO encouraged her to report the incident. C.R. stated she called the Sexual Assault Prevention and Response (SAPR) phone number she found on a poster aboard the ship, and was informed to get in touch with shipboard SAPR personnel. C.R. stated she did not know how, so CSSN CUESTABRAVO reported the incident to Security. C.R. stated she had bruising on her neck that CSSN CUESTABRAVO observed, but that it was now gone.

8. C.R. stated she told her Chief, CSC Gregory SIMMONS, USN, CVN 75, about the incident. C.R. related CSSN Jalen OWENS, USN, CVN 75, told CSSN CUESTABRAVO that S/COPELAND told her (CSSN OWENS) that C.R. had reported him.

9. C.R. provided RA screen shots of the texts she sent to CSSN CUESTABRAVA via Air Drop, and signed a Permissive Authorization for Search and Seizure (PASS) denoting her consent; Enclosure (B) pertains. The screen shots were subsequently placed on an NCIS Photographic Template for inclusion into the case file; Enclosure (C) pertains.

11. At the conclusion of the interview, C.R. was provided a DD Form 2701 Victim Witness Assistance Pamphlet (VWAP).

RESULTS OF INTERVIEW OF CSSN FERNANDO CUESTABRAVO, USN

1. As background, on 26Jul24 NCISRU USS HARRY S TRUMAN (CVN 75) was notified by MA1 Ronald CORTESELLI, USN, CVN 75, of an unrestricted reported of sexual assault aboard the ship that occurred on 23Jul24 at approximately 0200 hours. MA1 CORTESELLI reported C.R. [redacted], reported CSSN Jermiah Taylor COPELAND (S/COPELAND), USN, CVN 75, grabbed her vulva, breasts, and buttocks over the clothing while applying pressure to her neck so that it was difficult for her to breathe. During the course of the investigation, CSSN Fernando CUESTABRAVO, USN, USS HARRY S TRUMAN (CVN 75), was identified as having information in reference to the investigation.

2. On 16Aug24 at approximately 2000 hours, CSSN CUESTABRAVO was interviewed by Reporting Agent (RA) and MAC Adam NORMAN, USN, CVN 75 aboard CVN 75, while at sea in compartment 02-88-4-Q.

3. CSSN CUESTABRAVO stated he and C.R. [redacted] have been dating and the two consider themselves to be boyfriend and girlfriend. CSSN CUESTABRAVO recalled at approximately 0200 hours on 24Jul24, he received text messages from C.R. [redacted] indicating something bad had happened. Later that morning, CSSN CUESTABRAVO stated C.R. [redacted] disclosed S/COPELAND had strangled her, grabbed her, and "touched her everywhere." CSSN CUESTABRAVO related C.R. [redacted] never mentioned S/COPELAND being creepy or weird prior to the incident. CSSN CUESTABRAVO recalled observing bruises on one side of V/RODGER's neck related to the strangulation. CSSN CUESTABRAVO stated neither he nor C.R. [redacted] took pictures of the bruises.

4. CSSN CUESTABRAVO stated he encouraged C.R. [redacted] to report the incident. When C.R. [redacted] was unable to contact Sexual Assault Prevention and Response (SAPR), CSSN CUESTABRAVO stated he went to the Security Department on 26Jul24 to report the offense.

5. CSSN CUESTABRAVO related he tries to avoid S/COPELAND, but S/COPELAND has made several attempts to talk to CSSN CUESTABRAVO about the incident. CSSN CUESTABRAVO recalled telling S/COPELAND he would not speak about it.

6. CSSN CUESTABRAVO stated CSSA Deontae WILLIAMS, USN, USS HARRY S TRUMAN (CVN 75) approached him after the incident and asked him if it was true S/COPELAND "fucked his girl." CSSN CUESTABRAVO opined S/COPELAND told CSSA WILLIAMS what had happened.

RESULTS OF INTERVIEW OF [redacted]

1. As background, on 06Nov24, NCISRU USS HARRY S TRUMAN (CVN 75), was notified by ET2 Courtney EFF, USN, Uniformed Victim Advocate (UVA), CVN 75, of a sexual assault wherein [redacted], reported she was sexually assaulted by CSSN Jermiah COPELAND (S/COPELAND), USN, CVN 75, in a bathroom at a bar in Oslo, Norway, during a port call on 04Nov24 at approximately 2200 hours.

2. On 07Nov24 at approximately 1115 hours, [redacted] was interviewed by Reporting Agent (RA) in the NCIS Office aboard the ship located at 02-88-4-Q. ET2 Courtney EFF, USN, Uniformed Victim Advocate (UVA), USS HARRY S TRUMAN (CVN 75), was present for the entirety of the interview.

3. The interview was audio and video recorded in its entirety utilizing the CaseCracker system. This report serves as a synopsis of the interview and does not necessarily describe the information in the order in which it was discussed. For a verbatim account, please refer to the digital recording; Enclosure (A) pertains.

4. [redacted] stated she knew S/COPELAND well prior to the assault and stated they became "really good friends" after he got to the ship. [redacted] stated he never expressed a romantic or sexual interest in her prior. [redacted] explained she and S/COPELAND work different shifts and stated she is on day shift in the galley and he is on night shift.

5. [redacted] stated she left the ship on 04Nov24 with a group of other Culinary Specialists and her liberty buddy was CSSN Alexis RODGERS, USN, CVN 75. [redacted] recalled they left the ship at approximately 1900 hours and walked to a mall, which was closed. At that time [redacted] stated the group moved to another bar but the group felt there were too many drunk sailors there so they eventually walked to Heidi's Bier Bar in Oslo, Norway. [redacted] stated the group began to drink alcohol and she estimated she had three (3) shots of tequila before "blacking out."

6. [redacted] stated others speculated she had been drugged, but [redacted] did not think that was likely. [redacted] stated she ate a normal dinner before leaving the ship at approximately 1900 hours. [redacted] stated she took the shots with a period of time between them and could not explain why she blacked out.

7. [redacted] stated she has some memories of the evening to include

S/COPELAND dancing with her and her friends. S.S recalled after the evening, CSSN McKenzie SAUNDERS, USN, CVN 75, told CSSN Shamel EADDY, USN, CVN 75, she found S.S in the bathroom following the assault. S.S stated she did not remember how she got back to the ship but recalled throwing up upon her return.

8. The following morning, S.S stated she woke up for work and did not feel well. When she used the bathroom, S.S recalled she had vaginal pain and swelling and addition to cramps that felt similar to menstrual cramps. S.S recalled at the time, she was not concerned because she was unaware of the incident with S/COPELAND. Later, S.S stated she began to hear rumors that S/COPELAND was claiming he had sex with her in a bathroom at the bar and recorded the intercourse and was showing other people.

9. S.S stated she and her boyfriend, CSSN EADDY, were discussing the rumors in the evening hours with CSSA Nicholas SPIVEY, USN, CVN 75. S.S related she decided to call S/COPELAND and confront him about the rumors and CSSA SPIVEY provided her S/COPELAND's phone number. S.S stated CSSA SPIVEY left before she called S/COPELAND but CSSN EADDY remained with her while she called S/COPELAND from the first class mess. S.S stated CSSN EADDY attempted to record the entirety of the conversation but his phone died approximately one (1) minute in.

10. S.S related she called S/COPELAND and confronted him about the rumors, which he emphatically denied. S.S recalled after the phone call, he continued to text her and threatened to kill himself. S.S agreed to provide RA with screen shots of the text messages via Air Drop, and signed a Permissive Authorization for Search and Seizure (PASS) denoting her intentions; Enclosure (B) pertains. Six (6) screen shots of the text messages were subsequently placed on an NCIS Photograph Template for their inclusion into the case file; Enclosure (C) pertains.

11. At the conclusion of the interview, S.S was provided a DD Form 2701 Initial Information for Victims and Witnesses of Crime.

RESULTS OF ATTEMPTS TO LOCATE CELLULAR TELEPHONE

1. As background, on 06Nov24, NCISRU USS HARRY S TRUMAN (CVN 75), was notified by ET2 Courtney EFF, USN, Uniformed Victim Advocate (UVA), CVN 75, of a sexual assault wherein S.S. [redacted], reported she was sexually assaulted by CSSN Jermiah COPELAND (S/COPELAND), USN, CVN 75, in a bathroom at a bar in Oslo, Norway, during a port call on 04Nov24 at approximately 2200 hours. During the course of this investigation is was reported the alleged nonconsensual encounter was recorded and broadcast by S/COPELAND via his cellular telephone.

2. On 06Nov24 at approximately 0930 hours, Reporting Agent (RA) made contact with S/COPELAND in Security Spaces aboard the ship. S/COPELAND was escorted to Security by CSCM Aneuris ROBLES, USN, USS HARRY S TRUMAN (CVN 75). RA introduced herself as a Special Agent and requested to search the person of S/COPELAND for his cellular telephone. S/COPELAND stated he did not have his cellular telephone and had given it to his friend, CSSN Kaulise COUSINS, USN, USS HARRY S TRUMAN (CVN 75), but consented to a search of his person. Due to the exigent nature of the search, a Permissive Authorization for Search and Seizure was not presented to S/COPELAND. The search yielded negative results.

3. RA made contact with CSSN COUSINS in Supply Spaces aboard the ship at approximately 1000 hours. RA identified herself as a Special Agent and requested to search the person of CSSN COUSINS for the cellular telephone belonging to S/COPELAND. CSSN COUSINS consented to the search and stated he never possessed the cellular telephone. Due to the exigent nature of the search, a Permissive Authorization for Search and Seizure was not presented to CSSN COUSINS. The search yielded negative results.

4. Both CSSN COUSINS and S/COPELAND were retained in Security and Supply spaces.

RESULTS OF INTERVIEW OF CSSA JACQUELINE BITA, USN

1. As background, on 06Nov24, NCISRU USS HARRY S TRUMAN (CVN 75), was notified by ET2 Courtney EFF, USN, Uniformed Victim Advocate (UVA), CVN 75, of a sexual assault wherein S.S. [redacted], reported she was sexually assaulted by CSSN Jermiah COPELAND (S/COPELAND), USN, CVN 75, in a bathroom at a bar in Oslo, Norway, during a port call on 04Nov24 at approximately 2200 hours. During the course of the investigation, CSSA Jacqueline BITA, USN, CVN 75, was indicated as having information in reference to the offense.

2. On 06Nov24 at approximately 1030 hours, CSSA BITA was interviewed by Reporting Agent (RA) in the NCIS Office aboard the ship located at 02-88-4-Q. The interview was not recorded.

[redacted]

4. Later, CSSA BITA stated she was talking to SR Jada KNIGHT, USN, VAW 126, in the bar and S/COPELAND approached them and said something to the effect of "you'll never believe what happened, if I show you you can't tell anyone." CSSA BITA recalled S/COPELAND then showed the two women a video on his cellular telephone of S/COPELAND having sexual intercourse with S.S. [redacted] CSSA BITA described the video as showing S/COPELAND's face before capturing S.S. [redacted] bent over. CSSA BITA stated S.S. [redacted] face was not in the video, but she was easily identified by her hair and the gray sweatshirt she was wearing that actually belonged to CSSA BITA. CSSA BITA related S.S. [redacted] had borrowed her sweatshirt before leaving the ship. CSSA BITA stated she observed S.S. [redacted] bare buttocks in the video and though she could not see S/COPELAND's penis it was clear by the motion of S/COPELAND he was having sexual intercourse with S.S. [redacted] CSSA BITA opined she could not tell if S.S. [redacted] was conscious in the video and stated she did not look very closely because she did not want to see a video of someone else engaging in sexual intercourse.

5. CSSA BITA stated she and SR KNIGHT were "shocked" by the video and stated S/COPELAND seemed happy and was laughing. At the time, CSSA BITA assumed the sexual encounter was consensual and had no information to the contrary.

7. CSSA BITA stated the following day, S.S. [redacted] approached her and stated she did not remember any events from the evening prior due to intoxication and also told CSSA BITA that S.S. [redacted] had confronted S/COPELAND about the sexual intercourse and video via telephone. CSSA BITA related S.S. [redacted] stated S/COPELAND denied the accusations. CSSA BITA opined S/COPELAND "knew he messed up and was trying to save himself." CSSA BITA further opined it was clear from interacting with both parties S/COPELAND was "in his right mind" that evening and S.S. [redacted] was not.

CONTROL: 06NOV24-NFXQ-00029-8SNA

S/COPELAND, JERMIAH TAYLOR/SN USN
[redacted] PII

RESULTS OF INTERVIEW OF S/COPELAND

1. As background, on 06Nov24, NCISRU USS HARRY S TRUMAN (CVN 75), was notified by ET2 Courtney EFF, USN, Uniformed Victim Advocate (UVA), CVN 75, of a sexual assault wherein S.S. [redacted], reported she was sexually assaulted by CSSN Jermiah COPELAND (S/COPELAND), USN, CVN 75, in a bathroom at a bar in Oslo, Norway, during a port call on 04Nov24 at approximately 2200 hours.

2. On 18Nov24 at approximately 2230 hours, S/COPELAND was interviewed by Reporting Agent (RA) aboard the USS HARRY S TRUMAN (CVN 75), while at sea in compartment 02-88-4-Q.

[redacted]

[redacted]

6. S/COPELAND stated S.S. [redacted] faced away from him in the stall and pulled her pants down before bending over. S/COPELAND stated he pushed his penis into her vagina and opined S.S. [redacted] was consenting to the contact. S/COPELAND stated he took his phone out and began to record a video of the sexual interaction. S/COPELAND stated he did not know if S.S. [redacted] was aware of him recording as she was facing away from him. S/COPELAND stated the intercourse lasted approximately twenty (20) minutes and that he did not ejaculate because the interaction seemed to be "too good to be true." When asked to explain, S/COPELAND stated he viewed S.S. [redacted] as a sister and that she had never shown any interest in him sexually. S/COPELAND stated he did not use a condom. Following the interaction, S/COPELAND stated he and S.S. [redacted] exited the bathroom and everything was "normal" between the two.

7. S/COPELAND recalled showing the video to CSSN COUSINS and CSSN Jada KNIGHT, USN, USS HARRY S TRUMAN (CVN 75), without S.S. [redacted] knowledge. S/COPELAND stated he showed the video to others because he was excited. [redacted]

[redacted]

9. S/COPELAND stated he gave his cellular telephone to CSSN COUSINS and did not know what CSSN COUSINS did with it. S/COPELAND denied throwing it away on purpose and stated it was lost after his phone fell out of his pocket and the screen shattered. S/COPELAND stated he lost his Air Pod during the same incident and showed RA his Air Pod case with one Air Pod to verify the story.

From: V/S.S. USN
To: Commanding Officer, USS HARRY S. TRUMAN (CVN 75)

Subj: REQUEST FOR EXPEDITED TRANSFER OF ALLEGED OFFENDER

Ref: (a) MILPERSMAN 1300-1205
(b) 10 USC § 674

1. I respectfully request an expedited transfer of CSSN Jeremiah Copeland, the alleged offender in my case. I am a victim of a qualifying sex-related offense as provided in reference (a). I made an unrestricted report of sexual assault on or about 6 Nov 2024.

2. Reference (b) provides the framework for military commanders to be able to make decisions regarding the temporary administrative reassignment or removal of active duty service members accused of committing a sexual assault or related offense. Reference (a) provides Navy Commanders "the authority to request the transfer of the alleged offender" so long as the reassignment or removal is not "taken as a punitive measure, but solely for the purpose of maintaining good order and discipline." Reference (a) does not delineate a time-limit within which this request must be made; rather, "once a Service member has been identified as an alleged offender, a transfer may occur at any time."

3. CSSN Jermiah Copeland, the offender in my case, still currently serves onboard the CVN 75. Although I understand there is currently an NCO in place, I still see him often onboard the ship. Seeing him makes me uncomfortable and is a constant reminder of what he did. He has also spread rumors about me to other shipmates. It makes it very difficult for me to focus on and excel at my work. Transferring him off of the ship, even temporarily until my case is fully adjudicated or until he executes his PCS orders, would allow me to stay close to my support system on the Truman and aid in my recovery while also ensuring good order and discipline is maintained within the command.

4. I understand Navy Personnel Command (NAVPERSCOM), Deployability Assessment Branch (PERS-454), will be the ultimate authority on this request.

5. I am represented by a Victims' Legal Counsel, LCDR Jason Kim, JAGC, USN, who can be reached at (757) 664-4868 or by email at jason.j.kim22.mil@us.navy.mil.

1. BACKGROUND: On 31May25, NCIS was contacted by Norfolk Police Department (NPD) in reference to a missing person's report. NPD relayed ET3 Daniel RICH, USN, USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS (DDG 95), was attempting to make a missing person's report regarding A.R. [redacted]. ET3 RICH identified himself as A.R. [redacted] ex-boyfriend. NCIS subsequently contacted DDG 95 command and they advised A.R. [redacted] and CSSN Jermiah COPELAND (S/COPELAND), USN, DDG 95, were in a status of Unauthorized Absence (UA) beginning on Thursday, 29May25. DDG 95 Command advised they believed A.R. [redacted] and S/COPELAND were involved romantically but did not know to what extent. Additionally, command nor ET3 RICH could articulate an immediate danger to either S/COPELAND or A.R. [redacted] On 01Jun25, NCIS made contact with Naval Station Norfolk Base Police to follow up from the previous night and to conduct a welfare check on the rooms of S/COPELAND and A.R. [redacted] Base Police stated they found S/COPELAND in his barracks room; however, received no answer at the room of A.R. [redacted] NCIS responded to Norfolk Naval Base and was able to gain entry to A.R. [redacted] barracks room wherein no persons were present. Subsequently, the NCIS Multiple Threat Alert Center (MTAC) initiated cell phone pings on A.R. [redacted] mobile phone, which yielded no location data due to the phone possibly being powered off.

2. ARRIVAL AND JURISDICTION: On 04Jun25, at approximately 1628 hours, Reporting Agent (RA) and participating agents Alison FOX, Dara ELK, Ashley ULLOM, Lauryn WATKINS, Supervisory Special Agent Danielle ORTIZ, and Forensic Consultant Morgan CURRIE conducted a search of Room 1083 of Miller Hall, Building U16, Cowan St, Norfolk, VA 23511 located on NSN. A.R. [redacted] resided in room 1083B. NCIS maintains primary jurisdiction.

3. SCENE SECURITY AND SEARCH AUTHORIZATION: A Command Authorization for Search and Seizure (CASS) signed by CAPT Matthew SCHLARMANN, USN, Commanding Officer (CO), Naval Station Norfolk, was obtained to search the room; Enclosure (A) pertains.

4. OVERALL OBSERVATIONS SCENE: Miller Hall, Building U16, was a multiple level building containing multiple barracks rooms, located on the north side of the roadway, facing south; Figure 1 pertains. Room 1083 was located on the first floor, east of the main lobby, on the south side of the building. The front door of the room led to a kitchen area. South of the front door and kitchen was Room B. Room B was furnished with a bed, desk, dresser and nightstand; Figures 2 and 3 pertain. On the desk, there was a water bottle containing an unknown liquid, a toothbrush, a tongue scraper, and an "Ōura" ring; Figures 4-6 pertain. An "iPhone" and a journal were in a drawer of the desk; Figures 7-8 pertain. An "iPhone 15 Pro Max" box and an "iPhone 12" box were found in the desk drawer. Navy uniforms with the name RESENDIZ and a passport with the name Angelina Resendiz and a photograph were in the closet. There was a reddish brown stain on the floor in the kitchen.

5. SCENE PROCESSING: SA FOX completed photographic documentation of the room using a Nikon D7200 camera. A total of one hundred eighty-four (184) digital images were captured, all of which were burned to a DVD-R; Enclosure (B) pertains. The reddish brown stain on the kitchen floor was presumptively tested for blood using Hemastik which yielded negative results. An alternate light source was used to search the room which yielded negative results. A cadaver dog was used to search the room which yielded negative results. An electronic detection canine was used to search the room which did not yield any further results. All drawers, cabinets, bags, clothing and trash containers of bedroom B, the bathroom and the kitchen were searched which yielded no additional evidence.

6. EVIDENCE SEIZURE: The following items were seized as evidence and entered into the NCISRA Norfolk Evidence Custody Facility under Log Number 52NYD:

Item NK009: One (1) book with addresses recovered from desk (Placard E)

distance yourself from the people who care about you because that will only make you feel 10x worse. I get it sometimes you need personal space, and that's okay. But don't let your thoughts overpower you. Only distance yourself from the people that make you feel worse. I didn't always used to be like this, but over time I changed after canceling toxic people out of my life.

2. SDFE DAVISON located and extracted the entire call log history between the user of the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND and phone number PII identified as belonging to V/A.R. . The last successful phone call occurred on 28May25, at 8:56:42 PM, with a call duration of 11 minutes and 15 seconds. The two outgoing phone calls on 01Jun25, at 07:02 AM, are listed as answered for a call duration of 5 and 6 seconds, respectively. The examination revealed the call status listed as “Answered” appears to be the call being directed to voicemail. SDFE DAVISON took the following screenshots as displayed in Axiom.

3. The user of the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND did not save the name of the contact with phone number PII in the address book. The InteractionC log recorded the first interaction with the phone number PII on 24Feb25, and the last incoming successful communication on 28May25, at 8:57:21 PM. The examination revealed the last incoming successful interaction was a text message sent by the user of V/A.R.'s phone. SDFE DAVISON took the following screenshots as displayed in Axiom.

Results of Scene Examination

Reported By: SA Ashley ULLOM
Date: 03Jun25

U.S. NAVAL CRIMINAL INVESTIGATIVE SERVICE

CCN: 01JUN25-NFNF-00237-7HNA
Title: S/COPELAND, JERMIAH TAYLOR/SN USN

1. BACKGROUND: On 31May25, NCIS was contacted by Norfolk Police Department (NPD) in reference to a missing person report. NPD relayed that ET3 Daniel RICH, USN, USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS (DDG 95), was attempting to make a missing person report regarding A.R. [redacted] NCIS subsequently contacted DDG 95 Command, and they advised A.R. [redacted] and CSSN Jermiah COPELAND (S/COPELAND), USN, DDG 95, were in a status of Unauthorized Absence (UA) beginning on Thursday, 29May25. DDG 95 Command advised they believed A.R. [redacted] and S/COPELAND were involved romantically, but did not know to what extent. On 01Jun25, NCIS made contact with Naval Station Norfolk Base Police to conduct a welfare check on S/COPELAND and A.R. [redacted]'s rooms. Base Police stated they found S/COPELAND in his barracks room; however, they received no answer at A.R. [redacted]'s door when they knocked. NCIS responded to Naval Station Norfolk and was able to gain entry to A.R. [redacted] barracks room, in which A.R. [redacted] was not located. Subsequently, NCIS' Multi-Threat Action Center (MTAC) initiated cell phone pings on A.R. [redacted] mobile phone, which yielded no location data due to the phone possibly being powered off. NCIS conducted an interview of S/COPELAND who stated A.R. [redacted] came over to his barracks on Wednesday, 28May25. S/COPELAND said A.R. [redacted] stayed the night and the next day, 29May25, FCC Brad PARKER, USN, DDG 95, came to his barracks room because he failed to report for work. S/COPELAND stated he borrowed his roommate's vehicle and drove A.R. [redacted] back to her barracks room around 1000 hours on 29May25. ET3 RICH was interviewed and stated he attempted to file a missing person report due to A.R. [redacted] not responding to friends and family correspondence in conjunction with A.R. [redacted] phone being turned off. On 01Jun25, an emergency subpoena was served to Navy Federal Credit Union (NFCU) regarding A.R. [redacted] bank account, and the last reported activity was 28May25. On 03Jun25, The NCISRA Norfolk Major Case Response Team (MCRT) was activated to conduct a scene examination of S/COPELAND's barracks room, as this was the last confirmed location of A.R. [redacted]. S/COPELAND resided in room 335 inside Willis Manor, Building X2, aboard Naval Station Norfolk.

2. JURISDICTION AND SEARCH AUTHORIZATION: Willis Manor, Building X2 is located aboard Naval Station Norfolk and is located within concurrent jurisdiction with Norfolk Police Department; however, NCIS retains primary investigative jurisdiction due to A.R. [redacted] and S/COPELAND'S status as USN service members. A Command Authorization for Search and Seizure (CASS) was signed by CAPT Matthew SCHLARMANN, USN, Commanding Officer (CO), Naval Station Norfolk, to authorize the search of S/COPELAND's barracks room in an effort to locate anything belonging to A.R. [redacted]. A copy of the CASS is appended as Enclosure (A).

3. ARRIVAL AND SCENE SECURITY: The scene was not secured prior to NCIS' arrival. At approximately 2004, on 03Jun25, the following members of MCRT arrived on scene: Reporting Agent (RA), SA Joy NAROWSKI, SA Alison FOX, SA Brandon MOORE, Forensic Consultant (FC) Morgan CURRIE, and Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) Danielle ORTIZ. At approximately 2058, the room was cleared, and the scene was secured by SA Kenneth MASON, SA Ryan GARDNER, and SA Steve CONLON. SA David LAWHORN with Electronic Storage Detection (ESD) K9 Jill, Andrew PISKE, CIV, Virginia Department of Emergency Management (VDEM) with Cadaver K9 Kyra, SA Salvatore MURGOLO, SA Cheyenne SIMMONS, SA Tiffany MARTINEZ, SA Caroline ROBINSON, SA Lauryn GODETTE, SA Morgan JOHNS, INV Jesse CLAAR, and INV Nick BURROWES were also on scene.

4. EXTERIOR OBSERVATIONS: Willis Manor, Building X2 is a military barracks located aboard Naval Station Norfolk. Willis Manor, Building X2 is a five story building with a parking lot located in front and to the side. The building is located between Maryland Ave and Virginia Ave. Figure [1] is a Google Earth image of Willis Manor, Building X2 depicting its relationship and orientation to the surrounding buildings. Figure [2] is a stock photo of the exterior of Willis Manor.

5. INTERIOR OBSERVATIONS: Upon arrival at the scene, at approximately 2117, RA, FC CURRIE, and SSA ORTIZ conducted an initial walk-through of room 335. After the initial walk-through was completed, RA completed photographic coverage of the room. RA a completed digital sketch of the scene which depicts associated items of evidence described throughout the remainder of the report. Figure [3] depicts the overall scene sketch with associated measurements and legend. The sketch has also been appended as Enclosure (B). Upon entering the room, a closet was located to the left and a washing and drying machine were located to the right. Continuing into the room, a kitchen was on the right and then the area proceeded to open up into a common space that contained a couch, two chairs, a coffee table, a smaller table, and a TV. Along the left wall was another doorway which led into the "B" side of the room, in which S/COPELAND resided with a roommate. Across the common space, "A" side was located, in which two other roommates resided. Inside the "B" side, there were two beds, each up against a wall. S/COPELAND's bed, desk, closet, sink, and belongings were on the side labeled "BA," located along the northeast wall. Once inside "B" side of room 335, a bathroom with a toilet and shower could be located along the northwest wall, past the closets and sinks. Side "A" was not entered by NCIS as it did not pertain to the captioned investigation; therefore, it was not covered in the CASS. At approximately 2203, SA LAWHORN and ESD K9 Jill searched room 335 side B and the common space for electronics belonging to A.R. [redacted] and found nothing pertinent. At approximately 2234, PISKE and Cadaver K9 Kyra searched room 335 side B and the common space for indications of human remains, to which Cadaver K9 Kyra alerted to a grey backpack located on S/COPELAND's side of suite B. This backpack was collected as evidence item (A). Figure [4] depicts the door and entryway into room 335. Figure [5] depicts the common area located within room 335. Figure [6] depicts S/COPELAND'S bed and desk located against the northeast wall. Figure [7] depicts a positive presumptive test for blood using a Hemastix with a swab taken from a "sticker" located on the floor of S/COPELAND's closet. Figure [8] depicts a positive presumptive test for blood using a Hemastix with a swab taken from the counter next to S/COPELAND's sink. In addition, Bluestar was completed by FC CURRIE and will be documented under a separate report.

6. SCENE PROCESSING: RA completed photographic coverage of the scene utilizing a Nikon D 3000 digital camera. A total of 254 digital photographs were captured, all of which were burned to a DVD-R and appended as Enclosure (C).

7. EVIDENCE SEIZURE: The following items of evidence were seized from the residence and entered into the NCISRA Norfolk Consolidated Evidence Facility under Evidence Log Number JQNT4:

   Item (A): Gray backpack containing miscellaneous items; ID WGAM0
   Item (B): Pair of gray/white Jordan sneakers; ID FML8B
   Item (C): One (1) Swab taken from corner of wall above bathroom sink containing suspected blood; ID NY112
   Item (D): Sticker collected from closet floor containing suspected blood; ID TJY67
   Item (E): One (1) Swab taken from inside bathroom sink bowl containing suspected blood; ID NAH9K
   Item (F): Three (3) swabs taken from left rear corner of closet floor containing suspected blood; ID 4DT6A

8. SCENE RELEASE: At approximately 0138 on 04Jun25, MCRT released room 335 back to S/COPELAND and his three roommates.

1. BACKGROUND

1.1. On 31May25, NCIS initiated an investigation regarding a missing person report. The missing person was later identified as A.R. [redacted] According to witnesses, A.R. [redacted] was last seen with CSSN Jermiah COPELAND (S/COPELAND), USN, DDG-95 at his barracks located at Willis Manor (Building X-2), Room 335, 9712 Virginia Ave, Norfolk, VA on board Naval Station Norfolk. Reporting Forensic Consultant (RFC) responded to Building X-2, Room 335 to identify and document any suspected bloodstains and other items of potential forensic value on scene.

2. ARRIVAL, JURISDICTION, AND AUTHORIZATION

2.1. On 03Jun25 at approximately 2004 hours, Reporting Forensic Consultant (RFC), Participating Agents (PAs) Joy NAROWSKI, Alison FOX, Brandon MOORE, Ashley ULLOM, Lauren GODETTE and Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) Danielle ORTIZ arrived at Building X-2, see figure 1. NCIS maintains primary jurisdiction. NCIS conducted a search of S/COPELAND's residence pursuant to a Command Authorization for Search and Seizure (CASS).

3. SCENE OBSERVATIONS—BUILDING X-2, ROOM 335

3.1. Building X-2 is a Navy unaccompanied housing military barracks with five floors containing multiple residences, see figure 2. Building X-2 has a parking lot located to the south of the building. Building X-2 is positioned in between Virginia Avenue and Maryland Avenue. Room 335 is located in the east wing, on the third floor, along the south side of the building.

3.2. Upon entering Room 335, RFC observed a foyer which led into the kitchen. South of the kitchen was a living room. RFC observed a broken coffee table in the living room. The coffee table also contained two red plastic cups and an opened bottle of "Uptown Cocktails" Strawberry Margarita ready-to-drink cocktail. Parallel to the kitchen and living room were two suites containing two single beds running along the east and west end of the residence. S/COPELAND was assigned to Suite B. Suite B contained two single beds, two desks, two closets, two sink vanities, and a single half bathroom which contained a toilet and shower. S/COPELAND's bed and closet were identified with a placard labeled as "BA". S/COPELAND's bed and desk were located along the east wall of the suite. North of S/COPELAND's bedroom, RFC observed a foyer leading into the closet and bathroom. RFC created a digital sketch displaying the layout of Room 335, see figure 3.

4. SCENE OBSERVATIONS—ROOM 335, SUITE B

4.1. RFC entered Suite B, see figures 8-14, and observed two single beds, two desks, two closets, two sink vanities, and a single half bathroom which contained a toilet and shower shared by the assigned suitemates. According to SSA ORTIZ, YN3 Sean MONAGHAN (YN3 MONAGHAN), USN, Helicopter Mine Countermeasures Squadron (HM 12), is the sole suitemate with S/COPELAND. SSA ORTIZ relayed YN3 MONAGHAN's belongings are assigned to bed, sink and closet labeled "BB" while S/COPELAND's belongings are assigned to bed, sink and closet labeled "BA".

5. SCENE OBSERVATIONS—HALF BATHROOM INSIDE SUITE B

5.1. RFC entered the half bathroom within Suite B and did not identify any visible bloodstain evidence within this area of the residence.

6. BLUESTAR APPLICATION—SINK VANITY

6.1. RFC was notified by PA NAROWSKI that she observed a suspected bloodstain on the northeast wall above the vanity sink belonging to S/COPELAND, see figure 15. PA NAROWSKI and the NCISRA Norfolk, VA Major Case Response Team (MCRT) conducted a preliminary test for the presence of blood on the stain using a Hemastix blood reagent test strip, yielding positive results. PA NAROWSKI and the NCISRA Norfolk, VA MCRT documented the suspected bloodstain and seized a swab from the area. These actions are documented under a separate report.

6.2. Listed on the Bluestar Forensics website, Bluestar is a chemical reagent which reveals the presence of blood in a large or minute/diluted quantity. The reaction occurs when Bluestar interacts with the heme component of blood producing a blue luminescence. False positives can occur when Bluestar comes in contact with household chemicals such as detergents, bleach or copper, per the Bluestar Forensic website, producing a white or faded blue luminescence. Prior to using Bluestar throughout the scene a control sample test was conducted producing a positive reaction.

6.3. RFC then conducted a preliminary test for the presence of blood using a Bluestar forensic kit along the sink vanity and sink bowl belonging to S/COPELAND, yielding positive results. RFC attempted to capture photographs of the Bluestar reaction on the sink bowl prior to the collection of items deemed as forensic value but was unsuccessful. RFC collected a swab from the stain within this area and entered it into the NCISRA Norfolk, VA Evidence Custody System under Evidence Custody Document Number JQNT4:

Item# NAH9K—One (1) swab taken from inside bathroom sink bowl containing suspected blood after Bluestar application

7. BLUESTAR APPLICATION—CLOSET BA

7.1. The NCISRA Norfolk, VA MCRT completed a scene documentation of Room 335 which included photographs, a scene sketch, and notes. Several items of evidence were identified and seized. These actions are documented under a separate report. During the scene documentation, the NCISRA Norfolk, VA MCRT requested assistance from Virginia Department of Emergency Management K9 Kira and Handler Andrew PISKE to identify human remains and/or other items of potential forensic value in the captioned investigation. K9 Kira and Handler PISKE conducted a search of Room 335, Suite B. K9 Kira and Handler PISKE alerted to the closet area labeled “BA”. RFC did not observe biological matter or suspected bloodstains in the closet with the unaided eye and subsequently the NCISRA Norfolk, VA MCRT effected photographic coverage, see figure 16. RFC and the NCISRA Norfolk, VA MCRT conducted a visual search of the belongings inside the closet and did not observe biological matter or suspected bloodstains. The NCISRA Norfolk, VA MCRT removed all belongings from the closet, see figure 17.

7.2. RFC then conducted a preliminary test for the presence of blood using a BLUESTAR forensic kit, yielding positive results. RFC effected photographic coverage, see figure 18, and collected swabs from the stains within this area and entered it into the NCISRA Norfolk, VA Evidence Custody System under Evidence Custody Document Number JQNT4:

- Item# 0TXF0—Four (4) swabs taken from left rear corner of closet for suspected blood after Bluestar application

8.1. RFC conducted a preliminary test for the presence of blood using a BLUESTAR forensic kit along the carpet, adjacent to Closet "BA", into the doorway of Suite B, yielding positive results, see figures 19-21. Subsequently on 10Jun25, the NCISRA Norfolk, VA MCRT collected several items deemed as forensic value to include the carpeted areas which tested positive for the presence of blood using the BLUESTAR forensic kit. These actions are documented under a separate report.

8.2. RFC observed a heavy concentration of Bluestar in the closet, forming a linear trail that gradually faded as it extended between Suite B and the living room. RFC attempted to capture photographs of the BLUESTAR reaction in the living room but was unsuccessful.

9.1. On 04Jun25, RFC took a series of photographs utilizing an NCIS issued a Nikon Z 6II camera (SN# 3068881) with a Nikon SB-5000 external flash. A total of eighteen (18) color photographs were exposed and subsequently downloaded onto one (1) Compact Disc-Recordable (CD-R); Enclosure (A) pertains. RFC entered the CD-R into the NCISRA Norfolk, VA Evidence Custody System under Evidence Custody Document Number 27C4G:

1. BACKGROUND: On 04Jun25, at approximately 1315 hours, Reporting Agent (RA) Alison FOX, NCISRA Yorktown, was notified by Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) Danielle ORTIZ, NCISRA Norfolk, suspected blood was observed in a stairwell of Willis Manor, Building X2, 9712 Virginia Avenue, Norfolk, VA 23511 located on board Naval Station Norfolk. NCIS conducted an area canvass of Building X2 as part of proactive investigative efforts to locate A.R. [redacted] NCIS visually inspected and focused on the hallway and stairwell closest in proximity to Room 335 located on the third floor, which was the known room of CSSN Jermiah COPELAND (S/COPELAND), USN, DDG 95, a person of interest at the time of the investigation. SSA ORTIZ requested RA FOX respond to the area to document the scene and collect the suspected blood.

2. ARRIVAL AND JURISDICTION: On 04Jun25, at 1330 hours, RA FOX, and Participating Agents (PA) Joy NAROWSKI, NCISRA Yorktown, Dara ELK, NCISRA Portsmouth, and Lauren WATKINS, NCISRA Portsmouth conducted an examination of the stairwell. Willis Manor, Building X2 is located on board Naval Station Norfolk and is located within concurrent jurisdiction with Norfolk Police Department (NPD); however, NCIS maintains primary investigative jurisdiction due to A.R. [redacted] and S/COPELAND both being active-duty Navy service members.

3. SCENE SECURITY AND SEARCH AUTHORIZATION: No scene security was present upon RA FOX's arrival. There is no reasonable expectation of privacy within the stairwell. Therefore, no search authorization was required.

4. EXTERIOR OBSERVATIONS: Willis Manor, Building X2, is a military barracks located on board Naval Station Norfolk. Willis Manor, Building X2, is a five-story building with a parking lot located in front and to the side. The building is located between Maryland Ave and Virginia Ave. Figure [1] is a Google Maps image of Willis Manor, Building X2, depicting its relationship and orientation to the surrounding buildings. The black arrow was added to the image to depict the exit location of stairwell examined.

5. INTERIOR OBSERVATIONS: RA FOX responded to Corridor 3006, which is located on the third floor. Barracks Room 335 is located in this corridor, within the same hallway as Stairwell 5. Figures [2], [3], [4], [5], [6], and [7] depict the entry way into Corridor 3006, the door to S/COPELAND's room, and the stairwell entrance point from the third floor, which can be identified by the last exit sign in the corridor. The black arrow was added to Figure [6], which shows the last exit sign in the corridor.

6. STAIRWELL OBSERVATIONS: Multiple areas of reddish brown staining were observed in the stairwell between levels 1 and 3. These areas were marked with evidence placards and photographed. Figures [8], [9], and [10] depict overall photographs of the stairwell levels as they were found. Figures [11], [12], [13], [14], [15], and [16] depict midrange photographs of reddish brown stains observed in the stairwell. 7. SCENE PROCESSING: PA WATKINS completed photographic coverage of the area using a Nikon D7200 camera. A total of (73) digital images were captured, all of which were burned to a DVD-R and entered into the NCISRA Norfolk Consolidated Evidence Facility under Log EDAC7, Item RRDQ6. A copy of the DVD-R is appended as Enclosure (A). Forensic Consultant (FC) Morgan CURRIE completed 3D laser scans of the stairwell at a later date, the results of which will be reported under separate cover. RA FOX collected samples of the reddish brown stains. No presumptive testing was conducted during collection.

8. EVIDENCE SEIZURE: The following items were seized as evidence and entered into the NCISRA Norfolk Consolidated Evidence Facility under Log Number TKNM8:

Item 3F1W2 - One swab of reddish/brown stain collected from Stairwell 5, between levels 2 and 3, placard (B)

Item 1L7PW - One swab of reddish/brown stain collected from Stairwell 5, between levels 2 and 3, placard (C)

Item JHXR7 - One swab of reddish/brown stain collected from Stairwell 5, between levels 2 and 3, placard (D)

Item D6QNN - One swab of reddish/brown stain collected from Stairwell 5, between levels 2 and 3, placard (E)

Item MXQ1N - One swab of reddish/brown stain collected from Stairwell 5, between levels 2 and 3, placard (F)

Item 5CA0T - One swab of reddish/brown stain collected from Stairwell 5, between levels 2 and 3, placard (G)

Item 1K3RH - One swab of reddish/brown stain collected from Stairwell 5, between levels 1 and 2, placard (H)

Item 2KXCX - One swab of reddish/brown stain collected from Stairwell 5, near door, level 2, placard (I)

Item 134B8 - One swab of reddish/brown stain collected from Stairwell 5 near door, level 2, placard (J)

Item 27UCQ - One swab of reddish/brown stain collected from Stairwell 5 near door, level 2, placard (K)

Item MEFC2 - One swabs of reddish/brown stain collected from Stairwell 5, level 1, placard (L)

Item DRD3B - Two swabs of reddish/brown stain from Stairwell 5, level 3, placard (A)

Item GCL7Y - Two swabs of reddish/brown stain from Stairwell 5, between levels 2 and 3, placard (D)

Item 9K1GU - Two swabs of reddish/brown stain from Stairwell 5, between levels 2 and 3, placard (E)

Item HNRF1 - Two swabs of reddish/brown stain from Stairwell 5, between levels 1 and 2, placard (H)

Item NPRY1 - Two swabs of reddish/brown stain from Stairwell 5, level 1, placard (L)

9. SCENE RELEASE: The scene examination concluded at approximately 1525 hours.

RESULTS OF EXAMINATION

The following results are opinions and interpretations formed using accepted scientific and professional practices. Only those exhibits below were examined for this report. Selection of the item(s) and the examination(s) conducted were based on the information available at the time of the request. If the investigative needs change, please contact USACIL at USACILCM@army.mil or 404-469-5150.

1. Blood was identified on Exhibit 6 (closet swabs/SCENE-COPELAND BARRACKS) and Exhibit 9 (swabs placard D/SCENE-stairwell).

2. No blood was identified on the following Exhibits:

Exhibit 5 (swabs placard L/SCENE-stairwell) Exhibit 7 (swabs placard A/SCENE-stairwell) Exhibit 8 (swabs placard E/SCENE-stairwell) Exhibit 10 (swabs placard H/SCENE-stairwell).

3. DNA extraction procedures were performed on the following:

Exhibit 2 (buccal swabs/MANAGBON)
Exhibit 6 (closet swabs/SCENE-COPELAND BARRACKS) Exhibit 9 (swabs placard D/SCENE-stairwell) Exhibit 11 (buccal swabs/WILLIAMS)
Exhibit 12 (buccal swabs/COPELAND)
Exhibit 13 (buccal swabs/GORDILLOCRUZ)
Exhibit 14 (buccal swabs/CALISSE)
Exhibit 15.1 (swab of tongue scraper/SCENE - A.R. RESIDENCE) Exhibit 16 (toothbrush/SCENE - A.R. RESIDENCE) Exhibit 17.1 (swab of water bottle/SCENE-A.R. RESIDENCE).

4. Based on DNA results from other exhibits/circumstances of the case, no further testing was performed on the swab of tongue scraper/SCENE - A.R. RESIDENCE.

5. The DNA profile from the swab of water bottle believed to be from A.R. originates from an unknown individual that genetically types as female.

6. A DNA mixture was detected from the closet swabs/SCENE-COPELAND BARRACKS.

a. The DNA mixture is interpreted as originating from two individuals.

b. The DNA profile from the swab of water bottle believed to be from A.R. and COPELAND are included as contributors to this mixture.

c. MANAGBON, WILLIAMS, GORDILLOCRUZ and CALISSE are excluded as contributors to this mixture.

7. The DNA profile detected from swabs placard D/SCENE-stairwell matches the DNA profile from the swab of water bottle believed to be from A.R. COPELAND, MANAGBON, WILLIAMS, GORDILLOCRUZ and CALISSE are excluded as contributors to this DNA profile.

8. The DNA profile from the toothbrush/SCENE - A.R. RESIDENCE will not be used for comparison purposes due to the results from other exhibits and/or case circumstances.

9. If necessary, these DNA results may be compared to other potential DNA contributors when suitable standards for comparison and/or elimination are submitted to the laboratory.

10. No DNA profiles were eligible for submission to CODIS (Combined DNA Index System).

TECHNICAL NOTES

1. DNA profiles were detected using PCR (polymerase chain reaction) technology on twenty-one autosomal STR (short tandem repeat) loci, two Y-chromosome loci (DYS391, Y-indel) and a gender identification locus from the Applied Biosystems GlobalFiler kit.

2. Match will be used when complete genotypes are obtained at all loci included in the amplification kit, and all of the detected alleles are the same as those in the reference being compared.

Consistent with will be used when genetic information is missing at one or more loci included in the amplification kit (a partial profile), but all of the detected alleles are the same as those in the reference being compared.

DISPOSITION OF EVIDENCE

Unless otherwise noted, evidence received in this case will be returned according to laboratory policy. Items may have been altered to take samples required for examination or to recover materials from the item. If recovered evidence was collected and preserved during laboratory examinations, the material is being returned with the item from which it originated.

1. This report references the previous DNA Reports dated 10 June 2025, 05 August 2025 and 15 August 2025.

2. Blood was identified on the following Exhibits:

Exhibit 28 (swab Placard B/SCENE-STAIRWELL) Exhibit 29 (swab Placard G/SCENE-STAIRWELL) Exhibit 34 (swab Placard F/SCENE-STAIRWELL)
Exhibit 74 (swabs stain on bottom of couch/SCENE-COPELAND BARRACKS).

3. A chemical indication of blood was identified on Exhibit 59.2 (Monster can/COPELAND); however, no confirmatory test was conducted due to limited sample.

4. A chemical indication of blood was identified on Exhibit 63.1.2 (swab of necklace/A.R. [redacted]); however, the presence of blood could not be confirmed.

5. No blood was identified on the following Exhibits:

Exhibit 59 (backpack/COPELAND)

degraded and/or an insufficient amount of male DNA detected.

19. If necessary, these DNA results may be compared to other potential DNA contributors when suitable standards for comparison and/or elimination are submitted to the laboratory.

20. No DNA profiles were eligible for submission to CODIS (Combined DNA Index System).

TECHNICAL NOTES

1. DNA profiles were detected using PCR (polymerase chain reaction) technology on twenty-one autosomal STR (short tandem repeat) loci, two Y-chromosome loci (DYS391, Y-indel) and a gender identification locus from the Applied Biosystems GlobalFiler kit.

2. DNA profiles were detected using PCR (polymerase chain reaction) technology on twenty-seven Y-STR (Y-chromosome short tandem repeat) loci from the Applied Biosystems Yfiler Plus kit.

3. Match will be used when complete genotypes are obtained at all loci included in the amplification kit, and all of the detected alleles are the same as those in the reference being compared.

Consistent with will be used when genetic information is missing at one or more loci included in the amplification kit (a partial profile), but all of the detected alleles are the same as those in the reference being compared.

4. The autosomal STR statistical calculations in this report were generated using STRmix™ software which calculates a fully continuous probabilistic likelihood ratio (LR). Unless otherwise noted, the most conservative LR was reported using the lower bound 99% credible interval from unrelated individuals in the U.S. Caucasian, Black, and Hispanic population groups. The population allele frequencies were obtained from the NIST 1036 U.S. Population Dataset.

A likelihood ratio is a measure of the strength of support that particular findings give to one proposition against a stated alternative, given certain conditioning information. For these reported likelihood ratios, the propositions and conditioning information were based on data from these results and current case circumstances. If any aspects of the case should change or new information is provided regarding these propositions and conditioning information, then the evaluation of these results to include the likelihood ratio may change. This will be the subject of a separate report.

The reported statistical calculation for an association will be capped at 1.0 quintillion. The actual calculated value may be higher, but not less than this number, which is equivalent to the laboratory's minimum statistical threshold.

1. On 9 February 2026, CDR Lauren Mayo, JAGC, USN, LCDR Chris Dempsey, JAGC, USN, and LN1 Kathleen Vanetti, USN, spoke to PSSN Irbin Gordillocruz, USN in the office of the CSTC. The following disclosures are provided:

a. PSSN Gordillocruz was picked up at the airport at approximately 0223 by his YN1 on 29May25. PSSN Gordillocruz had just returned from leave.
b. PSSN Gordillocruz clarified that he returned to his barracks at 0250 and his room at 0254 on 29May25 and provided text messages to support that timing. When he entered the common room of the PPV, it was quiet and relatively dark. He thinks the television might have gone into energy saving mode with a screen saver that occasionally flashed brighter when the picture changed, but no other lights were on and he did not recall any music playing.
c. When he opened the door, PSSN Gordillocruz stated that he could see V/A. R. and his roommate, Copeland, sitting on the floor near the couch next to each other. V/A. R. was hunched over with her head hanging down and Copeland looked to be holding her up with his arm around her. V/A.R. was on the side of Copeland, closest to PSSN Gordillocruz. PSSN Gordillocruz thought it was odd that they were sitting on the floor instead of the couch and he asked Copeland if V/A.R. was ok. Copeland responded by telling PSSN Gordillocruz to just go to his room, and waved him off. PSSN Gordillocruz provided this encounter lasted about 10 seconds.
d. PSSN Gordillocruz explained that V/A.R. appeared extremely intoxicated based on how she was being held up. He stated he would be shocked if she was sober. PSSN Gordillocruz explained it looked like she would fall over without Copeland having his arm around her.
e. PSSN Gordillocruz stated that V/A.R. was completely unresponsive during this exchange, did not address him, and did not move. PSSN Gordillocruz provided he had forgotten about this part of the night and had gotten confused when discussing this night in the past. When reviewing his phone records, his memory was refreshed as to what had occurred.
f. PSSN Gordillocruz continued into his bedroom and spoke with a friend from back home over the phone. PSSN Gordillocruz believed he took this call in his bathroom so as not to wake up his roommate. Approximately 30 minutes after returning to the PPV, PSSN Gordillocruz returned to the common room to get some water. He believed that V/A. R. and Copeland were laying on the couch at that time, the room was still quiet and the television was still producing the same amount of light as when he first entered the PPV. PSSN Gordillocruz could not provide a description of how Copeland and V/A.R. were laying on the couch and provided it was just a "blur." He returned to his bedroom and went to sleep.

g. After getting a few hours of sleep, PSSN Gordillocruz entered the common room at approximately 0630/0645. His roommate Calisse had already left the barracks room for work. When he opened the door to the common room, he saw V/A. R. lying on her back on the floor and her eyes were closed. He could not be certain that she was completely naked but stated that her breasts were exposed and he did not see clothes from below her knees. Copeland was lying with his head on V/ A. R.'s stomach with his eyes closed. He only took a quick glance, but both appeared to be breathing.
h. The positioning of V/A. R.'s body (as noted in PSSN Gordillocruz's attached sketch) prevented PSSN Gordillocruz from walking out of the room without jumping over V/A. R.'s feet as they were blocking the path to the front door. Neither V/A. R. nor Copeland moved when PSSN Gordillocruz left his bedroom, jumped over her feet, or left the PPV. Gordillocruz circled an area on a different photograph of where their clothes were approximately.
i. PSSN Gordillocruz stated that he did not notice any backpacks or bags in the common room. There was clothing near the couch that PSSN Gordillocruz assumed belonged to V/A. R. and Copeland. There were no signs of injury or blood in the room. The room was light by incoming sunlight and was brighter than when he had returned from leave. PSSN Gordillocruz provided that the TV was still on, but it wasn't playing anything.
j. Upon arriving at work, Calisse asked PSSN Gordillocruz if he had seen the same thing that Calisse had seen when leaving the room. Assuming that Calisse was referring to V/A. R. and Copeland being in a state of undress and asleep on the common room floor, PSSN Gordillocruz agreed because it was not normal for anyone to be in the common room like that. PSSN Gordillocruz stated that he may have mentioned to Calisse that he thought they were breathing, but he does not specifically recall saying it.
k. When PSSN Gordillocruz returned to his PPV around noon, neither V/A. R. nor Copeland were in the common room or Copeland's bedroom. He did not recall seeing Copeland again until Sunday evening when Copeland asked for a ride to the ship because he had been declared UA and needed to check in.
l. Over that weekend, PSSN Gordillocruz recalled the command representatives coming to the PPV looking for Copeland and V/A. R. He reached out to Copeland to see if he knew anything about V/A. R.'s location and Copeland told him that he had texted her but she didn't respond.
m. PSSN Gordillocruz noted that it was not the first time Copeland had brought a woman or other people to the PPV. PSSN Gordillocruz provided that Copeland often played music loud in the barracks room.
n. PSSN Gordillocruz does not know if Copeland had more than one phone. He had not lived in the PPV with Copeland for more than 3 weeks and only had his cell phone number because they ran into each other at a party and exchanged numbers to ensure a safe ride home.

CONTROL: 01JUN25-NFNF-00237-7HNA

S/COPELAND, JERMIAH TAYLOR/SN USN
PII [redacted]

RESULTS OF SECONDARY INTERVIEW OF YN3 SEAN MONAGHAN, USN

1. On 09Jun25, Reporting Agent (RA) and Participating Investigator (PI) Tyler MANN conducted an interview of YN3 Sean MONAGHAN, USN, Helicopter Mine Countermeasures Squadron 12 (HM 12), pursuant to the missing person investigation involving A.R. [redacted]

2. The interview of YN3 MONAGHAN was recorded using an audio/visual recording system, and a digital copy was downloaded onto a Digital Video Disc-Recordable (DVD-R). This document is a summary of the interview and not a verbatim transcription. For full details of the interview, refer to the working copy of the original DVD-R; Enclosure (A) pertains.

3. As background, YN3 MONAGHAN is the roommate of CSSN Jermiah COPELAND (S/COPELAND), USN, DDG 95, who was the last known individual to see A.R. [redacted] before she went missing. It is believed A.R. [redacted] was last seen in the room shared by S/COPELAND and YN3 MONAGHAN.

4. YN3 MONAGHAN relayed on Wednesday, 28May25, he arrived at his barracks room around 1900 from traveling back home to New Jersey. YN3 MONAGHAN stated when he arrived, he did not see anyone in the room. YN3 MONAGHAN continued S/COPELAND got home that night around 2200; however, YN3 MONAGHAN stated he had watch early the next morning, so he was already half asleep. YN3 MONAGHAN relayed he does remember seeing a lighter-skinned female with short hair; however, he did not recognize her, nor did he know who she was. YN3 MONAGHAN stated on Thursday, 29May25, he woke up around 0500 to get ready for work, and he noticed no one was in his room. YN3 MONAGHAN stated he walked out into their common space at approximately 0640 and observed S/COPELAND asleep on the floor of the living room in his underwear with a girl he did not recognize. Of note, YN3 MONAGHAN was shown a picture of A.R. [redacted] by PA; however, he relayed he did not get a good enough look at the individual on the floor to positively identify her as A.R. [redacted]. YN3 MONAGHAN stated he returned from work around 1300, and no one was in the room. YN3 MONAGHAN stated, around 2000, he saw S/COPELAND and asked him if him and the female from that morning had been naked, to which S/COPELAND relayed they had been in their underwear. YN3 MONAGHAN stated he saw S/COPELAND again that night in the common space around 2200 when he went to make food. YN3 MONAGHAN relayed S/COPELAND did sleep in their room that night.

5. YN3 MONAGHAN stated on Friday, 30May25, he woke up around 0600 when

S/COPELAND left and then woke up again around 0900 when a representative (NFI) from S/COPELAND's Command came looking for him; however, he was not in the room. YN3 MONAGHAN stated the next time he saw S/COPELAND was when he returned to the room around 2200-2300. YN3 MONAGHAN confirmed S/COPELAND slept in their room that night.

6. YN3 MONAGHAN relayed on Saturday, 31May25, he noticed S/COPELAND left early in the morning again, although he was not sure what time. YN3 MONAGHAN continued he was woken up at approximately 1200, when the Masters-at-Arms (MAs) came looking for S/COPELAND and again, he was not in the room. YN3 MONAGHAN relayed S/COPELAND returned to the room late at night again; however, he was not sure of the exact time.

7. YN3 MONAGHAN relayed on Sunday, 01Jun25, S/COPELAND received a call from his command around 1000, needing him to come in to work. YN3 MONAGHAN stated he was unsure how S/COPELAND got to work that day. YN3 MONAGHAN relayed S/COPELAND returned to the room at approximately 2200-2300.

8. YN3 MONAGHAN stated on Monday, 02Jun25, he was questioned by the "homicide unit" while at work and on Tuesday, 03Jun25, NCIS "raided" their barracks room and took S/COPELAND. YN3 MONAGHAN stated, following the "raid" by NCIS, he asked S/COPELAND what NCIS was looking for, to which S/COPELAND responded, "I don't know, they're tripping." YN3 MONAGHAN relayed on Monday he noticed S/COPELAND was very skittish. YN3 MONAGHAN explained he walked into their room and when he opened the door, S/COPELAND looked startled and stated, "Oh, you scared me."

9. YN3 MONAGHAN stated S/COPELAND does have a car; however, it gets repairs done to it a lot. YN3 MONAGHAN stated S/COPELAND's "crazy ex slashed the tires." YN3 MONAGHAN described the car as being small, rectangular, and black with four doors. YN3 MONAGHAN relayed he drives a 2011 Toyota Camry with a New Jersey license plate number B23SBH. YN3 MONAGHAN stated he has never let S/COPELAND borrow his car nor has he ever given him permission to use his car for any reason. YN3 MONAGHAN revealed he does leave his keys in places S/COPELAND could access them, usually on his desk in their room. YN3 MONAGHAN stated on 03Jun25, he did believe his car had moved parking spots and was so suspicious about the incident he texted his mom.

10. YN3 MONAGHAN relayed he did see S/COPELAND with a rolling suitcase a couple months ago. YN3 MONAGHAN described the suitcase as one that came up to his thigh, black, and had a handle for wheeling around. YN3 MONAGHAN stated S/COPELAND usually kept this suitcase locked in his closet; however, stated he had not seen it in "awhile."

11. YN3 MONAGHAN relayed he has not noticed anything in their room being out of place. YN3 MONAGHAN stated he deep cleaned their room on Monday, 02Jun25, where he noticed the bathmat in front of the toilet had a stain in one corner, he believed to be blood. YN3 MONAGHAN relayed this was not unusual to him because S/COPELAND had female friends over who would often leave tampons in their bathroom, and blood sometimes got on the floor. YN3 MONAGHAN stated, because he thought nothing of this, he placed the bathmat in the washing machine to be cleaned. YN3 MONAGHAN provided a hand drawn sketch of the bathmat to depict where he observed the blood; Enclosure (B) pertains. YN3 MONAGHAN also provided a Permissive Authorization for Search and Seizure (PASS) to enter his barracks room and collect the bathmat which will be documented under separate cover.

1. On 9 February 2026, CDR Lauren Mayo, JAGC, USN, LCDR Chris Dempsey, JAGC, USN, and LN1 Kathleen Vanetti, USN, spoke to YN3 Sean Monaghan, USN in person. The following disclosures are provided:

a. Prior to Copeland arriving as a roommate at approximately the end of 2024, YN3 Monaghan had the barracks room to himself.
b. YN3 Monaghan stated that on Wednesday, 28 May 25, he returned to the barracks after driving 5 hours back from New Jersey, where he had been on leave. He had gone to bed early as he had watch the next morning. He is typically a heavy sleeper but had heard his roommate Copeland and an unknown female (V/ A. R.) go in and out of the bedroom several times before he fully fell asleep. There was loud rap music being played in the common room.
c. The next morning, 29 May 25, YN3 left his bedroom at around 0545 and saw Copeland and V/ A. R. on the floor right in front of his bedroom door. YN3 believed Copeland was snoring but he heard no noise from V/A.R. V/A. R. was on her side with her face, it appeared, pressed into the couch. Her hair was covering most of her face. Copeland was lying on his side behind V/A. R., also facing the couch, with his face near V/A. R.'s buttocks (sketch attached). YN3 Monaghan described them as almost spooning.
d. Both Copeland and V/A. R. appeared to be naked and YN3 looked away to be respectful. He noticed clothing over the side of the couch and Copeland's black backpack on a bar stool. YN3 did not recall seeing any other bags, or anything that looked like a female's bag, in the room. He said he did not stop to check if they were breathing.
e. YN3 stated that the common room was quiet; there was no music playing or television on. The lights were off and the shades were pulled mostly down. The bedroom door across from the common room (Calisse and Gordillocruz's door) was open, leading YN3 to think they had both already left for work.
f. There was a half-full Buzzball bottle on the counter and other alcohol containers around the room (possibly Vodka bottle and beers). YN3 assumed that Copeland and V/A. R. were passed out from drinking alcohol.
g. When YN3 returned from watch at approximately 1300, he asked Copeland if he and V/A. R. were naked in the common room that morning. Copeland responded that they were wearing underwear. The common room had been cleaned up with the exception of a sticky spot where the Buzzball had been.

h. When asked about his relationship with Copeland, YN3 stated that he did not have one. He drove Copeland places 2 or 3 times when he needed a ride, but did not socialize with Copeland or the other roommates. YN3 stated that he typically went to work and returned to his room to play video games.
i. Prior to this incident, YN3 Monaghan recalled that Copeland bragged about going UA multiple times and about his ability to call others to make people disappear. YN3 thought that Copeland was trying to portray the image of a gangster.
j. YN3 does not have knowledge of Copeland ever being in YN3's bed. When shown a photo taken on Copeland's phone on the morning of 29May25, YN3 confirmed it appeared to be of his bed.
k. YN3 did not question Copeland about V/A. R.
l. When asked about the air fresheners placed in his bedroom, YN3 Monaghan reported that his Chief had placed one under his bed and one near Copeland's desk when the Chief assisted in cleaning the room. YN3 clarified that his Chief and First Class assisted with his room cleaning because a high-level barracks inspection had been announced that day. YN3 added that Copeland often lit a red Yankee candle on his desk, but could not recall if he had done that that weekend.
m. When asked about the condom wrapper discovered in the bedroom, YN3 Monaghan stated that there was no possibility it was his.
n. YN3 provided that he did not let Copeland borrow his car the weekend of V/ A.R.'s disappearance and YN3 also did not leave the barracks room. When he did return to his car, he was certain it had been parked in a different spot from where he left it. YN3 Monaghan believed he had just confused himself and was paranoid. YN3 left his keys out in the open and it's possible Copeland took his car. YN3 did not notice anything off about his car when he did later drive it.
o. YN3 Monaghan stated that he distinctly remembers the sound of suitcase wheels rolling out of the bedroom, and the door closing, in the early a.m. hours during the time frame of the investigation but could not specifically recall if it was the day before, or just after, the room inspection.
p. Over the weekend that he was UA, YN3 described Copeland as wearing the same clothing each day, which was unusual for him. He described it as a black hoodie with a yellow graphic on the hood that he had up. YN3 described him as skittish and constantly paranoid. The previously mentioned suggestion from Copeland to YN3 to get out and be more social occurred sometime prior to the weekend V/A.R. went missing.
q. The previously mentioned time that Copeland asked YN3 for a ride to the gate at 0400 may not have been during that weekend.
r. YN3 noted that around the time of NCIS's search of the room, the other two roommates mentioned that the night V/ A. R. was there, they had heard weird noises in the common room, like crying and banging. YN3 did not personally hear that.
s. Copeland would sleep with two phones in his bed at night.

1. On 6 February 2026, CDR Lauren Mayo, JAGC, USN, LCDR Christopher Dempsey, JAGC, USN, and LN2 Nicole Orsillo, USN, spoke in person with AA John Calisse, USN. The following disclosures are provided:

2. On 28 May 2025, AA Calisse remembered seeing CSSN Copeland briefly in their shared barracks room and seeing a woman, he now believes to be V/A.R., with CSSN Copeland, although he did not know who V/A.R. was at the time. Sometime between 1800 and 2000, CSSN Copeland asked AA Calisse if he could borrow AA Calisse's car. AA Calisse said he only saw V/A.R. and CSSN Copeland because CSSN Copeland returned the car keys to him. After he got his car keys back, AA Calisse did not leave his bedroom until the next morning when he left for work. AA Calisse said when he is at the barracks, he typically stays in his room most of the time and spends that time talking to his family back home in Haiti. He utilizes text, phone calls, and video chat to communicate with his family. AA Calisse had a roommate, PSSA GordilloCruz, and when PSSA GordilloCruz is not in the room, AA Calisse said he uses speaker phone to talk to his family. On the night of 28 May 2025, AA Calisse believes PSSA GordilloCruz was on leave. AA Calisse goes to bed on the early side every night because he gets up early for work. He estimated that he went to bed around 2000 that night.

AA Calisse stated he remembered PSSA GordilloCruz returning early in the morning on 29 May 2025 and believed it was between 0200-0300. When PSSA GordilloCruz returned to the barracks, AA Calisse said he heard loud music playing in the common space in their barracks room, and believed he heard singing, but could not say for certain. AA Calisse was not sure if the light was on in the common area. He believes he fell back to sleep about a minute or two after PSSA GordilloCruz returned. He does not remember what time he initially fell asleep, but thinks it was early because he had to be up for work around 0500 and left for work around 0545.

When AA Calisse walked out of his room to leave for work, he noticed in the common area [redacted] and CSSN Copeland lying in the middle of the floor. AA Calisse said he had to walk on the furniture because V/A.R. and CSSN Copeland were blocking the walkway. AA Calisse noticed CSSN Copeland move his head a little bit when AA Calisse opened his bedroom door but said V/A.R. did not move at all. AA Calisse did notice V/A.R. lying on her back and said she either had a bra or T-shirt on and said it was pulled up, exposing her breasts. Her pants were pulled down, one pant leg was around her ankle, and her legs were splayed open with her genitals exposed. CSSN Copeland was lying with his head on V/A. R. 's inner thigh. AA Calisse said he did not think much of it because he is from a place where everyone minds their own business. AA Calisse did not notice any injuries to V/A. R. 's body but said it was dark in the common area.

AA Calisse added that when opening his door it was fairly loud and he thought it was weird that V/A. R. did not react. AA Calisse was presented with a picture of the common area of his barracks room, and he labeled the photo noting the area where he remembered V/A. R. and CSSN Copeland lying. He remembers them lying close to his bedroom door.

That morning at work, AA Calisse remembered talking to PSSA GordilloCruz about CSSN Copeland and V/A. R. lying naked on the floor. He stated both agreed it was disrespectful.

When asked about the general noise level in the barracks room, AA Calisse described that in the past neighbors on the floor complained about how loud the music in their suite frequently was. AA Calisse said CSSN Copeland would regularly play music loudly in the common area.

CSSN Copeland and AA Calisse were not really friends. However, AA Calisse said he would let CSSN Copeland use his car to buy food, and he would occasionally drive CSSN Copeland to work.

Prior to CSSN Copeland's incarceration, they lived together for about three or four months . AA Calisse has not spoken to CSSN Copeland since he has been placed in confinement.

On 1 June 2025, AA Calisse said he was out with another friend buying things for their upcoming underway, and CSSN Copeland asked AA Calisse for a ride to work. When AA Calisse returned to the barracks, he and PSSA GordilloCruz were approached by MAs who were looking for CSSN Copeland. CSSN Copeland told AA Calisse the MAs were looking for him because he did not go to work and told AA Calisse he did not have a ride to work. AA Calisse offered CSSN Copeland a ride to work.

AA Calisse, PSSA GordilloCruz, and CSSN Copeland drove together to CSSN Copeland's command so he could get out of an unauthorized absence status. When CSSN Copeland returned to AA Calisse's car, the three of them went to get food but did not talk about anything in particular. AA Calisse stated he used to give CSSN Copeland rides to work and believes before this incident CSSN Copeland never missed work.

On Friday, 29 May 2025, CSSN Copeland did not borrow AA Calisse's car. On Saturday, 30 May 2025, CSSN Copeland asked to borrow AA Calisse's car, and AA Calisse agreed, but CSSN Copeland never got the keys. On the evening of Sunday, 1 June 2025, CSSN Copeland asked AA Calisse if he could borrow his car again, and this time CSSN Copeland took his keys from AA Calisse. AA Calisse did not see CSSN Copeland leave. AA Calisse then went to bed. The following morning, AA Calisse did not see his keys in the barracks room, and CSSN Copeland returned around 0600 with breakfast. AA Calisse was frustrated because CSSN Copeland knew AA Calisse had to be at work early. CSSN Copeland blamed gate traffic for being late returning the jeep.

There was another roommate in AA Calisse's suite, YN3 Monaghan. YN3 Monaghan and CSSN Copeland shared a room in the suite. AA Calisse said he and YN3 Monaghan did not communicate prior to the incident. After [redacted] went missing, AA Calisse asked YN3 Monaghan what was going on. [redacted] JRC

AA Calisse reiterated music is regularly played loudly in their barracks suite, and when [redacted] was over, he thought he heard CSSN Copeland and [redacted] singing and could not answer for sure if they were actually yelling at each other. He thought CSSN Copeland had to work the morning CSSN Copeland and [redacted] were lying on the floor but did not know his schedule or if he had the day off. AA Calisse did not believe he had plans to drive CSSN Copeland to work that morning. Most of the time, AA Calisse said CSSN Copeland left for work earlier than he did because he worked in Portsmouth, VA, and had to be at work around 0400. He was not sure how CSSN Copeland usually got to work.

[redacted]

When he was leaving for work the morning [redacted] was over, AA Calisse did not notice any odd personal items or items that belonged to people other than the people who lived there.

AA Calisse answered "no" to all Giglio questions.

(c) Giglio v. United States, 405 U.S. 150 (1972)
(d) JAGINST 5803.1E (20 Jan 15) Rule 3.8

1. On 13 May 2026, LCDR Christopher Dempsey, JAGC, USN, CDR Lauren Mayo, JAGC, USN, and Ms. Christine Jimenez, Civ, interviewed AN John Calisse, USN. The following disclosures are provided:

a) AN Calisse stated he can barely sleep now and is always thinking about the situation. He has been diagnosed with PTSD, depression, and anxiety. He stated he barely goes outside and was really scared because he had never been in a situation like this before. He also had to buy a new car as a result of the seizure of his Jeep. He is still paying the loan for the Jeep.

b) AN Calisse stated he no longer trusts anyone, civilian or military. When he goes home, he stays inside because he does not want to bother anyone.

c) AN Calisse stated he spoke with NCIS and told them they could come to his residence. However, he stated the way they went about it was upsetting because he was sleeping when they arrived banging on the door with guns drawn and was told to come outside walking backwards. AN Calisse didn't understand what was going on and was handcuffed against the wall. He does not recall how long he was handcuffed but believes it was more than ten minutes.

d) AN Calisse stated he thinks about whether A.R. was dead or not because he could not figure it out. He explained that he normally does not get involved in other people's situations. Calisse said he did not hear her scream and feels guilty he did not intervene.

e) AN Calisse stated he can't go to sleep but feels tired. He was given medication for sleeping, but it does not help. He stated he stays awake until approximately 0100 to 0200, and he used to go to bed at around 8:00 p.m.

f) AN Calisse stated that prior to this incident, he planned to serve for twenty years in the military. He stated he does not think about plans anymore and does not intend to stay in.

g) AN Calisse stated that since this event he has nightmares when he sleeps but cannot recall them when he wakes up. He currently lives in Hampton and does not have any roommates.

h) AN Calisse stated that at first, therapy was difficult because thinking too much would cause migraines and make his head spin. He stated his therapist has helped him with that.

i) AN Calisse stated that when he lost his father in June, he could not attend the funeral. His command would not let him attend the funeral in Haiti. He also stated he has not been able to see his wife as well.

1. SDFE DAVISON conducted a timeline analysis of the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND for all events occurring on 29May25, between 1:50:16 AM and 1:12:01 PM. A timeline analysis of all device events is an extremely complex process, and a digital forensic examiner must report all pertinent data and user activity. However, a digital forensic examiner cannot report all data which occurs on the device since a report will not be represented in a clear and concise manner. The iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND recorded over 15,000 pieces of data for all events occurring on the device on 29May25, between 1:50:16 AM and 1:12:01 PM. All 15,000 pieces of data are available upon request. SDFE DAVISON located and extracted 1,371 pieces of data during the timeline analysis of the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND. SDFE DAVISON saved the data to a folder named "(d) 29May25 Timeline" on the FINDINGS MEDIA. The folder contains a Microsoft Excel spreadsheet named "29May25 Timeline Items.xlsx" and an Adobe Acrobat file named "report.pdf." Axiom created the Adobe Acrobat file and the Microsoft Excel spreadsheet based on items tagged by SDFE DAVISON. SDFE DAVISON edited the Microsoft Excel to assist in viewing purposes of this report. SDFE DAVISON also created a color legend to assist in identifying different types of data in the report. SDFE DAVISON took the following screenshot as display in the Microsoft Excel spreadsheet.

2. The examination of all timeline events for 29May25, revealed the device was located near Willis Manor X-2, Norfolk, VA, based on Geolocation data. The device appeared to remain in the area of Willis Manor X-2 until the completion of the timeline analysis at approximately 1:15 PM. SDFE DAVISON tagged four geolocation points between 1:59:12 AM, and 11:00:08 AM, as a part of the timeline analysis; however, the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND recorded 4,021 geolocation points with the overwhelming majority near Willis Manor X-2. The examination revealed the 3,921 Cached Locations recorded on the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND were near Willis Manor X-2. SDFE DAVISON took the following screenshots as displayed in Axiom.

1. The examination revealed the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND was mostly in a locked state between 1:50:28 AM and 7:28:08 AM. The iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND was in an unlocked state for 2 minutes and 16 seconds during this timeframe. The user of the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND had limited interaction with the device. The user of the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND used the Apple Notes App at 2:01 AM, and reviewed a note titled “90% ground meat.” The user of the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND previously created the note on 29May25, at 1:46:57 AM. The user then brought to focus the Cash App for two seconds at 2:02 AM. The user of the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND then brought to focus Snapchat for three seconds at 2:02:10 AM. Between 3:28:50 AM and 3:29:12 AM, the user of the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND brought the Snapchat App back to focus and responded to a message from the Snapchat user name “luv.layna22” at 3:29:05 AM. SDFE DAVISON took the following screenshot as displayed in Microsoft Excel.

5. Between 7:41:56 AM and 7:52:55 AM, the user of the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND used the Twitter App. While the user of the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND was using the Twitter App, the device received two incoming FaceTime audio calls and one cellular phone call from the phone number [redacted] The user of the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND did not answer the phone calls while on the Twitter App. At 7:53:04 AM, the user then switched to the Snapchat App and appears to switch between the use of the iPhone's back camera to the front camera in the Snapchat App at 7:53:17 AM. The examination revealed the user of the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND appears to take two pictures while using Snapchat based on the camera being active and the .jpg file extension. Snapchat saved the images named A4FF562B-4659-4E70-83E4-F07433AF8A8C.jpg and A5BD5969-9F93-4394-BD12-5A4FB27937C3.jpg. The user of the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND then replied to Snapchat user name "luv.layna22" at 7:53:55 AM. This reply was the last communication sent by the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND until 12:44:35 PM when the user called the phone number (360) 521-1599. The user then switched back to the Twitter App between 7:54:14 AM and 7:55:10 AM. SDFE DAVISON took the following screenshots as displayed in Axiom and the 29May25 Timeline Excel spreadsheet.

6. The examination of the Apple Photos App for the time period of 7:55:12 AM until 11:31:47 AM, revealed the user of the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND was viewing adult pornography. Between 7:55:12 AM and 8:25:54 AM, the user of the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND was primarily using the Apple Photos App. While the user of the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND was viewing adult pornography, the device received an incoming phone call from "Brad Parker." The iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND received an additional four incoming calls until 9:01:12 AM. The user of the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND did not answer or respond to any of the incoming phone calls. Between 8:25:56 AM and 8:26:03 AM, the user switched to the Apple iMessage App from the Apple Photos App. The user did not respond to any previously received text messages nor did the user appear to read any unread text messages. Between 8:26:05 AM and 8:52:51 AM, the user of the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND started to use the Apple Photos App again. While the user was viewing pornography, the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND received two text messages from the phone number 631-804-1144 at 8:51 AM. The user did not respond to the text messages. Between 8:53:00 AM and 8:58:12

AM, the device was placed into a locked state for 5 minutes and 12 seconds. While the device was in a locked state, the health database recorded health steps and distance events at 8:54:33 AM. The user unlocked the device for 16 seconds, then placed the device back into a locked state between 8:58:28 AM and 9:01:44 AM. SDFE DAVISON took the following screenshots:

7. Between 9:01:44 AM and 9:23:48 AM, the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND unlocked the device and was using the Apple Photos App to view pornography between 9:01:47 AM and 9:22:49 AM. While the user of the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND was viewing pornography, the device received phone calls from "JEAN JACQUES,ED" and phone number [redacted] The user of the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND did not answer or respond to any of the incoming phone calls. Prior to the device being placed in a locked state, the health database recorded health steps and distance events at 9:22:05 AM. Between 9:23:48 AM and 9:33:44 AM, the device was placed into a locked state for 9 minutes and 56 seconds. While the device was in a locked state, the health database recorded health steps and distance events at 9:33:46 AM. SDFE DAVISON took the following screenshots as displayed in Axiom.

8. The examination revealed the user of the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND unlocked the device using either the phone's facial biometrics or the PIN on 29May25, between 9:33:44 AM and 11:31:56 AM. The device remained in an unlocked state for 1 hour, 58 minutes, and 12 seconds. At 9:33:56 AM, the user of the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND started using the Apple Photos App to view pornography for three seconds until putting the App in the background at 9:33:59 AM. Between 9:34:00 AM and 9:34:18 AM, the user then briefly switched to the Snapchat App for six seconds, then switched briefly to the Apple iMessage App for seven seconds, then switched again back to Snapchat App for two seconds, then switched back again to the Apple iMessage App for three seconds. The user did not respond to any previously received messages. The user of the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND accessed two pictures in the Snapchat App at 9:34:01AM. The image file named 64A9B299-1EEB-7C3C-AE7F-21A6884B13F0.png is a thumbnail image created on the device at 9:34:01 AM. The file is located in the private\var\mobile\Library\Intents\Images directory. The purpose of the directory and this thumbnail appears to enable apps like Snapchat to integrate with iOS system features like Siri, shortcuts, and Spotlight. Specifically, this directory holds images associated with intent-related actions, such as group chat display thumbnails, or other visual assets that apps donate to the system for use in contextual suggestions. The original image appeared to be previously uploaded to the Snapchat App as the device's camera was not turned on for use with the Snapchat App until 9:34:13 AM, and the file is saved as a .png file extension. The file named ba84c31cd6397c15534c237a861d177d was accessed on the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND at 9:34:01 AM, which appears to indicate the user accessed the Snapchat message from the user name "angelina244506." The snapchat message history was not recovered during the examination. SDFE DAVISON took the following screenshots displayed in Axiom in chronological order.

9. Between 9:34:18 AM and 11:31:47 AM, the user of the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND used the Apple Photos App to view adult pornography. The user viewed both pornographic images and videos during this timeframe and previously viewed adult pornography between 7:55:12 AM until 9:33:56 AM except for interruptions identified above. The user of the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND viewed pornography primarily from videos and images saved to the device by the user in the \private\var\mobile\Media\DCIM subdirectories and from the iCloud account for the Apple ID listed as [redacted] The user also watched a small number of adult pornographic videos on Twitter and Tiktok. SDFE DAVISON located and extracted the adult pornographic images and videos to the folder named "(e) Pornography" on the FINDINGS MEDIA. The folder contains a file name "report.pdf" which consists of the main page of the report. The examination also revealed the user of the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND started charging the phone at 11:08:17 AM until 12:12:27 PM. SDFE DAVISON took the following screenshot as displayed in Axiom.

BATTERY CHARGING

10. The examination revealed the user of the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND viewed pornographic videos related to the iCloud account for the Apple ID listed as [redacted] The iCloud videos cannot be viewed when exported from Axiom as iOS appears to store the files as a compound file or concatenated file. A compound file or concatenated file is a single file that actually contains two or more different types of files inside. A compound file or concatenated file is not intended for an individual to interact with the file and is usually used for internal use or system integration. iOS in this case appears to use the compound file or concatenated file to allow Apple Photos App to view videos stored in an iCloud account. The compound files or concatenated files in this case contain a plist file followed by a video file. As identified above, Apple uses plist files to store structured data for App configuration settings, user preference settings, data serialization, and system settings. The user of the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND watched 35 pornographic videos from the iCloud account. The file names all start with naming convention "CachedMedia-" followed by numbers and/or letters. The files are all stored in the directory \private\var\mobile\Media\PhotoData\PhotoCloudSharingData\Caches\CachedMedia. A small number of the CacheMedia files were corrupt and could not be recovered. However, the file names associated with those files in the plist file resolves back to image files on the system associated with adult pornography. SDFE DAVSION manually carved 12 files to provide a representative sample of the pornography viewed by the user of the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND. SDFE DAVISON also provided two files which were corrupt and could not be carved; however, SDFE DAVISON provided the image files resident on the device which resolved back to the files named in the plist file. SDFE DAVISON saved the files to a folder named "(f) Compound Files" on the FINDINGS MEDIA. SDFE DAVISON took the following screenshots as displayed in Axiom to show the manual carving process.

HEALTH DATA FOCUS 02JUN25

1. SDFE DAVISON located and extracted health data to include Apple Health Floors, Apple Health Steps, Apple Heart Rate, Apple Resting Heart Rate, Apple Watch Worn hours, and Apple Health Distance during the examination of the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND. SDFE Davison saved the data for Apple Health Floors, Apple Health Steps, and Apple Health Distance from 28May25, at approximately 9:00 PM, until 02Jun25, at approximately 6:00 AM. SDFE DAVISON also saved the Apple Heart Rate from 28May25, at approximately 8:00 PM, until the last entry on 29May25, at 12:29:33 PM. SDFE DAVISON saved the Apple Resting Heart Rate history from 13May25 to 29May25 at 12:29:33 PM. SDFE DAVISON saved the health data to the folder named "(a) Health Data" on the FINDINGS MEDIA. The folder contains a Microsoft Excel spreadsheet named "Health Data.xlsx," which contains the report. The examination revealed the Apple Watch SE (2nd generation) Cellular - 40mm was paired with the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND while the last recorded data was on 29May25, at 12:29:33 PM. The Apple Watch SE (2nd generation) Cellular - 40mm appears not to be worn by a user associated with the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND after this date/time. SDFE DAVISON created a timeline analysis of the heath data recorded on 02Jun25 from 3:45:10 AM to 5:57:20 AM. The user of the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND walked 365 steps for a distance of 78.85 meters or 258 feet and 8.3307 inches on 02Jun25, between 05:02:25 AM and 05:12:14AM. SDFE DAVISON took a screenshot of the health data.

EXAMINER'S NOTE: The date/time stamps recorded on Apple iPhones health data like steps and distance are generally accurate. However, the date/time stamps may not always be precise as delays and discrepancies can occur. Therefore, the specific date/time stamps below may not accurately reflect the precise date/time of a specific activity due to the method Apple iPhones record health data.

GEOLOCATION DATA 02JUN25 0400-0600

1. On 09Jun25, SDFE DAVISON located geolocation data during the examination of the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND. The examination revealed a cached location recorded on the device on 02Jun25, at 5:14:51 AM, with a latitude of 36.8586915425567 and a longitude of -76.2544464206239. SDFE DAVISON visited the website https://www.gps-coordinates.net/ to determine an approximate address of the latitude and longitude coordinates. The website resolved the coordinates near the address 2842 Cary Avenue, Norfolk, VA 23504. SDFE DAVISON took a screenshot of the data as displayed in Axiom and the data displayed in the website https://www.gps-coordinates.net/.

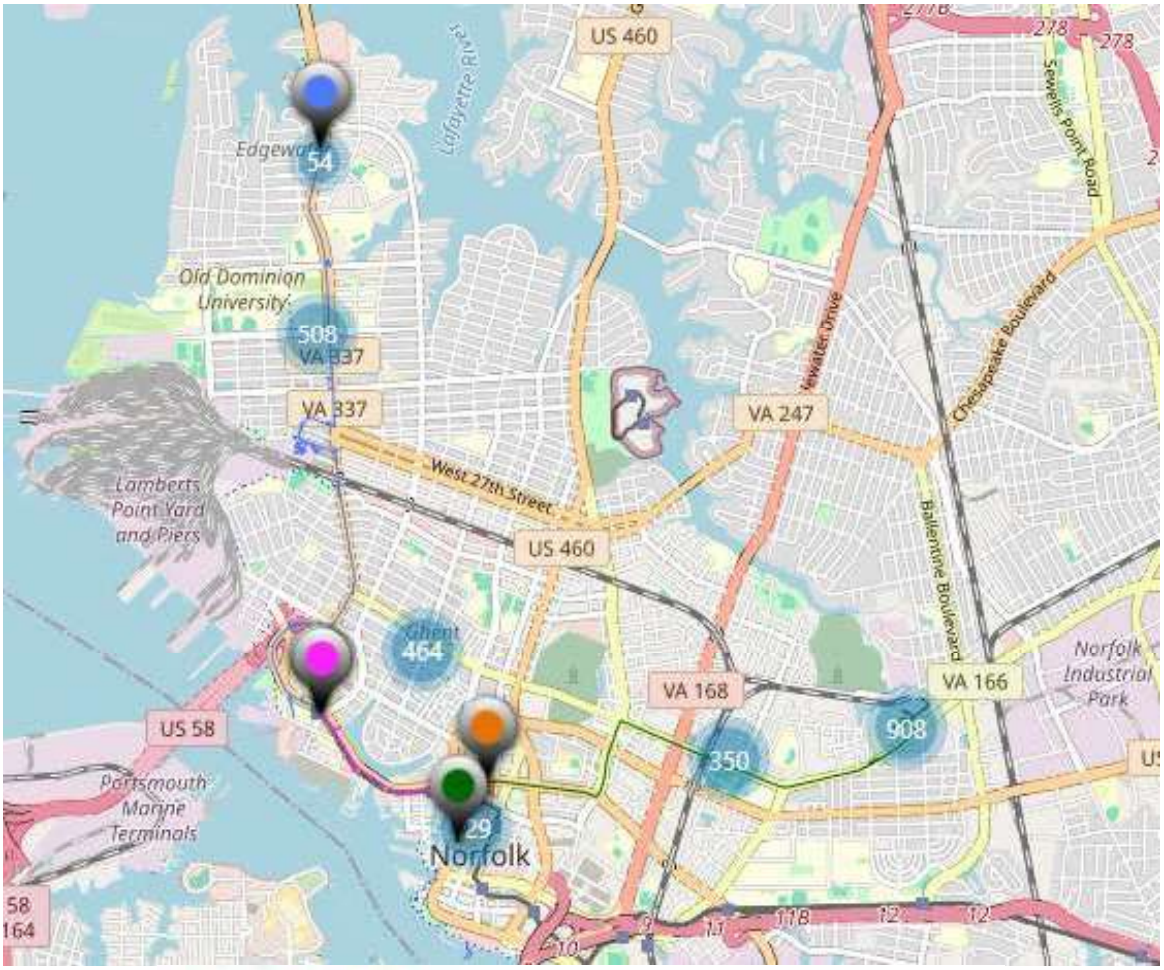
2. SDFE DAVISON located and extracted 4,982 location and travel artifacts during the examination of the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND. The location and travel artifacts consist of Apple Map Searches, Apple Map Trips, Cached Locations, Significant Locations, and Significant Location Visits with a time filtered for 02Jun25, between 04:00 AM and 06:00 AM. SDFE DAVISON took a screenshot of the data as displayed in Axiom.



Click to Review Geolocation Report

3. The examination of the 4,982 location and travel artifacts revealed a route the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND traveled on 02Jun25, between 04:00 AM and 06:00 AM. SDFE DAVISON created three route videos using Axiom Route View. SDFE DAVISON exported and saved the three videos to a folder named "(b) Geolocations" on the FINDINGS MEDIA. The video file named "route_export_part1.mp4" represents the first portion of the route traveled by the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND. The first portion of the route starts on 02Jun25, at 04:00 AM and ends at 04:32 AM. Between 4:18 AM (end of red route) and 4:29 AM (start of pink route), the precise location and route traveled by the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND is unknown since the device did not record enough geolocation data during this timeframe. SDFE DAVISON took a screenshot of the data as displayed in Axiom.

4. The video file named "route_export_part2.mp4" represents the second portion of the route traveled by the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND. The second portion of the route starts on 02Jun25, at 04:32 AM, and ends at 05:16 AM. While the device was traveling, the user of the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND conducted a search for Parks in Norfolk and Trails in Norfolk. SDFE DAVISON took a screenshot of the data as displayed in Axiom.

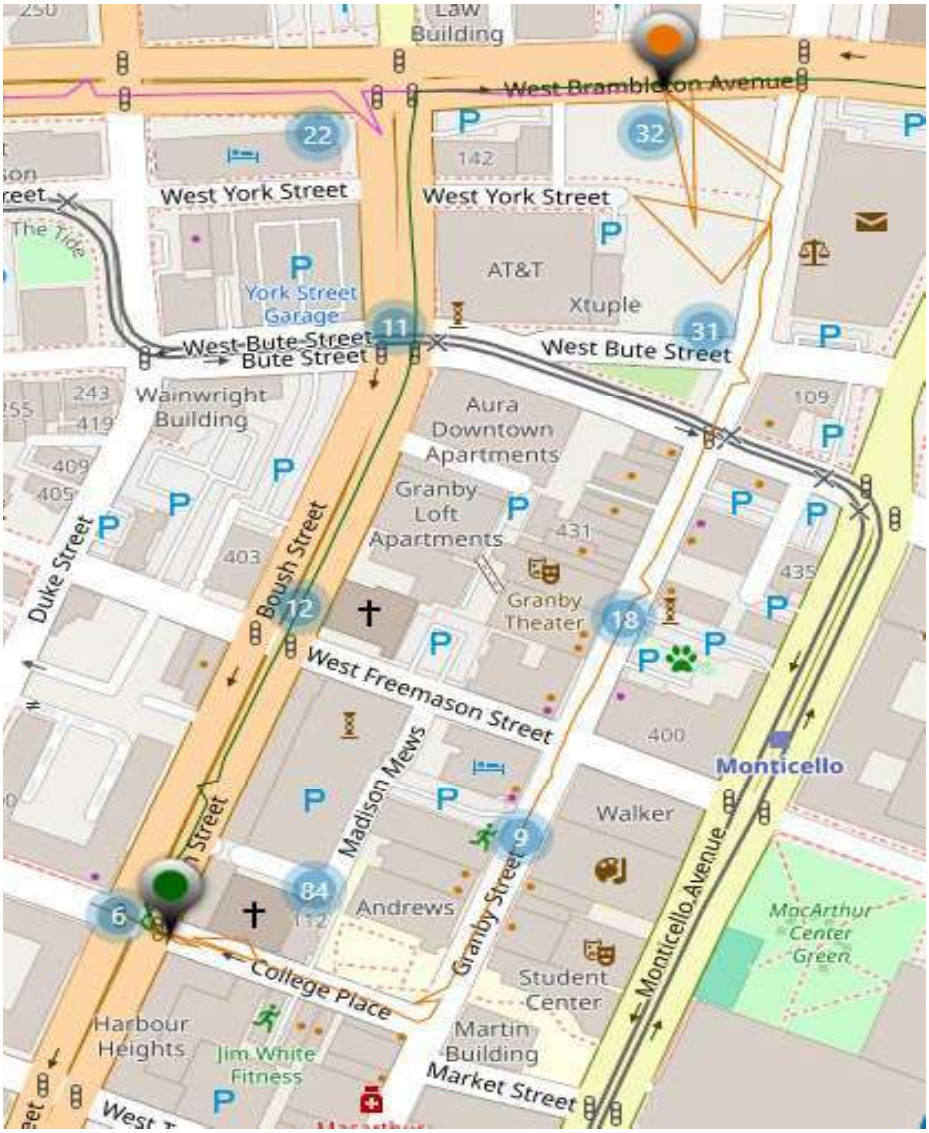
5. The examination of the second portion revealed the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND traveled on West 27th Street, Norfolk, by the Langley Federal Credit Union, 2701 Hampton Blvd, Norfolk, VA, on 02Jun25, at approximately 04:36 AM. The device continued to travel on Bowdens Ferry Road, Norfolk, VA, then onto West 25th Street, Norfolk, VA. The device started to travel South again on Hampton Blvd starting at approximately 04:40 AM. The fluctuations in the blue lines are location and travel artifacts with varying geolocation accuracy. An examiner must rely on all of the available data to rebuild an accurate picture of a route traveled. SDFE DAVISON took a screenshot of the data as displayed in Axiom.



6. On 13Jun25, Investigative Analyst (IA) Mary OAKLEY, NCISRA Yorktown, VA, provided SDFE DAVSION with an image from the Vigilant Database System, which she received from the Newport News Police Department, VA. The image shows a white vehicle with temporary Virginia License plate number G21274 taken on 02Jun25, at 04:40:44AM. The picture was taken near West 25th street and Hampton Blvd, Norfolk, VA. SDFE DAVISON took a screenshot of the image file.

7. The examination of the second portion also revealed the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND traveled on Granby Street, Norfolk, on 02Jun25, at approximately 04:45 AM. The device continued to travel on College Place, Norfolk, VA, then onto Boush Street, Norfolk, VA. The device started to travel east again on West Brambleton Ave, Norfolk, starting approximately 04:48 AM. SDFE DAVISON took a screenshot of the data as displayed in Axiom.

8. The examination of the second portion also revealed the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND entered Merrimac Ave, Norfolk, VA, on 02Jun25, at approximately 04:56 AM. The device traveled around the residential area until appearing to stop behind 2852 Cary Ave, Norfolk, VA, on 02Jun25, at approximately 05:00 AM. According to the health data reported above, the user of the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND began to record health data steps and distance on 02Jun25, at approximately 05:02:25 AM. The light blue circles with the white numbers in the images below represent the number of location and travel artifacts records in the area. The lower the number of artifacts represents the lower confidence in the data to place a device in a specific area. Conversely, the higher the number of artifacts represents the higher confidence in the data to place a device in a specific area. The examination revealed the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND recorded 635 location and travel artifacts on 02Jun25, between 5:00:11 AM and 5:15:42 AM, near the area of 2852 Cary Ave, Norfolk, VA. Based on the extremely high number of 635 location and travel artifacts, the examination revealed with extremely high confidence the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND was in this location on 02Jun25, between 5:00:11 AM and 5:15:42 AM. SDFE DAVISON took screenshots of the data as displayed in Axiom and the video.

9. The examination revealed the first artifact recorded in the area was a cached location recorded on the device on 02Jun25, at 5:00:11 AM, with a latitude of 36.8586565668269 and a longitude of -76.2542549822841. SDFE DAVISON visited the website https://www.gps-coordinates.net/ to determine an approximate address of the latitude and longitude coordinates. The website resolved the coordinates near the address 2852 Cary Avenue, Norfolk, VA 23504. SDFE DAVISON took a screenshot of the data as displayed in Axiom and the data displayed in the website https://www.gps-coordinates.net/.

13. The video file name "route_export_part3.mp4" represents the final portion of the route traveled by the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND. The third portion of the route starts on 02Jun25, at 05:16 AM, and ends at 05:58 AM. SDFE DAVISON took a screenshot of the data as displayed in Axiom.

14. The examination of the third portion revealed the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND traveled to the McDonald's restaurant at 8300 Hampton Blvd, Norfolk, on 02Jun25, entered at approximately 05:33 AM, and exited the McDonald's at approximately 05:37 AM. SDFE DAVISON took a screenshot of the data as displayed in Axiom.

15. The examination of the third portion revealed the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND traveled and entered Gate 2 NAS Norfolk, VA, on 02Jun25, at approximately 05:42 AM. SDFE DAVISON took a screenshot of the data as displayed in Axiom.

MARKED LOCATION TIMELINE

1. SDFE DAVISON located and exported timeline data concerning when the user of the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND tagged the geolocation coordinates with the longitude 36.858536 and latitude -76.256816. The coordinates are displayed in the screenshot in the image file named IMG_2621.PNG identified above although the screenshot was not captured until later. The geolocation coordinates resolve to the wooded area in the vicinity of 2852 Cary Avenue, Norfolk, VA 23504. SDFE DAVISON saved all timeline location data to a folder named, "(c) Tagged Location Data" on the FINDINGS MEDIA. The folder contains a Microsoft Excel file named, "Marked location Timeline Analysis.xlsx," which consists of the timeline report. The examination revealed that on 02Jun25, at 4:47:13 AM, the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND was located approximately near the corner of College Place and Boush Street, Norfolk, VA. SDFE DAVISON took the following screenshots as display in Axiom.

MARKED LOCATION IMAGE FILES

1. On 09Jun25, SDFE DAVISON located and extracted two image files during the examination of the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND. The image files named IMG_2621.PNG and IMG_2622.PNG are located in the \private\var\mobile\Media\DCIM\132APPLE directory of the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND. The image file named IMG_2621.PNG appears to be a screenshot of an Apple Maps App with the street name Cary Ave visible in the image. The device also appears to be in Airplane mode and time of day is 05:15 according to the visible image. The blue circle appears to be the user of the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND and appears to be facing towards the house on Cary Ave. The following are the image files containing the screenshots named IMG_2621.PNG and IMG_2622.PNG in order.

2. The examination revealed the image files named IMG_2621.PNG and IMG_2622.PNG are located in the \private\var\mobile\Media\DCIM\132APPLE directory of the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND. The directory \private\var\mobile\Media\DCIM and its subdirectories are the default location where all user created images and videos are stored on an Apple iPhone. The DCIM folder is also the default location for screenshots taken and saved by an iPhone user. The user of the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND either purposely or accidentally took the screenshot named IMG_2621.PNG on 02Jun25, at 5:15:21 AM. The user of the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND either purposely or accidentally took the screenshot named IMG_2622.PNG on 02Jun25, at 5:15:25 AM. SDFE DAVISON took the following screenshots as displayed in Axiom.

SCREENSHOT SERVICES

1. SDFE DAVISON recovered and extracted four Adobe Acrobat files and one plist file during the examination of the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND. The examination revealed the iPhone's operating system (iOS) created four temporary Adobe Acrobat files in the directory \private\var\mobile\Containers\Data\Application\563F7D58-5717-4071-9581-1E918177BF20\tmp during the creation of the image files IMG_2621.PNG and IMG_2622.PNG identified above. The device's iOS created the files on 02Jun25, at 5:15:21 AM, and 5:15:25. AM, as a result of the screenshot services for iOS. Axiom recovered the files as a result of carving, which in this case is a result of a deleted temporary file. The file names and date/time stamps are the original data associated with the files. Axiom carved and recovered the actual data contained within the file, which in this case consists of images used to create the screenshots named IMG_2621.PNG and IMG_2622.PNG. Apple uses plist files to store structured data for App configuration settings, user preference settings, data serialization, and system settings. The plist file named, “com.apple.mobile_container_manager.metadata.plist” in the directory \private\var\mobile\Containers\Data\Application\563F7D58-5717-4071-9581-1E918177BF20 contains the data for screenshot services. AIRPLANE MODE

1. SDFE DAVISON located and extracted 15 Airplane mode events during the examination of the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND. The examination revealed the user of the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND activated Airplane mode on the device on 02Jun25, at 4:34:41 AM. The user of the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND then set the device's Airplane mode to off on 02Jun25, at 4:36:54 AM. The user of the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND again activated Airplane mode on the device on 02Jun25, at 4:48:08 AM. The user of the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND then set the device's Airplane mode to off on 02Jun25, at 5:16:13 AM. ## INSTRUCTIONS FOR ASSEMBLING THE CERTIFIED RECORD OF TRIAL

Arrange and bind the record of trial with allied papers in the sequence indicated below. The court reporter is responsible for certifying the record of trial prior to transmittal for appellate review, in accordance with R.C.M. 1112 and JAG/CNLSCINST 5813.1G.

1. Pages 1 (Cover page) and 2 (Chronology Sheet) of DD Form 490 (enclosure 7).

2. Court reporter certification of Record of Trial (enclosure 8).

3. Military Judge verification of Record of Trial (enclosure 8).

4. DD Form 490 (pages 3-6 and any continuation pages if needed) (enclosure 7).

5. Completed Post-Trial Checklist from JAG/CNLSCINST 5814.1G (enclosure 2).

6. Completed Convening Authority's Action Checklist (enclosure 4).

7. Post-Trial Documents.

a. Certificates/Proof of Service of the Certified Record of Trial to the accused and victim, if applicable (enclosure 7).

b. Convening Authority's Action and Entry of Judgment (enclosure 6).

c. Any requests for copies of the court-martial record pursuant to R.C.M. 1106 or 1106A (attach written requests, and any certificates/proof of service, but do not attach the victim's post-trial rights advisement or DD Form 2704).

d. Matters submitted by the accused and/or victim under R.C.M. 1106 or 1106A, or any written waiver of the right to submit such matters. Include all responses to requests here as well.

e. Any deferment request and the action on it (including any request to waive automatic forfeitures under Article 58b).

f. Conditions of suspension and proof of service on probationer under R.C.M. 1107, if any.

g. All clemency recommendations by members or military judge, if any.

h. Statement of Trial Results (enclosure 1).

i. Crime Reporting Information.

j. Accused's request for appellate defense counsel, or waiver/withdrawal of appellate review under R.C.M. 1115, if applicable.

k. All transfer orders, confinement orders, and excess leave orders.

l. Briefs of counsel submitted after trial, if any.

8. Preliminary Hearing.

a. DD Form 457, Preliminary Hearing Officer's Report, pursuant to Article 32, if such hearing was conducted, followed by any other allied papers that accompanied the charges when referred for trial (including any matters submitted under R.C.M. 405(l), unless included elsewhere in the record of trial).*

b. Waiver of Article 32 Hearing (if applicable).

9. Pre-Trial Allied Papers.

a. Convening Order and all amending convening orders.

b. DD Form 458, Charge Sheet (unless included at the point of arraignment in the transcript).

INSTRUCTIONS FOR ASSEMBLING THE CERTIFIED RECORD OF TRIAL

c. Congressional inquiries and replies, if any.

d. Advice of staff judge advocate, when prepared pursuant to Article 34 or otherwise.

10. Record of Proceedings.

a. Substantially verbatim recording of court-martial proceedings. Segregate open and closed sessions of the court-martial in accordance with R.C.M. 1113 and the following guidance:*

b. Ensure that each closed session of the court-martial is recorded on a separate DVD marked CLOSED SESSION, placed in its own envelope marked CLOSED SESSION, and sealed.

c. Label all DVD(s) and envelopes with the information on page 1 of this template.

d. Mark all DVDs and envelopes with "1 of X." as necessary (for example, the second DVD of six DVDs and its envelope should be marked, 2 of 6). All DVDs of open sessions may be in one envelope.

e. Mark all DVDs with their beginning and ending timestamps. The timestamps for closed sessions should match those shown on the Index.

f. Verbatim transcript or summarized report prepared in accordance with JAGINST 5814.1G. Include the following:

I. A certificate of correction, if any (including any supplemental certification for additional proceedings).

II. Court reporter and transcriptionist certification of verbatim transcript.

g. Records of former proceedings (Article 30a) and/or trials, (e.g., electronic/digital record of former proceeding, including audio recording and any scanned documentation/transcripts, CD/DVD format).*

11. Prosecution exhibits admitted in evidence.

12. Defense Exhibits admitted in evidence.

13. Appellate Exhibits including but not limited to, proposed instructions, written offers of proof or preliminary evidence (real or documentary), briefs of counsel submitted at trial, request to be tried by military judge alone (if any), the accused election of members under R.C.M. 903 (if any), any statement by convening authority required under R.C.M. 503(a)(2), and the election for sentencing by members in lieu of sentencing by military judge under R.C.M. 1002(b).*

14. Redaction. The following information shall be redacted in accordance with JAGMAN 1059 from the record of trial prior to releasing it to any accused or victim (including any transcript made pursuant to R.C.M. 1114 and attached to the record of trial) unless the information establishes an element of an offense, or is otherwise required:

a. Any recordings of closed sessions, any transcripts of closed sessions, and any sealed exhibits.

b. Names of minor victims, and names of minor witnesses. If an identifier is used, use only the initials.

c. Social Security Numbers.

d. Financial account information.

e. Home addresses.

f. Telephone numbers.

g. Personal e-mail addresses.

h. Dates of birth.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR ASSEMBLING THE CERTIFIED RECORD OF TRIAL

i. Any other information that could be used to identify a specific person other than the accused.

*If the report of preliminary hearing or record of trial contains exhibits, proceedings, or other materials ordered sealed by the preliminary hearing officer or military judge, counsel for the Government, the court reporter, or trial counsel shall cause such materials to be sealed to prevent unauthorized examination or disclosure, pursuant to R.C.M. 1113. Sealed material shall be properly marked, individually placed in separate envelopes with a copy of the preliminary hearing officer or military judge sealing order affixed to it, and inserted at the appropriate place in the record of trial. Do not duplicate sealed material to include it in any copy of the record of trial. Instead, insert a copy of the sealing order in lieu of any sealed material, in any copies of the record of trial.

DIVIDERS ARE NOT NECESSARY TO SEPARATE EACH SECTION. IF USED, THEY CAN BE PAPER RATHER THAN CARD STOCK. IF A PARTICULAR COMPONENT IS NOT APPLICABLE IN THE RECORD OF TRIAL, SUCH AS AN ARTICLE 32 HEARING, EXHIBITS NOT ADMITTED, POST-TRIAL PROCEEDINGS AND VACATION HEARINGS, DO NOT INSERT A DIVIDER OR PLACEHOLDER.

FRONT AND BACK COVER MUST BE ON BLUE CARDS STOCK AND LABELED WITH GUM LABELS.

Binding. Each volume of a record of trial should be no more than 1.5 inches thick and bound at the top with metal or plastic fasteners. DO NOT interlace or "piggy-back" prong fasteners to create an oversized volume. DO NOT place hole punches where it covers up the evidence or language in the transcript. When it becomes necessary to assemble the record of trial in more than one volume, the volumes will be numbered consecutively, on the front cover, as illustrated below:

Volume 1 of 4 (Pages 1-250)
Volume 2 of 4 (Pages 251-400)
Volume 3 of 4 (Pages 401-652)
Volume 4 of 4 (Pages 653-901 and Exhibits)

Make the first volume of a multi-volume record an inch thick or smaller to allow for inclusion of post-trial documents. Limit subsequent volumes to 1.5 inches, unless dividing them requires assembling an additional volume smaller than a half inch.

Label the upper right-hand corner or the Preparation and Certification of Record of Trial Form (enclosure (8)) to reflect which copy it is, i.e., "ORIGINAL," "ACCUSED," "REVIEW" etc.

PROSECUTION EXHIBITS ADMITTED

BACKGROUND: On 31May25, NCIS was contacted by Norfolk Police Department (NPD) in reference to a missing person's report. NPD relayed ET3 Daniel RICH, USN, USS JAMES E WILLIAMS (DDG 95), was attempting to make a missing person's report regarding A.R. [redacted] NCIS subsequently contacted Command who advised A.R. [redacted] and CSSN Jermiah COPELAND (S/COPELAND), USN, DDG 95, were in a status of Unauthorized Absence (UA) beginning on Thursday, 29May25. Command advised they believed A.R. [redacted] and S/COPELAND were involved romantically, but did not know to what extent. On 01Jun25, NCIS made contact with Naval Station Norfolk Base Police to conduct a welfare check on the rooms of S/COPELAND and A.R. [redacted]. Base Police stated they found S/COPELAND in his barracks room; however, received no answer at A.R. [redacted] door when they knocked. NCIS responded to Naval Station Norfolk and was able to gain entry to A.R. [redacted] barracks room, in which she was not located. Subsequently, NCIS' Multiple Threat Alert Center (MTAC) initiated cell phone pings on A.R. [redacted] mobile phone, which yielded no location data due to the phone possibly being powered off. NCIS conducted an interview of S/COPELAND who stated A.R. [redacted] came over to his barracks on Wednesday, 28May25. S/COPELAND stated A.R. [redacted] stayed the night and the next day, 29May25, FCC Brad PARKER, USN, DDG 95, came to his barracks room because he failed to report for work. S/COPELAND stated he borrowed his roommate's vehicle and drove A.R. [redacted] back to her barracks around 1000 on 29May25. During the interview of S/COPELAND, he signed a Permissive Authorization for Search and Seizure (PASS) for his cellular device which was provided to NCIS Digital Forensic Examiners (DFE) for review. The DFE observed a screenshot on the device of S/COPELAND of a saved marked location near Cary Avenue in Norfolk, VA. During the course of this investigation, NCIS would launch search teams near known phone pings and last locations of both A.R. [redacted] and S/COPELAND. On 09Jun25, subsequent to receiving the screenshot from the DFE, NCIS conducted a foot search of the area near the marked location and discovered a black duffel bag containing human remains, later identified through DNA as A.R. [redacted].

JURISDICTION AND ARRIVAL: At approximately 1700, NCIS arrived to the location of Cary Avenue in Norfolk, VA, and conducted a foot search around the Broad Creek neighborhood and Richard Bowling Elementary School. Figure [1] is the screenshot of the marked location utilized by NCIS. At 1735, Reporting Agent (RA) received a phone call from Participating Agent (PA) Tiffany MARTINEZ stating a bag had been located off of a brush covered path behind a row of townhomes. Due to the location of the bag, at 1740, NCIS initiated contact with the Norfolk Police Department (NPD) who responded to the scene to assist. A copy of the NPD incident report detailing their response is appended as Enclosure (A).

SCENE SECURITY: Upon arrival to the scene, no other persons were present in the area but residents going about their daily routine. The area which was searched was not secured prior to arrival and was an open, wooded area, behind a school and residential community. NCIS participants divided into groups and ultimately located the bag by following the smell. Once the duffel bag was located, Andrew PISKE, CIV, K9 Handler, Virginia Department of Emergency Management (VDEM), and K9 Kyra, Certified Human Remains Detection Dog, approached the bag where she presented a positive alert to PISKE. An aerial topography image of the area searched by PISKE and K9 Kyra is appended as Enclosure (B). NCIS partially unzipped the bag to verify its contents to which human remains were observed. NPD was immediately contacted, and all searching immediately ceased. Due to rain, at approximately 1755, to protect the duffel bag, PISKE placed a black tarp over the bag. Figure [2] is a photo of the overall brush area where the remains were located. Figure [3] is a photo of the duffel bag in place. Figure [4] is the approximate GPS location of the duffel bag after conducting the foot search with the assistance of CalTopo. Figure [5] is the confirmation of the human remains inside the bag.

[1] See Rule for Court-Martial (R.C.M.) 1113(a), Discussion, "Upon request or otherwise for good cause shown, a military judge may seal matters at his or her discretion."

SCENE DOCUMENTATION: NPD assisted in maintaining the scene by providing a tent for protection from the rain while waiting for the Medical Examiner. At approximately 1900, Sarah CARNEY, CIV, Medicolegal Death Investigator, Tidewater Office of the Chief Medical Examiner (OCME) viewed the bag and remains inside. CARNEY captured several photos for her file and stated based off the condition of the remains it was recommended to not remove the contents and transport the bag as is to be opened in a controlled environment at autopsy. At 1905, CARNEY approved a search of the exterior pockets of the bag which was conducted by RA with no findings. At 2019, Price Removal Service arrived on scene to transport the remains to OCME for autopsy. Figure [6] is a photo of the transport tag. Once the duffel bag was removed, additional photography was conducted of the ground underneath. Figure [7] is a photo of the dumpsite with no bag present.

WEATHER AND LIGHTING: On 09Jun25, at approximately 1700, the weather in the area was approximately 80 degrees Fahrenheit, according to the Apple Weather App accessed via RA's NCIS-issued cellular phone. It was windy, hot and humid with low, dense, cloud cover and thunderstorms were predicted. Between 1850 and 2000, there was a range of weather from light rain to heavy thunderstorms and lightening.

EVIDENCE SEIZURE: No physical items of evidence were collected at the scene. PA Alison FOX completed photographic coverage of the scene utilizing a Nikon digital camera. A total of 113 digital photographs were captured, all of which were burned to a DVD-R and are appended as Enclosure (B). A disc was also placed into the Norfolk Consolidated Evidence Facility. FC Morgan CURRIE conducted FARO scans of the area which will be documented under separate cover and also placed into the Norfolk Consolidated Evidence Facility. A traditional hand drawn sketch was not completed due to the administering of the FARO device.

On 29 July 2025, CAPT Derek Butler, JAGC, USN, CDR Lauren Mayo, JAGC, USN, and LT Christopher Dempsey, JAGC, USN, interviewed Dr. Lameira, in the presence of LN1 Kathleen Vanetti, USN, Mr. Rob Robinson, Norfolk ME, and Dr. Wendy Gunther, Assistant Chief Medical Examiner. The following is a summary of the interaction and is not intended to be verbatim:

Dr. Lameira reported that due to the level of decomposition of, and post-mortem insect activity on, the body of V/A.R., no definitive cause of death could be discerned. Dr. Lameira was able to rule out stomping, stabbing, shooting, and a drug overdose as possible causes of death. She specified that the toxicology test only tested for specific drugs, but the lab was likely able to have additional testing done for specific prescriptions being taken by V/A.R upon request. Additionally, the toxicology report showed a BAC of .083 at the time of death.

Dr. Lameira noted that there was not enough remaining soft tissue on the body to indicate or rule out asphyxia as a cause of death. The only noted broken bones were ribs #2-5, which would not be consistent with attempts at CPR. There was not enough tissue left in the neck area to indicate whether there was any blood pooling in that area. The fallopian tubes and uterus were unremarkable with no indications of a pregnancy. There were no indications of any chronic conditions that would lead to a natural death and Dr. Lameira opined it would be unlikely for someone V/A.R.'s age to suffer a natural death.

It was explained that the alcohol ethenyl level, generally considered the BAC, could have been elevated by insect activity that creates yeast. No results had come back on the buccal and anal swabs that were conducted during the autopsy, and vaginal swabs were not conducted due to the lack of soft tissue resulting from decomposition and insect activity. Dr. Lameira explained that insect activity and decomposition generally begin in body openings (eyes, ears, mouth, nose, etc.) and areas where skin is pressed together (buttocks, below breasts, arms crossed, etc.). She opined that the folded position of the body in the duffel bag created the skin-to-skin pressure points on the chest that became areas of accelerated decomposition, in comparison to the other areas of the torso.

When asked, Dr. Lameira stated that there was not enough soft tissue on the body to determine whether there were any injuries to the body that would have been bleeding before death. Dr. Lameira explained that up to a liter of "purge" can be expelled post-mortem through the nose and mouth and appears red in color. "Purge" was explained as the fluid in the lungs and surrounding tissue that leaks out of the nose and mouth post-mortem, and can become further dislodged from the body if the body is moved.

When asked, Dr. Lameira stated that rigor mortis sets in within about 12 hours after death and opined that the body was likely placed into the duffel bag prior to the onset of rigor mortis. Dr. Lameira concured with Dr. Gunter that it was not unusual for people to mistake dead bodies for living people.

S/COPELAND, JERMIAH TAYLOR/SN USN
PII [redacted]

RESULTS OF INITIAL INTERVIEW OF CSSN JERMIAH COPELAND, USN

1. On 01Jun25, Reporting Agent (RA) and Participating Agent (PA) Jessica GOKEY interviewed CSSN Jermiah COPELAND (S/COPELAND), USN, USS JAMES E WILLIAMS (DDG 95) regarding his knowledge of the whereabouts of A.R. [redacted] The interview took place in the lounge area on third floor of building X2, Willis Manor, located on Naval Station Norfolk (NOB), and was not recorded.

2. As background, A.R. [redacted] and S/COPELAND were placed into a Unauthorized Absence (UA) status subsequent to 29May25, after failing to report to work. On 01Jun25, after speaking with S/COPELAND's mother, NCIS and S/COPELAND's mother contacted Naval Station Norfolk (NOB) Base Police to conduct a follow-up health and welfare check on both S/COPELAND and A.R. [redacted] The Naval Station Norfolk Watch Commander advised NOB Security Forces located S/COPELAND in his barracks rooms in Willis Manor, Room 335. NCIS was advised that Security Forces received no answer at A.R. [redacted]'s door when they knocked on her barracks room located on NOB, Miller Hall, Room 1083.

3. During his interview, S/COPELAND described his relationship with A.R. [redacted] as co-workers. S/COPELAND stated he texted with A.R. [redacted] on Wednesday, 28May25 to discuss recipes and ingredients for tacos. S/COPELAND stated A.R. [redacted] came over to his barracks room, made tacos and they both consumed alcohol. S/COPELAND explained A.R. [redacted] gradually became more upset as the night progressed and they spoke about her current and past romantic relationships. S/COPELAND stated A.R. [redacted] spoke on the phone to two (2) ex-boyfriends, both of which were confrontational calls. One call was with an ex-boyfriend he still believed was located in Texas (NFI) and the other call was with HT3 Michael GILLESPIE, USN, DDG 95.

4. S/COPELAND explained V/A.R. [redacted] and HT3 GILLESPIE argued over returning a motorcycle helmet and that HT3 GILLESPIE wanted it back. S/COPELAND said A.R. [redacted] explained her relationship with HT3 GILLESPIE was toxic and described her most recent ex-boyfriend, ET3 Daniel RICH, USN, DDG 95, as at first being a sweetheart and then he wasn't. S/COPELAND said ET3 RICH and HT3 GILLESPIE do not get along, that they have issues with each other, and opined it was due to their relationships with A.R. [redacted]. S/COPELAND said HT3 GILLESPIE has come to the galley on the ship a lot, which sometimes caused issues. S/COPELAND said he did not know of any instances of HT3 GILLESPIE being violent toward A.R. [redacted] and that HT3 GILLESPIE was more of a topic of conversation than ET3 RICH was during their evening together.

S/COPELAND described his role during the evening as a sounding board for A.R. [redacted]

5. S/COPELAND recalled one of his roommates walked into the barracks suite (common area) and asked if A.R. [redacted] was okay as she was upset, which he (S/COPELAND) responded yes.

6. S/COPELAND explained A.R. [redacted] spent the night in his barracks room and they did not have sexual intercourse. S/COPELAND said he was supposed to work on Thursday 29May25, however, he woke up late as FCC Brad PARKER, USN, DDG 95, came to his barracks room at approximately 0900 and woke he and A.R. [redacted]. S/COPELAND said he misunderstood FCC PARKER and did not report to work. S/COPELAND said he borrow his roommate's vehicle and drove A.R. [redacted] back to her barracks at approximately 1000 hours. S/COPELAND said this was the last time he saw A.R. [redacted].

S/COPELAND, JERMIAH TAYLOR/SN USN
PII [redacted]

RESULTS OF INTERVIEW OF CSSN JERMIAH COPELAND, USN

1. On 03JUN25, Reporting Agent (RA) and Participating Agent (PA) Bernadette DUFFY conducted an interview of CSSN Jermiah COPELAND (S/COPELAND), USN, USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS (DDG-95) in regard to the Unauthorized Absence of A.R. [redacted] and himself.

2. This interview was audio and video recorded utilizing Case Cracker. A copy of the recording was subsequently saved to an optical disc and maintained with the case file. This report should not be treated as a verbatim or comprehensive representation of the interview; Enclosure (A) pertains.

3. Prior to being interviewed, S/COPELAND was advised of his Article 31(b) Rights by use of Military Suspect's Acknowledgement and Waiver of Rights form for an alleged violation of Article 86 (Absence without Leave) and Article 107 (False Official Statements). S/COPELAND, with full understanding of his rights, elected to waive his right to remain silent; Enclosure (B) pertains.

4. S/COPELAND was asked to recall the events on the night of 28JUN25 and what transpired the following days. S/COPELAND stated he and A.R. [redacted] were talking about food and making tacos. S/COPELAND continued saying, A.R. [redacted] was going to come over to his barracks, located at Building X-2, Willis Manor, Room 335, to make salsa and eat dinner. S/COPELAND explained he went to the Food Lion and bought the ingredients to make tacos and then he went back to X-2. S/COPELAND stated he then went and picked A.R. [redacted] up from her barracks, Miller Hall, and brought her back to his room. COPELAND explained later he utilized his roommates vehicle, later identified as a belonging to AR John CALISSE, USN, VAW-124 and being a white Jeep Compass, to pick up A.R. [redacted]. S/COPELAND stated A.R. [redacted] was wearing a black shirt, black pants, slip on Uggs, a bracelet, and a hair clip. S/COPELAND stated A.R. [redacted] was also carrying her purple backpack. S/COPELAND stated he could not recall what time he picked A.R. [redacted] up but after returning to the room they began to make tacos.

5. S/COPELAND stated after eating, him and A.R. [redacted] started listening to music and started talking. S/COPELAND explained A.R. [redacted] began talking about HT3 Michael GILLESPIE, USN, DDG-95, and how she saw him with another girl on his motorcycle and how it had really upset A.R. [redacted] S/COPELAND stated A.R. [redacted] then text HT3 GILLESPIE "Fuck you" and then called an ex-boyfriend (NFI) from Texas. S/COPELAND explained he was sitting on the couch, and she was sitting on floor talking to the ex-boyfriend. S/COPELAND continued explaining how when A.R. ended the phone call with the ex-boyfriend, she started to call other people (NFI) and talk about how "GILLESPIE's not shit."

6. S/COPELAND explained he did not know much about the relationship between HT3 GILLESPIE and A.R. but S/COPELAND did recall A.R. was mad about the amount of money she would spend on HT3 GILLESPIE. S/COPELAND provided the example of HT3 GILLESPIE needed a lawyer and A.R. gave him $500.00 to hire one even though HT3 GILLESPIE could have received a public defender. S/COPELAND did not believe HT3 GILLESPIE and A.R. were in any physical altercations or abusive relationship. S/COPELAND stated A.R. went on a "rampage" and was becoming "agitated." S/COPELAND stated after completing the phone calls A.R. was becoming "emotional" and "crying."

7. S/COPELAND stated one of the roommates, "the Mexican" later identified as PSSN Irbin GORDILLOCRUZ, USN, Airborne Command and Control Squadron 124 (VAW-124), walked into the common area of the room and asked if A.R. was okay. S/COPELAND stated he told PSSN GORDILLOCRUZ, A.R. was fine and PSSN GORDILLOCRUZ proceeded to his room. S/COPELAND stated the night ended and they both went to sleep together in S/COPELAND's bed. S/COPELAND stated they did not have sexual intercourse. After going to sleep, S/COPELAND was awoken by FCC Brad PARKER, USN, DDG-95, knocking on the door of his bedroom. S/COPELAND said he could not remember what time it was but knew the sun was up. S/COPELAND stated FCC PARKER asked if the person in his bed was A.R. which S/COPELAND replied it was A.R. S/COPELAND explained FCC PARKER told him to get to work and asked if he had a ride, which S/COPELAND stated he told FCC PARKER one of his roommates could give him a ride to work. S/COPELAND admitted though he did not go to work due to "one of his roommates" not coming home. S/COPELAND further explained, him being UA was a big misunderstanding because he had the weekend off and he did not realize if you are marked UA for one day, you are marked UA for the days you remain away from work.

8. S/COPELAND stated he was marked UA Thursday, 29JUN25 until Sunday, 01MAY25 when base security located him within his barracks room. When asked his whereabouts for Friday and Saturday, S/COPELAND responded, he stayed in the barracks both days but would move from lounge to lounge. S/COPELAND stated he mostly hung out in the 5th floor lounge and Ms. Mary (NFI) could vouch for his whereabouts during the time frame.

9. RA asked S/COPELAND about the morning of 29JUN25 and what had transpired after FCC PARKER left the room. S/COPELAND recalled him and A.R. woke up and cleaned the kitchen and A.R. left in an Uber, later clarified to be a Z-Trip.

10. RA asked S/COPELAND if he would sign a Permissive Authorization for Search and Seizure (PASS) for his cellphone, S/COPELAND agreed to signing a PASS and provided his passcode, [redacted] Prior to signing the PASS, S/COPELAND requested to call his mother, and would not sign the PASS; Enclosure (C) pertains. PA asked S/COPELAND if he would be fine with answering further questions and call his mother later, S/COPELAND agreed.

11. RA had previously informed S/COPELAND NCIS was conducting a Command Authorized Search and Seizure (CASS) in his barracks room and the common area and began to ask questions about S/COPELAND's barracks room and his electronics. S/COPELAND stated he had an iPhone15 in his room and a PlayStation 5 in the common room.

12. RA inquired about [redacted]'s electronics to include her iPhone. S/COPELAND stated the only electronic [redacted] had with her was her iPhone15. S/COPELAND confirmed the Apple iWatch was also his, which was located in his barracks room.

13. RA asked S/COPELAND if the statement he gave was true and accurate to the best of his knowledge, which S/COPELAND stated this statement was the correct statement. RA then confronted S/COPELAND on the discretions between his previous statement, given on 01JUN25 and the statement he gave during this interview.

14. RA asked S/COPELAND about him and [redacted] being naked on the floor by the couch, S/COPELAND denied being on the floor naked with [redacted] S/COPELAND stated he and [redacted] fell asleep in his bed, clothed.

15. RA asked S/COPELAND about him changing his story about dropping [redacted] off at her barracks, to [redacted] leaving on her own after cleaning, to which S/COPELAND stated he did not remember saying he had previously dropped [redacted] off at her barracks. RA asked S/COPELAND about how he knew [redacted] was taking a Z-Trip from his barracks versus walking from his barracks, and S/COPELAND stated he just assumed [redacted] had taken a Z-Trip back to her barracks.

16. RA inquired about S/COPELAND telling FCC PARKER he would wait for his roommate to get home to take S/COPELAND to work. RA asked about S/COPELAND's roommate's work schedule and why he would tell FCC PARKER the roommate would take him to work knowing his roommate does not get home until approximately 1600-1700. S/COPELAND stated he would not ask anyone else to take him to work. S/COPELAND stated he did not know when his roommate would be home due to a squadron's working hours being different from the ships work schedule.

17. PA conducted another PASS for a backpack, barracks room, and

S/COPELAND, JERMIAH TAYLOR/SN USN
PII [redacted]

1. On 06Jun25, Reporting Investigator (RA) Tyler Mann and Participating Agent (PA) David JARRELL, conducted a second interview of S/COPELAND. As background, S/COPELAND was identified as a person of interest in the disappearance and possible death of A.R. [redacted] as he was the last person known to have seen her prior to her disappearance.

2. On 06Jun25 at 0850, subsequent to the execution of a Military Rights Waiver, appended as Enclosure (A), CCSN Jermiah Taylor COPELAND (S/COPELAND), USN, DDG 95, was interviewed regarding his knowledge of the possible death of A.R. [redacted], and previously providing false statements regarding the captioned investigation. Upon waiving his Military Rights, the interview commenced. Additionally, during the interview S/COPELAND provided a handwritten timeline of events from 28May25 through 02Jun25, detailing his whereabouts for that time frame, along with his interactions with A.R. [redacted]. Enclosure (B) pertains.

3. On 28May25, S/COPELAND invited A.R. [redacted] to his barracks room to cook dinner. Most of the evening she was communicating on her phone back and forth with a person referred to as Gil (possibly referring to Gillespie), a former boyfriend, whom had given her a bike helmet that he was now asking to be returned. This started an argument between A.R. [redacted] and Gil which made her appear upset according to S/COPELAND. S/COPELAND asked her what the matter was, she provided the story about how Gil was trying to get the helmet back for another girl possibly, and she did not want to give it back. This led to A.R. [redacted] calling another ex-boyfriend, who resides in Texas, to vent to him. A.R. [redacted] made additional phone calls to other friends and family to talk. S/COPELAND was unaware of who all she spoke to that evening. After listening to her story, hanging out and listening to music; S/COPELAND stated he was tired and told A.R. [redacted] he was going to sleep; no exact time was provided for this series of events. He proceeded to go to bed and then awoke the next morning to his Chief, FCC Brad PARKER (FCC PARKER), USN, DDG 95, knocking on his door and A.R. [redacted] in his bed with him. S/COPELAND had on shorts and noted A.R. [redacted] was wearing her pants, but had removed her top to sleep, he further stated they did not engage in any form of sexual activity. Upon opening the door, S/COPELAND was informed he was UA (Unauthorized Absence) and needed to report to work as soon as possible. FCC PARKER then departed and S/COPELAND started cleaning up his room and getting ready to go to work while waiting on his roommate to return to give him a ride. At some point, S/COPELAND noticed A.R. [redacted] woke up and he informed her FCC PARKER had stopped by and he needed to go to work. She began helping him clean up the room and upon finishing, exited the barracks on her own sometime that morning, while S/COPELAND sat on the couch watching TV and eventually fell asleep.

4. As background, during S/COPELAND's initial interview he previously stated he borrowed his roommate's vehicle to drive A.R. [redacted] to her barracks. When questioned regarding his previous statement of borrowing his roommate's vehicle to drive A.R. [redacted] he said he was mistaken before and he could not have done so as his other roommate who owned the Jeep was not home, nor was his vehicle. At this time, S/COPELAND uttered a statement in which he said, "I needed to get my story straight." S/COPELAND related he woke up at around dinner time on 29May25 and realized his roommate was not home and could not take him to work. S/COPELAND stated dinner time on the ship was between approximately 15:00 and 17:30, which he was using as his time of reference. He then called FCC PARKER and told him he would not be at work because he did not have a ride or vehicle available. In addition to FCC PARKER coming to the barracks room the next morning, S/COPELAND stated his roommate, YN3 Sean MONAGHAN (YN3 MONAGHAN), USN, Helicopter Marine Squadron 12 (HM-12), was present during the night when he and A.R. [redacted] were sleeping.

5. S/COPELAND then stated he spent the remainder of the weekend in the barracks going between his room and one of the various lounges in the building. He did not like to remain in his room due to his roommate being unclean and emanating an unpleasant odor. S/COPELAND related the Barracks Manager, Ms. Mary (NFI) saw him in the lounge at various times over the course of the weekend, along with another white male (NFI), who was instructed along with S/COPELAND to stay in the lounge by a crew in the building cleaning or polishing the floors. The white male, who S/COPELAND could not further identify, attempted to leave and return to his room multiple times, but was met by the crew and told to return until they advised he could walk down the hallway. This led to a conversation between S/COPELAND and the unidentified male that ended with S/COPELAND being offered and declining a bag of chips from the man before he left. Ms. Mary interacted with S/COPELAND both in the lounge and while he was using one of the public restrooms, she knocked on the door and he stated he was currently in the facilities using the toilet. These interactions may have happened between Friday and Saturday according to S/COPELAND.

6. In addition to interacting with the above captioned individuals, S/COPELAND stated he did in fact turn off his location services on his cellphone to his friends as one of them had apparently been spying on him via the Apple location services and he did not want to be bothered or hang out with anyone. S/COPELAND did confirm he used the phone application Life 360 and has his location constantly shared, for approximately the past year, with a female (NFI) from back home, who would often check the app to see where S/COPELAND was currently located. S/COPELAND denied leaving the barracks until Sunday. 01Jun25 in the morning when he reported to the shop Command Duty Officer after being informed by the base Military Police that he was UA. Upon a Master at Arms (MA) knocking on S/COPELAND's door that morning, he reported to the barge where he was order to undergo a urinalysis and was informed that he had officially been marked UA since the past Thursday morning, 28May25. After concluding all required tasks at the barge, S/COPELAND returned to his barracks until the next morning, 02JUN25, when he was ordered to report to work.

7. During the interview, S/COPELAND was questioned as to whether or not he knew V/A.R. [redacted] current location and if he had any part in causing her disappearance or possible death to which he replied in the negative. When further questioned about what S/COPELAND would like the outcome of the investigation to be he made a statement hoping she was found. S/COPELAND expressed concerns with his own mental health at the time of the interview. Prior to the conclusion of the interview, S/COPELAND signed a Permissive Authorization for Search and Seizure (PASS) for his deoxyribonucleic acid (DNA). Upon signing the PASS, the document was given to SA Lisa CARROLL, NCIS, and DNA samples were obtained from S/COPELAND by SA CARROLL which will be documented in a separate investigative action. Prior to ending the interview S/COPELAND was asked about access to vehicles regarding which, if any vehicles, he had access to use over the past week. S/COPELAND related he did not have access to a vehicle, other than on occasion his roommates Jeep when they were both home from work at the same time. S/COPELAND did not specify the roommate who owns the Jeep other than previously stating they reside in the same room.

8. At 1148 on 06Jun25, S/COPELAND was released to FCC PARKER. An audio recording of this interview was captured and the original SD card containing the interview along with a copy of the audio on a CD/DVD were provided to the case agent for safekeeping with the file.

I was provided instruction on investigations, federal law, and other various practice issues for investigators. I am a member of the Military Criminal Investigative Organization Internet Crimes Against Children Task Force. I have attended the National Criminal Justice Training Center's Internet Crimes Against Children certification course and additional training through ICAC for an approximate total of 90 hours. I spent eight (8) years as an active duty member of the United States Navy, where I was a Master-at-Arms (MA). As a MA, I was a first responder to base incidents, misdemeanor crimes, and traffic accidents. During my tenure as a MA, I was employed with the Criminal Investigation Division (CID) where I worked various cases to include Domestic Violence cases, simple assaults, and other misdemeanor crimes. I have a Bachelor of Science in Criminal Justice from Fort Hays State University, Hays, KS.

2. The following facts and information are known to your Affiant based upon information gained from the conduct of this investigation, witness observations, training and experience, and/or through information relayed through other law enforcement officers.

FACTS AND CIRCUMSTANCES

3. I, Special Agent Jessica Gokey, was assigned as the lead case agent in the search for the then missing and now deceased Sailor A.R. [redacted].

4. On 1 June 2025, I interviewed CSSN Jermiah COPELAND about his knowledge of A.R. [redacted] location and what transpired the previous days during which A.R. [redacted] and COPELAND were UA.

5. From 1 June 2025 to 10 June 2025, as a direct result of COPELAND's continuance to Obstruct Justice and make False Official Statements, approximately 70 Special Agents, Investigators, Criminal Analysts, Digital Forensics Examiners, Evidence Custodians, and 1 Electronic Storage Detection K9 from NCIS were deployed to Naval Station Norfolk to coordinate and attempt to locate A.R. [redacted].

6. As a result of an All Hands on Deck priority investigation, most if not all other investigations new or old were put on pause to search for A.R. [redacted].

7. From 1 June 2025 to 10 June 2025, 3,250 regular manpower hours were spent between those personnel previously mentioned, 176 hours of overtime was incurred, and 1,501 hours of Law Enforcement Availability Pay was incurred, for a total of 4,926 hours of manpower exhausted over a 10 day period.

8. NCIS' Office of Special Projects diverted their airplane, which halted the airplanes mission use in counterintelligence and espionage, to Naval Station Norfolk for its use in transporting time sensitive evidence collected to the U.S. Army Criminal Investigation Laboratory (USACIL) in Forest Park, GA. Incurring an additional cost to NCIS of $7,468.14.

9. Your Affiant coordinated with Air Traffic Control Naval Station Norfolk to shut down all air operations for 12 hours in order to conduct coordinated searches with the use of Drone Operators directly resulting in disruption to the mission of Naval Station Norfolk.

10. NCIS coordinated with Naval Station Norfolk Security Department both landside and waterside to conduct searches of their AOR's thus pulling them from their mission sets.

11. NCIS coordinated with Naval Support Activity Hampton Roads Security Department to conduct both a landside search and waterside search of the entire property of Naval Medical Center Portsmouth, thus pulling them from their mission sets.

12. NCIS coordinated with the Virginia Department of Emergency Management to conduct two land and air searches.

13. One area being in Suffolk, VA, 8 NCIS Special Agents, 11 volunteers from the Suffolk Fire Department and 12 volunteers from the Suffolk Police Department searched a forested area around College Dr. The search utilized Drone operators, various K9's, all-terrain vehicles (ATV's), and search teams on foot.

14. One search being onboard Naval Station Norfolk where 4 NCIS Special Agents, and 4 volunteers from the Virginia Department of Emergency Management Search and Rescue team along with 1 Search and Rescue K9 Kyra.

15. NCIS used 3 additional K9's and their handler's working during this timeframe. Master Patrol Officer Evan Williams and K9 Sherlock from Hampton Police Department, Deputy Sean Lacey and K9 Pixel from Isle of Wight Sheriff's Office and Andrew Piske and K9 Kyra from Gard K9 Search and Rescue.

16. Upon finding A.R. [redacted] body inside a black suitcase in the neighborhood or Cary Ave, Norfolk, VA, the Norfolk Police Department sent out numerous Police Officers to contain the scene and 5 Homicide Detectives to work alongside NCIS Agents to canvass the neighborhood looking for any footage or witnesses.

17. During the search in the wooded area of Cary Ave, 1 NCIS Special Agent was injured and required an ambulance to be called to the scene to tend to their injuries.

I certify (or declare) under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct.

Executed on this 4th day of June 2026 at Naval Station Norfolk, Norfolk, Virginia.

Dear Honorable Judge,

I am writing to speak on the character of my nephew, Jeremiah, and to share the qualities that define who he truly is as a person. Jeremiah has always been a natural leader within our family. From a young age, he carried himself with strength, responsibility, and a deep sense of purpose. He wasn't just someone people followed—he was someone people believed in. His presence brought guidance and stability, especially to those who needed it most.

What stands out most about Jeremiah is his loyalty and love. He has consistently demonstrated a commitment to those around him, whether it be family, friends, or teammates. He was looked up to on his football team and in JROTC, where he followed a legacy of discipline, honor, and excellence. He took pride in being part of something greater than himself and worked hard to represent those values.

Jeremiah also had a remarkable ability to uplift others. Even at a young age, he mentored many of his peers, encouraging them to do better, to strive for greatness, and to believe in themselves. He spoke life into people when they needed it most, offering wisdom beyond his years.

In addition, Jeremiah used his time to give back to the community, especially to elders. He showed patience, kindness, and respect by helping older members of the community whenever he could. Whether it was offering his time, assistance, or simply companionship, he treated elders with dignity and genuine care, reflecting the values he was raised with.

If there is one thing I know and will always remember about Jeremiah, it is this: he protected the women in his family with love, respect, and grace. He carried himself with a deep sense of care and responsibility. I will never forget how he would say to me, "Auntie, you mean so much to me. You're a strong woman—keep your head up." Those words reflect the kind of heart he has—one filled with compassion, encouragement, and genuine love.

Jeremiah's heart is truly pure gold. While no one is without flaws, the core of who he is remains rooted in kindness, leadership, and a desire to do right by others. He has made a lasting impact on those around him, and I firmly believe in his ability to continue growing and making positive contributions.

Thank you for taking the time to consider my words about Jeremiah's character.

Respectfully,

[redacted]

Angelica Martin

To Whom It May Concern,

My name is Rokelia Brown, the eldest of Jermiah's immediate aunts, and I am writing this character witness statement on behalf of my nephew, Jermiah Copeland, who is currently serving in the United States military and is appearing before the Court for sentencing today.

I have known Jermiah Copeland for his entire life, and I can honestly say he is a respectful, caring, and hardworking young man, a family-oriented young man, I know. At only 21 years old, he has already demonstrated discipline and commitment by serving his country right after graduating from Oak Harbor High School, where so many of our family members have gone. At such a young age and never being away from home, joining the military required sacrifice, responsibility, and maturity, and I have seen him work hard to become a better person through that experience.

While I understand the seriousness of the situation before the Court, I also believe this incident does not define who Jermiah truly is. I have witnessed my nephew stand strong, believing that his faith in God will see him through.

Throughout his life, Jermiah has been supportive of his family and respectful toward others. He has always shown kindness, a willingness to help, and the ability to learn from difficult situations. I truly believe he has a positive future ahead of him and that he will continue growing into a responsible and productive member of society.

I respectfully ask the Court to consider his age, military service, character, and potential for rehabilitation during sentencing. I believe he deserves the opportunity to continue moving forward and making positive contributions to his community and his country.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Rokelia C. Brown

Your Honor,

I want to tell you about Our Jear Bear!

I'm Auntie Roxanne. I'm Auntie Rose to Jermiah. Another mommy figure. From an infant, he has been in my care when his mom returned back working. Jermiah has always had a strong leader personality. And that specific character trait kept him in trouble with me because I used to tell him you are barely walking you are not in charge. Lol Even as he grew up, he was still getting in trouble with me about staying in his lane and got plenty of butt whooping. It was all love. As he got older I used to tell my sister that he needs to go into politics or be a judge because he liked running the show. From the playground, to sports, to school he found him a crew to lead. We, as a family always reminded him that he is a leader and that he needs to make sure he is leading right instead of wrong because first if you don't you gonna be fresh out of a crew and most of all your "crew" is always looking up to u as the head.

So as of today I question God. Not sure if that is a good or bad thing but I tell him that our village created a holy foundation, which is as firm as you can possibly get, we sowed love and discipline and morals and more discipline. We prayed and prayed over our children had real talks and lead our lives as true examples of strong stand up individuals. Was it all in vein? Would you forsake us like this? I got a word, God say that my Nephew Jermiah Copeland will live and not die and he will declare the mighty works of God. We will live to see the face of our true and living God at the end of all this devastation. So as this new journey begins God says he got us and nephew better believe we got him. We will walk this journey with him day by day, while having faith that God is gonna get the glory out of Jermiah. He is truly in God's hands now. I love you Jerry

Thank you,

Roxanne Brown

Your Honor,

I hope you're having a blessed day. My name is Lelia Brown, and I am Jermiah's aunt. I am his mother's sister, and I have known him his entire life.

We have a large family and are very close. Many of the women in our family raised children as single mothers, so we depended on one another. We often say that our children were raised by a village because we worked together to support, guide, and care for each other's children. Jermiah was one of them.

Within our family, we sometimes called Jermiah our "armorbearer." He was the young man everyone could rely on. Whether someone needed help with a project, a task around the house, or something else that needed to be done, he was usually the first young man in our family to volunteer. He has always had a service mentality and a desire to help others. That is one reason why he joined the military. Our entire family was so proud of him when he did.

Like many children, Jermiah had times when he got into trouble or needed correction. When that happened, our family tried to come together to steer him in the right direction, whether through conversations with the children as a group or by speaking to him individually.

Knowing the person I have known his entire life, it is heartbreaking and difficult to understand how he is now in this position. I do not excuse or condone his actions. I also recognize that another family has suffered an unimaginable loss, and I have deep empathy for the victim's family.

Our family is also facing the reality that we will not have Jermiah with us and will not be able to see him in the way we once did. He has always been a pillar in our family, and we have been proud of his accomplishments.

No matter how much time passes, I will continue to love and support him. I will do everything I can to help him address the issues he needs to address and set his life on a better path. Our family will remain committed to helping him become the best person he can be now and forever.

Sincerely,

[redacted]

Lelia Brown

From: Vincent J. Quidachay To: Honorable Judge

Subj: CHARACTER STATEMENT ICO UNITED STATES V. CSSN JERMIAH COPELAND, USN

1. My name is Vincent Jesse Quidachay. I am a retired Navy Commander, and I live in Oak Harbor, Washington. I am currently the Area Manager for Navy JROTC responsible for the area including Utah, Oregon, Washington, Alaska, Japan, Hawaii and Guam. I travel the region and ensure high school Navy JROTC programs are administering the program in accordance with our policies and directives. I knew Jermiah Copeland as his Freshman football coach, and then as his Navy JROTC Instructor. I have known him and his family for about six years. His mom works at the high school I taught at, and I was his little sister's volleyball coach.

2. I coached Jermiah in football, which was my first time coaching football. I coached club volleyball for 20 years, but this was a challenge. But because Jermiah and his teammates listened to me and respected me, we did well. We were actually undefeated. During football season, Jermiah decided to join my Navy JROTC program at Oak Harbor High School. Jermiah was very serious about sports, specifically football and basketball, and he always listened to my coaching and my advice. He played with passion, and I could tell that part of his drive was because he did not want to let me or his teammates down. I never saw a father in his life, so I talked with Jermiah about basketball and football all the time. On one specific instance during basketball season, Jermiah asked me about defense. I explained to him how to steal a ball from a player by understanding a player's rhythm and tendencies. I told him that if you study a player, you can steal it from them. The very next day he came into our classroom excited and told the whole class that because of my advice, he scored over 20 points! As a coach, you know that players do not always listen to you, but I think Jermiah was different. He loved listening and learning how to be better.

3. Jermiah is a natural leader. He loves hard work, and he enjoys making people happy. It is not always easy to be in a Navy JROTC program in high school as an athlete, but somehow he made it cool. It was probably that permanent smile he had on his face. He was always positive when I knew him.

4. I hope he seeks me out when he eventually gets discharged from the Navy. Perhaps I can mentor him.

5. I understand the misconduct at issue, and I cannot speak to that. I can tell you that he did not have a strong role model in his life growing up, but hopefully the Navy has helped him mature and grow into a responsible citizen.

9. I was retained by LCDR Amanda Serfess of Defense Service Office Southeast to provide a pre-sentence report on behalf of CSSN Jermiah Copeland, herein referred to as CSSN Copeland. In preparation for the report, I reviewed CSSN's discovery materials provided to me by his attorneys, inclusive of: interview transcripts, medical records from Naval Consolidated Brig, text messages, emails, arrest records, military investigations, and Oak Harbor School Records.

10. I met with CSSN Copeland in person at the Naval Consolidated Brig in Chesapeake, Virgina twice to conduct diagnostic interviews; on March 23, 2026 and on March 25, 2026. Each meeting was two hours. I was able to speak with CSSN Copeland on a legal line for thirty minutes on May 20, 2026 and for one hour on May 26, 2026. I also spoke with his mother, Rochell Brown for an hour on April 20, 2026 and his friend Desi Ramirez-Vasquez on April 27, 2026 for about half an hour. I further spoke with his JROTC Commander, Vincent Quidachay for half an hour on May 19, 2026 and his JROTC Chief, William Thiel for half an hour on May 21 2026.

11. The following portion of this affidavit includes CSSN Copeland's personal account of his life. Only information relevant to CSSN Copeland's clinical presentation is included.

Background and Relevant History

12. CSSN Copeland was born on March 23, 2005 in Durham, North Carolina to Rochell Brown and James Copeland. He is the middle child of three boys born to this union. He also has three younger sisters.

13. CSSN Copeland's mother moved the boys to Washington state, where she was from, after Mr. Copeland stopped helping support the young family. CSSN Copeland was about four years old.

14. CSSN Copeland had minimal contact with his father when he was a young boy and only speaks with him on occasion now.

15. CSSN Copeland described a close-knit family. His mother returned to her home state because she had family and friends who could help her raise her children. CSSN Copeland recalls time spent with "aunties" and cousins and always having a good time.

16. Ms. Brown described CSSN Copeland as the center of attention and the "life of the party." He was more energetic than his brothers and was more outgoing.

17. Ms. Brown further described CSSN Copeland as the son who had the closest relationship with his father and felt he found it most difficult to move to Washington. Though it was a difficult decision, she decided that North Carolina was too segregated and felt a more integrated environment would be better for her children.

18. Ms. Brown further reported that the move to Washington may have been perceived as a rejection by his father. She felt that CSSN Copeland has unresolved hurt from this perceived rejection. She feels this was amplified by the inconsistent connection via phone calls and Mr. Copeland only came to Washington once when CSSN Copeland was about five years old.

19. When the family first moved to Washington they lived in transitional housing.[1] Ms. Brown looked for work in order to find more stable housing.

20. CSSN Copeland reported that he was sexually abused as a young child, but did not recall details.

21. Ms. Brown corroborated this fact. She explained that CSSN Copeland was in day care while they were living in transitional housing. She reports noticing a change in his behavior appearing angry, crying, and sometimes distraught. As this was not the norm, Ms. Brown asked about his mood. Eventually, CSSN Copeland disclosed having been sexually abused in a club house at school by another child. He was brought to the hospital and evaluated. The other child also lived in transitional housing and ultimately was asked to move out. Ms. Brown removed her children from the program.

22. CSSN Copeland further reported having been sexually abused by his older cousin, starting when he was eight or nine until he went into middle school. He told no one.

23. His cousin was reported to have been caught abusing his own younger brother and moved to live with his grandmother.

24. CSSN Copeland reported being a "decent" student and progressing through school without being placed in any special education classes.

[1] Transitional housing is a structured, temporary living arrangement designed to bridge the gap between homelessness and permanent housing. Typically lasting from 6 to 24 months, it provides individuals and families with a stable roof over their heads and crucial supportive services to help them regain independence.

25. CSSN Copeland described himself as a "bad kid" who would get in trouble for stealing knickknacks from his teacher's desk. His mother corroborated this fact and reported that she would often get called by the school due to his behavior.

26. CSSN Copeland's school records show that he was impulsive by being disruptive in class and at times disrespectful. This behavior went undiagnosed and unattended.

27. Both Ms. Brown and CSSN Copeland report that he was not referred for counseling at any time in his childhood.

28. CSSN Copeland described corporal punishment at home. He explained the punishments were different depending on the behavior. He recalled he would be hit with objects like belts, extension cords, and paddles.

29. CSSN Copeland did not want to disparage his mother and took responsibility for her actions toward him. Moreover, he normalized it by stating that he did not see the punishment as abuse.

30. CSSN Copeland relayed having had a positive male role model in his Uncle Chappy. He was a family friend who looked out for all the children and mentored them. CSSN Copeland recalled his being a presence in his life and he would talk to them and provide guidance.

31. CSSN Copeland played several sports and excelled in football, basketball, and track. In football, his favorite sport, he was a versatile player who could play several positions. He was also a versatile track runner competing in short distances, high jump, and long jump.

32. Commander Quidachay was CSSN Copeland's freshman football coach and described CSSN Copeland as his favorite player. He saw a drive and commitment in CSSN Copeland and admired him for his consistency and determination.

33. That admiration was mutual as CSSN Copeland looked up to and respected Commander Quidachay seeing him as a "father figure."

34. The Wildcats freshman football team went undefeated the season of 2019.

35. Due to his admiration, CSSN Copeland decided to join the Junior Reserve Officers' Training Corp (JROTC), which Commander Quidachay was leading at Oak Harbor High School.

36. Commander Quidachay found that most athletes did not do well in JROTC, CSSN Copeland excelled. He enjoyed wearing the uniform, was attentive, and always respectful.

37. CSSN Copeland recalled taking pride in wearing the uniform which they referred to as "peanut butters" as they would wear a khaki shirt and dark pants. He further reported joining the drill team and enjoyed the competitions.

38. CSSN Copeland's commitment in JROTC was further corroborated by Chief William Thiel. He reported that CSSN Copeland did extremely well in the program. He, however, reported that he noticed CSSN Copeland begin to withdraw in his last year with JROTC and tried to talk to him but he refused.

39. Commander Quidachay felt he and CSSN Copeland had a unique bond and was honored to be seen as a father figure. They shared stories and CSSN Copeland showed curiosity about Commander Quidachay's younger years. Commander Quidachay shared coaching strategies with CSSN Copeland in basketball as well. CSSN Copeland was happy to share his successes due to this feedback.

40. Commander Quidachay was happy to provide a letter of support when CSSN Copeland decided to enlist in the Navy.

41. CSSN Copeland's transferred to Coupeville High School his senior year and completed his senior year coursework online.

42. CSSN Copeland only went to school to play sports. He was able to play basketball and run track. Due to his talent, he could not play football because he was told he would be seen as only transferring to give the Coupeville High School football team an advantage, in essence a "ringer."

43. Though he was upset that he could not play varsity football, he found joy in watching his youngest sister, Haddy, develop. He proudly shared he was there for her first steps and would enjoy her babbling and eventually learning to speak.

44. CSSN Copeland perceived himself as a "somewhat" popular adolescent. His mother confirmed that he made friends easily and was charming.

45. At seventeen he reports having had his first real relationship with Desi Ramirez-Vasquez. They dated off and on his senior year, her junior year, in high school.

46. Desi recalled their relationship as a typical teenage relationship. They would argue and break up and then get back together. She recalled that CSSN Copeland had difficulty with commitment and would often talk to other girls.

47. Desi denied any physical or sexual violence in their relationship and remained friends after the relationship ended.

48. CSSN Copeland had a brief relationship with the niece of his neighbor, Farrah. This relationship resulted in his having a son, born November 22, 2020. He is now five years old.

49. When Farrah's aunt learned of the pregnancy she was asked to leave the home. Farrah was reported to have moved to California, where she gave birth.

50. CSSN Copeland met his son one time, the day before he left for military training.

51. CSSN Copeland proudly reported supporting his son by sending money through Cash App, a mobile financial service platform, but has not been able to send anything since his arrest. He reports his mother continues to assist Farrah and his son.

Military History

52. CSSN Copeland reported that he knew he wanted to join the military due to his experience with JROTC and his respect for Commander Quidachay. Uncle Chappy also served in the Navy and told CSSN Copeland that he would help him with making decisions and mentor him.

53. Upon graduating high school in June of 2023, he enlisted on July 13, 2023.

54. The summer of 2023 he went to the Naval Station Great Lakes North Chicago for training. He completed his training in October of 2023.

55. While CSSN Copeland was in Chicago for training, his beloved Uncle Chappy passed away due to cancer. CSSN Copeland was able to watch the funeral online. He recalled this death as profound.

56. CSSN Copeland went to A school in Richmond, Virginia where he trained to be a Culinary Specialist. He completed that training in December of 2023.

57. CSSN Copeland reported being disappointed with his assignment and does not feel like he is a part of the Navy. He had hoped to have a more prominent role.

58. CSSN Copeland relayed being treated poorly due to his assignment. He stated that CSSNs were talked down to and not respected. He recalled the "family chats" when deployed as making many derogatory comments against the cook on the ships and feeling upset about it. He reported not feeling recognized for the work they did to provide meals for up to 4000 sailors.

59. CSSN Copeland had hoped to be part of the Construction Battalion (CB) or "Seabee" as he wanted to help build critical infrastructure.

Clinical Assessment

60. At the time of the evaluation, CSSN Copeland was oriented to person, place, and time, demonstrating awareness of his identity, the evaluator, and the nature and conditions of the assessment. He was appropriately dressed and groomed. CSSN Copeland did not present with any disturbance of thought, visual or auditory hallucinations rendering the interviews appropriate to continue. CSSN Copeland was easily engaged and open to the interviewing process.

61. Of note was a bandage wrapped around CSSN Copeland's right hand. When asked about the bandage, CSSN Copeland explained that he has been consistently picking at the back of his hand leading to several cuts and bleeding. The hand was wrapped to protect the open wounds. During our second meeting, the bandage was removed and the scars and more recent cuts were visible, too many to count.

62. CSSN Copeland described his current detainment. After an initial period on precautionary observation, he was transferred to maximum security housing due to the nature of his charges. He reported spending approximately twenty three hours per day in his cell, with one hour outside of his cell, though without access to outdoor yard time. At the time of our meeting, he indicated that his only time outside of the facility had been for transportation to court hearings.

63. CSSN Copeland also described an environment where he has been poorly treated, often denied bandaging for his hand, being served cold meals, and feeling targeted by staff.

64. The seriousness of the charges against CSSN Copeland is fully acknowledged. At the same time, the conditions of his confinement appear notably restrictive for an individual who has not yet been convicted.

65. Research on restrictive confinement indicates that prolonged time in highly controlled and isolating environments may place considerable strain on psychological functioning. Individuals exposed to these conditions can experience increased emotional distress, anxiety, depressed mood, social withdrawal, and greater difficulty coping and regulating emotions. Consistent with this, Craig Haney has written that restrictive housing environments characterized by limited social interaction, diminished autonomy, and minimal stimulation may negatively affect emotional functioning and adjustment over time.[2] It should further be noted that there are very few servicemen currently detained at Naval Consolidated Brig, limiting CSSN Copeland's exposure to peers. Moreover, communication with the few peers on the tier is punished with write ups.

66. Consideration of these conditions are therefore relevant at sentencing when evaluating the punitive impact already experienced.

67. The strain of confinement appears evident in CSSN Copeland's current behavior of repeatedly picking at the skin on his hand, to the extent that it may result in lasting scarring

68. CSSN Copeland reported a childhood where he suffered abuse-both physical and sexual-as well as multiple losses, including separation from his father, the death of beloved Uncle Chappy, and the disconnection with Commander Quidachay.

69. The Adverse Childhood Experiences Questionnaire was administered to ascertain any history of abuse or neglect related to CSSN Copeland's childhood. Scoring on this evaluation is utilized to assist in direction of the diagnostic interview to assess for childhood trauma. CSSN Copeland's score was 3 out of 10 on this scale.

[2] Haney, C. (2002). The psychological impact of incarceration: Implications for post-prison adjustment. U.S. Department of Justice, Office of Justice Programs.

70. The original ACE study was an evolutionary study conducted by Kaiser-Permanente in partnership with the Centers for Disease Control, whose findings have been replicated and expanded many times. Much new research has come from this study with consistent results. What these studies uncovered is the correlation between early experiences of childhood abuse and neglect with later in life outcomes on behavior, health, and overall well-being. The ACE questionnaire presents ten adverse experiences, the higher the score the greater the likelihood of future medical and mental health concerns.[3].

71. Although CSSN Copeland's score on the ACE questionnaire was relatively low, his school records suggest that adverse childhood experiences may nevertheless have meaningfully affected his behavior and functioning. Children and adolescents do not respond to adversity in the same way, and the impact of difficult experiences is not always fully reflected by a numerical score alone. In CSSN Copeland's case, documented behavioral patterns in school seem to reflect struggles with emotional regulation, coping, behavior, interpersonal functioning, or adaptation that are consistent with the effects of early stress and adversity.

72. Of note, there is no documentation indicating that CSSN Copeland was ever referred for counseling, behavioral intervention, or school-based support in response to his behavioral difficulties. Instead, it appears his behaviors may have been understood as "typical boy behaviors," rather than potential indicators of emotional distress or unmet developmental needs. Research has shown that externalizing behaviors in boys, including acting out, aggression, impulsivity, defiance, or school misconduct, are at times interpreted as disciplinary problems rather than possible manifestations of underlying stress, trauma, or adverse experiences.[4] Studies on childhood adversity further suggest that behavioral disruptions in school may represent attempts to cope with distress or unmet emotional needs, underscoring the importance of early identification and intervention rather than solely behavioral management.

73. Moreover, studies have also documented disparities in school discipline, with black students more likely than their white peers to receive punitive responses to behavioral issues, potentially reducing opportunities for supportive intervention at critical stages of development. While it cannot be concluded that this occurred in CSSN Copeland's case, the absence of documented counseling, guidance, or behavioral support raises questions about whether his behaviors were understood as a call for additional help rather than solely a disciplinary concern.[5]

74. Children, as may have been the case for CSSN Copeland, sometimes turn to humor or take on the role of the "class clown" as a way of coping with stress or difficult emotions. Research suggests that humor can help young people manage discomfort, reduce tension, and feel more connected to others.[6] When a child's emotional struggles are not fully recognized or addressed, they may find their own ways to cope, and humor can become one of them. For some children, making others laugh or being viewed as funny can create a sense of acceptance, belonging, and positive attention that may otherwise feel difficult to find. In this context, some of CSSN Copeland's behavior may reflect an attempt to cope and connect with others, rather than simply acting out.

75. Furthermore, if these behaviors were not related to trauma or emotional distress, they may also have been consistent with symptoms of Attention-Deficit/Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD). Difficulties with impulsivity, attention, emotional regulation, frustration tolerance, and acting out are well-documented features of ADHD and can sometimes be mistaken for willful misconduct when not properly assessed.

76. Research indicates that children with untreated or unrecognized ADHD are at increased risk for academic problems, disciplinary action, and negative school outcomes, particularly when symptoms are not identified early or addressed through intervention [7] Based on the available records, there is no indication that ADHD or another neurodevelopmental or behavioral condition was explored through counseling, school intervention, or psychological evaluation.

77. Untreated childhood trauma and neurodevelopmental conditions such as ADHD can both affect how the brain develops, especially in areas involved in impulse control, attention, and emotional regulation. Research on toxic stress shows that chronic early adversity can disrupt the development of brain systems like the prefrontal cortex, amygdala, and hippocampus, which play key roles in decision-making, memory, and regulating emotional responses. Similarly, ADHD is associated with differences in brain networks involved in self-control and attention, which can make it harder for a child to manage impulses, stay focused, and regulate behavior.

78. When either trauma or ADHD goes unrecognized and untreated, children may struggle with behavior, emotions, and school performance in ways that are often noticed first in the classroom. Without proper evaluation or support, these difficulties can be misunderstood as intentional misbehavior rather than signs of underlying developmental or psychological needs.[8]

CSSN Copeland seemed to find comfort in the structure of the JROTC.

79. A structured environment can be helpful for individuals with trauma histories or conditions such as ADHD. Clear routines, predictable expectations, and consistent rules can reduce stress and make it easier to understand what is expected. This kind of structure can also support behavior by providing external organization and reminders, which may be especially helpful when self-regulation is difficult. For individuals with trauma, predictability can help reduce feelings of threat or uncertainty, and for individuals with ADHD, structure can help with attention, planning, and impulse control. Overall, structured settings can help improve stability, reduce behavioral difficulties, and support better functioning in daily life.[9] Moreover, it was in this environment where CSSN Copeland found supportive adults who showed him respect and believed in him.

80. CSSN Copeland entered the military in part due to his respect and admiration for trusted adult figures. It may also have reflected a desire for structure, routine, and clear expectations, which, as noted, can be stabilizing for individuals who struggle with emotional regulation.

81. This is not to suggest that CSSN Copeland would necessarily thrive in a prison setting simply because it offers routine or external structure. While correctional environments may involve scheduled wake times, meals, and activities, this structure exists primarily to manage large groups of people rather than to provide individualized support, stability, or development. Prison environments are also often unpredictable, stressful, and at times threatening, conditions that may be especially difficult for individuals with histories of trauma, emotional dysregulation, or difficulties coping with stress. The type of structure in which CSSN Copeland appeared to function best involved mentorship, clear expectations, support, and positive relationships. Loss of freedom should not be confused with the type of structure that promotes emotional stability, growth, or improved functioning.

CSSN Copeland was eighteen years old, late adolescence, when he enlisted,

82. For many young service members, entering the military creates a level of independence and freedom they have never previously experienced. At a young age, they are suddenly removed from parental supervision, provided a steady income, surrounded primarily by peers their own age, and exposed to an environment where alcohol use, nightlife, impulsive behavior, and peer influence can become normalized. In many ways, this environment can resemble a college campus atmosphere, young adults living independently and navigating adulthood for the first time, but without the stabilizing structure of academics or long-term educational goals.

83. Psychological research demonstrates that adolescents at this age are particularly vulnerable to impulsive decision making, peer influence, sensation seeking, and emotional reactivity because brain development continues well into the mid-twenties.[10]

84. CSSN Copeland's brief military experience appears to reflect some of the same behavioral patterns seen during his school years. Similar difficulties with impulsivity, emotional regulation, judgment, and behavior appear to have continued across different settings. Again, neither therapeutic support or intervention were recommended or provided.

[10] Steinberg, L. (2008). A social neuroscience perspective on adolescent risk-taking. Developmental Review, 28(1), 78–106.

85. Psychologist Jeffrey Arnett, who coined the term "emerging adulthood," describes this developmental stage as a distinct period characterized by identity exploration, instability, self-focus, impulsivity, and incomplete emotional maturity. Arnett's research explains that individuals in this age range often experience difficulty with long-term planning and emotional regulation while adjusting to newfound independence and adult responsibility.[11]

86. Elizabeth Cauffman, in her research on psychological maturity, found that maturity is not defined solely by chronological age. Emerging adults often continue developing judgment, emotional regulation, and resistance to outside influence long after reaching what is considered "legal adulthood." Cauffman's research emphasizes that many individuals in their teens and early twenties still function developmentally differently from fully mature adults.[12]

87. Neuroscientific research from the National Institute of Mental Health further supports this conclusion finding that the prefrontal cortex, the area responsible for executive functioning, impulse control, planning, and evaluating consequences, is among the last region of the brain to fully mature. This developmental process continues into the mid-twenties, particularly in environments involving stress, emotional arousal, or peer influence.[13]

88. These developmental vulnerabilities become especially relevant in military environments. Young service members are frequently exposed to intense stress, rigid hierarchy, sleep deprivation, trauma exposure, alcohol culture, and peer pressure while simultaneously attempting to navigate adulthood for the first time. CSSN Copeland further endured feeling like a lesser serviceman, felt criticized and disrespected.

89. Age, therefore, should be considered a significant mitigating factor in military sentencing because emerging adults are neurologically, psychologically, and emotionally different from fully mature adults, even while they are capable of serious misconduct. Modern neuroscience demonstrates that the areas of the brain responsible for impulse control, emotional regulation, foresight, and risk assessment continue developing well into a person's mid-twenties. This developmental reality has direct relevance in the military context, where many service members enter the armed forces between the ages of seventeen and twenty-two, during a period marked by heightened impulsivity, susceptibility to peer influence, emotional reactivity, and identity formation.

90. The United States Supreme Court has repeatedly recognized that youth reduces culpability because adolescents and emerging adults possess diminished judgment and greater capacity for change. In cases such as Roper v. Simmons, Graham v. Florida, and Miller v. Alabama,[14] the Court emphasized that younger individuals are more likely to act recklessly, less likely to fully appreciate long-term consequences, and more capable of rehabilitation than mature adults. Although these cases specifically addressed juvenile sentencing, as noted above, the underlying developmental science does not abruptly end at age eighteen.

91. Moreover, considering age as mitigation is consistent with the military's broader institutional values. The military invests heavily in training, mentorship, leadership development, counseling, and rehabilitation because it recognizes that young service members are still developing. Leaders are expected to correct, mentor, and develop junior personnel, not simply punish them. Sentencing that incorporates age as a mitigating factor reflects this longstanding military principle.

92. Ultimately, recognizing age as mitigation promotes fairness, balance, and rehabilitation without compromising accountability. Young service members should still be held responsible for their actions, particularly when serious harm occurs. However, justice requires acknowledging that emerging adults possess diminished judgment, heightened impulsivity, and extraordinary capacity for change. A sentencing system that considers these realities is more informed, more balanced, and more just.

Conclusion and Recommendations

93. It is imperative to emphasize that this report in no way seeks to disparage the memory or character of CS3 A.R., nor does it imply or suggest that she, or anyone else, bore any responsibility for the tragic events that led to her death.

94. The purpose of this report is to provide context and a historical understanding of the factors that may have influenced CSSN Copeland's behavior and decision-making. It is intended to offer a comprehensive view of his developmental, psychological, and environmental background, so that his actions can be understood within a broader framework rather than in isolation.

95. In considering sentencing, it is important to view CSSN Copeland's actions within the context of his life and development. The available information suggests a young man who experienced childhood adversity, struggled with behavior and emotional regulation from an early age, and may not have received the support or intervention he needed. At the same time, he appeared to respond positively to structure, mentorship, and supportive adult relationships. His age and developmental stage at the time of the offense are also important, as research shows that young adults are still developing judgment, impulse control, and emotional regulation. None of these excuses the seriousness of the offense or the harm caused to CS3 A.R. and her loved ones, but it may help provide context for understanding his behavior, level of maturity, and capacity for growth and rehabilitation.

96. CSSN Copeland's false statement to police may be better understood in the context of his developmental stage and how individuals can respond under stress. Research shows that adolescents and young adults often act more impulsively and may have difficulty fully thinking through long-term consequences, especially in high-pressure situations. Conditions such as ADHD can also affect impulse control and decision-making, making it harder to pause and consider the outcome of actions in the moment.

97. In this context, the false statement more likely reflects a quick, stress-driven attempt to avoid an immediate situation rather than a fully planned effort to mislead investigators with a clear understanding of the long-term consequences. This does not excuse the behavior, but it helps explain how stress and developmental factors can affect judgment during police questioning.

98. Notably, CSSN Copeland has entered a guilty plea. This is significant in that it reflects acceptance of responsibility for a very serious offense and an acknowledgment of his role in the conduct at issue. A decision to plead guilty may also reduce the emotional toll of a trial on the family and friends of CS3 A.R., who would otherwise be required to relive aspects of the case through court proceedings.

99. More impressive is CSSN Copeland's agreeing to meet with CS3 A.R.'s mother. This reflects a level of accountability and engagement that may support healing for those impacted by the offense. It is recommended that, if such a meeting occurs, it be facilitated within a structured Restorative Justice framework.

100. Restorative justice (RJ) aims to address conflict or crime by repairing harm. The principles of RJ are accountability, reintegration, repair, and inclusion. This is accomplished through a facilitated meeting(s) with a trained professional who will mediate the interaction between involved parties.

101. Howard Zehr began using the term "restorative justice" in the early nineties. His approach to the process was to address three main questions: "Who was hurt?", "What are their needs?", and "Whose obligation is it to address those needs?"[15] Restorative Justice practices emphasize safety, preparation, and voluntary participation for all parties, and are designed to provide a controlled setting for acknowledgment of harm, questions from affected family members, and appropriate expressions of responsibility, when clinically and procedurally appropriate. By providing a platform for victims to hear the defendant's perspective and share their own experiences, restorative justice facilitates a cathartic healing process, enabling victims to process their emotions and move towards recovery.

102. It is acknowledged that the Court must carefully balance the competing interests of punishment, accountability, rehabilitation, and community safety. It is also recognized that the charges against CSSN Copeland are among the most serious before the Court and warrant significant consideration. At the same time, sentencing decisions often require an individualized assessment that takes into account developmental history, psychological functioning, and capacity for change, alongside the nature and severity of the offense.

103. It is hoped that presenting context for CSSN Copeland's actions will allow the court to make an informed decision regarding sentencing.

104. As stated by Bryan Stevenson, founder of the Equal Justice Initiative, young people should not be permanently defined by their worst decisions because immaturity and developmental limitations reduce culpability while increasing the potential for growth and redemption.[16]

| United Statesv.JERMIAH T. COPELANDCSSN/E-3USN | APPLICATION FOR DESIGNATION TO ASSUME THE RIGHTS OF A VICTIM: Ms. Esmerelda Castle8 OCT 25 |

APPLICATION FOR DESIGNATION TO ASSUME THE RIGHTS OF A VICTIM

1. The Government respectfully submits this request for an order pursuant to Article 6b(c), Uniform Code of Military Justice (U.C.M.J.) and Rule for Court-Martial (R.C.M.) 801(a)(6) designating Ms. Esmerelda Castle to assume the rights of a deceased victim in the above-captioned case.

LEGAL BACKGROUND

2. "In the case of a victim of an offense under this chapter who is under 18 years of age (but who is not a member of the armed forces), incompetent, incapacitated, or deceased, the legal guardians of the victim or the representatives of the victim's estate, family members, or any other person designated as suitable by the military judge, may assume the rights of the victim under this section." Article 6b(c), U.C.M.J.

3. "In this section, the term 'victim of an offense under this chapter' means an individual who has suffered direct physical, emotional, or pecuniary harm as a result of the commission of an offense under this chapter." Article 6b(b), U.C.M.J.

4. "At the military judge's discretion, in the case of a victim of an offense under the UCMJ who is under 18 years of age and not a member of the armed forces, or who is incompetent, incapacitated, or deceased, designate the legal guardian(s) of the victim or the representative(s) of the victim's estate, family members, or any other person deemed as suitable by the military judge to assume the victim's rights under the UCMJ." R.C.M. 801(a)(6).

FACTS

5. On 29 May 2025, CS3 A.R., USN, went missing and was never heard from again. On 9 June 2025, her body was located in a wooded area after evidence was found linking CSSN Jermiah Copeland, USN, the Accused, to her murder and disappearance.

6. A thorough investigation revealed several other victims of violence and sexual misconduct perpetrated by the Accused. On 22 August 2025, Charges were preferred. These Charges include four Specifications of Article 120, one specification of Article 128, one specification of Article 117a, two Specifications of Article 120c, three specifications of Article 131b, two Specifications of Article 128b, two specifications of Article 107, and one Specification of Article 118, UCMJ.

7. On 3 September 2025, Commander, Navy Region Mid-Atlantic, appointed CDR John Butler, JAGC, USN, as a Preliminary Hearing Officer to conduct a preliminary hearing into the charges against CSSN Copeland.

8. The Article 32 preliminary hearing was held on 18 September 2025.

9. On 1 October 2025, charges were referred to a general court-martial. Five Specifications of alleged misconduct relating to the death of CS3 A.R. were referred. This includes a Specification of Article 118 for the premeditated murder of CS3 A.R., two Specifications of Article 131b for disposing of her body and hiding his phone from investigators, and two Specifications of Article 107 for making false statements about his knowledge of CS3 A.R.'s whereabouts.

9. Ms. Esmerelda Castle is CSSN Resendiz's mother.

REQUEST FOR ORDER

10. The Government respectfully requests that a military judge issue an order designating Ms. Esmerelda Castle to assume the rights of a deceased victim in this case, specifically, CS3 A. R. CS3 A.R. is a "victim of an offense under this chapter" pursuant to Article 6b, U.C.M.J., because she suffered direct physical harm as a result of the commission of an offense under the U.C.M.J. as described above. Ms. Esmerelda Castle is CS3 A.R.'s mother (i.e., family member), and her designation to assume CS3 A.R.'s rights in this case is proper because she is deceased.

Respectfully submitted,

ORDER

The Government has submitted an application pursuant to Article 6b(c), Uniform Code of Military Justice, and Rule for Court-Martial 801(a)(6), requesting that the military judge issue an order designating Ms. Esmerelda Castle to assume the rights of a deceased victim in this case, specifically, CS3 A.R.

The Court finds that CS3 A.R. is a victim under Article 6b, Uniform Code of Military Justice, who suffered direct physical harm as a result of the commission of an offense under the Uniform Code of Military and is deceased.

The Court also finds that CS3 A.R. was unmarried and had no children at the time of her death, and that Ms. Esmerelda Castle is the mother of CS3 A.R. and thereby is a suitable individual to assume CS3 A.R.'s rights in this case.

IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED, pursuant to Article 6b(c), Uniform Code of Military Justice, and Rule for Court-Martial 801(a)(6), that Ms. Esmerelda Castle is hereby designated to assume the rights of CS3 A.R. in this case as articulated in Article 6b(a) and any other Navy rule, regulation, or instruction.

| UNITED STATESv.JERMIAH COPELANDCSSN/E-3U.S. NAVY | DEFENSE MOTION FOR APPROPRIATE RELIEF(Illegal Pre-Trial Punishment - Article 13)26 Nov 2025 |

MOTION

Pursuant to Rules for Courts-Martial Article 13, UCMJ, and the 6th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution, the defense moves the Court to grant CSSN Copeland three-for-one administrative credit (in addition to day for day credit pursuant to United States v. Allen, 17 M.J. 126 (C.M.A. 1984)) for unduly harsh, inflexible, and arbitrary conditions which interfere with his 6th Amendment right to counsel, and constitutes illegal pre-trial punishment.

SUMMARY

On 9 June 2025, CSSN Copeland was ordered into pretrial confinement. On 16 June 2025, a 7-day reviewing officer held a hearing and approved continued confinement. That same day, the defense began requesting to confer privately with CSSN Copeland. The trial counsel, the brig, and CSSN Copeland's commanding officer denied those requests. In the intervening period, CSSN Copeland was able to meet face to face and confidentially with his counsel at an Article 30a proceeding, his Article 32 hearing, and a single other time on 29 October 2025. CSSN Copeland remains in a "maximum custody" status at the brig which has prevented contact visits based solely on the nature of the brig's classification system. CSSN Copeland is a pretrial prisoner and the interference with his right to counsel, his sustained incarceration in what is tantamount to solitary confinement, and the unlikely event he will ever be released from "maximum custody" constitutes illegal pre-trial punishment and this Court should grant administrative credit at a rate of 3 to 1 for each day CSSN Copeland has served in "maximum custody" solely because of the severity of his charges.

BURDEN

As the moving party, the Defense bears the burden of proof by a preponderance of the evidence with regard to each factual issue necessary for resolution of this matter. R.C.M. 905(c).

FACTS

1. On 9 June 2025, CSSN Copeland was ordered into pre-trial confinement after being suspected of violating Article 118- Murder, under the UCMJ.[1]

2. CSSN Copeland is currently confined at the Naval Consolidated Brig Charleston (NCBC) Detachment Chesapeake. He is classified as a "maximum custody" prisoner. This means, he is in his cell, alone, for between 21 and 22 hours per day. There have been two recent cases in this area in which the military judges (one USCG and one USN) have ruled that this type or classification of confinement constitutes illegal pretrial punishment.[2]

3. Pretrial confinees are classified as "maximum custody" for the first week they are at the brig and then, generally, are converted to "Medium-In," or colloquially "general population." That reclassification has not been afforded to CSSN Copeland.[3]

4. In some instances, despite being otherwise qualified for "Medium-In" status, the brig OIC can "override" the points system and keep a pre-trial prisoner in "maximum custody" status based on the severity of the alleged charges alone.[4]

5. While in "maximum custody" guards are required to check in on the inmates every 15 minutes and document their rounds on 509 forms.[5] These inmates do not have contact with one another, conduct recreation call by themselves, and eat meals by themselves in their cells.

6. On 16 June 2025, an Initial Review Officer (IRO) hearing was held at the NCBC, where the defense team met in-person with CSSN Copeland for the first time. During the IRO hearing and then CSSN Copeland's visit with his counsel, CSSN Copeland remained in shackles. That same day, a 7-day reviewing officer approved continued confinement.[6]

7. Noncontact visits make it difficult, if not impossible, for the attorneys to hear our client and make it difficult for CSSN Copeland to hear his attorneys. Additionally, communications from outside this room can be heard while inside, which means communications within the room can also be heard. Further, there is no means to review discovery with CSSN Copeland in this room as there are only tiny slots to pass a few sheets of folder paper and no way for CSSN Copeland to review a video or electronic evidence.[7] This case encompasses thousands of pages of discovery and countless hours of videos and interviews.

8. On 16 June 2025, the defense demanded a speedy trial and requested that CSSN Copeland be brought to building A-50 to meet with his defense counsel.[8]

9. On 24 June 2025, after the defense followed up on our initial request, the trial counsel responded to inquire as to why the defense wanted to meet with our client in-person. The defense responded and explained. The same day, the Staff Judge Advocate for the USS JAMES E. WILLIAM's ISIC stated that the command was standing by to assist. However, on 30 June 2025, the trial counsel stated that "the government would not be able to support…." The defense asked the trial counsel for justification as to why the government would not support our request. However, the trial counsel never responded.[9]

10. On 29 July 2025, CSSN Copeland through counsel submitted a formal request for redress to the Commanding Officer, USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS to meet with his attorneys in a private, confidential, in-person setting.[10]

11. On 7 August 2025, USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS denied CSSN Copeland's request and later refused to provide any justification or reasoning.[11]

12. On 13 August 2025, CSSN Copeland filed a complaint pursuant to Article 138, UCMJ.[12]

13. On 22 August 2025, the government preferred charges in this case. On that same day, the defense reached out about scheduling the Article 32 hearing and meeting with our client in preparation for the hearing.[13]

14. On 15 September 2025, an Article 30(a) hearing was held at building A-50. Prior to the hearing, defense counsel met with CSSN Copeland in the "PTC Room" in A-50 without incident.

15. No in-person visits with the CSSN Copeland were allowed or facilitated between preferral of charges and the Article 30(a) hearing nor the Article 32 hearing.

16. On 18 September 2025, an Article 32 preliminary hearing was held in this case in court room one in building A-50. Prior to the hearing, the defense met with CSSN Copeland in the "PTC room" without incident.

17. On 25 September 2025, in response to a plea offer made by the government, the defense requested to meet in-person with CSSN Copeland to discuss the offer. On 29 September 2025, having not received a response, the defense counsel followed up suggesting to schedule a time near the arraignment when defense counsel would already be in Norfolk.[14]

18. On 30 September 2025, the brig emailed CSSN Copeland's command to inform them that CSSN Copeland had requested an in-person legal visit with his defense team.[15]

19. On 1 October 2025, the trial counsel responded to the defense counsel's email.[16]

20. CSSN Copeland submitted a "510-request" to be temporarily released for a legal meeting.[17] Prior to arraignment on 6 October, CSSN Copeland was able to meet in person with his attorneys.[18]

21. On 29 October 2025, CSSN Copeland was granted a contact visit with two of his three detailed counsel but had to remain shackled throughout the duration of the meeting.

22. Between 9 June and the date of this filing, CSSN Copeland has met with his counsel in person three times- twice for court hearings and once post-Article 32 hearing on 29 October 2025. In that same time period CSSN Copeland was expected to to fully participate in his own defense at an Article 30(a) hearing, an Article 32 hearing, and fully and fairly assess a plea offer made by the government. Importantly, given the lack of communications when attempting to set up these meetings- CSSN Copeland has yet to meet simultaneously with all three of his detailed attorneys.

23. There have been no documented disciplinary issues with CSSN Copeland during the entire duration of his time in pre-trial confinement.[19]

24. CSSN Copeland remains "maximum custody" as of this filing, however the brig OIC states that he gets an extra hour each day – in which he "is allowed" to clean the passageways and showers – as an "opportunity to prove his good behavior."[20]

25. CSSN Copeland spent 22 hours a day in his cell, where he ate alone, exercised alone, and had no contact with anyone except his guards, from 9 June 2025 until 11 August 2025. Now, despite no misconduct and two reclassification boards, CSSN Copeland spends 21 hours a day by himself in his cell, with no outside interactions, eating and exercising alone.[21]

26. The brig OIC acknowledges it is unlikely, based solely on the nature of the alleged offenses, that CSSN Copeland will ever be reclassified for "maximum custody" status, effectively keeping him in solitary confinement until his pending charges have been adjudicated.[22]

27. Trial is not scheduled to begin, pending any unforeseen issues, until 3 June 2026. CSSN Copeland will have been in solitary confinement for almost a year at the start of trial, convicted of nothing.

28. Extended periods of solitary confinement have come under scrutiny on a global scale. The impacts of solitary confinement have been studied thoroughly and demonstrate that mental health challenges, both temporary and permanent, arise from the use of solitary confinement.[23]

LAW

6th Amendment

29. "In all criminal prosecutions, the accused shall enjoy the right . . . to have the Assistance of Counsel for his defense."[24] Necessarily included in the Sixth Amendment right to counsel is the right of an accused to confer privately with his attorney.[25]

30. The accused has the right to be represented by counsel during an investigation under Article 32, UCMJ, and before a general or special court-martial.[26] In the military justice system, the right to counsel includes the right to counsel detailed under Article 27, UCMJ. The right to the services of detailed counsel "is substantial and extends to both the pretrial and the trial proceedings."[27]

31. "The right to be heard would be, in many cases, of little avail if it did not comprehend the right to be heard by counsel…. [A defendant] is unfamiliar with the rules of evidence…. He lacks both the skill and knowledge adequately to prepare his defense, even though he [may] have a perfect one. He requires the guiding hand of counsel at every step in the proceedings against him."[28] Courts have concluded that an order preventing a defendant from consulting his attorney even during an overnight recess infringes upon this substantial right.[29]

32. "A concomitant right is the right to confidential communications between the attorney and client."[30] M.R.E. 502(a) requires confidential communications "for the purpose of facilitating the rendition of professional legal services to the client."

33. 34. An accused is presumed innocent until proved guilty, and, therefore, punishment for an alleged offense is prohibited before trial.[35]

Article 13, UCMJ

1. An accused is presumed innocent until proved guilty, and, therefore, punishment for an alleged offense is prohibited before trial.[36] Article 13, UCMJ prohibits the imposition of punishment prior to trial and conditions of arrest or pretrial confinement that are more rigorous than necessary to ensure the accused's presence for trial. Any rule to the contrary would deny an accused due process of the law.[37] Confinement itself is a form of penal servitude.[38]

2. Hence, unless confinement prior to trial is compelled by a legitimate and pressing social need sufficient to overwhelm the individual's right to freedom—given the fact that probable cause exists to believe he has committed a crime—restrictions unnecessary to meet that need are in the nature of intolerable, unlawful punishment. Thus, "the Government must make a strong showing that its reason for incarcerating an accused prior to his trial on the charged offenses reaches such a level, for otherwise the right to be free must be paramount."[39]

3. The presumption of innocence "is a fundamental component of due process" and "[p]retrial release has long been recognized as a vital concomitant of that presumption."[40] "If a person may be arbitrarily confined before his trial, then in truth the punishment precedes conviction and the presumption of innocence avails the defendant little."[41]

Navy Corrections Manual

5. The Department of the Navy Corrections Manual (SECNAV M-1640.1 of May 2019) permits military judges to make exceptions to brig policies. This includes allowing a confinee in any status (including "MAX" and "MDI") to meet without escorts or restraints.[46]

ARGUMENT

The circumstances surrounding CSSN Copeland's continued confinement as a "maximum custody" prisoner constitute illegal pretrial punishment under Article 13, UCMJ and interfere with his 6th Amendment right to counsel.

1. On 9 June 2025, CSSN Copeland entered pre-trial confinement based on a suspected violation of Article 118-Murder, UCMJ. The confinement followed a period of increased media coverage of the disappearance of CS3 A.R. Importantly, CSSN Copeland was not placed into pretrial confinement for the other alleged offenses which now find their way onto his charge sheet. Allegations, which at the time of his pretrial confinement, were months to almost a year old and apparently, not the subject of NCIS investigations or prosecutorial consideration.

2. CSSN Copeland should have entered the brig at "maximum custody" classification to determine if he was a harm to himself or others and to acclimate and adjust to life in the brig. However, unlike other similarly situated individuals he was never reclassified to "Medium-In" status which would place him in general population where he could engage with other inmates, participate in groups and rec calls, as well as eat in the galley together. Instead, based on the nature of his charges alone, he has been repeatedly reclassified as "maximum custody" and kept in what is tantamount to solitary confinement since 9 June 2025.

3. The arbitrary and continuing assignment of CSSN Copeland as a "maximum custody" inmate serves no legitimate purpose (beyond the first week period described in the prisoner handbook) and does not advance any important governmental priority. What it does is keep him from having normal human interactions, single him out from the general population, keep him by himself for 21 or 22 hours a day, and serve to punish him before he has ever been convicted of anything.

5. In United States v. King, the Government placed the accused, a pre-trial detainee, in segregation and cited space constraints within the brig as the reason segregation was necessary.[47] The Court held that "[p]lacing King in a segregated environment with all the attributes of severe restraint and discipline, without an individualized demonstration of cause in the record, was so excessive as to be punishment".[48]

6. In this case there is absolutely no individualized demonstration of cause warranting CSSN Copeland's continued classification as maximum custody. Based on the charges alone the brig OIC has made it clear- CSSN Copeland is never likely to be classified lower than "maximum" while he awaits trial for offenses for which he is presumed innocent.

7. Similarly, in United States v. Hancock, the trial court awarded confinement credit for time the accused spent in "special quarters" as part of pre-trial detention.[49] The award of confinement credit was not premised on intent to punish, instead focusing on conditions that were unduly harsh.[50] NMCCA concurred with the trial court's determination.

8. In United States v. Contreras, NMCCA held that the trial court had not erred in awarding confinement credit for being forced to clean while wearing restraints.[51] In determining if the award was appropriate the Court looked a totality of the circumstances to determine if conditions were unduly harsh.[52]

9. Similarly to Hancock, there need not be an intent to punish when conditions of pre-trial detention are unduly harsh- here, CSSN Copeland's conditions of confinement coupled with those outlined below, amount to rigorous and unduly harsh conditions which represent punishment as it is described by the Hancock court.

10. Aside from what will be 171 days (at the time of filing, and continuing) of solitary confinement, CSSN Copeland's arbitrary and inflexible classification as "maximum custody" has interfered with his 6th Amendment right to counsel and constitutes "unduly harsh" conditions. CSSN Copeland has yet to meet with his entire defense team simultaneously, and when he was granted the ability to have a face to face visit with members of the team, he was forced to remain shackled "in accordance with brig SOP."

11. The brig OIC references reclassification procedures and indicates that CSSN Copeland has never appealed a reclassification decision.[53] Importantly, since there has been no misconduct on the part of CSSN Copeland, his classification is necessarily the product of an "override" in which the brig OIC makes a determination that the charges are so egregious they warrant solitary confinement and maximum custody classification. While the brig may argue that there is a

"Special Handling" classification which is truly solitary confinement- the circumstances surrounding CSSN Copeland's confinement demonstrate that he is currently subject to solitary confinement, and he is there because the brig OIC believes the charges are very severe. One person making a determination about alleged offenses. Presumably the brig OIC is not even privy to the investigation, discovery, or materials generated in the investigation. His opinion is likely confined to his review of the charge sheet (which he couldn't have gotten until well into CSSN Copeland's pretrial confinement, because it didn't exist yet) and whatever he has gleaned of the case from the news.[54]

12. An intent to punish is not essential for the requested relief in this case, however. CSSN Copeland's continued confinement represents an inflexible and arbitrary classification which has now impacted his 6th Amendment right to counsel. By continuing CSSN Copeland, foreseeably until the date of his trial, as a maximum custody inmate the brig has made it all but impossible to have meaningful in person discussions with his counsel regarding the evidence, status of the case, alternate resolutions, and general communications regarding CSSN Copeland's participation and trial strategy. This pretrial confinement period has also been marked by conditions that are far more rigorous than necessary to ensure his continued presence at proceedings. Those conditions are more rigorous than necessary and constitute punishment prior to trial. Both prongs of the Article 13 analysis are met and thus a remedy in the form of administrative credit, at a rate of three-to-one, is appropriate.

13. CSSN Copeland has served the entirety of his detention under conditions that do not serve a legitimate purpose and he has faced unduly rigorous and harsh conditions that are tantamount to illegal pre-trial punishment. He has been arbitrarily assigned a "Maximum" security classification without the due process, because of the b rig OIC's "override" ability, outlined within brig SOPs and regulations. Because of the increased restrictions, CSSN Copeland's ability to meet with and meaningfully interact with his counsel has been limited. The totality of these factors, as discussed in Contreras, demonstrate that a remedy is required to correct for illegal pre-trial punishment under Article 13.

14. The appropriate remedy for this illegal pre-trial punishment is three-for-one credit for the time CSSN Copeland has served (and continues to serve) and had to endure the unduly harsh conditions. CSSN Copeland should be credited with his time served, plus administratively credited three days for every one he served based upon Article 13 illegal punishments.

RELIEF REQUESTED

This Court should order day for day credit, plus administrative credit for every day CSSN Copeland has been subject to inflexible, arbitrary classification decisions that have kept him in solitary confinement for more than 170 days.

WITNESSES

The Defense requests the production of the following witnesses for in person testimony in support of this motion:

(1) CDR Brian Flanagan, OIC, NAVCONBRIG Chesapeake

CDR Flanagan will testify that CSSN Copeland remains in maximum custody status based on his override of the "points system" and based solely on the nature of the alleged charges in this case. CDR Flanagan will also testify about what (likely nothing) CSSN Copeland could ever do (above and beyond 170+ days of good behavior) to have his classification reduced from maximum status. CDR Flanagan will also testify about what informs his decision to continually override the points system, to include what he has been shown regarding discovery and the investigation of this case, and any impact his consumption of local media has had on the formation of his decision to keep CSSN Copeland in solitary confinement. As the defense awaits additional discovery, CDR Flanagan can speak to the reclassification process specifically as it applies to CSSN Copeland. CDR Flanagan will testify as to why the Defense was granted a contact visit on 29 October 2025, despite no change to the maximum custody status of CSSN Copeland and after months of defense requests.

Unless the Government concedes the motion or this Court grants the relief on the basis of pleadings alone, the Defense requests a hearing to present evidence and argument on this matter.

MOTION

The Defense files the following supplement to address the persistent and ongoing illegal pre-trial punishment faced by CSSN Copeland at NAVCON Brig Chesapeake. The Defense adopts the Facts and Law sections from its previous filing of 26 November 2025. Given the persistent nature of the illegal punishment faced by CSSN Copeland, the Defense must amend the requested relief sought in the November filing (which remains pending before the Court).

The defense seeks three-for-one administrative credit (in addition today for day credit pursuant to United States v. Allen, 17 M.J. 126 (C.M.A. 1984)) for the unduly harsh, inflexible, and arbitrary conditions of pre-trial confinement which far exceed anything required to ensure CSSN Copeland's continued participation in these proceedings. These conditions have also inhibited CSSN Copeland's 6th Amendment right to counsel.[1]

The Defense amends its requested relief as follows:

9 June 2025- 9 June 2026: 366 days- Day for Day credit for time served in pre-trial confinement

9 June 2025- 9 June 2026: 1098 days - Three for One Administrative credit for illegal pretrial punishment.

BURDEN

As the moving party, the Defense bears the burden of proof by a preponderance of the evidence with regard to each factual issue necessary for resolution of this matter. R.C.M. 905(c).

[1] The Court has already taken up the specific issue of the interference with the 6th Amendment right to counsel. See Appellate Exhibit XCII. However, when assessing illegal pre-trial punishment, the Court needs to consider all factors and context surrounding the illegal punishment.

FACTS

1. The Defense adopts the facts from its initial filing and incorporates them by reference herein.[2]

2. Since the initial Defense Motion filed on 26 November 2025, CSSN Copeland has remained classified as a "Maximum Custody" prisoner with no chance or hope of having his classification lowered.

3. Having spent nearly a year in solitary confinement, CSSN Copeland exhibited some instances where brig staff believed he may be dangerous to himself, their solution was to keep him in continued maximum custody status, which had already demonstrably affected his mental health.[3] In fact, clinicians at the brig recommended CSSN Copeland be removed from "POI" or prevention of injury status.

4. Despite zero indications of violence towards staff or other inmates, and contrary to clinical recommendations that CSSN Copeland was not a threat even to himself, the brig OIC continued to speculate about "what if" something happened if CSSN Copeland was placed in general population.[4]

5. The Brig OIC, contrary to relevant evidence, continued to keep CSSN Copeland as a "maximum custody" prisoner using his authority to override reclassification board "points system" findings.[5]

6. In prior testimony before this Court, the brig OIC noted that the nature of the charges alleged against CSSN Copeland, without anything further, would keep him in maximum custody while in pre-trial confinement.[6]

7. CSSN Copeland was the subject of one Disciplinary Report on 10 February 2026. Importantly this incident did not threaten the safety of any staff members or other inmates; it was not physical or aggressive in nature; and centered on disrespectful language.[7] Importantly, this "disrespect" came after CSSN Copeland had spent 247 days in maximum custody, solitary confinement.

8. During the pendency of these proceedings, the parent-command, NAVCON Brig Charleston, underwent a change of command wherein CDR Brisco was replaced by CDR Howard. This individual provides direct oversight of the Brig OIC at NAVCON brig Chesapeake.[8]

9. While in "maximum custody" CSSN Copeland is not allowed to speak on with any other inmates. He is confined to his cell 22 hours a day, eats his meals alone, and is only allowed to utilize recreation areas specifically for maximum custody inmates. The brig OIC has testified that certain "incentives" were in place to get CSSN Copeland out of his cell (but still by himself), these "incentives" included cleaning other areas of the brig.[9]

10. The recreation areas specifically for "maximum custody" inmates include an outside "cage" with a concrete floor and no workout equipment, or in the event of inclement weather a slightly larger cell with a shower, no windows, and an elliptical machine. Maximum custody inmates would use these areas by themselves with no other contact aside from their guards. Importantly, during most of the winter CSSN Copeland was confined, he was not afforded outside recreation due to the weather.[10]

11. Despite attempts by defense counsel to secure in-person meetings between CSSN Copeland and expert consultants appointed to the defense team, the brig OIC refused such requests (premised upon safety and security of staff and visitors) until ordered by this Court to permit such visitation.[11]

12. On 13 March 2026, CDR Flanagan had a negative interaction with another defense attorney visiting the brig in which the topic of "contact visits" for defense attorneys was discussed. While this would not necessarily be relevant to CSSN Copeland's case- the brig OIC went out of his way to note that he had "rescinded "Copeland's" ability to have contact visits." Importantly, the attorney he was speaking with is in no way affiliated with CSSN Copeland's defense team.[12]

13. The interaction with the brig OIC was perceived as "extremely aggressive." The brig OIC also stated words to the effect that "You lawyers are all the same." The subject of contact visits prompted the brig OIC to make more loud and aggressive comments regarding his frustration with attorneys attempting to have contact visits with their clients.[13]

14. The brig OIC concluded the interaction by expressing that "[the inmate] murdered and dismembered someone so he's not getting contact visits;" and that he "testified before, I don't care" when informed this would likely be subject to further litigation.[14]

15. CDR Flanagan appears to have assumed the inflexible and unassailable position that allegations equal criminality despite the presumption of innocence and the fact that those in his charge are being held in pre-trial confinement. It also appears that he currently has, and openly exhibits, an animosity towards defense attorneys attempting to best serve their clients. It has now become clear that his animus towards counsel has become an operative fact in the way he treats the inmates at NAVCON brig Chesapeake.

16. When meeting with CSSN Copeland in the "no-contact room," which is currently the only approved method for him to meet with his attorneys, CSSN Copeland has expressed that he does not feel like he can speak freely; that he believes the brig staff are listening to his conversations. Further, he does not feel he can accept or maintain legal documents for fear that the guards are going to read or confiscate them, as they have done in the past.[15]

17. CSSN Copeland's belief that brig staff are attempting to listen to his conversations is not unfounded. He experienced this firsthand after a conversation with his attorneys in the PTC room aboard Naval Station Norfolk and Building A-50, when guards commented on the conversation he had just had with his attorneys. And also, subsequently, when confronted by other trial teams about their proximity to the "no contact room"(at NAVCON brig) while attorney client meetings are occurring, brig staff have indicated that watching and "overhearing [attorney client communication] was their job."[16]

LAW

The Defense incorporates the statement of the law provided in the initial filing.

ARGUMENT

CSSN Copeland deserves humane treatment despite the allegations made against him. The entirety of his pre-trial incarceration has deprived him of humane treatment which constitutes illegal pre-trial punishment under Article 13, UCMJ.

Article 13 prohibits punishment of an accused prior to a full and fair trial, with its attendant constitutional protections and presumptions. Conditions of pre-trial confinement that are beyond the scope of what is necessary to ensure the accused's presence for trial stray from a proper function into the realm of unduly harsh and onerous punishments prohibited by Article 13.

CSSN Copeland has been the subject of one disciplinary infraction the entire time he has been in the brig. That infraction? Disrespect. CSSN Copeland has not demonstrated violent tendencies, has not engaged in any physical altercations with guards or anyone else, and has not threatened the peace or safety at NAVCON Brig Chesapeake. CSSN Copeland had been in solitary confinement for 240+ days at the time he vented his frustration to his jailers; 240 days of limited human interaction, meals alone in his cell, limited recreation or exercise ability. CSSN has not been the subject of any other disciplinary actions since that "disrespect" on 10 February 2026.

There need not be an intent to punish in order for this Court to find that the conditions experienced by CSSN Copeland are unduly harsh or rigorous and beyond what is required to secure his participation at trial. As with the initial filing in this matter, the conditions of CSSN

[15] Enclosure U: Copeland Affidavit. This issue has been previously raised by the defense in this case. Despite the Court's finding that the 6th Amendment right to counsel was not infringed by these requirements, the defense maintains that CSSN Copeland, among other inmates, have experienced a "chilling effect" related to their ability to meaningfully participate in their defense when not able to speak to counsel "face to face."

Copeland's incarceration remain unduly harsh and have preceded any finding of guilt- the very definition of illegal punishment.

The totality of circumstances demonstrates the unduly harsh and rigorous conditions put in place without an "individualized demonstration" of cause:[17]

a. The arbitrary assignment to and continuation of "maximum custody" classification. The duration of CSSN Copeland's pre-trial incarceration has been defined by the allegations on the charge sheet and the brig OIC's speculation about "what if" something happened. This speculation and assignment are directly contrary to the relevant and available evidence. CSSN Copeland has been peaceful, non-violent, and has not demonstrated a threat to the safety of any other inmate or guard during his almost 366 days of pre-trial confinement.

The nature of the allegations in this case coupled with the brig OIC's perception of the alleged crime (informed by his own viewing of media reports)[18] led to CSSN Copeland's ongoing placement in maximum custody/solitary confinement. A placement which surely operates to the detriment of his mental health and has not produced any corresponding threat to safety or security within NAVCON Brig Chesapeake.[19]

b. Maximum custody classification for CSSN Copeland has also operated to the detriment of his 6th Amendment right to counsel. It is recognized that an incarcerated individual has a more challenging time participating in their defense, and here, CSSN Copeland has faced an uphill battle since the inception of his case.[20] CSSN Copeland does not feel secure in maintaining legal documents at the brig because early in the process his materials were reviewed and confiscated.

As part of his classification, brig guards maintain line of sight and stay within earshot of everything that CSSN Copeland does, including attorney-client meetings, while at the brig and at A-50 with the pre-trial confinement room.[21] Brig staff have even indicated that it is "their job" to watch and listen, a clear infringement of the 6th Amendment right to counsel and infringement upon the attorney client privilege.

c. The brig OIC has demonstrated disdain for the defense counsel in this case, and it appears his frustrations with counsel in this case have spilled over into his communications with other attorneys unrelated to this case. It is unclear whether the OIC's position regarding defense counsel for CSSN Copeland has now impacted his decision-making process regarding CSSN Copeland's continued classification as maximum custody. What is clear is that the brig OIC believes that defense counsel, serving the best interests of their clients, are questioning his authority to run the brig as he sees fit; instead of what is actually occurring- the enforcement of constitutional protections and the presumption of innocence that must be afforded to those being held in pre-trial confinement.

[20] Berta v. United States, 9 M.J. 390, 393 (C.M.A. 1980) (mem.).

d. There is no way for CSSN Copeland to have his custody classification reduced. The nature of his charges, standing alone, preclude any reduction in his status.[22] At the time of trial, CSSN Copeland will have effectively spent 366 days in solitary confinement. It should not be surprising that during that time his mental health was strained and he was frustrated, but most importantly he has not lashed out a single time. CSSN Copeland is simply not the threat the brig OIC perceives him to be based upon the charged allegations. Despite this clear and abundant evidence, the brig OIC remains committed to ensuring CSSN Copeland remains in maximum custody.

No personalized determination of necessity, no presumption of innocence, no correlation between classification and the available evidence, and no chance to ever have his classification reduced. CSSN Copeland, regardless of what he charged with, has been punished before he ever gets his day in court. It is of no merit whether he is headed for trial on the merits or for a guilty plea hearing, Article 13 prohibits exactly the type of punishment he has already received in this case.

The facts of CSSN Copeland's case and treatment parallel to multiple other cases of inmates held in maximum custody at NAVCON Brig Chesapeake. Those cases have yielded months of administrative credit for the inmates involved, and yet, the brig has taken little to no action to rectify what has been judicially determined to be illegal punishment. In fact, the trial counsel in this case knew about these cases, the Court knows about these cases, CDR Flanagan's predecessor certainly knew of these cases after testifying multiple times, but for whatever reason CDR Flanagan has testified to this Court that he was simply unaware of them- this strains credulity. CSSN Copeland deserves to be treated with humanity and dignity despite the allegations against him. He has not been afforded that, and the remedy is three-for-one credit, on top of time served credit, for the time he has spent arbitrarily classified as a "maximum custody" inmate.

RELIEF REQUESTED

The defense amends its requested relief as follows:

9 June 2025- 9 June 2026: 366 days- Day for Day credit for time served in pre-trial confinement

9 June 2025- 9 June 2026: 1098 days - Three for One Administrative credit for illegal pretrial punishment.

| UNITED STATESv.DC3 RUDOLPH P. REIMONENQ IV,U.S. Coast Guard | RULING on Defense Motion for Appropriate Relief (Confinement Credit)14 March 2025 |

1. Relief Sought

The Defense filed a motion for administrative credit for various alleged violations of Article 13, UCMJ. AE 46. The Government filed a response opposing the Defense motion. AE 48. An Article 39(a) session was held to hear arguments on this motion on 28 January 2025.

2. Issues Presented

a. Did the Government violate Article 13, UCMJ, when it placed and kept the accused as a maximum-security prisoner, and, if so, what administrative credit is the accused entitled to, if any?

b. Did the Government violate Article 13, UCMJ, when it kept the accused shackled during his Article 32, UCMJ, preliminary hearing, and, if so, what administrative credit is the accused entitled to, if any?

c. Did the Government violate Article 13, UCMJ, when it failed to provide the accused a Coast Guard uniform for his Article 32, UCMJ, preliminary hearing, and, if so, what administrative credit is the accused entitled to, if any?

3. Findings of Fact

In reaching its findings of fact and conclusions of law, the Court considered all legal and competent evidence presented and the reasonable inferences drawn therefrom and resolved all issues of credibility. The Court finds the following facts by a preponderance of the evidence.

a. Procedural History

(1) DC3 Rudolph Reimonenq, USCG, is accused of attempted premeditated murder, two specifications of carrying a concealed weapon, and one specification of dereliction of duty. The charges and specifications arise from an incident when the Accused brought a rifle, revolver and ammunition with him when he reported to duty aboard the United States Coast Guard Cutter (USCGC) LEGARE in the early morning hours of 26 March 2024. The accused later admitted to CGIS that he intended to kill the Commanding Officer of the Legare.

(2) The accused was ordered into Pre-Trial Confinement (PTC) at NCBC DET Chesapeake on 28 March 2024. He has remained in PTC since that time.

b. NCBC DET Chesapeake

(1) The Naval Consolidated brig in Chesapeake, Virginia, is a brig detachment under the supervision of NCBC (NCBC), South Carolina. NCBC DET Chesapeake does not have an independent Commanding Officer (CO). Instead, it has an Officer-in-Charge (OIC) that is subordinate to the Commanding Officer of NCBC.

(2) CDR IM is the OIC for NCBC DET Chesapeake. He reports to CDR JB as the CO for NCBC.

(3) CDR IM testified that on 28 January 2025 there were 14 prisoners housed at NCBC DET Chesapeake, which is a typical number for that facility.

(4) CDR IM's career has been as a Navy helicopter pilot. His current assignment is the first in the Military corrections field. In addition to a generic leadership course offered to all entering a command position, CDR IM also attended a Brig Officer Management course, which was either 4 or 5 days.

(5) Similarly, CDR JB's background has not been in military corrections, instead he entered his current position after a career as a Surface Warfare Officer.

(6) Both NCBC and NCBC DET Chesapeake have civilian corrections professionals to advise the command on corrections matters and corrections policy. Ms. RR is the Technical Director for NCBC, and Mr. PM is the Program and Service Department Head at NCBC DET Chesapeake. He also serves as the Facilities Manager and the Safety Manager.

c. Prisoner custody classification

(1) Medium-In (MDI)

(a) MDI is the lowest level of classification for a pre-trial confinee.

(b) Generally, an MDI prisoner is in their cell overnight from 2130 until 0530. Once they wake up, an MDI prisoner exits their cell and remains outside of it until they go back in at 2130.

(c) An MDI prisoner is not required to wear restraints while moving within the brig, and there are generally no restrictions on their interactions with other prisoners.

(d) An MDI prisoner will work in assigned work details from after breakfast until approximately 1530.

(e) After 1530, MDI prisoners get to participate in rec call, where they can work out or play sports with other prisoners.

(f) After dinner (generally around 1700), prisoners can enjoy personal time until they must return to their cells at 2130. During personal time MDI prisoners can be outside of their cells in their housing unit, watch TV, make phone calls, or talk with other prisoners.

(g) MDI prisoners are permitted to have contact visits with family and counsel.

(2) Maximum (MAX)

(a) MAX prisoners are confined to their cells for up to 22 hours a day. They are permitted one hour of recreation, and one hour of personal time. Both recreation time and personal time are performed alone without any other interaction with other prisoners.[1]

(b) MAX prisoners are not permitted to make contact with anyone other than the brig staff. Brig staff must physically observe a MAX prisoner every 15 minutes and record their observations on a DD 509 form.

(c) MAX prisoners eat all of their meals in their cell.

(d) MAX prisoners are fully restrained (hand irons, leg irons, and transport belt) and escorted by two brig staff members when outside of their housing unit – even within the brig's fenceline. They are not required to wear restraints during their recreational or personal time; however, they must be restrained and escorted to the recreation yard.

(e) Only a military judge or the brig OIC can order a MAX prisoner's restraints removed.[2]

(f) MAX prisoners may not have any contact visits with either family or counsel, which means a MAX prisoner must be separated from their

[1] CDR IM testified that MAX prisoners were permitted additional personal time if there were sufficient staff resources to support it.
[2] MAX prisoners may move unrestrained in emergency situations.

visitor by some form of partition.

(3) Classification & Adjustment (C&A) Board

(a) Each brig is required to have a C&A Board which must meet daily (excluding weekends and holidays). The board evaluates the classification status for each prisoner, generally once every 30 days or at the prisoner's request, using objective criteria:

| 5. CLASSIFICATION CRITERIA (Enter point values) |
|---|
| a. OFFENSE SEVERITY = 1 - 8 |

| i. PENDING CHARGES/WARRANTS/DETAINERSNO = 0 YES = ENTER POINTS FOR OFFENSE SEVERITY CODE (See DoDI 1325.07, Severity Code Tables) |
| j. TOTAL POINTS |

(b) After adding up the points assigned to the objective criteria, the C&A board can recommend reduction in classification (for 0-6 points), remain the same (7-10 points), or increase the classification (11 or more points).

(c) There are also subjective criteria which the board can use to override the recommendation generated by the objective criteria. To override a reduction in classification, the board may consider the following:

i. Assaultive behavior;

ii. Disruptive behavior;

iii. Serious drug abuse;

iv. Serious civil or military criminal record (convicted or alleged);

v. Low tolerance of frustration;

vi. Intensive acting out or dislike of the military;

vii. History of previous escape(s); viii. Pending civil charges or detainers filed;

ix. Serving a sentence that the individual considers unjust or severe;

x. Poor home conditions or family relationships;

xi. Emotional or mental instability;

xii. Indication of unwillingness to accept responsibility for personal actions, past and present;

xiii. Demonstrated pattern of poor judgment;

xiv. Length, or potential length, of sentence;

xv. Gang affiliation or ties with disruptive organizations;

xvi. Awaiting transfer;

xvii. A sentence length exceeding the designated length of confinement authorized at the MCF; and xviii. Refusal to accept or participate in recommended treatment or education programs.[3]

(d) To override an increase in classification, the board may consider the following:

i. Clear military record, aside from present offense;

ii. Close family ties - good home conditions;

iii. The offense(s) charged is not serious;

iv. Emotional and mental stability;

v. Comparatively short sentence to confinement; however, length of sentence will not be a sole overriding factor;

vi. Behavior during confinement, and

vii. Successful completion of, or active participation in, offense-related treatment programs or groups.

(e) Finally, the facility commander may override the C&A board's recommendation using the same criteria.

d. Navy & NCBC policies

(1) Navy Corrections policy

(a) Section 4202 of SECNAVINST M1640.1 addresses classification criteria. It notes that "Ultra-conservative custody classification results in a waste of prisoner and staff manpower. … Classification systems must follow established, but flexible, procedures." It also states that "Prisoners will be placed in a lower custody classification as soon as practical and as warranted."

[3] Pre-Trial Confinees are generally ineligible to participate in treatment programs.

(2) NCBC policy

(a) NCBC has a policy that any pre-trial confinee who is charged with a "serious crime" will be classified as a MAX prisoner.

(b) This policy is not written. CDR IM testified that CDR JB relayed to them that "most people who are accused of murder, they're normal, they have a bad day and then something bad happens," and that they were going to keep those accused of murder classified as MAX prisoners to keep everybody safe, both staff and prisoners.

(c) There was no evidence of data supporting CDR JB's assertion that, as a general matter, prisoners accused of murder were more likely to do "something bad" and that they posed a safety risk for brig staff and inmates.[4]

(d) Further, as the policy was not written, there was not a definition of "serious crime," however, CDR IM understood that murder and attempted murder qualified as "serious."

(e) At the time the accused was ordered into PTC, CDR IM was not aware of this policy. In June 2024 there was a use-of-force incident with a different pre-trial confinee accused of a serious crime that brought to light NCBC DET Chesapeake's non-compliance with NCBC's policy.

e. The accused's confinement at NCBC DET Chesapeake

(1) When the accused was ordered into PTC, the confinement order specified he was suspected of violating Articles 80 (attempted murder), 92 (failing to obey an order or regulation), 114 (endangerment offenses) and 115 (communicating a threat), UCMJ.

(2) Because NCBC DET Chesapeake was not classifying pre-trial confinees accused of serious crimes as MAX prisoners, the accused was initially classified as an MDI inmate.

(3) From 28 Mar 2024 until 19 July 2024 the accused performed as an MDI prisoner without any disciplinary incidents.

(4) On 19 July 2024 the accused was served with the preferred charge sheet. At that point, the NCBC DET Chesapeake staff and OIC realized he had been

[4] The only evidence in the record of a pre-trial confinee acting in a manner that threatened other staff or prisoners occurred in June, 2024, when HM3 Pate (another pre-trial confinee accused of a serious offense) had an adverse interaction with a staff member. However, the evidence is not clear about whether the staff member bore some responsibility for instigating the incident, and, in any event, the staff member involved did not regard the prisoner as a physical threat.

misclassified and reclassified the accused to a MAX prisoner.[5]

(5) At the following C&A board on 20 Aug 2024, the board recommended again reclassifying the accused to an MDI prisoner. The OIC overrode the board's recommendation and ordered the accused remain as a MAX prisoner.

(6) At every subsequent C&A board (occurring approximately every 30 days), the board recommended downgrading the accused's classification to MDI. Every time the OIC overrode the board's recommendation and ordered the accused remain a MAX prisoner.[6] At times, the OIC noted the seriousness of the crime as the justification, others he merely noted that the accused should "remain MAX." The OIC was unaware of the specifics of the accused's offense, only that he was accused of attempted pre-meditated murder.

(7) In November 2024, the licensed clinical social worker assigned to NCBC DET Chesapeake informed the OIC of the following concern:

> Based on a brief assessment that was conducted recently with SNP Reimonenq, SNP is demonstrating/expressing an increased level of emotional [decompensation] due to being isolated and confined in a cell for an [extended] period of time. In my clinical judgement, SNP Reimonenq would benefit from increased interaction with others to reduce [further] decompensation.

(8) In each of the DD Form 2711-1 documenting the accused's C&A board results, the board noted the accused was dealing with mental health challenges.

(9) Mr. PM disagrees with the NCBC's policy about keeping prisoners accused of serious crimes as MAX prisoners. He termed the policy "cookie cutter" and expressed concerns about being unable to justify the decisions based upon the prisoner's observed behavior.

f. The Article 32 hearing

(1) On 9 October 2024, CDR KW presided over an Article 32, UCMJ, hearing into the charges against the accused.

[5] At the C&A board that led to the accused's reclassification to a MAX prisoner, the board had to recommend overriding the objective criteria because, based upon his lack of disciplinary issues since being confined, the objective criteria directed that his classification remain the same (i.e. MDI). The OIC concurred with the board's recommendation.

[6] Prior to the Article 39(a) session where this motion was litigated, the OIC again overrode the C&A board's recommendation on 13 Jan 2025. The C&A board's evaluation on 13 January 2025 noted the objective criteria—for the first time—should require the accused to remain in his current classification. However, the board overrode the objective criteria to recommend reclassification to MDI due to "period of observation and evaluation." The OIC overrode the board's recommendation.

(2) The hearing was conducted in the Coast Guard courtroom in Main Street Tower in Norfolk, VA. The hearing was open to the public and members of the public attended the hearing, including members of the accused's family.

(3) By agreement of the parties, CDR KW participated remotely, as did civilian defense counsel. Detailed defense counsel was present with the accused.

(4) The accused was attired in a brown prisoner's uniform and remained shackled throughout the proceeding.

(5) Defense counsel requested that the shackles be removed. Government counsel joined in this request. However, the brig personnel refused to do so because it was not a "court proceeding" and the Preliminary Hearing Officer was not a judge.

(6) At the outset of the hearing, CDR KW noted that the accused was not attired in the proper uniform but noted that he would take into consideration the fact that the accused was a third-class petty officer in the Coast Guard and also took note of his awards.

(7) Shortly before he was ordered into PTC, the accused was re-assigned to LANTAREA. In July 2024, the LANT staff received notice that the Legare command had sent the accused's personal effects to his mother in Louisiana, however, they were unaware that his personal effects included his uniforms.

(8) The accused did not ask the LANT staff about his uniforms for upcoming proceedings during their weekly brig visits. Neither the LANT legal staff nor Government counsel asked the accused new command (i.e. LANT-1) about his uniforms.[7]

(9) The accused was in the proper uniform for all subsequent court-martial proceedings.

4. Principles of Law

a. Burden

As the moving party, the Defense bears the burden of persuasion by a preponderance of the evidence. R.C.M. 905(c).

[7] While there isn't direct evidence that the LANT legal staff or government counsel engaged with LANT-1 about the accused's uniforms, given the commendable efforts expended by the LANT-1 staff to ensure the accused was properly attired for his court-martial, the Court infers that no such inquiries were made prior to the Article 32 hearing.

b. Article 13

Article 13, UCMJ provides that:

> No person, while being held for trial, may be subjected to punishment or penalty other than arrest or confinement upon the charges pending against him, nor shall the arrest or confinement imposed upon him be any more rigorous than the circumstances required to insure his presence, but he may be subjected to minor punishment during that period for infractions of discipline.

"Article 13, UCMJ prohibits two things: (1) the imposition of punishment prior to trial, and (2) conditions of arrest or pretrial confinement that are more rigorous than necessary to ensure the accused's presence for trial." United States v. King, 61 M.J. 225, 227 (C.A.A.F. 2005).

A service member may not be detained under conditions that amount to punishment prior to trial. United States v. James, 28 M.J. 214, 215 (C.M.A. 1989). One significant factor in determining whether the conditions or terms of confinement violate Article 13 is the intent of the detention officials. Id. at 216. Thus, "[a] court must decide whether the disability is imposed for...punishment or whether it is but an incident of some other legitimate governmental purpose." Id. (quoting Bell v. Wolfish, 441 U.S. 520, 538 (1979). In United States v. Howell, 75 M.J. 386 (C.A.A.F. 2016), the court held that for an Article 13 violation to occur the record "must disclose an intent to punish on the part of the Government."

If there was not an intent to punish, the court must then decide whether the government action furthered a legitimate, non-punitive government interest. Id. at 393. Irrespective of the intent to punish, Article 13 may still be violated if the activity serves no legitimate, non-punitive purpose. Id. This analysis is exclusive to the intent of the government's action and is not informed by the impact of the action, even if punitive in nature. Id. at 393-94.

Confinement in violation of service regulations does not create a per se entitlement to relief but can shed light on whether impermissible intent to punish should be attributed to confinement officials. A command's disregard for service regulations may lead a military court to infer an improper purpose, such as to punish, even where an accused's status as a flight risk or a threat of continuing misconduct justifies the decision to confine him. United States v. West, No. 201200189, 2013 WL 1209934, at *4 (N-M. Ct. Crim. App. Mar. 21, 2013).

5. Analysis

a. The accused's continued classification as a MAX prisoner did not further a legitimate government interest

As an initial matter, there was no evidence presented that the NCBC classification policy was intended to punish the accused, and the Defense disclaimed any such claim. Therefore, the Court may only find a violation of Article 13 if the continued classification of the accused as a MAX prisoner did not serve a legitimate government interest.

The Court finds that the initial classification of a prisoner accused of a serious crime to a MAX prisoner to serve a legitimate government interest. The concerns articulated by the NCBC DET Chesapeake OIC (albeit vaguely) could be present when a member is placed in pre-trial confinement for serious crimes, and those factors are also captured in the SECNAVINST (seriousness of the alleged crimes and potential sentence). This interest is heightened at the imposition of confinement because the brig staff lack information about how the confinee will react to being incarcerated.

In this case, though, prior to reclassifying the accused as a MAX prisoner, they had nearly four months of data on how the accused responded to incarceration, during which the accused had no disciplinary infractions. Nonetheless, the Court is loath to second-guess brig staff in ensuring they were following their parent command's policies for classifying prisoners, especially where the initial classification furthers a legitimate government interest.

However, the Court finds the continued classification of the accused in face of repeated recommendations from corrections professionals to downgrade his status to MDI does not serve a legitimate governmental interest. The C&A board's repeated recommendations to return the accused to MDI status undercuts the government's theory that prisoners accused of serious crimes "might" pose to staff and other prisoners. It does so because the objective criteria not only consider the seriousness of the crime (the only source for the government's concern)[8] as well as the observations of this particular accused.

The legitimate government concern is further undercut by the informality and lack of support of the NCBC policy. While a formally issued (and presumably legally reviewed) policy may not overcome the persistent recommendations of the C&A board (based upon repeated interactions with the accused), the fact that the policy was communicated to the NCBC DET Chesapeake OIC orally with scanty support weakens the government's purported interest.

Finally, while the SECNAVINST does permit overriding of the objective classification recommendation based upon the seriousness of the crime and the potential length of the sentence, the SECNAVINST also directs that classification should follow "established, but flexible, procedures." Further, the SECNAVINST commands that "Prisoners will be placed in a lower custody classification as soon as practical and as warranted." (emphasis added). NCBC's policy is anything but flexible, as the OIC testified that there was no circumstance where the accused would be eligible for a lower classification.

[8] The Court does not minimize the seriousness of the crimes with which the accused has been charged. However, the charge of attempted premeditated murder can encompass a wide range of conduct, from arriving at a location with the means and motive to kill an individual to grievously injuring the victim (while not causing the victim's death). The fact the OIC was unaware of the facts of the accused's alleged conduct and thus could not take that into account in his classification decision, further detracts from the government's asserted interest.

Having found a violation of Article 13, the Court must determine the appropriate credit to be awarded. As an initial matter, the accused was confined for 22 hours each day, as compared with 8 for a typical MDI prisoner, resulting in the accused spending 175% more time locked in his cell (22 hours is 175% of 8 hours). However, a credit of only 1.75 days for each day in MAX after 20 August 2024 doesn't adequately encompass the additional hardships imposed upon the accused, because the accused was also denied the opportunity to interact with other prisoners in social settings. This restriction has caused psychological harm. Further, it is harm that was made known to the brig command. Additionally, his status has prevented him from contact visitation with his family and his attorneys. Thus, the Court finds that an appropriate amount of credit is 3 days for each day after 20 August 2024, resulting in 438 days of confinement credit.[9]

b. Shackling of the accused during the Article 32 hearing furthered a legitimate government objective

The SECNAVINST restricts who may order restraints removed from a MAX prisoner, limiting it to Brig command staff and a military judge. In doing so, it furthers a legitimate government objective to maintain security over a prisoner who, by some criteria, is deemed to be a danger to himself or others. Additionally, it avoids having the brig chasers make case-by-case determinations and prevents any arguments from strong willed advocates from swaying either junior personnel or the brig staff.

The defense arguments to the contrary are unpersuasive. First, even though an Article 32 hearing is a legal proceeding, the PHO is not a military judge and thus does not meet the objective criteria outline in the SECNAVINST. Second, the rules cited in the defense motion apply before courts-martial, and not any legal proceeding. The accused is not entitled to credit for being shackled during the Article 32 hearing.

c. Forcing the accused to appear in a prisoner's uniform at his Article 32 hearing did not further a legitimate government objective

As an initial matter, the Court does not find an intent to punish the accused by forcing him to wear a prisoner's uniform to his Article 32 hearing. As is clear from the affidavit submitted by Mr. TL of LANT-1, once alerted to the accused's lack of uniforms took appropriate measures to ensure the accused was appropriately attired, evincing a lack of intent to punish.

Even assuming, as the Court does, that the government's inability to ensure the accused had access to his uniforms was an oversight, it nonetheless decided to proceed with the Article 32 hearing with the accused in a prisoner's uniform. While it is true that the accused (and Defense counsel) agreed to go forward with the accused attired in a prisoner's uniform, the accused should not have been put into that position. When it imposes pre-trial confinement, the government has a responsibility to ensure the accused is attired in the proper uniform.[10] Further, they had 195 days from when they imposed pre-trial confinement and 83 days from when they preferred charges to ensure the accused had a proper Coast Guard uniform.

The government's decision to proceed is mitigated somewhat by the accused not inquiring about his uniforms during the weekly command brig visits because a military member bears responsibility to appear in the prescribed uniform of the day.

Nonetheless, the lion's share of the responsibility falls upon the government, a responsibility they failed to uphold (albeit without any malice towards the accused). In so doing, they did not further any legitimate government objective and thus violated Article 13. The accused shall be awarded an additional 4 days of confinement credit.

6. Conclusions of Law

a. The Government violated Article 13 by continuing to classify the accused as a MAX prisoner after 20 August 2024 and until and including 13 January 2025. The accused shall be awarded 438 days of confinement credit.

b. The Government did not violate Article 13 when the accused remained shackled for his Article 32 hearing.

c. The Government violated Article 13 when it failed to provide the accused with a proper Coast Guard uniform. The accused shall be awarded 4 days of confinement credit.

[10] The Court takes judicial notice of Article 1.F.5.e of the Coast Guard Discipline and Conduct Manual, COMDTINST M1600.2(series), which states that "Prisoners shall be delivered in the appropriate Service Dress uniform," and "Accordingly, it is important that the prisoner be delivered with a sufficiently full seabag to sustain his/her needs during the anticipated period of confinement."

7. Ruling and Order

The Defense motion is GRANTED IN PART and DENIED IN PART, consistent with the above conclusions of law.

So ordered this 14th day of March, 2025.

Good Morning Counsel,

The Court was intending to wait until trial to notify the parties of its Ruling on this motion, however in light of your request the court provides the following NOTICE OF RULING:

The Court finds that the reclassification to maximum by the brig on 18 September 2024 based soley on the Accused's offense severity was a violation of Article 13 and constituted illegal pretrial punishment. The Court orders an additional two for one credit for the time between and including 18 September 2024 and his release from PTC on 4 November 2024. This is a total of 48 days at two for one, for a total of 96 days. This is in addition to the one-for-one Allen credit for that same time period. Thus, the Court will add 96 days to the existing 393 days of pretrial credit under United States v. Allen which includes Pate's initial civilian confinement on the same charges (which began on 9 Oct 2023) that are the subject of this court-martial before he entered into Navy custody. The court calculates a total of 489 days of total credit.

The court will provide its findings of fact and conclusions of law at the next 39a.

TITLE: PRISONER RULES AND REGULATIONS

Ref: (a) SECNAV M-1640.1

Encl: (1) Naval Consolidated Brig Charleston, Detachment Chesapeake Prisoner Rules and Regulations

1. Purpose. To publish the Prisoner Rules and Regulations handbook.

2. Cancellation. The Prisoner Rules and Regulations cancels and supersedes the previous Prisoner Rules and Regulations published April 2019 Revision 4 and should be read in its entirety.

3. Effective Date. Effective upon signature.

4. Applicability. To all staff, volunteers and prisoners.

5. Policy. Enclosure (1) is the updated Prisoner Rules and Regulations for Naval Consolidated Brig Chesapeake.

6. Procedures. The Programs and Services Department will collate all updates to the Prisoner Rules and Regulations as needed and recommend revision as required.

7. Records Management. Records created as a result of this instruction, regardless of media and format, must be managed per Secretary of the Navy Manual 5210.1 of January 2012.

8. Review and Effective Date. Per OPNAVINST 5215.17A, NAVCONBRIG Chesapeake will review this instruction annually on the anniversary of the effective date to ensure applicability, currency, and consistency with Federal, DoD, SECNAV, and Navy policy and statutory authority using OPNAV 5215/40 Review of Instruction. This instruction will automatically expire 5 years after effective date unless reissued or otherwise canceled prior to the 5-year anniversary date, or an extension has been granted.

SECTION 1 - GENERAL INFORMATION

Ref: (a) SECNAV M-1640.1

1. It is the Secretary of the Navy's policy that the treatment of all persons in naval confinement facilities is uniform and in full accord with the provisions of the Uniform Code of Military Justice (UCMJ) and SECNAV M-1640.1.

2. You are now legally confined in Naval Consolidated Brig Charleston, Detachment Chesapeake(NCBC Det Chesapeake). You are here as a result of a court-martial, detained as a Pre-Trial Prisoner to await legal action, or awaiting transfer to another activity. You have been confined AS punishment and not FOR punishment. It is the brig's responsibility to ensure you are treated in a fair and humane manner. You will be safe, protected, and provided all basic necessities. It is YOUR responsibility to abide by ALL the rules, regulations, and orders contained herein and as issued by brig staff. It is also your responsibility to ensure you expend every effort to derive all possible benefit from the programs available to you. You are strongly encouraged to take advantage of every positive opportunity available to you and to use your confinement time to start building a more productive life.

3. Unless otherwise stated, from this point forward the word "prisoner" includes both pre-trial prisoners and post-trial prisoners.

4. While in confinement, you are required to adhere to the Brig Rules and Regulations as outline herein. Failure to follow these policies or failure to obey the orders of brig staff may be punishable under administrative, disciplinary, and/or management actions. There are three "basic rules" that you will remain in strict compliance with at all times. Any violations of the regulations concerning these actions may be considered a direct threat against public safety:

a. Do not escape, attempt to escape, or aid another to escape.

b. Do not have contraband in your possession.

c. Do not engage in or contribute to disruptive behavior.

5. The principle goal of NCBC Det Chesapeake is to assist you in your restoration to honorable service, or to return you to civilian life as a productive citizen. Our programs provide an environment where positive change is possible. These programs are designed to encourage you to develop or re-affirm a favorable attitude toward yourself, the military service, and society. What you choose to take with you when you leave this facility is in large part up to YOU. You are strongly encouraged to take advantage of every opportunity available to you and use this situation to start building a more positive and productive life. In short, you are being offered a "hand up," not a "hand out." There is much available to you, but it must be earned. You must choose it or earn it.

6. Any changes to the Prisoner Rules and Regulations will be briefed by a unit staff, posted for all to see and included in the next revision of this publication.

102. Chain of Command

The Officer-in-Charge (OIC) has established a chain of command within the brig to ensure orderly administration and operation. You will resolve the great majority of your issues with your unit staff. If your problem requires the attention of a staff member outside of your unit staff, follow the procedures in Article 608 concerning the submission of DD Form 510 (See Appendix C). There is NO requirement for the Command Duty Officer (CDO) to personally respond to your request for a personal interview. The Quarters Supervisor or other staff may convey concerns to the CDO, who will determine the appropriate response. You will follow the last order given, regardless if you agree with it or not. Attach correspondence to the chain of command to a DD Form 510 for an orderly processing of the request/information.

103. Action

1. This order contains information essential to your welfare and proper conduct. STUDY IT CAREFULLY. This Rules and Regulations has been issued to you and is an official document and shall be treated as such. You are not permitted to write in, remove or alter any part of this document. Failure to follow this order will be considered "damaging or destroying property," and will result in a Disciplinary Report (see Appendix G). You must retain it in your possession and return it upon release of confinement.

2. By cooperating fully, following orders and obeying rules, each individual is preparing themselves for an improved future and successful release from confinement. Failure to comply with this order may result in administrative or disciplinary proceedings under these rules and/or the UCMJ.

3. Should you lose your issued copy of the Prisoner Rules and Regulations while in confinement, you are required to immediately notify Brig staff for a replacement copy.

SECTION 2 - CONDUCT AND BEHAVIOR

201. General

1. While confined, you are expected to maintain the highest standards of military discipline and appearance. Confined personnel retain all of the rights, privileges, and responsibilities of other servicemembers in duty status, except those which are expressly, or by implication, taken away by the UCMJ and such regulations as may be issued by competent authority. (See Article 202 below for a list and description of such rights).

2. The rules and regulations contained in this handbook are for guidance during your stay at this brig. They list and describe general rules to be followed. They are for information, guidance, and compliance by ALL prisoners and do not exclude punishment for unlisted acts or omissions which are prejudicial to good order and discipline.

3. Rules cannot be established to govern every situation nor can every institutional rule be included in this handbook. Basic common sense and compliance with orders are the keys to success. If you are unsure about the appropriate action to take or do not understand any part of this regulation seek clarification from your unit staff. Changes, clarifications and additional rules and regulations will be provided by:

a. Updates to this handbook posted in the Quarters Supervisor's Rules and Regulations binder desk copy. You may ask to view these updates.

b. Notices posted on unit bulletin boards. A hardcopy of changes is maintained within each housing unit.

4. Incentives. Tangible and intangible opportunities, beyond the scope of privileges, available within the confinement facility's corrections program to encourage and motivate positive attitude, behavior, and accomplishment. Incentives recognize both individual and group attainment. The ultimate goals are to build self-discipline and self-reliance in the individual/group and improve the functioning of the brig. Incentives are not associated with authorized disciplinary actions but may be applicable or affected as a related management action as implemented within confinement facility policy and procedures. (Appendix D and section 604)

5. Privileges. Privileges are services that are not, by law or policy, considered to be an essential service. Privileges are benefits afforded to you over and above minimum statutory requirements. Privileges in corrections serve as a practical method of reducing your tension and motivating positive behavior. You can lose a privilege, or privileges, as a result of punishment for a rules violation, but only after a due process hearing [e.g.,

Disciplinary and Adjustment (D&A) Board]. Privileges often include, but are not limited to: store [Health & Comfort (H&C)] visits, visitation, phone calls, television, radio, movies, recreation, special events, and special visits. Privileges are distinctly separate from incentives and identified as such, in writing, to staff and prisoners.

6. Mixed Gender Population. NCBC Det Chesapeake confines both male and female prisoners. What does this mean to you?

a. You will:

(1) Encounter prisoners and staff of the opposite gender at this facility.

(2) Be supervised by staff of the opposite gender. YOU WILL NEVER BE SUPERVISED BY STAFF OF THE OPPOSITE GENDER DURING TIMES WHEN NUDITY ROUTINELY OCCURS. Same-gender staff will be on watch in the units during routine times of nudity, for example shower call, or while changing clothes.

(3) Hear an opposite-gender staff member announce "MALE/FEMALE ON DECK" whenever they enter an opposite-gender area where routine nudity occurs. If you happen to be in any state of nudity (e.g., changing, using the toilet, etc.) you need to attempt to cover yourself and/or ensure the opposite sex staff are aware of your status.

(4) Be permitted to make verbal greetings related to work/program environment you are in. At no time will conversation with opposite-gender prisoners be casual or personal in nature.

(5) Understand accommodations have been made where cameras do not observe places of routine nudity.

b. You will not:

(1) Be permitted to work with the opposite-gender prisoners outside the security perimeter.

(2) Normally be placed in work/programming with mixed-gender prisoners. In those situations, where it does happen, it will be noted on the Prisoner Plan of the Day and/or specific restrictions will be enforced. Males and females will be physically separated by the assigned supervisor. All attempts will be made to have females assigned work in groups of 2 or more and receive separate work assignments while attaining the same certifications as males.

(3) Be frisked or strip-searched by an opposite-gender staff member except as necessary in the event of an emergency affecting safety and/or security.

(4) Initiate or involve yourself in unduly familiar relationships with staff, volunteers, or other prisoners.

(5) Engage in other unspecified behaviors that prejudice good order and discipline.

7. Now that you have been informed, you are equally responsible, as is staff, to ensure you do not place yourself into compromising situations that will be interpreted by staff as a violation of the above stated requirements.

202. Prisoner Rights

Your rights are an essential service that must be provided to you. Your rights are established in the Constitution of the United States and defined by Department of Defense (DOD), Secretary of the Navy (SECNAV), and other naval operating instructions. Your rights are not removed from you as punishment for a rules violation, but may be restricted when there is a legitimate penological interest, such as safety and security. Rights in confinement include, but are not limited to: minimum standard of living, freedom from discrimination on the basis of race, religion, creed, national origin, or sex, limited rights to practice speech and religion, prohibition of cruel and unusual punishment; duty to protect; due process in their right to administrative appeals; meals; health care; correspondence or other access to corresponding or consulting with counsel; and due process hearing for disciplinary actions.

203. Escape

1. Do not attempt to escape. Experience has proven such forced freedom or escape from confinement does not last long. Apprehension will be sure, usually swift, and will result in significant additional punishment.

2. Article 95 of the UCMJ provides for the following maximum punishment for escape: Dishonorable discharge, forfeiture of all pay and allowances and additional confinement for not less than one year. Escapes may also be charged under Article 85 UCMJ (Desertion).

3. Aiding or covering up the escape of another prisoner qualifies you as equally guilty of the offense and liable for the same maximum punishment.

204. Military Courtesy and Bearing

You shall always render military courtesies in accordance with customs, traditions, and usage in your service. All officers shall be addressed by "Sir" or "Ma'am", respectively. Civilians shall be addressed as Mr. or Ms., as appropriate and enlisted staff members by their rank i.e., Master Chief, Senior Chief, Chief, Petty Officer, Sergeant, Corporal, Senior Airman, etc., as appropriate. You are required to maintain a courteous military attitude in your contact with staff personnel including your language, bearing, and behavior. You will maintain a professional military demeanor when addressing staff with hands clasped behind and located at the small of the back.

1. Attention. You will immediately assume and maintain the position of attention whenever the command "Attention" or "Attention on Deck" is given. When placed at the position of attention, you will not move or talk unless directed to do so. When seated (except at meals), you shall rise when the OIC, Assistant Officer-in-Charge (AOIC), or an O-5 or above officer of any service enters the area. You shall remain at attention until the officer departs or you are directed to "carry on." When conversing with any commissioned or warrant officer, you will stand and come to attention, unless told to be seated.

2. Reporting. Any prisoner directed to report to any staff member or visiting official will report in an official manner. He or she will come to the position of attention and state their last name and "reporting as ordered." If reporting to an officer, the word "Sir" or "Ma'am" will be used in conjunction with your report (i.e., "Sir/Ma'am, prisoner DOE reporting as ordered."). All intercom communications will be in like fashion accompanied by specific request (e.g. Prisoner Name request to have the cell door opened).

3. Giving Way. If you are in a passageway or doorway, you will immediately give way (by stepping back away and standing still) in such a manner that an approaching officer or staff member can proceed on his/her way.

4. Head Covering. You shall wear the appropriate approved head covering at all times when outside the brig. You will remove your head covering when entering any building, or at any other time as directed by a staff member. Covers shall not be twirled or thrown. You will only wear covers authorized for wear with your work uniform. No altered covers are authorized at any time. If you are assigned specific work assignments (such as grounds crew), you may be provided unique head covers to protect you against prevailing environmental conditions. Such head covers shall ONLY be worn while actually performing specific work assignments.

1. Disobedience. Orders given by staff personnel (military or civilian) or written orders are not subject to argument, discussion or negotiation. Orders will be obeyed immediately and without question. If you feel you have been given an order that is unfair or unlawful you may submit a "Request for Interview (DD Form 510)," via the chain of command, after you have complied with the order. In cases of conflicting orders, you will obey the last order given. Do NOT question orders given by staff at the time of the order.

2. Provocation. Do NOT argue in any manner with staff personnel or volunteers. This includes being argumentative; using provoking, challenging, demanding, lewd, indecent, insulting, or threatening language, including threats to write Requests for Interview (DD Form 510); posturing in a threatening position; or making a threatening gesture. The explanation or excuse of "talking to yourself or another prisoner" is NOT acceptable.

3. Assault. You must NOT assault, attempt to injure, touch with any object, lay hands on, scuffle with, horseplay, spit toward, or brush up against staff members or volunteers.

4. Deception. You shall NOT deceive or mislead staff personnel or volunteers through actions, false statements, or in any other manner, which would prevent staff personnel or volunteers from knowing the true facts concerning any situation.

5. Bribery. DO NOT LEND any article, give, or make promise of gifts, perform personal services, or do anything which may be construed as an attempt to bribe or reward staff personnel or volunteers; nor request, seek, or knowingly receive any article or consideration (favor or special treatment) from staff personnel or volunteers.

6. Personally Identifiable Information (PII). Possession of staff, volunteer, or current or former prisoner addresses, pictures/photographs, email addresses, telephone numbers, Personal Identification Number (PIN), account numbers, computer access information codes, license numbers, or their family's information is strictly prohibited. You shall NOT provide this information to other prisoners. If you use, or are found in possession of this information in any form, you will be administratively processed for the following violations: Attempts (Category III, Rules Violation (Category III), and Trafficking (Category III).

7. Harassment. Any comment, conversation, question, or other communication (verbal or non-verbal expressions) intended to or which may reasonably be expected to anger, irritate, or demean a staff member. Such communications will be considered staff harassment, when directed to a staff member or to another, and overheard or observed by a staff member.

8. Contacting Staff. You shall NOT contact staff in writing, by telephone or through another person for personal communication. All staff contacts shall be solely related to official business.

9. Physical Contact. Any physical and/or sexual contact with staff is prohibited.

10. Disrespect. Disrespect shown toward any staff will NOT be tolerated. Talking back, being argumentative, name-calling, using profane language or gestures, etc. will result in disciplinary action.

11. Favors. Do NOT solicit from individual staff members or volunteers any letters of support or reference (such as for parole board packages), nor any favors (such as soft drinks, coffee, money, etc.). These examples are considered asking for favors and staff and volunteers are prohibited from providing such. Do NOT give gifts/favors to individual staff or volunteers or for an individual's office (such as work products, brig-raised flowers, or personal services) unless assigned/directed to do so by a staff supervisor.

206. Relations with Prisoners

1. Provocation. You shall NOT use provoking, insulting, threatening, indecent, lewd, racially-charged, sexual orientation or improper language or gestures toward another prisoner. Do NOT converse with another prisoner in an unusually loud or boisterous tone of voice.

2. Hazing. Any derogatory personal comments or behaviors against another prisoner regarding their race, offense, religion, physical attributes, gender, mental health, sexual orientation, addictions, or any other aspect of their being is contrary to good order and discipline and will NOT be tolerated. Such behavior will result in disciplinary action.

3. Deception. Do not deceive or mislead another prisoner through action, false statements, or in any other manner which might influence a prisoner to violate any rules or regulations, or to suffer physical or mental harm.

4. Physical Contact. Physical contact with another prisoner is prohibited. This includes fighting, horseplay, spitting, wrestling, sexual contact, or any type of contact that may cause injury, touching with an object, touching with hands or other body parts, hugging and kissing. It does not include controlled forms of physical contact during worship service or other supervised activities like graduation ceremonies where a brief handshake or a custom during activities including Baptism, Communion, prayer, etc. is a norm. During a religious service, "passing the peace" is NOT permitted across an aisle or between male and female prisoners. Unintentional or inadvertent physical contact is accepted in mild forms during recreational events, for example basketball and volleyball games.

5. Disorder. Disorder of any kind is prohibited. This includes excessive noise at any time, jeering at other prisoners or staff, mass actions, singing, whistling, or other activities which disrupt the good order and discipline of the facility.

6. Conspiracy. Do not combine, associate, or enter into a conversation with any other person or persons for the purpose of conspiracy against the good order and discipline of the brig.

7. Gambling. Do not participate in any form of gambling at any time, including the use of game pieces for gambling. The development and/or possession of sports "brackets" or "pools" is prohibited at any time.

8. Trafficking. The exchange of money, property, or services in considered to be trafficking and is prohibited. Transfer of funds, either directly or through an intermediary, to another prisoner is prohibited. Performance of any service for another prisoner is strictly prohibited. Giving or passing notes, letters, PINs, pictures, or other articles between prisoners is a violation of this rule. You are not authorized to remove any items from the trashcans anywhere in the facility and, if found doing so you will be in violation of rules and regulations. Any person who assists or facilitates the movement or passing of notes or contraband is also guilty of trafficking. Loaning of any item or "inheriting" items from ex-prisoners (or prisoners being released immediately) is considered TRAFFICKING (to include book, magazines, uniform items, clothing, H&C items, etc.).

9. Stalking. The willful, malicious, and repeated following and harassment or actions that instill fear or injury are prohibited.

10. Sexual Contact. Sexual contact between prisoners is prohibited.

11. Pre-Trial/Post-Trial Prisoner. It is necessary to recognize the difference in status of pre-trial prisoners from post-trial prisoners. Pre-trial prisoners shall not be required to undergo punitive duty hours or training, perform punitive labor. Duties shall not be demeaning and unnecessary. however, performance of necessary duties is authorized. When employed, pre-trial prisoners must work separately from post-trial prisoners. Pre-trial prisoners may be assigned to various police, fatigue, and work details which may be assigned to duty personnel in the maintenance and operation of the command.

207. Disturbances

1. In the event of a disturbance, the order will be passed to "LOCK DOWN". Upon hearing this order, you shall remain in place and wait for further direction from staff personnel. IT SHOULD BE CLEARLY UNDERSTOOD THAT, UNDER THIS EMERGENCY, MOVEMENT OF ANY KIND INVOLVES PERSONAL DANGER. To verbally encourage a fight or disturbance is considered "participating in the event" and all participants will be subdued and disciplined/charged as appropriate.

a. If in the dorm area, you must immediately stop what you are doing, return to your cell, secure the cell door after you enter, move away from the cell door and stand by for further instruction.

b. If a disturbance takes place in the dining area while you are present, remove yourself from the immediate area and sit on the deck facing away from the disturbance. You will be directed by staff to proceed when safe. Remain quiet. (Encouraging a disturbance verbally is considered "participating.")

c. If outside (recreation call, PT, working party, etc.), remove yourself from the immediate area of the disturbance and sit on the ground facing away. You will be directed to move by staff personnel when safe to do so.

d. If in any passageway, stop where you are, turn and face the bulkhead and do not look around. You must stay in place until told to carry-on unless given instructions from another staff member.

e. If any other area, you must follow any verbal instruction given by any staff member. Failure to immediately comply with this will result in disciplinary action.

f. If you are convicted by a General Court-Martial for acts of civil disturbance or rioting, you could receive 10 years confinement, forfeiture of all pay and allowances, and a Dishonorable Discharge.

208. Contraband

1. Do NOT accept or possess contraband. It is your responsibility to know what you are authorized to have and what you have in your cell. Any article found on your person, in your cell, or at your place of work that is not specifically authorized for your use will be confiscated as contraband and will result in disciplinary action. You are authorized to possess only the articles of personal or government property listed in this handbook (See Appendices A and B). You may not retain gear in your cell that is not specifically authorized to remain in your cell beyond the period of use (i.e., cleaning gear). If an article is not listed, you may not have it, unless you have an approved written authorization (DD Form 510) from the Programs and Services Department Head or higher authority.

2. Contraband taken from you will be inventoried and a receipt will be provided. Contraband will be destroyed after 30 days, unless an appeal is filed showing just-cause why the item should not be destroyed. The OIC will decide all appeal actions.

209. Use of English Language

English is the only language spoken within the facility or used when conversing with staff, visitors, volunteers, or prisoners. Conduct all correspondence and phone conversations in English, unless approved by the Programs and Services Department Head, or his appointed designee (exceptions are usually approved for immediate family only). Submit request using a DD Form 510 per requirements of Article 608 via Chain of Command (P&S Department Head). Approved foreign language educational course may be used in the cell or classroom when an approved course is supervised; however, the language may not be spoken in conversation outside of the cell or classroom.

210. Other Prohibited Behavior

1. Malingering. You will not pretend an illness in order to avoid work assignments, physical exercise, treatment, or other duties. Malingering will be determined by a medical officer and will result in disciplinary action.

2. Negligence or prohibited possession. Do not permit any item if your property, government property, or another prisoner's property to be lost, damaged, or destroyed through negligence on you part. You may not possess any item belonging to another prisoner, volunteer, or staff and you must secure your own personal items at all times. Any situation involving missing property will be reported immediately to your supervisor.

3. Pornography/Obscenity/Slurs. You must not possess, create, or assist in creating any type of obscene literature, writings, markings, sketches, or articles. This includes any item containing slurs against any ethnics, racial, sexual orientation or minority group. Literature/drawings (including nude sketches), gestures or statements which advocate or condone abuse of others (e.g., sexual, emotional, or physical abuse) are not authorized. Final appeal action of pornographic material will be made by the OIC via either the Literary Review Board or the Discipline and Adjustment Board.

4. Indecent Exposure. Do not expose yourself to another person in an indecent manner. You shall wear PT gear to and from the shower. Sleeping nude is NOT authorized. You shall sleep in service Brig authorized PT gear at all times.

5. Straggling. You must not straggle to or from any formation or assignment. When directed to "fall in," do so immediately, at the position of attention, without talking.

6. Mutilation. You will not tattoo, mark, score, cut, brand, deface, or pierce any part of your body while in confinement. Do not place any foreign object into your ear lobe or other body part while in confinement.

7. Assuming Authority. You are never in a position of authority or leadership while confined. You are not authorized to assume a position of authority or to issue orders to another prisoner, volunteer, or staff member.

8. Correctional Files. You may have access to certain information contained in your correctional files. Send any such request, DD Form 510 to the Parole and Release Department.

9. Fraternization. Do not become "unduly familiar" with any prisoner. Conversations will only be in content of work assignment or education or treatment class/group or activity when expressly authorized by staff. When participating in co-ed groups or classes, do not mingle with opposite sex prisoners. You will sit in separate areas. Interactions with others outside the brig will be restricted to official business (work, healthcare, legal/personnel matters) and not of a social nature.

10. Computers. Do not operate any computer, unless specifically authorized by the Administration Department Head, Work Supervisor or Training Instructor. You may use "prisoner only" computers (Lexus-Nexus legal computers) in your housing unit subject to requirements outlined in each unit and your "computer user agreement." You may not work on any staff computer equipment. You may not have a personal computer nor possess any electronic storage media (e.g. disks, drives, or flash memory devices). The Reentry Coordinator will maintain DVDs issued for Reentry programming/job search purposes. In order to use available computers, coordinate scheduled times with the Reentry Coordinator. Tampering with a prisoner computer or its components will result in disciplinary measures.

11. Doors. Do not prop open any doors. Upon exit ensure the door is closed.

12. Musical Instruments. Personal musical instruments are not allowed due to limited storage space. Do not request exception to this rule.

13. Tobacco Use

a. Tobacco use is prohibited and not authorized in any area of the brig, while on temporary release with any escorts, or on work details outside the brig. Possession or use of any tobacco product or incendiary device (matches, lighters, and strikers) is prohibited at all times.

b. Tobacco cessation assistance is available through the Clinical Services Department. If you desire assistance to quit tobacco use, submit a DD Form 510 request to Medical.

14. Control Panels. You must stay at least an arm's length away from all control panels. (See also Article 409.1)

15. Gear Adrift. You are responsible for ensuring your gear remains properly stowed in your cell and locker. Your locker will be locked at any time when you are not in your cell. You are not to leave any of your gear unattended anywhere outside your cell. Other prisoners cannot "watch your gear" for you while you do something else.

211. Prison Rape Elimination Act (PREA)

1. Introduction and Summary. Congress passed the Prison Rape Elimination Act (PREA) on September 4, 2003, and standards were placed into effect August 20, 2013. The Brig has a zero tolerance policy concerning sexual abuse, sexual harassment, or sexual misconduct regarding prisoners and/or staff members.

2. Definitions

a. Sexual abuse of a prisoner by another prisoner. Sexual abuse of a prisoner by another prisoner includes any of the following acts, if the victim does not consent, is coerced into such act by overt or implied threats of violence, or is unable to consent or refuse:

(1) Contact between the penis and the vulva or the penis and the anus, including penetration.

(2) Contact between the mouth and the penis, vulva, or anus.

(3) Penetration of the anal or genital opening of another person, however slight, by a hand, finger, object, or other instrument.

(4) Any other intentional touching, either directly or through the clothing, of the genitalia, anus, groin, breast, inner thigh, or the buttocks of another person, excluding contact incidental to a physical altercation.

b. Sexual abuse of a prisoner by a staff member. Sexual abuse of a prisoner by a staff member, contractor, or volunteer includes any of the following acts:

(1) Contact between the penis and the vulva or the penis and the anus, including penetration.

(2) Contact between the mouth and the penis, vulva, or anus.

(3) Contact between the mouth and any body part where the staff member, contractor, or volunteer has the intent to abuse, arouse, or gratify sexual desire.

(4) Penetration of the anal or genital opening, however slight, by a hand, finger, object, or other instrument, that is unrelated to official duties or where the staff member, contractor, or volunteer has the intent to abuse. Arouse, or gratify sexual desire.

(5) Any other intentional contact, either directly or through the clothing, of or with the genitalia, anus, groin, breast, inner thigh, or the buttock, that is unrelated to official duties or where the staff member, contractor, or volunteer has the intent to abuse, arouse, or gratify sexual desire.

(6) Any attempt, threat, or request by a staff member, contractor, or volunteer to engage in the activities described in the paragraphs above.

(7) Any display by a staff member, contractor, or volunteer of his or her uncovered genitalia, buttocks, or breast in the presence of a prisoner.

(8) Voyeurism by a staff member, contractor, or volunteer. NOTE: Voyeurism by a staff member, contractor, or volunteer means an invasion of privacy of a prisoner by staff for reasons unrelated to official duties, such as requiring a prisoner to expose his or her buttocks or genitals, or taking images of all or part of a prisoner's naked body or of a prisoner performing bodily functions. Photographs may be taken to document an injury that occurs to you while in confinement in order to document the injury you sustained. Standard security checks are not considered voyeurism or an invasion of your privacy, regardless of the status of your normal routine. (e.g., performing bodily functions, getting dressed, showering, etc.)

c. Sexual Misconduct. Soliciting, threatening, or engaging in sexual or lewd conduct with another whether or not consensual (e.g., horseplay of a sexual nature, language of a sexual nature, soliciting sexual favors, exposing his or her genitals, or female breasts, under circumstances likely to cause affront or alarm, masturbating in open/plain view or continuing to masturbate in view of staff or prisoners).

d. Sexual Harassment. Repeated and unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, or verbal comments, gestures, or actions of a derogatory or offensive sexual nature by one prisoner directed toward another; or repeated verbal comments or gestures of a sexual nature to a prisoner by a staff member, contractor, or volunteer, including demeaning references to gender, sexual orientation, sexually suggestive or derogatory comments about body or clothing or obscene language or gestures.

(1) The term "sexual misconduct" also expressly includes the terms "sexual abuse" and "sexual harassment" as defined by reference (a). The term "sexual misconduct" also expressly includes the criminal behaviors proscribed by Articles 120-120c UCMJ, reference (b).

(2) Sexual misconduct includes any behavior or act of a sexual nature directed towards a prisoner by a prisoner or staff member, volunteer, visitor, contractor, agency representative, or other person while confined to the Brig. This includes, but is not limited to, acts or attempts to commit acts of sexual battery, sexual assault, sexual abuse, activities to provide for the sexual gratification of another, sexual harassment, sexual conduct, obscenity or an unreasonable invasion of privacy; and also includes conversations or correspondence that suggests a romantic sexual relation between a prisoner and any person referenced above.

e. Dynamics. Sexual assault, sexual abuse, sexual harassment, and sexual misconduct have stricter connotations in a confinement setting. Sexual acts between prisoners are prohibited and prisoners can never consent to sexual acts with a staff member. All allegations of sexual misconduct, sexual harassment, and sexual abuse will be investigated.

f. Prisoner's Rights. You have the right to be free from intimidation or pressure from staff, prisoners or any other person to perform and engage in sexual behavior regardless of your current situation or sexual orientation. In order to reach this goal, it is important that you understand prevention, self-protection, intervention, reporting of an incident and treatment available in case an incident occurs as outlined here, during orientation, or by request from trained staff members. It is illegal for any pre-trial prisoner, post-trial prisoner, staff member, or other personnel in this facility to sexually assault, sexually abuse, or harass any pre-trial or post-trial prisoner.

g. Prevention and Warning Signs. To reduce the risk of being a victim of sexual misconduct, be aware of your surroundings. Do not accept gifts or favors; most come with strings attached. Do not accept offers for protection; that is why staff in here. Be alert. Be direct and firm when saying "NO" to unwanted activity. Trust your instincts, or "gut," about a situation. Do not be afraid to hurt someone's feelings if you find yourself in an uncomfortable position. If you fear for your safety, report it to staff immediately.

h. Duty to Report. If you witness or experience sexual misconduct, or if you have suspicions thereof, you are required to report it immediately. Failure to report may result in disciplinary action. Be very clear about the type of report (e.g., witnessed, suspicion, etc.), as well as any details that may be pertinent to the situation to include specific violations, date, time, location, parties involved, and other information that will aid investigators.

i. Reporting Options and Resources. You can report sexual assault, sexual abuse, or harassment to any staff member. Your information will only be shared on a need to know basis to ensure your safety. You will not be retaliated against for reporting, anonymous reporting, or for third party reporting. Family members and others also have access to the 24 hour hotlines and they can find procedures on the command website. Reporting of sexual misconduct may be accomplished verbally or in writing. No specific form is required. You will be protected from the assailant and the incident will be referred for investigation. All reports concerning the identity of the victim of sexual misconduct and the facts of the report are limited only to those with a "need to know" to make decisions concerning your welfare and for investigative purposes. The brig has a PREA Facility Coordinator, PREA Compliance Manager, and a Sexual Assault Victim Advocate for your assistance throughout the process to include such areas as the grievance process, questions about PREA, referrals, any third-party reporting information to prisoners, and publicly available information and data. You can request more information from these resources, or via other private means to include medical/clinical staff or the Chaplain.

3. If you are assaulted. It is important to inform someone as soon as possible. If at all possible, DO NOT take a shower, change clothes, brush your teeth, urinate, defecate, wash your hands, or straighten up the site where you were victimized. This will help to preserves evidence. A Sexual Assault Prevention & Response (SAPR) advocate is assigned to the brig and is on call 24 hours a day. The SAPR can explain the rules/regulations regarding the reporting of sexual assault or sexual abuse. You have many victim advocacy options if requested along with others that are from community-based organizations no affiliated with the brig or military that will accompany and support you throughout the process. Outside agency advocates such as the Safe Helpline are available and maintain 24 hour hotlines along with anonymous reporting. The Chaplain will also be contacted if requested.

4. Intervention. The following representative will assist as requested. Contact any staff member to request to speak with:

a. Brig Points of Contact. The PREA Compliance Manger, Command SAPR (Sexual Assault Prevention & Response) Advocate, Command Managed Equal Opportunity (CMEO) Officer, and Chaplain are available upon request.

b. Outside Agency Advocates. The DoD Safe Helpline (877)-955-5247 is pre-programmed in the prisoner phone system and is available to you at no cost. The Safe Helpline is operated by the Rape, Abuse, & Incest National Network (RAINN), is considered privileged correspondence, and is NOT recorded or monitored.

c. Treatment and Counseling. Treatment will be provided by qualified medical and mental health practitioners. Upon request, you will also be referred to a Victim Advocate. In the event you desire/require more assistance coping with the event, treatment and counseling will be made available to you.

d. Informed Consent. Any information related to sexual victimization or abusiveness shall be strictly limited to medical and mental health practitioners and other staff, as necessary (e.g., OIC, AOIC, Programs and Services, PREA Compliance Manager), for assignment, work, education, and program assignments, or as otherwise required by Federal, State, or local law (i.e., 28 C.F.R. 115).

5. Brig Policies and Procedures for responding to allegations of Sexual Misconduct. The Brig shall respond to all allegations of sexual misconduct. All allegations of sexual misconduct, regardless of severity or merit, will be immediately reported to the Naval Criminal Investigative Service (NCIS). Should NCIS decline investigative jurisdiction, the Brig CO/OIC will assign the case to qualified investigators.

6. Polygraph exemption. You will never be required to submit to a polygraph examination or other truth-telling device as a condition for proceeding with the investigation or an allegation of sexual misconduct.

7. Retaliation Prevention. You have right to be free from retaliation for reporting alleged sexual abuse, sexual harassment, and sexual misconduct incidents. There is an assigned Retaliation Monitor who ensures follow-on actions regarding prisoners who report all allegations are in accordance with the same opportunities afforded other prisoners. A Department of Justice certified auditor verifies the conduct of this monitoring in accordance with required PREA auditing procedures. Be aware, however, that reports made in bad faith, and revealed by investigation, may result in disciplinary action.

8. Prohibited Activities. Sexual activity between prisoners is PROHIBITED. Prisoners CANNOT consent to sex with staff or each other.

SECTION 3 - ADMINISTRATION OF DISCIPLINE

301. Philosophy

1. Self-discipline is the best form of control of any group of individuals regardless of the setting or situation. Experience indicates that military personnel, though confined, are still capable of, and are expected to exercise a high degree of self-discipline. It is expected upon initial confinement that all persons possess this trait of self-control by displaying proper military customs, courtesy and bearing.

2. When persons confined do not exercise self-discipline and control, it is the duty and responsibility of the staff to enforce standards, correct improper behavior and ensure good order and discipline within the facility.

3. NCBC, Det Chesapeake promulgates rules and regulations to ensure and support an environment conducive to self-improvement, and to maintain good order and discipline. Common sense, daily courtesies, as well as military regulations and the UCMJ shall be observed/followed at all times.

4. You are expected to comply with the brig rules and regulations. Any attempt to circumvent the rules and regulations shall be punishable as a breach of discipline. You are subject to the UCMJ, relevant federal laws, and brig rules and regulations, even after discharge from the military service, while in confinement.

302. Administrative Disciplinary Actions/Reports

1. The following disciplinary actions may be administered in any order.

a. On-the-Spot Correction. This action will normally be employed by staff when the offense is minor and a verbal warning is appropriate. Verbal warnings will be documented in your Prisoner Hard Card. All actions documented in your Hard Card will be shown to you and require your initials. Initials are not an admission of guilt. It is simply an acknowledgement that you are aware of the entry. A slightly more serious offense or repeated offenses may result in an Observation Report (OR) or a Disciplinary Report (DR) which can result in an administrative disciplinary hearing leading to sanctions. This action will be recorded in you record for future reference.

b. Prisoner Hard Card Entries. These may be positive or negative in nature. You will initial to acknowledge receipt of the entry. This is not an admission of guilt, only an acknowledgement that the entry has been made.

(1) Positive Hard Card Entry. Staff may recognize extraordinary positive performance for appearance, work, volunteering, or any other positive action.

(2) Negative Hard Card Entry. A negative entry can be issued for minor offenses or repeated violations of any kind. Entries will be initialed by the you as acknowledgement of having seen the entry only and initialed by a staff witness.

c. Observation Reports (DD Form 2713). These reports may be either positive or negative in nature. They are corrective in nature and do not result in a punishment being awarded for the violation.

(1) Positive Observation Report. Used by staff members to recognize outstanding performance and positive behavior, whether it is for appearance, work, program accomplishment, volunteering for extra details, or any other action considered extraordinary and meritorious. Only one positive OR may be awarded by your work supervisor per day. This report is given for outstanding efforts beyond that which is normally required.

(2) Negative Observation Report (OR). A negative OR is used when an incident warrants more severe consequences than an on-the-spot correction, but does not meet the level of severity warranting a disciplinary report. You will be shown the OR and asked to sign this report to acknowledge that they have been counseled by a staff member (normally the staff member awarding the negative OR). Your signature (or refusal to sign) does not admit guilt/agreement with the OR.

d. Administrative Measures/Restrictions

(1) You may be placed in Special Quarters for control, protection of others, self-protection, or for such periods under such provisions as may be required for orderly administration of Good Order and Discipline. Assignment to Special Quarters (other than for disciplinary segregation) is NOT a punishment. Normal privileges and incentives will be observed (unless removed "for cause" by the OIC); however, due to management of the unit, some changes in daily routine and incentive entitlements can be expected.

(2) "Cool Down" period inside cell. You may be restricted to your cell "for cause" by a unit staff member, the Command Duty Officer, or higher authority. This action may be taken based on:

(a) circumstances of the situation,

(b) due to an event that involves you and this action is necessary in the best interest of your personal safety and security, or

(c) to maintain good order and discipline. The CDO will be notified immediately upon restriction being imposed and this restriction may only be for a period of 30 minutes, unless extended by the CDO or higher for an additional 30 minutes.

e. Disciplinary Report (DR) (DD Form 2714). For more serious violations (see appendix G) or repeated disregard for brig rules and regulations you will receive a DR. You will be verbally advised of the nature of the alleged rules violation by a staff member. An investigation into the facts and circumstances of the alleged violation will be accomplished by an uninvolved staff member (normally the Brig Investigator). If you receive a DR, you may elect to make a statement on your behalf after being informed of your rights. You may waive your rights and request a hearing by a Discipline and Adjustment (D&A) Board without consulting counsel. If the alleged violation is determined to warrant a board hearing, you can elect to appear before the Discipline and Adjustment (D&A) Board and have an opportunity to state you side of the case; see appendix G for a list of rule violations that may result in a DR and, if found guilty, a list of corresponding punishments.

1) Administrative Discipline and Adjustment (D&A) Boards. When a DR is referred to a board by the Reviewing Officer, a D&A Board will be convened to evaluate all facts and circumstances surrounding your alleged misconduct, infractions, violations of confinement rules, and violations of the UCMJ.

(a) You will have written notice of the board at least 24 hours in advance. The 24-hour advance notice requirement may be removed if you are within imminent release from confinement (i.e., an offense is committed the day before or on the day of scheduled release). You may waive, in writing, your appearance at this board or the 24-hour waiting period. While you may consult legal counsel prior to the board hearing, there is no right for counsel to appear during the hearing or to represent you.

(b) You may request staff and/or prisoner witnesses; if you do request such witnesses, the request must be as early as possible in the investigation and at least by the "24-hour notice" of the scheduled board.

(c) Board hearings are held to evaluate all facts and circumstances surrounding alleged misconduct, infractions, violation of brig rules and violations of the UCMJ. This board is not a criminal trial; it is an administrative proceeding. The board's purpose is to determine whether an offense was committed and to recommend authorized disciplinary and/or management actions, if appropriate.

(d) Legal counsel is limited to assisting you in preparing for and representing him/herself at the D&A board. You may request a delay in the board by submitting a written request to the D&A Board Chairman. Reasons for the request of delay must be fully explained and arranged before being granted. Such delays typically encompass no more than a week, based on individual circumstances and the review of the board chair. There is no right to a particular attorney when seeing legal counsel.

(e) At the D&A board, you may plead "guilty," "not guilty" or "no plea" to the alleged violations. Regardless of your plea, you may explain the circumstances surrounding the infraction and the board will consider your explanation(s) and ultimately determine your guilt or innocence. The board will determine a finding of "guilty," "not guilty" or "dismissal" of the charge(s).

b. Boards. A "guilty" determination is based on a "preponderance of evidence" (the weight of evidence provided is more convincing, even if minimally, than the evidence presented by the other party) supporting the committal of the charged violation or a lesser-included offense of the charged violation. You will be briefed on the determination of the D&A board and the sanctions that will be recommended to the TD/AOIC. The TD/AOIC is not limited by or bound to the board's recommendation(s) and may reduce or reverse the findings and increase or decrease the board's recommended sanctions. The TD/AOIC is the only authority authorized to increase any board's recommended sanction(s).

c. This section does not completely describe all the rights and procedures related to a D & A board. If a DR is written, you will be given additional information during the investigation process.

303. Punishment

1. The TD/AOIC approves and imposes any of the applicable disciplinary and management actions for offenses reviewed by the D&A board. See Appendix G for the list of possible sanctions for those offenses. Suspension of any disciplinary actions for a probationary period, not to exceed 6 months, is authorized. One or more of the following disciplinary actions may be imposed:

a. Reprimand or Warning (verbal and/or written). These are official punishments and are recorded on your permanent conduct record.

b. Loss of Privileges (LOP). Privileges such as television (including the use of the brig-issued personal musical device), gym/outdoor rec call, movie call, telephone use, computer use, or after-hours voluntary activities (such as Alcoholic Anonymous) which are established to encourage good conduct may be restricted. Attendance at Sunday worship service, receiving visitors and correspondence, and extended legal computer use may be restricted if the misconduct is directly related to those privileges. Personal reading materials already in one's cell are permitted. LOP is served during non-duty hours in your cell with the cell door closed. You may sit on the stool/chair or bed, but you may not recline nor sleep before 2200 hours (except galley workers who may recline or sleep after 2100). Loss of privileges is affected when recommended by the administrative D&A board, and then approved by the TD/AOIC. Punishments imposed begin immediately upon the TD/AOIC's approval and run concurrently.

c. Extra Duty. Extra Duty can be awarded for a period of 2 hours nightly (non-duty hours) for no more than 14 consecutive days (excluding Sunday, or your day of worship, and holidays, although they count in the computation of the punishment period).

d. Forfeiture of Good Conduct Time (GCT), Earned Time (ET)/Special Acts Abatement (SAA) (see Article 603). Any or all of your GCT, ET, or SSA, to include that GCT administratively credited for pre-trial confinement, may be forfeited. All GCT and abatement allowances earned up to the date of the violation may be forfeited. Forfeitures may be subsequently restored by the OIC, except in the case of escape.

e. Disciplinary Segregation (DSEG). If you are serving DSEG, you shall remain in your assigned cell, except for official visits and approved personal visitation, two-hour exercise call without recreation equipment, and a daily shower. DSEG shall not exceed the limits authorized in Appendix G and shall be terminated as soon as the individual demonstrates that segregation has served its purpose.

f. Management Actions.

(1) Incentive levels may be changed (reduced) by the "D&A Board and approved by the TD/AOIC as a consequence of misbehavior or Program Plan non-compliance,

(2) If you lose an incentive level and are no longer authorized to have certain items (CDs, books, etc.), you may either (1) mail the item(s) out at your own expense, (2) discard them, (3) donate books to the brig Library, or (4) place them in your prisoner storage bin in the "Lucky Bag" room only if an incentive level reduction is awarded and you have excess property or prohibited property as a result of that incentive level reduction. You may only use the storage bin to store items if, and only if, you have sufficient confinement time remaining to re-earn the incentive level that permits you to use those items again.

(3) Reset Continuous Employment date.

2. All Disciplinary Reports (DRs) and sanctions become a permanent part of your confinement record and will be considered by the various boards which consider Clemency & Parole, custody classification, program and work assignments, etc. while you are confined. The exception is when a DR is dismissed; in this case, the DR is removed from your record.

304. Appeals

1. After the TD/AOIC approves a disciplinary board action and you are notified of the action taken you have 15 calendar days to submit an appeal to the OIC concerning the punishment imposed. Present your appeal in writing via Request for Interview (DD Form 510), referencing the disciplinary report in question, punishment imposed and dates of action. Submit your appeal via an authorized reviewer. The appeal shall then be reviewed by the OIC and the OIC will acknowledge receipt of the appeal within 5 days and a written decision will be made within 30 calendar days of receipt of the appeal. Be advised that such appeals must have substantial merit or it will be retuned without further action. Appeals must be based upon showing that the findings of the board were in error, the disciplinary hearing (D&A board) did not comply with applicable requirements, or the corrective actions were too severe. Approved board recommendations are ordered into immediate execution, without regard to appeal action. Decisions of the OIC regarding a D&A board appeal are final.

2. D&A board cases not resulting in disciplinary or management action being imposed are final and not subject to appeal.

3. If Good Conduct Time (GCT) is forfeited as a result of misconduct, and a minimum of 90 days has elapsed without any incident of further misconduct, you may request that any or all of the GCT lost be restored (the 90-day period does not include the last 30 days of confinement plus eligible days for restoration). GCT may be returned on a select basis by the OIC only. Such restoration will be considered for "above and beyond" performance to a degree that it compensates significantly for the misconduct for which the GCT was taken. A request for restoration of GCT shall be made on a Request for Interview (DD Form 510), via the chain of command (Counselor, Technical Director, AOIC), to the OIC (See Appendix C).

SECTION 4 - DAILY ROUTINE AND UNIT REGULATIONS

401. Grooming and Hygiene

1. Regardless of your service-specific rules and regulations regarding grooming standards, you will comply at a minimum with the following directives:

a. Uniforms. You will be required to present a clean and neat military appearance at all times. You must be in the uniform of the day for all counts and meals with the exception of the final count before taps; you may be in the service brig authorized PT uniform. Pockets, jackets, and coats will be buttoned/zipped and shoes/boots will be shined and laced as appropriate. Uniforms will be clean and in good repair to include proper name tapes (Appendix I). Unsightly uniforms shall not be worn. PT gear shall not be worn under your uniform at any time, unless authorized by your service-specific uniform regulations (i.e. Marines wear their PT shirt as an undergarment while wearing their uniform).

NOTE: When jackets/coveralls or special work clothing is worn for work details, it shall be worn with buttons "buttoned" or zippers "zipped" and sleeves extended (not rolled or tied around waist).

b. Showers. You will shower daily. Showers will normally occur at the times prescribed by the daily routine. The CDO may authorize an exception to these times. Exceptions are based on work performed that day that involved very dirty/greasy work or long periods of high temperatures. The work supervisor may contact the unit Quarters Supervisor to recommend early showers based on the work or you may request it. If approved, the individual must still ensure that he/she meets any other requirements for the day (appointments, count, and unit movement to meal). You shall wear PT gear to and from the shower. Only one person may be in one shower room at one time.

c. Grooming for men. The following grooming standards will apply to you while confined at NCBC, Det Chesapeake. Pre-Trial prisoners shall follow the grooming standards of their applicable service.

(1) Hair. You shall obtain appropriate service regulation haircuts from the brig barber. You will receive a haircut at a minimum of once every two weeks. You must submit a DD Form 504 (Request for Health and Comfort Supplies) request to Funds and Valuables in order to pay for the haircut. The Funds and Valuables supervisor will charge your account appropriately for your haircut. Haircuts will be sufficient to meet minimum standards for the two-week period. A schedule of times and dates for haircuts is posted in each unit. If you miss your haircut date due to a conflicting appointment, it is your responsibility to speak with the Quarters Supervisor to ensure you will receive your haircut and maintain grooming regulations.

(2) Hair/grooming standards, regardless of service affiliation, shall present a neat and professional appearance. Hair above the ears and around the neck shall be tapered from the lower natural hairline upwards at least 3/4 inches and outward not greater than 3/4 inches to blend with hairstyle. "Do rags/scarves" may only be worn in one's cell, from taps to reveille. Only "do rags" purchased through the Brig Store may be worn; modified versions are not permitted.

(a) You will not:

1. Cut your own hair or another prisoner's hair.

2. Receive eccentric haircuts.

3. Have hair on the back of the neck that touches the collar. Hair length shall be in accordance with service regulations and may not touch the ears, collar, extend below eyebrows when headgear is removed, show under the front edge of headgear, or interfere with properly worn military headgear. The bulk of the hair shall not exceed approximately two inches. Bulk is defined as "the distance that the mass of hair protrudes from the scalp."

4. Have faddish styles and outrageous multicolored hair. The unique quality and texture of curled, kinked, waved, and straight hair are recognized, and in some cases, the 3/4-inch taper at the back if the neck may be difficult to attain. In those cases, hair must present a graduated appearance and may combine the taper with a line at the back of the neck. One (cut, clipped, or shaved) natural, narrow, fore, and aft part is authorized. Varying hairstyles, including an Afro, are permitted if these styles meet the criteria of maximum length and bulk, tapered neck and sides, and do not interfere with properly wearing military headgear. Plaited or braided hair shall not be worn.

5. Have sideburns extending past mid-ear. They shall be of even width (not flared) and shall end with a clean-shaven horizontal line.

NOTE: On the date of your scheduled haircut, your hair will be freshly washed with no added grooming product (e.g., gels, creams, etc.) and will not be flattened using head devices such as a "Do Rag."

(b) Shaving. Regardless of legal status, you shall shave each morning prior to breakfast using the razor (thumb in Special Quarters, electric for all others) provided, except those with valid, current "No Shave" and "Reduced Shave" chits. These chits are issued by Brig medical personnel for documented cases of pseudo-folliculitis and other skin conditions; a copy will be on your person, unless in special quarters where it will be maintained with the DD Form 509 outside your cell. You may not grow a new mustache while confined in the brig. Mustaches are not permitted, except by Pre-Trial prisoners who enter the brig with a mustache. If a Pre-Trail prisoner is subsequently convicted, the (now) adjudged prisoner must shave off the mustache. You are authorized to purchase an alternative battery powered electric razor with a trimmer device (see appendix A). If you purchase an alternative razor, the Brig issued razor will be placed in your "Lucky Bag."

1. If you have a "No Shave" chit, you may may let your beard exceed 1/8 inch in length, if authorized by a Medical Officer or his/her designee. At a minimum, you are required to utilize an electric trimmer (sold in the NEX) or clippers from the Barber Shop every Thursday or as necessary to maintain the length of their beard at less than 1/8 inch.

2. If you have a "No Shave" chit, you will not wear a "Goatee" or a "Fu Manchu" type of beard or otherwise partially shave or trim beards. This will result in termination of the chit, regardless of the existing facial condition. "No Shave" and "Reduced Shave" chits from previous commands are not honored. You will be assessed on the need for a "No Shave" and/or "Reduced Shave" chit by Brig Chesapeake medical staff. If a no bump razor is sufficient for the skin condition you have, no bump razors will be utilized vice a "No Shave" chit.

3. Personal electric razors will not be shared.

d. Grooming for women. The following grooming standards will apply to female personnel confined at this brig. Pre-Trial females will follow their respective service regulations.

(1) Hair. You will be scheduled for haircuts on an "as-needed" basis, but not more frequently than once every two weeks. You must submit a DD Form 504 (Request for Health and Comfort Supplies) request to Funds and Valuables. The Funds and Valuables supervisor will charge your account appropriately for your haircut. A schedule for times and dates of haircuts are posted in the unit. You will not cut your own or another prisoner's hair.

(a) Hairstyles shall not be outrageously multi-colored of faddish, to include any shaved potions of the scalp (other than the neckline), or have designs cut or braided into the hair. If you entered confinement with an outrageously multi-colored or faddish fashion, you will be required to style your hair back to its original color and style that meets military service regulations. Lopsided and extremely asymmetrical styles are not authorized. Pigtails, widely spaced individual hanging locks, and braids, which protrude (jut out; push/thrust outward) from the head, are not authorized.

(b) Multiple braids are authorized. Braided hairstyles shall be conservative and conform to the guidelines listed herein. When a hairstyle of multiple braids is worn, braids shall be of uniform dimension, small in diameter (approx. 1/4 inch), and tightly interwoven to present a neat, professional, well-groomed appearance. Keep hair clean, combed, neatly shaped and arranged in a professional style. Foreign material (i.e., beads, decorative items) shall not be braided into the hair. Bobby pins are not authorized.

(c) Hair extensions, hair pieces, or wigs are not allowed. If you come into confinement with an extension, hair pieces, or wig you will be required to have it removed immediately.

(d) Short hair may be braided in symmetrical fore and aft rows. (Corn rowing), which minimize scalp exposure. Cornrow ends shall not protrude from the head, and shall be secured only with inconspicuous rubber bands that match the color of the hair.

(e) Hair may be twisted in fore and aft rows, which are uniform in dimension and small in diameter (approx. 1/4 inch) and set tightly against the head, with minimal scalp exposure. No twists will come off or protrude from the head.

(f) Appropriateness of a hairstyle shall also be judged by its appearance when headgear is worn. All headgear shall fit snugly and comfortably around the largest part of the head without distortion or excessive gaps. Hair shall not show from under the front of the brim of the required service head gear. Hairstyles which do not allow headgear to be worn in this manner, or which interfere with the proper wear of protective masks or equipment are prohibited.

(g) When in uniform, the hair may touch, but not fall below a horizontal line level with the lower edge of the back of the collar. Long hair, including braids, must be neatly and inconspicuously fastened, pinned, or secured to the head presenting a style not dangling free at any point.

(h) No portion of the bulk of the hair as measured from scalp will exceed two inches. Bulk is defined as the distance that the mass of the hair protrudes from the scalp. If hair is placed in a bun, the bulk of the hair as measured from the scalp shall not exceed three inches and will not fall below a horizontal line level with the lower edge of the back of the collar.

(i) Hair may be unsecured when wearing physical fitness attire. Visible hairnets may be worn only if authorizes for specific duties. Only facility-approved hair straightening products may be requested and purchased through the Brig Store.

e. Fingernails. You will maintain short, neatly trimmed fingernails. The nail will not extend past the end of the finger for men and women. Nail polish is not authorized.

f. Laundry. You are expected to place your clothes and linens into laundry service regularly. A laundry schedule is posted on the bulletin board in your unit. Holiday schedules will be posted on the bulletin board prior to the holiday.

(1) Laundry services are normally offered three times per week. Two numbered laundry loops are provided to you. Place all dark and colors in one bag. Place all whites in the other bag. Place the excess cord either (1) inside the bag or (2) wrap it securely around the end of the bag and tie it off. All personal items shall be marked with at least your initials and brig # or RCN prior to placing them in the laundry bin. Failure to properly mark your clothing may cause the items to be discarded.

(2) Laundry service for sheets and pillowcases is offered once per week. See the posted schedule in your dorm for specifics.

(3) Blankets are laundered quarterly. See the posted schedule in your dorm for specifics.

(4) If you are assigned to an exterior work detail, you will be afforded extra laundry service through the Programs and Industries Department that will be determined at the end of each working day and facilitated by Programs and Industries.

402. Messing

1. Conversation while seated during meals is permitted with prisoners seated at your table, but must be carried on in a moderate tone of voice. Talking or conversing while in line or across tables to other tables is NOT authorized. While standing "single-file" in the serving line, remain quiet, unless requesting information on the ration being served.

Do NOT remove any food or drink items or messing equipment from the messing area. You are NOT allowed to exchange or give any food items to another prisoner.

a. Seating. Seating will be assigned as directed by the Mess Deck Supervisor and/or Quarters Supervisor. The only time you may leave your seat, is with permission of a staff member. All food items will be consumed while seated at the table, NOT while standing.

2. You will be given sufficient time to eat meals, at least 20 minutes, in a normal manner and with proper utensils.

b. Silverware. You are required to accept one knife, one fork, and one spoon at the beginning of every meal. Any time you leave your table, you will take your silverware with you. Silverware shall be visible at all times. Place silverware in your left hand; Never in your pockets. At the end of the meal, you are required to turn in each piece of silverware under the observation of a staff member. Failure to have all of your silverware will normally result in a strip search. If you drop your silverware into the trash, it is your responsibility to recover the silverware. If this happens, you will be permitted to wash your hands prior to leaving the galley/mess decks.

3. Upon completion of the meal, and only when directed by staff, you will proceed to the scullery, one table at a time.

4. If you are in segregation status, you will be fed all meals in your cells or at tables in the segregation unit.

5. While waiting to be served, you will stand in line as directed by the escort. There are no reserved spots in line and no spots may be "saved."

6. If you choose not to eat a meal, you must submit a Request for Interview (DD Form 510) to your Unit Counselor immediately following that meal. If you miss more than one meal, submit the form after each missed meal.

7. You are provided the same meal choices (unless medically or religiously directed otherwise) and cannot request or accept specially-made items for them. Galley workers are also restricted to the same menu items and quantities as the main line.

8. Second servings on the main line are not permitted.

403. Movements

When moving in formation, you will proceed in a military manner. This includes looking straight ahead, walking single file, hands out of pockets and not talking. All movements will be executed smartly and promptly. When told to "Fall in," you will assume the position of attention (No talking). When standing in the chow line, you will stand single file with hands at your side, an arms-length from any wall, and refrain from talking, moving forward as the line progresses. When returning from chow, Recreation Call or a group event, you will stand single file with hands at your side, an arms-length from any wall, and refrain from talking. Running, unless participating in athletic events, or when specifically, authorized, is prohibited. When lining up for formations, you cannot pre-reserve a spot via arrangement with another prisoner, or place an item as a "marker" to hold a spot. All unit formation (chow, PT, Recreation Call, etc.) will be in a cell order as determined by the Quarters Supervisor. If placed at "Parade Rest" you will slide your left foot out and clasp your hands behind your back.

a. Prisoner Movement Passes

(1) Any time you are ordered to move about the facility, you will either be escorted by a staff member or receive a movement pass. When you are authorized to leave the unit by a staff member, you will obtain a Prisoner Movement Pass. This pass will be carried at all times in your left hand while executing the approved movement. The staff member will issue the pass and indicate your name and the area to which you are directed to report. You cannot fill out any portion of a movement pass. You will go only to the area authorized and no other place (except during an emergency evacuation). You will proceed on the right side of the passageway and you will use the most direct route both to and from the designated area. You will not stop to speak to anyone other than a staff member who speaks to you first; you will observe military customs and courtesies in passing of staff. Upon return, you will report to the Quarters Supervisor and surrender your pass. The time you depart and the time of return will be logged. Only a staff member can authorize deviations in route while on a prisoner movement pass.

(2) Unsolicited movement by you, to include any movement not authorized by staff within the brig is prohibited. If you have an appointment, it must be published on the CORMIS appointment sheet or you must be specifically called down by a staff member before movement may be authorized. Do not request permission to move from the Quarters Supervisor, your work/program supervisor, or other staff, unless scheduled or staff initiate the movement. Do not approach a staff member to "volunteer" to work outside your unit, including at a work site to which you are not currently assigned (such as helping out at a former work site if you are no longer assigned there). When scheduled for a CORMIS appointment or scheduled for medication call, that is your appointed place of duty. Failing to report to the appointment or asking to go somewhere else is not permitted. You cannot refuse a CORMIS appointment activity and then proceed to an alternate activity. Only the staff member who assigned the appointment can cancel or revise the appointment.

(3) Pre-Trial or Post-Trial prisoners not in Special Quarters or that are not otherwise restricted from being on a movement pass, can move on movement passes if scheduled for programs or activities such as AA/NA, religious activities, recreation or other functions. You shall not fill out your own movement pass.

(4) When group movement passes are authorized, the prisoner's name that appears first will carry the pass. You will proceed directly to your authorized destination. NOTE: No more than seven (7) prisoners will move on a group pass. Groups of more than seven will be escorted.

(5) You shall not depart from any place or assigned work detail, unless specifically authorized to do so by staff personnel. You will not talk to another prisoner while on a movement pass and will remain silent. Movement passes will be carried in the left hand.

(6) If you not where you are supposed to be, you are in violation of movement regulations and subject to disciplinary action.

(7) When you use the call button to request entry into a space, you shall report, "prisoner, followed by last name and their destination" when requested. If you are on an unescorted movement pass, you may not transit through any other non-unit electronically operated doors.

(8) You will not enter a space (office, classroom, chapel, etc.) unless occupied by a staff member or authorized by Control to enter.

(9) You are prohibited from spitting on the deck, sidewalk, bulkhead, and yard areas. Corrective action could result in cleaning the entire area and/or a disciplinary report.

b. Movement to noon meal

(1) You will be returned to their respective dorm and mess with your dorm each day.

c. Unit Movements. When Units are preparing for a group movement (e.g., mess decks or Recreation Call, etc.) the following procedure will be followed:

(1) When units "fall in for Mess Deck/Recreation Call" is announced to the unit, you will stand in front of your closed cell doors and assume parade rest.

(2) The Quarters Supervisor will ensure all prisoners are accounted for before ordering prisoners to line up for the group movement. Order of alignment will either be by a predetermined list or at the discretion of the Quarters Supervisor and rotated routinely.

(3) The first person in line will start the line at the Quarters Supervisor's desk and the line will proceed in an orderly manner back into the unit. You then will fall in at the end of the line and assume parade rest until such time as the Quarters Supervisor is prepared to execute the group movement.

(4) When your unit return from the scheduled event, each of you will fall in at parade rest in front of your cell doors until the Quarters Supervisor has reestablished his/her post and announced, "fall out."

d. Movement in groups of two or more. Any time you are ordered to move about the facility in groups of two or more, you will either be escorted by staff or receive a movement pass. Movement will be executed in a military manner, single file line, in an orderly fashion and conversation from point A to point B will be limited to that necessary to complete the movement. Movements will be executed on the right-hand side of passageways and or sidewalks. Upon arrival at the destination, report in and immediately submit the movement pass to the Supervisor.

404. Fires and Emergency Evacuation

1. Fire prevention and safety are everyone's responsibility. Piles of trash or rags in closed areas, combustible materials, items hanging from fixtures or electrical receptacles, or other hazards cannot and will not be tolerated. Drills will be conducted on a regular basis.

2. During a Fire and Emergency Evacuation you will remain calm and promptly obey the orders of staff personnel. When an emergency is sounded, immediately adhere to the following procedures:

a. Fall into designated area clear of doors and gates. Maintain absolute silence and await further orders.

b. During night hours, immediately dress with a minimum of protective clothing and follow the above procedures. Badges shall be worn.

c. If transiting from point A to point B on a prisoner movement pass when the fire alarm is sounded, immediately proceed to the nearest emergency exit and report to the first staff member you come in contact with while proceeding to the evacuation muster point.

Note: If you are assigned to the Minimum Housing unit, refer to the post "House Rules" for guidance during emergencies/evacuations.

1. Three times daily, formal counts are conducted throughout the brig to ensure accountability of all prisoners. Other counts occur randomly.

a. At "FIVE MINUTES TO COUNT", all activities will be secured, you will return to your respective dorm/cell, and prepare for count. Earbuds shall be removed, TVs shall be turned "off" and you shall be in the proper uniform. Whatever uniform you are in, it will be worn correctly: boots laced, trouser buttoned, zippers zipped, etc. T-shirts shall be tucked in. During any count, reading of books or listening to a Personal Music Device (PMD) or CD player is NOT permitted.

b. When "COUNT' is announced over the paging system, all prisoner movement will cease and no movement is authorized until count is secured. You will be at the position of "Parade Rest" 3-5 feet in front of your door upon this announcement.

c. When the CDO arrives in your dorm to conduct count, your dorm supervisor will call your dorm to attention (i.e., "Golf West, ATTENTION"!). You will assume the position of attention, centered on and facing your cell door. No talking or movement is authorized. You will resume the position of "Parade Rest" when directed to do so by a staff member. You will remain in place throughout the duration of count as hereby directed until "Secure From Count" has been sounded.

d. If you reside in Special Quarters as Disciplinary Segregation (DSEG) status only, you shall be in full uniform for each count. Once, "COUNT" is sounded over the paging system you shall stand facing and centered on the cell door window, 3-5 feet from your cell door.

e. If you are at a work site, program, or activity during count, you shall muster with your supervisor and movement shall cease.

f. In all cases of "COUNT" you will follow the orders and instructions given by staff in the performance of their assigned duties.

g. All counts with the exception of weekends/holidays for afternoon and all evening counts and will be conducted in full uniform of the day. Conduct weekend/holiday afternoon and evening counts in your appropriate service PT uniform (see Article 506.2). Count secures after announcement from control "SECURE FROM COUNT" and when the Quarters Supervisor announces same and secures you from count.

406. Taps/Reveille

1. When reveille is announced, all cell lights shall be turned on and left on until you depart your cell for formation, chow, etc.

2. When taps are sounded, all cell lights will be secured unless you have been awarded the added incentive of "lights on after taps."

407. Personal Time

1. "Personal Time" begins/ends in accordance with the brig Plan of the Day. During "Personal Time," you may remain in your cell, PT in your cell, nap, use Personal Music Devices, view TV, conduct personal writing, or utilize the available table games. Personal game (Crossword, Sudoku, etc.) are also authorized. You shall not lie on your bedding while in uniform (uniform, shoes/boots).

2. Multi-Purpose Room. The Multi-Purpose room serves a variety of functions throughout the day in support of prisoner programming and personal time.

a. Programming. The Counselor reserves the right to secure the space for boards or Group Counseling (Crossroads) course.

b. To use the legal typewriter to prepare statements for a Clemency and Parole package.

c. You may utilize the associated Multi-Purpose room during personal time to play approved multi-player games, if there are 5 or more players involved. TV use is authorized but must follow the prescribe schedule. See "House Rules" for specifics regarding us of the Multi-Purpose room dung personal time.

3. Uniforms. You may wear the prescribed working uniform (Appendix I) or the prescribed physical training uniform (PTU) during personal time; refer to rule 506 for working and PTU guidelines. If dispatched outside of the dorm during personal time, you must be in full uniform of the day. You are not permitted to lay in your rack in uniform.

408. Day Room Requirements

1. Watch Station. You will request to approach the Quarters Supervisor desk. There will be no loitering around the watch station.

2. You shall remain an arm's lengths from all control panels at all times. You shall never make contact with the touch screen, fire detection controls, camera controller or public address system.

3. Nothing will be hung from railings.

4. Brig-purchased magazines and newspapers are available for issue to all prisoners. Magazines will be clearly marked with a brig label. You may not add your personal magazines/newspapers to the day room supply.

5. No one may sit or stand on the stairs, stair landings or railings. No one may loiter in the shower areas.

6. Cleaning Gear. All cleaning gear will be stowed properly when not in use. No cleaning gear may be kept in cells or common areas when not in use. Mops must be stored in cleaning gear lockers. You must check out any cleaning material(s) from staff. You may not give another prisoner cleaning material(s) you have checked out from a staff member.

7. Television Channel Changes. Only staff will change the television channels in accordance with the published TV schedule.

8. Loss of Property. You must keep possession of your belongings at all times; do not leave your items unattended in common areas even briefly. See Appendix G, "Suffering Loss of Property" for further explanation.

9. Showers. Showers will be run as follows: The Quarters Supervisor will provide a Daily Shower sign-up sheet. Order of precedence will be 1) Those scheduled to attend a program, class, or appointment, 2) by incentive level, and 3) the remainder by the cell order established for that day.

10. Cell doors. Cell doors will remain secured at all times unless you are is in transit through the door. Do not allow other prisoners to enter your cell. Do not enter another prisoner's cell, unless directed by staff. Entering any cell other than your own is a serious violation (Out of Place, category IV – see Appendix G). Prisoners shall not communicate to one another through open or closed cell doors at any time.

1. Cell. Upon assignment to a cell, you shall (1) inspect the entire cell for any obvious discrepancies, (2) field day as required by staff, and (3) sign the cell inspection report (ensure you agree with any/all discrepancies noted). You will be held strictly accountable for any subsequent damage(s) or vandalism after that point. Under no circumstances will any marks or scratches be places on the walls, bunk, door, windows, lockers, desks, vents, or any other item of furniture contained in the cell. Maintain your cell in a clean, neat manner at all times. Appendix I designates cell arrangement and layout for inspections. Your cell will be subject to regular staff inspections and random inspections at any time. Upon moving out of a cell, for any reason, your cell will (1) be inspected by staff, (2) receive full field day, and (3) a cell inspection report will be completed and signed by staff and you. You will be held accountable for any discrepancies that occurred during your occupation. Only toilet paper will be flushed down brig toilets and nothing else! Any violation will result in a disciplinary action.

2. Desk/Shelf. You are authorized to stow on top of your desk/shelf a maximum of ten (10) items consisting of: books (digital photo albums are considered a book), magazines (not unit magazines), notebooks; two (2) "non-spring loaded" pens; two (2) pencils; two (2) photographs. Authorized (DD Form 510 approved by Clinical or Religious Services staff) study materials do not count against the (10) items. No other items are authorized! Material must be neatly stacked on desk/shelf. All mail and additional photographs will be kept in the foot locker in the front right corner. See article 503 a.5 and a.6 for allowable limits. No book ends or props are authorized for use. Note: You cannot order/receive new books/magazines unless you have reduced your total count to ensure you remain at/below the maximum of (10) items.

3. Sink. One soap dish, bar of soap, tooth brush, razor, shaving cream, and hair brush/comb can be neatly stowed on sink shelf. Note: if your cell fails an inspection due to cleanliness standards, lack of neatness or excessive items, you stand to lose all or a portion of this privilege and may be required to stow all items in your storage bin.

4. Shoe/Boot Storage. Two pair of athletic shoes, two pair of work shoes/boots, and one pair of shower shoes may be stored outside your cell storage bin. Shoes/boots shall be placed under the bunk next to the storage bin, heels towards the cell door.

5. Personal Correspondence. You are authorized to store personal correspondence in the clear box provided by Programs and Services. It will be labeled with your cell number. Only personal correspondence, mail received, course material calculator, notebooks and professional/legal documents, Parole and Clemency paperwork (DD Form 510s/2719s, etc.) may be stored in this box.

6. Hook(s). You may hang a single uniform (pants, shirt, t-shirt, ), a towel and wash cloth on the hooks provided. If you are assigned to grounds crew, during hot periods, may be permitted to hang a second uniform on the hooks.

7. Alterations. You are not authorized to alter any items in your cell to include mechanical items, miss-use of bedding (i.e., using your pillow case for dirty laundry, dumbbell, etc.), covering up windows or speakers with paper, tape or other items. You will be charged with Attempts (Category III, V), Damaging or Destroying Property (Category III), Possession, Introduction or Use of a Weapon (Category V), and/or Rules Violation (Category III). You shall not tamper with any lock, control panel, or locking device. This includes placing any object or material to prevent cell doors from operating normally. The door mechanism shall not be interfered with in any manner. Windows, lights, and vents shall not be covered for any reason by any article/material.

410. Prisoner Storage Bins

1. Your storage bins (one big bin and one for admin/letters/etc.) within your cell shall be stored underneath your rack against the bulkhead at the head of your bunk. All items contained in your storage bins shall be stowed in an orderly fashion and are subject to inspection for content at any time, (See Appendix I).

2. Inspect and clean your storage bin before you move into it. Contraband discovered during any search or inspection thereafter will be considered to belong to you.

3. Make no markings or scratches on your storage bin, nor place anything on the outside of your storage bin.

4. You shall ensure your storage bin is locked when not in use. See Suffering Loss of Property (CAT II)

411. Searches

1. While you are in confinement, you are subject to searches (personal or area) at any time by any staff member. This includes strip and/or frisk searches. Frisk searches involve physical contact initiated by a staff member on a prisoner that will include the genital areas. Frisk and strip searches are normally accomplished by a same gender staff member as you. Under emergency circumstances, the staff member accomplishing the search may be opposite gender accompanied by a witness.

2. Searches. Upon initial confinement, you received a frisk search, strip search, and a complete search of all personal gear. While you are at this brig, you will be subject to search at various times and may not refuse a search. Strip searches are conducted following visitation(s), on return from outside the brig, as well as at other times involving a legitimate penological interest. You are expected to cooperate and maintain military bearing during the search.

3. Area Searches. Your cell, storage bins, housing, and work areas will be searched at random times to ensure the area is free on contraband. Searches are not announced and your presence is not necessary for an area search to be conducted. You will follow the directions given by staff members conducting the area search. When a cell search is conducted, care will be exercised to avoid any undue disturbance of your effects. This does not mean your gear will be restored exactly as found.

412. Inspections

1. You will maintain a neat military appearance within the guidelines or your service's uniform regulations and these brig rules. You are held to these guidelines and are subject to inspections.

2. You are inspected daily by the unit staff. The minimum required uniform for "satisfactory" inspection includes the following:

a. Clean and serviceable working uniform

b. Black boots/shoes (well-blackened and shined) / Suede boots (brushed).

c. Correct stenciling.

d. Pockets empty, except for authorized items (See Article 503.1. a).

e. Clean shaven, unless under the medical direction of a "no-shave" chit in which case you will be in compliance with the recommendations on your chit.

f. Regulation haircut. NOTE: Discrepancies for shaves, haircuts, or "unsatisfactory" uniforms will be documented for the first offense and a negative observation report (OR) for the second offense. Further disciplinary action will be taken for continued discrepancies.

3. A formal inspection will be conducted weekly. Formal inspections will include storage bins, cells, and common areas of the unit. Inspection scores will be "tallied up" and the dorm with the best overall inspection score will win a group incentive (e.g. Late night movie call, or First in chow rotation). Your cells, storage bins, and common areas are subject to daily "in-house" inspections by your housing unit staff. Cells will be displayed as pictured in Appendix I.

4. If you receive a zero discrepancies during an inspection, you will receive a grade of "outstanding." One discrepancy will result in a grade of "satisfactory" and two or more discrepancies will result in an "unsatisfactory grade."

5. Anytime an "unsatisfactory" grade is received, the Quarters Supervisor will re-inspect those prisoners at a time he/she designated, normally after 1600 on the same day or during the next working day. Re-inspection will take precedence over other activities.

6. Cells are inspected by the Quarters Supervisor Monday-Friday between the hours or 0800-1600.

a. Maintain cells in a clean and orderly status at all times. (See Appendix I)

b. Desks, sinks, and items hanging on hooks will be neat and orderly and contain only authorized materials.

c. Secure dirty laundry with your laundry loops under the foot of your rack; footwear will not be turned into laundry.

d. Toilets and sinks will be free of all dirt and soap scum.

e. Dust all surfaces and sweep/mop the deck.

f. Shoes/boots that are not in use may be stored on the deck under your rack neatly with heels facing the outboard edge of your rack.

SECTION 5 - AUTHORIZED PROPERTY AND UNIFORM REGULATIONS

501. Brig Issue

1. Upon intake you were issued various items of government property. These items, must be returned in the same condition as they were issued, allowing for normal wear. j. Eye Glasses. Contact lenses are not authorized in confinement.

k. One pair of prescription sunglasses, when authorized as medically necessary by medical authorities.

l. Dentures.

m. One Brig issued Personal Music Device (PMD) and earbuds.

n. One compact disk player (your expense) after meeting eligibility and obtaining the required incentive level. (See Appendix D – Incentive Levels).

NOTE: If you transferred from another DoD Facility with CDs, a radio and/or a CD player, these items may be stored in your storage bin located in the "Lucky Bag" room; however, you cannot store or purchase any more CDs than is allowed in accordance with your incentive level. Any excess items shall be mailed out at your own expense or discarded. You cannot add CDs or Personal Music Devices to the storage bin located in the "Lucky Bag" room to avoid disposing of or mailing excess items home. If you later remove any items placed in the storage bin during initial confinement, you cannot put them back in. The only exception to this policy is storage of any item lost due to an incentive level reduction, if you will have the time remaining on your sentence to regain that incentive level.

o. You are authorized to possess the following items when temporarily away from your unit: one pair of eye glasses, one wedding band, one handkerchief, one religious necklace (must not be visible when worn), one chap stick, women's sanitary items (as needed) while on temporary release (which will be carried in the left rear pocket when wearing your uniform). No items may be placed in your prisoner badge holder, except your prisoner badge. Earbuds, music, and books will not leave the unit unless authorized by incentive level.

p. You may have a "non-spring loaded" pen, pencil, or other educational or religious materials or treatment group materials while in attendance at or in route to and from programming, treatment groups, or religious activities.

q. All books, newspaper, CDs, magazines, and periodicals must be approved prior to arrival at the Brig or they will be discarded or returned at your expense. You are authorized a maximum of 10 books/publications/religious or study material publications for use in your cell. It is your responsibility not to exceed these limits. You are permitted to receive publications (new books and CDs), and to subscribe to newspapers and periodicals directly from the publisher or an approved source while you are confined. No media (books, magazines, CDs, etc.) will be ordered during last 60 days of confinement Newspapers and periodicals subscribed to prior to or during confinement shall be delivered to addressee during regular mail call. Books/magazines/CDs shall not be carried outside the unit unless permitted by incentive level. Once books/ publications /CDs are received, you shall write your last name and RCN on the outside front covers or first page. Publications found without your last name and RCN, missing sections of a cover, or with another prisoner's name/number will be confiscated and will be considered contraband. Self-help/study material required for study and/or programs which would cause you to exceed your publication limit (10) may be authorized via 510 for a period of 30 days by the Program and Services Department Head.

r. Donated Books/CDs. Only hardback books and vendor purchased CDs will be considered for donation to the library. Submit a DD Form 510 to the Library Custodian for approval to donate your book(s)/CD(s). Used books, magazines, or periodicals cannot be donated but may be mailed home at your expense, or destroyed.

s. CPAP machine and distilled water (if required) (must be approved by medical).

t. Maximum of 40 embossed envelopes (see article 605.b).

u. All personal items in your possession will be clearly marked or stenciled with your name and RCN. The purpose of marking/stenciling personal items is to deter theft or trafficking. You can never possess another prisoner's property, nor can you inherit items belonging to a departing prisoner.

2. Prohibited Published Items. Publications, including those in multimedia format (video, CDs, etc.) which meet any of the following descriptions, are not authorized and will not be accepted:

a. Sexually explicit material that, by its nature or content, poses a threat to the security, good order, discipline or rehabilitation interests of the facility, or that facilitates criminal activity. The mailroom, in conjunction with the Brig Literary Review Board determines whether or not such material is detrimental in these ways and whether or not these materials should be rejected.

b. Publications, which may be disapproved by the OIC, include, but are not limited to publications that meet one of the following criteria:

(1) Violates postal regulation;

(2) Depicts, or describes procedures for the construction or use of weapons, ammunition, bombs, or incendiary devices;

(3) Depicts, encourages, or describes methods of escape from confinement facilities, or contains blueprints, drawings or similar descriptions of confinement facilities;

(4) Depicts or describes procedures for the brewing of alcoholic beverages, or the manufacture of drugs;

(5) Contains or is written in code;

(6) Depicts, describes or encourages activities, which may lead to the use or physical violence or group disruption;

(7) Advocates racial, religious or national hatred in such a way to encourage violence in the facility;

(8) Encourages or instructs in the commission of criminal activity;

(9) Is an unofficial publication (such as saved/copied data on a CD).

c. If a publication is determined to be unacceptable by the Literary Review Board, the Board chair will notify you in writing of the decision and the reason(s) the publication was determined to be unacceptable.

d. Articles, pictures, or other portions of magazines, books, or similar printed documents of the decision and the reason(s) the publication was determined to be unacceptable.

3. Personal Music Device (PMD)/Compact Disk Player Guidelines. Only authorized prisoners may possess a CD player depending upon the Incentive Level earned. You may only have one CD player at a time (this does not include the brig issued PMD). See Appendix D for the Incentive Level criteria and what privileges can be earned.

a. Areas or use. CD players may be listened to in individual cells and unit day rooms. Brig issued PMD cannot be taken out of the unit unless your incentive level allows.

b. Hours of Use. A PMD and/or CD player may be used during personal time only. They may not be used during working hours, special programs, dining hours, from taps to reveille (unless late lights are authorized), during motivational training, etc.

c. Source. CD players will be issued by the brig library.

d. Incentive/Privileges and PMD/Compact Disk Player.

(1) Borrowing or lending of a PMD/CD player will be considered trafficking and will result in loss of incentive level and possible disciplinary action.

(2) CD player possession and use is an incentive and is not "automatic." If you receive a DR, your CD player use may be suspended for a period of time after the Programs & Services Department reviews due process for recommendation to D&A Board.

(3) PMD or CD player shall be played at a low enough volume to hear orders and announcements. "I didn't hear word passed" will not, under any circumstances, be accepted as an excuse.

4. Compact Disks. Only commercially produced, wrapped and sealed music may be purchased. No "ripped" or MP3 CDs are permitted. Note: Religious CDs may also be checked out through the Religious Library by submitting a DD Form 510 to the Chaplain or checked out from the Library Media center.

a. CDs must be stored inside the your storage bin when not in use. You cannot store excess CDs in your "Lucky Bag."

b. CDs will be clearly/permanently stenciled with the your name and RCN.

c. Unmarked CDs will be considered contraband and will be confiscated.

d. Possession of another prisoner's CDs will result in disciplinary action.

e. Altered CDs or material other than indicated on labels will be confiscated.

f. You will purchase CDs with personal funds from an online vendor after approved by DD Form 510.

g. Place the green copy of the approved DD Form 510 inside the associated CD case. Whenever inspected, you must provide a DD Form 510 for each CD in your locker or all CDs will be confiscated and you will receive a disciplinary report for trafficking and contraband.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR ASSEMBLING THE CERTIFIED RECORD OF TRIAL

Arrange and bind the record of trial with allied papers in the sequence indicated below. The court reporter is responsible for certifying the record of trial prior to transmittal for appellate review, in accordance with R.C.M. 1112 and JAG/CNLSCINST 5813.1G.

1. Pages 1 (Cover page) and 2 (Chronology Sheet) of DD Form 490 (enclosure 7).

2. Court reporter certification of Record of Trial (enclosure 8).

3. Military Judge verification of Record of Trial (enclosure 8).

4. DD Form 490 (pages 3-6 and any continuation pages if needed) (enclosure 7).

5. Completed Post-Trial Checklist from JAG/CNLSCINST 5814.1G (enclosure 2).

6. Completed Convening Authority's Action Checklist (enclosure 4).

7. Post-Trial Documents.

a. Certificates/Proof of Service of the Certified Record of Trial to the accused and victim, if applicable (enclosure 7).

b. Convening Authority's Action and Entry of Judgment (enclosure 6).

c. Any requests for copies of the court-martial record pursuant to R.C.M. 1106 or 1106A (attach written requests, and any certificates/proof of service, but do not attach the victim's post-trial rights advisement or DD Form 2704).

d. Matters submitted by the accused and/or victim under R.C.M. 1106 or 1106A, or any written waiver of the right to submit such matters. Include all responses to requests here as well.

e. Any deferment request and the action on it (including any request to waive automatic forfeitures under Article 58b).

f. Conditions of suspension and proof of service on probationer under R.C.M. 1107, if any.

g. All clemency recommendations by members or military judge, if any.

h. Statement of Trial Results (enclosure 1).

i. Crime Reporting Information.

j. Accused's request for appellate defense counsel, or waiver/withdrawal of appellate review under R.C.M. 1115, if applicable.

k. All transfer orders, confinement orders, and excess leave orders.

l. Briefs of counsel submitted after trial, if any.

8. Preliminary Hearing.

a. DD Form 457, Preliminary Hearing Officer's Report, pursuant to Article 32, if such hearing was conducted, followed by any other allied papers that accompanied the charges when referred for trial (including any matters submitted under R.C.M. 405(l), unless included elsewhere in the record of trial).*

b. Waiver of Article 32 Hearing (if applicable).

9. Pre-Trial Allied Papers.

a. Convening Order and all amending convening orders.

b. DD Form 458, Charge Sheet (unless included at the point of arraignment in the transcript).

INSTRUCTIONS FOR ASSEMBLING THE CERTIFIED RECORD OF TRIAL

c. Congressional inquiries and replies, if any.

d. Advice of staff judge advocate, when prepared pursuant to Article 34 or otherwise.

10. Record of Proceedings.

a. Substantially verbatim recording of court-martial proceedings. Segregate open and closed sessions of the court-martial in accordance with R.C.M. 1113 and the following guidance:*

b. Ensure that each closed session of the court-martial is recorded on a separate DVD marked CLOSED SESSION, placed in its own envelope marked CLOSED SESSION, and sealed.

c. Label all DVD(s) and envelopes with the information on page 1 of this template.

d. Mark all DVDs and envelopes with "1 of X." as necessary (for example, the second DVD of six DVDs and its envelope should be marked, 2 of 6). All DVDs of open sessions may be in one envelope.

e. Mark all DVDs with their beginning and ending timestamps. The timestamps for closed sessions should match those shown on the Index.

f. Verbatim transcript or summarized report prepared in accordance with JAGINST 5814.1G. Include the following:

I. A certificate of correction, if any (including any supplemental certification for additional proceedings).

II. Court reporter and transcriptionist certification of verbatim transcript.

g. Records of former proceedings (Article 30a) and/or trials, (e.g., electronic/digital record of former proceeding, including audio recording and any scanned documentation/transcripts, CD/DVD format).*

11. Prosecution exhibits admitted in evidence.

12. Defense Exhibits admitted in evidence.

13. Appellate Exhibits including but not limited to, proposed instructions, written offers of proof or preliminary evidence (real or documentary), briefs of counsel submitted at trial, request to be tried by military judge alone (if any), the accused election of members under R.C.M. 903 (if any), any statement by convening authority required under R.C.M. 503(a)(2), and the election for sentencing by members in lieu of sentencing by military judge under R.C.M. 1002(b).*

14. Redaction. The following information shall be redacted in accordance with JAGMAN 1059 from the record of trial prior to releasing it to any accused or victim (including any transcript made pursuant to R.C.M. 1114 and attached to the record of trial) unless the information establishes an element of an offense, or is otherwise required:

a. Any recordings of closed sessions, any transcripts of closed sessions, and any sealed exhibits.

b. Names of minor victims, and names of minor witnesses. If an identifier is used, use only the initials.

c. Social Security Numbers.

d. Financial account information.

e. Home addresses.

f. Telephone numbers.

g. Personal e-mail addresses.

h. Dates of birth.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR ASSEMBLING THE CERTIFIED RECORD OF TRIAL

i. Any other information that could be used to identify a specific person other than the accused.

*If the report of preliminary hearing or record of trial contains exhibits, proceedings, or other materials ordered sealed by the preliminary hearing officer or military judge, counsel for the Government, the court reporter, or trial counsel shall cause such materials to be sealed to prevent unauthorized examination or disclosure, pursuant to R.C.M. 1113. Sealed material shall be properly marked, individually placed in separate envelopes with a copy of the preliminary hearing officer or military judge sealing order affixed to it, and inserted at the appropriate place in the record of trial. Do not duplicate sealed material to include it in any copy of the record of trial. Instead, insert a copy of the sealing order in lieu of any sealed material, in any copies of the record of trial.

DIVIDERS ARE NOT NECESSARY TO SEPARATE EACH SECTION. IF USED, THEY CAN BE PAPER RATHER THAN CARD STOCK. IF A PARTICULAR COMPONENT IS NOT APPLICABLE IN THE RECORD OF TRIAL, SUCH AS AN ARTICLE 32 HEARING, EXHIBITS NOT ADMITTED, POST-TRIAL PROCEEDINGS AND VACATION HEARINGS, DO NOT INSERT A DIVIDER OR PLACEHOLDER.

FRONT AND BACK COVER MUST BE ON BLUE CARDS STOCK AND LABELED WITH GUM LABELS.

Binding. Each volume of a record of trial should be no more than 1.5 inches thick and bound at the top with metal or plastic fasteners. DO NOT interlace or "piggy-back" prong fasteners to create an oversized volume. DO NOT place hole punches where it covers up the evidence or language in the transcript. When it becomes necessary to assemble the record of trial in more than one volume, the volumes will be numbered consecutively, on the front cover, as illustrated below:

Volume 1 of 4 (Pages 1-250)
Volume 2 of 4 (Pages 251-400)
Volume 3 of 4 (Pages 401-652)
Volume 4 of 4 (Pages 653-901 and Exhibits)

Make the first volume of a multi-volume record an inch thick or smaller to allow for inclusion of post-trial documents. Limit subsequent volumes to 1.5 inches, unless dividing them requires assembling an additional volume smaller than a half inch.

Label the upper right-hand corner or the Preparation and Certification of Record of Trial Form (enclosure (8)) to reflect which copy it is, i.e., "ORIGINAL," "ACCUSED," "REVIEW" etc.

5. Wrist Watch Guidelines.

a. Wrist Watches will be authorized in accordance with Appendix D – Incentive Levels. Watches can only be purchased through the Brig Store.

b. Authorized wrist watches may be revoked by a D&A Board (e.g. reduction in Incentive Level) and surrendered to brig staff.

504. Uniform Articles

1. Appendix B contains a complete list of required uniform items and quantities allowed; only the quantity listed may be kept in your possession while confined. All authorized excess items will be placed with your personal effects in your storage bin located in the "Lucky Bag" room and those items not authorized will be disposed of or mailed out of the brig at your expense. If you arrived at the brig with unauthorized/ excess items, those items were returned via your escorts. You shall not lend nor borrow uniform items from other prisoner, nor "inherit" them from departing prisoners.

2. You are required to maintain your uniforms in good condition while you are confined. Uniforms will be clean and neat and must be laundered regularly per the laundry schedule.

3. Uniform/Clothing Repair. If you need a uniform sewn or repaired (such as sew on a new button), submit a DD Form 510 to you counselor within Programs and Service. The items (if able to) will be repaired or replaced.

4. Replace excessively faded, frayed, or stained uniforms by submitting a DD Form 510 to Operations department Receiving and Release for a replacement uniform issue.

5. Worn out/unserviceable underwear and socks shall be replaced with your personal funds.

6. Pre-Trial prisoners, and certain prisoners with an approved DD Form 510, are authorized to maintain their dress uniforms in the "Lucky Bag" room pending completion of court-martial or for a specified period. Dress uniforms are only worn when specifically authorized for court or temporary release and shall include ribbons, badges, attachments, and rank insignia.

7. Spare Covers. You will maintain a cover and utilize it if taken on a Temporary Release.

505. Uniform Marking Requirements

1. Your uniforms were issued and inventoried upon arrival. You are expected to maintain proper uniform markings during confinement. This includes nametapes as prescribed by brig policy or if discharged, a tape that reflects, "DISCHARGED". If your nametape comes off, submit a DD Form 510 to Operations Department Receiving and Release requesting to replace/repair your nametape.

506. Prescribed Uniform

1. The full work uniform shall be worn at all times except for the following situations:

a. Inside the housing units and work/programming spaces: Upon CDO direction, you may modify your uniform (remove outer blouse) when the temperature in that unit or space reaches 80 degrees Fahrenheit.

b. Working outdoors: Upon direction of the CDO, your may remove the outer blouse when the Heat Index is above 85.

c. When the temperature in the housing unit or other space drops below 80 degrees or the Heat Index drop reaches 85 or below for those working outdoors, you shall return to full work uniform.

d. Rolling up of trouser legs is prohibited. Modification of authorized PT shorts or PT sweatpants, including hemming cut-off trousers or sweatpants is not authorized. Undergarments including underwear (bras for women except when sleeping) must be worn at all times. Authorized T-shirts shall be worn whenever the work uniform is worn. When coveralls are worn, an authorized T-shirt shall be worn.

e. During Personal Time blouses may be removed while in your cell.

f. Female prisoners shall wear authorized bras and T-shirts at all times when in uniform.

g. You will not roll your sleeves; sleeves will be worn down at all times while inside the facility.

h. When uniforms are worn, all buttons except for the top outer blouse button will be buttoned. Trousers will be the proper length and worn around the waist. At no time shall trousers be worn around the buttocks area (no sagging). The full uniform shall be worn as prescribed by service directives, unless more stringent conditions exist within these rules and regulations.

i. Boots (including Chukka boots) must be fully laced and tied.

2. Physical Training Uniform (PTU). A combination of the following attire is the only attire authorized for wear during recreational activities. PTUs are not authorized for wear underneath your uniform. Authorized PTUs are optional wear during personal time and holiday routine (refer to rule 408 for details):

| Shirt | Pants | Footwear |
|---|---|---|
| Authorized PT T-Shirt | Authorized PT Shorts | Athletic Shoes* |
| Authorized PT Sweatshirt | Authorized PT Sweatpants | Shower Shoes |
| Authorized PT Windbreaker | | |

*Turf shoes or black soled shoes not authorized Shower shoes are authorized for wear only when transiting to and from the showers.

Note: Watch caps are not permitted to be worn indoors.

a. In order to present a regimented and uniformed appearance, the authorized PTU shirt will be tucked inside the waistband of PTU shorts or sweatpants at all times. PT shirts that become untucked during the course of physical activity shall be re-tucked during a natural break in the activity, for example during a stop or reset in play, or during a rest period between exercises or events.

b. At a minimum, you shall wear authorized PT gear and underwear when sleeping. PT gear authorized for sleeping includes any combination of authorized PT shorts, authorized PT sweatpants/warm-up pants, service authorized t-shirts, and authorized PT sweatshirts/warm-up jackets/ windbreaker.

c. Cut-off shorts, sweats or shirts that rise above the waist are not authorized and will be confiscated as contraband. Items listed above can be delivered from your confining command (only), but may not be mailed to you by family or friends. Worn-out PT gear will be replaced by using personal funds, your confining command, or issued as organizational gear. (PT gear issued to you will be signed for and returned to the lucky bag PO/NCO when you are released from the brig). Unless in full working uniform, female military hair styles are not required with PT gear, but must be pulled back in a neat ponytail (length permitting).

507. Identification Badges

1. Identification badges must be worn at all times except when showering or in segregation status:

a. Badges have color codes, which denote custody classification, legal status, and incentive level. You will not tamper with, remove, or add any items to your badge.

b. Badges will be worn suspended, midway from the button and the inboard edge, from the left pocket flap, picture side up, and remain visible at all times. Wear the badge attached at waist level, to the left front side of your PT shorts/sweatpants/warm-up pants during recreation call and while engaged in athletics.

c. When in your cell and while showering, display your badge in the cell door window.

d. When you are in segregation status, you shall not wear your badge while in your cell. The badges will be maintained at the Quarters Supervisor station.

e. If you lose your badge, report it to a staff member immediately.

f. NO chits, pictures, or other items will be carried behind the badge (i.e., inside the plastic badge holder).

SECTION 6 - ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEDURES

601. Custody Classification and Custody Level

1. Your custody classification can be Maximum (MAX), Medium-In (MDI), Medium-Out (MDO), Minimum (MIN), or Installation Custody (IC). You normally begin in the "Medium-In" custody level. Pre-Trial prisoners will only be assigned a custody of MAX or MDI. Once adjudged, you may be reclassified to a lower custody level the Commanding Officer/OIC authorizes which provides the appropriate level of supervision. The classification decision is based on a variety of factors and is objectively based on points for each factor. The point categories for re-classification are:

a. Offense severity,
b. Number of Disciplinary Reports in the last 90 days,
c. Severity of Disciplinary Report.
d. Number of negative Observation Reports (ORs) in the last 90 days,
e. Number of Positive Observation Reports (ORs) in the last 90 days, responsibility shown,
f. Current Programing (treatment programming only),
g. Work Performance
h. Length of Sentence time remaining, and
i. any pending charges/warrants/detainers.

Other information known to staff that is relevant to the decision concerning the supervision needed (custody level) may be added. A justified override of the points may occur in order to fully consider all factors in the final decision by the OIC.

2. To be eligible for Installation Custody (IC) level, (in addition to behavioral expectations), you must have;

a. Completed at least one-half of the adjudged confinement or the convening authority must have completed action – whichever comes first;

b. Be within 12 months of minimum release date or have an approved parole date within 12 months;

c. Nature of offense and applicable Federal, State and local laws concerning unsupervised release for work and recreation into the local geographical area (all areas outside the security perimeter).

d. Not have been previously removed from "IC" for cause.

3. Consideration for Reclassification. The Classification and Assignment (C&A) board considers you individually for changes to your current classification level and makes recommendations up the chain of command to the Commanding Officer/OIC for final decision. Your custody classification level is re-considered at various points during your incarceration:

a. Upon completion of orientation or change in legal status.

b. When staff initiates a change to a lower/less restrictive level based on risk/salient factors, and/or management problems, and/or work evaluations, and program involvement (e.g., after finding of guilty at the disciplinary board, period of outstanding performance, etc.). Staff recommends a change to a lower/less restrictive level based on performance and risk/salient factors.

c. Quarterly for those with sentence less than 1 year.

d. Semi-annually for those with sentences of 1 to 3 years.

e. Annually with sentences over 3 years.

602. Work and Training Evaluations

1. While you are confined at the brig you will be assigned to various work details. Your supervisor will evaluate you in writing. You will receive an evaluation at least twice per month from you Quarters Supervisor and Work Center Supervisor. You will also receive an evaluation each time you change jobs within a given month. You will be evaluated in such areas as behavior, motivation, attitude and overall performance. These reports will become a permanent part of your Prisoner File and will be reviewed often during your confinement. Each time you are considered for a custody change, sentence abatement, disciplinary action, clemency, parole, or other action, your record, including these evaluations, will weigh heavily in determining the disposition of the action. You are encouraged to review your "Work and Training Evaluation" with your unit staff during regularly scheduled counseling.

2. Work and Training Evaluations will be signed by you. Any marks OTHER than Average must have statement in comment section of work and training report for positive and negative incidents. Your signature acknowledges that you are aware of the evaluation. If you wish to contest the evaluation, you may submit a statement on a DD

Form 510 to the Programs and Services department head after you have signed the evaluation. Any finding of guilty at a D&A Board will result in a Below Average work and training report for that period of performance from either work or dorm report.

603. Good Conduct Time Allowance (GCT), Earned Time (ET) and Special Acts Abatement (SAA)

1. Good Conduct Time. If you are serving a definite sentence to confinement, (other than for life) you are entitled to a reduction in time served in confinement for good conduct and faithful observance of all rules and regulations. Good conduct time is "earned" as follows:

a. If you were adjudged after 1 Jan 05 will earn GCT at a rate of 5 days of GCT per month, regardless of sentence length.

b. GCT will not be credited during Pre-Trial confinement, but will be credited after/if a sentence is adjudged.

c. All or part of your earned GCT may be forfeited for misconduct or rules violations. This is called "Forfeiture of Good Conduct Time."

2. Earned Time (ET) Credit

a. You may earn additional days off their confinement time, called "Earned Time (ET)," to be applied towards their sentence. There are five component areas in which time can be earned:

(1) Work

(2) Offense-Related / Other Rehabilitation/Treatment;

(3) Self Improvement and Personal Growth;

(4) Education;

(5) Support Activities.

b. Employment Date/Continuous Employment Date (CED). If you are serving a sentence imposed by a court-martial for a definite term of confinement, you are eligible for ET abatement. Pre-Trial prisoners are not eligible for earned time abatement. The initial employment date is effective on the adjudged date, unless the sentence was deferred. Employment is considered continuous unless for valid cause (e.g., Disciplinary Segregation, D&A board management action, etc.) and specifically approved for interruption by the Brig Officer. It is defined by the number of continuous "full months" worked since initial employment or date in which CED was reset.

3. Rates of Earning ET Abatement

a. Maximum 13 days total GCT (5) plus ET (8) per month;

b. 13 days – GCT (5) days = Max ET (8) days that may be earned per month;

c. ET shall not be awarded within 30 days of the scheduled minimum release date (MRD) or for work during your first 30 days of confinement.

d. You are responsible for documenting and tracking individual hours and activities required for earning ET in the component areas of Offense-Related/Other Rehabilitation/Treatment, Self-Improvement and Personal Growth, Education and Support Activities.

e. You must have an individual DD Form 2719 Prisoner Program Validation sheet completed for each program for which you are actively involved. When accumulated hours and activities accrue ET, forward your Prisoner Program Validation sheets, all documentation (DANTES transcripts, course completion certificates, etc.), and a DD Form 510 (detail what abatement you are requesting. All abatement can be listed on a single DD Form 510) to the ET/SAA board via your Counselor. You do not submit a DD Form 510 if you are only eligible for work abatement. Submit your request on the first work day of the month for the prior month's completed activities. DD Form 2719's, certificates, etc., completed/signed during months prior to the current abatement month will not be accepted; meaning, abatement will not be grandfathered.

f. You will be counseled on your performance during the review period and informed of ET awarded once decided by the Brig Officer. Submit any appeal to evaluations to the OIC within 15 calendar days.

g. If your in Disciplinary Segregation (DSEG), you may not earn ET. If you have a finding of guilty at a D&A board, you will receive a Below Average Evaluation. ET for work will follow paragraph 603.3.i below.

h. There can be no break in work assignment in order to earn full credit. This includes the resetting of Continuous Employment Date (CED) from D&A Board.

(1) Breaks include failure to report to work, DSEG, etc.

(2) Breaks can result in reduction in the monthly earning rate.

(3) Breaks will result in "no work credit" for that month.

i. If your work performance is "below average" or worse, you will not be eligible for ET for work for that month. If an individual's behavior or brig's security concern makes them unavailable for work assignment, then credit for work shall not be awarded.

4. Earning Time Rates

a. Work. A maximum of five days of ET per month can be awarded for work. Performance must be rated "average" or higher for the entire month (documented by the Work and Training Evaluation) to earn work abatement. No work abatement is awarded for your first month in the brig. Once you achieve a higher work level, you will earn the higher earning rate on the next full month of employment.

| Work Level | Continuous Employment | Earning Rate |
|---|---|---|
| 1 | 0 to 6 months | 1 day per month |
| 2 | 7 to 12 months | 2 days per month |
| 3 | 13 to 18 months | 3 days per month |
| 4 | 19 to 24 months | 4 days per month |
| 5 | 25 or more | 5 days per month |

b. OFFENSE-RELATED/OTHER REHABILITATION/TREATMENT PROGRAMS: A maximum of 2 days ET per month possible, subject to limitations of individual programs.

c. SELF-IMPROVEMENT AND PERSONAL GROWTH: A maximum of 2 days ET per month possible.

d. EDUCATION: A maximum of 2 days ET per month possible.

e. SUPPORT ACTIVITIES: A maximum of 1 day ET per month possible 1 day for each 40 hours of participation.

5. Special Acts Abatement (SAA)

a. SAA is a deduction from your release date earned for a specific act of heroism, humanitarianism, or extraordinary institutional or community support deemed appropriate by the CO.

b. Pre-Trial prisoners are not eligible for SAA.

c. The maximum credit earned under SAA is two days per month.

604. Incentive Levels

1. The Incentive Program is intended to reward you for continued positive behavior for maintaining full compliance with your Program Plan. Incentive levels are "earned" by you and recognized by the Unit Team who maintains the program for each unit. Each level incorporates the previously earned incentives. You must submit a DD Form 510 to the Unit Counselor to request review for incentive level increase. The Unit Counselor will review your record and decide if your behavior and Program Plan participation warrants an upgrade of Incentive Level. Your Incentive level will be reflected by a hole punched (one for each level earned) into your identification badge in the lower right corner. (See Appendix D). Board actions (D&A, C&A) shall accomplish incentive level review for eligibility, assignment, or revocation. Incentive level can be reviewed during any board action but cannot be changed by more than one board for the same action or incident. Failure to meet the applicable criteria of the currently assigned incentive level shall result in automatic reversion to the incentive level for which criteria is met.

605. Correspondence and Mail

1. You assume full responsibility for the contents of all letters and video messages placed in the U.S. Mail while you are confined at the brig. Contents found containing prohibited material or writing may result in prosecution for violation of federal law. You shall not receive any form of medicines through the mail. You are required to maintain a current Mail and Visiting List of your correspondents/visitors. This list will be completed while in Intake/Orientation process. You may make additions, deletions and changes at any subsequent time, but you must keep it current. It is your responsibility to notify postal staff of changes in a timely manner to prevent returned mail.

a. Sex Offender Correspondence with Minors. If you are convicted of a Sexual offense involving a minor under the age of 18 (including child sexual abuse images or videos/pornography), you may not write, call, or send out recordings or without written approval of the OIC. Video messages (e.g., via content) is subject to monitoring just like any letter correspondence. Route such correspondence request through your Counselor, Programs and Services, Clinical Services, Technical Director/AOIC and the Victim/Witness Coordinator. For requests to contact children age five and older, you shall include with your chit a written recommendation from a child sexual abuse specialist, who is fully informed of the sexual offense convictions, recommending such contact on behalf of the minor including the basis for the recommendation and that therapist's contact information.

b. Sex Offender Contact with Minors. Those convicted of an offense that has a sexual component involving an actual or perceived minor under the age of 18 are restricted from having direct or indirect contact with minors (e.g., correspondence, visitation, phone calls, video messaging, etc.) that are not family members of the offender. Direct or indirect contact by visitation with a family member who is a minor under the age of 18 must be specifically authorized by the OIC. The minor child's guardian must be supportive of the request and have knowledge of your offense, as indicated in written authorization from the guardian. In order to request to contact children age five and older, you shall include a written recommendation from a child sexual abuse specialist (who is fully informed of the sexual offense convictions) recommending such contact on behalf of the minor (including the basis for the recommendation) and that therapist's contact information with the DD Form 510 request. The correspondence requests must be routed through the Counselor, Programs and Services, Clinical Services, Victim/Witness Coordinator and Technical Director/AOIC.

2. There is no limit to the amount of mail you may send (as your funds permit) or receive. A maximum of 40 postage embossed envelopes, with your name printed neatly in the top left corner in ink, may be maintained in your locker (see article 503.1.u). If the embossed postage is not enough, a brig postal meter machine will determine the cost and it will be charged from your personal funds. You may not receive or send stamps or embossed envelopes through the mail. You may not send out Health and Comfort issue items. You may not use government issued funds to mail out personal items or packages. All incoming/outgoing mail is subject to inspection for contraband. Your consent is not necessary for this inspection. If violations are discovered, you may be subject to disciplinary action. The written material discovered may be copied and all material referred to an appropriate law enforcement agency for potential prosecution. If you do not desire to receive any or all mail, you must submit a Request for Interview (DD Form 510), to that effect. All such mail will be marked 'refused" and returned to sender. You're only required to receive official mail. You will be permitted to write as many letters as you desire; however, you may not:

a. Receive any item specifically prohibited under Article 503.2 (Personal Items).

b. Name staff personnel in your correspondence, unless authorized by that staff member in writing.

c. Write to another prisoner in any confinement facility, without the prior written permission of the sending and receiving facility CO/Warden. Such requests will be submitted to the TD/AOIC via a DD Form 510.

d. Correspond with currently confined or former prisoners of this facility or another facility who have been released from confinement within the past 24 months. If you attempt to add these individuals to your Mail and Visiting List or deceive staff by not identifying that person's status, you are subject to disciplinary action.

e. Use the mail for purpose of entering contests, lotteries or games of chance.

f. Correspond with the intent to solicit correspondence from "pen pals".

g. Conduct a business (profit or non-profit) through the mail, directly or through another party.

h. Correspond in a foreign language without prior written approval from the P&S Department Head. Written requests must include names, addresses, and phone numbers of each person for which foreign language correspondence is requested.

i. Use business reply cards (except when attached to a DD Form 510 for a request for a personal subscription), pullouts or cutouts from brig periodicals/books /papers, etc. You may not join clubs (i.e. CDs, commemorative items, fan clubs, etc.)

j. Correspond with, telephone, visits, mail, victims, or witnesses of your case or any associated case, directly or through a third party, unless authorized by the OIC in writing. Any contact as a result of a restitution agreement will be made through the Parole and Release Office. Correspondence between prisoners and victim(s) or witnesses of their confining offense is prohibited unless an exception is approved in advance by the OIC after a recommendation by the Victim/Witness Coordinator and Clinical Services Department Head.

(1) Victim restitution requirements for release on parole or clemency must be coordinated with both the Parole and Release Director and the Victim/Witness Coordinator.

(2) Any contact with a victim/witness must be initiated by the victim/witness, vetted and ultimately approved by the OIC.

3. Outgoing mail will be placed in the locked mailboxes marked "U. S. Mail" in each unit. Letters will be unsealed and WILL NOT indicate externally that the sender is a prisoner. Your return address is:

Prisoner Name
P.O. BOX 800
CHESAPEAKE, VA 23322

4. In addition, the following rules apply to incoming or outgoing mail:

a. Any material that violates postal regulations or brig regulations (obscenity, threats, or blackmail) will be confiscated. The following may occur: all material may be copied; returned to the sender; or referred to postal authorities or other law enforcement agency for appropriate action including potential prosecution.

b. Money or valuables received in the mail will be removed and placed in your funds and valuables account. Any valuables received must have a prior approved DD Form 510 or it will be rejected and returned to sended. A receipt will be issued to you if a money order/cashier's check is received; you will be called to endorse/deposit the funds. Posting to your account will normally occur within two (2) working days after receipt. No personal checks, cash, calling cards, or credit cards allowed.

c. Incoming or outgoing correspondence that affects the security of the brig, attempts to circumvent regulations, or discusses escape or other criminal activity will be rejected and disciplinary action may be taken. If you do not want your correspondence inspected by the staff, it will be returned to the sender. This means that you will not receive such correspondence. You may choose whether you want your general correspondence delivered to you, subject to the above conditions, or returned to the sender.

d. Prisoner Correspondence. Authorized facility staff have the authority to open all incoming correspondence addressed to you (except privileged correspondence) before it is delivered to you.

e. Privileged Correspondence. Privileged correspondence includes correspondence from the President, Vice President of the United States, U.S. Department of Justice, U.S. Attorneys Offices, Secretary of the Army, Navy, Air Force, Homeland Security, Courts (Federal, State, and Local), Members of the U.S. Congress, Embassies (ambassadors) and Consulates (consulate generals), State Attorneys, General Prosecuting Attorneys, State Parole Commissioners, State Probation Officers, Judge Advocate General or his or her representatives, Inspectors General or his or her representatives, your defense counsel, and your clergyman, when approved by the chaplain and attorneys and their representatives listed in professional directories.

f. Senders should adequately identify themselves on the envelope and identify privileged correspondence as follows: "Privileged correspondence – Do not open". Privileged Correspondence is subject to inspection for contraband in your presence.

g. To mail out privileged correspondence, you will seal and address the mail as privileged correspondence and place it in the mailbox.

h. Privilege correspondence may be opened for cause to check for contraband but not read by brig staff.

i. Packages

(1) Unless prior written approval has been granted, packages received will be returned to sender or mailed home at your expense. To mail out packages, you must have an approved DD Form 510 with the full address to whom you plan to mail the package. The name and address must be on you approved correspondence list. You must place your name on the package and send it out via the mailroom. Funds will be deducted from your account to cover the cost of the postage.

(2) You may not receive any item that is available in the brig Navy Exchange outlet, including unused pre-stamped/pre-addressed envelopes. This includes items of a health and comfort nature (i.e., body powder, foot powder, facial cream, Walkman radios, etc.).

(3) To receive an item not specifically authorized within these "Rules and Regulations," you must obtain written waiver approval from the Programs and Service Department Head or above via DD Form 510, stating a valid reason for the waiver. Medically related items will be approved via DD Form 510 through the Medical Department to the Technical Director/AOIC.

j. Educational and religious books, educational materials, mental health and self-help materials and religious items may be received by mail if prior written approval is obtained by the Chaplain or Clinical Director. These materials, if in a foreign language will also be reviewed by the Chaplain.

k. All hardcover and soft cover books, magazines and CDs must be new (not used) and be delivered directly from the publisher or bookstore. (There are exceptions to allow receipt of used books for authorized educational coursework, when pre-approved by the Adult Basic Educational Service). See Appendix H for details on purchase of new or used books and how to advise those who will send you books.

l. Books, magazines, publications, pamphlets and other mailed materials are subject to review by the Literary Review Board (LRB). The LRB will determine if an incoming publication is detrimental to the security, discipline or good order of the facility. Specifically, the LRB is tasked with determining if items are Disturbing, Hostile, or Offensive (DHO). This includes commercial publications that are sexually explicit or feature nudity, or contained material likely to have a detrimental effect on rehabilitation. Because rehabilitation is a legitimate correctional interest, such publications will be excluded. For additional limits see Article 503 (Personal Items).

(1) Materials authorized for prisoner possession when also DHO, must be identified as such (i.e., "DHO") on the material's front and rear side with clear ownership (i.e., prisoner's name) for ready identification by brig staff. DHO material is maintained in your cell and will not be taken into the dayroom for any reason.

m. Media Access. Personal, electronic, or telephonic interviews with media representatives are prohibited. Written correspondence with media representatives is permitted per regular correspondence procedures.

n. Special Postal Services. You may, at your own expense, send registered, certified, or insured mail and request a return receipt. Claims relative to any of these services will be made to the U.S. Postal Service. You may not be provided such services as express mail, COD, private carriers, or stamp collecting while confined.

5. "Excess" mail accumulated during confinement must be sent out or destroyed due to limited storage. "Excess" means an amount that cannot be stored properly in your locker or which presents a sanitation/fire/security problem. You cannot receive correspondence/mail that is excessively oversized; or too big to fit properly in your footlocker or can be considered a poster. You may submit a DD Form 510 to have excess mail shredded by the Unit Counselor.

606. Telephone Calls

1. Telephone calls are permitted after 1600 Monday through Friday and during personal time on weekends and holidays. There are prisoner phones located in each unit for this purpose. All outgoing calls will employ brig telephones. Such calls shall be made using "collect" or on "prepaid" debit accounts. Telephone calls may be limited to 15 minutes to allow time for all prisoners to make desired calls. Use of the telephone is a privilege and may be withdrawn. No telephone calling cards are permitted. All calls are monitored and recorded, with the exception of calls placed to the DoD Safe Help Line or Inspector General, Article 211.D.1

a. You are not permitted to congregate near the telephone areas. You are not permitted to use the telephone while waiting to use the shower, or while wearing a uniform other than the uniform of the day as discussed in these regulations. Unit staff will supervise the telephone area and terminate calls if necessary.

b. You will use your own PIN for personal calls to authorized parties. Making calls for another prisoner or sharing a telephone call with another prisoner is strictly forbidden. Possessing or using the PIN or account numbers of another current or former prisoner is also prohibited. Your PIN will be issued during Funds & Valuables indoctrination briefing.

c. If you are in a Disciplinary Segregation status and wish to use the telephone, you must be approved by the OIC or designee via Request for Interview (DD Form 510). Calls to legal counsel are authorized.

d. Incoming calls, to include faxes, are not allowed and will not be permitted, unless pre-authorized through P&S Department. Normally, messages will not be taken. Faxes from lawyers can be faxed to the brig's legal office. Outgoing calls during working hours must be of an emergency or urgent legal nature and may only be made with permission of your Unit Counselor.

e. Government telephones are for "Official Government Business" and will not be used by you to call Congressman/Senators or for personal business. This includes former commands. U.S. Mail should be used when collect calls are not appropriate.

f. If you desire to make overseas telephone calls, you can do so with your Debit Account.

g. Legal/Appellate Counsel Calls. Government calls are authorized for official communications with Government Counsel. Submit a DD Form 510 to your assigned counselor and they can assist you in setting up a privileged phone call with your legal/appellate counsel. Calls are authorized to civilian attorneys at government expense; your counselor may assist you in making an appointment to receive a phone call from your civilian attorney.

h. If you have been convicted of a sexual offense involving a minor (including child pornography), you may not call minors, either directly or through a third party without prior approval of the OIC upon recommendation from Clinical Services Department Head. See Articles 604 and 607 for rules concerning contact with minors.

i. You may not make calls to former prisoners of this facility without specific prior approval of the OIC.

j. You may not conduct a business using either a government phone or the prisoner phones. You may not call businesses/institutions on prisoner phones or government phones. (Other options to conduct such matters include writing, seeking assistance from your family, or, as a last resort, seeking assistance from your counselor).

k. For technical and hardware problems with the brig phone system, submit a Request for Interview (DD Form 510) to Funds & Valuables.

l. Three-way phone calls are prohibited (calling a number and having another phone line connected to your call). Only single line connections are permitted.

m. Third party calls (calling one number that is forwarded to another) are not permitted.

n. Call an authorized part and then having the phone handed to an unauthorized person is not permitted.

o. Any court orders or child protective no-contact orders remain valid unless or until they are officially rescinded or expired. Otherwise, they will continue to be honored.

p. Debit phone transfers and new, approved phone numbers are added to phone accounts by close of business on Friday's. NO EXCEPTIONS.

(1) If you are indigent (NON-PAY), you may request $5.00 credit from government H&C funds to be used towards the purchase of time on the Prisoner Debit

Phone System. You will request the funds via Request for Interview (DD Form 510) attached to their regular H&C request. In order to be eligible for credit you must meet the following requirement: Must have $0.00 balance in the brig account in the past 30 days.

NOTE: YOU ARE RESPONSIBLE FOR ENSURING THEY HAVE AN ADEQUATE AMOUNT OF H&C ITEMS TO LAST UNTIL THEIR SCHEDULED H&C DATE.

(2) You may not exceed the monthly limits granted for H&C expenditure.

(3) You are responsible for maintaining a record of your personal financial transactions and should not request phone credit unless you meet all eligibility requirements.

1. Visitors Call shall be held, as scheduled in the Daily Routine, on Saturdays, Sundays and Federal Holidays between the hours of 1300-1500. Visitor check-in will commence at approximately 1230-1245 hours to prevent delays in check-in and processing (See Appendix E).

a. You are required to maintain a current mail and Visiting List. An initial Mail and Visiting List will be completed while in Orientation. Submit all visitors, including children to be included on the visitation list. Note: If a visitor arrives and brings dependents who are not on your visitation list, the visitor will be turned away. Submit additions, deletions, and changes at any subsequent time, prior to correspondence or visits with the added individuals (Be advised, any changes requested that do not afford 3 working days to complete; typically, submissions after Wednesday of each week may not be approved in time for the upcoming visitation based upon background check processing requirements). Once a background check is done, it is valid for a period of 90 days.

b. Sex offender contact with minors. Those convicted of sexual offense involving a minor "under age of 18" may not visit with minors without approval of the OIC with recommendation of the Clinical Services Department Head, the offender's therapist and the minor's therapist, if applicable (for minors age 5 or older), or the equivalent Family Advocacy Program /Social Services Representative. Such special visitation may require accommodation outside of normal visitation times and/or involve supervision by a clinical services/family advocacy/social services designated individual. If you request such visitation, approval must first be coordinated through the Clinical Services Department Head. If approved for such visitation, submit a DD Form 510 chit request to the OIC at least 10 days in advance of each visit to arrange the special visitation times and dates with the approved minors.

2. For security reasons, you are limited to three visitors at a time, inside the visitation room. If you have more visitors arrive, you may request to split your visiting hours between the groups/visitors.

3. Visits by persons under the age of 18 will not be permitted unless accompanied by one of their parents/guardians.

4. Special Visits: Reasonable exceptions to normal visitation, as to time and length of sentence, will be considered on a case by case basis for visitors who may have travelled long distances; or for some reason cannot visit on the regular prescribed days during regular visiting hours. Special visits also include visits to inmates in Disciplinary and Administrative Segregation status. You shall address special visit requests on DD Form 510 to the Programs and Services Department Head via Operations Department for approval /disapproval. Special visitation during normal working hours will not be approved; special visits during count or meal hours will not be approved. Special visit requests will be considered on a case by case basis and shall, at minimum, contain the following information:

a. The hours and date of the special visit requested, to include the amount of additional visitation time requested.

b. Special visitors name, relation, and address (visitor name must be on approved visitor list before requesting special visitation).

c. A brief justification from the you as to the reason for or need of the special visit.

d. A brief explanation as to why the visitor cannot visit during normal visiting hours and the date and time arrival/departure of the visitor to the geographical area.

Note: if family or friends who will be traveling need to make travel arrangements (such as flight reservations) in order to visit, ensure your request is submitted 10 working days prior to the expected visit.

5. The uniform for "Visitors Call" is the full brig uniform of the day.

6. You will be held responsible for your own conduct and that of your visitors.

7. A short embrace, kiss and/or handshake with visitors, within the bounds of good taste, at the beginning and end of the visit is permitted. You and your visitor(s) may hold hands during the visit on top of the table only. Any physical contact with a visitor (i.e. short embrace, kiss or holding of hands) must be visible at all times.

8. You are not permitted to exchange any objects with visitors at any time. Smoking is not permitted during visits. Do not have your visitor bring anything to the brig without prior approval of the Operations Officer. Acceptable forms of currency are allowed to be brought in by your visitors and will be receipted for by the Receiving and Release Supervisor. You and your visitor will be given a receipt in the form of a NAVPERS 1640.17.

9. Any misconduct by you or visitors during visitors call will result in termination of the visit and possible loss of your visiting privileges for a specific period of time.

10. Only these items may be in your possession when reporting to the visiting area:

a. Wedding Band
b. 1 pair of eyeglasses
c. Your approved DD Form 510 for the special visit.

11. If you are in Special Quarters or in a Loss of Privilege status, you are allowed to receive visitors unless visitation is the LOP being served. The following rules apply to specific custodies:

a. Maximum Custody. Normally visitors are limited to immediate family only, if behavior warrants. If you are in maximum custody, you will request visitation via a DD Form 510 to the OIC or TD/AOIC.

b. Medical Segregation. No restrictions on visitation, unless segregation is for a communicable disease and it would place the visitors or staff at risk.

c. Disciplinary Segregation (DSEG). Approval must be granted by the OIC for any personal visits via DD Form 510. All official (command, legal or chaplain) visits are authorized.

d. Non-Judicial Punishment (NJP) Confinement. No visitors allowed.

e. Other Classifications. No restrictions unless listed on DD Form 509 Supplemental Attachment.

f. The following is considered immediate family: spouse, dependent child, father, mother, brother, sister, (step-sibling/children).

g. Visitation with former brig prisoners, staff (including base work supervisors from your brig job site), or volunteers is not authorized.

h. Persons shown by substantial evidence, to be harmful to you or that constitute a threat to the security of the brig shall be excluded from your approved visiting list.

i. All visitors must have appropriate identification that includes a photo. Examples: dependent I.D. card, driver's license, passport.

j. Visitors may only visit one prisoner each visitor call.

k. You will be subject to frisk/strip search before and after visitation. If you need to use the head during visitation, the visit will be terminated (and will not resume) and a strip search will be performed. You must first notify a staff member that you need to use the head (which also indicates the visit is complete). At the end of any visitation, the strip search will always precede use of the head, so plan ahead and use the head prior to the start of any visit. Under no circumstances will you use the head in conjunction with a visit, without notifying staff first and completing a strip search.

l. When an individual is not approved for visitation, you will be given notice and reasons for the exclusion. You may appeal the decision to the OIC.

m. You will not have physical contact or communication with any other visitors except your own visitors.

n. Official visits (from attorneys/commands/Chaplains) normally take place during the duty week/duty day. If you have an official visitor during weekend/holiday visitation times and you also have a personal visitor, the personal visit has priority during those hours.

o. All "non-DOD affiliated" visitors are subject to background checks prior to each visit. You will be asked to provide specific information about the intended visitor to complete this process. Failure to provide requested information will cause the visitor to be denied access to the base.

p. Prisoners who do not normally receive visitors, or who are in a "MAX" custody status, may request visitation from "Prisoner Visitation Support". (See Section 917).

608. Request for Interview (DD Form 510)

1. You will communicate with your Counselor for assistance in resolving problems. If the staff is not able to assist, or advise you to do so, submit a Request for Interview (DD Form 510). Request for Interview (DD Form 510s) are available in all units.

2. The DD Form 510 is your means of contacting anyone within the Chain of Command from your counselor to the OIC (see Appendix C) with major concerns, complaints, or exceptional comments. You should not submit a DD Form 510 until you have first tried to resolve the situation with your Counselor IAW Appendix C (i.e., exhausted all efforts). Failure to do so will result in the return of the DD Form 510 without action or it will be forwarded for action to the appropriate level. If you chose to submit a DD Form 510, ensure that you:

a. Only submit one request per DD Form 510 (with the exception of abatement. See 603.3.2).

b. Address the form to the appropriate person in the chain-of-command (See Appendix C).

c. Describe how you have tried to resolve the statement with your unit staff or immediate supervisor (if the situation is at your work place). Write all correspondence in plain text and do not use cursive.

d. Once logged and serialized, you will receive the pink copy as a receipt. When the chit is closed out, you will receive a green copy as a "final receipt".

e. As appropriate, recommend a solution to the situation-what you would like to have as a result.

f. Maintain a respectful tone and adhere to military courtesy.

g. Anonymous submissions don't give staff a means of requesting more information or returning an answer.

h. Though the DD Form 510 is titled "Request for Interview", an actual "in-person" meeting with the individual the form is submitted to is not guaranteed nor required. If you wish to communicate with an individual and not have a "face-to-face" meeting or conference with him or her, write "Meeting Not Requested" on the DD Form 510, followed by a description or narrative of why you are submitting the form. The OIC reads all DD Form 510s addressed to him/her. These are collected each workday from the "CO" DD Form 510 box in each unit. If you have an urgent need, see your counselor or Service Liaison to resolve the issue. Only DD Form 510s addressed to the OIC shall be placed in the "CO" DD Form 510 box", all other DD Form 510s will be processed normally. (See Article 102. Or Appendix C. – Chain of Command).

i. Place completed DD Form 510 in the appropriate box located in each unit. All chits shall include your name, initials, RCN number and unit. Do not "shotgun" requests to more than one staff member at a time. Wait for a reasonable period-of-time for an answer/response before re-submitting another Request for Interview (DD Form 510). Speak with your chain-of-command and be proactive about the current status of your chit processing. If a chit has already been submitted and you believe it is lost, inquire through your counselor for assistance.

j. Forward requests for information in personnel records or confinement records to the "Parole and Release Department".

k. Forward requests for sentence computation, release dates, parole, clemency, MSR, or appellate leave to the "Parole and Release Department".

l. Forward requests for removal or placement of items into your storage bin located in the "Lucky Bag" room (due to a change in incentive level or legal status) to "Receiving and Release", via the unit staff. (See Article 614).

m. Forward requests for religious items to the Chaplain, who will then initiate coordination with Receiving and Release. See Section 503-Personal Items for more information.

n. Forward requests concerning unit issues, counselor issues, program plans, visitation, receipt of packages or books required to correspond in foreign languages to the Programs and Services Department.

o. Forward requests concerning pay problems to the service liaison.

p. Forward requests for greeting cards, pastoral-related personal issues and prayer requests directly to the Chaplain on a DD Form 510. Route other requests to the Chaplain through your unit chain of command to the chaplain's office.

q. Forward requests concerning brig procedures or operations forwarded to the "Technical Director".

r. Requests concerning Clinical Services (medical and mental health programs and services) shall be forwarded to the "Clinical Services Department Head" or the appropriate program managed (e.g. substance abuse program manager, medical division officer). Note: There are specific boxes located in the Mess Decks and Special Quarters Unit for Clinical/Medical DD Form 510s.

s. Forward requests for information in your medical record to the "Clinical Services Department Head".

t. Forward "service specific (USMC, USA, USN and USAF)" administrative assistance DD Form 510 requests to your service liaison via your counselor.

3. Request for Interview (DD Form 510) for the OIC's assistance does not need routing via the chain-of-command. You have the right to access the full chain of command; however, first make every effort to satisfy the request through the unit staff and the chain of command outlined in Appendix C. All such requests forwarded will reflect name, badge number, unit and specific status (Pre-Trial or Post-Trial). The OIC may reply or direct the Executive Officer, Technical Director, or specific department to provide feedback to you.

4. Replies. Normally, Request for Interview (DD Form 510) and a reply or interim reply are provided within a reasonable time (5 business days). Do not submit a follow up DD Form 510 concerning the same matter until a minimum of 5 working days has elapsed.

609. Purchase of Health and Comfort Items

1. Health and Comfort can be purchased in the brig on a regular basis. Any item offered by the Brig Exchange store is available for purchase (See Appendix A). All purchases will be processed on a Health and Comfort Form DD Form 504, which is available to you in the unit. Items available through the NEX cannot be purchased from an alternate source. Additionally, if the NEX offers a specific product that is not your preferred brand, you cannot request to use an alternative source to get your brand. (ex: if the NEX has St. Ives face wash but you use CeraVe, you get the St. Ives). Any hygiene options outside what is offered must be approved by Medical.

NOTE: See Article 610.h for Pay and Non-pay status definitions.

2. If you are in a pay status and have funds in your brig account, the amount of your purchase will be deducted from your brig account.

3. If you are in a pay status and have no funds in your brig account, the DD Form 504 will be processed and the amount will be charged to your military pay not to exceed $30.00 for male prisoners and $35.00 for female prisoners. Personnel in this status are limited to the amount set by the brig OIC, for you towards Health and Comfort. If you desire extra Health and Comfort items, you should have your family and friends send you a cashier's check or money order to assist in additional purchases. Personal checks and gift cards cannot be accepted.

4. If you require a special item not stocked in the NEX, you may submit a request to Medical, Operations Officer, and Technical Director, requesting and justifying the need for the item.

5. If you are in a non-pay status—Forfeiture of All Pay and Allowances (FAPA)-you will receive Health and Comfort items up to $30.00 for male prisoners and $35.00 for female prisoners.

6. Health and Comfort Purchases. You are not authorized to use the gratuitous issue funds to purchase Health and Comfort items specifically annotated as being purchased with "personal funds" in Appendix A, (you may purchase these items with personal funds only). Purchased items may be taken with you upon release.

7. Gratuitous Issue Pro-Rating

a. FAPA prisoners with 15-31 days from date of release will rate full gratuitous issue (if requested) and not in excess of allowance.

b. FAPA prisoners with 1-14 days from the date of release will receive a pro-rated issue (If requested) of not more than ½ gratuitous issue.

c. You will not be allowed to collect excess Health and Comfort items. You will be limited to the number of items indicated in Appendix A. Health and Comfort items will not be placed in your storage bin located in the "Lucky Bag" room. Possession of excess items will result in disciplinary action.

d. Place your completed H&C request form (DD Form 504) in the grey F&V box mounted in the galley. You may not give/receive H&C items to/from another prisoner, including prisoners departing the brig.

610. Funds and Valuables

1. Intake Processing. Funds and valuables must be turned in for safekeeping. A receipt is provided for your funds and valuables (DD Form 2674). In the event it becomes necessary for you to remove any items in your valuables envelope or withdraw funds from your brig account, a DD Form 510 must be submitted to Funds & Valuables via the grey F&V box located in the galley. The request must be received at least five (5) working days prior to date required.

2. Funds Account. All cash, money orders, treasury and cashier's checks (no gift cards or personal checks), will be deposited into the brig commingled account. You will be given a "Sub-ledger" which will list all deposits and withdrawals. It is your responsibility to update your "Sub-ledger" each time a cash transaction is completed. You are permitted to set up a personal interest-bearing account on your own from any bank. You may not use a credit card or debit card for purchases or bill payments.

3. Money order and treasury/cashier's checks are normally deposited within two (2) business days after receipt in Funds & Valuables. With the exception of NFCU cashier's check, those funds will not be available before five (5) business days. Do not request a check to be issued from your brig account prior to funds clearing the banking system. *Any bank fees charged to the co-mingled account for returned or rejected money order/cashier check will be charged to your brig account.

NOTE: In the event of an emergency, a cashier's check may be issued and the check transferred by an R&R supervisor to your designee. The DD Form 510 must be submitted to the Operations Officer and Funds & Valuables at least three (3) days prior to visit.

4. Disbursing/Pay Information. You will direct your questions to your military Service Liaison.

5. Pay and Non-Pay Status Definitions

a. Pay Status Personnel. All personnel credited with pay and allowance and whose EAOS (Expiration of Active Obligated Service) ETS (Expiration of Term of Service) has not yet expired (adjudged prisoners are not entitled to BAH, Basic Allowance for Housing, or other allowances).

b. Non-Pay Status Personnel. All personnel not credited with any pay or allowance. Non-pay status will result from the following conditions:

(1) EAOS/ETS has expired whether Pre-Trial or Post-Trial.

(2) Adjudged personnel who were sentenced to Forfeiture of All Pay and Allowances (FAPA) as of the date the Convening Authority (CA) acted or 14 days after court-martial, whichever action occurs first.

6. Release Procedures

a. Scheduled Release. If your release is scheduled, your funds and valuables account will automatically be closed two (2) days prior to your release. You should contact Value Added Communications (800-786-8521) for refund of debit phone system balance. Your storage bin inventory will be conducted the day of your release. If you reported to the brig with a sea bag, or purchased one with personal funds, it will be returned to you along with your personal items. Otherwise, your personal items will be packaged in an appropriate bag/box and given to you upon release. If you did not report to the brig with a sea bag, but desire to purchase one, a DD Form 510 must be submitted to Funds & Valuables one (1) week prior the closing of your account. Sea bags may not be purchased with gratuitous H&C funds. Any disbursing issues, such as selling leave back to the government or requesting payment up to date must be discussed with disbursing at PSD, the Military Personnel Flight through the NCOIC for Air Force Personnel matters, or the USA or USMC service liaison. USCG matters will be addressed to the Navy liaison.

b. Unscheduled Release. If your release is unscheduled, you have two options to receive their funds and valuables. You can return to the brig the following business day to retrieve their funds and valuables. If you are not able to return the following business day, you should complete the Notice of Change of Address form (OPNAV 5110/5) in Receiving and Release before departing the brig. Your funds and valuables will be forwarded to that address via Certified mail to include a cashier's check for the remaining funds in your brig account. If you fail to leave a forwarding address or return to the brig within 30 days of release, all funds will be returned to the U.S. Treasury via PSD. All valuables and storage bin items will be shipped to the Navy Supply Center.

7. Incoming Money Orders/Cashier's Checks. If your release date is five working days or less from the date of receipt of additional funds, the funds received will be placed in your valuables envelope for your release.

611. Temporary Release (Emergencies)

1. Temporary release requests will be processed in accordance with respective service regulations. Temporary release requests will only be processed upon receipt by the brig of a Red Cross message involving an immediate family member or "In Loco Parentis" family member. "In Loco Parentis" is defined as a person who stood in place of your parent to the military member (in this case you) or the your spouse for 24 hours a day, for at least a 5-year period before you or your spouse became 21 years of age. Normally, the situation is a "life and death" matter and medical authorities recommend your presence, or a death has occurred and you request authorization to attend the funeral. Authorization is not automatic and may include directives from your parent service. Each request will be carefully considered on a case-by-case basis.

2. If you receive notification of a pending Red Cross message, immediately notify a staff member. The Command Duty Officer (in consultation with the Brig Chaplain) will coordinate all Red Cross verifications and advise you of procedures to be followed. In any event, the respective Service liaison will coordinate further actions.

612. Release from Brig

1. When your release is authorized at the end of your sentence, the following shall apply:

a. If departing on Appellate Leave, brig staff will drive you to the airport, bus station, TPU, or Amtrak station only. You may be released to a responsible party at the brig by requesting approval via Request for Interview (DD Form 510) through Parole and Release via the respective Service Liaison. You may not be picked up by former prisoners of the facility. (See also Article 809. Appellate Leave).

b. If returning to duty, your command will pick you up from the Brig or brig staff will drive you to the respective public transportation facility. Liberty/leave is NOT authorized for personnel in this category.

c. DO NOT make plans for transportation outside normal working hours on your day of release. The staff will release you during normal duty hours. Generally, you will be released in the early morning, but delays can occur.

d. You must have prior approval if you desire to arrange your own transportation (to be picked up at the brig or front gate) i.e. taxi, approved party, etc. Submit a DD Form 510 via your Service Liaison for approval by the Parole and Release Department. Approval will be granted only in extenuating circumstances.

2. Uniforms upon release. You must take your service uniforms with you upon release, based on Service-specific directives (Note: any brig-procured/provided uniforms are "organizational gear" must be returned to the brig prior to release). In certain cases, offender registration or community/agency/victim notification is required prior to your release.

3. Authorized Items to Receive Prior to Release. No earlier than two months prior to release, you are authorized to receive the following:

a. one backpack/small bag;
b. one set of civilian clothes;
c. your driver's license;
d. a credit or debit card; and,
e. a cellular phone (turned off) and charger (no charging on site).

You must submit a DD Form 510 to the Programs and Services Department Head via your unit Counselor listing each of the above items you are requesting to receive. Any items received prior to approval will be returned to sender. The backpack/small bag, civilian clothes and cell phone (with charger) will be inventoried and placed in your Lucky bag. The driver's license and credit/debit card will be inventoried and placed in Funds and Valuables until you release. You cannot use the credit or debit cards for any purpose prior to release. You will not be permitted to active you cell phone until you are released and outside the facility.

613. Transfer to a Long-Term Confinement Facility

Depending on sentence length, service status (discharged or active), or special needs, you may be transferred to the United States Disciplinary Barracks (Ft. Leavenworth, KS), another regional correctional facility or the Federal Bureau of Prisons (FBOP). In addition, prisoners of any sentence length may be transferred to another regional facility for programmatic or other administrative purposes. Your funds & valuables accounts will be closed out two (2) days prior to transfer. Phone accounts will be deactivated at the same time. If you have any items you desire to mail to your home of record (at your expense), this must be completed prior to your brig account being closed. H&C funds cannot be used. Submit a DD Form 510 to funds and valuables to request it.

614. Lucky Bag

You have a storage box in the "Lucky Bag" room in Receiving and Release. The primary purpose of the Lucky Bag is to stow alternate/excess uniform items, legal material and other items as authorized throughout these regulations. Your Lucky Bag will not be used as a storage unit for unauthorized excess material such as books, magazines, CD's, photos, etc., unless authorized as a result of a Management Action from a D&A board or if you have study materials from a completed authorized program. Any items placed into, or pulled out of, the Lucky Bag must be authorized using a DD Form 510 to the appropriate persons in the chain of command per Article 608.

SECTION 7 - CLEMENCY AND PAROLE

701. Objectives of Clemency and Parole

The objectives of clemency and parole are:

a. the preservation of order and discipline;

b. equality in the administration of justice; and

c. protection of the interests of the military service, the individual, and society. Clemency and parole review provides for recognition of changes in your attitude and behavior which indicate your desire to be a useful, productive, law-abiding member of society in the future. Clemency is a separate function of the legal review process.

702. Forms of Clemency

1. Restoration to duty when a punitive discharge is awarded can be requested. Your best option for a suspended punitive discharge is via your Convening Authority prior to the review of your case via your assigned counsel.

2. Remission of a dismissal (officers only)

3. Reduction in confinement, forfeitures, and/or fines

4. Mitigation of the discharge to one less severe (e.g., Dishonorable Discharge to Bad Conduct Discharge and Bad Conduct Discharge to General Discharge)

5. Full or partial restoration to pay grade

6. Restoration of precedence (officers only)

703. Clemency Channels

Clemency considerations are reviewed by the Programs and Services Department, a Review Board and the OIC. Each level will provide a recommendation based on the merits of each case. The package is forwarded to the Service Clemency and Parole Board (and in certain cases to the Service Secretary concerned).

704. Clemency Eligibility

If you are serving a sentence to confinement of 12 months or more, you are eligible for clemency review and will automatically be given the opportunity to request clemency consideration, based on the following:

a. 12 months to 20 years' confinement awarded. Eligible for clemency in nine months and annually thereafter.

b. 20 years to 30 years' confinement awarded. Eligible for initial clemency review at nine months and annually beginning three years from the date of confinement.

c. 30 years to life confinement awarded. Eligible for initial clemency review after nine months and annually beginning after 10 years.

d. Life without parole. Eligible after 20 years' confinement and every three years thereafter.

705. Review Board Schedule and Appearances

1. Parole and Release schedule's Clemency and Parole reviews based on the following: Service directives, length of sentence, parole/clemency eligibility and individual circumstances. Normally, you can expect a clemency review after completion of five to seven months' confinement. Parole and Release will inform you of your scheduled review date normally within the first week after arrival. This date is recorded in the Correction Management Information System (CORMIS).

2. Your family members should not contact the service Clemency and Parole Boards. If a family desires to be seen personally at the board proceeding, they should contact you and you can request a personal appearance form from Parole and Release. The Air Force, however, does not accept personal appearances at their board proceedings. Family members are also discouraged from contacting a probation officer.

706. Clemency Requests

If you are eligible for clemency, your counselor will meet with you to assist in completion of the required forms. If you do not desire to be considered for clemency, you must complete the Waiver of Clemency Review to document that you declined the opportunity to petition for clemency. The clemency waiver must be certified by an officer or GS-12 or higher.

707. Clemency Considerations

All elements of an individual's character and situation are considered during the clemency process, including:

a. New mitigating or extenuating circumstances (not presented at Court-Martial or Convening Authority) which warrant clemency

b. Appropriateness of sentence for the crime or circumstances

c. Hardships which would justify clemency

d. Nature of confining offenses

e. Prior military and civilian arrest record

708. Parole Considerations

1. Parole is a form of release or an extension of confinement granted to carefully selected prisoners who have served a prescribed portion of their sentence in confinement, and whose release under supervision is considered to be in the best interest of the prisoner, the military service and society. The parole review process considers:

a. Good confinement record

b. Acceptable Parole Plan (residence, employment or school and community treatment follow-up plan if appropriate)

c. Active rehabilitative efforts

d. Favorable Psychological Evaluation

e. Restitution (larceny, bad checks, etc.)

f. Acceptance of responsibility for crimes

g. Sincere remorse for offense

h. Impact of offense on victim(s)

i. Current time in confinement

j. Impact or effectiveness of further confinement

k. Potential danger to society

l. Possibility of re-offending

2. If you have a punitive discharge and a sentence of one year or more and you have served one-third of the term of confinement, but in no case less than six months, you will be eligible for parole consideration. Good Conduct Time will not be counted in computing eligibility for parole consideration.

709. Parole Channels

1. Parole channels are the same as clemency channels.

2. A completed Tender of Residence form listing where and with whom you will reside is required. Your counselor will provide the form, and when completed, it must be mailed or faxed directly to the Parole and Release Department Head.

3. A completed Tender of Employment listing the occupation, salary, etc. completed by the potential employer is required. A reference for acceptance by a job placement agency/entity may be considered in lieu of a tender of employment. Additionally, acceptance to an educational institution (e.g., college, trade school) may also be considered in lieu of a tender of employment. This form will be provided by your counselor and when completed must be either mailed or faxed directly to the Parole and Release Department Head.

710. Parole Requests

1. Your counselor will assist you in preparing a parole plan. If you desire to be considered for parole you must include the following information on your request form:

a. A full statement of your plans for the future

b. A Tender of Residence stating where and with whom you plan to live.

c. Tender of Employment stating the name, address, and phone number of prospective employer. A letter from a job placement agency can be accepted in lieu of a Tender of Employment. These items must be included in your parole package or it will not be considered.

d. If attending college or vocational training is part of your parole plan, documentation of acceptance is required.

e. Designation of any community treatment program(s) in which you plan to participate upon release. Clinical Services can assist you and must approve all community treatment programs recommendations.

f. Verification of the above items will be made before a final decision on your parole is made.

g. A strong parole plan that includes all items (a through e above) and elements of "Article 708. Parole Considerations" will assist in achieving parole status.

711. Parole Denials

In the event the Service Clemency and Parole Board (C&PB) denies parole, you may submit an appeal to the appropriate service secretary via the channels your original request was made. It is important to address any issues used as a basis for your original parole denial. Merely re-submitting the same package is insufficient for parole.

712. Mandatory Supervised Release (MSR)

1. Criteria. If your sentence to confinement is less than three years, you shall not normally be reviewed by your service C&PB for MSR, but you shall be reviewed by the Commanding Officer/OIC. If the CO/OIC determines that MSR may be appropriate for you, the CO/OIC shall forward a recommendation to the service C&PB.

2. Requirements. The requirements of the MSR plan are the same as the requirements of the parole plan. Normally, if you are MSR eligible, you will be reviewed for MSR at the last review board prior to your minimum release date. If you waive clemency and parole, you will be reviewed for MSR four months prior to your minimum release date.

3. Failure to Provide Information. Failure to provide an acceptable MSR plan could result in a Discipline and Adjustment Board, loss of Good Conduct Time, and any abatements (earned time, special acts abatement). The OIC shall not award the abatement until an acceptable release plan is accepted by the service C&PB and US Parole Officer (for failure to follow an order or dereliction of duty), thus delaying your release or requiring you to serve your entire sentence in confinement.

NOTE: To facilitate bookkeeping, abatements are credited monthly but may be removed at any time if an acceptable release plan is not approved by the service C&PB.

713. Sex Offenders' Release Information Requirement

In addition to any parole or MSR requirements listed above, sex offenders are required to provide a complete address of where they will reside upon their release. The address will be required 30 days prior to release. Failure to provide an expected place of residency may result in denial of parole request or delay release from confinement/military service. The Parole and Release Department will generate a Disciplinary Report for failure to comply with the Rules and Regulations if an address is not provided.

SECTION 8 - LEGAL REVIEWS AND ASSISTANCE

801. Military Appellate Review

The military judicial system is unique in that it provides an automatic and complete review for each court-martial. These reviews begin with the Convening Authority (CA) and may end at the Court of Appeals for the Armed Forces. At each level of review, it is the responsibility of the reviewing authority to examine the record for errors affecting the findings and/or sentence. Each reviewer also has the power to consider the appropriateness of the sentence and may have the power to exercise various forms of clemency. Thus, by the time the review of a case is complete, the findings and/or sentence of a court-martial could be less, but never more, than that originally awarded or, in fact, the findings could be completely disapproved and dismissed. Whenever you receive a review action document, you should confirm that the brig legal office has also received a copy. It may affect your release date.

802. Review of Special Courts-Martial

If you received a special court-martial, the Convening Authority (CA), the officer who ordered your court-martial, first reviews your case. The CA makes a decision and prepares a CA's action. If, at this stage, your sentence still includes a Bad Conduct Discharge (BCD), your case will receive another automatic review before the Court of Criminal Appeals (CCA), a panel of military judges in Washington, D.C. You will be represented by a military lawyer at the service CCA, unless you indicate you do not desire assignment of appellate defense counsel. This is the last automatic review. You can also be represented by civilian counsel, if arranged for and paid for by you.

803. Review of General Courts-Martial

If you received a general court-martial, your case is first reviewed by the GCMCA. After a staff lawyer prepares a review of your case for the GCMCA, the GCMCA makes a decision and issues a GCMCA's action. If your sentence includes a dismissal or punitive discharge or confinement, for one year or more, your case will be automatically forwarded for review by Service Court of Appeals. If your case does not fall within one of these categories, it will receive an examination or review in the Judge Advocate General's (JAG) office and may go to the Service Court of Appeals. The Service Court of Appeals is the last automatic review.

804. Court of Criminal Appeals Actions

In all special and general courts-martial reviewed by the Court of Criminal Appeals (CCA), a CCA decision will be issued. These decisions are forwarded to the NCBC, Det Chesapeake Legal Office where you will be called to receipt for the action and to be advised of your right to appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Armed Forces.

805. Appeals to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Armed Forces

If you wish to contest your CCA decision, you may appeal your case to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Armed Forces (CAAF). This body is staffed by civilian judges, appointed by the President, and is the highest court in the military justice system. Your right to appeal expires 30 days following receipt of your service CCA decision. If within this period you wish to appeal, the Legal Office will provide you guidance in preparing an appeal request and a request for military counsel. The Appellate Counsel who presented your case to your CCA will probably remain your counsel on appeal to CAAF. You can also hire a civilian counsel of your choosing to represent you. The CAAF will first determine if there are sufficient grounds for hearing your case. If the CAAF decides there are insufficient reasons to hear your case, your petition will be denied. If the CAAF hears your case, you will receive a CAAF decision. In either event, the CAAF is the court of last resort in the military system.

806. Rehearing

During the review of your case, one of the reviewing authorities may disapprove the findings and/or sentence and authorize a rehearing. The record of trial in your case will be returned to the CA to determine if a rehearing is practical. If the CA deems it practical, a rehearing will be convened. If a rehearing is not deemed practical, your charges must be dismissed. After rehearing, your case will go through the review process again.

807. Execution of Sentence

Upon completion of all appropriate reviews, whatever sentence has been finally approved will be ordered executed. No discharge can be effective until the sentence is ordered executed. Forfeitures, however, may be "applied" or withheld from your pay, effective the date of the CA action or within 14 days after the sentence is adjudged. Reductions in rate will also take effect as of that date. Confinement starts as soon as the court-martial announces the sentence and all time after that date counts towards the final approved sentence. The reviews required in your case will determine when an order of execution will be issued.

808. Legal Assistance

The brig legal staff may be able to assist you in seeking assistance to resolve minor legal problems. They can provide you with information and many of the forms required for common legal needs. Brig Legal staff cannot provide legal advice. You should contact your attorney of record for specific legal advice. Address problems relating to your court-martial or to your reviews to your assigned defense counsel. You are encouraged to request legal assistance (within the limits listed in this paragraph) through your Unit Counselor. Law library materials are available on housing unit legal computers.

809. Appellate Leave

1. You may be required to begin mandatory appellate leave at any time on or after the date of the sentence of the court-martial is approved, in whole or in part, by the Convening Authority, provided the approved sentence includes an unsuspended and unremitted dismissal or punitive discharge and you are no longer in confinement.

2. If the approved sentence of the court-martial includes confinement, the period of confinement must be served, remitted, suspended or deferred prior to the commencement of appellate leave.

3. If all confinement has been served, but the sentence is pending approval by the CA, you may be permitted to take voluntary appellate leave, if you so request. All requests must be submitted to the Parole and Release Department in writing and signed at least two weeks before your release.

4. If you are departing on appellate leave, you automatically sell back accrued leave, if any. A lump sum check will be issued from DFAS Cleveland upon discharge. If you receive final discharge prior to the end of your sentence, your are not entitled to receive accrued pay.

5. Questions regarding your appellate leave status should be addressed to the "Parole and Release Department."

810. Administrative/Separation Leave

Administrative leave may be granted while you await administrative separation when recommended for separation by the OIC after completion of confinement. Prisoners being processed for administrative separations are encouraged to take leave. The leave must be requested by you in writing. Accrued leave must be used before excess leave. If you are being administratively separated, you are not entitled to accrued leave pay.

811. Grievance Procedures

You may file a grievance at any time to bring a problem to the attention of staff or to appeal a specific action such as a disciplinary sanction. You can initiate a grievance using Request for Interview (DD Form 510), which you can submit to any level within the chain of command to address the problem. You may file only for yourself. Only one grievance may be filed at any time on a single incident or item of concern. You may withdraw a previously filed grievance at any time. An inappropriately filed grievance or one that is directed toward a non-grievance issue will be returned to you. An appeal of a decision shall be routed to the next higher level for the appeal. Repeated appeals (appeal of the appeal decision) will not be routed. The OIC is the final appeal authority. See Article 304 concerning appeals of disciplinary actions.

812. DNA Collection

Congress and DoD have mandated collection of DNA samples from prisoners convicted by General Court-Martial (GCM) or Special Court-Martial (SCM) of qualifying military offenses (QMOs). QMOs are specific, serious crimes and do not include solely military crimes such as unauthorized absence (UA). NCBC, Det Chesapeake is authorized to collect DNA samples from individuals convicted of a QMO upon in-processing to the facility. A DNA sample is drawn from qualifying prisoners within five business days of arrival at NCBC, Det Chesapeake. The OIC may authorize the use of such means as reasonably necessary to detain, restrain and collect a DNA sample from an individual who refuses to cooperate in the collection of a sample. Offenders who have a QMO conviction with a sentence that includes an unsuspended or unremitted dismissal or punitive discharge shall not begin appellate leave prior to collection of a DNA sample. The Legal Division and Parole and Release can provide you with additional information and answer any questions.

SECTION 9 - PROGRAMS AND SERVICES

901. General

Program access, work assignments and administrative decisions are made without regard to race, religion, national origin, sex, handicap or political views. (However, prisoners with shorter sentences may not qualify for all program treatment plans or work details.) The brig is tasked with providing a climate conducive to positive change with programs tailored to meet your needs. The following listings are some of the programs available. Your counselor can provide information concerning programs that you may be interested in. Programs and group activities are staff or volunteer-led. You may not form a group for any common purpose/activity that is prisoner-led or conducted.

a. Development programs. You may participate in the following personal development programs/services:

(1) Legal services
(2) Vocational training
(3) Clinical/Mental Health Programs/Services
(4) Extra assignments
(5) Athletic and recreational activity (special events)
(6) Educational programs (DANTES/CLEP)
(7) Religious services/programs
(8) Volunteer programs (such as Special Events, Tournaments, Alcoholics/Narcotics Anonymous, etc.)
(10) Red Cross assistance
(11) Education counseling

b. Required programs. You shall participate in the following programs. Those programs annotated by an asterisk (*) will be provided to post trial prisoners only.

(1) Orientation (Post-Trial and Pre-Trial)
(2) Life skills training
(3) Substance Abuse Education (*)
(4) Individual counseling (non-clinical)
(5) Group counseling (non-clinical): Crossroads (*)
(6) Reentry
(7) Court-ordered special programs such as alcohol or drug treatment, restitution, etc. (*)

(8) Sexual Offender Education course for those convicted of any sexual offense (*)

(9) Victim Impact Program (*)

(10) Restoration to duty, or return to civilian life Pre-Release program

c. Work Assignment. As assigned.

d. Program Plan. The Prisoner Program Plan assesses specific needs and provides an individual plan of program participation and work assignments to meet individual and service needs. Each adjudged prisoner must develop (with staff assistance) a written program plan that addresses his/her best path for successful rehabilitation and release. The plan is monitored and reviewed monthly by your unit counselor and updated as needed. Failure to develop and follow the program plan may result in administrative action, reduction of incentive levels, or limited progression in incentive levels. The plan includes brig programs, behavior expectations and your release plan.

902. Orientation

Upon confinement at this brig, you are placed in an Orientation Unit until the entire Orientation phase is completed.

a. This phase consists of approximately a one-week period of orientation and formal classroom instruction. All areas of this process should normally be completed within 5-7 working days of confinement, but may be extended in individual cases.

b. During this phase, you will receive instruction from various brig staff personnel, including the OIC, Technical Director, Programs and Services, Clinical Services, Operations Officer, Chaplain, Funds and Valuables Custodian, Supply, Legal, Postal Clerk, etc.

c. Basic rights and responsibilities will be explained to you and you will be required to study and become familiar with this Handbook. It is your responsibility to know the Rules and Regulations of the brig. Ignorance is not an acceptable excuse for violations. If you do not understand this information, a staff member will assist you.

d. During this period you will receive your initial custody classification, program assignments and housing assignments. You must sign and date a statement indicating your completion of orientation.

NOTE: Former prisoners, who have previously been released for any reason, and returned for confinement, will complete the full phase of Brig Orientation.

903. Pre-Release/Reentry

You should begin planning for their release from the beginning of confinement to be fully prepared by the release date. Participation in various programs and self-study on items listed below is best addressed throughout confinement. The brig has a formal Pre-Release program designed for you prior to being released from military service upon completion of confinement. It includes presentations, which are designed to provide information, and tools that will assist in the transition to civilian life. This program is mandatory for all prisoners unless specifically excluded by the Program Plan. Pre-Release program includes the following seminars:

TAP Class

a. Financial management
b. Transition planning
c. Employment briefs
    - Career Planning
    - Networking & job Searching
    - Résumé writing
    - Interview Strategies'
d. Veteran's benefits/discharge upgrading
e. Life Skills (Communication/Parenting & Building Health Relationship
f. Medical brief/evaluation
g. Exit survey
h. DD-214, Administrative issues
i. Appellate/administrative leave policy
j. PSD out-brief
k. Funds and valuables
l. Receiving and releasing
m. Postal matters
n. Chaplain's out-brief
o. Return/reunion
p. Motivation training

904. Medical Services

You have the right to "unobstructed access" to health care. Those services include health screening and exams, non-elective medical/dental treatment, daily (weekday) sick call, health education, environmental health screenings, required immunizations and emergency medical care.

a. All outside medical appointments will be scheduled by Brig Medical staff only. Transportation arrangements will be made as necessary, Post-Trial (Brig Escorts) and Pre-Trial (Unit Escorts). All outside appointments will be scheduled for you via the Naval Medical Center Appointment line by the Medical Department and documented in CORMIS. Do not approach medical to obtain dates/times of appointments. You will be notified when confirmation of your appointments is received. Due to security concerns, you will not be notified until the day of the appointment.

b. Once scheduled for an outside medical appointment (or for immediate transportation for medical attention), the brig/Unit will escort you to the location of your appointment. You must travel to that clinic appointment as your place of duty. Refusal to travel to an appointment normally will result in disciplinary action. If the brig medical staff (including outside medical officers and clinical staff who see you here) tells you that you will be referred for a specialty appointment (outside the brig) and you do not want to go to that appointment, you must notify the brig medical staff of this prior to scheduling of the appointment (e.g., when you're told of the referral) and sign a statement for refusing medical care (Against Medical Advise form). Otherwise, you must go to the appointment.

c. Medication Call will be held daily as scheduled in the Plan of the Day. You will not be seen for medical complaints/requests/issues or be given information about any personal complaints or issues at medication call. Make the statement, "I am finished" once you have completed taking all medication given to the supervising staff.

d. Sick Call/Acute Care. Sick call is for acute illness and/or injury only. Sick call will be conducted daily, except on weekends and holidays, in accordance with the plan of the day. Once announced, if you need evaluation at sick call, you will be sent to medical, one dorm at a time as established by control. You will be given a special SF 600 for completion of triaged care. You will NOT be seen in the order of arrival. Patients will be seen by acuity of their illness/injury as determined during triage. Complaints triaged as not acute may be re-scheduled to another day or scheduled for chronic care clinic as appropriate. Acute is defined as very serious or dangerous; requiring serious attention or action; having a sudden onset, sharp rise, and short course; or demanding urgent attention. Acute is NOT an ongoing illness or injury unless there has been a recent marked increase in severity. Sick Call/Acute Care will NOT be used for administrative visits such as, but not limited to: light duty chit removal, medication renewal, no~~r~~ shave chits, specialty care requests, dental cleanings, etc.

e. Chronic Care/Medical Administration. You must request a visit for chronic care and/or a medical administrative visit using a DD Form 510. These forms are located in your unit. Fill out the form in its entirety and place in the 'Medical/ Clinical' request box located in the mess decks. Each request is reviewed and, as necessary, will be scheduled for an available chronic care or medical administrative appointment. If you are in Special Quarters (Segregation), place the request in the Medical/Clinical box or hand it directly to the duty Corpsman during their daily rounds. Do not give your request to noon-medical staff for subsequent forwarding to medical. You will be notified within four working days that your DD Form 510 has been received. You will NOT be given the date and/or time of your appointment. On the day of your appointment, you will be notified by your dorm supervisor or work supervisor to report to medical.

f. Emergency medical care is available at all times. If you require emergency medical care or are injured, notify staff personnel immediately. An emergency is defined as an injury or illness that threatens life, limb, or eyesight.

g. If you have been diagnosed with a contagious disease or are incapacitated (e.g. casts, etc.,), you will be placed in Medical Segregation. If you are placed in a no-duty status, you may be placed in Medical Segregation.

h. If you have a Light Duty Chit, you may be placed in Medical Segregation if necessary. If the medical condition or medication prescribed causes a side effect (such as drowsiness/nausea) or physical limitations, this will be noted on the chit. You will still be fully cleared to report to a work assignment and Medical staff will notify the Programs and Services of any potential side effects or limitations. The Counselor will notify the work supervisor so it can be taken into account at the job site. Light duty is in no way an exemption from work. If you are pending a medical appointment for a complaint, report to the job unless Medical staff determines otherwise. Medical staff makes all decisions concerning any limitations and prohibited activities on the chit. You shall comply with all limitations on the chit or immediately notify medical staff if you believe your condition has changed to warrant a change in the limitations. If you are issued a medical chit (such as Light Duty/No shave chit/SIQ no duty), you are required to carry it on your person at all times and produce it upon request. You will place it in your left breast pocket.

i. Dental Treatment. The brig has limited dental treatment screening and examination. Appointments will be made for emergency dental treatment after screening has been completed at the brig. If you have dental problems, request sick call as stated prior. Normally, dental treatment will be for emergency type work only (extraction, temporary fillings, etc. An annual dental exam will be provided to you as determined by the Dental Department.

j. Specific complaints regarding health care, which are not resolved through the Medical Chain of Command (through the Clinical Services Department Head), should be submitted on a written Request for Interview DD Form 510 to the Technical Director or higher.

k. You should take your medications as prescribed by the Medical Officer or IDC. Prior to discontinuing a prescribed medication, you must notify a Brig Corpsman of your intent. This will help avoid adverse effects that could result from ceasing the medication and ensures all medical officials are informed of your current medical treatment status. You must sign a medical form indicating your decision to go against medical advice with respect to taking medication. Failure to notify staff of discontinuing prescribed medication could result in placing yourself at further health risk and could also result in disciplinary action.

l. Medication for sleep is only prescribed if you have a physical illness or injury that is disrupting sleep or you are already on medication that, as a side effect, disrupts sleep. You will not be referred for medication consultation based solely on sleep problems. If you arrive at the brig with prescribed sleep medication, the prescription will not be renewed unless the above conditions are met. If you take a prescribed sleep medication, you still must stay awake in accordance with the Plan of the Day, including when serving on LOP or DSEG. (See also Article 303.c).

m. Psychiatric Services. Psychiatrists from the local MTF conduct appointments on-site if you are prescribed psychiatric medication. Appointments for psychiatric services and medication consultation and supervision are coordinated through a Clinical Services' provider. As part of routine medication supervision, you will be informed of the effects and side effects of prescribed medication and asked to read and sign a "Medication Rights and Responsibilities" form. The choice to take recommended or prescribed psychiatric medication is voluntary. If you choose to discontinue prescribed medication, you must do so under the psychiatrist's supervision to avoid potential withdrawal symptoms.

n. Tobacco Cessation. Brig Chesapeake is a tobacco-free facility. Information or assistance on ceasing/discontinuing the use of tobacco is available through the Clinical Services Department.

905. Clinical Services

Clinical Services Programs are offered by mental health professionals and certified substance abuse counselors. The staff will meet with you to evaluate your needs and recommend the specific program(s) for you. The programs are focused on helping you change the behaviors and attitudes related to your offenses and to prevent future problems in these areas upon release. These programs provide an opportunity for you to address problems in the above areas through structured programs and groups. Your participation in offense-specific counseling and treatment is considered for parole and clemency requests. Participation in non-offense-specific programs (such as a treatment eligible sex-offender taking only substance abuse treatment instead) are not considered a substitute for offense-specific counseling and treatment. Participation in clinical services programs is included in the Program Plan. Programs and services may include:

a. Substance Abuse Programs

b. Anger/Stress Management

c. Community Transition Programs to assist in developing treatment and family resolution plans upon release from confinement.

d. Sex Offender Education

e. General Mental Health Service. Stress management, psychiatric clinic, individual counseling, parenting skills, cognitive skills training, and self-help books. You have an individual program plan to follow during the duration of your confinement, once adjudged. You will develop this plan during the orientation phase, with assistance from your counselor. Based on the needs assessments and interviews, your plan is designed to address your needs and provide you with direction to gain the most benefit from your confinement time. Unit staff will monitor your progress, since your progress is connected to incentives, extra abatement credit, parole and clemency considerations, etc. While the recommended/required program areas are critical, you may also take advantage of other available programs you think will benefit you. To borrow self-help books and/or CDs from the Clinical Services library, submit a DD Form 510 to clinical services. They have materials on most mental health/life skills-related areas.

906. Medical and Clinical Service Records

1. Medical Records. You have access to the information in your medical record. Send a DD Form 510 for medical record release to view the record or photocopy your record to the Medical Department Head or the Clinical Services Department Head. You cannot possess a copy of your medical record in the brig/unit.

a. Prior to your release from the brig (10-14 days), you may submit a chit DD Form 510 requesting a copy of your records, if Brig Medical has your hardcopy record. The copy will be given to you when you are released. Records can only be copied if you have arrived with a Medical Outpatient Treatment Record.

b. If you are returning to your parent command, your records will be sealed and released to you for issue to your medical department or clinic, if you have signed a request to hand-carry your medical record. Records may also be mailed to your unit. Forward your request for your medical record (other than just prior to release) to the "Clinical Services Department Head." This includes any request to release a part of your medical record to someone else (to your lawyer or spouse, for instance). Consent of release form would also be required in that case. The Clinical Services Department Head will provide you with that form.

2. Other brig records. Information in the brig records is not releasable to you while you are in the brig or while in the military corrections system, per a federal exemption to the Privacy Act pertaining specifically to brig records. Any requests for release of information in those records shall be forwarded to the "Clinical Services Department Head" (for mental health information) or to the brig "Admin Officer," who is also the Privacy Act/FOIA monitor (for any other information). If you desire to release information from the record to a third party, you must give written permission for the information to be released. For instance, you may ask for information from your mental health record to be sent to a civilian mental health provider whom you intend to see for continued treatment upon your parole/release. The Clinical Services Department Head has the consent forms and will ask you to sign one if you send a chit DD Form 510 requesting the release. Otherwise, your records are protected from release to others, unless the release is specifically required by law.

907. Religious Program

1. The Command Religious Program is offered under the guidance of the Brig Chaplain. While no one is required to attend Divine Services, you are strongly encouraged to explore or strengthen the spiritual aspects of your life through the various opportunities provided in the religious program. There are many areas in which the Religious Programs may assist persons regardless of their religious beliefs or if you hold no religious beliefs at all. Some of the areas include the following:

a. Concerns relating to the individual's private life, such as: doubt, guilt, fears, anxiety, personal worth, past trauma, etc. Private training sessions are available requested by DD510 to Chaplain thru normal channels.

b. Concerns relating to personal adjustment, either to the military or civilian life.

c. Concerns generated during crisis of life, death or personal misfortunes, etc. In all these areas, Religious Programs are well prepared and capable of providing individual counseling and guidance.

2. The schedule of available services is posted in each Housing Unit on the read board. Every effort is made to provide a wide range of services and represented faith groups by both contract personnel and volunteers. For special requests from the Religious Ministry Department, submit a DD Form 510 via your counselor.

3. You have the right to practice the religion of your choice, as long as it is within good order and discipline within the brig.

a. If the brig cannot provide required religious material, submit a DD Form 510 to the brig Chaplain for authorization prior to outside purchase the items. Items must come directly from the vender.

908. Counseling Program

It is the brig's policy that you will be afforded counseling services by trained staff personnel. There are counselors assigned to each unit and they are able to assist you in many areas. They can provide insight into your problems and assist you in developing self-reliance and the motivation necessary to affect a satisfactory adjustment to military or civilian life. They also serve to improve communication channels within the brig and to provide authoritative information concerning your status, needs, etc. You are required to meet with your assigned unit counselor at least twice monthly. The following are some of the counseling services available to you:

a. Individual counseling
b. Crisis intervention
c. Group counseling (Crossroads)

d. Clinical Services Referral
e. Pre-Release
f. Restoration
g. Academic (limited as previously mentioned)

909. Work Program

You are required to participate in the brig's Work Program. Only those specifically authorized by medical authority and those in segregation status may be excused. The Work Coordinator will coordinate work assignments (approved by the Technical Director) based on needs of the brig, custody considerations, vacancies, and your desires. Work assignments will include, but are not limited to: maintenance and repair of the brig, food and laundry services, working parties to nearby government organizations, and grounds maintenance. Some work assignments are held in conjunction with a Department of Labor apprenticeship program earning certification. Work opportunities and reasonable accommodations will be provided for disabled or limited duty prisoners.

910. Education Program

1. You may have the opportunity to attempt college-level testing programs (e.g., DANTES, CLEP). If you are a Pre-Trial prisoner, you cannot participate in the testing. If later you become adjudged, you may request to participate in the program. If you meet the criteria listed below, you may submit your request for consideration to attempt college level testing programs. Final approval will be based on the number of eligible prisoners requesting testing and the time availability of staff to properly supervise the evolution. The following criteria are established:

a. You must have completed and currently be enrolled in mandatory programs that are required by this Rules and Regulations Handbook and their individual Program Plan.

b. You must be in compliance with all components of their Program Plan, including the behavioral category.

c. You must be classified to Medium-out or lower.

911. Library

1. Prisoner Library. There is a comprehensive library available for your use in the brig. Each unit will have access to the library as scheduled, to check in/out materials.

a. Books checked out from the library shall be stored in your storage bin or on your desk when not in use (see Article 410. Cell Maintenance).

NOTE: Do not tear pages from books or magazines in any form (pictures, articles, verses, etc.).

b. The clinical services library materials contain professional and self-help mental health/substance abuse materials related to most prisoner offenses. These materials are available within the housing unit or upon request; the clinical services staff can recommend reading available material appropriate to the your needs. (See also Article 906).

c. The Religious Program office maintains limited religious books and materials available for you to checkout via coordination with the Brig Chaplain (DD Form 510).

2. Law Library. You, including whenever in segregation, have access to the electronic law library available on unit computers for legal reviews. Basic legal references are also maintained in a designated area of the brig library or available upon written request from the legal office. Regional Legal Services Office (RLSO) Mid-Atlantic is designated to provide the command with legal support beyond the capability of the brig legal office. You are encouraged to address legal questions to your assigned legal counsel (Lawyer) or appellate leave legal counsel on matters concerning their cases. If you have an assigned legal counsel, local attorneys typically will not discuss legal matters with you.

912. Recreation Program

1. The brig provides a variety of recreation programs, including both passive and active activities. The recreation program shall include, but is not limited to, the following activities as long as good order and discipline are maintained:

a. Organized athletics:

(1) Kickball (no more than 9 persons to a team).
(2) Circuit Training.
(3) Soccer skills
(4) Jump rope.
(5) Catch Football (defined as ball thrown between 2 or more prisoners, no ultimate, flag, touch or regular football).
(6) Badminton
(7) Volleyball.

(8) Running on the track (No groups of 3 or more prisoners running together in a group).

(9) Ultimate Frisbee (No more than 10 prisoners to a team. One arm's distance rule is in affect).

(10) Table Tennis

(11) Corn hole

(12) Basketball: Horse, Around the World. The game "21" is not authorized.

Note: All equipment will be used as intended (e.g., pull-up/chin-up bars are not used for "up and overs," etc.)

b. Access to television. Television viewing is permitted from 1545 to Taps weekdays and 0800 to Taps on weekends and holidays. News channels will be aired each workday during the breakfast (0610-0800) and lunch periods (1100-1200). News channels will be aired on the Mess Decks during all meals. TV viewing will be IAW the approved TV schedule.

c. Movies.

d. Library usage.

e. Games (table games and personal games such as Crosswords/Sudoku).

f. Personnel Music Devices.

NOTE: The game "Dungeons & Dragons" and any other fantasy games are not permitted. Fantasy sports leagues are not permitted. Gambling is not allowed and pieces from games may not be used as "chips."

2. Outdoor Recreation. During authorized outdoor recreation periods, you may relax; participate in sports, etc., as list in article 913.a. You will not stand within six feet of gates, doors, or the fence line. You will return to your unit in line formation after being counted.

913. Prisoner Communication Council

1. The Prisoner Communication Council (PCC) meets on a monthly basis to hear questions, concerns, and take requests from the prisoners to the staff.

2. Representatives to the PCC are chosen by the Counselor from among volunteers in the unit. PCC representatives need to collect information from the unit (usually by placing a notice of the upcoming meeting and space for questions on the Quarters Supervisor's desk). Those inputs will be typed and presented to the Counselor for review before going to the PCC meeting. The purpose of the review is to ensure that only appropriate questions are forwarded to the meeting and also to keep the Counselor informed of the questions being asked at the PCC meeting.

3. The PCC does not consider questions about menu selection, or suggestions for future recreation activities. Those questions should be presented to the appropriate forum. (See Article 916)

4. After the PCC meeting, the relevant department heads and Technical Director meet to discuss issues raised. Recommendations will be made and forwarded to the AOIX and OIC. Once the OIC approves the responses to the questions posed, a PCC meeting will be held with the unit PCC representatives. The results will be signed by the Programs and Services Department Head and posted in the dorm binder for all to review.

914. Prisoner Recreation Committee

The Prisoner Recreation Committee was formed to gather creative ideas for recreation activities and to help run those events.

a. Events. Events normally are held quarterly. Events are advertised with two weeks' advance notice, if possible. Sign-up sheets are posted in the unit for about 72 hours to ensure ample time for all prisoners to respond. Sign-ups will normally be limited to about 100 maximum total participants. The exceptions to the guidelines above are picnics where everyone attends.

b. Meetings. Committee meetings are run by the committee and facilitated by the Recreation Supervisor. All ideas are welcome. The committee, in coordination with the staff, determines which ideas are feasible and which are to be forwarded to the chain of command for approval. If you have an idea, contact your unit's committee representatives.

(1) Committee meetings are held monthly or as needed.

(2) Menu review boards are held quarterly or as needed.

c. Membership. If you desire to be part of the Prisoner Recreation Committee, you shall submit a DD Form 510 to your Counselor. The Recreation Supervisor will then select unit representatives.

915. Prisoner Visitation and Support (PVS)

A non-profit organization that provides visitation to prisoners, who normally have little or no contact/visitors from outside of the facility. Submit a "Request for Interview (DD Form 510)" to the Chaplain, who simply maintains administrative oversight of the program. You will then be required to submit a letter directly to PVS, who will contact the facility for arrangement of visitation. The nature of these visits, specifically topics discussed, will be determined by you during the visit.

DEFINITIONS OF OFFENSES

The laws, rules and regulations applicable to confinement are too numerous to quote in their entirety. Copies of appropriate Service instructions/regulations, the Uniform Code of Military Justice (UCMJ/Manual for Court-Martial) and other regulatory guidance applicable to confinement may not be available to you. This list describes some of the offenses. This is not a complete list of offenses for which you may be disciplined. The UCMJ also applies to all military prisoners housed in confinement facilities.

1. Academic Misconduct (Category III Offense). Missing class through design or misconduct, cheating, or assisting another to cheat on any academic or vocational training examination, disrupting an academic or vocational training session.

2. Aiding Another (Category I, II, III, IV, or V Offense). Conspiring with, soliciting, or aiding another to commit or attempt any prohibited act, to include failing to report a prohibited act. The level of offense will be the same as the prohibited act.

3. Arson (Category V Offense). Igniting any item, which could cause personal injury or damage to any property.

4. Assault (Category III, IV, and V Offense). To attempt to offer to do bodily harm to another with unlawful force or violence, with apparent ability to do so. Category IV offense, if with a weapon or consummated by battery. Category V offense, if against a staff member.

5. Assault Consummated by Battery (Category IV or V Offense). To intentionally and without consent, strike, touch, or apply force to a person, either, directly or indirectly, resulting in either bodily harm or an offensive touching of any form. Category V, if committed against a staff member.

6. Attempt (Category I, II, III, IV, or V Offense. Any attempt to do a prohibited act, including any steps or preparation necessary to accomplish the prohibited act. The category level of the attempted offense will be the same as the prohibited offense.

7. Being Unsanitary or Untidy (Category I Offense). Failing to keep one's person, clothing, or living area sanitary and in accordance with prescribed standards. This offense includes littering of common use areas, etc.

8. Breach of Peace (Category III). Use of rough (offensive), loud, profane, boisterous language or action, which disturbs or threatens the peace and good order of the confinement facility.

9. Bribery (Category IV Offense). Asking, offering, rendering, accepting or receiving anything of value, this includes personal services, with intent to influence another to make a decision or commit an act that is prejudicial to the good order and discipline. Category V, if committed against a staff member.

10. Cell Alteration (Category II Offense). Making unauthorized changes to living quarters such as, but not limited to, moving furniture, painting or marking walls, hanging items to block view into the living area, or affixing shading devices to lights, or obstructing the intercom and/or public address system.

11. Communicating a Threat (Category IV or V Offense). Communicating verbally, in writing, or by physical gestures intended to, or which may reasonably be expected to intimidate or threaten another, either directly or indirectly. This includes conditional threats or intimidation. Category V, if against a staff member.

12. Communications Tampering (Category IV Offense). Tampering with any part of a radio jack, headset, television, telephone, etc.

13. Conduct Which Threatens (Category III Offense). Any conduct which interferes with the orderly running, safety, good order, and discipline or security of the facility.

14. Contact between Male and Female Prisoners (Category III Offense). Any physical contact between male and female prisoners is prohibited, except within scope of duties. Verbal communication between male and female prisoners is prohibited except, as necessary on a detail, or at official confinement facility programs. Written correspondence is covered in the unauthorized writing rule. Female and male prisoners will not socialize during fellowship times at religious services or gatherings.

15. Counterfeiting (Category IV Offense). Knowingly making, submitting, reproducing, or altering any signature, writing, document, article, or identification, money, security, or official paper without proper authority.

16. Damaging or Destroying Property (Category III Offense). Defacing, altering, or destroying property belonging to the government, or belonging to an individual. Anything issued to a prisoner is government property (e.g., corrections operating instruction, identification badges, cell furnishings, clothing, and all equipment). This offense also includes marking, defacing, or destroying any posted instructions/orders.

17. Disobedience (Category III Offense). Disobeying an order given by civilian or military personnel in the performance of their duties, to include failure to comply with any order in a timely manner.

18. Disorderly Conduct (Category III Offense). Conduct of such nature as to affect the peace and quiet of individuals, or who may thereby be disturbed or provoked to resentment. This charge could encompass all participants in a fight, regardless of who started the fight, or against individuals who engage in disruptive conduct such as trashing the confinement facility (e.g., throwing things on the floors, or flooding the facility by any means).

19. Disrespect (Category IV and V Offenses). Being disrespectful in language or actions toward or about any member of the military service confinement staff or commissioned officers, or other person of authority. Disrespect may consist of behavior that detracts from the respect due the authority and person of a facility staff member. It includes acts or language, however expressed. Abusive epithets or other contemptuous or denunciatory language may convey disrespect by words. Disrespect by acts includes showing a marked disdain, indifference, insolence, impertinence, undue familiarity or other rudeness in the presence of a staff member. Category V, if committed against a commissioned officer.

20. Escape (Category V Offense). Leaving custodial control without authority, including departing the corrections facility, detail, escort, housing unit, or job site, or failing to return from temporary or emergency home parole.

21. Extortion (Category IV Offense). Demanding or receiving anything of value, to include personal services from another, by threatening to harm or exposure to authorities, or disgrace, etc.

22. False Statement (Category II Offense). Signing, with the intent to deceive, any false record, return, order, regulation or other official document, knowing it to be false, or making any other false official statement knowing it to be false. This includes lying to a staff member about an official matter, either verbally or in writing, including signing or printing the name of another on any official document without authority of correctional facility officials.

23. Funds Manipulation (Category III Offense). Directly or indirectly transferring money or negotiable instruments, including, but not limited to, checks and money orders to another, except as specifically authorized. Receiving money or negotiable instruments from a person or persons is identified as a prohibited source for funds.

24. Gambling (Category III Offense). Participating in games of chance for anything of value, to include personal services. Use of authorized recreational equipment for games of chance, or operating of any gambling pool. Possession of gambling paraphernalia.

25. Indecent Exposure (Category IV Offense). Intentionally exhibiting one's sexual organs, bare buttocks, or in the case of a female, bare breast, to another or to public view.

26. Interfering with Count (Category IV Offense). Delaying or interfering with count, including failing to timely move to assigned cell or area when lockdown is ordered or otherwise failing to assume a position in accordance with an order or this regulation so as to be readily visible to staff.

27. Intoxicants (Category V Offense). Possession, introduction, manufacture, or use of any narcotic, narcotic paraphernalia, drug, or intoxicant not prescribed by the medical staff.

28. Larceny (Category III or IV Offense). The taking, obtaining, or withholding from the possession of the owner or another without authority, money. Property or article of value of any kind. All articles or property, individually or government-owned, that are deposited in a trash receptacle within the grounds of the facility will be considered owned and in the possession of the government until departure of said property from the grounds of the facility. All articles of property deposited in the trash receptacle under this paragraph will be considered to be of the same value. Taking of government property is a Category IV offense.

29. Lock Tampering (Category IV Offense). Tampering with locking devices or other security equipment, to include obstructing doors to prevent them from locking or unlocking.

30. Loitering (Category I Offense). Lingering, moving slowly, stopping, or pausing in any area during individual or mass movement. Taking more than the prescribed time to consume a meal.

31. Malingering (Category II Offense). Avoiding any responsibility, requirement, or order by feigning illness, physical disablement, mental lapse, or derangement, includes abuse of sick call; or inflicting self-injury or removing stitches and bandages without authority.

32. Medicine Misuse (Category III Offense). Use, possession, or storage of medicine, except as authorized by the confinement medical staff. Failure to take medication as prescribed by medical staff.

33. Mutilation (Category III Offense). Tattooing, piercing, marking, or maiming any part of the body or another person's body.

34. Out of Place (Category III or IV Offense). If a prisoner is not at his/her designated detail, unit, scheduled appointment, religious activity, recreational activity, or dining area, and is not on pass or under escort, he/she is out of place. If a prisoner is not where he/she is supposed to be, he/she is out of place. This includes prisoners who deviate from the most direct authorized route from one authorized location to another.

35. Possession, Introduction, or Use of a Weapon (Category V Offense). Construction, introduction, possession, or the use of weapons is expressly forbidden. Weapons include, but are not limited to: guns, knives, clubs, brass knuckles, saps, blackjacks, and hard object(s) in a sock or similar container, or any item modified so it could be used as a weapon (e.g., modifying a disposable razor to expose the cutting edge, or placing a bar of soap in a sock).

36. Possession of Stolen Property (Category III or IV Offense). Having on one's person or in one's living area property belonging to another or the government, which has been stolen. While actual knowledge that the property was stolen is required, such knowledge may be inferred and proved by circumstantial evidence. Category IV offense if government property has been stolen.

37. Profiteering/Racketeering (Category IV Offense). The loaning, buying, selling, transferring, receiving, lending of property, services, or anything of value for profit, increased return, or something of value.

38. Prohibited Property/Contraband (Category III Offense). Anything not specifically authorized by proper authority to be in a prisoner's possession is prohibited. Prisoners must obtain and keep written permission from the corrections officer, or authorized representative, to possess any item not authorized by facility policy or staff. Any item not specifically authorized and found in a prisoner's possession while outside the unit will be considered prohibited property. Possession of property obtained from trash receptacles, or that which was discarded in any other way by other prisoners or staff is prohibited. Property that has been altered from its original form without facility authorization will be considered prohibited property.

39. Provoking Words or Gestures (Category III Offense). Verbal or written communications or physical gestures that may anger, irritate, or incite another to induce a breach of peace under the circumstances.

40. Rations Misuse – Corrections Facility (Category III Offense). Use of any ration in any manner for which it was not intended, such as throwing a ration item, using rations to make intoxicants, using rations in other illegal acts, wasting rations, or adding foreign substances to rations.

41. Resisting Forced Cell Moves (Category IV or V Offense). Any action taken to impede, resist, or interfere with the actions of a forced cell move team, including, but not limited to, trying to keep the cell door closed, throwing objects at the team, attempting to grab team members while in the performance of their duties. Any action taken that causes the Command Emergency Response Team (CERT) to be activated, even if it is not used, is a category IV offense.

42. Rules and Violation (Category III Offense). Violation of any posted or published confinement facility rule. This includes, but is not limited to, the rules of instructions posted in units, details and other offices/work areas, limitations imposed by recreation restriction, quarters and medical profiles, the terms of minimum custody, installation custody, or trustee pledges, visitation rules, and requirements not otherwise specified as institutional offenses.

43. Running (Category I Offense). Running anywhere inside the confinement facility is prohibited, except as appropriate when engaged in authorized recreational activities, or as part of the confinement-training program.

44. Sex Offender Contact with Minor Children (Category IV Offense). Prisoners who committed sexual offenses with minor children are prohibited from having contact, whether written, telephonic, or in person, directly or indirectly, with minor children unless written approval is granted by the facility commander or designee authorizing contact.

45. Sexual Misconduct (Category IV Offense). Soliciting, threatening, or engaging in sexual or lewd conduct with another. Masturbation in open/plain view or continuing to masturbate in view of staff is considered sexual misconduct.

46. Sleeping on Duty (Category II Offense). Falling asleep or appearing to fall asleep at a detail or place of duty.

47. Solicitation (Category V Offense). Asking, requesting or suggesting a staff member to perform any act, or give, provide or make available any item for the prisoner that is outside the staff member's normal performance of duty.

48. Staff Harassment (Category II Offense). Any comment, conversation, question, or other communication (verbal or non-verbal expressions) intended to or which may reasonably be expected to anger, irritate, or demean a staff member. Such communications will be considered staff harassment, when directed to staff member or to another, and overheard or observed by a staff member.

49. Suffering Loss of Property (Category II Offense). Loss of property due to carelessness, to include loss of property due to unsecured lockers within the living areas, whether or not the prisoner is present.

50. Trafficking (Category III Offense). Selling, buying, trading, giving, receiving, or lending any item within the confinement facility is prohibited except as specifically authorized by the proper authority.

51. Unauthorized Ordering/Receiving (Category II Offense). Purchasing or ordering goods or services that are not authorized, or purchasing or ordering goods or services in a manner that is prohibited or not authorized.

52. Unauthorized Contact (Category III Offense). Any contact or communications by a prisoner with confinement staff members, or installation employees, other than during the normal course of duty performance, or during a corrections facility sponsored activity, is prohibited. This includes having a family member contact facility staff on behalf of the prisoner. Prisoners are also prohibited from communicating with, or having contact with prisoners confined in other institutions, former facility prisoners, or former staff members, except as authorized in advance through a request by the prisoner concerned to the facility Commanding Officer/OIC or Designee.

53. Unauthorized Use of Mail (Category III Offense). Using the mail or telephone for unauthorized purposes as specified by law, regulation or corrections facility rules.

54. Unauthorized Writing (Category III Offense). Writing, disturbing, or possessing any written motto, creed, saying, or drawing within the prisoner population, whose content is designed to or could disrupt the corrections facility by encouraging strikes, riots, fights, racial, or religious hatred, or other prohibited acts.

55. Victim Witness (Category IV Offense). Unauthorized contact or communicating with, directly or indirectly, or causing another to contact any individual who qualifies as a prisoner's victim or witness is prohibited.

56. Violation of the Uniform Code of Military Justice (Category IV and V Offenses). Violation of any punitive articles of the UCMJ, regardless of whether the misconduct violates a corrections facility rule. Category V, if the violation meets the specifications for any Category V Offense.

APPENDIX J- NAVCONBRIG CHESAPEAKE ZERO TOLERANCE POLICY

DEPARTMENT OF THE NAVY
NAVAL CONSOLIDATED BRIG CHARLESTON, DETACHMENT CHESAPEAKE 1548 WILDERNESS ROAD
CHESAPEAKE, VIRGINA 23322-4513

5401
Ser 00
7 Jan 21

From: Officer in Charge, Naval Consolidated Brig Charleston, Detachment Chesapeake To: All Hands

Subj: NAVAL CONSOLIDATED BRIG CHARLESTON, DETACHMENT CHESAPEAKE'S PRISON RAPE ELIMINATION ACT (PREA) ZERO TOLERANCE POLICY

1. Naval Consolidated Brig Charleston, Detachment Chesapeake has zero tolerance toward all forms of sexual abused and sexual harassment in the correctional setting. This facility will employ assertive and proactive measures to prevent, detect and respond to such conduct.

- Direct visual supervision of prisoners and staff
- Video and audio surveillance of prisoners and staff
- Prisoner intake screening and classification
- Staff, volunteer, and prisoner education and training
- Prompt investigation of all allegations
- Employing a same gender/"two-person integrity" concept during physically intrusive searches in the course of official duties
- Limit cross-gender supervision to maximum extent possible
- Take effective measures to mitigate the risk of sexual abuse in those instances where cross-gender supervision must occur during the performance of official duties

2. Corrections officers are often allowed to watch prisoners when they dress, shower, and use the toilet. Therefore, staff shall exercise great care to ensure that they do not invade your privacy for reasons unrelated to official duties. Additionally, staff members staff not:

- Engage in verbal degradation of prisoners under their supervision.

- Abuse their authority by offering privileges for sexual favors, coercing, vulnerable inmates or raping prisoners whose safety they are supposed to protect.

- Use visits with children, the need for hygiene products or food, access to schooling or employment and threats about release dates to coerce prisoners into unwanted sexual contact.

3. Sexual Assault is personal and destructive crime. Its effects can be psychological, emotional, and physical. Sexual abuse in confinement settings typically occur when no one is around to see or hear it, particularly at night and in areas that are difficult to monitor. These encounters are often cast as consensual relationship, or worse, considered to be the result of inmates manipulating staff. Additionally, perpetrators may try to hide behind the façade of family structures or other protective groupings. As a correctional professional, you must be aware of the abusive nature of many such relationships.

4. Be aware that each case is different and there is no “normal” reaction to a sexual abuse. With that in mind, staff shall accept reports made verbally, in writing, anonymously and from third parties and shall promptly document any verbal reports. As the first responder, you will employ your PREA training to control the situation, ensure the safety of other staff and inmates; separate the victim, alleged perpetrator and witnesses; and protect the crime-scene to prevent the contamination of evidence. You shall be vigilant, use good judgment, follow Standard Operating Procedures and policy, and get help when necessary to prevent prisoner rape and sexual abuse at Naval Consolidated Brig Charleston, Detachment Chesapeake.

DATE: 6 Dec 21

SOP: 402
SUBJECT: STAFF
TITLE: CUSTODY CLASSIFICATION

Ref: (a) SECNAV M-1640.1, Department of the Navy Corrections Manual
(b) NCBCDETCHESAPEAKESOP 401 Installation Custody
(c) American Correctional Association (ACA) Core Jail Standards (1ST Edition) with Supplement (Series); 1-CORE-2A-14, 1-CORE-2A-16, 1-CORE-2A-17

Encl: (1) Guidelines for Custody Reclassification Reviews at Navy Shore Brigs
(2) Prisoner Review Form
(3) Prisoner Special Move Report

1. Purpose. To provide a written classification plan. To set forth policies and procedures governing the process by which pre-trial/post-trial prisoners are objectively classified for their respective custody level.

2. Cancellation. This SOP cancels and replaces SOP 402 dated 17 March 2020 and should be read in its entirety.

3. Effective Date. Ninety-six hours after signature.

4. Applicability. To all staff and pre-trial/post-trial prisoners and especially staff involved in the pre-trial/post-trial prisoner classification process. This SOP may not be released to prisoners.

5. Definitions

a. Classification. A process for determining the level of security and program requirements for prisoners based on existing resources and prisoner assessments/evaluations/tests.

b. Custody. The degree of supervision required for each prisoner.

c. Constant. Constant is to be interpreted as "regularly and recurring."

d. Continuous. Without interruption or break, unbroken contact, constant visual observation.

e. Immediate. In direct contact or observation of staff at all times.

f. Prisoner. Refers to both pre-trial and post-trial prisoners, unless otherwise specified.

6. Policy

a. Custody classification shall be conducted per references (a). In making the appropriate custody classification level assignment, using an objective classification system, all facts and circumstances shall be considered including, but not limited to, the prisoner's: offense(s), history of violence, prior criminal history, detainers and warrants, sentencing status, escape history, institutional disciplinary history, substance abuse, stability factors (e.g., age, employment, residence, family ties), mental health evaluation, and quality of participation in treatment and educational programs (1-CORE-2A-14).

b. It is the policy of Naval Consolidated Brig Charleston (NCBC), Detachment Chesapeake to classify prisoners in a way that not only assures public safety but also provides for safe and humane treatment of prisoners.

c. An objective classification system is used to separate prisoners into groups to reduce the probability of assault and disruptive behavior. All prisoners are classified using an objective classification process that at a minimum:

(1) Identifies the appropriate level of custody for each prisoner.

(2) Identifies appropriate housing assignment.

(3) Identifies the prisoner's interest and eligibility to participate in available programs (1-CORE-2A-16).

d. The brig classification plan's objectives are:

(1) The objective categorization of each prisoner.

(2) The systematic decrease in supervision and corresponding increase in prisoner responsibility.

(a) Prisoners will be evaluated on the basis of specified behavioral criteria rather than on sentence, time served, or subjective judgments regarding attitude. This practice is intended to provide a systematic decrease in supervision and corresponding increase in responsibility as part of a graduated release process.

(b) It is not intended for prisoners to progressively be assigned a lower custody level in sequence, as classification levels may be skipped in order to properly classify at the level providing the least, or conversely the most, supervision that the prisoner may require.

(3) The brig's classification plan will be reviewed annually by the Programs and Services (P&S) Department head in order to monitor and evaluate if current objectives are being met.

(4) Objectives of custody classification system and its methods will be evaluated by the Navy Corrections and Programs office during periodic evaluations/ inspections, including any IG inspection when assisted by Navy Corrections and Programs personnel, and internal observation conducted by the Executive staff.

e. When available, pre-institutional assessment information will be used in determinations for initial custody classifications. These assessments can be in the form of medical/clinical evaluations, civilian charges or adjudications, etc. Any additional information will be communicated in a timely manner until such time as the prisoner can be re-classified.

f. Any available information should be shared and sought to identify and monitor the movements and activities of prisoners who pose a significant concern to the safety, security and orderly management of the brig.

(1) Security, prisoner management, clinical services, executive staff and others expected to manage such prisoners must be aware of the concerns and all such information shared as soon as received and releasable.

(2) Prisoners who pose a significant concern include, but are not limited to, those with gang affiliations, those with sexual and other significant violence histories, or those associated in any way with domestic or international terrorism. Upon confinement, if a prisoner poses a significant concern, initial custody classification will be Maximum and the appropriate personnel notified by Command Duty Officer (CDO).

g. During initial classification by P&S, and when cleared by clinical and medical services, each prisoner will be assigned to orientation. The prisoner will then meet their Counselor. Prisoner assessments and evaluations will take place during this phase of Orientation.

(1) Unit staff will ensure supervision and personal contact is provided for all subsequent classifications and programming needs.

(2) Pre-trial prisoners will be housed together in a pre-designated area of the General Population Unit and be managed and re-classified by the Classification and Assignment Board (C&A Board) as a result of recommendations made by the Unit Counselor.

i. Prisoner management and housing unit assignment considers age, gender, legal status, custody needs, special problems and needs, and behavior. Male and female prisoners are housed in separate rooms/cells. Prisoners are separated according to existing laws and regulations consistent with the facility's classification plan (1-CORE-2A-17). Prisoner program plans will involve unit staff, facility program representatives and the prisoners concerned. Classification will include, at a minimum, mental and emotional stability, escape history, assaultive behavior, age and enemies of record. Prisoners will also be assessed utilizing the Adult Internal Management System (AIMS) to better determine their appropriate classification and level of supervision.

7. Procedures

a. Initial Custody Classification. All new arrivals will be classified "Medium-In" (MDI) or higher upon receipt. New arrivals will be placed in Special Quarters until cleared by senior command leadership (Officer-In-Charge (OIC), Assistant Officer-In-Charge/Technical Director (AOIC/TD) or designee. Clinical Services screening (including medical screen) occurs prior to this clearance. Initial custody classification will be conducted during the reception process by the Command Duty Officer (CDO) and R&R staff as follows:

(1) Utilize the Custody Classification Form (DD Form 2711).

(2) Establish initial custody classification as either "Maximum" (MAX) or MDI. Assign MAX custody prisoners to Special Quarters.

b. Custody Re-classification. Will usually be conducted after orientation is complete and no later than 90 days after initial classification by the C&A Board. In certain cases, prisoners assigned to Special Quarters Unit may be reclassified prior to assignment to Orientation.

(1) Use Custody Re-classification Form (DD Form 2711-1) initiated by prisoner's Unit Counselor with input from mental health and programs personnel, and other support staff. The Unit Counselor will present all re-classifications from their unit, along with the Prisoner Review sheet enclosure (2), to the C&A Board. Using the Corrections Information Management System (CORMIS), the Unit Counselor will annotate pertinent information on the DD Form 2711-1 to include: offense severity, number of Disciplinary Reports (DR), severity of DR's, number of negative Observation Reports (OR), current programming, work performance, length of sentence and, pending charges/warrants. The C&A Board's vote, rationale and recommended decision will be documented on enclosure (2), along with comments by Clinical Services in regard to treatment or concerns related to custody classification.

(a) Unless precluded for security or other substantial reasons, prisoners are permitted to appear at their classification hearing. Prisoners shall be notified in writing, enclosure (2) at least 48 hours in advance of classification boards. New arrival prisoners moving from Special Quarters will not require 48-hour notification.

(b) Prisoners may waive their right to attend classification boards, in writing.

(2) Prisoners may submit a DD Form 510, via the Unit Counselor, requesting a re-classification prior to their normally scheduled review date.

(3) Once the C&A Board recommends a change to a prisoner's custody level, the proposed custody re-classification will be briefed to the AOIC/TD or designee for final approval.

(4) P&S will notify Operations Department, input classification change(s) in CORMIS, upload the document(s) to CORMIS and deliver the original(s) to Parole and Release (P&R) to be filed in the prisoner record.

(5) R&R will issue new prisoner badges as required.

(6) Unit Counselor will notify prisoner of the final custody decision.

(7) Prisoners approved for transfer to a Navy level II facility, the United States Disciplinary Barracks or Federal Bureau of Prisoners with a sentence to confinement longer than authorized at NCBC Detachment Chesapeake, will not be classified to MAX custody and remain in that custody until through transfer to their approved confinement facility.

c. Schedule for Classification Reviews. Enclosure (1) and reference (a) detail the five specific levels of custody (MAX, MDI, "Medium-Out" (MDO), "Minimum" (MIN) & "Installation Custody" (IC)) and review periods based on sentence length. The goal is to assign prisoners to the least restrictive custody level necessary to maintain good order and discipline. This information is also provided to prisoners during the orientation process and is detailed in the Rules and Regulations booklet.

(1) Re-classification of prisoners will be scheduled by the Unit Counselor and reviewed at the C&A Board. Prisoner Re-classification of post-trial prisoners may be made sooner, but, at a minimum, shall occur at least quarterly. Pre-trail prisoners will not be classified below MDI. This information is also provided to prisoners during the Orientation process and is detailed in the Rules and Regulations booklet.

| SENTENCE LENGTH | RE-CLASSIFICATION REVIEW |
| All prisoners with sentences of 12 months or less | Quarterly |

(2) All prisoners, except MAX custody prisoners may be reviewed whenever initiated by staff recommendation to change custody classification to a higher/more restrictive level based on identification of risk factors and/or management problems (e.g., MDI to MAX). Staff should continually share and consider the most current information about prisoners who pose a safety/security risk on the brig when making decisions concerning their custody classification, movement and activities.

(3) Staff recommendation to change custody classification to a lower/less restrictive level based on performance or risk factors may be initiated on all prisoners except "Installation Custody" prisoners (e.g., MDI to MDO).

(4) Review Maximum custody prisoners every 30 days.

d. Custody Levels. Post-trial prisoners may be eligible for five custody classifications, MAX, MDI, MDO, MIN or IC in accordance with reference (a). Pre-trial prisoners shall not be assigned a MDO, MIN, or IC custody level.

e. Classification Appeal. A prisoner may appeal a classification decision by using the DD 510 Prisoner Request Chit via the /chain of command. The Officer in Charge will make the final determination of a prisoner's classification.

8. Records Management. Records created as a result of this instruction, regardless of media and format, must be managed per Secretary of the Navy Manual 5210.1.

9. Review and Effective Date. Per OPNAVINST 5215.17A, NCBC Detachment Chesapeake will review this instruction annually on the anniversary of the effective date to ensure applicability, currency, and consistency with Federal, DoD, SECNAV, and Navy policy and statutory authority using OPNAV 5215/40 Review of Instruction. This instruction will be in effect for 10 years, unless revised or cancelled in the interim, and will be reissued by the 10-year anniversary date if it is still required, unless it meets one of the exceptions in OPNAVINST 5215.17A, paragraph 9. Otherwise, if the instruction is no longer required, it will be processed for cancellation as soon as the need for cancellation is known following the guidance in OPNAV Manual 5215.1 of May 2016.

10. Forms. The following forms are available at http://www.esd.whs.mil/DD/DoD-Issuances/.

a. DD Form 509 Inspection Record of Prisoner in Segregation

b. DD Form 510 Prisoner Request

On 2 September 2025, CDR Lauren Mayo and LT Christopher Dempsey, JAGC, USN, interviewed CDR Brian Flanagan, USN, in the presence of Ms. Sharell Welch, RSC(AW) Amanda Cole, USN and LN1 Kathleen Vanetti, USN at RLSO MIDLANT. The following is a summary of the interaction and is not intended to be verbatim:

CDR Flanagan explained that CSSN COPELAND is currently in a maximum security confinement status (MAX), with some special conditions. As such, COPELAND is permitted to be out of his cell for three hours a day; one hour to clean the p-way and showers, one hour for personal time, and one hour for recreation. The hour to clean is a recent addition and is considered a "step down" from his full MAX status and is permitted without supervision. This began on 11 August 2025. Prior to 11 August, he spent 22 hours a day in his cell.

While in MAX, he is allowed phone calls and visitation by his defense counsel in a no-contact booth in addition to the three hours he is normally allowed out of his cell. The no-contact room is private, has plexi-glass with slots to allow the parties to pass documents between client and attorney, allows for videos to be seen by the client, and can have white noise machines placed outside of the room to further ensure conversations cannot be overheard by anyone outside of the attorney-client privilege relationship. Any phone call requests made by the defense attorney during business hours (between 0730 and 1530) will be accommodated, even if the requested call time is outside of business hours.

In accordance with the Chesapeake Brig Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) and the SECNAVMAN-1640.1, contact visits between COPELAND and defense counsel would not be permitted while he is in a MAX status. Every 30 days, COPELAND may participate in a C&A Board that evaluates his security risk as a prisoner, and makes recommendations to the OIC, CDR Flanagan, as to any changes to COPELAND's security status. COPELAND has participated in the last two C&A Boards, and was informed that he has the right to appeal the determination of the C&A Board. COPELAND has not appealed any of the determinations of the C&A Board (which have kept him in a MAX status).

CDR Flanagan reported that there have not been any behavioral issues with COPELAND and that he has attended at least one class while at the Brig. In addition to his behavior at the brig, the C&A Board must consider factors such as the prisoners' civilian and military record, the seriousness of the offenses alleged, and the potential length of confinement awarded if found guilty in calculating a certain amount of points. Once a certain point threshold is met, the classification status can change. CDR Flanagan can override the decision of the C&A Board under limited circumstances. CDR Flanagan did not foreclose the opportunity that COPELAND may be able to leave MAX at some point based on consideration of these factors even with the charges he is facing. However, he acknowledge reclassification is unlikely. He explained that the opportunity for an hour to clean the p-way and his shower was a recent step down to allow COPELAND an opportunity to prove his good behavior. A recommendation from the trial counsel would not influence the brig's decision on classification.

CDR Flanagan expressed a separate concern that the general population of the Chesapeake Brig has been exposed to the local news and he has some concern for COPELAND's safety if COPELAND were to be moved to general population based on the news coverage his case has attracted.

To date, Defense Counsel has not requested to use a white noise machine during visits with COPELAND at the brig. The email sent by Defense Counsel that asked about having COPELAND attend a meeting at the Defense Service Office was responded to with a logistical explanation of such a movement, as well as what accommodations were available within the Brig for a meeting that ensured attorney-client privilege. If the command decided that such a meeting was appropriate, the Brig would not be able to prevent the command from taking COPELAND to meet with his counsel at a separate location.

| UNITED STATES | ) | R.C.M. 305(j)(2)(D) Memorandum |
| v. | ) | Initial Review Officer Findings, Conclusions, and Action |
| JEREMIAH T. COPELANDCSSN / E-3 USN | ) | Date: 17 June 2025 |

1. Background. I, CDR Jason A. Pfeil, JAGC, USN was detailed as the Initial Review Officer (IRO) for the review of pretrial confinement in the case of CSSN Jeremiah T. Copeland, USN (Confinee). The 7-day review hearing was at Naval Consolidated Brig Chesapeake, Virginia (NCBC) on 16 June 2025. This memorandum is prepared pursuant to Rule for Courts-Martial (R.C.M.) 305(j)(2)(D), Manual for Courts-Martial.

2. Findings of Fact. After considering the evidence and statements provided at the 7-day review hearing, the preponderance of the evidence supports the following factual findings:

A. The Confinee is from Durham, North Carolina.
B. The Confinee is 20 years of age.
C. The IRO received no evidence of substantial ties to the Hampton Roads area of Virginia other than that his command is based out of Naval Station Norfolk, Virginia.
D. Facts Pertinent to Alleged Violation of Article 118 (murder)
    a. 28 May 2025
        i. CSSN A.R. was with the Confinee in his barracks room, building X-2, room 335B and she spent the night.
        ii. CSSN A.R. last used her bank accounts.
        iii. CSSN A.R. was in authorized liberty status 28-29 May 2025.
    b. 29 May 2025
        i. At 0645, PSSN Irbin Gordillocruz, one of the Confinee's roommates, saw CSSN A.R. in the Confinee's barracks room, naked and laying on the floor with the Confinee, also naked, was laying on the floor with his head resting on CSSN A.R.'s stomach area.
        ii. PSSN Gordillocruz observed CSSN A.R. breathing.
        iii. At 0645, CSSN A.R. was alive.
        iv. Some time afterward, FCC Brad Parker from USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS (DDG 95) went to the Confinee's barracks room to make contact with him because he did not report for work.
        v. When FCC Parker knocked on the Confinee's door, the Confinee opened the door wearing shorts and no shirt. FCC Parker recognized CSSN A.R. in the Confinee's barracks room.

vi. CSSN A.R. waved at FCC Parker and then rolled over into a blanket.
vii. FCC Parker ordered CSSN Copeland to report to work and then left the Confinee's barracks room.
viii. CSSN A.R. was alive when FCC Parker left the Confinee's barracks room on 29 May 2025.
ix. No JAMES E. WILLIAMS personnel, other than the Confinee, had further positive contact with CSSN A.R. after FCC Parker saw her.
x. The Confinee did not report to work as ordered and was placed in an unauthorized absence (UA) status.
xi. CSSN A.R.'s cell phone was last used in the evening.
xii. CSSN A.R. was still in an authorized liberty status.

c. 30 May 2025
   i. CSSN A.R. did not report for duty and was placed in a UA status.
   ii. The Confinee remained in a UA status.

d. 31 May 2025
   i. Both the Confinee and CSSN A.R. remained in a UA status.

e. 1 June 2025
   i. The Confinee and CSSN A.R. remained in a UA status.
   ii. At approximately 1900, the Confinee and his roommates PSSN Gordillacruz and AR John Calisse went to dinner at Chipotle.
   iii. At approximately 2000, after eating dinner, the Confinee asked AR Calisse if he could use his vehicle to "go get something to eat" and AR Calisse agreed.
   iv. The Confinee mustered on board the ship to terminate his UA status.
   v. The Confinee's whereabouts after mustering are unknown.

f. The Confinee was in a UA status for approximately four days: from 29 May until the evening of 1 June 2025.

g. FCC Parker is the last known person, other than the Confinee to see CSSN A.R. alive.

h. As part of its investigation, NCIS interviewed the Confinee who told NCIS the following:
   i. CSSN A.R. came to his room on 28 May 2025 for dinner and drinks.
   ii. His relationship with CSSN A.R. was platonic friendship.
   iii. No sexual acts ever happened between them.
   iv. She spent the night in his barracks room the night of 28 May but she had her clothes on the entire time she was in his barracks room.
   v. He was late for work on the morning of 29 May 2025 and FCC Parker knocked on the door to tell him he was going to be marked UA.
   vi. At approximately 1000 on 29 May 2025, he and CSSN A.R. got dressed and one of his roommates took them to her residence at Miller Hall on board Naval Station Norfolk.

i. NCIS investigation revealed the following:
   i. CSSN A.R. never checked into Miller Hall on 29 May 2025 or thereafter.

ii. All of the Confinee's roommates told NCIS they did not give a ride to the Confinee or CSSN A.R. on the morning of 29 May 2025.
iii. CSSN A.R.'s cell phone last pinged on 29 May 2025 at the Confinee's barracks building.

j. NCIS searched the Confinee's barracks room and found the following:
i. There was a potential blood trail leading from inside his closet onto the carpet of the room; and a stain was found inside his bathroom.
ii. A swab taken from inside the Confinee' barracks room closet and his bathroom both tested positive for human blood.

k. NCIS searched the Confinee's cell phone and found the following:
i. At approximately 0514 on 2 June 2025, the Confinee was in the vicinity of 2842 Cary Ave., Norfolk, VA 23504, as determined by GPS analysis of a cached location on his phone.
ii. The Confinee was actively moving around the vicinity of 2842 Cary Ave., Norfolk, VA at the time he was in that area, as determined by analysis of his phone's recording of health and activity data.
iii. The Confinee saved a screenshot of a map application depicting a wooded area near a reservoir or pond in the vicinity of 2842 Cary Ave., Norfolk, VA on 2 June 2025 at 0515 as reflected in the screenshot and digital forensic analysis.
iv. The Confinee saved a location in the wooded area in the vicinity of 2842 Cary Ave., Norfolk, VA as shown by a dropped pin on the screenshot saved on 2 June 2025 at 0515.

l. Between when the Confinee terminated his UA status and approximately 0514 on 2 June 2025, his whereabouts are unknown.

m. On 9 June 2025, NCIS searched the area reflected in the screenshot obtained from the Confinee's cell phone.

n. A black duffel bag was located beneath a tree within the perimeter captured by the Confinee's screenshot.[1]

o. After partially opening the black duffel bag, NCIS observed a pair of human legs inside.

p. NCIS found a photo from 23 September 2024 depicting the Confinee in service dress blues next to a black duffel bag that is visually similar to the one located in the wooded area in the vicinity of 2842 Cary Ave., Norfolk, VA.

q. On 10 June 2025, an autopsy was performed on the body found in the black duffel bag with the following initial results:
i. The body was determined to be a female.
ii. Her body was in an extreme state of decomposition.
iii. An E-3 uniform patch was located in her hair.
iv. She was identified as CSSN A.R. by the distinctive tattoo on her back.

[1] The IRO notes that the NCIS affidavit refers to this duffel bag both as a suitcase and a duffel bag. However, based on the evidence the IRO concluded that both terms refer to the same object that the IRO refers to as a duffel bag in this memorandum.

E. Facts Pertinent to Alleged Violation of Article 120(d) (abusive sexual contact)

a. In the early morning hours of 23 July 2024 ABHAN C.R. was on the mess decks of USS HARRY S. TRUMAN (CVN 75) with her boyfriend CSSN Fernando Cuestabravo. CSSN Cuestabravo left to go to sleep.
b. Shortly after CSSN Cuestabravo left, ABHAN C.R. began receiving SnapChat snaps from the Confinee; he wanted to talk to her about CSSN Cuestabravo.
c. ABHAN C.R. agreed and the Confinee requested they go somewhere private to talk. They went to the fantail of the ship.
d. The Confinee told ABHAN C.R. that CSSN Cuestabravo was talking to other women and not treating her the way she should be treated; the Confinee suggested they should be in a relationship to get back at CSSN Cuestabravo.
e. After talking with the Confinee about her relationship with CSSN Cuestabravo, the Confinee began to play a "game" where he pretended to arrest her.
f. The Confinee forced ABHAN C.R.'s hands behind her back and grabbed her vulva over the clothing.
g. ABHAN C.R. turned around and punched the Confinee in the stomach.
h. The Confinee said he heard she liked to be choked and he grabbed her neck with one hand, applying pressure. ABHAN C.R. had difficulty breathing. ABHAN C.R. tried to push the Confinee's hand away but he kept putting it back.
i. While the Confinee was applying pressure to ABHAN C.R.'s neck, he kissed her on the lips and grabbed her breasts, buttocks, and vulva over the clothing.
j. The Confinee then stopped and left.
k. ABHAN C.R. texted CSSN Cuestabravo afterward.
l. The next day they discussed what happened and ABHAN C.R. made a report of sexual assault.
m. On 16 August 2024, NCIS interviewed the Confinee and he said the following:
    i. He and ABHAN C.R. saw each other on the mess decks and went to the fantail to talk.
    ii. The Confinee was sitting in a chair and ABHAN C.R. on the deck.
    iii. ABHAN C.R. told him CSSN Cuestabravo does not treat her well and was cheating on her; she asked the Confinee for advice.
    iv. They flirted but he denied being romantically or sexually interested in ABHAN C.R.
    v. The two hugged and he got close to her face but denied trying to kiss her.
    vi. He denied touching ABHAN C.R. anywhere else.
    vii. NCIS asked if he had strangled ABHAN C.R. He responded, "oh okay yeah I have but it wasn't in like a weird way." He said he put one hand around her neck without applying any pressure.
    viii. He also denied touching any of ABHAN C.R.'s intimate areas and denied telling her she should have sex with him to get back at CSSN Cuestabravo.
n. Additional NCIS investigation revealed:
    i. The Confinee told CSSN Jaelen Owens that ABHAN C.R. was "feeling on" and "leading on" the Confinee.

ii. CSSN Cuestabravo observed bruises on the sides of ABHAN C.R.'s neck but neither of them took photos of the bruises.

F. Facts Pertinent to Alleged Violation of Article 120(b) (sexual assault)
   a. On 4 November 2024, during a port call in Oslo, Norway, CSSN S.S. reported the Confinee sexually assaulted her in the head of a bar at approximately 2200 hours.
   b. CSSN S.S. was intoxicated and did not remember having sexual intercourse with the Confinee, however other Sailors told her on 5 November that the Confinee showed them a video on his phone of the two of them having sexual intercourse.
   c. CSSN S.S. confronted the Confinee about him making a video of sexual intercourse with her and he denied it.
   d. Two Sailors interviewed by NCIS stated the Confinee had shown them a video of him and CSSN S.S. having sexual intercourse.
   e. Another Sailor interviewed by NCIS reported the Confinee told him he had sex with CSSN S.S. and seemed excited about it.
   f. NCIS searched the Confinee' person, his berthing, rack, and personal spaces to find his phone but his phone was never found.
   g. On 18 November 2024, NCIS interviewed the Confinee:
      i. He confirmed that he and CSSN S.S. had sexual intercourse in the bathroom in a bar in Oslo, Norway and that he had video recorded it.
      ii. He stated the sexual intercourse was consensual.
      iii. He said he lost his phone before returning to the ship on 5 November.

G. Facts Pertinent to Alleged Violation of Article 128 (assault consummated by a battery / aggravated assault) or Article 128b (domestic violence)[2]
   a. In April 2025, the Confinee was in his barracks room with his then-girlfriend, CS2 S.R.
   b. While in the Confinee's barracks room, CS2 S.R.[3] received a phone call from another woman claiming to be his girlfriend. She confronted the Confinee.
   c. The Confinee denied the relationship with the other woman and they argued.
   d. The Confinee then strangled CS2 S.R.
   e. Afterward, he laughed and said he was just playing with CS2 S.R.
   f. CS2 S.R. left the Confinee's barracks room and went home. She continued to communicate with the other woman.
   g. CS2 S.R. returned to the Confinee's barracks room and confronted him again.
   h. They argued and the Confinee grabbed CS2 S.R.'s phone from her hand.
   i. CS2 S.R. punched the Confinee in the chest, slammed his PlayStation 5 to the ground, and left.

[2] These offenses were not included in the command's 72-hour review letter as offenses; however, the facts support that they were committed and helped inform the IRO's analysis.
[3] The IRO notes that there are what appear to be significant typographical errors in the email that documents the alleged assault. Specifically, after initially identifying the Confinee's then-girlfriend as CS2 S.R., the narrative refers to a CS2 Williams multiple times. Additionally, the narrative refers to the Confinee alternatively as CSSN Copeland and CSSN Williams. The IRO used context to relate the facts found from the narrative supplied in the 72-hour letter's enclosures.

j. One of the Confinee's roommates told law enforcement CS2 S.R. waved a knife around while arguing with the Confinee but no knife was found.

H. On 6 June 2025, the Confinee received nonjudicial punishment for his period of UA from 29 May to 1 June.

3. Applicable Law

Per R.C.M. 305(j)(2)(A)(iii), the Government must prove by a preponderance of the evidence the requirements for continued confinement under R.C.M. 305(i)(2)(B).

4. Victim Information

Ms. Esmerelda Castle, CIV, ABHAN C.R., USN, CSSN S.S., USN, and CS2 S.R., USN were identified as victims in this matter.

The victims were not represented by counsel. The victims were given the opportunity to confer with the representative of the command. The victims were given a reasonable opportunity to be heard; only Ms. Castle exercised her right to be heard.

The IRO will also note that CSSN A.R., USN is considered a victim for the purposes of the Article 118 allegation, however she is deceased.

5. Conclusions. Based on the evidence presented at the IRO hearing, the IRO finds the Government has proven the following by a preponderance of the evidence:

A. The following offenses triable by court-martial were committed:[4]
   a. Article 118 (murder) on or about 29 May 2025; and
   b. Article 120(d) (abusive sexual contact) on or about 26 July 2024.

B. The Confinee committed the following offenses triable by court-martial:
   a. Article 118 (murder) on or about 29 May 2025; and
   b. Article 120(d) (abusive sexual contact) on or about 26 July 2024.

C. Continued pretrial confinement is necessary because it is foreseeable that:
   a. the Confinee will not appear at trial, pretrial hearing, or preliminary hearing due to:
      i. the seriousness of the charge of murder and its punishments, specifically a maximum punishment of death or confinement for life without the possibility of parole;
      ii. the fact that the Confinee was in a UA status for four days during and after the murder of CSSN A.R.;
      iii. though the Confinee voluntarily terminated his UA status, after doing so he hid CSSN A.R.'s body in a duffel bag that he dumped in a wooded

[4] The IRO notes that the Government did not prove by a preponderance of the evidence that the Confinee committed the offense of sexual assault in violation of Article 120(b).

area, indicating that his decision to terminate his UA status was part of a plan to avoid accountability for his actions leading to CSSN A.R.'s death and would likely impel him to leave the area if he were not confined;

iv. that the Confinee attempted to cover up his involvement in the death of CSSN A.R. by both lying to NCIS investigators and hiding her body in a duffel bag in a wooded area; and

v. the Confinee lacks substantial ties to the Hampton Roads area of Virginia beyond the presence of his command in Norfolk indicating the Confinee has no incentive to remain in the Hampton Roads area were he to be free.

b. the Confinee will engage in serious criminal misconduct due to:

i. the nature and circumstances of the offenses suspected, specifically:

1. that the Confinee committed at least two violent offenses[5] while under investigation by NCIS for two other violent offenses;
2. the Confinee sought to obstruct the investigation into CSSN A.R.'s disappearance by hiding her body in a duffel bag and dumping it in a wooded area, all while keeping his phone in airplane mode to prevent it from confirming his presence where he had dumped CSSN A.R.'s body;

ii. the weight of the evidence against the Confinee, specifically:

1. evidence of his consciousness of guilt from his attempt to mislead NCIS in both the investigation of the abusive sexual contact allegation against him and the disappearance of CSSN A.R.;
2. the strong evidence provided by his phone's GPS, health data, and the screenshot he took that he dumped CSSN A.R.'s body;
3. the presence of human blood in his barracks room; and
4. that he was the last person known to have seen CSSN A.R. alive;

iii. the pattern of escalating violent conduct of the Confinee;[6] and

iv. the fact that the Confinee committed multiple violent offenses against different women all while under investigation for other violent offenses.

D. Less severe forms of restraint are inadequate given:

a. the severity of the allegations against the Confinee as outlined above;

b. the weight of the evidence against him as outlined above;

c. the pattern of escalating violent conduct despite being under multiple criminal investigations from NCIS shows that the moral threat of being held accountable for misconduct is insufficient to deter him from engaging in criminal acts;

d. that the Confinee was willing to be UA before he knew he was suspected of murder of CSSN A.R., despite receiving a direct order to report to the ship shortly

[5] Article 118 (murder) and Article 128 (assault consummated by a battery) or 128b (domestic violence). The IRO recognizes that the Article 128 or 128b offense was not specifically stated in the 72-hour memorandum as the offenses for which CO, JAMES E. WILLIAMS found continued confinement appropriate; however, it is a significant fact that he committed this violent offense while under investigation for two other violent sexual offenses and shortly before the Article 118 (murder) offense.

[6] From abusive sexual contact to assault consummated by a battery / aggravated assault / domestic violence to murder after his UA period began and he continued being UA for another three days; this shows the IRO that he is willing to disobey orders and that moral restraint is insufficient to ensure the Confinee will be present; and

e. the IRO is not persuaded that less severe forms of restraint are adequate by his presence at NJP on 6 June 2025 because of the substantial difference in the severity of the offenses for which he was placed into pretrial confinement and the significant difference between the punishment available for these offenses at court-martial compared to the maximum punishments available at NJP.

The IRO considered the evidence presented by the Confinee via his counsel but notes that it deals only with the conditions of confinement at NCBC and does not address whether confinement itself is appropriate. While there may be avenues for redress of unduly severe conditions of confinement under other R.C.M.s,[7] they do not provide a basis for finding that continued pretrial confinement is not necessary.[8]

6. Action of 7-Day Reviewing Officer

Continued pretrial confinement for the Confinee is APPROVED. The Confinee will remain in pretrial confinement.

The Government shall provide a copy of this memorandum to the Confinee, the Defense Counsel, and the confinement facility.

1. This complaint of wrong under reference (a) is submitted on behalf of CSSN Jermiah Copeland by his defense counsel, LCDR Amanda Serfess, JAGC, USN and LCDR Clifton Morgan, JAGC, USN. It is submitted in compliance with reference (b).

2. Complainant information:

a. Current command: USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS (DDG-95), Norfolk, Virginia

b. Command at time of alleged wrong: USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS (DDG-95), Norfolk, Virginia

c. EAOS: 12 July 2027

d. Current mailing and email address: CSSN Copeland is being held in pretrial confinement in Naval Consolidated Brig Chesapeake. He can be reached through his defense counsel.

3. Respondent information: Commanding Officer, USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS (DDG-95), Norfolk, Virginia

4. Complaint:

a. Alleged wrong: CSSN Copeland has been held in pretrial confinement for 63 days without preferred charges. CSSN Copeland has been in a "maximum status" while at the brig. He remains in his cell 22 hours per day. He is not permitted to have "contact" visits with his defense counsel. CSSN Copeland has requested to have a private, in-person, meeting with his defense counsel. However, this request was denied.

b. Details:

(1) For 63 days, CSSN Copeland has been held in confinement without preferral of charges.

(2) Per enclosure (1), on 16 June, CSSN Copeland requested through counsel to meet with his attorney's in-person in a private setting. The trial counsel stated that the government could not support this request. The trial counsel ignored the defense's request for more information.

(3) On 3 July 2025, the staff judge advocate advising the USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS reached out to defense counsel. In response, the defense counsel provided her additional information. Namely, that at least one trial court has found that the current policies and procedures in place at Naval Consolidated Brig Chesapeake for pretrial confinees in a "maximum" confinement status is illegal pretrial punishment.

(4) On 23 July 2025, the defense followed up with our original request. This follow up was ignored.

(5) On 29 July 2025, CSSN Copeland through counsel submitted a formal request for redress to the Commanding Officer, USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS to meet with his attorneys in a private, confidential in-person setting.

(6) On 7 August 2025, CSSN Copeland's request was denied. USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS provided no reasoning for the denial.[1]

c. Relief requested: CSSN Copeland respectfully requests to be able to meet with his attorneys in a private room to have a private conversation without the risk of being heard by people who are not members of his defense team. CSSN Copeland has been in pretrial confinement since 9 June 2025. Based solely on the fact that CSSN Copeland has "Article 118" on his confinement order, he has been placed in a "maximum status." Because CSSN Copeland is in that status, he cannot have a "contact" visit with his attorneys at the brig.[2] This means that his attorneys can only meet with him separated by a plexiglass wall. This room is not soundproof – the brig staff or anyone else can hear from outside the room. Further, because of the plexiglass, it is difficult for CSSN Copeland to hear his attorneys and even more difficult for his attorneys to

[1] Per enclosure (6), the staff judge advocate reads Section 0305.a of the JAGMAN to state that a response to a request for redress is not required. Section 0305.a of the JAGMAN states that

> The commanding officer must act upon a request for redress within 30 calendar days of receipt, and notify the complainant in writing of the action taken, if applicable. If the commanding officer does not respond to the request within 30 calendar days or denies the requested redress, then the complainant may submit an Article 138 complaint to the GCMCA via the commanding officer, as the respondent.

[2] See enclosure (5).

hear him. This is inadequate to properly represent CSSN Copeland and does not meet the requirements of the Sixth Amendment.

Understanding that you cannot order the brig to have a different policy, you do have the authority to transport CSSN Copeland to a different location so that he can meet with his attorneys. Defense counsel regularly meet with clients who are in pretrial confinement at building A-50 on Naval Station Norfolk. Commands transport pre-trial confinees, including other pretrial confinees who are accused of murder and attempted murder, to consult with their attorneys. A-50 is a secure building, it is the same building where CSSN Copeland will meet with his attorneys should charges in this case ever be pursued. CSSN Copeland simply requests to exercise his constitutional right to counsel, which must include the right to meet and openly discuss his case. The right to counsel includes the right to effective counsel. CSSN Copeland's attorneys cannot be effective if they cannot meet and openly discuss the case. Please allow CSSN Copeland to have a privileged, in-person meeting with his attorneys.

5. I certify the above information is true and correct to the best of my knowledge, and this complaint is submitted per the guidelines and procedural requirements in Chapter III, Manual of the Judge Advocate General.

CDR Mayo,

Who has decided that CSSN Copeland cannot come to A-50? OSTC? The RLSO? Why can't the government support CSSN Copeland coming to A-50? We have confined clients from other command come to A-50.

Can you please provide me with the name and contact information of the lead agent in this case?

LCDR Serfess,

You are more than welcome to address your concerns with the brig or NCIS.

The government cannot support a 2 July meeting in A-50. I've asked the brig if you can use the IRO room - but the brig is unable to accommodate. I suggest you liaise directly with the brig regarding any future visits.

CDR Mayo,

Please find LCDR Morgan and I's notice or representation attached.

Our understanding is the CSSN Copeland's cell was searched and his IRO package was taken from him because according to NCIS he cannot have that documentation. Is there a sealing or protection order in this case? Please let us know why CSSN Copeland cannot review and keep the documents associated with his case. Please let us know what the Government believes CSSN Copeland can have and review in his case. If NCIS has questions about how CSSN Copeland received documents, please have them reach out me and LCDR Morgan.

Please let me know if you need anything from me. Are we good for Wednesday? We have a couple of A/C spaces in the defense that we can use to meet with CSSN Copeland – the same spaces being used today with a client from the brig.

Elisabeth,

I just wanted to circle back to our request to meet with our client in the same room privately. I emailed the brig today and it will not allow us to visit our client in a contact room – we would only be able to meet with him through glass in non-private area. Is it possible for the command to bring him to A-50 or another location to allow us to meet with him? (Similar to how we will meet with him when he come to the court room for hearings).

Please and thank you

Elisabeth,

Please see attached. We presented these to the IRO at Copeland's hearing.

There are plenty of spaces at the brig where we could meet with the client and the staff could still see us. CDR Mayo asked them if we could use the IRO room (no windows, but a place we meet with other clients) but the brig said no. We would also agree to have more than one of the defense team in the room during any meeting if it is our safety they are concerned about. We are not concerned about our safety and haven't seen any indication that CSSN Copeland would do anything to harm his defense team.

Let me know if you have questions or need anything else from me.

Have a Happy Independence Day!!!

Subj: REQUEST FOR REDRESS ICO CSSN JERMIAH COPELAND, USN

Ref: (a) U.S. CONST. amend. VI
(b) R.C.M. 502
(c) Article 138, UCMJ

1. On behalf of CSSN Copeland, the defense respectfully requests to be able to meet with CSSN Copeland in a private room to have a private conversation where he can consult with his attorneys without the risk of being heard by people who are not members of his defense. CSSN Copeland has been in pretrial confinement since 9 June 2025. Based solely on the fact that CSSN Copeland has "Article 118" on his confinement order, he has been placed in a "maximum status." Because CSSN Copeland is in that status, he cannot have a "contact" visit with his attorneys at the brig. This means that his attorneys can only meet with him separated by a plexiglass wall. This room is not soundproof – the brig staff or anyone else can hear from outside the room. Further, because of the plexiglass, it is difficult for CSSN Copeland to hear his attorneys and even more difficult for his attorneys to hear him. This is inadequate to properly represent CSSN Copeland and does not meet the requirements of reference (a).

2. Understanding that you cannot order the brig to have a different policy, you do have the authority to transport CSSN Copeland to a different location so that he can meet with his attorneys. Defense counsel regularly meet with clients who are in pretrial confinement at building A-50 on Naval Station Norfolk. Commands transport pre-trial confinees, including other pretrial confinees who are accused of murder and attempted murder, to consult with their attorneys. A-50 is a secure building, it is the same building where CSSN Copeland will meet with his attorneys should charges in this case ever be pursued. CSSN Copeland simply requests to exercise his constitutional right to counsel, which must include the right to meet and openly discuss his case. The right to counsel includes the right to effective counsel. CSSN Copeland's attorneys cannot be effective if we cannot meet and openly discuss the case with our client. Despite twice demanding a speedy trial, CSSN Copeland has been in pretrial confinement for 50 days without being brought to trial or being able to meet with his attorneys in a private setting. Please allow CSSN Copeland to have a privileged, in-person meeting with his attorneys.

3. If you have any questions, need amplifying information, or need assistance in coordinating the release of CSSN Copeland's personal property, LCDR Amanda Serfess, detailed defense counsel, can be reached at 850-452-5572 or via email at amanda.m.serfess.mil@us.navy.mil.

CO,

Good afternoon. I, along LCDR Morgan (copied) represent CSSN Copeland. CSSN Copeland has the right to be represented by counsel. To effectuate that right, he needs to able to have a private conversation with his attorneys. We have made the request, but have not received a clear answer on why he cannot meet with his attorneys in-person in a private room. Please find a request for redress ICO CSSN Copeland attached.

I am available to answer any questions.

CO,

Good afternoon. I, along LCDR Morgan (copied) represent CSSN Copeland. CSSN Copeland has the right to be represented by counsel. To effectuate that right, he needs to able to have a private conversation with his attorneys. We have made the request, but have not received a clear answer on why he cannot meet with his attorneys in-person in a private room. Please find a request for redress ICO CSSN Copeland attached.

I am available to answer any questions.

1. I, Mrs. Cindy Hoffmeister, serve as a Defense Paralegal for Defense Service Office Southeast and have been assigned to this case since June 2025. I have been a defense paralegal since 26 February 2023. I have accompanied defense attorneys during visits to clients located at Naval Consolidated Brig Charleston (NCBC) Detachment Chesapeake on many occasions. This includes contact and no-contact visits. There is a room at the Chesapeake Brig that is used to facilitate no-contact visits with clients. The client is placed in the room on the other side of a plexiglass wall. The defense team enters the room on the other side of the Plexiglass. The defense can see the client. However, it is difficult for the client to hear his defense attorneys. The attorney will have to talk very loud limiting privacy as there are brig employees outside of the room. Further, it is very hard for the defense team to hear the client. There are small slots next to the plexiglass. However, in order to pass a document to the client, you have to fold it in half for it to fit through the slot. There are no outlets in this room. There is no way to have the client view a video on a computer. There is no way to have the client use a computer. There is no phone in the room to have the client contact other members of the defense, experts, or anyone else.

2. On 16 June 2025, I was present during the no-contact visit at the NCBC Detachment Chesapeake, along with LCDR Amanda Serfess, LCDR Clifton Morgan and CSSN Copeland. The following is a summary of the issues regarding communication that I observed during the meeting:

a. CSSN Copeland and his defense team can only visit through a no-contact room which is a small room that can barely hold four chairs, with Plexiglass between the attorneys and the client. While speaking with the client in this room, me and the other paralegal could not hear what the client was saying. The attorneys had to put their ears to the plexiglass and/or try to read his lips. The attorneys had to repeat themselves a few times as the client could not hear them. You have to speak in a slightly louder voice to be heard on the other side of that plexiglass, risking brig employees and any others not apart of the defense team to hear the conversation.

b. This room makes it nearly impossible for the attorneys to hear the client, and in turn, hard for the client to hear his attorneys.

c. Communications from inside the no-contact room can be heard from outside the room, in the main contact visit sitting area.

Signed today, 26 August 2025.

LCDR Serfess,

Please see the attached SOP regarding privileged correspondence. For safety and security, we may inspect incoming and outgoing privileged correspondence solely to ensure there is no contraband. We do not read the documents, and this inspection is done in the presence of the prisoner. He has been briefed on these procedures and understands his responsibilities WRT privileged correspondence.

Due to his custody classification, meeting in this facility would be conducted in the no contact booth. You can pass documents through the slots on either side of the plexiglass window. Video can be displayed through the same window. There would be nobody else in the room and we have sound machines that can be placed outside the room to create a layer of sound to mask conversations from the guards outside the room. Alternatively, his command could send escorts to take him to a legal office to meet which would allow for you to speak with him privately in the same room.

CDR Flanagan,

Please see below email. I'm trying to get some answers about bringing privileged documents to one of my clients confined at the Chesapeake Brig. Do you have an SOP for the prisoner management division. Will they review privileged documents?

Further, is it possible for CSSN Copeland's defense team to have an in-person, confidential, meeting with him at the brig, one where we can show our client evidence, including video evidence and speak with him privately in the same room.

I copied my XO for his SA.

CDR Mayo,

We have our Art. 6 inspection from 8-19 – but no one is coming to Pensacola so I could really be anywhere for that. Right now, I will be in Jacksonville from 24 Sept – 3 October. So really I could make anything before that work. The week of the 15th being my preference. (But, let me talk to Clifton).

We would like to meet with our client before the Art. 32. We'd request to schedule the hearing in the afternoon so that we can meet with him in the morning. (NCIS can meet with him in person, but we cannot….).

Please let us know what you need from us.

CDR Mayo,

Other than the holiday weekend, I am available.

We plan to litigate the same motion at the arraignment now that the court has jurisdiction.

The plea offer contemplates a significant amount of confinement and a proffer. We cannot do that in the no contact room. The case law is pretty clear that to adequately prepare for trial, an attorney must be in the same room as the client – who has absolutely no incident's of misconduct since he has been in the brig. If the government really would like negotiate a plea agreement, we need to be able to speak with our client in-person. The brig is clear – the command can bring him to A-50 so that we can talk to him. The fact that you were able to prepare your clients for a plea agreement or for a trial in the no contact room, is not evidence that I can. I cannot competently prepare CSSN Copeland (a person with a 15 AFQT score) for this type of complex plea agreement or trial without being able to meet with him in person with papers and a computer.

LCDR Serfess,

I understand your position. However, the brig and the command have made their position clear. As outlined in our response to your motion, I also do not believe the current brig accommodations are insufficient for private meetings with your client. I say this also as someone who has spent a lot of time in the no contact room at this brig.

For planning purposes, I expect referral will happen shortly - what is your schedule like over the next two weeks for an arraignment?

Subject: Legal Visit
Date: Tuesday, September 30, 2025 1:55:12 PM

Good afternoon Sir,

SNP Copeland is requesting a Temporary Release for a legal visit in person with his defense team. What date would be best to accommodate the request?

Very Respectfully,
MA1 (AW) Christopher Eck
NAVCONBRIG Det Chesapeake
Corrections Counselor
Email: christopher.m.eck.mil@us.navy.mil
Office: 757-421-8652

Scheduling availability:
Legal calls Monday through Friday except holidays between 1230 and 1500. Please schedule calls at least 24 hours in advance to avoid scheduling conflicts.
Command and legal visitations can be conducted Monday through Friday 0800-1100 and 1200-1500. These typically do not require prior coordination, however prior notification is always appreciated. All paperwork to be left for prisoners needs to be coordinated through the Prisoner Management Department and be free from staples and paperclips.

NOTICE: This e-mail communication is for the sole use of the intended recipient(s) and may contain unclassified, confidential, law enforcement sensitive, and/or PII information. Any unauthorized disclosure, copying or dissemination of this communication is prohibited. If you are not the intended recipient, please notify the sender by telephone or e-mail and delete all copies received.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE RECORD

Subj: MEDICATION ERROR INCIDENT

1. Incident Summary: On 17 October 2025, at approximately 1930 hours, a medication error occurred wherein a medication intended for another prisoner was accidentally switched and administered to Prisoner Copeland. The duty corpsman, HM1 Waters, promptly contacted me, the Independent Duty Corpsman (IDC), to report the mishap.

2. Immediate Actions Taken: Upon receiving the report from HM1 Waters, I immediately informed the Command Senior of the incident, who confirmed receipt of the information. Since the medication involved was not a narcotic, I instructed HM1 Waters to monitor Prisoner Copeland's vital signs and assess for any life-threatening adverse reactions.
HM1 Waters completed the assessment and verified that no adverse reactions were evident that evening.

3. Communication and Reporting: Regrettably, I did not notify the Officer-in-Charge (OIC) at the time of the incident, mistakenly assuming that reporting to the Command Senior would suffice, as the information would be pushed through the chain of command. This was an error on my part due to complacency.
On Monday, 20 October 2025, I, along with CMDCS, informed the OIC of the medication error that occurred over the weekend. I also contacted the Commanding Officer to inform him of the incident. The Commanding Officer instructed HMCS Sandi to return his call with both CMDCS and OIC present. A phone call was completed, and details of the medication error were fully communicated. Additionally, a follow up safety check was completed with prisoner Copeland on the morning of 20 October 2025, Monday, completing his reassessment for possible medication adverse reaction.

4. Lessons Learned and Future Prevention Measures:

To prevent similar incidents in the future and to ensure timely and clear communication, the following actions will be implemented:

- The IDC will immediately inform both the OIC and the Commanding Officer directly of any medication errors or significant clinical incidents, regardless of the severity.
- A mandatory follow-up evaluation will be conducted for all prisoners involved in medication errors or adverse events, with the IDC personally conducting or overseeing these follow-ups if necessary.
- The chain of command will be kept fully informed at all stages of incident management to avoid miscommunication or delays in response.
- A review and reinforcement of medication administration protocols will be conducted with all medical personnel to reduce the risk of medication mix-ups.

- Additional training on incident reporting and communication procedures will be scheduled for all medical staff to promote accountability and prompt reporting.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE RECORD

Subj: MEDICATION ERROR INCIDENT

1. Incident Summary: On 18OCT25, the Duty Corpsman, HM1 Waters, mistakenly issued the wrong medication to Prisoner Copeland. The medication was for Prisoner Toliver who resides in the next cell over. They were antibiotics and hormone therapy medications. HM1 Waters reported it immediately to our IDC, HMCS Sandi, who informed CMDCS Streeter. I was notified upon my return to work on Monday, 20OCT25.

2. Immediate Actions Taken: HM1 Waters took vitals and monitored Prisoner Copeland for any adverse reactions. None were noted. On 20OCT, I reported this incident to my superior, the CO of NAVAL CONSOLIDATED BRIG CHARLESTON, CDR Brisco Jr. I met with CMDCS Streeter and HMCS Sandi to discuss the incident and the way forward, both to prevent further incidents, and to address the poor performance of HM1 Waters. I counseled both CMDCS Streeter and HMCS Sandi for failing to properly inform the Chain of Command of the incident in a timely manner. I also gave HMCS Sandi two weeks of EMI, and she gave two weeks of EMI to HM1 Waters, where HMCS Sandi will oversee everything HM1 Waters does within his Corpsman capacity on the brig staff. I also rescinded the approved secondary employment for HM1 Waters so he could focus on his Navy duties and responsibilities.

3. Future Prevention Measures: Training was held for the entire Medical Department on the proper procedures for issuing medication. The IDC will directly inform me, the OIC, and the Commanding Officer, CDR Brisco Jr. A follow-up evaluation of Prisoner Copeland was conducted and no issues were noted. Medication will be clearly labeled with the proper medication and name of respective prisoner. If any prisoner is uncertain about their medication, they are to notify the CDO who will reach out to HMCS Sandi and myself.

Subj: RESPONSE TO THE REQUEST FOR A CONTACT VISIT WITH COUNSEL ICO CSSN JERMIAH T. COPELAND

Ref: (a) Naval OSTC Det Norfolk ltr of 2 Oct 25

1. In response to ref (a) and in support of the government's position on this unique case, limited exception to policy is cautiously granted with the following caveats:

a. The prisoner will remain restrained at all times during the visit.

b. The prisoner visits will be conducted in a brig contact room and staff will maintain current security protocols; no further adjustments will be authorized.

c. Any guilty Disciplinary Review Board findings, whether related to a visit or not, will revoke this exception and return the prisoner to standard protocols associated with his classification.

d. Any security protocol violations during the visit will return the prisoner to standard protocols associated with his classification.

2. I note that isolated instances of previously demonstrated compliance do not mitigate risk with prisoners facing severe sentences and consequences. This is particularly true in cases where a prisoner may receive unexpected news or information that serve as a trigger for volatile behavior. Allowing contact visits for prisoners designated with a custody classification of "maximum" increases risk to the safety of visiting personnel and my staff. Brig security policy is in place for everyone's safety, even when it is inconvenient. I have seen numerous staff assaulted in my tenure by unstable prisoners who were at times compliant, thus the cautious approval of this unique government request. I hope this level of risk, which I wholly own, is noted for any future requests.

LCDR Dempsey,

Wanted to follow up on the hearing that I participated in, specifically regarding Copeland's MAX status. Did the Judge make any determination in favor of one direction or another? Right now he is still MAX and POI, though I think we will be taking him off POI based on clinical recommendation. With his recent punching of walls and picking at scabs, I am more inclined to keep him as a MAX. To me, it seems he is having trouble controlling whatever emotion is causing him to lash out in that way, what is to stop him from doing that to another prisoner if he was moved to gen pop? That is all still within what the SECNAV says I have the authority to determine as far as maintaining a MAX status.

OIC

LCDR Dempsey,

Thank you for the follow up and please keep me posted. Also for the clarification. I was tracking it was denied/ruled against because the SECNAV clearly states we can do what we are doing. Reading the attachment, I vaguely remember now but tough to keep track of all these things as I sign/review documents throughout the day every day, so from October to now I was drawing a blank. Comforting to see it's not my signature at least!

What I am tracking now is the next hearing is in June?

Good Afternoon Sir,

Thank you for your flexibility and assistance today! The hearing just ended. The military judge will issue a ruling on potential unlawful pretrial punishment at a later date. To be clear, and this was likely lost in translation on my part, the last motion was not "denied." Instead, the judge said he would not hear it because there was not technically a court-marital yet (and he was not appointed as the judge).

I will update you ASAP. FYSA, I've also attached your CO's approval for contact visitation with Copeland in case that comes up again.

Thank you again!

What in particular about those two dates? Both recommend reducing his classification based on the points, one recommends this still and the other recommends override.

On the above date and time I DC2 Heggenberger, was conducting my CDO rounds in Kilo East. I started on the upper level and as i came upon cell K-78 SNP Copeland asked me if he could do his personal time later in the evening. It was reported to me by my watch standers that he refused so i asked him if he refused and he said "No, i want to do it later". I told him to give me a second so i could return to the bubble and ask the watch standers what happened. I returned to the bubble and asked ABE2 Cantu what happened. He stated to me that he went to let out SNP Copeland for personal time before dinner and that SNP Copeland came to the door and shut it and then hit the button and stated " Never mind, i want to do it later". ABE2 Cantu said we can support your personal time now, if you dont want to do it, it will be marked down as a refusal. SNP Copeland acknowledged ABE2 and still said "Not right now". I then left the bubble and returned to the upper SQ level and stopped in front of cell K-78 to brief the SNP that he was offered his personal time and that he changed his mind and decided to remain in his cell. Before i could even talk to SNP Copeland about any kind of solution he became aggrivated and raised his voice upset saying "Why does it even matter if i say later? My family is on the west coast. Y'all dont do shit on nights. Y'all treat me like shit." I then stated that we still have tasks to do on nights and that he doesnt know whats going on and who is it that treats him poorly. SNP then stated "I know what y'all do. Y'all dont do shit. Ive had staff tell me everything that goes on in here. Cantu and OS2 Hunter treat me like shit" I then asked him which staff member has told you the Brig operations and what did my watch standers do for him to feel that way. He said "Who are you to ask me that? I dont have to tell you shit". He then proceeded to say "Y'all make me want to kill myself soon." I asked him "Soon like tonight?" He then said "Naw, but soon." I then had BM2 wells stand by SNP Copelands cell while i left to contact the chain of command and medical.

VOLUNTARY STATEMENT

1. Place: K-East
2. Date Time: 02 10 26

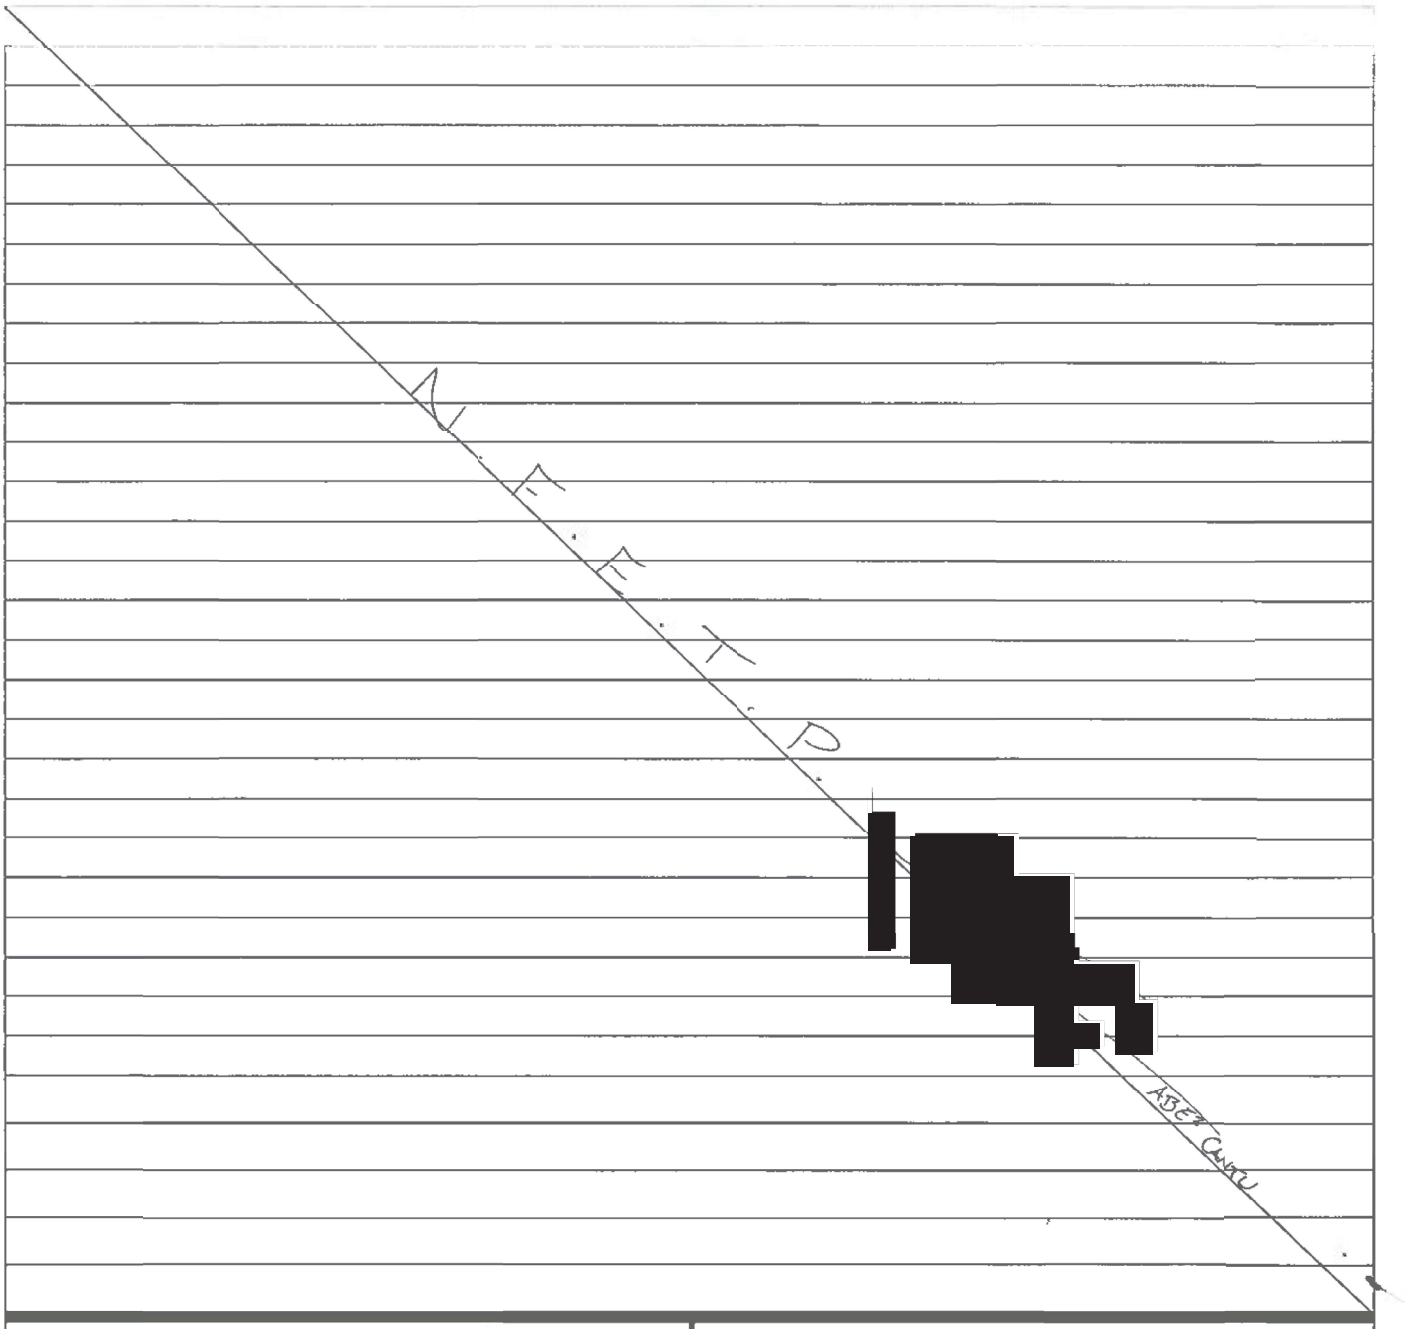
I, ABE2 Cantu, make the following free and voluntary statement to MAC Jones, whom I know to be a command investigator for the Naval Consolidated Brig Chesapeake. I make this statement of my own free will and without any threats or promises extended to me. I fully understand that this statement concerning my knowledge of: SNP Copeland, incident with personal time.

At the above date and time, I was posted as Kilo East Dorm Supervisor. I asked SNP Copeland if he wished to take personal call. SNP initially agreed, so I allowed him out of his cell. I then resumed writing in my logbook.



Moments later, SNP Copeland pressed his call button and stated, "Never mind. I'd like to take my personal time later." I informed SNP that personal time is being offered at this time and that he could not choose when to take it. I advised him that this was his opportunity to participate. SNP argued that there were other sets stating that he is allowed to take personal time whenever he wants, adding that we were singling him out. I asked SNP again if he wished to participate, and he responded, "No. I want to do it later." In accordance with the directive passed down to all sets, I documented SNP Copeland's personal time as a refusal.

At approximately 1750, the CDO conducted a tour of Special Quarters. During this tour, SNP Copeland informed the CDO that he believed he was being treated unfairly. During the conversation, SNP raised his voice and used profane language, making statements including, "You guys treat me like shit," "I watch y'all inside the bubble. Y'all don't do shit," "I got guards that tell me what y'all do around the brig," "Y'all are able to let me out when I want," "There's only three of us up here," and "It be your own people."

The CDO asked SNP to clarify these statements as they were made. SNP responded to each inquiry by stating, "I don't have to tell you shit."

Near the conclusion of the conversation, SNP stated that he was becoming so frustrated that he felt like killing himself. The CDO immediately asked SNP if he was feeling suicidal at that moment and whether he had a plan to harm himself. SNP responded, "No." The CDO returned to the bubble, confirmed with me that I had heard the conversation, and directed BM2 Wells to monitor SNP Copeland while he notified the chain of command.

SYNOPSIS: On 10 February 2026 at approximately 1750, DC2 Heggenberger was CDO conducting rounds in Kilo East and was asked by Prisoner Copeland if he could do his personal time later in the evening. It was reported to Heggenberger by his watch standers that Copeland had refused. Heggenberger asked him if he had refused and Copeland replied "No, I want to do it later". Heggenberger went to verify with the watch standers in the bubble and asked ABE2 Cantu what happened? Cantu stated he went to let out Copeland for personal time before dinner, Copeland came to the door, shut it, hit the call button, and stated "Never mind, I want to do it later". Cantu stated "we can't support your personal time now, if you don't want to do it, it will be marked down as a refusal. Cantu stated Copeland acknowledged and still said "Not right now". Heggenberger left the bubble and returned to the SQ area to brief Copeland. Heggenberger stated to Copeland that he was offered personal time and that he changed his mind and decided to remain in his cell. Copeland became aggravated and raised his voice saying, "Why does it even matter if I say later?" "My family is on the West Coast. Yall don't do shit on nights. Yall treat me like shit. WITNESS STATEMENT: On 10 February 2026, at approximately 1732, MAC Jones met with Cantu who provided a sworn written statement. Cantu's statement corroborated with Heggenberger's statement.

WITNESS STATEMENT: On 10 February 2026, at approximately 1750, MAC Jones met with Hunter who provided a sworn written statement. Hunter's statement corroborated Heggenberger's statement.

SUSPECT STATEMENT: On 11 February 2026, at approximately 1200, MAC Jones advised SNP Copeland of his rights (Enclosure 2). SNP acknowledged his rights and provided a verbal statement and pleaded "No Plea" to his charge. In his statement, Copeland stated there was more than just Cantu and Hunter in the bubble on the day of the DR. Copeland further stated the CDO told him he was just a prisoner, never told him he was being disrespectful, and that he was not doing his incentive level 3 due to his actions. Copeland stated he just smiled and said OK to the CDO. Copeland also stated he was asked by Cantu if he was doing his personal time today and he replied yes and asked if he could do it later. Copeland stated he never raised his voice, he just stated the facts about how he felt and towards the end he got agitated. Copeland further stated he did tell the CDO that they make him want to kill himself, but the CDO didn't aske him if he had a plan to harm himself.

INVESTIGATIVE COMMENTS: MAC Jones reviewed camera footage of the interaction between Heggenberger and Copeland via C204. Heggenberger approached Copeland's cell, kneels, and began talking to him as Hunter was completing his rounds on the SQ floor. Heggenberger then proceeds to check on the other prisoners in the SQ area, sign the 509 and then departs. At 1829, Heggenberger returns as Hunter is departing SQ area and appears to ask Hunter to stand by as he talks with Copeland. Heggenberger approaches Copleand cell door with Hunter standing off to the side, as witness to the interaction. Heggenberger remains at Copelands cell door talking to him for six minutes before leaving and Wells arriving. Wells arrives and stands at Copeland cell door watching him for 23 minutes. At 1907, Heggenberger arrives again to talk with Copeland for a few moments then leave. HM2 Siler arrives to check on Copeland.

Investigations recommend the charges Disrespect be forwarded to D&A board for processing.

D&A
11 February 2026

From: Command Discipline and Adjustment (D&A) Board Chair
To: Housing Unit Manager and Prisoner on LOP
Via: Brig Officer, Naval Consolidated Brig Chesapeake

Subj: PUNISHMENT IMPOSED REQUIRING UNIT ENFORCEMENT: LOSS OF PRIVILEGES (LOP)

1. LOP. Prisoner COPELAND, JERMIAH C. (00165476CJ) is awarded punishment consisting of below-listed LOSS OF PRIVILEGES (LOP) for a period of 10 days commencing on the date of this letter. 0 days are suspended for 0 days. The LOP shall start on the date of this letter and end at TAPS on 21 FEBRUARY 2026. Unit staff and work center supervisor shall enforce the loss of privileges indicated below.

X Dayroom access (remain in cell during personal time)
X Housing unit recreation (board games, cards, etc.)
_ TV use
_ Brig issued PMD
_ Telephone use
X Personal music device (CD player/radio) _ Participation in recreation call X Library use (retain personal books unless otherwise noted)
X All voluntary activities except Sunday worship services.
_ Personal Visitation
X Other: NONE

2. The prisoner shall serve the LOP in cell KE-78 in full uniform. Prisoners on LOP shall continue to participate in all assigned work details during normal work hours. Prisoners also serve LOP during their scheduled days off.

3. Any equipment/item prohibited during this LOP period shall be turned into the unit staff immediately including library and library cart materials. If TV call, movie call, and brig-issued/personal music devices (PMD) are part of the LOP, the prisoner must turn in his/her headphone(s) and ear buds to the Quarters Supervisor.

4. There is no provision entitling the prisoner to one phone call per week if phone privileges are part of the LOP. If there is a requirement for an urgent call, the prisoner must submit a DD 510 chit request. Only the OIC can give final approval. (Staff shall walk the chit through if urgent.)

5. Prisoners on LOP may sit, but not lie down, on the rack between reveille and 2000 hours. Exceptions require a valid medical chit authorizing it. In that case, the prisoner must first receive permission from the on-duty Quarters Supervisor, who shall time the rest period. Prisoners on LOP will shower after 2000 hours.

6. Unit staff are not authorized to override any of the LOP provisions or any other punishment awarded. Only the OIC can override them and it requires an approved DD 510 chit request.

7. Other punishment, if imposed, is recorded in the Discipline Board summary (a copy is given to the prisoner, the CDO, and the original is placed in the prisoner record) and the D&A Board Log.

At the above date and time, I, MA2 Lozano, CDO received a call from BM2 Flores, Special Quarters supervisor, to inform me that while conducting her rounds observed SNP Copeland's cell, he was lying on his rack, wrapped up in his blankets, appeared to be sleeping. When she woke him up, she told him that he was not allowed to sleep or lay down during working hours. She then informed me that SNP Copeland stated that "the CDO gave him permission to lay down". That is why she wanted to confirm with me. He then grabbed his boxes from underneath the rack, made a makeshift bed and laid on top, covered himself in the blanket.
At 1030, I arrived at Kilo-East and I explained to BM2 Flores that I never gave him permission to do that and that I would be the one issuing him a negative (-) on his hard card. I asked MA1 Eck if he could come with me to have him sign it. MA1 and I went up into Special Quarters, MA1 handed me the Rules and Regulations Book, and I grabbed SNP Copeland's Handling letter. As I approached cell KE-78, I saw SNP Copeland was still lying down on top of his boxes, covered in his blankets. I knocked on the door and told SNP Copeland that he is not allowed to be laying down and sleeping during working hours. I then explained to him that just because I said, "You can't be fully covered in your blanket isn't me giving you permission to sleep". I read his handling letter where it said word for word "Make bunk daily after reveille and taps. Sitting on the bunk is authorized between reveille and taps. No laying down unless on personal time" and then I went into the Rules and Regulations Book, to PG. 38, Section 407, under #1. "You shall not lie on your bedding while in uniform (Uniform, shoes/boots)". I informed SNP Copeland that on 27JAN26 he was given a verbal warning for sleeping during the day and this time it would be a negative. He said "this is the only set that is in forcing this", "no other sets care including OIC", and "that he feels targeted because he's the only one being talked to" I explained to him that he's not the only one but it's not his job to worry about everyone else and just to focus on what is going on now, with him and if he wanted to sign is hard card or refuse. SNP Copeland went to grab a pen but turned around very quickly and said, "Show me where the fuck it says I can't lay down on my bed" I asked, "Are you refusing to sign?", he stated "No but show me where the fuck it says that! Where the fuck does it say I can't lay down on the boxes since it isn't his bed." MA1 Eck told him to "watch your language" I then opened the Rules and Regulations book to PG. 10, Section 205, under #1, "Orders given by staff personnel (military or civilian) or written orders are not subject to argument, discussion or negotiation. Orders will be obeyed immediately and without question." Handed him his hard card and he signed. MA1 Eck was about to say something when SNP Copeland then started shouting, "Stop talking to me! I don't want to talk to you no more, just leave me the fuck alone!" I grabbed the hard card and we walked away.

CHARGE(S): Disrespect (CAT-III), Disobedience (CAT-III), and Staff Harassment (CAT-II)

COMPLAINANT: Lozano, G./ E-5 / USN

SYNOPSIS: On 04 February 2026 at approximately 1020, MA2 Lozano was CDO and received a call from BM2 Flores, Kilo East Special Quarters Supervisor, informing her that while Flores was conducting rounds, she observed SNP Copeland laying in his rack, wrapped up in his blankets, and appeared to be sleeping. Flores also informed Lozano that SNP stated "the CDO gave him permission to lay down". Flores wanted to confirm with Lozano. SNP then grabbed his boxes from under his rack, made a makeshift bed, laid on top, and covered himself in the blanket. Lozano arrived at KE SQ and explained to Flores that she never gave SNP permission to lay down and she would be issuing him a negative on his hard card. Lozana then asked MA1 Eck to go with her to have SNP sign the hard card. Eck handed the Prisoner Rules and Regulations book to Lozano, and she grabbed SNP's Handling Letter. As they approached SNP's cell, SNP was still lying down on top of his boxes, covered in his blankets. Lozano knocked on the cell door and advised SNP he is not allowed to be laying down and sleeping during working hours and further explained that just because she stated, "you can't be fully covered in your blanket isn't me giving you permission to sleep". Lozano read SNP's handling letter to him, Prisoner Rules and Regulations section 407, also on 27 January 2026 SNP had received a verbal warning for sleeping during the day, and this time it would be a negative. SNP replied, "this is the only set that is enforcing this, no other sets care including OIC and he feels targeted because he is the only one being talked to". Lozano stated to SNP that he is not the only one, but it is not his job to worry about everyone else and just to focus on what is going on now with him and if he wanted to sign the hard card or refuse. SNP turned around to grab a pen but turned back around very quickly and stated, "show me where the fuck it says I can't lay down on my bed". Lozano asked, "are you refusing to sign?" Eck told SNP to "watch your language". Lozano then showed SNP section 205 of the Prisoner Rules and Regulations and handed SNP the hard card to sign.

Lozano stated Flores also stated SNP then grabbed his boxes from under his rack, made a makeshift bed, laid on top, and covered himself in the blanket. Lozano also stated when she arrived at KE SQ, she explained to Flores that she never gave SNP permission to lay down and she would be issuing him a negative on his hard card. Lozano then asked MA1 Eck to go with her to have SNP sign the hard card. Lozano also stated Eck handed her the Prisoner Rules and Regulations book and she grabbed SNP's Handling Letter. Lozano further stated as they approached SNP's cell, SNP was still lying down on top of his boxes, covered in his blankets. Lozano stated she knocked on the cell door and advised SNP he is not allowed to be laying down and sleeping during working hours and further explained that just because she stated, "you can't be fully covered in your blanket isn't me giving you permission to sleep". Lozano also stated she read SNP's handling letter to him, Prisoner Rules and Regulations section 407, also on 27 January 2026 SNP had received a verbal warning for sleeping during the day, and this time it would be a negative. SNP replied, "this is the only set that is enforcing this, no other sets care including OIC and he feels targeted because he is the only one being talked to". Lozano stated to SNP that he is not the only one, but it is not his job to worry about everyone else and just to focus on what is going on now with him and if he wanted to sign the hard card or refuse. SNP turned around to grab a pen but turned back around very quickly and stated, "show me where the fuck it says I can't lay down on my bed". Lozano asked, "are you refusing to sign?" SNP stated "No, but show me where the fuck it says that! Where the fuck does it say I can't lay down on the boxes since it isn't my bed?" Eck told SNP to "watch your language". Lozano stated she then read SNP Section 205 of the Prisoner Rules and Regulations. Lozano also stated she handed SNP the hard card and he signed it. Lozano stated Eck was about to say something to SNP, then SNP started shouting "stop talking to me! I don't want to talk to you no more, just leave me the fuck alone!"

WITNESS STATEMENT: On 04 February 2026, at approximately 0820, MAC Jones met with Flores who provided a sworn written statement. Flores' statement corroborated Lozano's statement.

WITNESS STATEMENT: On 04 February 2026, at approximately 1030, MAC Jones met with Eck who provided a sworn written statement. Eck's statement corroborated with Lozano's statement. Eck also stated Lozano apologized to SNP for not being clear with the direction she had given him earlier that morning. Eck stated Lozano specified the storage box could be sat near the door for better TV view during TV time, but not for turning into a makeshift bed. Eck further stated SNP continued displaying attitude about the situation after he signed the hard card entry and Eck attempted to point out the fact that SNP is on the step-down program and SNP told Eck "stop talking".

SUSPECT STATEMENT: On 06 February 2026, at approximately 1345, MAC Jones advised SNP Copeland of his rights (Enclosure 2). SNP acknowledged his rights and provided a verbal statement and pleaded "No Guilty" to his charge. In his statement, SNP stated BM2 knocked on his cell door and told him to get up, do something with his life, and that he knew better. SNP further stated Flores left and came back, he told her "you the only one who cares that I sleep, not even the CDO cares nor the OIC", so why is it such a big deal?" SNP stated Flores asked "which CDO" and he replied "MA2 Lozano". SNP further stated Flores left and later Lozano and Eck came and he was laying down. SNP stated he heard Lozano say "unacceptable" and knock on his cell door. SNP also stated he got up, and Lozano stated he is not allowed to sleep on the gray bin as a makeshift bed only to watch TV. SNP stated he asked Lozano, "how is it okay to sit and watch TV but not lay on it?" SNP further stated Lozano didn't reply she just looked over at Eck and stated to SNP that he had a negative for sleeping. SNP also stated Lozano took it personally when he told her that she had told him that morning that if he was sleeping, he needed to show skin. SNP stated he advised Lozano that he feels targeted and no one else is getting a negative hard card entry, to which she replied he needed to worry about himself and no one else. SNP also stated he was frustrated and cursed but it was not like they made it out to be.

INVESTIGATIVE COMMENTS: MAC Jones reviewed camera footage of the interaction between Lozano and SNP via C204. Lozano approached SNP's cell and began talking to him. A few seconds later, Eck arrived with the Prisoner Rules and Regulations book. Lozano appears to be talking to SNP for several minutes; she also squats down to talk through the feed tray. Lozano and Eck remained at SNP's cell for approximately 13 minutes before she placed a piece of paper on the feed tray and then retrieved it a short time later. Both Lozano and Eck then depart the SQ's area.

Investigations recommend the charges Disobedience, Disrespect, and Staff Harassment be forwarded to D&A board for processing.

VOLUNTARY STATEMENT

1. Place: KILO-EAST / SPECIAL QUARTERS CELL K-78

2. Date/Time: 04FEB2026 1030

I, MA1 Eck make the following free and voluntary statement to MAC Jones, whom I know to be a command investigator for the Naval Consolidated Brig Chesapeake. I make this statement of my own free will and without any threats or promises extended to me. I fully understand that this statement concerning my knowledge of: SNP Copeland.

On the date and time stated above, I MA1 Eck witnessed a conversation between CDO (MA2 Lozano) and SNP Copeland. CDO informed SNP Copeland that he was getting a negative hard card entry for turning his storage box into a makeshift bed and sleeping completely covered up during working hours. SNP Copeland lowered his head and gave the appearance of being sad or frustrated. SNP Copeland asked why he was the one getting a negative when other prisoners were not. CDO informed him that is concern needs to be about himself and that the other prisoners are not his responsibility. She further stated that his actions the subject and there are other hard cards are being looked at as well. SNP Copeland responded that BM2 Flores is the only one that has issues with him laying down and that the CDO told him he could use the storage box that morning. The CDO apologized for not being clear with the direction and specified the storage box could be sat on near the door for better TV view during TV time, but not for turning into a makeshift bed. CDO informed him the reason for the negative is due to already having received a verbal before and the next step is a negative. She further asked if he is willing to sign or if she should put refusal to sign. SNP Copeland stated he felt targeted about the sleeping issue and being completely covered when laying down further stating that "others can wear blankets while walking around and no one says shit." CDO stated that she is fair and focuses on everybody equally and in this moment the focus is on him, not to be concerned about other prisoners. SNP Copeland stated "he does not understand the big fucken deal about laying on the box anyway." I then interjected about his language and told him "the cursing will stop; it's against the regulations and will make this bigger than this needs to be." SNP Copeland continued and asked where it says he cannot lay down because the rules and regs says on the bed specifically. The CDO informed him he cannot lay down during the duty day. SNP Copeland rebutted that "it's not like I have duty." SNP Copeland got up and walked away as CDO laid the hard card onto his feed tray and she then picked it back up. SNP Copeland returned to the door with a pen and after clearing up a miscommunication about the reason he got up, CDO place it down on the feed tray and he took it to sign. He continued displaying attitude about the situation and I attempted to point out the fact he is on the step down program and he told me to "stop talking." CDO picked up his hard card and we departed from his cell door.

Later as I was conducting rounds, SNP said " how come my sleeping is always a problem with you, the CDO and OIC don't even care I sleep during the day, even the CDO said this morning I was able to sleep, as long as I showed skin, nobody cares about me sleeping during the day, to which I responded, "I am just doing my job, and in your handling letter, it states you "Make bunk daily after reveille and taps. Sitting on the bunk is authorized between reveille and taps. No laying down unless on personal time.", but I will ask the CDO about this"; then SNP said "no, it's all good, I'm just wondering why you're are the only one with a problem with me sleeping. Good morning, JAG.

Unfortunately, I don't believe our medical office is set up for these type visits. OIC Det can confirm but I don't believe that to be the case, therefore, the no contact room is the only option at present due to the standing modification order signed by the CO that was violated by the prisoner with his recent misconduct. I do believe if a new letter is issued by the current CO, CDR Howard, he would not override what was previously directed.

Standing by for further questions and thank you.

Subject: US v. Copeland - Contact Visit for Recidivism Analysis

Good Afternoon Ms. Welch,

Recently, the Defense in the US v. Copeland case requested to meet with their client for 3 days in the brig in a contact visit setting. CDR Flanagan denied this request because of Copeland's recent behavior.

Although I have not fully confirmed this with the Defense, the reason for this meeting appears to be to conduct a recidivism analysis with a psychiatrist/psychologist. If that is true, would it be possible for this expert to meet with Copeland in the medical office in a contact setting?

If not, I understand, I just want to speak with the Defense understanding all of the potential COAs. Thank you.

Very Respectfully,

LCDR Dempsey,

Spoke with my boss and he's appreciative about the ruling, though he raised one issue that I wanted to bring to your attention. From page 2:

> a. On 9 June 2025, the Accused was ordered into pretrial confinement at the Naval Consolidat Brig Charleston (NCBC) Detachment Chesapeake. He is classified as a maximum status prisoner, which means that he is in his cell alone for at least 22 hours per day.

I think this is just a simple verbiage mistake; however, wanted to clarify MAX prisoners are allowed out of their cell at least 2 hours per day. He is alone in his cell, at most, for 22 hours a day. Subtle difference but important to note.

Good Morning CDR Flanagan,

The military judge recently ruled on the issue of visitation with Copeland. I have attached it here. BLUF: he ruled that the expert visits must be in a contact setting, but that otherwise the non-contact booth is appropriate under the circumstances.

LCDR Morgan,

I approved contact visitation for Dr. Sahni and Ms. LaVala. LN1's visit will be in the no-contact booth. There is a table for writing and ability to pass documents between each side, so there is no reason to need contact visitation. We will screen all materials going inside the facility. Why does LN1 need 6 pencils?

Please include Trial Counsel on all correspondence.

CDR Flanagan,

Good morning, sir. I am one of CSSN Copeland's defense counsel. I wanted to inform and coordinate with you the following visits with CSSN Copeland next week:

Monday, 23 March: Our expert consultant, Ms. Daniela LaVala, will need to meet with CSSN Copeland in a contact room. Ms. LaVala will bring a pen for writing and possibly a laptop. Requesting this meeting start at 0900.

Thursday, 26 March: Our paralegal, LN1 Port, will need to meet with CSSN Copeland to administer him a test, which is needed for a future visit from our other expert consultant, Dr. Nameeta Sahni. During this visit LN1 Port will need to bring six (6) No. 2 pencils, erasers, and a stopwatch. Requesting this visit start at 0900.

Thank you.

Very Respectfully,

MEMORANDUM FOR THE RECORD

SUBJECT: CTM1 Angelo McDuffie BRIG Visit

1. On 13 March 2026, I visited the Naval Consolidated Brig Chesapeake with Mr. Robert Canoy, and Mrs. Namibia Nguyen. We are all members of the defense team, representing CTM1 McDuffie's attorney and paralegals, along with his military counsel and military LN who could not join us that day.

2. During the visit, Mr. Canoy requested to meet with CTM1 McDuffie in a contact room, but this was denied. We were directed by an MA2 to a specific non-contact room for our meeting. The acoustics and sound transfer through the metal and plate glass divider are very poor. As such, counsel and CTM1 McDuffie are required to speak at a fairly high volume in order to hear each other. This allows anyone standing outside the non-contact room to overhear the conversation.

3. While in the non-contact room having a privileged conversation with CTM1 McDuffie, myself and Mrs. Nguyen noticed two of the escorts standing directly outside of the non-contact room where we were conducting an attorney-client privileged visit with CTM1 McDuffie. It appeared to us that they could listen to our conversation. CTM1 McDuffie felt and noticed their proximity as well, and stated that he felt they were listening in.

4. After these statements and observations regarding the escorts appearing to be listening, I left the visiting panel, went around the outside and asked to speak to a MA2, who was the command duty officer. I explained that CTM1 McDuffie has a right to confidential communications with his attorney and that they should not be standing so close and listening in. I requested that she have the escorts move away from the door so that they could not hear the conversation and so that the conversation can be confidential. She stated that it was her job, to stand that closely, within that proximity, and that she would not move further away.

5. The MA2 stated that the MAs were instructed that they must always have visual contact with CTM1 McDuffie at all times. I responded that visual contact did not require her to overhear the conversation. The MA2 responded that overhearing the conversation was her job, to which I responded that it was not her job to overhear attorney-client conversations because they are confidential. I understood this MA2 to be communicating that she had been specifically instructed, as it pertained to CTM1 McDuffie especially, to watch him in the room with his attorney and listen into their conversation.

6. Seeing that this conversation was going nowhere, I left the conversation. The MA2 did not move away from the door, and we terminated the client meeting shortly thereafter, given the situation.

7. At various points throughout our meeting with CTM1 McDuffie we could hear the MAs conversation outside the door, whether she was talking on the radio or to another MA, or someone in the hallway. Based on the MA2's positioning and how easily we could hear her speak, I am confident that they could hear Mr. Canoy and CTM1 McDuffie's communications.
8. Upon exiting the Brig, the MA2 stated that the OIC wanted to come and speak to Mr. Canoy. The Brig OIC (CDR Flanagan) entered the Quarterdeck accompanied by two other brig personnel and the OIC was immediately extremely aggressive. The interaction between Mr. Canoy and the Brig OIC took place in the open with multiple bystanders, including myself and Mrs. Nguyen. The Brig OIC began the conversation by saying words to the effect: "you lawyers are all the same. You need to stop telling my staff that McDuffie is approved for contact visits." Mr. Canoy reminded CDR Flanagan that he had, in fact, approved CTM1 McDuffie for a contact visit which was to take place on the very next business day. Mr. Canoy also reminded CDR Flanagan that since Mr. Canoy's last brig visit, CDR Flanagan had approved 4 contact visits for CTM1 McDuffie, for people other than CTM1 McDuffie's attorney.

9. CDR Flanagan continued to scoff and respond louder and more aggressively. CDR Flanagan told Mr. Canoy that he [CDR Flanagan] was the only person who could decide what contact visits CTM1 McDuffie would be allowed. CDR Flanagan continued with more comments about his frustrations regarding Mr. Canoy and other attorneys inquiring about contact visits with their clients.

10. Within this conversation, without prompting, CDR Flanagan compared CTM1 McDuffie to another inmate in the BRIG, SN Copeland, and stated that he had rescinded "Copeland's" ability to have contact visits because Copeland had received a disciplinary infraction. Mr. Canoy asked CDR Flanagan what that had to do with CTM1 McDuffie, and if CTM1 McDuffie had ever had a disciplinary infraction. CDR Flanagan responded that CTM1 McDuffie had never had a disciplinary infraction, but told Mr. Canoy that "McDuffie murdered and dismembered someone, so he's not getting contact visits" or words to that effect.

11. Mr. Canoy then told CDR Flanagan that if that was the standard he was using to make his determination then he would have no choice but to file a motion with the Court. CDR Flanagan responded with, "go ahead, I've testified before, I don't care" or words to that effect.

12. The interaction concluded unresolved and unpleasant.

I, CSSN Copeland, USN, provide the following statement to the Court so that my position regarding the ability to have confidential communications with my attorneys while in NAVCONBRIG Chesapeake is correctly and adequately presented:

1. I have been held in "maximum custody" status for the entire time I have been in pre-trial confinement.

2. While in "maximum custody" status I do not have any regular communication with individuals who are not brig guards or staff.

3. After requesting it for months, I was given permission by the brig OIC to have contact visits with my attorneys. I was only able to meet with them in a contact room a few times throughout my incarceration. I recently lost the "privilege" to have these meetings because I was written up (a disciplinary report) for being disrespectful. I have never been violent or had any outbursts against brig staff or other prisoners.

4. When I meet with my attorneys it is in the "no contact" booth. This booth makes it difficult for me to review evidence, especially digital evidence, or to work on my case.

5. I do not believe my communications are confidential when I have to meet with my attorneys in the "no contact" room.

6. I know that the brig staff attempt to overhear what is being said when I meet privately with my attorneys because on one occasion in particular the guard made comments about the topics I had just discussed with my attorneys in the "pre-trial confinement room," building A-50 (Naval Station Norfolk).

7. My attorneys recognized the problems with having confidential communications in the "no contact" room and are addressing the issue. However, the only time I feel like I can be completely open and forthcoming with them is when I am transported out of the brig into the actual courtroom for proceedings in my case.

8. I also believe that if I needed to conduct a demonstration or physically show my attorneys something- that communication would in no way be confidential because the brig guards are always standing there watching what I do and listening to what is being said.

9. I am aware of cameras and microphones located throughout the brig and understand that my communications are constantly under scrutiny and surveillance. I do not believe, in the absence of being physically face to face with my attorneys, that I can have truly confidential and privileged communications.

10. I am also aware that my cell is not a safe place to hold my legal materials. On one occasion, early in my case, the guards confiscated legal materials my attorneys had provided me to begin preparing my defense.

Signed today, 30 April 2026.

MOTION

Pursuant to Rule for Court-Martial ("R.C.M.") 906 and Military Rule of Evidence ("Mil. R. Evid.") 404(b), the Defense moves this Court to exclude evidence of prior crimes, wrongs, or other acts of the accused that the government has indicated it intends to introduce at trial.

BURDEN

As the proponent of the evidence, the Government bears the burden of proof to establish any factual matters regarding the admissibility of any evidence offered pursuant to Mil. R. Evid. 404(b) by a preponderance of the evidence. R.C.M. 905(c)(1), (2).

FACTS

1. CSSN Copeland is charged with violating Articles 118 (Premeditated Murder), 120 (Sexual Assault and Aggravated Sexual Contact), 128 (Aggravated Assault), 120c (Indecent Recording and Broadcasting), 131b (Obstruction of Justice), 128b (Domestic Violence), and 107 (False Official Statement).[1]

2. Trial is scheduled for June 2026.[2]

3. On 5 November 2025, the Government provided notice of its intent to offer evidence pursuant to M.R.E. 404(b) and M.R.E. 413.[3]

4. The charged offenses occurred entirely between July 2024 and June 2025.[4]

5. On 15 Oct 25 the Defense requested a Bill of Particulars with regards to Charge VII, Premeditated Murder. Specifically, the Defense sought clarification as to what the Government intended to prove was the "act" by which CSSN Copeland was alleged to have killed CS3 A.R. [5]

6. The Government responded to the Defense request on 5 November 2025. In their response the Government asserts that they need not prove a specific act, only than "an act" of the accused caused the death. The response goes on to say that they will be presenting evidence that CS3 A.R.'s death was "consistent with strangulation by the Accused." [6]

7. Dr. Lameira conducted an initial autopsy in this case and rule the manner of death as "undetermined." Dr. Rodic who performed a second, private autopsy and he concluded that the manner of death was "deferred," meaning he would need more information to make a determination as to cause of death. Importantly, in a voice note provided in discovery Dr. Rodic states that he believes strangulation is conclusively ruled out as a possible cause of death.[7]

8. There is no direct evidence of strangulation presented in either set of autopsy findings.[8]

9. The provided notice delineates evidence of a pre-service allegation made against CSSN Copeland by a civilian, high school classmate, L.L. The allegation arose when both CSSN Copeland and L.L. were not yet 18 years old.[9]

LAW

1. Relevant Evidence and Res Gestae

Evidence is relevant if it has any tendency to make a fact of consequence in determining the action more or less probable than it would be without the evidence. Relevant evidence is generally admissible absent some other rule to the contrary.[10] Relevant evidence may be excluded where its probative value is substantially outweighed by the danger of, among other things, causing unfair prejudice, confusing the issues, or misleading the members.[11]

Res gestae evidence is evidence of "the events at issue, or other events contemporaneous with them."[12]11 Such evidence is intrinsic to the alleged offense or offenses because it is "inexorably intertwined with the alleged offense itself . . . [and] becomes part of the res gestae of the offense."[13]Res gestae evidence allows the parties to present the full picture to the finder of fact to avoid confusion and gaps in the narrative.[14]

2. The Rules of Evidence and military case law protect against convictions based on evidence of an accused's poor character.

Evidence of a "crime, wrong, or other act" cannot be used to prove "a person's character in order to show that on a particular occasion the person acted in accordance with the character."[15] Exceptions to the prohibition are limited to purposes, such as "proving motive, opportunity, intent, preparation, plan, knowledge, identity, absence of mistake, or lack of knowledge or accident."[16] To fall within one of these exceptions, the Government must satisfy a three-part inquiry: 1) Does the evidence reasonably support a finding by the court members that appellant committed prior crimes, wrongs or acts? 2) What "fact… of consequence" is made "more" or "less probable" by the existence of this evidence? 3) Is the "probative value… substantially outweighed by the danger of unfair prejudice?"[17] If the evidence fails to meet any of the three prongs, it is inadmissible. [18]

3. The notice requirement in Mil. R. Evid. 404(b) and the first two Reynolds prongs guide a trial court's factual inquiry into logical relevance, preventing any needless trial-within-the-trial.

The first and second prongs of this test address the "logical relevance" of the evidence.[19] They require the Government to prove that the accused committed prior crimes, wrongs, or acts by a preponderance of the evidence.[20] Second, the evidence needs to be probative of a material issue other than the character of the accused.[21] It is insufficient for the Government to rely on "broad talismanic incantations of words such as intent, plan, or modus operandi."[22]

To introduce evidence of a "motive," for instance, the Government must show that the act evidenced "an emotional need in that person which could have incited or stimulated that person to do that act in satisfaction of that emotion."[23] The prior acts of conduct must be the type which reasonably could be viewed as "the expression and effect of the existing internal emotion."[24] Moreover, this same motive must be shown to have existed in appellant at the time of the subsequently charged acts. Id.

To use a prior act to show "intent," the Government must demonstrate that the accused's state of mind while committing both the charged and uncharged acts were the same.[25] If the uncharged act does not demonstrate a sufficiently similar state of mind, then it is not admissible.[26] The use of uncharged acts to prove "intent" under Mil. R. Evid. 404(b) is especially fraught.[27] If the "intent" exception under 404(b) allowed the admission of similar acts simply to prove the intent element of the charged offense, the exception would swallow the rule.[28]

To demonstrate a "common plan or scheme" the charged and uncharged acts must be similar but are not required to be identical.[29] In order for the acts to be "substantially similar" they must include "common factors."[30]

In United States v. Diaz, the accused faced charges of aggravated assault of one of his infant daughters and the murder of his other daughter.[31] The trial judge admitted evidence that both girls had previously suffered injuries such as bruises and broken bones to show a "pattern of abuse" by the accused.[32] The Court of Appeals for the Armed Forces reversed the trial judge's decision and overturned the accused's conviction in part because the Government failed to prove both that the accused had committed the uncharged acts and also that the uncharged acts related to a permissible "other purpose." [33]The court found it was error to admit uncharged acts, even under a "doctrine of chances" theory, stating "the prosecution cannot merely lump together a series of incidents and assert that together they establish Appellant committed each act of abuse."[34]

When the evidence raises the defense of mistake, the government must disprove the defense beyond a reasonable doubt.[35] However, if no defense of mistake is raised, then the Government cannot put on evidence to rebut it.[36]

3. The third Reynolds prong ensures that uncharged acts do not overwhelm the issues properly before the fact-finder.

Even if the Government can demonstrate logical relevance, it must still show legal relevance under the third prong of Reynolds.[37] Evidence cannot be admissible when it poses an unfair risk that the fact finder could convict the accused on an improper basis.[38] This Mil. R. Evid. 403 balancing test requires the Court to weigh: "the strength of proof of the prior act(s); the probative weight; the potential for using less prejudicial evidence; the distracting effect of the prior evidence; the time required to prove the act(s); temporal proximity of the charged offense to the

ARGUMENT

The Government's notice in this case is convoluted and challenging to analyze. To clarify the notice, it can be divided into two parts. The first section is the Government's desire to utilize facts and circumstances, as well as the allegations themselves, of charged offenses for the purported purposes of proving intent, motive, knowledge, consciousness of guilt, lack of mistake and identity of other charged offenses. This noticed evidence is not uncharged misconduct as is more typical of M.R.E. 404(b) evidence, it is the charged misconduct and the circumstances surrounding the investigations into those allegations.

The second section, the only one dealing with uncharged "other acts" evidence relates predominantly to M.R.E. 413 evidence being offered against CSSN Copeland. This evidence arises from a pre-service (high school) interaction between CSSN Copeland and a classmate, L.L. This evidence will be briefly analyzed below as there is a small portion of this "other act" evidence that falls under M.R.E. 404(b) for analysis. However, please refer to the Defense Motion to Exclude Evidence Pursuant to M.R.E. 413 for a more comprehensive analysis of why this information should be excluded from this trial.

Evidence of charged acts can be used to support other charged offenses; however, this Court must guard against propensity evidence being masqueraded as something else. Here, the Government has not identified, clearly, how the evidence will be used in each instance nor how they intend for this Court to be able to adequately instruct members so as to allow a full and fair trial.

While the Government has produced pages of convoluted connections between the evidence related to charged acts, there is no proper purpose articulated to support their contentions. Evidence of an alleged sexual assault to support a "motive" for murder? "Half-truths" told by the accused to investigators related to totally different offenses in order to support a common scheme or plan for murder? The accused's ideations of self-harm when faced with an allegation of sexual assault, to support his alleged intent to murder someone to avoid another allegation? These connections are tenuous at best, and the Government provides no indication of how these connections are anything BUT propensity evidence.

Most glaringly, the Government purports that they need not prove a specific act to prove murder. Yet at then they ask the Court to allow them to use allegations that CSSN Copeland may have put his hand on someone else's neck, to support their theory that CS3 A.R. was strangled to death. In conducting a review of M.R.E. 413, a close counterpart to M.R.E. 404(b), C.A.A.F. has noted it would be "antithetical to the presumption of innocence to suggest that conduct for which an accused is presumed innocent may be used to show a propensity to have committed other conduct of which he is presumed innocent."[40] When conducting an M.R.E. 404(b) analysis, a military judge must always be on guard against the wolf of propensity that comes dressed in the sheep's clothing of motive.[41]

The wolf of propensity is not skulking into this case; the Government wants the Court to unleash it. The Government wants to argue, with a lack of supporting evidence and direct evidence to the contrary, that CSSN Copeland strangled CS3 A.R. to death because he is alleged - on the same charge sheet - to have put his hands on the neck of other individuals. The Government's theory of the case relies solely on propensity to even attempt to put CSSN Copeland's hands on CS3 A.R.'s neck. These noticed acts are not M.R.E. 404(b) evidence, they do not meet an exception, and they could only be used for propensity purposes.

This Court should preclude the Government from utilizing the noticed acts in the manner requested and should also preclude the Government from presenting this theory regarding the manner of CS3 A.R.'s death when it is unsupported by evidence and is refuted by direct evidence to the contrary. The Government has not, because they cannot, articulated how the Court could possibly instruct members on this usage without causing substantial prejudice to the accused by infringement upon the presumption of innocence the accused is afforded.

This problem persists throughout the Government's M.R.E.404(b) notice. Evidence introduced for a proper purpose under M.R.E. 404(b) will then beget a specific instruction by the court which highlights the evidence once again following completion of trial on the merits. The Government's entire notice rests solely on using charged misconduct, and the circumstances surrounding the investigation into each charged act, to support the proposition that they are all somehow connected for a proper purpose under M.R.E. 404(b). This is simply not the case and requires tremendous inferential leaps to connect the dots the Government seeks to connect. Once evidence is introduced the counsel will be free to argue appropriate inferences from that information. What they cannot do is request a judicial foot-stomp, by way of M.R.E. 404(b) instruction, on the evidence when there is simply not a proper purpose outside of propensity which would allow the evidence to be tied together in a logical and relevant way.

Relevant evidence that the Government seeks to introduce will always be subject to an M.R.E. 403 balancing test and the Defense will be free to make appropriate objections. This Government notice lists what may be relevant evidence, but it does not express a clearly articulated theory of what other purpose under M.R.E. 404(b) that would be. Similarly, the Government also makes no effort to describe a manner in which members could be instructed that would not result in the use of the evidence as propensity of the accused towards criminal conduct. I once again point to the Government's main contention and the central theory of their case- CSSN Copeland is alleged to have put his hands on other people's necks therefore he strangled CS3 A.R. to death, even though the only available evidence is contrary to this contention. That is but a single instance of the "wolf of propensity" articulated within the Government's notice.

The Defense requests that the Court find the entirety of the noticed evidence to be charged misconduct with no legitimate M.R.E. 404(b) purpose which will therefore not beget an instruction from the Court. The Government's purported connections are merely propensity evidence cloaked in a different wool.

The Government seeks to admit three prior uncharged acts stemming from the allegations made against CSSN Copeland when he was in high school. These acts serve no purpose other than propensity and this Court should find the acts inadmissible.

1) CSSN Copeland made "misleading statements" during the investigation into the L.L. allegation and a second allegation that he had recorded a sexual interaction between himself and another student in high school.

The Government argues that these pre-service investigations and allegedly misleading statements made by CSSN Copeland during them, is admissible to prove consciousness of guilt, common scheme, and intent relative to the charged offenses of sexual assault and premeditated murder. This noticed evidence fails Reynolds and should be deemed inadmissible.

The noticed acts of "misleading statements" from allegations, which are now several years old, fails all three prongs of Reynolds. First, the Court cannot find by a preponderance of the evidence that the accused committed the acts. The allegation from L.L. received no further attention after the report for a lack of corroborating witnesses and a lack of any physical evidence.[42] The Government avers that during the investigation into L.L.'s allegation, CSSN Copeland provided a "half-truth" by acknowledging where he was and who he was with but not confirming that he did anything wrong. To be clear, CSSN Copeland told his side of the story to investigators at the time, now the Government in this case wants to call it a "half-truth" and say that it should be admissible in THIS trial as evidence of a common scheme, consciousness of guilt, and importantly as intent to commit premeditated murder. At the time of the allegation no action was taken because what happened couldn't be ascertained, surely this Court is not positioned to make a different finding on the same set of facts that haven't changed in the intervening three years.

Similarly, the Government seeks to introduce a "half-truth" act by which CSSN Copeland is alleged to have told investigators his mother took his phone away from him so he could not provide it for the investigation, he subsequently told investigators he misplaced the phone. This noticed act has slightly more corroboration than the first, however, these statements could very well have been the whole truth. There is simply no evidence to suggest that either was an outright lie. The Court cannot find by a preponderance of the evidence that this act occurred.

Both of the alleged "half-truth" acts from these years-old investigations fail the first prong of Reynolds.

Both noticed acts also fail the second prong of Reynolds, they do not have any logical connection or relevance to this case. There is simply no fact of consequence made more or less probable by the introduction of this evidence. The Government seeks to articulate permissible reasons or logical connections, but it is unclear why or how these acts represent consciousness of guilt for an alleged offense that has not yet happened, or how they demonstrate a common scheme of lying to investigators despite wildly different sets of circumstances, or even more incredibly, as a demonstration of his alleged intent to kill CS3 A.R. more than three years later. This evidence could only be used for propensity. The Government thinks CSSN Copeland lies to investigators, so they want to argue that because he lied then, he lies now. That is not logical relevance, motive, intent, consciousness of guilt, or anything else- it is propensity evidence suggesting CSSN Copeland is a liar so he must have acted in accordance with that character trait. The Court cannot allow this.

Turning to the third prong of Reynolds, the uncharged acts again fail. There is simply no proof that these alleged acts occurred, especially in the way the Government wishes to characterize them. The probative weight of the evidence is zero- no fact of consequence is made more or less probable by the noticed acts. The noticed acts did not occur in close temporal proximity to the alleged offenses, they are several years older with untold numbers of intervening circumstances occurring in the interim. The frequency of the prior acts is negligible, they were acts that allegedly occurred when CSSN Copeland was a minor and still in high school. It will take unnecessary time and resources to produce witness and "prove up" the uncharged against- creating a trial within the trial on matters of no relevance. These noticed acts fail the third prong and should be deemed inadmissible.

During their high school years L.L. alleged, among other things, that CSSN Copeland kissed her without her consent.[43] They had previously been involved in a romantic relationship. The allegation was investigated and did not turn up any corroborating witnesses, despite others being present in the home, or physical evidence. In fact, L.L. noted that she intentionally kissed CSSN Copeland "to get him to leave."[44] The Government offers this act within its M.R.E. 413 notice, however, kissing does not meet the definition of sexual conduct necessary under M.R.E. 413, thus we treat it as M.R.E. 404(b) evidence and analyze that act here. Presumably the Government would be offering this specific act to support the idea that he "doesn't take no" for an answer which somehow would inform a permissible use under M.R.E. 404(b). It does not.

This noticed act fails all three prongs or Reynolds. The court cannot find by a preponderance of the evidence that any kissing was nonconsensual. The incident was investigated and no further action was taken to charge or adjudicate CSSN Copeland of an offense. No one saw the alleged act. There is simply no way to find by a preponderance of the evidence that this act occurred.

The noticed act fails the second prong because it does not have any logical relevance to this case, taking place years later. The Government has not articulated permissible purpose pursuant to M.R.E. 404(b), because they cannot. This alleged act could only be used by the Government to claim that CSSN Copeland "doesn't take no for an answer."[45] That constitutes impermissible propensity evidence.

[43]Refer to Defense MTE 413 for a full analysis of the alleged M.R.E. 413 evidence noticed by the Government.
[44] Encl B of Def MTE M.R.E. (413): Oak Harbor Police Report at 3.
[45] Encl A of Def MTE M.R.E. (413): Notice under M.R.E. 404(b) and 413 of 5 Nov 25 at 14.

The third prong also fails for this noticed act. There is no strength of proof suggesting the act even occurred. There is no probative weight to this fact, but would result in substantially prejudicial impact on the accused in his current trial. The alleged act did not occur in close temporal proximity to the alleged offenses. The noticed act is alleged to have occurred a single time, several years ago, this weighs in favor of inadmissibility. Introduction of this fact would cause an unnecessary trial within a trial, wasting time and confusing or misleading the members. All of these factors weigh in favor of the exclusion of this noticed act.

L.L. states that when CSSN Copeland allegedly groped her in high school, he had an "evil grin" on his face. The Government seeks to admit this "evil grin" under a theory that this uncharged act establishes "motive, intent and identity" for him to have committed Charge V (Domestic Violence) against CSSN S.R. in April of 2025. This constitutes impermissible character evidence under M.R.E. 404(b).

To begin, the Court simply has no evidence to support, by a preponderance of the evidence, that this act ever occurred. For reasons discussed above, this alleged incident is unsupported by facts, witnesses, or evidence. The appearance of CSSN Copeland on a single day 3 years or more before the alleged offense cannot be found to have occurred.

Secondly, there is no logical relevance of the noticed act to any of the alleged offenses in this case. CSSN S.R. alleges that CSSN Copeland "smiled" and "it was like he was someone else" when he allegedly strangled her.[46] She does not mention an "evil grin" nor is there any evidence suggesting identity is a relevant in any way to the charged offense. CSSN Copeland's demeanor on a single day several years before the alleged offenses simply does not make a fact of consequence any more or less likely. The remaining purposes articulated by the Government, motive and intent for the current offense, cannot be advanced in any meaningful way by the demeanor of the accused during an alleged incident occurring years prior when he was a high school student. This evidence could only be used to argue propensity- he looked evil to a classmate then and he "looked like someone else" to the complaining witness now, therefore he must have been acting in accordance with his character for the more recent allegation. This inferential leap is what the Government has based their case upon, and it is impermissible evidence.

Finally, the third prong of Reynolds also presents an insurmountable hurdle for the Government regarding this noticed act. There is no strength of proof that this "evil grin" ever occurred, and even if it had, there would zero probative weight making a fact more or less probable in this case. The alleged "evil grin" would have happened years ago, with multitudes of intervening circumstances between the two events. The "evil grin" only appears to have occurred one time previously, and proving it up at trial would require calling witnesses to describe the accused's demeanor during an alleged event that has no bearing on the instant case, which would only serve to waste time and confuse the issues. Finally, the probative weight of this evidence, weighed against the danger of unfair prejudice, makes it abundantly clear that the accused would be prejudiced by the inclusion of the evidence in a way that simply could not be rectified by any instruction from the Court. The evidence fails the third prong of Reynolds.

RELIEF REQUESTED

The Defense requests this Court prohibit the Government from offering both the charged and uncharged acts under Mil. R. Evid 404(b) as they have failed to articulate any permissible purpose and have not provided any instruction that could remedy the inescapable use of the evidence merely for propensity purposes.

INVESTIGATIVE ACTION 07JUL25

CONTROL: 07JUL25-NFNF-00304-7VNA

S/COPELAND, JERMIAH TAYLOR/SN USN
M/B/NEE3/S[redacted]

RESULTS OF INTERVIEW OF CSSN S[redacted] R[redacted], USN

1. On 07JUL25, Reporting Agent (RA) and Participating Agent (PA) Jessica GOKEY conducted an interview of CSSN S[redacted] R[redacted] (V/R[redacted]), USN, Naval Station Norfolk (NAVSTA NORFOLK), VA, at NCISRA Norfolk, VA, regarding her prior relationship with CSSN Jermiah COPELAND (S/COPELAND), USN, USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS (DDG-95).

2. As background, V/RICHARDSON was identified as a prior girlfriend of S/COPELAND who may possess information relevant to the investigation.

3. The interview of V/[redacted] was recorded using an audio/video recording system, and a digital copy was downloaded onto a Digital Video Disc-Recordable (DVD-R). This document is a summary of the interview and not a verbatim transcription. For full details of the interview, refer to the working copy of the original DVD-R; Enclosure (A) pertains.

4. V/[redacted] stated she and S/COPELAND began dating circa MAR25, and the relationship lasted for approximately one (1) month. V/[redacted] stated she met S/COPELAND while assigned to DDG-95, and worked together. According to V/[redacted], the relationship began as a friendship and developed into a romantic relationship. V/[redacted] described S/COPELAND initially as "a cool person." V/[redacted] stated most of their interactions occurred while under the influence of alcohol, as S/COPELAND regularly encouraged drinking. V/[redacted] reported the relationship ended due to S/COPELAND becoming violent and dishonest about his involvement with his ex-girlfriend, identified as "Dess" (NFI).

5. V/[redacted] stated on 11APR25, while in S/COPELAND's barracks room, located at Willis Manor building X-2, Room 335, Naval Station Norfolk, VA, she accessed S/COPELAND's phone and discovered messages which indicated S/COPELAND was still in a relationship with his ex-girlfriend. Upon confronting S/COPELAND, V/[redacted] stated he became "visibly upset". According to V/[redacted], S/COPELAND pushed her onto the couch and placed both hands around her neck for approximately four to five (4-5) seconds. V/[redacted] stated while she was being strangled, S/COPELAND smiled and appeared "extremely angry", stated, "it was like he was someone else." V/[redacted] reported after S/COPELAND released her, she broke his PlayStation 5 out of anger and exited the room. V/[redacted] stated she attempted to retrieve her belongings but was denied reentry by S/COPELAND. According to V/[redacted], her personal items were never recovered.

6. V/[redacted] stated S/COPELAND's roommate (NFI) falsely reported to the responding law enforcement personnel she attempted to stab S/COPELAND and was the aggressor, despite being the victim. V/[redacted] stated when she explained the incident to law enforcement, she was discouraged from reporting the strangulation, as they stated it would "just make the situation worse" (NFI). Following the interview, V/[redacted] requested an investigation be initiated for the details she provided to NCIS.

MOTION

Pursuant to R.C.M. 906(b)(7) and R.C.M. 703(d), the Defense moves the Court to compel the production of forensic pathologist, Dr. Priya Banerjee, as an expert consultant for the Defense for both pre-trial preparations and trial participation.

SUMMARY

CSSN Jermiah Copeland is charged with the alleged premeditated murder of CS3 A.R., among other alleged violations of the UCMJ. The Defense submitted the appropriate requests for expert funding in accordance with the Trial Management Order. In response to the Defense request, the Government acknowledged that employment of a Defense expert in this field was necessary to ensure a fair trial. The Government denied the request, however, citing the fee schedule for the expert- indicating the expert was too expensive. An adequate substitute was not identified or offered, and a subsequently provided list of alternate pathology experts does not meet the requirements of R.C.M. 703.

FACTS

1. On 9 June 2025, the remains of CS3 A.R. were found in a secluded area of Norfolk. An autopsy was performed on 10 June 2025 by Dr. Fernanda Lameira of the Office of the Chief Medical Examiner.[1]

2. Also on 9 June 2025, CSSN Jermiah Copeland entered pretrial confinement upon being suspected of numerous violations of the UCMJ, including sexual assault and the premeditated murder of CSSN A.R.[2]

[2] Encl A of Def MFAR (Change of Venue) Motion: Confinement Order of 9Jun25.

3. The autopsy performed by Dr. Lameira resulted in an "undetermined" cause of death.[3] Despite subsequent investigation, the manner of death remains "undetermined" as of this filing.

4. Dr. Lameira has been identified as a Government witness for trial. She will likely testify - relying on her training, experience, and specialized education - to her medical findings and the conduct of the autopsy.[4]

5. A second private autopsy was performed by Dr. Nemanja Rodic on 28 June 2025. This autopsy concludes the manner of death is "deferred."[5] Importantly, Dr. Rodic did not see any evidence of foul play, nor did he note any signs commonly associated with strangulation, he "considered it formally ruled [ ] out."[6]

6. In a subsequent Government interview with Dr. Rodic, they explore several options for possible or probable causes of death.[7]

7. Dr. Rodic was requested as a defense witness for trial, and his production has been denied.[8]

8. On 24 October 2025, in accordance with the TMO, the Defense requested the assistance of Dr. Priya Banerjee as an expert consultant prior to, and for trial.[9] Within this request the Defense articulates all relevant and required information necessary to secure funding for this expert.

9. Prior to making the request, Dr. Banerjee was generally briefed on the case to determine if she could be of assistance in the matter and whether her schedule would allow her participation. She noted that she is already in the federal payment system and has worked with the military before.[10]

10. On 5 November 2025, the Government responded to the Defense request, acknowledging that the assistance of a forensic pathologist was necessary for the Defense.[11]

11. However, the Government's response states that the named expert's fees "far exceed" a reasonable hourly rate, and the "government will assist Defense in finding and adequate substitute for this expert."[12]

12. On 14 November 2025, counsel for CSSN Copeland reached out to the Government to determine, among other things, if the Government had identified an adequate substitute for Dr. Banerjee.[13]

13. In response to the request the Government sent a list a forensic pathologists and some limited contact information.[14] Stating "[h]ere is a list of pathologists that may be within the government rate for you to contact."[15] First, the Defense is unaware of a "government rate" for a pathologist. Second, it is unclear if the Government spoke with any of these individuals, if they have evaluated the credentials of any of these individuals, if the fees associated with the provided list are fundamentally different from Dr. Banerjee's fees, if any of these individuals are available for trial, or if any of the individuals are currently within the federal payment system (which dramatically speeds up the timeline for meaningful participation with the Defense team).

BURDEN

14. As the moving party, the defense bears the burden of proof by a preponderance of the evidence.[16]

LAW

15. The right to be represented by counsel who is reasonably effective in investigating, preparing and presenting a defense is a fundamental pillar of American jurisprudence. The Supreme Court has recognized that the Sixth Amendment right to counsel mandates the provision of adequate resources, to include experts, in order to present an effective defense. As a matter of military due process, service members are entitled to expert assistance when necessary for an adequate defense, without regard to indigency.[17] The right to supplement the defense team with expert assistance and witnesses is based on Article 46, UCMJ, Military Rule of Evidence 706, and R.C.M. 703(d). Because the military accused does not have available to him the relatively unlimited assets of the military justice machine, courts have placed the resources of the Federal Government at his or her disposal in order to pay for expert assistance and guarantee an effective defense team.

16. The right to expert assistance attaches when the defense demonstrates that such assistance is necessary.[18] "An accused is entitled to expert assistance provided by the Government if he can demonstrate necessity."[19] The "mere possibility of assistance from a requested expert" is not sufficient to prevail on the request for expert assistance.[20] Instead, "[t]he accused has the burden of establishing that a reasonable probability exists that (1) an expert would be of assistance to the defense and (2) that denial of expert assistance would result in a fundamentally unfair trial."[21] To satisfy the first prong of this test, the Defense must show, "(1) why the expert is necessary; (2) what the expert would accomplish for the accused; and (3) why defense counsel is unable to gather and present the evidence that the expert would be able to develop."[22]

17. In United States v. Warner, the Court of Criminal Appeals for the Armed Forces (CAAF) commented that "Article 46 is a clear statement of congressional intent against government exploitation of its opportunity to obtain an expert vastly superior to the defense's."[23] The playing field at trial is rendered even more uneven when the government benefits from scientific evidence and expert testimony while the defense is wholly denied a necessary expert to prepare for and respond to the government's expert.[24]

18. An accused may request any particular expert, including a government expert. If [the accused] is entitled to an expert, the government must provide the named expert or a suitable substitute.[25]

ARGUMENT

Dr. Banerjee's participation is necessary for an adequate defense.

The Defense has articulated why Dr. Banerjee is necessary within Enclosure E. All the necessary requirements are met and the Government concedes in Enclosure E that participation of a forensic pathologist for the Defense is necessary for a fair trial. The Court need not make any determination as to the necessity of a pathologist, Dr. Banerjee's participation to test the Government's evidence, which in this case will consist of technical medical and scientific evidence, is absolutely and abundantly clear.

The Accused is not entitled to an expert of his choosing, but if the Government wants the Defense to use an "adequate substitute," the Government must provide that substitute.

The Defense requested the assistance of Dr. Banerjee, an expert witness who has previously worked on numerous military cases and is currently enrolled in the federal payment system. The Government now scoffs at the fees Dr. Banerjee charges for her service, but at the same time recognizes that the participation of a forensic pathologist is necessary in this case. Importantly, the requested funding for this expert appears larger than the Government is accustomed to seeing because this trial is currently scheduled for three weeks, far above what is normally docketed for military justice cases. The Defense expert request has effectively been denied and the Government has not provided a suitable substitute as they are required to do when a by-name request has been denied.

The Government will be presenting technical and scientific evidence to demonstrate to the members that CSSN Copeland probably or possibly caused the death of CSSN A.R. To do this they will necessarily need to pose hypotheticals to their expert and ask if "this or that" is probable or possible. That is what CSSN Copeland is being asked to defend against. Speculation as to what he might have, he could have, or he mistakenly did to cause CSSN A.R.'s death. While that lack of notice is covered in other filings, it is directly relevant here because Dr. Banerjee has been briefed on the case and she is prepared to assist in the defense of CSSN Copeland. She is available, generally acquainted with the case and the evidence, qualified, and prepared to participate immediately.

The Government wishes to avail itself of the "adequate substitute" provision of the rules, which they are entitled to do. However, they cannot use this provision to simply leverage the Defense into working with a different expert identified on a government provided list. The law is clear, the Government must provide the adequate substitute. It is incumbent upon defense counsel to ensure the provided substitute is truly "adequate," but it is upon the Government to identify the replacement who is comparatively qualified, available, and prepared to assist the Defense.

In this instance, the Government has done none of the necessary legwork to provide a substitute to the Defense. The provided list contains some names, some website URLs, some email addresses, and nothing else. Are these experts available for the trial and motions dates? Are they comparatively qualified? Are they within the federal payment system and ready to participate? Are their fee schedules truly different from Dr. Banerjee's? These are all questions to be answered by the Government if they want to provide the defense an "adequate substitute" for Dr. Banerjee. They have failed to provide any substitute, let alone an adequate one. The Defense is attempting to prepare for trial and needs the assistance of Dr. Banerjee, a forensic pathologist, to begin mounting a meaningful defense to the alleged misconduct.

RELIEF REQUESTED

19. The Defense moves this Court to order the Government to produce Dr. Priyah Banerjee as an expert consultant for the Defense for both pretrial matters and consultation and at trial.

20. If this motion is opposed by the government, and pursuant to R.C.M. 905(h), the defense requests an Article 39(a), UCMJ, hearing to present additional evidence and argument on this motion.

On 29 July 2025, CAPT Derek Butler, JAGC, USN, CDR Lauren Mayo, JAGC, USN, and LT Christopher Dempsey, JAGC, USN, interviewed Dr. Lameira, in the presence of LN1 Kathleen Vanetti, USN, Mr. Rob Robinson, Norfolk ME, and Dr. Wendy Gunther, Assistant Chief Medical Examiner. The following is a summary of the interaction and is not intended to be verbatim:

Dr. Lameira reported that due to the level of decomposition of, and post-mortem insect activity on, the body of V/A.R., no definitive cause of death could be discerned. Dr. Lameira was able to rule out stomping, stabbing, shooting, and a drug overdose as possible causes of death. She specified that the toxicology test only tested for specific drugs, but the lab was likely able to have additional testing done for specific prescriptions being taken by V/A.R upon request. Additionally, the toxicology report showed a BAC of .083 at the time of death.

Dr. Lameira noted that there was not enough remaining soft tissue on the body to indicate or rule out asphyxia as a cause of death. The only noted broken bones were ribs #2-5, which would not be consistent with attempts at CPR. There was not enough tissue left in the neck area to indicate whether there was any blood pooling in that area. The fallopian tubes and uterus were unremarkable with no indications of a pregnancy. There were no indications of any chronic conditions that would lead to a natural death and Dr. Lameira opined it would be unlikely for someone V/A.R.'s age to suffer a natural death.

It was explained that the alcohol ethenyl level, generally considered the BAC, could have been elevated by insect activity that creates yeast. No results had come back on the buccal and anal swabs that were conducted during the autopsy, and vaginal swabs were not conducted due to the lack of soft tissue resulting from decomposition and insect activity. Dr. Lameira explained that insect activity and decomposition generally begin in body openings (eyes, ears, mouth, nose, etc.) and areas where skin is pressed together (buttocks, below breasts, arms crossed, etc.). She opined that the folded position of the body in the duffel bag created the skin-to-skin pressure points on the chest that became areas of accelerated decomposition, in comparison to the other areas of the torso.

When asked, Dr. Lameira stated that there was not enough soft tissue on the body to determine whether there were any injuries to the body that would have been bleeding before death. Dr. Lameira explained that up to a liter of "purge" can be expelled post-mortem through the nose and mouth and appears red in color. "Purge" was explained as the fluid in the lungs and surrounding tissue that leaks out of the nose and mouth post-mortem, and can become further dislodged from the body if the body is moved.

When asked, Dr. Lameira stated that rigor mortis sets in within about 12 hours after death and opined that the body was likely placed into the duffel bag prior to the onset of rigor mortis. Dr. Lameira concured with Dr. Gunter that it was not unusual for people to mistake dead bodies for living people.

On 22 October 2025, LT Christopher Dempsey, JAGC, USN interviewed Dr. Nemanja Rodic in the presence of LN2 Jocelyn M Gomez, USN. The following is a summary of the interaction and is not intended to be verbatim:

Dr. Rodic stated that when his office received the body to conduct an autopsy, the remains were contained in a clear bag. Inside of that bag was a pool of colored fluid with a strong odor. It was Dr. Rodic's opinion that this fluid was an alcohol-based preservative or other embalming fluid that contained a dilute of alcohol deformaline. Dr. Rodic was not sure exactly how the military or mortuary service would have packaged or preserved the remains prior to his examination or what chemicals specifically were used.

Dr. Rodic explained that this fluid was undoubtedly what caused the high level of alcohol found in the remains of the deceased. The results were too high to be clinically relevant, indicating that the fluid is what caused the high result.

Dr. Rodic did not see an indication of blunt force trauma or sharp force trauma on the remains, although the autopsy was not extremely thorough. Dr. Rodic also explained that the remains were also decomposed.

When asked if the findings were consistent with asphyxiation, Dr. Rodic explained it was possible or probable. He explained that natural causes were a dubious suggestion given the age and purported fitness of the deceased. He believed it was likely one of three mechanisms of death: (1) asphyxiation; (2) blunt force trauma for which any evidence had decomposed; or (3) termination of life due to ingestion of alcohol. Dr. Rodic clarified that he had no significant evidence to suggest intoxication from alcohol was the cause of death because the numbers he had recorded were incorrectly inflated by the fluid in the bag. As such, without additional evidence he could not say if that was a probable cause of death.

Ref: (a) R.C.M. 703
(b) 10 USC § 846
(c) R.C.M 1001

1. Per references (a) through (c), the Defense requests that the government produce the following witnesses:

a. Dr. Nemanja Rodic, M.D., Ph.D, CIV, Washington, D.C. (202) 795-7109. Dr. Rodic is a board certified pathologist that performed a second autopsy on CS3 A.R.'s body at her mother, Ms. Esmerelda Castle's, request. Dr. Rodic performed the autopsy on 28 June 2025. In his notes, which were enclosed to his autopsy report, Dr. Rodic ruled out foul play and strangulation as probable causes of CS3 A.R.'s death (BS 1663-64). The Government alleges in its M.R.E. 404(b) notice sent on 5 November 2025 that the "evidence supports that the Accused strangled CS3 A.R." Dr. Rodic's testimony will contradict that theory. As such, his testimony is relevant and necessary during the merits phase of the trial regarding the allegations involving CS3 A.R.

b. LSSN Omeri Smoot, USN, Norfolk, VA, USS DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER (CVN-69). LSSN Smoot was present during the alleged sexual assault of Y.J. Prior to CSSN Copeland allegedly having sex with Y.J. without her consent, LSSN Smoot had just had a threesome with Y.J. and CSSN John Bradford inside CSSN Copeland's room. Based on Y.J.'s statement, LSSN Smoot witnessed the sexual assault happened. As such, his testimony is relevant and necessary during the merits phase of the trial regarding the allegations involving Y.J.

c. Mr. Brendon Doria, CIV, Oak Harbor, WA (360) 720-1701. Mr. Doria invited CSSN Copeland to his house while L.L. was present the day she was allegedly assaulted by CSSN Copeland. Based on the statements L.L. made, Mr. Doria was present to witness many interactions between her and CSSN Copeland. His testimony will provide context to the relationship between L.L. and CSSN Copeland. Additionally, Mr. Doria was able to witness L.L. immediately after the alleged sexual misconduct. The Government provided notice under M.R.E. 413 that it intended to use L.L.'s allegations as propensity evidence to prove Charge I, Specifications 1, 2, and 4. As such, Mr. Doria's testimony testimony is relevant and necessary during the merits phase of the trial regarding the allegations involving ABHAN C.R. and Y.J.

1. In response to reference (d): The following witness requests are granted:

   a. LSSN Omeri Smoot, USN.

   b. Mr. Brendon Johnson (formerly Doria), Civilian.

2. The following witness request is denied:

   a. Dr. Nemanja Rodic. Denied. You have not made the requisite showing under R.C.M. 703. Dr. Rodic did not designate a manner of death because his exam was limited by a variety of factors. Per BS #1790, Dr. Rodic advised that strangulation (asphyxiation) was a possible or probable method of death in this case. This finding is consistent with Dr. Lameira's conclusions (BS #1448). As such, any testimony from Dr. Rodic on that point would be cumulative and unnecessary. Moreover, Dr. Rodic's testimony is even less relevant than Dr. Lameira's as the body was further decomposed at the time of his autopsy. Of note, per BS #1646, BS #1663-64 is a voice to text transcription of a call that appears to contain numerous errors. This transcription was provided by Ms. Castle to the trial counsel via her VLC.

(2) Dr. Banerjee Fee Schedule

1. Pursuant to references (a) through (h), CSSN Jermiah Copeland, through counsel, requests the government to appoint Dr. Priya Banerjee as a forensic pathology expert consultant to the defense team to assist in the preparation of its case, in accordance with Uniform Code of Military Justice (U.C.M.J.), Article 46; Rule for Courts-Martial (R.C.M.) 703; United States v. Ford, 51 M.J. 445 (C.A.A.F. 1999) and United States v. Toledo, 25 M.J. 270 (C.M.A. 1987). CSSN Copeland further requests that the forensic pathologist be designated as a member of the defense team bound by the attorney-client privilege, in accordance with Military Rule of Evidence (M.R.E.) 502(a) and other applicable federal laws and regulations.

2. Law. Under the Sixth Amendment, CSSN Copeland has the right to the effective assistance of counsel and the right to present a defense. In order to adequately represent CSSN Copeland, he requires more than the advocacy skills of his attorney. This includes "the right to present a defense by means of confrontation, cross-examination and going forward with a presentation of its own evidence." United States v. Allen, 31 M.J. 572. The right to present evidence "necessarily includes the right to prepare." Id. As stated above, military due process consequently "entitles a service member to the assistance of an expert when necessary to the preparation of an adequate defense." Id. (quoting United States v. Garries, 22 M.J. 288 (C.M.A. 1986)). Congress guaranteed, through the UCMJ, that the parties to a court-martial "shall have equal opportunity to obtain witnesses and other evidence." Article 46, U.C.M.J. Under this scheme, service members are entitled to expert assistance when such assistance is necessary in mounting an adequate defense. Ake v. Oklahoma, 470 U.S. 68, 76-83 (1985) (holding, when necessary, due process requires appointment of a government expert). Importantly, the entitlement for an accused to expert assistance "is not limited to actual expert testimony at trial." United States v.

Lee, 64 M.J. 213, 217 (C.A.A.F. 2006).

To avail himself or herself of this right, an accused—through defense counsel—must submit a request for an expert to the convening authority, supported by "a statement of reasons why the employment of the expert is necessary." R.C.M. 703(d). Both references (b) and (c) provide the structure for evaluating requests for expert consultants and witnesses.

The Court of Appeals for the Armed Forces has held that RCM 703(d) authorizes employment of experts to assist the defense at government expense when they are relevant and necessary. The Court established a three-prong test to determine the necessity of a requested expert:

1. Why is the expert needed;
2. What would the expert accomplish for the defense; and
3. Why is the defense unable to gather and present the evidence that the expert assistant would be able to develop?

3. Factual Background. CSSN Copeland is charged with the premeditated murder of CSSN A.R., among a myriad of other charges. During the ensuing investigation into the death of CSSN A.R., the Government performed medical tests and examinations on the deceased, resulting in scientific and medical reports regarding the evidence. The Government has secured the assistance of an expert, Dr. Fernanda Lemeira and will surely be using Dr. Lemeira's skill, knowledge, experience and expertise in the Government's case against CSSN Copeland. CSSN Copeland requires the assistance of Dr. Banerjee to meet and test the evidence that will be presented against him in order to ensure a full and fair trial on the merits.

4. Why an Expert is needed and What the Expert would accomplish for the defense?

At trial the Government will necessarily present medical evidence and scientific testimony as evidence against CSSN Copeland. The Defense must be afforded the opportunity prepare for, meet, and counter the Government's evidence. Dr. Banerjee will assist the Defense in analyzing evidence and reports, the techniques and procedures used, and the testimony of the Government's witnesses.

Dr. Banerjee will provide the Defense with expert opinions and assessments of the evidence that are constitutionally required to confront the Government's evidence in defense of CSSN Copeland. She has skills, education, training, and experience that the attorneys for CSSN Copeland cannot hope to attain- even through diligent effort- prior to trial. Her assistance is essential and required for a full and fair trial.

The evidence provided in discovery indicates that the cause of death for CSSN A.R. remains "undetermined." The nature of this assessment indicates that the Government will be pursuing a theory that, though cause of death is undetermined, CSSN Copeland was responsible for her death. Dr. Banerjee's training, education and experience will help the defense team probe alternate theories of death, different possible causes of death, and counter the evidence presented by the Government's experts. These are not hypothetical results of this expert's work on the case- they are actual tangible assistance directly related to the Defense's theory of the case.

Dr. Banerjee's assistance will be required and utilized throughout litigation of pretrial legal and evidentiary issues as well as during trial on the merits. Her assistance, and its necessity to the Defense team cannot be understated.

5. Why counsel cannot perform such duties. The rapid growth in forensic science techniques at trial may make cases more complex than general practitioners can handle on their own. United States v. McAllister, 55 M.J. 270, 275 (2001); United States v. Warner, 62 M.J. 114, 118 (C.A.A.F. 2005). No member of the defense is an expert in the field of forensic pathology. Although counsel have and will continue to diligently research these areas, they cannot realistically be expected to attain the level of competency required to challenge and evaluate a Government's experts or challenge and evaluate the Government's evidence. Without the ability to consult with its own expert, the Defense would not be able to adequately represent CSSN Copeland within the meaning of the Sixth Amendment or the UCMJ.

6. Adequate government substitute. The Defense is not aware of an acceptable governmental substitute that has comparable qualifications, education or experience to that of Dr. Banerjee.

7. Cost. Enclosure (2) is Dr. Banerjee's fee schedule. Her rate for professional consulting is $850 per hour and trial participation rate of $10,000 per day. We have estimated that she will need 30 hours for pre-trial consultancy at a cost of $25,500.00, and trial participation for 22 days at a cost of $220,000.00. The defense requests a total authorization of $245,500.00, not including travel expenses to be reimbursed in accordance with the Joint Travel Regulations. Dr. Banerjee is currently available for the scheduled trial dates and is already enrolled within the federal payment system.

8. The Defense requests that the expert consultant be viewed as a member of the Defense team such that all communications between the expert consultant and the accused and his counsel will be viewed as confidential. The Defense further requests that the Government not have any conversations or other interaction with the requested expert consultant in relation to this case except for any administrative communications in securing their assistance for the Defense. The Defense understands this limitation may be removed if the defense eventually desires to have the expert testify in the case.

9. Dr. Banerjee's assistance is relevant and necessary to providing CSSN Copeland with an adequate defense to the charges. Should you have any questions or require any additional information, please contact me at todd.m.mihill.mil@us.navy.mil or 571-369-8409.

1. Pursuant to Section 0145(a)(7)(b) under reference (c), Special Trial Counsel has determined that employment of a defense expert in pathology is necessary.

2. However, this expert's hourly fees far exceed the reasonable hourly rate for an expert in this field. The government will provide funding for an expert in this field who falls within the parameters of the fees generally provided to experts appointed under 10 U.S.C. § 3006A. For an expert in this field, the reasonable fee rate is $275-400/hour.

3. The government will assist Defense in finding an adequate substitute for this expert and is standing by receive any defense proposed substitutes in this field.

Good Morning,
I am replying all on purpose.

YES to all the points made. Also my fee schedule hasn't changed and it is the one I submitted for all trials in the last year. There were no issues.

Please keep me posted if you need anything else. I have held all the dates listed for June.

MOTION

Pursuant to Article 46, UCMJ, and R.C.M. 906(b)(7) and 701, the defense moves this Court to compel the government to provide the defense with the following discovery: Disclosure of any new and/or inconsistent information provided to any assigned trial counsel (trial counsel paralegal, legalman, or support staff) from any potential witnesses in this case.

BURDEN

As the moving party, the defense bears the burden to prove facts necessary to resolve the motion by a preponderance of evidence. R.C.M. 905(c).

FACTS

1. On 22 August 2025, the government preferred charges in this case. The government alleges violations of Article 120, 128, 120c, 131b, 128b, 107, and 118, Uniform Code of Military Justice (UCMJ). (Charge Sheet).

2. On 14 November 2025, after learning that the trial counsel interviewed certain witnesses in this case, the defense filed a supplemental discovery request. The defense requested disclosures of any statements any witness made to the trial counsel in this case along with any notes taken by any paralegal who was present during any interview with any potential witness in this case. (Enclosure (A): Second Supplemental Discovery Request ltr of 14 Nov 25).

3. On 20 November 2025, the government responded to the defense's request denying our request for disclosures stating "[a] synopsis of expected testimony is not required pursuant to R.C.M. 701(a)(3). The Government will comply with its obligations under United States v. Brady, 373 U.S. 83 (1963) and United States v. Giglio, 405 U.S. 150 (1972). Any sworn or signed statements will be produced. Notes are not subject to discovery under R.C.M. 701(f). At this time, the Government is not aware of any discoverable material related to CSC Simmons or OSSN Owenskemper and the Government does not intend to call either as a witness at this time. (Enclosure (B): Gov't Resp to Def Second Supp Req ltr of 20 Nov 25).

LAW

4. A military accused derives his rights to discovery from the Constitution, the Uniform Code of Military Justice (UCMJ), and the Rules for Courts-Martial (R.C.M.). The Constitution imposes a duty on the government to refrain from suppressing evidence favorable to the defense, and to come forward with exculpatory matters.[1] Article 46, UCMJ, guarantees the defense equal opportunity to obtain evidence. Finally, R.C.M. 701 imposes specific obligations on both the Government and the Defense in matters of discovery.

5. Under R.C.M. 701(a)(2)(A), upon request, the defense is entitled to inspect books, papers, documents, etc., that are relevant to the preparation of the defense, are intended for use by the government as evidence in the case-in-chief at trial or rebuttal, or were obtained from or belonged to the accused. The Discussion Section of R.C.M. 701 states that "Discovery in the military justice system is intended to eliminate pretrial gamesmanship, minimize pretrial litigation, and reduce the potential for surprise and delay at trial." This rule applies as much to material affecting the credibility of witnesses as it does to exculpatory evidence.[2] In United States v. Williams, the Court of Appeals for the Armed Forces stated, "As a general matter, evidence that could be used to impeach a government witness is subject to discovery."[3]

6. The trial counsel shall, as soon as practicable, disclose to the defense the existence of evidence known to the trial counsel which reasonably tends to—(A) Negate the guilt of the accused of an offense charged; (B) Reduce the degree of guilt of the accused of an offense charged; (C) Reduce the punishment; or (D) Adversely affect the credibility of any prosecution witness or evidence.[4]

7. Government prosecutors must disclose favorable evidence upon request by the defense "where the evidence is material either to guilt or to punishment, irrespective of the good faith or bad faith of the prosecution."[5] When the evidence is "obviously of substantial value to the defense," the prosecution must turn over the information regardless of whether there is a defense request.[6] The Brady obligation extends not only to exculpatory evidence, but impeachment evidence, as well.[7] Brady, as interpreted by Giglio, is violated when evidence favorable to an accused, that is either exculpatory or impeaching, is suppressed and the accused is prejudiced.[8]

ARGUMENT

8. The government should be compelled to disclose any new and/or inconsistent information provided to any assigned trial counsel (trial counsel paralegal, legalman, or support staff) from any potential witnesses in this case along with any notes taken by any paralegals.

This information is in the possession of the government and relevant to the defense's preparation. For one, a witness's credibility is imperative and always at issue. Therefore, whether the statement was consistent or not, it is relevant for the defense. Further, this information goes directly to a witness's bias (i.e., are particular witnesses talking to the trial counsel but refusing to speak to the defense?). In accordance with R.C.M. 701(a)(6), the trial counsel shall, as soon as practicable, disclose to the defense the existence of evidence known to the trial counsel that tends to negate guilt, reduce guilt, reduce sentence, or adversely affect the credibility of any prosecution witness or evidence.[9] If the trial counsel is aware that any witness made inconsistent statements or provided new information, that information must be disclosed to the Defense as soon as practicable. The Defense requests disclosures of any new or inconsistent statement made by any witness or confirmation that the defense has been provided this information. Additionally, the defense requests this Court order discovery of dates and times of contact with all government witnesses and any notes taken by any paralegal.

RELIEF REQUESTED

9. Pursuant to R.C.M. 906(b)(7) and 701, the defense moves this Court to compel the government to provide the defense with above discovery.

10. The defense requests oral argument.

(l) First Supplemental Discovery Request ICO United States v. CSSN Jermiah Copeland, USN, dated 24 October 2025.

1. In accordance with references (b) through (k), the following responses are provided to reference (a). The Government has and will continue to provide discovery on a good faith basis, alerting Defense promptly when it believes that documents do not exist or reasonable grounds exist to object to discovery. For each of the responses below, if the Defense believes that military authorities are in possession of materials that fit the description but have not been discovered on Defense, please alert Government counsel as soon as possible so that the matter may be resolved.

2. The Government provides the following responses to the Defense requests to produce for use, inspection, and/or copying the following:

a. The full Oak Harbor Police Report into the allegations made by L.L. including, but not limited to, the referenced body camera footage, text messages, records of witness interviews, any investigator notes, etc.

RESPONSE: The material is not in the possession of military authorities. However, the Government will seek to produce material pursuant to R.C.M. 703 meeting this request that is both relevant and necessary, should it exist

b. L.L.'s written statement made to law enforcement. See bates 1798

RESPONSE: The material is not in the possession of military authorities. However, the Government will seek to produce material pursuant to R.C.M. 703 meeting this request that is both relevant and necessary, should it exist

c. All body camera footage taken by the Oak Harbor Police when investigating L.L.'s allegations to include the body camera footage mentioned in the police report of 2 May 2022, 26 June 2022, and 11 July 22. See id.

RESPONSE: The material is not in the possession of military authorities. However, the Government will seek to produce material pursuant to R.C.M. 703 meeting this request that is both relevant and necessary, should it exist

d. A copy of the video of the child forensic interview of L.L. with Ms. Long on 11 July 22, as well as contact information for Ms. Long.

RESPONSE: The material is not in the possession of military authorities. However, the Government will seek to produce material pursuant to R.C.M. 703 meeting this request that is both relevant and necessary, should it exist. The Government will not produce contact information for Ms. Long, as she is not a Government witness.

e. Any and all court documents related to L.L.'s allegations against CSSN Copeland. This includes any testimony from any witnesses and the results of the investigation.

RESPONSE: This request is denied as overbroad.

f. Contact information for L.L. The government provided notice pursuant to M.R.E. 404b and 413 that it intends to elicit testimony for which L.L. is the only witness, making discovery of these materials relevant to the defense's preparation for cross-examining this witness.

RESPONSE: Granted. Her contact information is:

Phone: 360-720-9497
Email: laurlopez08@gmail.com

g. Disclosures of any statements any witness made to the trial counsel in this case along with any notes taken by any paralegal who was present during any interview with any potential witness in this case. This includes, for example, CSC Simmons and OSSN Owenskemper. This information is in the possession of the government and relevant to the defense's preparation. For one, a witness's credibility is imperative, therefore, whether the statement was consistent or not, it is relevant for the defense. Further, this information goes directly to a witness's bias (i.e., are particular witnesses talking to the trial counsel but refusing to speak to the defense?).

RESPONSE: Denied. A synopsis of expected testimony is not required pursuant to R.C.M. 701(a)(3). The Government will comply with its obligations under United States v. Brady, 373 U.S. 83 (1963) and United States v. Giglio, 405 U.S. 150 (1972). Any sworn or signed statements will be produced. Notes are not subject to discovery under R.C.M. 701(f). At this time, the Government is not aware of any discoverable material related to CSC Simmons or OSSN Owenskemper and the Government does not intend to call either as a witness at this time.

3. The Government acknowledges that discovery is an ongoing and continuous obligation. The Government maintains an open file and will allow for Defense inspection at any reasonable time. If the Defense believes that this response is deficient, the Government requests to be notified within five (5) days after the Defense receives this response. Otherwise, the Government will proceed as if this response is sufficient.

MOTION

Pursuant to R.C.M. 703(d), the defense moves this Court to compel the government to appoint and fund a defense consultant in the field of mitigation.

BURDEN

As the moving party, the defense bears the burden to prove facts necessary to resolve the motion by a preponderance of evidence. R.C.M. 905(c).

FACTS

1. On 22 August 2025, the government preferred charges in this case. The government alleges violations of Article 120, 128, 120c, 131b, 128b, 107, and 118, Uniform Code of Military Justice (UCMJ). (Charge Sheet).

2. The maximum punishment for the violation of Article 118 on its own is life without the possibility of parole. The mandatory minimum for a violation of the charged violation of Article 118 is life with the possibility of parole. Article 118(d)(1).

3. In both State and Federal public defender offices, the employment of mitigation specialists is common practice.[1]

4. On 22 October 2025, in accordance with the Trial Management Order, the defense submitted a request to the Office of Special Trial Counsel for an expert mitigation specialist. (Enclosure (A): Defense Expert Request ltr w/encls of 22 Oct 25).

LAW

6. The right to be represented by counsel who is reasonably effective in investigating, preparing and presenting a defense is a fundamental pillar of American jurisprudence. The Supreme Court has recognized that the Sixth Amendment right to counsel mandates the provision of adequate resources, to include experts, in order to present an effective defense. As a matter of military due process, service members are entitled to expert assistance when necessary for an adequate defense, without regard to indigency.[2] The right to supplement the defense team with expert assistance and witnesses is based on Article 46, UCMJ, Military Rule of Evidence 706, and R.C.M. 703(d). Because the military accused does not have available to him the relatively unlimited assets of the military justice machine, courts have placed the resources of the Federal Government at his or her disposal in order to pay for expert assistance and guarantee an effective defense team.

7. Importantly, the entitlement for an accused to expert assistance "is not limited to actual expert testimony at trial." United States v. Lee, 64 M.J. 213, 217 (C.A.A.F. 2006). A mitigation specialist is recognized expert.[3]

> The right to expert assistance attaches when the defense demonstrates that such assistance is necessary.[4] "An accused is entitled to expert assistance provided by the Government if he can demonstrate necessity."[5] The "mere possibility of assistance from a requested expert" is not sufficient to prevail on the request for expert assistance.[6] Instead, "[t]he accused has the burden of establishing that a reasonable probability exists that (1) an expert would be of assistance to the

In Kreutzer, the CCA set aside the conviction (and CAAF upheld that decision) because the military judge erroneously denied the accused's request for an expert in mitigation and for infective assistance of counsel because the defense counsel failed to conduct a sufficient investigation into the background of the accused for sentencing.

> defense and (2) that denial of expert assistance would result in a fundamentally unfair trial."[7] To satisfy the first prong of this test, the Defense must show, "(1) why the expert is necessary; (2) what the expert would accomplish for the accused; and (3) why defense counsel is unable to gather and present the evidence that the expert would be able to develop."

ARGUMENT

9. An expert consultant in the field of mitigation is necessary because CSSN Copeland is facing life in prison and the defense requires assistance in the fields of mitigation, extenuation, and rehabilitation.

Ms. LaValva brings years of experience working on the toughest of cases, to include death penalty cases, and an understanding of what factors are mitigating and where best to unearth those mitigating factors. While the defense can conduct a cursory examination of the accused and speak to his family, the defense is not positioned to conduct the required in-depth background analysis of the accused to present the most effective sentencing case possible. The allegations in the case are the most severe under the UCMJ and CSSN Copeland has a right to present an affective case in mitigation. Mitigation investigation is an inter-disciplinary, scientific analysis of the psycho-social history of an individual accused in a case. Ms. LaValva will conduct more extensive interviews of CSSN Copeland, his family, and anyone else who may have relevant background information on him. Such an examination and analysis would discover the significant contributing events or factors in CSSN Copeland's life that may have affected his mental health at the time of the offenses charged. The assistance of this expert is not hypothetical, Ms. LaValva knows where to find this information, knows how to present the information, and knows how to best assist the defense team in creating an effective and persuasive case in mitigation. As the government states in its response to the defense's request, this is a need that the defense has; Ms. LaValva can meet that need.

10. An expert consultant in the field of mitigation would create a thorough mitigation, extenuation, and rehabilitation plan for sentencing.

Ms. LaValva has years of experience in mitigation and sentencing. While one of the things she will do for the defense is interview witnesses – she is not merely an investigator. She knows exactly what to interview witnesses about and where to look for mitigating evidence to present to the fact finder or sentencing authority in this case. There is a reason that both federal and state public defenders are equipped with mitigation specialists in addition to investigators. A police officer would not have the knowledge or experience to search for mitigating evidence – neither would an investigator. Ms. LaValva's role would go beyond that and would assist the defense in looking for mitigating evidence in this case.

11. Defense counsel is unable to gather and present the evidence that Ms. LaValva would be able to develop in the short amount of time until trial.

The defense counsel detailed to CSSN Copeland are experienced litigators but are not experts in mitigation. As the Court of Appeals for the Armed Forces (CAAF) has recognized, cases involving the possibility of substantial confinement or the death penalty require a greater emphasis on the employment and research of mitigation tools.[9] Defense counsel lack the experience and scientific expertise to uncover all potentially mitigating events or factors in CSSN Copeland's case.

Ms. LaValva will help focus the defense team to areas which may provide the best mitigation evidence, her knowledge and ability to provide this input comes directly from experience and training that defense counsel cannot acquire prior to trial. While the detailed counsel will diligently prepare and continue to educate themselves, CSSN Copeland requires the assistance of specially trained assistance while he faces the prospect of being confined for the remainder of his natural life. Ms. LaValva will assist the defense in ensuring more than simply "sufficient" effort has been applied to CSSN Copeland's particular case.

12. Denial of Ms. LaValva would result in a fundamentally unfair trial.

CSSN Copeland cannot get a fair sentencing proceeding without the assistance of a mitigation specialist who can gather the evidence necessary to present to ensure this Court has a full understanding of CSSN Copeland's rehabilitative potential and all of the mitigating circumstances surrounding the alleged offenses. CSSN Copeland deserves at least the same defense as someone charged in State or Federal court. The defense attorneys do not have specialized training or experience in mitigation. Requiring defense counsel to get the training they would need to be able to present the type of case in mitigation required in this case will certainly lead to continuances which will prejudice CSSN Copeland as he remains in pretrial confinement.

RELIEF REQUESTED

13. Pursuant to R.C.M. 703(d), the defense moves this Court to compel the government to appoint and fund a defense consultant in the field of mitigation.

14. The defense does not request oral argument and asks the military judge to rule on the filings alone.

Encl: (1) Curriculum Vitae of Ms. Daniela LaValva
(2) Fee Letter

1. Pursuant to references (a) through (h), CSSN Copeland, through counsel, requests the government to appoint Ms. LaValva as a mitigation expert consultant to the defense team to assist in the preparation of its case, in accordance with Uniform Code of Military Justice (U.C.M.J.), Article 46; Rule for Courts-Martial (R.C.M.) 703; United States v. Ford, 51 M.J. 445 (C.A.A.F. 1999) and United States v. Toledo, 25 M.J. 270 (C.M.A. 1987).[1] CSSN Copeland further requests that Ms. LaValva be designated as a member of the defense team bound by the attorney-client privilege, in accordance with Military Rule of Evidence (M.R.E.) 502(a) and other applicable federal laws and regulations.

2. Law. Under the Sixth Amendment, CSSN Copeland has the right to the effective assistance of counsel and the right to present a defense. In order to adequately represent CSSN Copeland, he requires more than the advocacy skills of his attorney. This includes "the right to present a defense by means of confrontation, cross-examination and going forward with a presentation of its own evidence." United States v. Allen, 31 M.J. 572. The right to present evidence "necessarily includes the right to prepare." Id. As stated above, military due process consequently "entitles a service member to the assistance of an expert when necessary to the preparation of an adequate defense." Id. (quoting United States v. Garries, 22 M.J. 288 (C.M.A. 1986)). Congress guaranteed, through the UCMJ, that the parties to a court-martial "shall have equal opportunity to obtain witnesses and other evidence." Article 46, U.C.M.J. Under this scheme, service members are entitled to expert assistance when such assistance is necessary in mounting an adequate defense. Ake v. Oklahoma, 470 U.S. 68, 76-83 (1985) (holding, when necessary, due process requires appointment of a government expert). Importantly, the entitlement for an accused to expert assistance "is not limited to actual expert testimony at trial." United States v. Lee, 64 M.J. 213, 217 (C.A.A.F. 2006). The Kreutzer Court held that defense counsel who failed to conduct a sufficient investigation into the background of the accused for sentencing were ineffective, thus requiring the sentence to be set aside.

[1] In United States v. Kreutzer, 70 M.J. 444 (C.A.A.F. 2012), C.A.A.F. upheld an Army Court of Criminal Appeals decision in which a majority of the Court held that the military judge's erroneous denial of the Appellant's request for an expert in mitigation, required relief- in the form of setting aside all contested findings.

To avail himself or herself of this right, an accused—through defense counsel—must submit a request for an expert to the convening authority, supported by "a statement of reasons why the employment of the expert is necessary." R.C.M. 703(d). Both references (b) and (c) provide the structure for evaluating requests for expert consultants and witnesses.

The Court of Appeals for the Armed Forces has held that RCM 703(d) authorizes employment of experts to assist the defense at government expense when they are relevant and necessary. The Court established a three-prong test to determine the necessity of a requested expert:

1. Why is the expert needed;
2. What would the expert accomplish for the defense; and
3. Why is the defense unable to gather and present the evidence that the expert assistant would be able to develop?

3. Factual Background. CSSN Copeland is charged with four specifications of violations of Article 120 (sexual assault), a violation of Article 128 (assault consummated by a battery), two specifications of violations of Article 120c (indecent recording/broadcasting), three specifications of violations of Article 131b (obstruction of justice), two specifications of violations of Article 128b (domestic violence), two specifications of violations of Article 107 (false official statement), and a violation of Article 118 (premeditated murder). If CSSN Copeland is convicted of premeditated murder, he is facing a minimum sentence of life with the possibility of parole and a maximum punishment of life without the possibility of parole.

4. Why an Expert is needed and What the Expert would accomplish for the defense?

Ms. LaValva brings years of experience working on death penalty cases and an understanding of what factors are mitigating and where best to unearth those mitigating factors. While the defense can conduct a cursory examination of the accused and speak to his family, the defense is not positioned to conduct the required in-depth background analysis of the accused to present the most effective sentencing case possible. The allegations in the case are the most severe under the UCMJ and CSSN Copeland has a right to present an affective case in mitigation. The assistance of this expert is not hypothetical, Ms. LaValva knows where to find this information, knows how to present the information, and knows how to best assist the defense team in creating an effective and persuasive case in mitigation.

5. Why counsel cannot perform such duties. The defense counsel detailed to CSSN Copeland are experienced litigators but are not experts in mitigation. As C.A.A.F. has recognized, cases involving the possibility of substantial confinement or the death penalty require a greater emphasis on the employment and research of mitigation tools. Ms. LaValva will help focus the defense team on areas which may provide the best mitigation evidence, her knowledge and ability to provide this input comes directly from experience and training that defense counsel cannot acquire prior to trial. While the detailed counsel will diligently prepare and continue to educate themselves, CSSN Copeland requires the assistance of specially trained assistance while he faces the prospect of being confined for the remainder of his natural life. Ms. LaValva will assist the defense in ensuring more than simply "sufficient" effort has been applied to CSSN Copeland's particular case. CSSN Copeland cannot get a fair sentencing proceeding without the assistance of a mitigation specialist who can gather the evidence necessary to present to the members to ensure they have a full understanding of CSSN Copeland's rehabilitative potential and all of the mitigating circumstances surrounding the alleged offenses.

6. Cost. Enclosure (2) is Ms. LaValva's fee schedule. Her rate for professional consulting is $250.00 an hour for all work including team, client work, field investigations, record collection, and others. The defense requests thirty (30) hours of pre-trial assistance, at a total cost of $7,500.00. Further, the defense request travel at the government rate to conduct an investigation and meet with CSSN Copeland in-person.

7. The defense requests that the expert consultant be viewed as a member of the defense team such that all communications between the expert consultant and the accused and his counsel will be viewed as confidential. The defense further requests that the government not have any conversations or other interaction with the requested expert consultant in relation to this case except for any administrative communications in securing their assistance for the defense. The defense understands this limitation may be removed if the defense eventually desires to have the expert testify in the case.

8. Ms. LaValva's assistance is relevant and necessary to providing CSSN Copeland with a case in mitigation that goes beyond merely being "sufficient." Should you have any questions or require any additional information, please contact me at amanda.m.serfess.mil@us.navy.mil or 850-452-5572.

1. Pursuant to Section 0145(a)(7)(b) under reference (c), Special Trial Counsel has determined that employment of a defense expert in mitigation is unnecessary.

2. Defense has not articulated what relevant information and guidance Ms. LaValva would provide that makes her necessary. Much of Defense's request cites Ms. LaValva's experience with death penalty cases which is not relevant to the case at hand. The Defense has also not demonstrated why funding for Ms. LaValva is necessary, as they have not articulated what steps they have already taken to explore the proffered areas that Ms. LaValva would advise on. Further, a showing of necessity has not been made in that defense has failed to proffer why Independent Defense Funding, which has been specifically allocated for defense needs such as this, has not/cannot be used.

MOTION

Pursuant to Rule for Courts-Martial (RCM) 907(b)(3)(B), the Defense moves this Court to dismiss Specification 2 of Charge I as multiplicious of Specification 1 of Charge I. The Government has charged CSSN Copeland twice for the same act. Specification 2 has no unique element; it is, therefore, it is necessarily a lesser-included offense,[1] requiring dismissal.

SUMMARY

On 22 August 2025, the government preferred charges against CSSN Copeland. Specification 1 and 2 of Charge I allege misconduct based on the same act. These specifications are multiplicious as Specification 2 is a lesser included offense. Therefore, Specification 2 should be dismissed.

BURDEN

As the moving party, the defense bears the burden to prove facts necessary to resolve the motion by a preponderance of evidence. R.C.M. 905(c).

FACTS

1. In specification 1 of Charge I, preferred on 22 August 2025, the government alleges a violation of Article 120, Uniform Code of military justice (UCMJ), (Aggravated Sexual Contact):

> In that Culinary Specialist Jermiah T. Copeland, U.S. Navy, USS JAMES E. WILIAMS (DDG 95), on active duty, did, on board USS HARRY S. TRUMAN (CVN 75), on or about 24 July 2024, touch through the clothing, the vulva, breast, and buttocks of ABHAN C.R., U.S. Navy, with CSSN Copeland's body part, to wit: his hands, with an intent to gratify the sexual desire of CSSN Copeland by using unlawful force. (Charge Sheet).

[1] United States v. Codymiles, 83 M.J. 635 (N-M Ct. Crim. App. 2023).

2. In specification 2 of Charge II, preferred on 22 August 2025, the government alleges a violation of Article 120, Uniform Code of military justice (UCMJ), (Abusive Sexual Contact):

> In that Culinary Specialist Jermiah T. Copeland, U.S. Navy, USS JAMES E. WILIAMS (DDG 95), on active duty, did, on board USS HARRY S. TRUMAN (CVN 75), on or about 24 July 2024, touch through the clothing, the vulva, breast, and buttocks of ABHAN C.R., U.S. Navy, with CSSN Copeland's body part, to wit: his hands, with an intent to gratify the sexual desire of CSSN Copeland without the consent of ABHAN C.R. (Charge Sheet).

3. On 19 September 2025, following a hearing pursuant to Article 32, UCMJ, the government provided comments to the preliminary hearing officer. (Enclosure (A): Government Art. 32 Comments ltr of 19 Sep 25). In the comments, the government stated that it was charging Specification 2 of Charge I "as a contingency of proof." (Id. at 2).

LAW

4. No person shall "be subject for the same offence to be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb."[2] The Fifth Amendment "precludes a court, contrary to the intent of Congress, from imposing multiple convictions and punishments under different statutes for the same act or course of conduct."[3] Accordingly, "[t]he prohibition against multiplicity is necessary to ensure compliance with the constitutional and statutory restrictions against Double Jeopardy."[4]

5. Determining whether charges are multiplicious analyzes: (1) "whether the charges are based on separate acts;" (2) "whether Congress made 'an overt expression of legislative intent' regarding whether the charges should be viewed as multiplicious;" and (3) if "there is no overt expression of congressional intent, we must seek to infer Congress's intent 'based on the elements of the violated statutes [offenses] and their relationship to each other.'"[5] More succinctly "[a] charge is multiplicious if the proof of such charge also proves every element of another charge."[6]

6. Because conviction on a greater offense necessarily includes conviction of all lesser offenses, the Manual directs "[i]n no case should both an offense and a lesser included offense thereof be separately charged."[7] Further, "[m]embers shall not vote on a lesser included offense unless a finding of not guilty of the offense charged has been reached."[8] Failure to dismiss lesser-included offenses is considered plain error by the Court of Appeals for the Armed Forces (C.A.A.F.).[9]

7. If quantity used and possessed is the same, a possession charge is multiplicious for findings.[10]

ARGUMENT

1. This Court should order the government to dismiss Specification 2 of Charge I because it is multiplicious—being the lesser-included offense—of Specification 1. This would prevent CSSN Copeland from being convicted twice for the same exact offense. Further, the government charged "the same conduct on the same occasions."[11]

2. This is so clearly unlawful that the Manual safeguards this from happening by directing that "[i]n no case should both an offense and a lesser included offense thereof be separately charged,"[12] and that, "[m]embers shall not vote on a lesser included offense unless a finding of not guilty of the offense charged has been reached."[13] Having both on the charge sheet violates that directive by allowing the members to consider both at the same time. Furthermore, this unfairly prejudices CSSN Copeland to face any perceptions the members may have of him by virtue of simply seeing an additional specification on the charge sheet despite no additional criminal culpability.

3. Finally, this is a matter that can be handled by this Court's instructions. CSSN Copeland will still face the possibility that the members may find him guilty of a lesser included offense without a separate specification on the charge sheet. For all these reasons, this Court should order Specification 2 of Charge I to be dismissed.

RELIEF REQUESTED

4. Pursuant to R.C.M. 907(b)(3)(B), the Defense moves this Court to dismiss Specification 2 of Charge I as multiplicious of Specification 1.

Ref: (a) Article 32, UCMJ
(b) R.C.M 405(l) (2024 ed.)

1. The Government asserts that each specification alleges an offense, that there is probable cause to believe that CSSN Jermiah T. Copeland committed each charge and specification, the convening authority has jurisdiction over CSSN Copeland and the offenses charged and respectfully requests a recommendation that all charges and specifications be referred to a general courts-martial.

2. The Accused is currently on active duty with an enlistment date of 13 July 2023 and an end of enlistment date of 12 July 2027. Each charge and specification occurred while the Accused was on active duty. [PHE 3]

3. Below please find each charge and specification with corresponding elements, maximum punishment and corresponding hearing exhibits.

CHARGE I: VIOLATION OF THE UCMJ, ARTICLE 120

Specification 1 (Aggravated Sexual Contact): In that Culinary Specialist Seaman Jermiah T. Copeland, US Navy, USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS (DDG 95), on active duty, did on board USS HARRY S. TRUMAN (CVN 75), on or about 24 July 2024, touch through the clothing, the vulva, breast, and buttocks of ABHAN C.R., U.S. Navy, with CSSN Copeland's body part, to wit: his hands, with an intent to gratify the sexual desire of CSSN Copeland by using unlawful force.

Elements:

(1) That the accused committed sexual contact upon ABHAN C.R. by touching through the clothing, the vulva, breast, and buttocks of ABHAN C.R. and

(2) That the accused did so by using unlawful force against ABHAN C.R.

Maximum Punishment: DD, TF, 20 years confinement, E-1. (Category 3)

Evidence:

ABHAN C.R. described CSSN Copeland grabbing her arms and placing them behind her back and groping here and then placing his hand around her neck and squeezing while he continued to grope her. ABHAN C.R. described the pressure used as sufficient to obstruct her breathing during this period. While he was squeezing her neck, CSSN Copeland started touching her "areas" which ABHAN [redacted] described as her buttocks, breasts, and vulva. [PHE 05a & 05b]

CSSN Cuestabravo stated that he received text messages on the morning of 24 Jul 24 from ABHAN C.R. indicating something bad had happened to her. Late that morning, ABHAN C.R. disclosed to him that CSSN Copeland strangled her and "touched her everywhere." CSSN Cuestabravo told law enforcement he observed bruises on one side of ABHAN C.R.'s neck related to her assault. [PHE 07]

Specification 2 (Abusive Sexual Contact): In that Culinary Specialist Seaman Jermiah T. Copeland, U.S. Navy, USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS (DDG 95), on active duty, did on board USS HARRY S. TRUMAN (CVN 75), on or about 24 July 2024, touch through the clothing, the vulva, breast, and buttocks of ABHAN C.R, U.S Navy, with CSSN Copeland's body part, to wit: his hands, with an intent to gratify the sexual desire of CSSN Copeland without the consent of ABHAN C.R.

Elements:

(1) That the accused committed sexual contact upon ABHAN C.R. by touching through the clothing, the vulva, breast, and buttocks of ABHAN C.R. and

(2) That the accused did so without the consent of ABHAN C.R..

Maximum Punishment: DD, TF, 7 years, E-1. (Category 2)

Evidence:

This specification is charged as a contingency of proof.

ABHAN C.R. described CSSN Copeland started touching her "areas" which ABHAN [redacted] described as her buttocks, breasts, and vulva. She described this touching as being done while actively trying to repel CSSN Copeland – evidence of her non-consent. [PHE 05a & 05b]

CSSN Cuestabravo stated that he received text messages on the morning of 24 Jul 24 from ABHAN C.R. indicated something bad had happened to her. Late that morning, ABHAN C.R. disclosed to him that CSSN Copeland strangled her and "touched her everywhere." [PHE 07]

Specification 3 (Sexual Assault – Incapable of Consenting): In that Culinary Specialist Seaman T. Copeland, U.S. Navy, USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS (DDG 95), on active duty, did at or near Oslo, Norway, on or about 4 November 2024, commit a sexual act upon CSSN S.S, U.S. Navy, by penetrating CSSN S.S.'s vulva with his penis, when CSSN S.S. was incapable of consenting to the sexual act because she impaired by an intoxicant, to wit: alcohol, and the accused knew or reasonably should have known of that condition.

Elements:

(1) The accused committed a sexual act upon CSSN S.S. by penetrating her vulva with his penis

(2) That the accused did so when CSSN S.S. was incapable of consenting to the sexual act due to impairment by a drug, intoxicant, or other similar substance

(3) That the accused knew or reasonably should have known CSSN S.S. was incapable of consenting to the sexual act due to impairment by drug, intoxicant, or other similar substance.

Maximum Punishment: DD, TF, 30 years, E-1. A dishonorable discharge or a dismissal is a mandatory minimum sentence for this offense. (Category 3)

Evidence:

CSSN Copeland admitted to penetrating CSSN S.S.'s vulva with his penis. [PHE 20]

CSSN S.S. consumed alcohol on the evening of 4 November 2024 and has no memory of sexual intercourse with CSSN Copeland. [PHE 09 & 11].

CSSA Jacqueline Bita accompanied CSSN S.S. in Oslo during the TRUMAN port call on 4 November 2024. She recalled arriving at unknown club and witnessing CSSN S.S. drink alcohol with other sailors. CSSA Bita noted that CSSN Copeland arrived to the club later and was not a member of her original group. CSSA Bita recalls at some point observing CSSN S.S. intoxicated and CSSN Copeland assisting CSSN S.S. to the bathroom. CSSA Bita did not observe any flirtation between CSSN Copeland and CSSN [redacted] at any point in the evening. At some point later that evening, CSSN Copeland approached CSSA Bita and SR Jada Knight. CSSN Copeland showed them a video on his cellular phone of CSSN Copeland penetrating CSSN S.S. with his penis. CSSA Bita identified CSSN [redacted] not by her face, but by her hair and gray sweatshirt. She could see CSSN [redacted] bare buttocks, but could not clearly tell if CSSN S.S. was conscious. [PHE 13]

CSSN Shamel Eaddy recalls observing CSSN S.S. at Fleet Landing prior to embarking on the liberty boat at the end of the evening. CSSN Eaddy stated CSSN S.S. was extremely intoxicated and requested help. She required clearance from the medical text before she was transported back to the ship. [PHE 15]

CSSN Alexis Rodgers described CSSN S.S. as drunk at the bar. She did not recall seeing CSSN S.S. and CSSN Copeland interact that evening. CSSN Rodgers stated that when it was time to leave the bar to return to Fleet Landing, CSSN [redacted] needed assistance due to her level of intoxication. CSSN Rodgers opined that CSSN [redacted] was disoriented at the end of the evening - in that she did not seem to recall where she was. [PHE 16]

CSSA Jakobie Gant described CSSN Copeland showing him a video of CSSN Copeland penetrating CSSN S.S. with his penis. CSSA Gant stated that he was very uncomfortable after watching the video because CSSN S.S. did not appear conscious or in a comfortable position. He stated that her face was down against the toilet. [PHE 17]

CSSN Jada Knight viewed the video of CSSN Copeland penetrating CSSN S.S.'s vulva with his penis. She recognized that the woman in the video was CSSN S.S. by her buttocks. [PHE 18]

CSSN Kaylee Parks stated that CSSN S.S. appeared very intoxicated at the bar. CSSN Parks observed CSSN S.S.'s slurred speech and noted that CSSN S.S. had trouble keeping her balance at the bar. While CSSN Parks did describe kissing and hand holding between CSSN S.S. – she also described CSSN S.S. as very intoxicated and 20 to 30 minutes later and she witnessed CSSN S.S. leaning her head against CSSN Copeland who was trying to keep CSSN S.S. head in an upright position. CSSN Parks stated that she heard CSSN S.S. ask CSSN Copeland for help using the bathroom. CSSN Parks indicated that when it was time to leave the bar, CSSN S.S. required two sailors to help get her back to the ship. [PHE 19]

Specification 4 (Sexual Assault – Without Consent): In that Culinary Specialist Seaman Jermiah T. Copeland, U.S. Navy, USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS (DDG 95), on active duty, did at or near Norfolk, Virginia, on or about 25 May 2025, commit a sexual act upon Ms. Y.J., by penetrating Ms. Y.J.'s vulva with his penis without the consent of Ms. Y.J.

Elements:

(1) That the accused committed a sexual act upon Ms. Y.J. by penetrating her vulva with his penis; and

(2) That the accused did so without the consent of Ms. YJ.

Maximum Punishment: DD, TF, 30 years, E-1. A dishonorable discharge or a dismissal is a mandatory minimum sentence for this offense. (Category 3)

Evidence:

Ms. Y.J described an incident in CSSN Copeland's barracks room in which he grabbed her by the arm and pulled her into his room. Ms. Y.J. stated that CSSN Copeland wanted her to perform oral sex, but she told him no and that she was tired. CSSN Copeland penetrated her vulva and she told him to stop. Her pleas for him to stop were heard by another sailors in the common area of CSSN Copeland's barracks room who entered the bedroom and was able to free her from the situation. While the summary of interview submitted does not explicitly state what Ms. Y.J. was penetrated with – circumstantial evidence exists that it was with CSSN Copeland's penis – given that he was already attempting to use his penis for oral sex. [PHE 23]

Prior to the altercation with CSSN Copeland, Ms. Y.J. was in the CSSN Copeland's barracks room with two other sailors. When CSSN Copeland arrived and pulled Ms. Y.J. into his bedroom, AN Bradford was in the common area. He describes hearing Ms. Y.J. through CSSN Copeland's door. She was telling CSSN Copeland that she was tired. He describes hearing Ms. Y.J. tell CSSN Copeland multiple times that she was tired and hears her say "no, no, no." Her pleas concerned AN Bradford and the other sailor present in the common room to go to CSSN Copeland's door to help. When the door was opened, Ms. Y.J. was on the floor without her shirt. AN Bradford was so disturbed by the incident that he insisted on taking Ms. Y.J. home and that he was not going to leave her with someone that just sexually assaulted her. [PHE 24b]

CHARGE II, VIOLATION OF UCMJ, ART 128

Sole Specification (Aggravated Assault – Strangulation): In that Culinary Specialist Seaman Jermiah T. Copeland, U.S. Navy, USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS (DDG 95), on active duty, did on board USS HARRY S. TRUMAN (CVN 75), on or about 24 July 2024, commit an assault upon ABHAN C.R., U.S. Navy, by unlawfully strangling her with his hand.

Elements:

(1) That he accused assaulted ABHAN C.R.

(2) That the accused did so by strangulation and

(3) That the strangulation was done with unlawful force or violence.

Maximum Punishment: DD, TF, 5 years, E-1. (Category 2)

Evidence:

This specification is charged as a contingency of proof for Charge I, Specification 1.

ABHAN C.R. described CSSN Copeland placing his hand around her neck and squeezing. ABHAN C.R. described the pressure used as sufficient to obstruct her breathing during this period. While he was squeezing her neck, CSSN Copeland started touching her "areas" which ABHAN [redacted] described as her buttocks, breasts, and vulva. [PHE 05a & 05b]

CSSN Cuestabravo stated that he received text messages on the morning of 24 Jul 24 from ABHAN C.R. indicated something bad had happened to her. CSSN Cuestabravo he observed bruises on one side of ABHAN C.R.'s neck related to her assault. [PHE 07]

CHARGE III: VIOLATION Of UCMJ, ARTICLE 117a

Sole Specification (Wrongful Broadcast): In that Culinary Specialist Seaman Jermiah T. Copeland, U.S. Navy, USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS (DDG 95), on active duty, did, at or near Oslo, Norway, on or about 4 November 2024, knowingly and wrongfully broadcast an intimate visual image of the buttocks of CSSN S.S., U.S. Navy, a person who was at least 18 years of age when the image was created, is identifiable from the image itself, and did not explicitly consent to the broadcast of the image, when the accused reasonably should have known the image was made under circumstances in which CSSN S.S. retained a reasonable expectation of privacy regarding nay broadcast of the image, and where the accused reasonably should have known that the broadcast of the image was likely to cause emotional distress, to wit: embarrassment and that, under the circumstances, such conduct had a reasonably direct and palpable connection to the military environment.

Elements:

(1) That the accused knowingly and wrongfully broadcasted a visual image;

(2) That the visual image is an intimate visual image of another person to wit: CSSN S.S.

(3) That the person depicted in the intimate visual image

(a) was at least 18 years of age at the time the intimate visual image was created, and

(b) is identifiable from the intimate visual image itself or from information displayed in connection with the intimate visual image, and

(c) did not explicitly consent to the broadcast of the intimate visual image;

(4) That the accused knew or reasonably should have known that the intimate visual image was made under circumstances in which CSSN S.S. retained a reasonable expectation of privacy regarding any broadcast of the intimate visual image;

(5) That the accused knew or reasonably should have known that the broadcast of the intimate visual image was likely to cause emotional distress for CSSN S.S., and

(6) That the conduct of the accused, under the circumstances, had a reasonably direct and palpable connection to a military mission or military environment.

Maximum Punishment: DD, TF, 2 years, E-1. (Category 2)

Relevant Definitions:

The term "visual image" means the following:

(A) Any developed or undeveloped photograph, picture, film, or video;

(B) Any digital or computer image, picture, film, or video made by any means, including those transmitted by any means, including streaming media, even if not stored in a permanent format;

(C) Any digital or electronic data capable of conversion into a visual image.

The term "private area" means the naked or underwear-clad genitalia, anus, buttocks, or female areola or nipple.

The term "reasonable expectation of privacy" means circumstances in which a reasonable person would believe that a private area of the person, or sexually explicit conduct involving the person, would not be visible to the public. Whether a reasonable expectation of privacy exists is determined based on the totality of the circumstances.

The term "broadcast" means to electronically transmit a visual image with the intent that it be viewed by a person or persons. See also, United States v. Lajoie, 79 M.J. 723, 727 (N.M.C.C.A 2019). (... Article 120c's prohibition on the broadcast of an indecent visual recording is violated when an individual uses an electronic device to display the recording for another to view, even if the electronic device is the same one that was used to record the image.

Transmission of the visual recording from one electronic device to another electronic device with the intent that the image be viewed by another person could also constitute a broadcast, but we do not find that the involvement of more than one electronic device is necessary for a broadcast to occur.")

The video depicted graphic sexual activity and was filmed in a bathroom stall.

CSSN Copeland showed an image depicting nude portions of her body engaged in a sex act to multiple members of USS HARRY S. TRUMAN (CVN 75) - and more specifically other CSs - that she worked with.

CSSN Jermiah T. Copeland, USN, against whom the accused had reason to believe that there were or would be criminal proceedings pending.

Elements:

(1) That the accused wrongfully did a certain act, that is, hide his cellular phone;

(2) That the accused did so in the case of himself against whom the accused had reason to believe there were or would be criminal or disciplinary proceedings pending;

At approximately 0500 on 2 June 2025, CSSN Copeland's device stops behind 2852 Cary Avenue, Norfolk, Virginia. The heath data from this device records steps and distance at approximately 0502. Bluestar, a chemiluminescent reagent, was used to detect the presence of blood. The reagent reacted both in CSSN Copeland's closet and on the carpet leading out of his closet into the common area. The reagent illuminated a trail that looks similar to wheel tracks from a large, wheeled duffel bag. [PHE 48a, pg 13].

Specification 3 (Obstruction of Justice): In that Culinary Specialist Seaman Jermiah T. Copeland, U.S. Navy, USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS (DDG 95), on active duty, did at or near Norfolk, Virginia, on or about 4 June 2025, wrongfully do a certain act, to wit: hide his cellular phone, with intent to impede the due administration of justice in the case of United States v. CSSN Jermiah T. Copeland, USN against whom the accused had reason to believe that there were or would be criminal proceedings pending.

Elements:

(1) That the accused wrongfully did a certain act, that is hide his cellular phone;

(2) That the accused did so in the case of himself against whom the accused had reason to believe there were or would be criminal or disciplinary proceedings pending;

(3) That the act was done with the intent to influence, impede or otherwise obstruct the due administration of justice.

Maximum Punishment: DD, TF, 5 years, E-1. (Category 2)

It is not an element of the offense that the Government describe the contents of the missing phone. Requiring the government to do so and penalizing the government for a failure to articulate the contents of the phone, rewards the Accused for his successful obstruction of justice. All that is required, is that the accused took a certain act, while he knew he was under investigation and did so to influence, impede or otherwise obstruct the due administration of justice. Here the accused lied about the functionality of his cell phone, was aware that the law enforcement was conducting multiple searches of his barracks room and barge space looking for items of evidentiary value. He successful kept this phone hidden but within his control, as evidenced the 8 June 2025 photo he took of himself while on the barge.

Evidence:

CSSN Copeland was interviewed by law enforcement again on 3 June regarding this knowledge of the whereabouts of CS3 [redacted] [PHE 51]

During an interview on June 3, 2025, COPELAND advised that an Apple Watch and iPhone that were located during a search of his barracks room at the X-2 barracks onboard Naval Station Norfolk were his. CSSN Copeland explained neither device worked. NCIS did not seize either device and left them in his custody. On June 6, 2025, COPELAND was placed in a restricted status aboard the barge for DDG-95. COPELAND was advised to bring his toiletries and belongings to the ship. COPELAND remained on restriction until a later arrest and pre-trial confinement beginning on June 9, 2025. On June 10, 2025, NCIS executed a command authorized search and seizure for CSSN Copeland' berthing onboard the barge associated with DDG-95 that he lived in while on restriction. NCIS was able to locate and seize the Apple Watch. However, the second iPhone found on the June 3, 2025 search of CSSN Copeland's barracks was not present. This second iPhone was not located after additional searches of CSSN Copeland's barracks room. It remains missing. [PHE 54]

A photo of the missing iPhone is contained in PHE 55, pg 1.

A search warrant was obtained and executed on CSSN Copeland's Apple iCloud account. The search discovered a photo taken on 8 June 2025. The photo is a selfie of CSSN Copeland in his uniform with a white iPhone. CSSN Copeland appears to be on the barge when the photo was taken. [PHE 55]

Elements:

(1) That, the accused assaulted CSSN S.R. the intimate partner of the accused;

(2) That the accused did so by strangling CSSN S.R.; and

(3) That the strangulation was done with unlawful force or violence.

Maximum Punishment: E-1, TF, 8 years, DD

Relevant Definitions:

The term "intimate partner" means either (a) one's former spouse, a person with whom one shares a child in common, or a person with whom one cohabits or with whom one has cohabited as a spouse; or (b) a person with whom one has been in a social relationship of a romantic or intimate nature, as determined by the length of the relationship, the type of relationship, and the frequency of interaction between the persons involved in the relationship.

The term "dating partner," in the case of a specific person, means a person who is or has been in a social relationship of a romantic or intimate nature with such specific person based on a consideration of- (A) the length of the relationship; (B) the type of the relationship; (C) the frequency of interaction between the persons involved in the relationship; and (D) the extent of physical intimacy or sexual contact between the persons involved in the relationship.") The relative weight given to each of the named criteria in making the "dating partner" determination may vary depending on the facts and circumstances presented.

CHARGE VIII: VIOLATION OF UCMJ, Article 118

Specification (Premeditated Murder): In that Culinary Specialist Seaman Jermiah T. Copeland, U.S. Navy, USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS (DDG 95), on active duty, did at or near Norfolk, Virginia, on or about 29 May 2025, with premeditation, murder CS3 A.R., U.S. Navy, by means of an act of the Accused.

Elements:

(1) That CS3 A.R. is dead;

(2) That her death resulted from the act of the accused

(3) That the killing of CS3 A.R. by the accused was unlawful; and

(4) That, at the time of the killing, the accused had a premeditated design to kill.

Maximum Punishment: DD, TF, Life without the possibility of parole (mandatory minimum of confinement for life with eligibility for parole), E-1 (Category 6)

"A murder is not "premeditated" unless the thought of taking life was consciously conceived and the act or omission by which it was taken was intended. Premeditated murder is murder committed after the formation of a specific intent to kill someone and consideration of the act intended. It is not necessary that the intention to kill have been entertained for any particular or considerable length of time. When a fixed purpose to kill has been deliberately formed, it is immaterial how soon afterwards it is put into execution. The existence of premeditation may be inferred from the circumstances." Dep't of Army, Pam. 27-9, Legal Services: Military Judges' Benchbook, para 3a-56-1 (10 Sep 2025)

Premeditation may be proven by a variety of factors to include precautions to avoid detection. United States v. Glover, 2002 CCA LEXIS 365 at *5 (factors to consider include, (1) vulnerability of the victim at the time of the attack, number and location of the wounds on the victim, confrontation between suspect and victim, threats made before the attack and precautions made to avoid detection). United States v. Matthews, 13 M.J. 501, 517 (A.C.M.R. 1982), rev'd as to sentence, 16 M.J. 354 (C.M.A. 1983)(hiding items containing fingerprints, concealed a blood-stained sweater, disposed the victim's watch, keys and shoes); .

Evidence:

PHE 47d – CS3 A[redacted] is dead.

Her death was the result of CSSN Copeland's actions. He was the person with her when she was last verified to be alive (when she called ET3 Rich, not when seen by FCC Parker as his visual and audio report of her being alive is simply not consistent with the other evidence). Her body was in a duffel bag in his closet. He concealed her body as explained in Specification 2 of Charge V, and her body was found in his duffel bag.

The question to examine is whether this killing was premeditated or instead, an unpremeditated murder under Article 118(1) or (2), respectively of the UCMJ.

The circumstantial evidence demonstrates CSSN Copeland's motive and thus the fact that his actions were premeditated: to prevent CS3 [redacted] from making an accusation of sexual assault against him when he already had two sexual assault investigations pending (and thereby to obstruct justice). The evidence shows that his intent after that call was to kill CS3 [redacted]

> In Oslo, Norway – CSSN Copeland reaction to a women accusing him of sexual misconduct resulted in proclaiming his life was over, attempts to kill himself, and refusal to return to the ship. [PHE 14] That was his reaction to what he knew was a second sexual assault allegation.
>
> Moving to what would have been his third sexual assault allegation in the early morning hours of 29 May, CS3 [redacted] made a panicked phone call to ET3 Rich pleading with him to pick her up. [PHE 30] CSSN Copeland's heartrate was elevated starting at 0152 and remained elevated until 0230. That data, the state of undress CS3 [redacted] was later seen in on the floor, the panicked phone call she made, and the admission by CS3 Copeland in PHE 53 that he had engaged in some sexual activity with CS [redacted] (albeit couched in an otherwise false statement about him rejecting further sexual activity) all demonstrate that CS3 [redacted] rejected CSSN Copeland's sexual advances and called a friend in a state of panic [PHE 53]
>
> From that call, CSSN Copeland learned that he had 10 minutes to stop CS3 [redacted] from making what would be a third report of sexual assault against him. The heart rate data from the period immediately after the call demonstrates his actions to carry out the plan he formed during that phone call. He had an elevated heart rate in the 15 minutes that immediately followed, which demonstrates a prolonged period of intentional, violent actions to murder CS3 [redacted]
>
> Furthermore, CSSN Copeland lied to investigators when they asked if CS3 [redacted] called anyone to come pick her up.
>
> > 02:14:20: CSSN Copeland: I don't think so. I mean like I said I was on the couch. I know she did call Rich and she was on the phone with her ex, but from what I recall I don't think so.
> >
> > 02:14:39: Special Agent: Okay. So you don't recall hearing her tell somebody like yo, come get me, come pick me up, I want to leave, or anything like that?
> >
> > 02:14:46: CSSN Copeland: No, ma'am. [PHE 52b]
> CS3 [redacted] was never heard from again after that phone call despite repeated attempts from others to contact her.

CS3 [redacted] phone died around 0456 and was never turned back on. [PHE 33]. If she was in fact alive when FCC Parker came at 0852, she would have plugged her phone in at that time after FCC Parker's check woke her up. It is simply not plausible that he woke her up then and that she did not immediately check her phone, see that it was dead and had been for hours, and then plug it in.

For the time period of 0755 until 1131, CSSN Copeland was viewing adult pornography on is his iPhone 15 Pro Max. [PHE 39b, pg. 15] This evidence makes it unlikely that he killed her after FCC Parker came the next morning.

CSSN Copeland replied to Snapchat user name "luv.layna22" at 7:53:55 AM. This reply was the last communication sent by the iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to CSSN Copeland until 12:44:35 PM when the user called the phone number (360) 521-1599. CSSN Copeland received several incoming calls and texts that he did not respond to. [PHE 39b 6, 15, 18 -19]

CSSN Copeland did not go into work when scheduled to do so on the morning of 29 May. [PHE 37, pg. 6]. That fact shows a consciousness of guilt and a desire on his part to avoid answering questions from fellow crewmembers about where she was.

CS3 Re[redacted]s bank account shows no activity after 28 May 2025. [PHE 40]

FCC Parker arrives at CSSN Copeland's barracks room around 0852 and tells LSC Rob Janson – "I'm about to go into his room now." [PHE 37, pg 6].

At 0854, he says CS3 R[redacted] is with CSSN Copeland. [PHE 37, pg 6].

CSSN Copeland lies to FCC Parker between 0854 and 0900 and tells him that CS3 R[redacted] left her phone in her room. [PHE 37, pg 6].

CSSN Copeland further lies to FCC Parker and tells him CS3 R[redacted] was "going through some shit and needed someone to talk to." He told FCC Parker that she called several people and he was the first to get her. She came over to his place, but forgot her phone. He also lied and said his phone died overnight and that is why his alarm did not go off. [PHE 37, pg 8]

CSSN Copeland lied to FCC Parker and told him that he had dropped CS3 Re[redacted] back at her barracks room at 1247. [PHE 37, pg 2]

CSSN Copeland did not go into work when ordered to do so by FCC Brad Parker. [PHE 37, pg. 9]

CSSN Copeland's roommate arrived back to his barracks room around 1300 on 29 May – neither CSSN Copeland nor CS3 Re[redacted] was there. [PHE 35]

Geolocation data places CSSN Copeland in the vicinity of X-2 for the entire period of 29 May through the evening of 1 June. [PHE 41]

Circumstantial evidence exists that CSSN Copeland went to great lengths to conceal his crime.

In an attempt to avoid detection and knowing that CSSN Re[redacted]'s dead body was in his closet, CSSN Copeland sent her phone a text message on the evening 1 June 2025, asking her if she was ok and informing her that she had marked UA. [PHE 25d, pg. 6]

CSSN Copeland hid CS3 R[redacted]'s body in his barracks room's closet inside a large black duffel bag for 4 days. [PHE 48a pg. 12 & 13, and 48c].

CSSN Copeland hid CS3 Re[redacted]'s body - still inside his black duffle bag - in a wooded area near Broad Creek. [PHE 44a pgs. 8-16], [PHE 47a], [PHE 47g]

When questioned by investigators about her whereabouts, CSSN Copeland lied multiple times. [PHE 36, 38]

Additionally, all of the evidence listed above for Specification 2 of Charge V demonstrates the extensive efforts he invested in attempting to conceal the body of CS3 Re[redacted]. They are all consistent with a consciousness of guilt that would accompany a premeditated, intentional murder.

4. For these reasons, the Government asks that you recommend all charges and specifications be referred to General Court-Martial and welcomes any additional recommendations as to form of the charges.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR ASSEMBLING THE CERTIFIED RECORD OF TRIAL

Arrange and bind the record of trial with allied papers in the sequence indicated below. The court reporter is responsible for certifying the record of trial prior to transmittal for appellate review, in accordance with R.C.M. 1112 and JAG/CNLSCINST 5813.1G.

1. Pages 1 (Cover page) and 2 (Chronology Sheet) of DD Form 490 (enclosure 7).

2. Court reporter certification of Record of Trial (enclosure 8).

3. Military Judge verification of Record of Trial (enclosure 8).

4. DD Form 490 (pages 3-6 and any continuation pages if needed) (enclosure 7).

5. Completed Post-Trial Checklist from JAG/CNLSCINST 5814.1G (enclosure 2).

6. Completed Convening Authority's Action Checklist (enclosure 4).

7. Post-Trial Documents.

a. Certificates/Proof of Service of the Certified Record of Trial to the accused and victim, if applicable (enclosure 7).

b. Convening Authority's Action and Entry of Judgment (enclosure 6).

c. Any requests for copies of the court-martial record pursuant to R.C.M. 1106 or 1106A (attach written requests, and any certificates/proof of service, but do not attach the victim's post-trial rights advisement or DD Form 2704).

d. Matters submitted by the accused and/or victim under R.C.M. 1106 or 1106A, or any written waiver of the right to submit such matters. Include all responses to requests here as well.

e. Any deferment request and the action on it (including any request to waive automatic forfeitures under Article 58b).

f. Conditions of suspension and proof of service on probationer under R.C.M. 1107, if any.

g. All clemency recommendations by members or military judge, if any.

h. Statement of Trial Results (enclosure 1).

i. Crime Reporting Information.

j. Accused's request for appellate defense counsel, or waiver/withdrawal of appellate review under R.C.M. 1115, if applicable.

k. All transfer orders, confinement orders, and excess leave orders.

l. Briefs of counsel submitted after trial, if any.

8. Preliminary Hearing.

a. DD Form 457, Preliminary Hearing Officer's Report, pursuant to Article 32, if such hearing was conducted, followed by any other allied papers that accompanied the charges when referred for trial (including any matters submitted under R.C.M. 405(l), unless included elsewhere in the record of trial).*

b. Waiver of Article 32 Hearing (if applicable).

9. Pre-Trial Allied Papers.

a. Convening Order and all amending convening orders.

b. DD Form 458, Charge Sheet (unless included at the point of arraignment in the transcript).

INSTRUCTIONS FOR ASSEMBLING THE CERTIFIED RECORD OF TRIAL

c. Congressional inquiries and replies, if any.

d. Advice of staff judge advocate, when prepared pursuant to Article 34 or otherwise.

10. Record of Proceedings.

a. Substantially verbatim recording of court-martial proceedings. Segregate open and closed sessions of the court-martial in accordance with R.C.M. 1113 and the following guidance:*

b. Ensure that each closed session of the court-martial is recorded on a separate DVD marked CLOSED SESSION, placed in its own envelope marked CLOSED SESSION, and sealed.

c. Label all DVD(s) and envelopes with the information on page 1 of this template.

d. Mark all DVDs and envelopes with "1 of X," as necessary (for example, the second DVD of six DVDs and its envelope should be marked, 2 of 6). All DVDs of open sessions may be in one envelope.

e. Mark all DVDs with their beginning and ending timestamps. The timestamps for closed sessions should match those shown on the Index.

f. Verbatim transcript or summarized report prepared in accordance with JAGINST 5814.1G. Include the following:

I. A certificate of correction, if any (including any supplemental certification for additional proceedings).

II. Court reporter and transcriptionist certification of verbatim transcript.

g. Records of former proceedings (Article 30a) and/or trials, (e.g., electronic/digital record of former proceeding, including audio recording and any scanned documentation/transcripts, CD/DVD format).*

11. Prosecution exhibits admitted in evidence.

12. Defense Exhibits admitted in evidence.

13. Appellate Exhibits including but not limited to, proposed instructions, written offers of proof or preliminary evidence (real or documentary), briefs of counsel submitted at trial, request to be tried by military judge alone (if any), the accused election of members under R.C.M. 903 (if any), any statement by convening authority required under R.C.M. 503(a)(2), and the election for sentencing by members in lieu of sentencing by military judge under R.C.M. 1002(b).*

14. Redaction. The following information shall be redacted in accordance with JAGMAN 1059 from the record of trial prior to releasing it to any accused or victim (including any transcript made pursuant to R.C.M. 1114 and attached to the record of trial) unless the information establishes an element of an offense, or is otherwise required:

a. Any recordings of closed sessions, any transcripts of closed sessions, and any sealed exhibits.

b. Names of minor victims, and names of minor witnesses. If an identifier is used, use only the initials.

c. Social Security Numbers.

d. Financial account information.

e. Home addresses.

f. Telephone numbers.

g. Personal e-mail addresses.

h. Dates of birth.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR ASSEMBLING THE CERTIFIED RECORD OF TRIAL

i. Any other information that could be used to identify a specific person other than the accused.

*If the report of preliminary hearing or record of trial contains exhibits, proceedings, or other materials ordered sealed by the preliminary hearing officer or military judge, counsel for the Government, the court reporter, or trial counsel shall cause such materials to be sealed to prevent unauthorized examination or disclosure, pursuant to R.C.M. 1113. Sealed material shall be properly marked, individually placed in separate envelopes with a copy of the preliminary hearing officer or military judge sealing order affixed to it, and inserted at the appropriate place in the record of trial. Do not duplicate sealed material to include it in any copy of the record of trial. Instead, insert a copy of the sealing order in lieu of any sealed material, in any copies of the record of trial.

DIVIDERS ARE NOT NECESSARY TO SEPARATE EACH SECTION. IF USED, THEY CAN BE PAPER RATHER THAN CARD STOCK. IF A PARTICULAR COMPONENT IS NOT APPLICABLE IN THE RECORD OF TRIAL, SUCH AS AN ARTICLE 32 HEARING, EXHIBITS NOT ADMITTED, POST-TRIAL PROCEEDINGS AND VACATION HEARINGS, DO NOT INSERT A DIVIDER OR PLACEHOLDER.

FRONT AND BACK COVER MUST BE ON BLUE CARDS STOCK AND LABELED WITH GUM LABELS.

Binding. Each volume of a record of trial should be no more than 1.5 inches thick and bound at the top with metal or plastic fasteners. DO NOT interlace or "piggy-back" prong fasteners to create an oversized volume. DO NOT place hole punches where it covers up the evidence or language in the transcript. When it becomes necessary to assemble the record of trial in more than one volume, the volumes will be numbered consecutively, on the front cover, as illustrated below:

Volume 1 of 4 (Pages 1-250)
Volume 2 of 4 (Pages 251-400)
Volume 3 of 4 (Pages 401-652)
Volume 4 of 4 (Pages 653-901 and Exhibits)

Make the first volume of a multi-volume record an inch thick or smaller to allow for inclusion of post-trial documents. Limit subsequent volumes to 1.5 inches, unless dividing them requires assembling an additional volume smaller than a half inch.

Label the upper right-hand corner or the Preparation and Certification of Record of Trial Form (enclosure (8)) to reflect which copy it is, i.e., "ORIGINAL," "ACCUSED," "REVIEW" etc.

MOTION

Pursuant to Rule for Courts-Martial (R.C.M.) 906 and Military Rules for Evidence (M.R.E.) 401, 402, 403, and 413, the defense moves this Court to exclude the following evidence cited in the government's notice pursuant to M.R.E. 413.

1) That, in June 2022, when CSSN Copeland was a minor child in high school, he allegedly touched L.L.'s vulva without her consent; and

2) That, in June 2022, CSSN Copeland kissed L.L. without her consent.

SUMMARY

On 22 August 2022, the government preferred charges against CSSN Copeland alleging, among other charges, violations of Article 120. On 5 November 2025, the government provided the defense with notices pursuant to M.R.E. 404(b) and 413. The government notified the defense that it intends to introduce evidence related to alleged preservice non-consensual sexual conduct on the part of CSSN Copeland for the "relevant purpose of propensity." The defense objects. First, some of this evidence does not meet the threshold requirement of being sexual activity. Second, this evidence is not relevant. Third, whatever probative value this preservice conduct that occurred when CSSN Copeland was a minor child has, it is far outweighed by the risk of unfair prejudice, confusing the issues, misleading the members, undue delay, and wasting time. Therefore, this evidence should be excluded.

BURDEN

As the proponent of the evidence, the burden of proof and persuasion rests on the government. The standard as to any factual issue necessary to resolve this motion is to a preponderance of the evidence. RCM 905(c)(1).

FACTS

1. CSSN Copeland's birthday is 23 March 2005. As of this filing, he is 20 years old. In July 2024, he was 19 years old.

2. On 22 August 2025, the government preferred charges in this case. The government alleges the following:

a. That on or about 24 July 2024, CSSN Copeland committed an aggravated sexual contact or an abusive sexual contact on ABHAN C.R. Specifications 1 and 2 of Charge I.

b. That on or about 25 May 2025, CSSN Copeland sexually assaulted Y.J. Specification 4 of Charge I. (Charge Sheet).

3. On 5 November 2025, the government provided notices pursuant to M.R.E. 404(b) and 413. (Enclosure (A): Notice under M.R.E. 404(b) and 413 of 5 Nov 25 at 14).

4. CSSN Copeland went to high school in Oak Harbor, Washington. According to an Oak Harbor Police report, on 23 June 2022, Monica Lopez made a complaint. According to Ms. Lopez, her 15-year-old daughter, told her that a boy named Jermiah Copeland made advances. Her daughter, L.L. was "on the fence" about moving forward with an official investigation. (Enclosure (B): Oak Harbor Police Report).

5. The Oak Harbor police spoke to L.L. L.L. went to the same high school as CSSN Copeland and the two previously dated. L.L. was at the home of Stephanie Johnson – she was invited by a friend of Jermiah Copeland. While there, she says that Jermiah Copeland made advances and tried to kiss her and touch her "private area." She moved his hand away and said no. Jermiah Copeland had to leave because his mom wanted him to come home. L.L. walked him to the door, and she kissed him goodbye. No one else in the house saw anything and there is no indication that she reported anything to the adults in the house. (Id. at 2).

6. On 11 July 2022, L.L. was the subject of a child forensic interview regarding these allegations.[1] (Id. at 5).

7. During the forensic interview L.L. stated that she was not supposed to be hanging out with CSSN Copeland. However, her mother found out he was at the same house. Her mother texted her and reminded her that she was not supposed to be hanging out with Jermiah Copeland. (Id.).

8. The police interviewed another person who was in the house at the time of this alleged assault. According to "B," while Jermiah Copeland and L.L. were on the couch together, the two were giggling and everything seemed fine. (Id. at 7).

[1] As of this filing the defense does not have a copy of this interview of any of the body camera footage mentioned in the investigation.

9. The case was closed "due to lack of physical evidence or independent witnesses." (Id. at 8).

LAW

10. Evidence is relevant if it has any tendency to make a fact of consequence more or less probable.[2] Irrelevant evidence is inadmissible.[3] Relevant evidence may still be excluded if its probative value is substantially outweighed by a danger of unfair prejudice, confusing the issues, misleading the members, undue delay, wasting time, or needlessly presenting cumulative evidence.[4]

11. Evidence of a crime, wrong, or other act is not admissible to prove an accused's character in order to show that on a particular occasion the accused acted in accordance with the character.[5] "The rule can be best summed up by stating it is abundantly clear that evidence which is offered simply to prove that the accused is a bad person is not admissible."[6]

12. M.R.E. 413 creates an exception to the general prohibition on propensity evidence and allows for evidence of any other sexual offense to be considered on any matter to which it is relevant. Admission of evidence pursuant to M.R.E. 413 is predicated upon three threshold findings that: 1) the accused is charged with an offense of sexual assault; 2) the evidence proffered is of the accused's commission of another offense of sexual assault; and 3) the evidence is relevant under Mil. R. Evid. 401 and 402.[7] For the second prong, "the court must conclude that the members could find by a preponderance of the evidence that the offenses occurred."[8] The court must then conduct a balancing test under M.R.E. 403.[9]

13. In conducting the M.R.E. 403 balancing test, the military judge

> [S]hould consider the following factors: the strength of the proof of the prior act; the probative weight of the evidence; the potential to present less prejudicial evidence; the possible distraction of the fact-finder; the time needed to prove the prior conduct; the temporal proximity of the prior event; the frequency of the acts; the presence of any intervening circumstances; and the relationship between the parties.[10]

14. A "sexual offense" means an offense punishable under the UCMJ, or a crime under federal or state law, involving: (1) any conduct prohibited by Article 120; (2) any conduct prohibited by 18 U.S.C. chapter 109A; (3) contact, without consent, between any part of the accused's body, or an object held or controlled by the accused, and another person's genitals or anus; (4) contact, without consent, between the accused's genitals or anus and any part of another person's body; (5) contact with the aim of deriving sexual pleasure or gratification from inflicting death, bodily injury, or physical pain on another person; or (6) an attempt or conspiracy to engage in conduct described above.[11]

15. To demonstrate that an accused sexually assaulted someone without consent, the government must show: (i) That the accused committed a sexual act upon another person; and (ii) That the accused did so without the consent of the other person.[12]

16. Mistake of fact is a defense to sexual assault. "Mistake of fact" means the accused held, as a result of ignorance or mistake, an incorrect belief that the other person consented to the sexual conduct.[13]

17. When determining the admissibility of evidence under M.R.E. 413, the military must consider defenses when considering the strength of proof and the probative weight of the evidence.[14]

ARGUMENT

18. Evidence the CSSN Copeland kissed or tried to kiss L.L. without her consent is not evidence of CSSN Copeland's commission of another offense of sexual assault.

As a threshold issue, the allegation that CSSN Copeland kissed L.L. without her consent is not a violation of Article 120 of the UCMJ nor is it a sexual offense as defined in M.R.E. 413. Therefore, testimony regarding nonconsensual kissing cannot be used as evidence of CSSN Copeland's propensity to commit any other sexual offense.

19. The government cannot demonstrate by a preponderance of the evidence that a sexual offense occurred.

The government provided notice that it intends to offer evidence at trial that CSSN Copeland touched L.L.'s vulva (through the clothing) and kissed her without consent. The only evidence comes from L.L. The trial counsel has not talked to L.L.[15] From the summary of L.L.'s own forensic interview, it seems clear that L.L. was a teenager with a strong motive fabricate – she was concerned she was going to get in trouble with her mother for hanging out with a boy that she was not supposed be hanging out with anymore. Further, the police were unable to find any corroborating evidence and the other witness told police that L.L. was giggling and did not verbalize any issues. The witness did not see a sexual assault. The investigation was closed, and no charges were filed. There was no sexual assault, and the government should be precluded from eliciting evidence of this allegation.

20. The government failed to state in its notice the relevant purpose for which this evidence will be used.

The government simply states that it will be used for propensity without articulating what exactly CSSN Copeland has a propensity for or why it is relevant to this case. Therefore, without more, this evidence should be excluded.

21. The evidence the government seeks to admit should be excluded because the probative value is substantially outweighed by the dangers of unfair prejudice, confusing the issues, misleading the members and wasting time.

Even if this Court finds that L.L. alleged a crime and that the government can demonstrate it by a preponderance of the evidence, this evidence still must be excluded because any probative value would be far outweighed by the danger of unfair prejudice.

22. The strength of the proof of the other act

The strength of proof of the uncharged conduct is low. As stated above, no charges were filed, the case was closed, there is no corroborating evidence, the only other witness who was interviewed contradicts L.L., and L.L. had a strong motive to fabricate as she was a teenager who did not want to get in trouble with her mother for hanging out with a guy she was no longer supposed to be around. As CAAF stated in Solomon, this Court must consider potential defenses when considering the strength of the proof and the probative value.

23. The probative weight of the evidence

Not only is the strength of the evidence weak, this allegation carries no probative value regarding the charged offenses. In the charged offenses, the government alleges adult sexual conduct. L.L. and CSSN Copeland were both children who had previously been in a dating relationship. The alleged incident with L.L. occurred two years before the first charged conduct. In the allegations in specifications 1 and 2 of Charge I, CSSN Copeland is alleged to have touched a co-worker with force or without consent – ABHAN C.R. further alleges strangulation.[16] ABHAN C.R. and CSSN Copeland have no prior dating relationship. Likewise, the allegations made by L.L. are nothing like the allegations made by Y.J. Again, CSSN Copeland was an adult in May 2025 and Y.J. alleges penetration that occurred in a barracks room.

As stated in United States v. Berry, the probative value of events that occurred during childhood or adolescence have reduced probative value, and the government must be able to demonstrate their probative value by competent evidence.[17] Here, the alleged incident of nonconsensual groping by a teenage CSSN Copeland has little probative value on the very serious allegations on the charge sheet in this case.

24. The possible distraction of the fact-finder

This evidence would be a distraction to the fact-finder that would paint CSSN Copeland as a bad seed – as someone who has been bad since he was a child. Further, L.L. was a younger child, and it may make CSSN Copeland look like a person who takes advantage of children. This has absolutely no relevance to the charged offenses. However, it will distract the members from the central issues – whether the charged offenses occurred.

25. The time needed to prove the prior conduct

To demonstrate to the members by a preponderance of the evidence that CSSN sexually assaulted L.L., the government would be required to call at the very least L.L. However, the defense would then call the other people at the party who contradict L.L.'s statements, a child forensic psychologist, and L.L.'s mom. This would lead to "trial within a trial."

26. The temporal proximity of the other event

The incident alleged in the government's M.R.E. 413 notice occurred at least two years before the charged offenses. Further, CSSN Copeland was a child, in high school, at the time of the alleged incident with L.L.

27. The frequency of the acts

L.L. alleged just one time that Jermiah Copeland touched her without consent.

28. The presence of any intervening circumstances

Between the June 2022 and July 2024, there was a significant intervening circumstance – CSSN Copeland became an adult and joined the Navy.[18]

[17] 61 M.J. 91, 96-97 (C.A.A.F. 2005).

[18] Cf. United States v. Berry, 61 M.J. 91, 96-97 (C.A.A.F. 2005). Between the ages of twelve and seventeen, adolescents undergo a critical period of transition during which they experience rapid transformations in emotional, intellectual, physical, and social capacities. Even older adolescents, whose raw intellectual capacities may rival those of adults, have less experience on which to draw in making and evaluating choices. In short, adolescents are not simply miniature adults. Id. (internal citation omitted). "When projecting on a child the mens rea of an adult or extrapolating an adult mens rea from the acts of a child, military judges must take care to meaningfully analyze the different phases of the accused's development rather than treat those phases as being unaffected by time, experience, and maturity. Where a military judge finds that the prior "sexual assault" acts of a child or adolescent are probative to an act

29. The relationship between the parties

L.L. went to the same high school as Jermiah Copeland and they were in a previous dating relationship. However, ABHAN C.R. was a co-worker he only knew as an adult and Y.J. was a woman he had prior sexual relationship with, who he also only knew as an adult.

RELIEF REQUESTED

Pursuant to Rule for Courts-Martial (R.C.M.) 906 and Military Rules for Evidence (M.R.E.) 401, 402, 403, and 413, the defense moves this Court to exclude the following evidence cited in the government's notice pursuant to M.R.E. 413.

1) That, in June 2022, when CSSN Copeland was a minor child in high school, he allegedly touched L.L.'s vulva without her consent; and

2) That, in June 2022, CSSN Copeland kissed L.S. without her consent.

1. Pursuant to Military Rule of Evidence 404(b), the Government provides notice that it seeks to introduce the following evidence to establish common scheme, motive, and intent for the sole Specification of Charge II (Strangulation), Specification 1 of Charge V (Domestic Violence – Strangulation), and the sole Specification of Charge VII (Premeditated Murder) as well as lack of accident for the sole Specification of Charge VII (Premeditated Murder):

a. The Accused's history of strangulation as it relates to his actions toward ABHAN C.R. in the sole Specification of Charge II and CSSN S.R. in Specification 1 of Charge V, as well as the evidence consistent with the Accused's strangulation of CS3 A.R. in the sole Specification of Charge VII discussed in detail below.

b. The above-cited evidence provides good faith that these other acts occurred. Both the strangulation of ABHAN C.R. and the strangulation of CSSN S.R. were reported separately by each victim and neither had knowledge of the other. Both described being strangled by the Accused. The evidence supports that the Accused strangled CS3 A.R. as well. The medical examiner determined that CS3 A.R.'s death was consistent with strangulation. The medical examiner also ruled out blunt force trauma, stabbing, or shooting as potential causes of death and there were no findings to suggest suicide, overdose, or death by natural causes. CS3 A.R. made a panicked call for help at 0214 to ET3 Daniel Rich, USN, on 29 May 2025 while she was with the Accused. The Accused took the phone and asked ET3 Rich how far away he was. CS3 A.R. was never heard from by her loved ones again. Between 01:52:58-2:30:23, the Accused's heart rate rapidly increased and stayed between 125-128 bpm, spiking again at 130 bpm at 03:07:06. The Accused's suitemate reported hearing what he believed to be karaoke in the common room around that time, but did not investigate. The blood found at the scene was limited to the closet area where the Accused stored the body, suggesting no blood-producing injury occurred and eyewitnesses did not observe any obvious wounds on CS3 A.R.'s body just hours after she was murdered. In fact, they believed she was asleep. As discussed in paragraph 3.c.(1) below, the Accused also had a strong motive to murder CS3 A.R. at the time he did so.

c. The Accused's history of strangulation is offered to establish common scheme, motive, and intent for the sole Specification of Charge II (Strangulation), Specification 1 of Charge V

(Domestic Violence – Strangulation), and the sole Specification of Charge VII (Premeditated Murder) as well as lack of accident for the sole Specification of Charge VII (Premeditated Murder):

(1) Reasoning in support of common scheme for the sole Specification of Charge II, Specification 1 of Charge V, and the sole Specification of Charge VII.

i. The Accused has a demonstrated history of using strangulation to exert control over women to get them to comply. The Accused strangled ABHAN C.R. when she resisted his sexual advances. In that case, the Accused used strangulation to exert control over ABHAN C.R. and obtain his desired sexual gratification. The Accused similarly strangled CSSN S.R., his intimate partner, when she confronted him about his infidelity. The Accused did so again to gain control of his victim, in this case to stop her from arguing with him. As evidenced by these two occasions, the Accused is quick to use strangulation to assert control over a situation to get what he wants.

ii. The Accused applied this common scheme and again exerted control over CS3 A.R. by strangling her, just as he did with ABHAN C.R. and CSSN S.R. In the case of CS3 A.R., the Accused decided to strangle her to control her and prevent her from reporting misconduct to either ET3 Rich or the Accused's suitemates, as discussed in paragraph 2(c)(1) below.

iii. The Accused's strangulation of CS3 A.R. was approximately one month after his strangulation of CSSN S.R. All three strangulation events occurred within a year of each other and reflect a common scheme of controlling women to get them to comply.

(2) Reasoning in support of motive for the sole Specification of Charge II, Specification 1 of Charge V, and the sole Specification of Charge VII. As noted in 1.c.(1) above, the Accused sought control over both ABHAN C.R. and CSSN S.R. The Accused's strangulation of CS3 A.R. was motivated by the same desire for control.

(3) Reasoning in support of intent for the sole Specification of Charge II, Specification 1 of Charge V, and the sole Specification of Charge VII. As noted in 1.c.(1) above, the Accused used strangulation as a method to assert control over his victims. Specific to CS3 A.R., the Accused intended to control CS3 A.R. by strangling her to death, for the reasons discussed in paragraph 2.c.(1) below.

(4) Reasoning in support of lack of accident for the sole Specification of Charge VII. This evidence of the Accused's common scheme of strangulation of female victims will also be offered to show that CS3 A.R.'s death was not an accident. While there is no evidence to suggest CS3 A.R. died of natural causes, committed suicide, or otherwise unintentionally overdosed, this evidence of strangulation establishes her death was not an accident but an intentional action of the Accused. Moreover, the Accused demonstrated with ABHAN C.R. and CSSN S.R. that he could strangle someone and stop short of killing them. That the Accused was capable of this demonstrates he did not unintentionally strangle CS3 A.R. for too long and accidentally murder her.

2. Pursuant to Military Rule of Evidence 404(b), the Government provides notice that it seeks to introduce the following evidence to establish knowledge and motive for the sole Specification of Charge VII (Premeditated Murder):

a. On 25 May 2025, Y.J. was in the Accused's barracks room. Two friends in the common area heard her telling the Accused to "stop" penetrating her vagina and entered the room to stop the Accused from continuing.

b. The above-cited evidence provides good faith that these other acts occurred. These events were reported by Y.J. and are corroborated by the witnesses who responded to her request for the Accused to "stop."

c. That others heard a victim ask the Accused to "stop" from another room within the Accused's barracks room is offered to establish knowledge and motive for the sole Specification of Charge VII (Premeditated Murder):

(1) Reasoning in support of knowledge and motive for the sole Specification of Charge VII. The above-described interaction with Y.J. occurred only 4 days prior to the night CS3 A.R. was murdered and both events took place in the same barracks room. For the reasons detailed in paragraph 3.c.(1) below, the Accused had a motive to murder CS3 A.R. This event with Y.J. was fresh on his mind and the Accused knew that his suitemates would be able to hear CS3 A.R. cry for help. The Accused also knew that his suitemates may be able to hear him murder CS3 A.R. if he chose a loud mechanism for doing so. As a result, the Accused was motivated to murder CS3 A.R. before his suitemates responded and he did so by strangulation because he knew it would be quiet.

3. Pursuant to M.R.E. 404(b), the Government provides notice that it seeks to introduce the following evidence to establish motive, intent, and lack of accident for the sole Specification of Charge VII (Premeditated Murder) as well as consciousness of guilt for Specification 3 of Charge I (Sexual Assault) and both Specifications of Charge III (Indecent Recording and Broadcasting):

a. In July of 2024, the Accused was accused of sexual misconduct by ABHAN A.R. and was aware he was under investigation by NCIS for that accusation. He stated that ABHAN A.R. "put a case on him." In November of 2024, the Accused was accused by CSSN S.S. of a separate sexual assault and other offenses. The Accused reported that CSSN S.S. "put a charge" on him and that he "caught a case." He told her that his life was ruined. Nearly immediately after this accusation, he became inconsolable, threatened to kill himself, and repeatedly attempted to genuinely kill himself by walking in front of approximately three trains before being recovered by ship security and brought back to the ship.

b. The above-cited evidence provides good faith that these other acts occurred. The Accused's actions after being confronted by CSSN S.S. were observed by eyewitnesses and members of the ship had to recover him and return him to the ship to stop his attempted self-harm. The Accused statements to CSSN S.S. about his desire to kill himself are recorded in text messages.

c. The Accused's reaction to an allegation of sexual assault is offered to establish motive, intent, and lack of accident with respect to the sole Specification of Charge VII (Premeditated Murder):

(1) Reasoning in support of motive for the sole Specification of Charge VII.

i. When CSSN S.S. made accusations against the Accused in November 2024, the Accused immediately demonstrated he was willing to take extreme and violent measures by attempting to kill himself.

ii. CS3 A.R. made a panicked call to ET3 Rich for help at 0214; a call the Accused denies occurred despite call records to the contrary. It is evident from that call that the Accused had done something to CS3 A.R. to cause distress. The Accused murdered CS3 A.R. shortly after that call.

iii. That call was prompted by an unwanted sexual advance and the Accused murdered her to prevent her from making a report. After CS3 A.R. went missing, the Accused self-servingly told investigators and his roommate that nothing sexual occurred that night between the two of them. Comparatively, the Accused advised another Sailor, CS2 Rezan Taylor, USN, that CS3 A.R. and he were making out, but that he had turned her down after she wanted to go further and this upset her. Both of these statements conflict with the accounts of the Accused's roommates, who described the Accused and CS3 A.R. as partially naked on top of each other on the floor of the common area later on the morning of 29 May. Consistent with their nudity and illuminated by the Accused's self-serving false and half-true statements (a common scheme detailed below) to CS2 Taylor, his roommate, and investigators, sexual conduct occurred between the Accused and CS3 A.R. Given the nature of CS3 A.R.'s plea for help, that sexual conduct was unwanted.

v. Motivated to prevent another report being made against him, the Accused made a decision to murder CS3 A.R. after his unwelcome advance. On the call, the Accused asked ET3 Rich how far away he was to determine how long he had to prevent another case against him from being reported. CS3 A.R. was never heard from again despite significant search efforts from interested parties immediately following the call.

vi. Just as he had an extreme and violent response to a second reported allegation against him from CSSN S.S., here he formed the premeditated intent to murder CS3 A.R. before she could make a third report, as discussed in paragraph 1.b. While the Government cannot say specifically what that unwanted sexual advance was, the Accused's lies about that evening combined with CS3 A.R.'s cry for help and their state of undress that morning indicate that something inappropriate occurred and provided a motive for him to commit premeditated murder.

(2) Reasoning in support of intent for the sole Specification of Charge VII. As noted in 2.c.(1) above, the Accused formed the premeditated intent to murder CS3 A.R. because he did not believe he could overcome a third reported allegation. He was willing to kill himself after CSSN S.S.'s allegation, underscoring the extreme intent he is capable of. Anything less than murder would have been insufficient as it would have left her as a witness against him.

(3) Reasoning in support of lack of accident for the sole Specification of Charge VII. As noted in 2.c.(1) above, this evidence of the Accused's extreme desire to avoid an allegation even if by suicide establishes that CS3 A.R.'s death was not an accident, but the result of an intentional action of the Accused.

(4) Reasoning in support of consciousness of guilt for the for Specification 3 of Charge I and both Specifications of Charge III. The Accused's instant and extreme response by attempting suicide after he was accused of this charged misconduct by CSSN S.S. demonstrates a consciousness of guilt as to his actions towards her.

4. Pursuant to M.R.E. 404(b), the Government provides notice that it seeks to introduce the following evidence to establish common scheme and consciousness of guilt for Specifications 1-3 of Charge I (Sexual Contact and Sexual Assault), the sole Specification of Charge II (Strangulation), both Specifications of Charge III (Indecent Recording and Broadcasting), Specifications 1 and 3 of Charge IV (Obstruction of Justice), both Specifications of Charge VI (False Official Statement), and the sole Specification of Charge VII (Premeditated Murder) as well as intent for both Specifications of Charge VI (False Official Statement):

a. The Government believes the below evidence is res gestae, but offers it here in an abundance of caution. Evidence of the Accused's history of telling half-truths to mislead investigators. The Accused has described himself as a "king manipulator" and acknowledged an intent to "get [his] story straight" and applies that manipulating behavior to the criminal investigations pending against him. This is not merely lying. Over the course of five separate investigations and several more interviews with investigators, the Accused has demonstrated a calculated pattern of (1) admitting only uncontroverted facts, (2) shifting when he realizes he is challenged with credible evidence or investigative steps, (3) fabricating favorable events where possible, and (4) never admitting to the most serious misconduct for which there is only one witness (the victim).

(1) During two separate investigations into pre-service misconduct, the Accused made misleading statements as follows:

i. In May 2022, when the Accused was in high school, a fellow student accused him of unlawfully recording a sexual encounter between them with his phone. Investigators obtained a warrant for the Accused's phone after he admitted to recording it, but the Accused advised his mother had taken his phone away preventing him from giving it to investigators. The Accused's mother advised that she told the Accused to put his phone on her dresser, but found out he had only put the case for his phone there instead. The Accused then advised he had misplaced the phone. The phone was never recovered. This evidence meets categories (1) and (2).

ii. In June 2022, L.L. alleged that the Accused was at her home and they were sitting on the couch together. The Accused touched her vulva with his hand without her consent, despite her continually moving his hand away and telling him "no." He also pressured her to hug and kissed her without her consent. The Accused gave a half-true statement to investigators, agreeing that he was with L.L. on the couch but denied touching her inappropriately and denied kissing L.L. without consent, only that he attempted to kiss her. The Accused also told investigators that L.L. had sent him nude photographs and messages asking to be "fucked," but when asked the Accused advised he did not have those messages. This evidence meets categories (1)-(4).

(2) The accused made misleading statements during investigations into ABHAN C.R. and CSSN S.S. as follows:

i. The Accused made half-true statements about strangling ABHAN C.R. and his sexual interest in her. ABHAN C.R. told investigators that after talking with the Accused, the Accused strangled her, touched her intimate areas, and attempted to kiss her. The Accused downplayed the sexual nature of his interaction with ABHAN C.R. and that he strangled her, only admitting that he lightly choked her. Specifically, when asked by NCIS about this misconduct, he told investigators:

A. That they were "flirting," but he also denied being romantically or sexually interested in her. This evidence meets category (1).

B. When asked if he strangled ABHAN C.R., he stated "oh okay yeah I have but it wasn't like a weird way," and stated he put one hand around her neck without applying any pressure after she pinched his arm. The Accused also admitted that he told ABHAN C.R. that he heard she liked to be choked. Nonetheless, the Accused denied any sexual touching or attempted sexual touching took place. This evidence meets categories (1), (3), and (4).

ii. The Accused made half-true statements by admitting to recording and broadcasting a sexual encounter with CSSN S.S. but conveniently lied about the whereabouts of his phone and later "lost" the recording of that encounter when he got a "new" phone. CSSN S.S. alleged she was sexually assaulted while incapable of consenting and that the Accused recorded and broadcast the sexual assault to others without her consent. The Accused admitted to sex with CSSN S.S. but said it was consensual, said that the interaction seemed "too good to be true," told investigators he did not know if CSSN S.S. was aware he was recording, and admitted to showing others the recording. When asked about his phone, the Accused lied to investigators about its whereabouts. Specifically, he told NCIS another Sailor had the phone, but that Sailor denied ever having it and investigators were unable to locate it after searching. When the Accused acquired a "new" phone, he recovered digital evidence for investigators, but no longer had the video of his sexual encounter with CSSN S.S. This evidence meets categories (1)-(4).

iii. The Accused also denied any misconduct when initially confronted by CSSN S.S. (who had no memory of the event) and told CSSN S.S. that they did not have sex, despite later admitting they did once it became clear that others were reporting they had seen the video. This evidence meets categories (2) and (3).

(3) After an investigation into CS3 A.R.'s disappearance, the Accused made several half-true statements to mislead during the early days of CS3 A.R.'s disappearance and follow-on investigation. Most notably:

i. On 29 May 2025:

A. The Accused told FCC Bradley Parker, USN, that early on the morning of her disappearance, CS3 A.R. was having personal issues and was seeking help, so he picked her up and brought her to his barracks room to discuss them. But this is not why or how they were together. CS3 A.R. came to the Accused's barracks room to make tacos and hang out on the evening of 28 May 2025. CS3 A.R. only made a call for help at 0214 on 29 May 2025 to ET3 Rich, discussed above, and no one else. FCC Parker was aware CS3 A.R. was seeking help that night because he had spoken to ET3 Rich. The Accused advised him that CS3 A.R. had called several people and he was the first to get to her. The Accused turned CS3 A.R.'s call for help to ET3 Rich into a narrative to make himself look better and more trusted while he concealed her dead body on his bed. This evidence meets categories (1), (3), and (4).

B. According to FCC Parker, the Accused was acting like he had just woken up and took a significant amount of time to answer the door, further indicating he had been sleeping. But the Accused had been awake since at least 0728, as demonstrated by his record of watching pornography nearly constantly from 0728-1150 that morning. Instead, he was concealing CS3 A.R.'s body and concocting a narrative. Relatedly, the Accused told FCC Parker his phone died and his alarm did not go off which is why he was not at work. But his phone was on and charged. This evidence meets categories (1), (3), and (4).

C. The Accused told FCC Parker he had a ride to work to get him to leave. He did not and he did not check in to work until 1 June 2025. This evidence meets category (3).

ii. On 1 June 2025:

A. The Accused told investigators that while CS3 A.R. was at his barracks room on 29 May 2025, PSSN Irbin Gordillocruz, USN, a suitemate of the Accused, came into the common area to ask if CS3 A.R. was okay as she was upset.

But PSSN Gordillocruz denied this occurred. He states he arrived to the unit around 0400 but the lights were off and he did not see anyone in the dark common area. This evidence meets categories (1) and (3).

B. The Accused maintained his lie that FCC Parker woke him and CS3 A.R. up on 29 May 2025 when he came to the room around 0900. CS3 A.R. was already dead and the Accused was already awake, as noted above. This evidence meets categories (1), (3), and (4).

C. The Accused told investigators he borrowed his roommate's car and dropped CS3 A.R. back at her barracks around 1000 on 29 May 2025. The Accused provided later that CS3 A.R. left of her own accord. None of the Accused's roommates allowed him to borrow a vehicle at that time. And, perhaps most notably, CS3 A.R. was already dead. There is no evidence to suggest she left the barracks room while alive. This evidence meets categories (1) and (3).

iii. On 2 June 2025:

A. During this interview of the Accused, an iPhone was found during a contemporaneous search in his barracks room. The Accused told investigators the phone did not work, but investigative efforts later determined that it did work and this had been a lie. This evidence meets category (3).

B. As discussed above, the Accused provided his encounter with CS3 A.R. was not a sexual encounter, but CS3 A.R. was described as partially naked by the Accused's roommates and he told CS3 Taylor that CS3 A.R. and he had begun making out in his bed and she wanted to go further sexually, but the Accused stopped it. As detailed above, this is not true. This evidence meets category (3) and (4).

C. The Accused told investigators that CS3 A.R. did not make a call for help or to be picked up. But she called ET3 Rich in a panic at 0214 asking to be picked up and the Accused took the phone to speak with him. This evidence meets category (3).

D. The Accused told investigators CS3 A.R. spent a significant amount of time on the phone with an ex-boyfriend from Texas, but there is no evidence to suggest that occurred. This evidence meets category (3).

E. The Accused re-iterated his lie about PSSN Gordillocruz checking on CS3 A.R. to ensure she was okay. This evidence meets category (3).

F. The Accused stated he slept in his bed with CS3 A.R. and denied being naked on the floor of the common area. But they were found on the common area floor by all three roommates in a state of undress before being seen in the Accused's bed by FCC Parker later that morning. This evidence meets category (3).

G. The Accused stated his unauthorized absence (UA) status was a big misunderstanding and he did not know he was UA because he was not scheduled to work. But FCC Parker repeatedly told him to check in over the weekend. This evidence meets category (3).

H. The Accused denied telling investigators he had dropped CS3 A.R. off at her barracks room on 29 May 2025, in contrast with her previous statement. This evidence meets category (3) and (4).

I. The Accused denied knowing where CS3 A.R. was. This evidences meets categories (3) and (4).

iii. On 6 June 2025:

A. The Accused re-iterated several of his 2 June lies, including that CS3 A.R. called an ex-boyfriend from Texas, that nothing sexual occurred, that FCC Parker woke him up, and that he did not know CS3 A.R. was. This evidence meets categories (3) and (4).

B. The Accused also acknowledged he did not drop CS3 A.R. off as stated previously. This evidence meets category (2).

b. The above-cited evidence provides good faith that these other acts occurred. These statements were made by the Accused to investigators or other witnesses and are often corroborated by other investigative actions.

c. The Accused's history of telling half-truths as a "king manipulator" is offered to establish common scheme and consciousness of guilt for Specifications 1-3 of Charge I (Sexual Contact and Sexual Assault), the sole Specification of Charge II (Strangulation), both Specifications of Charge III (Indecent Recording and Broadcasting), Specifications 1 and 3 of Charge IV (Obstruction of Justice), both Specifications of Charge VI (False Official Statement), and the sole Specification of Charge VII (Premeditated Murder) as well as intent for both Specifications of Charge VI (False Official Statement):

(1) Reasoning in support of common scheme for Specifications 1-3 of Charge I, the sole Specification of Charge II, both Specifications of Charge III, Specifications 1 and 3 of Charge IV, both Specifications of Charge VI, and the sole Specification of Charge VII. The Accused's common scheme of providing half-true information in a calculated manner demonstrates a pattern with the goal of misleading investigators after he "get[s his] story straight." The sheer number of half-truths across various investigations demonstrates he is a deliberate liar—a "king manipulator"—and he uses this scheme of different types of lies as noted above to delay and obfuscate investigations. This is a very particular method of lying. That he consistently gives enough information to admit to an event without inculpating himself of the most serious misconduct, fabricates accounts where he believes he will not be challenged, and misleads investigators as to the state of the evidence demonstrates a willful scheme to mislead that becomes more probative the more it is replicated. That these lies often contain some level of the truth makes his lies about what happened between himself and CS3 A.R. particularly illuminating, as he is the only witness still alive. And because this is a common scheme, these lies are more easily distilled down to what actually occurred, as described in paragraph 2.c.(1).ii, such as the fact that the Accused made the unwanted sexual advance on CS3 A.R. and not the other way around as he described to CS2 Taylor.

(2) Reasoning in support of consciousness of guilt for Specifications 1-3 of Charge I, the sole Specification of Charge II, both Specifications of Charge III, Specifications 1 and 3 of Charge IV, both Specifications of Charge VI, and the sole Specification of Charge VII. For the reasons outlined in paragraph 3.c.(1) above, the Accused's history of half-truths demonstrates an intentional pattern of misleading investigators to exculpate himself, demonstrating a consciousness of guilt for his misconduct.

(3) Reasoning in support of intent for both Specifications of Charge VI. The Accused's repeated history of half-truths to mislead investigators and others demonstrates that his false statements to investigators in these Specifications are intentional.

5. Pursuant to M.R.E. 404(b), the Government provides notice that it seeks to introduce the following evidence to establish common scheme and lack of accident for Specifications 1 and 3 of Charge IV (Obstruction of Justice) and consciousness of guilt for Specification 3 of Charge I (Sexual Assault), both Specifications of Charge III (Indecent Recording and Broadcasting), all Specifications of Charge IV (Obstruction of Justice), both Specifications of Charge VI (False Official Statement), and the sole Specification of Charge VII (Murder):

a. The Accused has a history of hiding his phone from investigators when under criminal investigation.

i. In May 2022, when the Accused was in high school, a fellow student accused the Accused of unlawfully recording a sexual encounter between them with his phone. Investigators obtained a warrant for the Accused's phone, but the Accused advised his mother had taken his phone away, preventing him from giving it to them. The Accused's mother advised that she told the Accused to put his phone on her dresser, but found out he had only put the case for his phone there instead. The Accused then advised he had misplaced his phone. His phone was never recovered.

ii. In November 2024, after CSSN S.S. accused the Accused of misconduct, he hid his cell phone from investigators and lied and said he had given it to a friend before saying it was lost. When he later provided digital evidence to investigators, he advised he had gotten a "new" phone and no longer had the video in question.

iii. On 2 June 2025, when questioned about the disappearance of CS3 A.R., the Accused advised that the cell phone found in his barracks room would not turn on. However, investigative steps later determined that the phone was operational at the time. When investigators sought to seize that phone on 9 June 2025, the phone was missing from the Accused's belongings and never recovered.

iv. The Accused has also conducted online research on what a phone search can return, including queries such as: (1) "can police fet [ph.] infirmation [ph.] from reset phone;" (2) "ncis co cosign my phone;" and (2) "what do police do when they seuze [ph.] your phone;" (4) "ncis took my phone;" and (5) "can ncis take your phone off allegations."

b. The above-cited evidence provides good faith that these other acts occurred. These facts are supported by the accounts of criminal investigators and the Accused's own statements, as well as a digital extraction of one of the Accused's phones.

c. This evidence of the Accused hiding his phone when placed under investigation is offered to establish common scheme for Specifications 1 and 3 of Charge IV (Obstruction of Justice) and consciousness of guilt for Specification 3 of Charge I (Sexual Assault), both Specifications of Charge III (Indecent Recording and Broadcasting), all Specifications of Charge IV (Obstruction of Justice), both Specifications of Charge VI (False Official Statement), and the sole Specification of Charge VII (Murder):

(1) Reasoning in support of common scheme and lack of accident for Specifications 1 and 3 of Charge IV. The Accused has demonstrated a common scheme of lying and hiding his phone when under investigation for an offense that he perceives may result in his phone being seized. He did this with the pre-service allegations against him in May 2022, he did it again with the allegations of CSSN S.S. in November of 2024, and he did it most recently when being investigated for crimes related to the disappearance of CS3 A.R. This evidence also supports that him misplacing his phone is not an accident, but an intentional effort to obstruct justice.

(2) Reasoning in support of consciousness of guilt for Specification 3 of Charge I, both Specifications of Charge III, all Specifications of Charge IV, both Specifications of Charge VI the sole Specification of Charge VII. The Accused hides his phone intuitively because it contains incriminating information on it. The Accused's online search history supports that belief. That he lied and hid his phone repeatedly from investigators indicates a consciousness of guilt for all offenses related to both CSSN S.S. and CS3 A.R. Moreover, his Google search history supports that he did so with the specific intent to limit an investigation into misconduct.

6. Pursuant to M.R.E. 404(b), the Government provides notice that it seeks to introduce the following evidence to establish common scheme, knowledge, and intent for both Specifications of Charge III (Indecent Recording and Broadcasting):

a. The Accused recorded and broadcast a sexual encounter with a female victim in high school in May of 2022 without her consent.

b. The above-cited evidence provides good faith that these other acts occurred. These facts are supported by the accounts of witnesses and the Accused's own statements.

c. This evidence of the Accused recording and broadcasting sexual encounters is offered to establish common scheme, knowledge, and intent for both Specifications of Charge III (Indecent Recording and Broadcasting):

(1) Reasoning in support of common scheme, knowledge, and intent for both Specifications of Charge III. The Accused has demonstrated a common scheme of recording and broadcasting sexual encounters without consent, just as he did with CSSN S.S. This evidence also supports that the Accused knew when he recorded and broadcast his encounter with CSSN S.S. that this conduct was wrongful absent her consent and that doing so without her consent was intentional.

7. Pursuant to M.R.E. 404(b), the Government provides notice that it seeks to introduce the following evidence to establish motive and intent for Specification 1 of Charge V (Domestic Violence – Strangulation):

a. The Accused makes an "evil" grin when assaulting women.

b. The above-cited evidence provides good faith that these other acts occurred. This account is from a victim of the Accused's pre-service misconduct, L.L. She alleges that while he touched her vulva without consent, he had an "evil" grin.

c. This "evil" grin by the Accused is offered to prove motive, intent, and identity with respect to Specification 1 of Charge V.

(1) Reasoning in support of motive and intent for Specification 1 of Charge V. CSSN S.R. described the Accused as smiling while he strangled her. This description mirrors the "evil" grin described by L.L., identifying the Accused as the perpetrator and establishing further that the Accused enjoys and intends nonconsensual touching of women.

8. Pursuant to M.R.E. 404(b), the Government provides notice that it seeks to introduce the following evidence to establish consciousness of guilt for Specification 2 of Charge IV (Obstruction of Justice), both Specifications of Charge VI (False Official Statement), and the sole Specification of Charge VII (Murder):

a. The Government believes the below evidence outlining various actions of the Accused related to CS3 A.R.'s murder are res gestae, but offer them here in an abundance of caution. The Government provides notice of the following evidence:

(1) The Accused hid in various barracks lounges from 29 May 2025-1 June 2025 after he murdered CS3 A.R. When security from the ship came to find him on 1 June 2025, he hid in the bathroom on the fifth floor of his barracks. The Accused's roommate also stated that the Accused was leaving very early and returning very late over that weekend, which was highly unusual for him.

(2) During the period of 29 May 2025 to 1 June 2025, the Accused was in an unauthorized absence status and was repeatedly notified that he needed to check-in, but he ignored those requests. Indeed, despite dozens of inquiries as to his whereabouts from both his ship and his friends that the Accused viewed on his phone, the Accused generally did not answer his phone or respond to text messages from 29 May 2025 until 1 June 2025.

(3) The Accused encouraged his roommate to leave the room, which was an unusual request.

(4) The Accused disposed of CS3 A.R.'s body in a wooded area on 2 June 2025. The Accused turned his phone on Airplane mode after he decided where to place the body and turned it off of Airplane mode when he was done placing her in the woods. Specifically, he placed his phone on Airplane mode at 04:48:08 on 2 June 2025 when he drove to a pinned location (where the body was found) and turned it off at 05:16:13 when he left the site.

(5) At 1311 the day he murdered CS3 A.R., the Accused searched for a trip to "Bermuda." In the days following his murder of CS3 A.R., the Accused searched online for "virginia airport" on 3 and 10 June 2025 and "norfolk airport" on 3 June 2025.

(6) As discussed in detail above, during the investigation into CS3 A.R.'s disappearance, the Accused lied about various things, including: (1) that he dropped CS3 A.R. off at her barracks on 29 May 2025, (2) that he did not know where CS3 A.R. was, (3) that the iPhone found in his room on 3 June 2025 did not work, (4) that CS3 A.R. did not call anyone for a ride from his barracks room on 29 May 2025, (5) that CS3 A.R. was on the phone with her ex-boyfriend from Texas on 29 May 2025, (6) that CS3 A.R. had wanted to go further sexually when they were together on 29 May 2025, but he declined, and (7) that he slept with CS3 A.R. in his bed that night and not on the floor.

(7) The Accused told his roommate nothing sexual occurred between himself and CS3 A.R. on 29 May 2025, in contrast to what he told CS3 Taylor and despite them being in a state of undress together on the floor of the common area that morning.

(8) The Accused hid and/or destroyed his second iPhone prior to going to the brig on 9 June 2025, as discussed above.

(9) The Accused turned off location services on his phone on 29 May 2025, including Life360 which had been on constantly for approximately one year and shared with another person.

(10) The Accused called and texted CS3 A.R. on 1 June 2025 asking where she was and notifying her of her UA status despite knowing she was deceased and her body was in his closet.

b. The above-cited evidence provides good faith that these other acts occurred. It is either from data extracted from the Accused's phone, from the Accused's own statements, or from statements of eyewitnesses.

c. These actions by the Accused in the hours and days following the murder of CS3 A.R. are offered to show consciousness of guilt for Specification 2 of Charge IV (Obstruction of Justice), both Specifications of Charge VI (False Official Statement), and the sole Specification of Charge VII (Murder):

(1) Reasoning in support of consciousness of guilt for Specification 2 of Charge IV, both Specifications of Charge VI, and the sole Specification of Charge VII. These actions include an intent to flee, an attempt to mislead, and an attempt to hide from investigators and others. They were taken close in time to the disappearance of CS3 A.R. and are those taken by someone with a guilty conscience.

9. Pursuant to M.R.E. 413, the Government provides notice that it seeks to introduce the following propensity evidence as relevant to the charged sexual misconduct in Specifications 1, 2, and 4 of Charge I (Abusive and Aggravated Sexual Contact and Sexual Assault).

a. In June 2022, the Accused touched L.L.'s vulva and kissed her without consent despite her repeatedly removing his hand and telling him "stop" and "no."

b. The above-cited evidence provides good faith that this other sexual misconduct occurred. This account is from a victim of the Accused's pre-service misconduct, L.L.

c. This propensity evidence is offered as relevant to Specifications 1 and 2 of Charge I. Specifically, the Accused's actions towards ABHAN C.R. in these charged offenses nearly mirror the Accused undeterred approach to sexual gratification with L.L. In both cases, the Accused ignored the victim's request to stop and his hands being repeatedly removed and continued with his unwanted sexual contact.

d. This propensity evidence is also offered as relevant to Specification 4 of Charge I. Specifically, the Accused refused to take no for an answer from Y.J., just as he did with L.L. In both cases, he continued with his sexual goals despite that objection.

10. For any specific evidentiary Bate Stamp citations, or if you have any questions or concerns, please contact me at (757) 341-4545 or at Christopher.dempsey2@navy.mil.

Narrative

Oak Harbor Police Department Officers Report

Officer: S. Ricci
Case/Incident Number: 22-O06199

On 06/26/2022 at 1951 hours, I responded, via phone, to a sex offense related complaint. The reporting party, Monica Lopez stated her 15 year old daughter, L[PII - Minor] L[PII - Minor], told her on Saturday (06/25/2022) that on Thursday (06/23/2022), a boy named Jeremiah Copeland, was making advances towards her. Jeremiah is 17 years old. Monica told me L[PII - Minor] said Jeremiah had groped her and tried to kiss her. Monica stated she would have to talk with her daughter about moving forward with an official investigation because she was currently on the fence about it. Monica informed me she would let me know by the evening of 06/27/2022. I provided her with my contact information. It was agreed upon that if I did not hear back from her by then, her daughter had made the decision to not move forward.

On 06/27/2022, I saw an email from Monica stating her daughter would like to move forward. We agreed to meet at their residence, located at [PII], [PII].

On arrival, I made contact with Monica. I activated my BWC and informed her the interaction would be audio and video recorded. Monica gave me permission to enter her residence where I met L[PII - Minor]. I also advised L[PII - Minor] the interaction would be audio and video recorded. We sat at the dining room table as L[PII - Minor] told me what happened.

L[PII - Minor] stated, on Thursday (06/23/2022), she was at a close family friend's house, Stephanie Johnson, whom she referred to as her aunt. She was there roughly between 1630-2245 hours. Stephanie lives at [PII] [PII]. L[PII - Minor] said she was there hanging out for the evening. Stephanie was not present; however, Stephanie's two kids and her boyfriend, Juan Izaguirre, were there. Stephanie's oldest son, B[PII - Minor] D[PII - Minor] (no other information provided), is around L[PII - Minor]'s age. L[PII - Minor] refers to B[PII - Minor] as her cousin. B[PII - Minor] is also friends with Jeremiah. All three of them attend(ed) Oak Harbor High School. Per L[PII - Minor], Jeremiah lives at [PII], with his mom and siblings. L[PII - Minor] stated she and Jeremiah used to date between 2020-2021. L[PII - Minor] said they no longer date and are not romantically involved.

L[PII - Minor] stated Jeremiah was invited over by B[PII - Minor]. She continued saying throughout the evening, Jeremiah would try to get close to her or get her attention but she would ignore him and/or walk away. L[PII - Minor] said sometime after dinner, L[PII - Minor] found herself in the living room alone with Jeremiah. She said B[PII - Minor] had gone up to his room for a bit to be alone. L[PII - Minor] said she was laying down on the couch on her side when Jeremiah came over and stood next to her. She said she tried to ignore him and pretend like she was tired and trying to sleep. She said Jeremiah leaned over her and began trying to kiss her. She said she felt his hand slide between her legs and begin to grope her "private area." L[PII - Minor] said she was wearing shorts and a t-shirt. L[PII - Minor] said she kept moving his hand away. She stated she told him "no." She said she felt disgusted. She told me she didn't want him to touch her and "didn't want it." She told me she didn't like him like that. She said she knew he could tell she didn't him to touch her.

During this, L[PII - Minor] said Jeremiah told her his mom said he needed to go back home. L[PII - Minor] said Jeremiah was stalling because she knew, without him saying it, he wanted her to get up and walk him home. L[PII - Minor] said, in the past, when they dated, she would walk with him or walk him to the door. L[PII - Minor] said she didn't want to do that. L[PII - Minor] said after Jeremiah continued to keep touching her, even after her many attempts to stop him, she felt the easiest and quickest way for this to end was to walk him to the front door so he could leave. L[PII - Minor] said she "finally gave in" by getting up and walking him to the door. She said at the door, he put his arms around her to hug her, but she refused to give him a hug back. She said she stood there motionless with her hands down by her side. She said Jeremiah then kissed her on the lips. She said she didn't kiss back and didn't have a desire to do so. She said he continued to try and kiss her more. She said she didn't feel like she could get away and wanted to do whatever she had to do to get him to leave. She said at one point, she even kissed him back and told him to leave already.

L[PII - Minor] said B[PII - Minor] happened to walk back downstairs during this time and walked out with Jeremiah. L[PII - Minor] said she didn't think B[PII - Minor] saw anything that happened.

While recounting what happened, L[PII - Minor] appeared upset and irritated with Jeremiah's behavior and what he had been doing. She also used words, such as "ewww" and "disgusted." L[PII - Minor] made it clear she did not like Jeremiah and she did not want to be around him, let alone to be alone with him.

L[PII - Minor] completed a written and signed statement form regarding the above. L[PII - Minor]'s written statement reflects the above with one addition. While at the door with Jeremiah, L[PII - Minor] stated Jeremiah told her "don't pretend to be sick" while he was trying to kiss her, indicating L[PII - Minor] was using that as an excuse to not kiss Jeremiah back.

Prior to ending the contact, I left Monica and L[PII - Minor] with a business card, which held the case number.

Please forward to detectives for further investigation and interviews.

End of report.

Supplement

Oak Harbor Police Department Officers Report

Officer: A. SCELZI 4O28 Case/Incident Number:

22-o06199

On the 29th of June 2022, I was assigned this case.

On the 30th of June 2022, I contacted Monica Lopez (DOB: PII) by phone. I confirmed her daughter L[PII - Minor] L[PII - Minor] (DOB: PII) was willing to do a forensic interview.

On the 11th of July 2022, L[PII - Minor] arrived for her interview with Child Forensic Interviewer Ms. Long, which I attended via Zoom.

L[PII - Minor] said she was inappropriately touched without her consent. L[PII - Minor] said on a Thursday (06/23/2022) at around 1300 her brother dropped her off at her mom's best friend's house, who she also calls her aunt and who was identified as Stephanie Johnson (DOB: PII). L[PII - Minor] remembered the number of the house being "PII." L[PII - Minor] said Stephanie's boyfriend Juan "Izzy" Izaguirre (DOB: PII PII) and her sons B[PII - Minor], C[PII - Minor], J[PII - Min], and A[PII - M] were at the house. L[PII - Minor] said they were all hanging out in the backyard when Jeremiah Copeland (DOB: PII PII) messaged her on SnapChat asking if he should come over. L[PII - Minor] remembered not really giving him an answer. L[PII - Minor] said Jeremiah lives at the house across the street. Jeremiah was playing basketball and waved to B[PII - Minor], who asked him to come over and then they played a game. L[PII - Minor] said she was not supposed be around Jeremiah because of something in the past.

L[PII - Minor] explained she and Jeremiah dated in the Summer of 2020 and they dated on and off until Fall of 2021. L[PII - Minor] said Jeremiah was toxic and he would cheat on her. L[PII - Minor] said they really only hung out when she went over to Stephanie's house. L[PII - Minor] said they did not have a sexual relationship. She explained that at the end of Summer 2021 the relationship ended when she went to a sport event, saw him with a girl, took a picture of them, sent it to him and blocked him on everything. L[PII - Minor] said she added him on SnapChat a week before the current incident because he was interacting with her on social media. She explained she decided to add him because she was bored and got out of a relationship a month prior. L[PII - Minor] said, "I'm just going to do whatever I want basically, like add whoever I want, talk to whatever I want, kind-type of like mindset with like boys." L[PII - Minor] said her messages to him were mad at first and Jeremiah wanted to apologize for the past. L[PII - Minor] confirmed she did not feel like they were back together.

L[PII - Minor] said during the time they were hanging out, B[PII - Minor] was on the phone and B[PII - Minor] went away from the area where L[PII - Minor] and Jeremiah sitting. L[PII - Minor] said she could tell he was talking to his mom because of the tone he was using. L[PII - Minor] could hear B[PII - Minor] say, "I don't know he just came over. He is just hanging out here with L[PII - Minor]." Then L[PII - Minor] received an imessage from her mother asking why Jeremiah was there because she is not supposed to be around him and told her to not give Jeremiah the intention that she wanted to be friends again. L[PII - Minor] explained that there was an incident where Jeremiah recorded a sexual encounter with another girl without consent and as a result L[PII - Minor] wasn't supposed to be around him.

L[PII - Minor] said they were all hanging out and nothing was really happening and they went into the second living room after being outside. L[PII - Minor] explained the "littlest" kids were playing a game. L[PII - Minor] said she was sitting on the floor and Jeremiah was sitting behind her playing the game. Right after that, they had dinner that Izzy made, L[PII - Minor] laid down on the couch, and then they went upstairs where B[PII - Minor] was and the little kids were screaming. Jeremiah also went upstairs. Izzy told them that Stephanie doesn't want them upstairs so they came back downstairs. L[PII - Minor] laid back down on the couch. Everyone was there for a little bit but then B[PII - Minor] left and Izzy went into his room.

L[PII - Minor] explained the "littlest" kids were on the loveseat couch watching a movie and she was on the long couch with Jeremiah next to her. L[PII - Minor] said Jeremiah put his hands on her thighs and knees and she demonstrated a "petting" motion. L[PII - Minor] said she would push them way. L[PII - Minor] said she was "kind of grossed out" and she knew what he had done in the past so she wasn't comfortable with it. L[PII - Minor] said that he didn't really say anything but he does a grin that is "evil." L[PII - Minor] then messaged her brother telling him to come get her. L[PII - Minor] said she then laid down facing the pillows on the couch with her body balled up with her knees up against her because she was tired. L[PII - Minor] said that Jeremiah still had his hand on her thigh. Jeremiah then said he had to leave and she said "bye." Jeremiah told her to walk him to the door and she said no and said she didn't want to because she knows where that goes. She stated when they dated he would have her walk him to the door to kiss and hug him goodbye. Jeremiah then came behind her and crouched over her. Jeremiah begged her to walk him to the door. As Jeremiah was begging L[PII - Minor], he touched her over her shorts between her thighs from behind her. L[PII - Minor] explained through hand gestures and verbally that the part of her body Jeremiah touched is the front part of her vagina, outer lip, near where you pee. L[PII - Minor] said doctors would say vagina but she views the vagina as the whole not the top area and calls this her "private area." L[PII - Minor] said when his hand was on her "private area" his hand would rub and his other hand was probably on top of the couch. L[PII - Minor] said she continued to lay there. L[PII - Minor] said about four times she moved his hand off her and she demonstrated grabbing his hand and moving it way. L[PII - Minor] said she felt shocked and grossed out. She advised she said "stop" and he kept doing it so she decided to walk him to the door. L[PII - Minor] said that if she did not walk Jeremiah to the door he would go further with it and continue to be more into it and could have lead somewhere else and she explained maybe he would try to go "inside."

L[PII - Minor] walked Jeremiah to the door and said, "okay bye." Jeremiah wouldn't leave and he said, "oh you're not so slick." Then Jeremiah hugged her and she kept her hands at her side not hugging him at all and he kissed her and she did not kiss back at all. L[PII - Minor] said that he kept kissing her on her lips and so she kissed him back once so he would leave, but he didn't leave and was still holding onto her. L[PII - Minor] said he had his arms over her so she couldn't get out of that in that moment. L[PII - Minor] told him that her brother was almost there and her family doesn't really like him and so he needed to go. Jeremiah said that is because of all the stuff L[PII - Minor] has told them about him. L[PII - Minor] replied by asking him, "the stuff I tell them or the stuff you do because last time I checked..." and then she walked away but Jeremiah had a grip on her hand. B[PII - Minor] came down the stairs and that is when Jeremiah let go of her hand. Then she went to go sit back in the living room. Jeremiah left after B[PII - Minor] said bye to Jeremiah. L[PII - Minor] said she waited on the couch until her brother came.

L[PII - Minor] advised she went home around 2100. L[PII - Minor] said she didn't really think anything about it because she thought it was okay. She messaged Jeremiah on SnapChat and told him she didn't like that he tried to kiss her when she didn't want to or hug her when she told him not to. She expressed how he touched her without her consent and how she didn't understand how he didn't get the hint she didn't want that when she was pushing him away and saying stop. L[PII - Minor] advised she blocked him that night. L[PII - Minor] said she does not have the SnapChat messages with Jeremiah because she un-added him.

L[PII - Minor] said her mother got home late that night. L[PII - Minor] told her mother and she was "not really freaking out about it..." L[PII - Minor]'s mother asked her what she wanted to do about it and L[PII - Minor] replied, "nothing really..." and explained, "I still thought that it was okay basically cause I didn't really think anything about it." Then she went to bed.

The next day her father called her and was crying and telling her he was sorry he couldn't protect her. Her father kept telling her it was not okay and people like that need to know it is not okay. L[PII - Minor] said that she realized she wanted to do something about it.

On the 26th of July 2022, I contacted Stephanie and set up and interview for the 1st of August 2022 at 1000 with her oldest son B[PII - Minor] D[PII - Minor] (DOB: [PII - Minor]) who may have witnessed the incident. I also contacted Monica by phone and kept her updated on where I was at with the case.

On the 1st of August 2022, I interviewed Stephanie's son B[PII - Minor] at the Oak Harbor Police Department. B[PII - Minor] advised he was here to talk about something that happened to a family friend in the summer about a week after school ended. B[PII - Minor] said L[PII - Minor] L[PII - Minor] told him Jeremiah Copeland forced a kiss on her. B[PII - Minor] said L[PII - Minor] was over at his house. Then later B[PII - Minor] mentioned how Jeremiah was at the basketball courts, but then joined them at his house and they were all hanging out in the backyard. L[PII - Minor] came outside to watch and "time flew by." B[PII - Minor], Jeremiah, and L[PII - Minor] walked in the house and put on the movie Rush Hour 2. B[PII - Minor] said he went to get snacks out of the pantry and saw L[PII - Minor] on the couch laying down. Jeremiah had his left hand on L[PII - Minor]'s right shoulder and was leaning over her and his right hand leaning on the couch arm rest. L[PII - Minor] was on her left side and Jeremiah was leaning over. B[PII - Minor] said he didn't think anything of it because of the "giggling." They watched a majority of the movie, only twenty-five minutes were left. B[PII - Minor] said during the movie Jeremiah moved and began to sit on L[PII - Minor]'s legs. L[PII - Minor] was going through TicTok and they were all laughing. B[PII - Minor] said everything seemed fine but now looking back seemed slightly uncomfortable. B[PII - Minor] said that L[PII - Minor] was laughing and smiling but then sometimes seemed out of it by starring off into the screen and didn't respond to prompts. B[PII - Minor] described L[PII - Minor] as "smiling but with worried eyebrows." B[PII - Minor] said that L[PII - Minor] was "scooching" away from Jeremiah. B[PII - Minor] said that his brothers C[PII - Minor] and A[PII - Minor] were upstairs, C[PII - Minor] kept going up and down, but J[PII - Minor] was in front of the Xbox. B[PII - Minor] went upstairs because he was bored and thirty minutes later Jeremiah went upstairs and said goodbye. B[PII - Minor] walked downstairs and opened the door and Jeremiah left. B[PII - Minor] did not mention seeing Jeremiah holding L[PII - Minor]'s hand.

On the 27th of October 2022, I contacted Rochelle Brown the mother of Jeremiah. She stated after she talked to me the first time her son said the mom's boyfriend (Izzy) was there and was present the whole time. Rochelle knows the girl from going over to the neighbor's house, but didn't know her name. Rochelle said that she knows the girl was talking to her son and sending nudes over SnapChat unprovoked and she is friends with K[PII - Minor] who was involved in the other situation with Jeremiah.

On the 31st of October 2022, I interviewed Jeremiah at his residence with his mother present. I asked Jeremiah to tell me what happened between him and L[PII - Minor] L[PII - Minor] about a week after school ended this summer. Jeremiah explained that he went over to Stephanie's house. Jeremiah explained he has a good relationship with B[PII - Minor] and can go over and walk in. Jeremiah said at one point a movie was on. Jeremiah said B[PII - Minor] and the rest of Stephanie's kids where there. He said he was on the couch with L[PII - Minor]. Jeremiah said at one point his head may have been on her shoulders and her leg was over his thighs. I asked if this was usual when they hung out and he said sometimes, but it didn't go farther than that. I asked if anything else physical happened. Jeremiah said he didn't think so on the couch. Jeremiah said they were eating and after they ate and he pushed his dishes into the sink, he asked L[PII - Minor] if she wanted to walk him to the door and she replied, "I guess." Jeremiah said when they were at the door he hugged her and went in for a kiss and she moved out of the way and that was it. Jeremiah said they were texting and she was "leading him on" and he went in for a kiss and then she acted weird about it. When I asked if anyone else was around, Jeremiah mentioned that he believes C[PII - Minor] was in the first living room on the couch.

I asked Jeremiah if L[PII - Minor] contacted him after and he said yes but it was on SnapChat and he did not have the messages because she blocked him. Jeremiah said he remembers her texting him and that she mentioned how she didn't want him to kiss her. Jeremiah responded to me by saying nonchalantly, "oh okay, like just alright." Jeremiah confirmed he and L[PII - Minor] used to "talk" and that they did not have a sexual relationship but that she would send him nudes.

Jeremiah explained they were no longer "talking" but she added him on SnapChat and messaged him saying, "I know what you and B[PII - Minor] did to K[PII - Minor]," accusing him referring to the incident with K[PII - Minor] B[PII - Minor] and B[PII - Minor] G[PII - Minor]. Jeremiah said that he got over it and he interpreted their relationship as good. Jeremiah said that after L[PII - Minor] re-added him on SnapChat she was sending him unsolicited nude photographs and telling him that she wanted to be "fucked," but advised he did not have those messages. I asked Jeremiah why he thought L[PII - Minor] was sending him nudes and he said he was not sure and probably that she was horny. I asked Jeremiah why someone would say something non-consensual happened on the couch. Jeremiah said L[PII - Minor] is friends with K[PII - Minor] and it might have been a "set up."

At this time I am closing this case due to lack of physical evidence or independent witnesses

MOTION

Pursuant to Article 10, Uniform Code of Military Justice (UCMJ), the Sixth Amendment of the U.S. Constitution and Rule for Court-Martial (R.C.M.) 707, the Defense respectfully requests that the Military Judge dismiss all charges and specifications with prejudice.

SUMMARY

The Government placed CSSN Copeland into pre-trial confinement (PTC) on 9 June 2025. Charges were preferred 22 August 2025. Article 10, UCMJ, provides that when a person subject to the UCMJ is ordered into arrest or confinement before trial, immediate steps shall be taken to: (1) inform the person of the specific offense of which the person is accused; and (2) try the person or to dismiss the charges and release the person. R.C.M. 707(a) requires the accused to be "brought to trial" within 120 days of confinement or preferral, whichever is earlier. The Convening Authority purports to have granted excludable delay under R.C.M. 707(c) twice in this case from 10 June 2025 through 25 July 2025, and 25 July 2025 through 15 August 2025 for a total of sixty-seven (67) days. However, the Convening Authority did not properly grant a delay under R.C.M. 707(c) and, consequently, CSSN Copeland was not "brought to trial" (in the form of arraignment) within 120 days. The Government has not exercised "reasonable diligence" and therefore, the Defense respectfully requests the Court dismiss all charges and specifications with prejudice.

BURDEN

Once defense raises the issue, government has burden of persuasion to show no denial of speedy trial. R.C.M. 905(c)(2)(B). The government's burden of proof on any factual issue is by a preponderance of the evidence. R.C.M. 905(c)(1); United States v. Cummings, 21 M.J. 987 (N.M.C.M.R. 1986).

FACTS

1. The Government alleges violations of Article 120, 128, 120c, 131b, 128b, 107, and 118, Uniform Code of Military Justice (UCMJ). (Charge Sheet).

2. On 9 June 2025, CSSN Copeland was placed into PTC at Naval Consolidated Brig Chesapeake where he was placed in a maximum confinee status. (Enclosure 1 to Defense Mot. for Appropriate Relief (MFAR) dtd 26 Aug 25).

3. The seven-day review IRO hearing was held on 16 June 2025, and CSSN Copeland was ordered to remain in PTC. (Enclosure 3 to Defense Mot. for Appropriate Relief (MFAR) dtd 26 Aug 25).

4. That same day, 16 June 2025, the Defense demanded speedy trial. (Enclosure 6 to Defense Mot. for Appropriate Relief (MFAR) dtd 26 Aug 25).

5. On 1 July 2025, the Government submitted a request for excludable delay from 10 June 2025 through 25 July 2025. The Defense submitted our objection to this request the same day. (Enclosures 7, 8 to Defense Mot. for Appropriate Relief (MFAR) dtd 26 Aug 25).

6. On 9 July 2025 the Convening Authority granted the Government's excludable delay request until 25 July 2025. (Enclosure 9 to Defense Mot. for Appropriate Relief (MFAR) dtd 26 Aug 25).

7. On 25 July 2025, the Defense again demanded a speedy trial for a second time. The Government neither acknowledged nor responded to this request. (Enclosure 10 to Defense Mot. for Appropriate Relief (MFAR) dtd 26 Aug 25).

8. One 30 July 2025, to ensure CSSN Copeland received a speedy trial, despite the volume of expected evidence, the Defense requested discovery citing Rules 3.4 and 3.8 of the JAG Corps Rules for Professional Responsibility because the Defense requires and is entitled to fairness and equal access to discovery. In the request, the Defense also explained that discovery would reduce the risk of prejudicial speedy trial issues if charges were ever preferred in this case. The Government neither acknowledged nor responded to this request. (Enclosure 11 to Defense Mot. for Appropriate Relief (MFAR) dtd 26 Aug 25).

9. Instead, on 8 August 2025, the Government once again requested excludable delay; this time from 25 July 2025 through 15 August 2025. The Defense submitted our objection to this request on 11 August 2025. (Enclosures 12, 13 to Defense Mot. for Appropriate Relief (MFAR) dtd 26 Aug 25).

10. On 22 August 2025, the Government preferred charges in this case. (Charge Sheet).

11. On 26 August 2025, the Defense filed a Motion for Appropriate Relief pursuant to Article 30a requesting the Court review CSSN Copeland's PTC because of how his continued confinement and the Government's refusal to resolve the issue interfered with CSSN Copeland's attorney-client relationship and case preparation. In this motion, the Defense detailed all of the attempts and steps CSSN Copeland took—many the Government just ignored—in order to prevent interference with his rights to counsel.

12. The hearing to decide the Defense's MFAR occurred on 15 September 2025. Prior to this date, the Defense had not had a reasonable opportunity to have substantive conversations with CSSN Copeland.

13. At the hearing, the Military Judge denied the Defense's MFAR ruling that the Court did not have standing.

14. It was not until 6 October 2025 until the Government relieved CSSN Copeland of issues with him being able to communicate with his defense counsel, since the time defense counsel effectively established relationship with CSSN Copeland. (Enclosure A).

15. On 27 August 2025, the Convening Authority granted the Government's second excludable delay request. (Enclosure B).

16. On 3 September 2025, the defense was notified that the Article 32 preliminary hearing would take place on 18 September 2025. (Enclosure C).

17. Despite the fact that the charges were preferred on 22 August 2025, the Defense did not receive initial discovery until 12 September 2025, just six days prior to the Article 32 hearing. (Enclosure D).

18. Even worse, the Defense just recently received discovery on 20 November and 21 November 2025 for the NCIS Report of Investigation (ROI) dated 7 July 2025 into CSSN S.R.'s allegations, and a Digital Forensics Exam report of CSSN Copeland's phone completed on 12 August 2025, respectively. (Enclosure E).

19. The charges were referred on 1 October 2025 but served to CSSN Copeland on 3 October 2025. (Charge Sheet).

20. CSSN Copeland was arraigned on the charges on 9 October 2025. (Trial Management Order).

21. The Defense has not made any requests for continuances or delay.

22. R.C.M. 707 deadline from 9 June 2025, without excludable delay, was 7 October 2025.

LAW

A military member's right to speedy trial arises from several sources. Article 10(b) of the Uniform Code of Military Justice requires "immediate steps" to be taken to try or dismiss the charges against any accused placed into pretrial confinement. R.C.M. 707(a) requires the accused to be brought to trial within 120 days of preferral of charges, imposition of pretrial restraint, or activation of a reservist for court-martial purposes. Finally, the Sixth Amendment of the United States Constitution guarantees "the right to a speedy and public trial."

a. Article 10 of the Code authorizes confinement of service members charged with military offenses, but it also requires the Government take immediate steps to try the confinee or to dismiss the charges and to release the member from confinement.

A person subject the UCMJ, who is charged with an offense under the Code, "may be ordered into arrest or confinement as the circumstances require." 10 U.S.C. § 810(a)(1) (2024). When that person is ordered into confinement pursuant to this authority "immediate steps shall be taken to (A) inform the person of the specific offenses of which the person is accused; and (B) to try the person or to dismiss the charges and release the person." 10 U.S.C. § 810(b)(1) (2016).

Article 10 is a "fundamental, substantial, personal right, and is a statutory protection intended to prevent soldiers from being put in the clink and held there for weeks, sometimes months, before being brought to trial." United States v. Cooley, 75 M.J. 247, 259 (2016) (internal quotation marks and citations omitted). Furthermore, Article 10 "is designed to ensure that the accused knows the reason for the restraint of his liberty, and to protect him, while under restraint, from unreasonable or oppressive delay in disposing of a charge." Id. (internal quotation marks and citations omitted).

Article 10 affords broader rights than the right to a speedy trial afforded to civilians under the Sixth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution. United States v. Birge, 52 M.J. 209, 211 (C.A.A.F. 1999) (citing United States v. Kossman, 38 M.J. 258, 262 (C.M.A. 1993). The Government may comply with the strictures of R.C.M. 707 and the Sixth Amendment and still fail to satisfy Article 10. Id. "Not only is the demand for a speedy trial under the U.C.M.J. more exacting, by virtual of Article 98, U.C.M.J, 10 U.S.C. 898 (2000), unreasonable delay in disposing of criminal charges in the military is unlawful." United States v. Mizgala, 61 M.J. 122, 125 (C.A.A.F. 2005) (internal citations omitted).

b. R.C.M. 707 requires the Government to bring the accused to trial within a specified time period, or else face dismissal of charges.

The accused must be arraigned within 120 days of pretrial confinement. R.C.M. 707(a)-(b). It is possible to exclude certain periods of time from the 120-day limit pursuant to R.C.M. 707(c). The purpose of R.C.M. 707 as written is to "eliminate after-the-fact determinations as to whether certain periods of delay are excludable." Manual for Courts-Martial (2016 ed.), app. 21, Rule 707 analysis at A21-40 (2016 ed.); United States v. Thompson, 46 M.J. 472, 474 (C.A.A.F. 1997); United States v. Proctor, 58 M.J. 792, 795 (A.F. Ct. Crim. App. 2003) petition for grant of review denied 60 M.J. 122 (C.A.A.F. 2004)("After-the-fact exclusion of time from the government's speedy trial accountability is no longer an option.") (internal quotation and citations omitted).

Prior to referral, the convening authority may grant requests for delay. R.C.M. 707(c); United States v. Anderson, 46 M.J. 540, 1997 CCA LEXIS 84, at *11 (N.M.C.C.A. 1997) ("[T]here need not be a request for delay from either the accused or the government before a delay is excludable under R.C.M. 707(c); the military judge or convening authority may approve a delay on his or her own initiative."). Although not required, when practicable, any decision granting delay should be reduced to writing, along with the supporting reasons for the grant of delay. R.C.M. 707(c)(1) Discussion. Although there is no requirement that the convening authority's grant of delay be reduced to writing at the time the determination is made, "the Government always runs the risk of an adverse ruling when it allows a significant delay event to pass without seeking a ruling." United States v. Dies, 45 M.J. 376, 378 (C.A.A.F. 1996). Some examples of reasons to grant delay include time to prepare for trial, to allow mental examination of the accused, time requested by the defense, or time to secure availability of witnesses or evidence. R.C.M. 707(c)(1) Discussion.

Military judges serve two separate functions as it relates to R.C.M. 707. First, the military judge can grant delay post-referral under R.C.M. 707(c). Second, the military judge determines whether any delays prior to referral are excludable. See Proctor, 58 M.J. at 795 (finding the trial military judge erred in excluding time prior to referral because the convening authority did not properly grant a "delay" under R.C.M. 707); United States v. Matli, 2003 CCA LEXIS 60, *13-14 (A.F. Ct. Crim. App. Feb. 4 2003) (upholding trial military judge's disapproval of convening authority's blanket exclusion of time, as opposed to exclusion of time until "some distinct event"). Grants of delay are reviewed for abuse of discretion and reasonableness. See United States v. Lazauskas, 62 M.J. 39, 44 (C.A.A.F. 2005) ("In this case, the military judge's ruling approved the pretrial delay. That ruling was neither unreasonable nor an abuse of discretion."); Proctor, 58 M.J. at 795 ("The convening authority's grant of a blanket exclusion of time, rather than a delay, exceeded his authority under R.C.M. 707(c), and was an abuse of discretion.")

In United States v. Proctor, where the convening authority purported to exclude delay under R.C.M. 707 at the request of the Staff Judge Advocate (SJA), the Air Force Court of Criminal Appeals found the military judge erred in ratifying the delay "because the Convening Authority did not properly grant a 'delay' under R.C.M. 707." 58 M.J. at 795, petition for grant of review denied 60 M.J. 122 (C.A.A.F. 2004). In Proctor, the accused was ordered into pretrial confinement on 19 September 2000 and stayed there pending the investigation. Id. at 793. Prior to arraignment on day 161 of pretrial confinement, the special court-martial convening authority excluded time from 8 January 2001 to 1 March 2001 at the request of the SJA. Id. at 794. The SJA requested the time "so that the government could 'process Airman Proctor's case to trial'" given "the difficulties associated with the processing of the case, and the unusually heavy court-martial workload facing the legal office at the time." Id. On appeal, the military judge's decision to ratify this delay (up to the date of referral) was overturned. Id. In so doing, the Air Force Court of Criminal Appeals noted that the Government cannot be delayed and moving forward at the same time. Id. A blanket exclusion of time is not a "delay"; rather, a delay is a period of time between events in the court-martial process. See id.

Failure to comply with R.C.M. 707 will result in dismissal of the affected charges. R.C.M. 707(d). The dismissal must be with prejudice where the accused has been deprived of the Constitutional right to a speedy trial. R.C.M. 707(d)(1); United States v. Bray, 52 M.J. 659, 663 (A.F. Ct. Crim. App. 2000). In determining whether to dismiss the charges with or without prejudice, the military judge considers these factors: the seriousness of the offense, the facts and circumstances of the case that lead to dismissal; the impact of a re-prosecution on the administration of justice, and any prejudice to the accused resulting from the denial of a speedy trial. R.C.M. 707(d)(1); United States v. Dooley, 61 M.J. 258, 262-264 (C.A.A.F. 2005). Prejudice to the accused can take many forms, including any detrimental effect on trial preparation, any impact on the right to a fair trial, and restrictions or burdens on liberty. Id. at 264.

c. Separate and apart from Article 10 and R.C.M. 707, the Sixth Amendment also guarantees an accused at court-martial the right to a speedy trial.

The Sixth Amendment provides, inter alia, "[i]n all criminal prosecutions, the accused shall enjoy the right to a speedy and public trial …" U.S. CONST. amend. VI. "In the military context, the Sixth Amendment speedy trial right applies upon preferral or imposition of pretrial restraint." United States v. Wilder, No. 201400118, 2014 CCA LEXIS 571, at *11 (N-M. Ct. Crim. App. Aug 12, 2014) (citing United States v. Vogan, 35 M.J. 32, 33 (C.M.A. 1992) (additional citation omitted)). "For Sixth Amendment purposes, the speedy trial clock continues to run until the trial actually commences." Id. (citing United States v. Cooper, 58 M.J. 54, 60 (C.A.A.F. 2003)); accord United States v. Danylo, 73 M.J. 183, 189 (C.A.A.F. 2014) ("Analysis of the Sixth Amendment speedy trial claim requires consideration of the entire period of delay from arrest (pretrial confinement) or preferral of charges until commencement of trial on the merits.") (citing United States v. MacDonald, 456 U.S. 1, 6-8 (1982)).

d. In conducting an Article 10 and Sixth Amendment analysis, courts begin by evaluating the four Barker v. Wingo factors in determining whether the Government has deprived the accused of her right to a speedy trial.

In examining whether an accused's Sixth Amendment speedy trial right has been violated this Court examines the four factors set forth in Barker v. Wingo, 407 U.S. 514 at 530 (1972). These factors are (1) the length of the delay; (2) the reasons for the delay; (3) the accused's assertion of his right; and (4) the prejudice of delay to the accused. Id. These factors are non-exhaustive. Id.

(1) Length of Delay

Where the length of the delay is facially unreasonable, the full due process analysis is triggered and the court balances the four factors to determine whether there has been a due process violation. United States v. Merrit, 72 M.J. 483, 489 (C.A.A.F. 2013). However, there is no magic number of days required to trigger a speedy trial analysis. See e.g. United States v. Wilson, 72 M.J. 347, 351-52 (finding that 174 days of pre-trial delay was facially unreasonable); United States v. Thompson, 68 M.J. 308, 312 (C.A.A.F. 2010) (finding that 145 days of pre-trial confinement were sufficiently unreasonable under Article 10); United States v. Cossio, 64 M.J. at 256 (holding that 117 days of pre-trial confinement triggered the full Article 10 inquiry). The reasonableness of the delay necessarily depends on the specific facts and circumstances of any given case. Barker v. Wingo, 407 U.S. at 531 ("the length of delay that will provoke [a speedy trial inquiry] is necessarily dependent on the specific circumstances of the case"). "[W]here the accused has been deprived of his or constitutional right to a speedy trial . . . [t]he charges must be dismissed with prejudice." R.C.M. 707(d)(1).

When assessing the length of delay between pretrial confinement and the commencement of trial, "[t]he R.C.M. 707(a) standard of 120 days, although not directly applicable to the Sixth Amendment analysis, is still a useful basis for comparison." United States v. Arma, No. 2014-09, 2014 CCA LEXIS 802, at *15 (A.F. Ct. Crim. App. Oct 22, 2014), rev. denied, 2015 C.A.A.F. LEXIS 190 (C.A.A.F. Feb 11, 2015).

(2) Reasons for Delay

"Bad faith" on the part of the Government causing delay "will be weighed heavily against the government." Doggett v. United States, 505 U.S. 647, 656 (1992) (citing Barker v. Wingo, 407 U.S. at 531). "Official negligence" occupies a "middle ground" between diligent prosecution and bad-faith delay. Doggett, 505 U.S. at 565-67. Negligent delay may not compel relief in every case where bad-faith delay "would make relief virtually automatic," but negligence is not "automatically tolerable simply because the accused cannot demonstrate exactly how it has prejudiced him." Id. at 565. Conversely, "a valid reason [for delay], such as a missing witness, should serve to justify appropriate delay." Barker v. Wingo, 407 U.S. at 531. In sum, "different weights should be assigned to different reasons [for delay]." Id.

(3) Assertion of the Right to Speedy Trial

The accused has some responsibility to assert a speedy trial claim. Barker v. Wingo, 407 U.S. at 529. When he or she does demand a speedy trial, that demand "is entitled to strong evidentiary weight in determining whether the [accused] is being denied that right." Id. at 531-32. The accused's assertion can, and often is made to Government officers, as well as to the Courts. See e.g. Cooley, 75 M.J. at 253 (where appellant satisfied this prong with pre-trial demands to military authorities before charges were preferred against him or referred to a Court. There is, however, no special or required formulation of the demand required, other than it asserts the desire to be tried in conformity with the right to a speedy trial. See Barker v. Wingo, 407 U.S. at 529 ("[The flexible approach articulated] would allow a court to weigh the frequency and force of the objections as opposed to attaching significant weight to a purely pro forma objection."); see also United States v. Battis, 589 F. 2d 673, 681 (3d Cir. 2009) (finding the defendant was obligated to make a "reasonable assertion of his speedy trial right" and not a procedurally perfect one in light of Barker v. Wingo); Prince v. Alabama, 507 F.2d 693, 703 (5th Cir. 1975) ("We interpret these rulings as an indication that the courts should take a liberal view of convict-defendants' attempts to contact the prosecutors and courts in other jurisdictions regarding charges pending against them there.").

(4) Prejudice

The Supreme Court has established the following test for prejudice in the speedy trial context:

> Prejudice, of course, should be assessed in the light of the interests of defendants which the speedy trial right was designed to protect. This Court has identified three such interests: (i) to prevent oppressive pretrial incarceration; (ii) to minimize anxiety and concern of the accused; and (iii) to limit the possibility that the defense will be impaired. Of these, the most serious is the last, because the inability of a defendant adequately to prepare his case skews the fairness of the entire system.

United States v. Mizgala, 61 M.J. 122, 129 (C.A.A.F. 2005) (quoting Barker, 407 U.S. at 532 (footnote omitted)).

However, the Court's "consideration of prejudice is not limited to the specifically demonstrable" and the "affirmative proof of particularized prejudice is not essential to every speedy trial claim." Doggett, 505 U.S. at 655 (internal citations omitted). In fact, Barker v. Wingo, "explicitly recognized that impairment of one's defense is the most difficult for of speedy trial prejudice to prove because time's erosion of exculpatory evidence and testimony can rarely be shown." Id. (citing Barker v. Wingo, 407 U.S. at 532) (internal quotation marks omitted). Thus, Courts "have to recognize that excessive delay presumptively compromises the reliability of a trial in ways that neither party can prove, or for that matter, identify." Id.

e. Ordinarily, dismissal is the only appropriate remedy for a violation of the accused's right to a speedy trial.

Dismissal is "the only possible remedy" for a denial of the constitutional right to a speedy trial. Strunk v. United States, 412 U.S. 434, 440 (1973) (quoting Barker v. Wingo, 407 U.S. 522).

ARGUMENT

a. The Convening Authority abused his discretion in granting the Government a delay under R.C.M. 707.

In its first request for excludable delay submitted 1 July 2025, the Government claimed that investigations remained ongoing into each allegation CSSN Copeland was accused of to include, Articles 107, 117a, 118, 120, 128, and 128b, UCMJ. However, all of the allegations against CSSN Copeland that did not include CS3 A.R.'s death had already been concluded was in the trial counsel's possession. The Convening Authority should have identified this inaccuracy prior to granting the Government's excludable delay request. The Defense objected by encouraging the Convening Authority to seek more information—actually require the Government to first show good cause—why such request should be granted. The Defense even highlighted the fact that one of the investigations started in July 2024, the previous year. No explanation was made or required into the Government's claim that extensive ongoing investigations into each allegation. Instead, the Convening Authority, over the Defense's objection simply rubberstamped a blanket exclusion of time.

Even more indicative that the Convening Authority abused his discretion is the fact that the Government submitted a second request stating the exact same inaccuracy, verbatim, as it did in its first request. Moreover, this second request for excludable delay was to extend the total excludable delay amount to 67 continuous days. The Defense once again objected demanding that the Convening Authority request good cause from the Government. No information was provided to explain what was completed between the first timeframe of delay granted. No information about the amount of witnesses required to still be interviewed. No information was given to explain why the Government requested 15 August 2025 as the end date of their excludable delay request. No specificity at all. Nevertheless, the Convening Authority, over the Defense's objection, once again rubberstamped a blanket approval to the Government's request. Like the special court-martial convening authority in Proctor, the Convening Authority in this case granted a blanket exclusion of time, rather than delay between two intervals in the court-martial process. As such, the Convening Authority abused his discretion in granting both the Government's excludable delay requests. Consequently, the Government was two days past the R.C.M. 707 deadline.

Here, the violation of R.C.M. 707 requires dismissal and the four factors weigh in favor of dismissal with prejudice. Although the charges in this case are serious, CSSN Copeland has been in pre-trial confinement and maximum custody status (essentially solitary confinement) since 9 June 2025, and he currently remains in pre-trial confinement to this day. Not only that, the conditions of his pre-trial confinement, as detailed within the Defense's Motion for Appropriate Relief for Illegal Pre-trial Punishment, are too severe and more harsh than necessary.[1] If the charges were dismissed without prejudice, any re-prosecution would not result in administration of justice because the plain meaning of R.C.M. 707 would be thwarted. R.C.M. 707 requires dismissal, but if the Government is permitted to re-prosecute, this would only lead to further delay for CSSN Copeland. Finally, CSSN Copeland would suffer prejudice daily as a result of the R.C.M. 707 violation by being deprived of his liberty. Additionally, his ability to discuss his case with counsel and assist in trial preparations was severely limited and strained as a result of his pre-trial confinement and brig protocol throughout the entire duration of the R.C.M. 707 time requirements.

b. All four of the Barker v. Wingo factors weigh against the Government, warranting dismissal of the charges with prejudice for a violation of CSSN Copeland's Article 10 and Sixth Amendment Rights.

(1) The length of the delay is facially unreasonable under the circumstances.

Under the specific facts and circumstances of this case, just the delay it took to get this case even to arraignment is facially unreasonable. That alone was 123 days. All of the investigations involving the named alleged victims: ABHAN C.R., CSSN S.S., and CSSN S.R. were already completed before CSSN Copeland even went into pre-trial confinement. No further investigative steps were taken in those case after 9 June 2025. Even with the investigation involving CS3 A.R.'s death, many of the investigative steps in that case had already happened. By the time CSSN Copeland was placed into pre-trial confinement, majority of the interviews had been completed, including several of CSSN Copeland, places had been canvased and searched, and data from some search warrants had already returned. Within CSSN Copeland's first week of confinement, CS3 A.R.'s body had been found, the autopsy of her body—which NCIS was present for—had already been completed, and CSSN Copeland's belongings had been searched. In just over 30 days from the time CSSN Copeland was placed into confinement, the investigation into CS3 A.R.'s death was substantially complete. Yet, the Government still took approximately 88 days to get the case to arraignment. Even worse, which should highly be considered, by the time CSSN Copeland will have gone to trial, he will have served 360 days. This factor is in the Defense's favor.

[1] See Defense MFAR Article 13

(2) The reasons for the delay are solely attributed to a failure on the part of the Government and not CSSN Copeland.

As previously mentioned, CSSN Copeland and the Defense have not requested any delays throughout this case, and the Convening Authority's decision to grant the Government's delay was improper: accordingly, the proffered reasons for delay in the Government's requests are unreasonable. Based on the facts and circumstances surrounding the investigation and the fact all investigations were substantially complete by mid-July of 2025, the logical determination is that the Government sought time to justify this foreseeable motion, not because the delay was necessary.

Although the trial date was jointly proposed by both sides, the Defense would have sought less time between arraignment and trial, if the defense counsel had adequate access to the discovery in this case and confidential communications with our client, as we requested numerous times before and after preferral to no avail. The Government's decision to not share evidence with the Defense should be heavily scrutinized. It begs the question itself: why was the discovery not initially sent as soon as the case was preferred on 22 August 2025? Instead, the initial discovery was not sent until 12 September 2025—this is 22 days after preferral and 75 days after the Defense submitted our initial discovery request citing to Rules 3.4 and 3.8 of the JAG Corps Rules for Professional Responsibility. Even worse, the Defense just recently received discovery on 20 November and 21 November 2025 for the NCIS Report of Investigation (ROI) dated 7 July 2025 into CSSN S.R.'s allegations, and a Digital Forensics Exam report of CSSN Copeland's phone completed on 12 August 2025, respectively. The delay in receipt of discovery that the Government has had for months shows a lack of due diligence in moving this case forward to trial. The sole reason defense counsel submitted the initial request on 30 June 2025 was to avoid any and all possible delay. The Government should not reap the benefits of the delay it has forced on the Defense.

(3) CSSN Copeland demanded speedy trial twice and has requested zero delays or continuances

It is undisputed that CSSN Copeland has not filed any requests for delay or continuances at any point and has demanded speedy trial, twice.

(4) CSSN Copeland has suffered personal and professional prejudice, elevated anxiety and concern, and hindered from early case preparation.

CSSN Copeland has suffered oppressive pre-trial confinement while at Naval Consolidated Brig Chesapeake, and his ability to adequately prepare his case prior to arraignment has been impaired. The Government's treatment of CSSN Copeland solely based on an allegation and his pre-trial prisoner status, has detrimentally impacted his attorney-client relationship early in the process.

The first opportunity the Defense had to have a substantive conversation with CSSN Copeland regarding the allegations following his IRO hearing did not and could not occur until 15 September 2025 when CSSN Copeland was made to travel to Naval Station Norfolk because the Court scheduled an Article 30a hearing on the Defense's MFAR. Other than that, date it was not until 6 October 2025 when the Government finally allowed for in-person attorney-client communications in the same room. Prior to this time, CSSN Copeland did not have the ability to have a private, privileged conversation with his defense counsel without the concern of others overhearing. Because of this concern, CSSN Copeland was deprived from preparing for his case for 113 days of his time in pre-trial confinement. Here, the four factors for the Sixth Amendment analysis weigh in favor of dismissal with prejudice.

The Government's actions (or inaction) show that they did not use "reasonable diligence" in bringing this case to trial. Although Article 10 "does not demand constant motion," it still imposes a standard of "reasonable diligence" in bringing the charges to trial. Mizgala, 61 M.J. at 129. The overwhelming facts in this case were apparent within a week of CSSN Copeland's confinement. If there was any doubt at all, the Government had all it needed by mid-July, when the findings of the toxicology exam were completed on CS3 A.R., to diligently bring CSSN Copeland to trial. Failure to do so resulted in a violation of CSSN Copeland's Article 10 rights and as such all charges and specifications should be dismissed with prejudice.

RELIEF REQUESTED

The Defense requests the Government provide a chronology of events to assist the Court with understanding the timeline and delay. Additionally, pursuant to Article 10, UCMJ, the Sixth Amendment of the U.S. Constitution and Rule for Court-Martial (R.C.M.) 707, the Defense respectfully requests that the Military Judge dismiss all charges and specifications with prejudice.

Subj: RESPONSE TO THE REQUEST FOR A CONTACT VISIT WITH COUNSEL ICO CSSN JERMIAH T. COPELAND

Ref: (a) Naval OSTC Det Norfolk ltr of 2 Oct 25

1. In response to ref (a) and in support of the government's position on this unique case, limited exception to policy is cautiously granted with the following caveats:

a. The prisoner will remain restrained at all times during the visit.

b. The prisoner visits will be conducted in a brig contact room and staff will maintain current security protocols; no further adjustments will be authorized.

c. Any guilty Disciplinary Review Board findings, whether related to a visit or not, will revoke this exception and return the prisoner to standard protocols associated with his classification.

d. Any security protocol violations during the visit will return the prisoner to standard protocols associated with his classification.

2. I note that isolated instances of previously demonstrated compliance do not mitigate risk with prisoners facing severe sentences and consequences. This is particularly true in cases where a prisoner may receive unexpected news or information that serve as a trigger for volatile behavior. Allowing contact visits for prisoners designated with a custody classification of "maximum" increases risk to the safety of visiting personnel and my staff. Brig security policy is in place for everyone's safety, even when it is inconvenient. I have seen numerous staff assaulted in my tenure by unstable prisoners who were at times compliant, thus the cautious approval of this unique government request. I hope this level of risk, which I wholly own, is noted for any future requests.

Encl: (1) Preferred Charge Sheet (DD Form 458) of 22 Aug 25

1. Pursuant to references (a) and (b), you are hereby appointed as the Preliminary Hearing Officer (PHO) to conduct a preliminary hearing into all matters set forth in the charges and specifications preferred against CSSN Jermiah Copeland, U.S. Navy, on 22 August 2025, as set forth in enclosure (1). Your investigation shall be conducted in accordance with the relevant provisions of the 2024 Manual for Courts-Martial, references (a) through (c), and current case law relating to preliminary hearings.

2. The following additional personnel are detailed to the preliminary hearing for the purpose indicated:

Counsel for the Government

CDR Lauren Mayo, JAGC, USN, and LT Christopher Dempsey, JAGC, USN, are certified under Article 27(b), UCMJ and previously sworn under Article 42(a), UCMJ.

Defense Counsel

LCDR Amanda Serfess, JAGC, USN and LCDR Clifton Morgan, JAGC, USN, are certified under Article 27(b), UCMJ and previously sworn under Article 42(a), UCMJ.

3. The preliminary hearing shall be held on 18 September 2025. Authority to grant no more than two (2) continuances for a total of 30 days is delegated to the PHO pursuant to reference (c). Any additional delay must be approved by the convening authority. Requests for delay shall be submitted to you in writing, via the counsel for the government, for approval or disapproval. Pursuant to reference (c), you are also authorized to make a finding of excludable delay for any requests for delay; this finding must be in writing and included in your report. All requests for delay, regardless of decision, shall be included in your final report.

4. All requests by defense counsel for production of witnesses or evidence shall be submitted to you, via the counsel for the government, at least seven calendar days prior to the start of the hearing. The counsel for the government shall provide you a response to the defense's request at least three calendar days prior to the start of the hearing. All witness and evidence production requests shall contain sufficient information to meet the production of witness requirements contained in reference (b).

5. As provided in references (a) and (b), the purpose and scope of the preliminary hearing is limited to the following:

a. Determination as to whether there is probable cause, an offense has been committed, and the accused committed the offense;

b. Determination as to whether the convening authority has jurisdiction over the offense and the accused;

c. Consideration of the form of the charges; and,

d. Recommendation as to the disposition of the case.

The preliminary hearing is not meant as a means of discovery for any party, and all evidence presented must be relevant to the purpose of the hearing.

6. As provided in references (a) and (d), the victim has a right to be informed of the date, time, and location of the hearing, to refuse to testify, and to confer with the counsel for the government. The victim also has a right not to be excluded from the hearing unless you receive clear and convincing evidence that the victim's testimony would be materially altered if the victim heard other testimony at the hearing. Pursuant to references (a) and (e) through (g), any party intending to introduce evidence in accordance with references (e) through (g) must provide notice at least five days prior to the preliminary hearing. This notice and any relevant filings must be provided to the victim's legal counsel, if represented, and the victim has a right to be heard on these matters. You must close the courtroom for any hearings upon reference (e) and you may close the courtroom for any hearings pursuant to references (f) and (g) upon motion of any party and good cause shown. You are specifically directed to seal any exhibits or testimony received pursuant to references (e) through (g).

7. I authorize the use of audio-visual technology between you and the parties, in accordance with R.C.M. 405(k)(4) and section 0132 of JAGINST 5800.7G, CH-2. The prescribed uniform is Service Uniform.

8. You are directed to provide a report of the preliminary hearing to the detailed special trial counsel as soon as possible after the conclusion of the investigation, but no later than 10 calendar days after the conclusion of the investigation. Any request for delay in submitting the report shall be submitted to the convening authority in writing.

Examination (SAFE) aboard the ship. During her interview on 07Nov24, V[redacted] stated she was intoxicated and did not remember sexual contact with S/COPELAND, but other sailors approached her the following day and indicated S/COPELAND showed multiple sailors a video on his cellular telephone of his sexual contact with her. Multiple witness interviews were conducted corroborating the existence of a video and sexual encounter. S/COPELAND was interviewed on 18Nov24 and 20Dec24 and subsequent to waiving his Article 31b Rights stated the sexual contact with V[redacted] was consensual and admitted to producing a video recording during the sexual encounter. A Military Protective Order (MPO) was requested. This investigation remains open pending forensic analysis of the Sexual Assault Forensic Examination (SAFE) kit and any other investigative actions deemed necessary.

NARRATIVE

1. This reactive criminal investigation pertains to a suspected violation of Article 120 (Abusive Sexual Contact) of the Uniform Code of Military Justice (UCMJ).

2. Reference (A) documents a prior abusive sexual assault allegation wherein S/COPELAND is the subject.

3. On 06Nov24, a preliminary interview with V[redacted] was conducted wherein she stated she learned of a video circulated by S/COPELAND that depicted sexual intercourse. V/[redacted] stated she was intoxicated at the time the video was taken and was too intoxicated to consent; Exhibit (1) pertains.

4. On 06Nov24, Reporting Agent (RA) made attempts to locate the cellular telephone belonging to S/COPELAND via verbal consent of S/COPELAND's person and the person of CSSN Kaulise COUSINS, USN, CVN 75. The cellular telephone was not located; Exhibit (2) pertains.

5. On 06Nov24, CS2 Demarko SINGLETARY, USN, CVN 75, was interviewed in reference to the investigation. CS2 SINGLETARY stated V/[redacted] disclosed the assault to him and indicated the names of other sailors who had purportedly seen the video of the sexual encounter; Exhibit (3) pertains.

6. On 06Nov24, CSSA Jacqueline BITA, USN, CVN 75, was interviewed in reference to the investigation. CSSA BITA stated S/COPELAND showed her a video of him having sexual intercourse with V[redacted] on the night of the offense; Exhibit (4) pertains.

7. On 06Nov24, CDR Brett BALLARD, USN, Executive Officer (XO), HSC 11, was interviewed in reference to the investigation. CDR BALLARD recalled his involvement in assisting S/COPELAND back to the ship as the Senior Shore

Patrol Representative the day following the offense; Exhibit (5) pertains.

8. On 06Nov24, RA made further attempts to locate the cellular telephone belonging to S/COPELAND via Permissive Authorization for Search and Seizure (PASS). The berthing, rack, and personal spaces belonging to S/COPELAND aboard the ship were searched with negative results; Exhibit (6) pertains.

9. On 06Nov24, CSSN COUSINS was interviewed in reference to the investigation. CSSN COUSINS denied ever having possession of S/COPELAND's cellular telephone or disposing of the cellular telephone for S/COPELAND; Exhibit (7) pertains.

10. On 07Nov24, V[redacted] was interviewed in reference to the investigation. [redacted] stated she did not remember having sexual intercourse with S/COPELAND due to alcohol consumption. V[redacted] stated she subsequently heard rumors of S/COPELAND circulating a video of them having sexual intercourse and confronted S/COPELAND about it via telephone, at which time S/COPELAND made a statement of denial; Exhibit (8) pertains.

11. On 07Nov24, CSSN Shamel EADDY, USN, CVN 75, was interviewed in reference to the investigation. CSSN EADDY provided RA with a video of V[redacted] confronting S/COPELAND telephonically; Exhibit (9) pertains.

12. On 08Nov24, CSSN Alexis RODGERS, USN, HSC 11, was interviewed in reference to the investigation. CSSN RODGERS recalled accompanying V/[redacted] on liberty on 04Nov24; Exhibit (10) pertains.

13. On 08Nov24, CSSA Jakobie GANT, USN, CVN 75, was interviewed in reference to the investigation. CSSA GANT related on 05Nov24, he was approached by S/COPELAND, who stated he had sexual intercourse with V/[redacted] and seemed excited about it. CSSA GANT related S/COPELAND stated V[redacted] kissed S/COPELAND's neck and had sexual intercourse; Exhibit (11) pertains.

14. On 08Nov24, CSSA Nicholas SPIVEY, USN, CVN 75, was interviewed in reference to the investigation. CSSA SPIVEY had no personal knowledge of the event, but provided V/[redacted] S/COPELAND's telephone number so she could call him and confront S/COPELAND about the rumors; Exhibit (12) pertains.

15. On 10Nov24, RA received the Sexual Assault Forensic Examination (SAFE) Kit pertaining to V/[redacted] from LT Rasheda DIA, USN, CVN 75; Exhibit (13) pertains.

16. On 18Nov24, CSSN Jada KNIGHT, USN, VAW 126, was interviewed in reference to the investigation. CSSN KNIGHT recalled S/COPELAND showing her a video of him having sexual intercourse with [redacted] the night of 04Nov24 and provided RA with a separate video of V/[redacted] during the same evening following the assault of V[redacted] drinking alcohol; Exhibit (14) pertains.

17. On 18Nov24, S/COPELAND was interviewed in reference to the investigation. Subsequent to waiving his Article 31b Rights, S/COPELAND admitted to taking a video of him having sexual intercourse with V/[redacted] in a bathroom stall of the bar but stated the sexual intercourse was consensual. S/COPELAND stated he lost his cellular telephone prior to returning back to the ship on 05Nov24. S/COPELAND provided a sample of his DNA via PASS; Exhibit (15) pertains.

18. On 20Dec24, a secondary interview of S/COPELAND was conducted per his request. Subsequent to waiving his Article 31b Rights, S/COPELAND provided RA with photographs and videos of the evening from his newly purchased cellular telephone, but stated he no longer possessed the video of him having sexual intercourse with V[redacted]; Exhibit (16) pertains.

19. On 18Mar25, CSSN Kaylee PARKS, USN, CVN 75, was interviewed and recalled her observations of V[redacted] and S/COPELAND at Heidi's Bier Bar in Oslo, Norway; Exhibit (17) pertains.

20. On 19Mar25, CS2 Kirsten CLICK, USN, Strike Fighter Squadron 11 (VFA-11), was interviewed and recalled events that took place at Heidi's Bier Bar in Oslo, Norway; Exhibit (18) pertains.

21. On 28Feb25, CDR Michelle MATTHEWS, USN, Commanding Officer (CO), USS JAMES E WILLIAMS (DDG 95), was notified concerning the status of the investigation.

22. This investigation remains open pending forensic analysis of the Sexual Assault Forensic Examination (SAFE) kit and any other investigative actions deemed necessary.

23. The generation of this reporting was delayed due to connectivity at sea and operational tempo aboard the USS HARRY S TRUMAN (CVN 75).

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY
1. On 31MAY25, NCIS received a report of a missing person, CSSN [redacted], USN, USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS (DDG-95), who was marked as Unauthorized Absent by DDG-95 along with CSSN Jermiah COPELAND (S/COPELAND), USN, DDG-95. On 01JUN25, base security was able to locate S/COPELAND, however, V/[redacted] was still missing. NCIS responded to Naval Station Norfolk and began conducting field interviews of friends and family members of V/[redacted] NCIS also spoke with S/COPELAND who stated, he along with one of his roommates dropped V/[redacted] off at her barracks, Miller Hall, on the morning on 29MAY25, and he had not seen or spoken to V/[redacted] since. Throughout the course of the investigation, it was determined S/COPELAND was the last person to see V[redacted] and he had not been truthful about V/[redacted] whereabouts nor his actions through 29MAY25 until 01JUN25. NCIS was able to seize S/COPELAND's cellphone and conducted a forensic review of the cellphone, which lead NCIS to a neighborhood in Norfolk, VA where V/[redacted] body was located inside a black duffel bag. After the discovery, NCIS detained S/COPELAND and attempted to interview him. S/COPELAND requested a lawyer be present for the interview and the interview was terminated. S/COPELAND was then remanded to Pre-Trial Confinement, pending charges. This investigation continues pending forensics, interviews, and evidence evaluation.

NARRATIVE
1. This reactive investigation pertains to the suspected violations of Article 107 (False Official Statements), Article 118 (Murder) and Article 131b (Obstruction of Justice) of the Uniform Code of Military Justice (UCMJ). NCIS is the lead investigating Agency.

2. Reference's (A) and (B) document previous NCIS cases with S/COPELAND.

3. On 31MAY25, NCIS received a phone call from Norfolk Police Department (NPD) Officer James STALCUP, CIV, who stated he had received notification about V/[redacted] and S/COPELAND being missing. Officer STALCUP stated he attempted to make contact with V/[redacted] but was unsuccessful; Exhibit (1) pertains.

4. On 31MAY25, NCIS made initial contact with multiple individuals to include V/[redacted] Command, in an attempt to locate V[redacted] NCIS attempted to conduct a phone ping on V/[redacted] phone, however, MTAC denied the request, as at the time there was no suspected suicidal ideations or suspected harm. EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

1. On 31MAY25, NCIS received a report of a missing person, CSSN [redacted], USN, USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS (DDG-95), who was marked as Unauthorized Absent (UA) by DDG-95 along with CSSN Jermiah COPELAND (S/COPELAND), USN, DDG-95. On 01JUN25, base security was able to locate S/COPELAND; however, V/[redacted] remained missing. NCIS responded to Naval Station Norfolk and began conducting field interviews of friends and family members of V/[redacted] NCIS spoke with S/COPELAND who stated he, along with one of his roommates, dropped V/[redacted] off on the morning on 29MAY25 at her barracks located at Miller Hall aboard Naval Station Norfolk and had not seen her since. Throughout the course of the investigation, NCIS conducted exhaustive efforts yielding S/COPELAND was the last person to see V[redacted] and he was not truthful about her whereabouts or his actions from 29MAY25 through 01JUN25. These efforts included submission and execution of legal process, interviews, foot canvasses, collaborative search efforts, and the utilization of digital forensics. NCIS seized the cellular device of S/COPELAND and conducted a forensic review, which led NCIS to a neighborhood where V[redacted] body was located inside a black duffel bag. After the discovery, NCIS detained S/COPELAND and attempted to conduct an interview; however, he requested counsel and the interview was terminated. Subsequently, S/COPELAND was placed into pre-trial confinement pending charges. This investigation is pending evidence analysis, interviews, cellular data findings, and any additional investigative steps deemed appropriate.

NARRATIVE

1. This reactive investigation pertains to the suspected violations of Article 107 (False Official Statements), Article 118 (Murder) and Article 131b (Obstruction of Justice) of the Uniform Code of Military Justice (UCMJ). NCIS maintains primary jurisdiction.

2. References (A - C) document additional NCIS cases wherein CSSN Jermiah COPELAND (S/COPELAND), USN, USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS (DDG-95) was identified as the subject of the investigations.

3. Reference (D) documents all previous investigative activity to date.

4. Upon review of Reference (D), administrative errors were observed and will be corrected in this ROI (INTERIM). EXHIBIT (20) titled "RESULTS OF INTERVIEW OF PSSN IRBIN GORDILLOCRUZ, USN" stated he returned to his barracks room at approximately 0400 on 28JUN25, this date should have reflected as 28MAY25. EXHIBIT (32) titled "IA: RESULTS OF INTERVIEW OF CSSN JERMIAH COPELAND, USN" did not provide the Command representative who S/COPELAND was released to at the conclusion of his interview. S/COPELAND was turned over to FCC Brad PARKER, USN, DDG-95, at approximately 0045 hours. Subsequent to his interview, FCC PARKER escorted S/COPELAND to his barracks room for the execution of a Permissive Authorization for Search and Seizure (PASS) to review the contents of his backpack.

5. On 03JUN25, NCIS documented the Jeep Compass belonging to AR John CALISSE, USN, Airborne Command & Control Squadron 124 (VAW-124), via a PASS; Exhibit (34) pertains.

6. On 04JUN25, NCIS submitted a 2703(d) Court Order for the AT&T account of S/COPELAND connected to phone number [redacted]4307; Exhibit (35) pertains.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

1. On 31MAY25, NCIS received a report of a missing person, CSSN [redacted], USN, USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS (DDG-95), who was marked as Unauthorized Absent (UA) by DDG-95 along with CSSN Jermiah COPELAND (S/COPELAND), USN, DDG-95. On 01JUN25, base security was able to locate S/COPELAND; however, V/[redacted] remained missing. NCIS responded to Naval Station Norfolk and began conducting field interviews of friends and family members of V[redacted] NCIS spoke with S/COPELAND who stated he, along with one of his roommates, dropped V[redacted] off on the morning on 29MAY25 at her barracks located at Miller Hall aboard Naval Station Norfolk and had not seen her since. Throughout the course of the investigation, NCIS conducted exhaustive efforts yielding S/COPELAND was the last person to see V[redacted] and he was not truthful about her whereabouts or his actions from 29MAY25 through 01JUN25. These efforts included submission and execution of legal process, interviews, foot canvasses, collaborative search efforts, and the utilization of digital forensics. NCIS seized the cellular device of S/COPELAND and conducted a forensic review, which led NCIS to a neighborhood where V/[redacted] body was located inside a black duffel bag. After the discovery, NCIS detained S/COPELAND and attempted to conduct an interview; however, he requested counsel and the interview was terminated. Subsequently, S/COPELAND was placed into pre-trial confinement pending charges. This investigation is pending evidence analysis, interviews, cellular data findings, and any additional investigative steps deemed appropriate.

NARRATIVE

1. This reactive investigation pertains to the suspected violations of Article 107 (False Official Statements), Article 118 (Murder) and Article 131b (Obstructing Justice) of the Uniform Code of Military Justice (UCMJ). NCIS maintains primary jurisdiction.

From: LCDR Amanda Serfess, JAGC, USN, Defense Counsel To: Commander, Naval Surface Force Atlantic
Via: Commanding Officer, USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS (DDG-95)

Subj: REQUEST FOR REDRESS UNDER ARTICLE 138, UCMJ

Ref: (a) Article 138, UCMJ
(b) JAGINST 5800.7G, Chapter III.

Encl: (1) Emails with trial counsel and defense counsel
(2) Emails with defense counsel and the staff judge advocate advising the USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS
(3) CSSN Copeland's Request for Redress of 29 Jul 25
(4) Email from staff judge advocate advising the USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS notifying the defense that the request for redress was denied of 7 Aug 25
(5) Email with Brig Staff
(6) Email from staff judge advocate advising the USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS stating that formal response was not required of 11 Aug 25

1. This complaint of wrong under reference (a) is submitted on behalf of CSSN Jermiah Copeland by his defense counsel, LCDR Amanda Serfess, JAGC, USN and LCDR Clifton Morgan, JAGC, USN. It is submitted in compliance with reference (b).

2. Complainant information:

a. Current command: USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS (DDG-95), Norfolk, Virginia

b. Command at time of alleged wrong: USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS (DDG-95), Norfolk, Virginia

c. EAOS: 12 July 2027

d. Current mailing and email address: CSSN Copeland is being held in pretrial confinement in Naval Consolidated Brig Chesapeake. He can be reached through his defense counsel.

3. Respondent information: Commanding Officer, USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS (DDG-95), Norfolk, Virginia

4. Complaint:

a. Alleged wrong: CSSN Copeland has been held in pretrial confinement for 63 days without preferred charges. CSSN Copeland has been in a "maximum status" while at the brig. He remains in his cell 22 hours per day. He is not permitted to have "contact" visits with his defense counsel. CSSN Copeland has requested to have a private, in-person, meeting with his defense counsel. However, this request was denied.

b. Details:

(1) For 63 days, CSSN Copeland has been held in confinement without preferral of charges.

(2) Per enclosure (1), on 16 June, CSSN Copeland requested through counsel to meet with his attorney's in-person in a private setting. The trial counsel stated that the government could not support this request. The trial counsel ignored the defense's request for more information.

(3) On 3 July 2025, the staff judge advocate advising the USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS reached out to defense counsel. In response, the defense counsel provided her additional information. Namely, that at least one trial court has found that the current policies and procedures in place at Naval Consolidated Brig Chesapeake for pretrial confinees in a "maximum" confinement status is illegal pretrial punishment.

(4) On 23 July 2025, the defense followed up with our original request. This follow up was ignored.

(5) On 29 July 2025, CSSN Copeland through counsel submitted a formal request for redress to the Commanding Officer, USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS to meet with his attorneys in a private, confidential in-person setting.

(6) On 7 August 2025, CSSN Copeland's request was denied. USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS provided no reasoning for the denial.[1]

c. Relief requested: CSSN Copeland respectfully requests to be able to meet with his attorneys in a private room to have a private conversation without the risk of being heard by people who are not members of his defense team. CSSN Copeland has been in pretrial confinement since 9 June 2025. Based solely on the fact that CSSN Copeland has "Article 118" on his confinement order, he has been placed in a "maximum status." Because CSSN Copeland is in that status, he cannot have a "contact" visit with his attorneys at the brig.[2] This means that his attorneys can only meet with him separated by a plexiglass wall. This room is not soundproof – the brig staff or anyone else can hear from outside the room. Further, because of the plexiglass, it is difficult for CSSN Copeland to hear his attorneys and even more difficult for his attorneys to

[1] Per enclosure (6), the staff judge advocate reads Section 0305.a of the JAGMAN to state that a response to a request for redress is not required. Section 0305.a of the JAGMAN states that

> The commanding officer must act upon a request for redress within 30 calendar days of receipt, and notify the complainant in writing of the action taken, if applicable. If the commanding officer does not respond to the request within 30 calendar days or denies the requested redress, then the complainant may submit an Article 138 complaint to the GCMCA via the commanding officer, as the respondent.

[2] See enclosure (5).

hear him. This is inadequate to properly represent CSSN Copeland and does not meet the requirements of the Sixth Amendment.

Understanding that you cannot order the brig to have a different policy, you do have the authority to transport CSSN Copeland to a different location so that he can meet with his attorneys. Defense counsel regularly meet with clients who are in pretrial confinement at building A-50 on Naval Station Norfolk. Commands transport pre-trial confinees, including other pretrial confinees who are accused of murder and attempted murder, to consult with their attorneys. A-50 is a secure building, it is the same building where CSSN Copeland will meet with his attorneys should charges in this case ever be pursued. CSSN Copeland simply requests to exercise his constitutional right to counsel, which must include the right to meet and openly discuss his case. The right to counsel includes the right to effective counsel. CSSN Copeland's attorneys cannot be effective if they cannot meet and openly discuss the case. Please allow CSSN Copeland to have a privileged, in-person meeting with his attorneys.

5. I certify the above information is true and correct to the best of my knowledge, and this complaint is submitted per the guidelines and procedural requirements in Chapter III, Manual of the Judge Advocate General.

6. Please contact me with any questions or concerns you may have at 850-452-5572 or via email Amanda.m.serfess.mil@us.navy.mil.

CDR Mayo,

Who has decided that CSSN Copeland cannot come to A-50? OSTC? The RLSO? Why can't the government support CSSN Copeland coming to A-50? We have confined clients from other command come to A-50.

Can you please provide me with the name and contact information of the lead agent in this case?

LCDR Serfess,

You are more than welcome to address your concerns with the brig or NCIS.

The government cannot support a 2 July meeting in A-50. I've asked the brig if you can use the IRO room - but the brig is unable to accommodate. I suggest you liaise directly with the brig regarding any future visits.

CDR Mayo,

Please find LCDR Morgan and I's notice or representation attached.

Our understanding is the CSSN Copeland's cell was searched and his IRO package was taken from him because according to NCIS he cannot have that documentation. Is there a sealing or protection order in this case? Please let us know why CSSN Copeland cannot review and keep the documents associated with his case. Please let us know what the Government believes CSSN Copeland can have and review in his case. If NCIS has questions about how CSSN Copeland received documents, please have them reach out me and LCDR Morgan.

Please let me know if you need anything from me. Are we good for Wednesday? We have a couple of A/C spaces in the defense that we can use to meet with CSSN Copeland – the same spaces being used today with a client from the brig.

Is it possible for the command to bring him to A-50 or another location to allow us to meet with him? (Similar to how we will meet with him when he come to the court room for hearings).

Please see attached. We presented these to the IRO at Copeland's hearing.

There are plenty of spaces at the brig where we could meet with the client and the staff could still see us. CDR Mayo asked them if we could use the IRO room (no windows, but a place we meet with other clients) but the brig said no. We would also agree to have more than one of the defense team in the room during any meeting if it is our safety they are concerned about. We are not concerned about our safety and haven't seen any indication that CSSN Copeland would do anything to harm his defense

Ref: (a) U.S. CONST. amend. VI
(b) R.C.M. 502
(c) Article 138, UCMJ

1. On behalf of CSSN Copeland, the defense respectfully requests to be able to meet with CSSN Copeland in a private room to have a private conversation where he can consult with his attorneys without the risk of being heard by people who are not members of his defense. CSSN Copeland has been in pretrial confinement since 9 June 2025. Based solely on the fact that CSSN Copeland has "Article 118" on his confinement order, he has been placed in a "maximum status." Because CSSN Copeland is in that status, he cannot have a "contact" visit with his attorneys at the brig. This means that his attorneys can only meet with him separated by a plexiglass wall. Further, because of the plexiglass, it is difficult for CSSN Copeland to hear his attorneys and even more difficult for his attorneys to hear him. This is inadequate to properly represent CSSN Copeland and does not meet the requirements of reference (a).

Defense counsel regularly meet with clients who are in pretrial confinement at building A-50 on Naval Station Norfolk. CO,

Good afternoon. I, along LCDR Morgan (copied) represent CSSN Copeland. CSSN Copeland has the right to be represented by counsel. To effectuate that right, he needs to able to have a private conversation with his attorneys. We have made the request, but have not received a clear answer on why he cannot meet with his attorneys in-person in a private room. Please find a request for redress ICO CSSN Copeland attached.

I am available to answer any questions.

| UNITED STATESv.COPELAND, JERMIAHCSSN/ E-3U.S. NAVY | DEFENSE MOTION FOR APPROPRIATE RELIEF(CHANGE VENUE)26 November 2025 |

MOTION

Pursuant to Rule for Courts-Martial (RCM) 906(b)(11), the defense moves this Court to change the venue of trial in this case to Jacksonville or Mayport, Florida or another location not affected by the media attention in this case.

BURDEN

As the moving party, the defense bears the burden to prove facts necessary to resolve the motion by a preponderance of evidence. R.C.M. 905(c).

FACTS

1. On 9 June 2025, CSSN Copeland was ordered into confinement. (Enclosure (A): Confinement Order of 9 Jun 25).

2. The reason for confinement was an allegation of a violation of Article 118 for the alleged premeditated murder of CS3 A.R. (Id.; Enclosure (B): 48/72 hour letter).

3. CSSN Copeland is confined at the Naval Consolidated Brig Charleston (NCBC) Detachment Chesapeake. He is classified as a maximum status prisoner.

4. On 16 June 2025, CSSN Copeland demanded a speedy trial (Enclosure (C): Demand for Speedy Trial of 16 Jun 25).

5. On 25 July 2025, CSSN Copeland again demanded a speedy trial. (Enclosure (D): Second Demand for Speedy Trial of 25 Jul 25).

6. There has been significant media attention regarding this case since CS3 A.R.'s disappearance.[1] These articles include CSSN Copeland's name and facts (some incorrect) regarding the case.

7. Articles were posted to social media where members of the public can make comments. Some of these comments have included calls for CSSN Copeland's death and pictures of CSSN Copeland. (Enclosure (K): Screenshots from social media comments).

8. The media released CSSN Copeland's name prior to charges being preferred in this case.[2]

9. On 22 August 2025, charges were preferred in this case. (Charge Sheet). Local news outlets reported this.[3]

10. In the days just prior to the Article 32 hearing, protesters were on Hampton Blvd right outside of Naval Station Norfolk with signs that read "Justice for A[]." (Enclosure (E): Affidavit in re Justice for CS3 A.R. protests).

11. On the day before the Article 32 preliminary hearing, an invitation to protest was posted on Facebook inviting people to Gate 5, Naval Station Norfolk from 1000-1300 on 18 September 2025, which was the day of the Article 32. The invitation stated that "[t]ogether, we demand answers, accountability, and justice." (Enclosure (F): Facebook invitation to protest).

19. "Servicemembers are entitled to have their cases 'adjudged by fair and impartial court-martial panels whose evaluation is based solely upon the evidence,' not pretrial publicity."[10] The doctrine of unfair pretrial publicity is based upon the constitutional right to due process.[11] Pretrial publicity alone is insufficient to require a change of venue.[12] Rather, an accused is entitled to a change of venue only if "pretrial publicity creates 'so great a prejudice against the accused that the accused cannot obtain a fair and impartial trial."[13] An appellant bears the burden of demonstrating either presumed prejudice or actual prejudice.

20. Pretrial publicity can warrant a change of venue when that publicity has prejudiced the potential panel members.[14] Prejudice can be shown in two ways: actual prejudice or presumed prejudice.[15] Actual prejudice is present when panel members have developed such fixed opinions about the case that they cannot make an impartial decision with regard to guilt or innocence.[16] Presumed prejudice is established when the pretrial publicity surrounding the case is prejudicial, inflammatory, and has saturated the community.[17]

21. Prejudice may be presumed if the pretrial publicity is "(1) prejudicial, (2) inflammatory, and (3) has saturated the community."[18] "To establish saturation, there must be evidence of the amount of pretrial publicity and the number of individuals exposed to it."[19] A conviction will not be overturned for presumed prejudice if there is a manifest injustice.[20]

22. Depending on the circumstances of the case, the potential for prejudice may be ameliorated through measures such as a continuance, change of venue, sequestration, and regulation of public comment by counsel.[21]

23. In most instances a motion for a change of venue takes place after the voir dire.[22] But "where there is a reasonable likelihood that prejudicial news prior to trial will prevent a fair trial, the judge should continue the case until the threat abates, or transfer it to another county…."[23] However, a showing of actual prejudice is usually necessary before a change of venue is granted.[24]

ARGUMENT

24. Having the trial at Naval Station Norfolk would create a manifest injustice and CSSN Copeland would be unable to receive a fair trial. Therefore, this court should order a change of venue to Jacksonville, Florida or another location with less media attention and protests.

CSSN Copeland has the right to a fair and impartial jury. He will not be able to get that in Hampton Roads. Here, there is presumed prejudice as the pretrial publicity surrounding the case is prejudicial, inflammatory, and has saturated the community. Media attention in this case has been frequent. Additionally, much of the attention is on social media where members of the public are free to comment. Many of the comments are clear – without seeing a single piece of evidence, members of the community are ready to convict CSSN Copeland. All potential members, if procured from Hampton Roads, will be exposed, from news outlets, social media, and/or protests to this case. They are exposed to incorrect and inadmissible facts (some reports regarding CSSN Copeland's high school behavior), CSSN Copeland's photo, and calls for CSSN Copeland's death. Compare this case with Simpson, where the CAAF reasoned that pretrial publicity did not prejudice the accused because it was only for two weeks and the accused's name was rarely mentioned.[25] Here, it has been the exact opposite, there has been constant publicity throughout the investigation and proceedings, protests, and CSSN Copeland's name has been in the media on almost all the reporting since 20 June 2025. There is a far greater risk of prejudice in this case. The risk of actual or presumed prejudice would be mitigated by changing the venue to a location with less local interest such as Jacksonville, Florida.

While, the test for actual prejudice may have to wait until voir dire, that luxury is not available here. CSSN Copeland is in maximum confinement and any further delay would significantly prejudice him. If this Court does not find presumed prejudice based on the publicity and protests in the local media and social media, the defense alternatively requests to change the date of voir dire to the 5 March 2026 39(a) hearing. This would do three things: (1) determine if it is possible to get a fair and impartial jury in Hampton Roads, (2) if it is possible, instruct the members not to view any media early, and (3) if it is not possible, change the venue to another location in enough time that would allow the government time to change the witnesses travel and other logistics - protecting CSSN Copeland from extended pretrial confinement.

RELIEF REQUESTED

25. Pursuant to Rule for Court-Martial (RCM) 906(b)(11), the defense moves this Court to change the venue of trial in this case to Jacksonville or Mayport, Florida or another location not affected by the media attention in this case.

26. Unless the government concedes the motion or this Court grants the relief on the basis of pleadings alone, the defense requests a hearing to present evidence and argument on this matter.

1. Per references (a) and (b), the following information, as well as enclosures (1) and (2), are provided for the purpose of conducting a review of the pretrial confinement of CSSN JERMIAH T. COPELAND, USN:

a. Date, Time, and Place of Confinement: 10 June 2025, approximately 0247, at Naval Consolidated Brig Chesapeake, Virginia per enclosure (1).

b. Offenses: Probable cause and reasonable grounds exist to believe CSSN Copeland has committed the following offenses (not limited to):

(1) Violation of the UCMJ, Article 118 (Murder)

(2) Violation of the UCMJ, Article 120 (Sexual Assault) x 2 specifications

c. General Circumstances:

(1) On or about 29 May 2025, CSSN Jermiah T. Copeland, murdered CSSN A[redacted] R[redacted]. Per enclosure (2), on 28 May 2025, CSSN Re[redacted] was known to be in the barracks room located at X-2 room 335B. One of CSSN Copeland's roommates, PSSN Irbin Gordillocruz, noted that at approximately 0645 29 May 2025, he was leaving for work and saw CSSN Copeland with an unknown female with darker skin and black curly hair on the floor naked. PSSN Gordillocruz noted that he could tell the female was breathing by her chest moving up and down. CSSN Copeland was also due at work on 29 May 2025. A command representative—FCC Brad Parker—was sent to CSSN Copeland's barracks to ascertain his status. According to FCC Parker, CSSN Copeland answered the door in shorts and no shirt. FCC Parker recognized CSSN R[redacted] in the barracks room and stated she waved at FCC Parker and rolled over into a blanket. FCC Parker ordered CSSN Copeland to report to work and left the barracks room.

(2) CSSN R[redacted]z's barracks room is at Miller Hall onboard Naval Station Norfolk. According to CSSN Copeland, on 29 May 2025 at approximately 1000, both members eventually dressed and one of CSSN Copeland's roommates drove CSSN Copeland and CSSN R[redacted] to Miller Hall. Neither of CSSN Copeland's roommates gave CSSN Copeland nor CSSN R[redacted] a ride the morning of 29 May 2025. CSSN [redacted] never checked into Miller Hall from 29 May 2025 onward. The last ping of her cellphone was the evening of 29 May 2025 with the location being the X-2 barracks, which was where CSSN Copeland's room is located. Per enclosure (3), the last use of her bank account was on 28 May 2025. According to the command, CSSN Copeland was marked as being in an unauthorized absence status from 29 to 31 May 2025 and on 1 June 2025.

(3) On 1 June 2025, CSSN Copeland went to dinner with PSSN Gordillocruz and another roommate, AR John Calisse, at approximately 1900. After eating, CSSN Copeland asked AR Calisse if he could use AR Calisse's vehicle to "go get something to eat" to which AR Calisse agreed. CSSN Copeland then mustered at the ship to terminate his unauthorized absence, and thereafter is unaccounted for until 0630, 2 June 2025.

(4) According to the command, CSSN [redacted] was scheduled to work during the day on Friday, 30 May 2025 to Sunday, 1 June 2025 with a report time of 0500-0530. CSSN [redacted] failed to report all three days.

(5) On 4 June 2025, NCIS searched CSSN Copeland's barracks room at X-2 and discovered a blood trail leading from inside the closet onto the carpet of the room. On 8 June 2025, NCIS received confirmation from USACIL that the swab taken from inside of CSSN Copeland's closet tested positive for human blood. Enclosure (4) pertains.

(6) On 9 June 2025, NCIS reviewed CSSN Copeland's cellular phone. NCIS extracted two image files, one of which appears to be a screenshot of a Google Maps application with the street name "Cary Avenue" visible. The device appeared to be in Airplane mode at the time the screenshot was taken, which was 2 June 2025 at 0515. NCIS also extracted data from the applications Apple Health Floors, Apple Health Steps, and Apple Health Distance. This data showed that on 2 June 2025 from 0345 to 0447, the cellular phone was in the approximate area of 2842 Cary Avenue, Norfolk, Virginia, 23504 and actively moved about in the vicinity of the area.

(7) On 9 June 2025, NCIS went to 2482 Cary Avenue, Norfolk, Virginia, 23504 and searched the area. A black duffel bag was found beneath a tree within the perimeter captured by CSSN Copeland's screenshot of the Google Maps. After partially opening the duffel bag, a pair of human legs was observed inside. NCIS found a photo on CSSN Copeland's mother's Facebook page from 23 September 2024, in which CSSN Copeland is seen using a similar black duffle bag found at Cary Avenue. Enclosure (5) pertains.

(8) On 10 June 2025, NCIS attended the autopsy of the female found in the duffel bag. Within the duffle bag, there was an E3 uniform patch located in the hair of the female. The Office of the Chief Medical Examiner (OCME) identified the remains located in the duffel bag to be those of CSSN [redacted] Although the body was in an extreme state of decomposition, the red cross tattoo on her back was still identifiable. Enclosure (6) pertains.

(9) Per enclosure (8), while at his previous command, on or about 26 July 2024, CSSN Copeland allegedly sexually assaulted ABHAN C[redacted] R[redacted] by grabbing her vulva, breasts, and buttocks over her clothing while applying pressure to her neck so that it was difficult for her to breathe. Immediately after the assault, ABHAN [redacted] reported CSSN Copeland to her boyfriend, CSSN Fernando Cuestabravo. CSSN Cuestabravo personally witnessed pressure marks on her neck consistent with ABHAN [redacted]s' report, though those marks had faded by the time of NCIS involvement. Shortly after ABHAN [redacted]s' report to CSSN Cuestabravo, CSSN Cuestabravo reported the matter to CSC Gregory Simmons, the command's security department, and ultimately, NCIS for investigation.

(10) Per enclosure (9), while at his previous command, on or about 4 November 2024, CSSN Copeland allegedly sexually assaulted CSSN S[redacted] S[redacted] in a bathroom of a bar in Oslo, Norway. CSSN Copeland had taken a video recording of the assault and showed the video to multiple Sailors. CSSN Si[redacted] underwent a Sexual Assault Forensic Examination (SAFE), but CSSN Copeland reported her level of intoxication made it so she could not remember a sexual encounter and that she had vomited on herself, as evidenced by the clothing she provided during the SAFE exam. She was approached by multiple Sailors whom CSSN Copeland had shown the video of the sexual assault. CSSN Copeland admitted to NCIS that the sexual penetration took place, though he maintained it was consensual. He further admitted to making the video recording and showing it to at least two other Sailors, but was no longer in possession of the phone used to make the recording or the recording itself.

(11) Per enclosure (10) on 11 April 2025, Base Security responded to a complaint of domestic violence involving CSSN Copeland. Allegedly, CSSN Copeland was in his barracks room with his then girlfriend, CS2 S[redacted] Ri[redacted](USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS). CS2 Williams received a phone call from another woman who purported to be CSSN Copeland's girlfriend. CS2 Williams confronted CSSN Copeland regarding the other woman, but CSSN Copeland denied being in a relationship with the woman who had called. The two continued to argue. According to CS2 Williams, CSSN Copeland got up and "choked" her. CSSN Copeland then laughed and stated that he was just playing with CS2 Williams. CS2 Williams, upset, left the barracks room and returned home. While home she continued to engage via phone with the other woman who purported to be CSSN Copeland's girlfriend. CS2 Williams then returned to CSSN Copeland's barracks room to confront him again about his other girlfriend. While arguing, CSSN Copeland grabbed CS2 William's phone from her hand. CS2 Williams then punched CSSN Williams in the chest and slammed his PS5 to the ground and left. CSSN Copeland's roommate alleged to law enforcement that CS2 Williams waived a knife around while arguing with CSSN Copeland. No weapon was found.

2. Previous Disciplinary Action: NJP awarded for violation of UCMJ Article 86, Unauthorized Absence on 6 June 2025.

3. Extenuating or mitigating circumstances: None.

4. The requirement to review probable cause within 48 hours of the initiation of confinement was satisfied because I, complying with R.C.M. 305(d), personally ordered CSSN Copeland into confinement. I am neutral and detached in this matter and personally reviewed the existence of probable cause to continue the confinement. Due to the aforementioned information, continued pretrial confinement is appropriate in this case and there is probable cause to conclude that:

a. The offenses set forth above in paragraph 1.b. have been committed and are triable by court-martial.

b. CSSN Copeland did commit the offenses specified in paragraph 1.b.

c. Confinement of CSSN Copeland is necessary because it is foreseeable that he will not appear at further hearings, will commit further serious misconduct, and less severe forms of restraint are inadequate.

(1) Continued pretrial confinement is necessary and appropriate in this case. Charges involving allegations that CSSN Copeland murdered CSSN R[redacted] will be preferred to trial by court-martial, and no unusual delays are expected. There is probable cause to support the allegation. Given that CSSN Copeland has already been dishonest in claiming that one of his roommates had driven CSSN R[redacted] and CSSN Copeland back to CSSN R[redacted]z's barracks room the morning of 29 May—which was false—it is foreseeable that CSSN Copeland may attempt to evade future hearings in this matter.

(2) Given the horrendous nature of the crime and CSSN Copeland's direct involvement with that crime, I have grave concerns for the safety of both military and civilian personnel in the public tied to the foreseeable further serious misconduct of CSSN Copeland. The previous allegations of sexual assault from his previous command show that CSSN Copeland has an escalating pattern of violence towards females. Furthermore, his second sexual assault allegation and his involvement in a domestic violence encounter—let alone this murder—while he was already on notice that he was being investigated for serious criminal behavior indicates the extreme risk of further serious misconduct if the accused is not retained in confinement.

(3) Less severe forms of restraint are inadequate. The fact that this alleged grave misconduct even occurred demonstrates that lesser forms of moral restraint would be inadequate as the military environment provides no inherent mitigation to the risk posed by CSSN Copeland. The alleged offense was targeted to directly harm—to murder—a specific Sailor, which is so depraved that no form of lesser restraint, although available, is appropriate. Due to CSSN Copeland's foreseeable serious misconduct and the fact that less severe forms of restraint are not adequate in this case, I conclude that continued pretrial confinement is most appropriate for this Sailor.

I, LN1 Hafner, USN, witnessed the following:

1. On the day of the Article 32 hearing ICO CSSN Jermiah Copeland, I witnessed a Sailor in Dress Whites carrying what appeared to be a small silver urn. The urn was embellished with an American flag.

2. After the Article 32 proceeding, I saw the Sailor standing in the quarterdeck of building A-50, holding the urn. He was standing with the entourage of Ms. Castle, the mother of CS3 A.R.

Signed today, 20 November 2025.

1. I, Legalman First Class (LN1) Montrenese G. James, currently assigned to Defense Service Office Southeast, Detachment Mayport, declare under penalty of perjury that to the best of my personal knowledge and recollection the information contained herein is true, correct, and complete.

2. Based on my personal knowledge and lack of conversations with acquaintances that I have in the Jacksonville, FL area about this specific case, I believe there has been very little to no local news coverage or public discussion of this case within the Jacksonville area. Since the national news about this case broke in June, there has been no protests or public demonstrations outside of either Naval Station Mayport or NAS Jacksonville, indicating the case has not generated significant local unrest or attention in the Jacksonville area.

3. I have friends stationed at Naval Station Norfolk who have reached out to me via phone calls and text messages regarding news articles they have seen related to this case and CS3 A.R.'s body being found. Because of their interest in what has happened, they have shared articles and updates about the case with me and generally asked if I have heard about any developments. I have informed them that I only know of the information published in the news articles that I have seen in the past that they have sent me. These communications I've had with my Norfolk friends compared to my friends in Jacksonville appears to suggest that the facts of this case is more widely reported or discussed in Norfolk than it is in the Jacksonville area.

5. The brig is located on the Naval Station Jacksonville base, and the courtroom is situated no more than 5 minutes away from the brig on the same base. This proximity ensures the security and convenience of having both the detention and trial facilities on the same base.

Good Afternoon MC1 Stueven,

I am a defense attorney in Norfolk, and along with two other attorneys we represent CSSN Jermiah Copeland. I understand the PAO folks may be furloughed and that you are currently acting PAO. I got your name from the base SJA and wanted to reach out to you with a question regarding this upcoming court martial (see below for my discussion with LT Morris about the same topic).

To your knowledge, has NAS Jax has any issues with demonstrations, protests, incidents, either on or immediately off base, regarding CSSN A[redacted] R[redacted] or the court case developing in Norfolk?

I am happy to discuss further if you'd like. Thanks in advance!

Good Morning LT Morris,

Myself and two other attorneys currently represent CSSN Jermiah Copeland. I am emailing today for two reasons 1) do you have a contact in the PAO office who I can reach out to (they are not answering phones and I suspect there may be a furlough issue) and 2) has the base or local area had any demonstrations, incidents, disruptions, or the like related to a sailor named SN A[redacted] R[redacted], either on base or off?

Feel free to give me a call to discuss further. Thanks for your help.

1. I, Jeanine Badanes, have been employed as a Defense Litigation Support Specialist (Defense Investigator) with Defense Service Office Southeast in Norfolk, Virginia, since October 2015. Prior to my current position, I worked as a litigation attorney for 19 years and practiced both civil and criminal law, in State and Federal Courts, most recently as a State prosecutor. Over the past ten (10) years as the defense investigator, I have searched for, identified, and reviewed thousands of news outlets and social media accounts related to cases filed in the Central Judicial Circuit.

2. As part of my duties in the defense of the charges made against CSSN Jermiah Copeland, I monitored news outlets and social media sites for articles, posts, comments, etc., since our office was advised that CSSN Copeland was placed in custody in June 2025.

3. On November 18-19, 2025, I searched local news and social media accounts for stories and posts mentioning A.R. and/or CSSN Copeland. I searched for both Hampton Roads and Jacksonville, Florida area accounts. On each site, I searched for A.R.'s last name as well as CSSN Copeland's first name and, in some instances, his last name. If a result was clearly about or related to the instant case, I copied and pasted the link to a Word document with the date the article/story/video/post was published. I attempted to cover all of the major media in both local areas as well as Facebook pages some Navy entities. The sites/pages searched and the number of confirmed results for each site were:

5. On September 18, 2025, during CSSN Copeland's Article 32 Hearing, I observed a "Show of Support" that was held outside of Gate 5 of Naval Station Norfolk. The event had been advertised on several Facebook groups, including Sisters in Service and Circle of Arms, to take place between 10:00 am and 1:00 pm. At the event, individuals stood and walked back and forth on the corner at Hampton Boulevard and Gate 5 holding and raising signs reading "Justice for A[redacted]," "Her Life Mattered," "MST=Military Sexual Trauma [with statistics and mentioning A.R. and Vanessa Guillen]," and others.

MOTION

Pursuant to R.C.M. 906(b)(7) and R.C.M. 703(d), the Defense moves the Court to compel the production of forensic psychologist, Dr. Reagan Wetherill, as an expert consultant for the Defense for both pre-trial preparations and trial participation.

SUMMARY

CSSN Jermiah Copeland is charged with sexually assaulting CSSN S.S., an individual who purports to have been "blacked out" at the time of the alleged offense, among various other violations of the UCMJ. The Defense submitted the appropriate requests for expert funding in accordance with the Trial Management Order. The Government negatively endorsed the request for Dr. Wetherill and funding was denied. Participation of Dr. Reagan Wetherill is relevant and necessary to the Defense's ability to present a full and fair defense to the alleged misconduct. The defense asks the Court to compel the appointment of this expert witness for pre-trial and trial participation.

FACTS

1. On 1 October 2025, charges were referred in United States v. CSSN Jermiah Copeland, USN. Included within those charges are alleged violations of Article 120 (Sexual Assault) against CSSN S.S. and Article 118 (Premediated Murder) of CS3 A.R.

2. Charge I, Specification 3 reads as follows:

> Specification 3 (Sexual Assault -Incapable of Consenting): In that Culinary Specialist Seaman Jermiah T. Copeland, U.S. Navy, USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS (DDG 95), on active duty, did, at or near Oslo, Norway, on or about 4 November 2024, commit a sexual act upon CSSN S.S., U.S. Navy, by penetrating CSSN S.S.'s vulva with his penis, when CSSN S.S. was incapable of consenting to the sexual act because she was impaired by an intoxicant, to wit: alcohol, and the accused reasonably should have known of that condition.

3. Charge VII and its sole specification reads as follows:

> Specification (Premeditated Murder): In that Culinary Specialist Seaman Jermiah T. Copeland, U.S. Navy, USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS (DDG 95), on active duty, did, at or near Norfolk, Virginia, on or about 29 May 2025, with premeditation, murder CS3 A.R., U.S. Navy, by means of an act of the Accused.

4. CSSN Copeland and CSSN S.S. were both assigned to the USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS and were on a port call in Oslo, Norway on 4 November 2024.[1]

5. CSSN Copeland and CSSN were at an establishment, Heidi's Bier Bar, where each had consumed alcohol.[2]

6. There are differing accounts from sailors regarding CSSN S.S.'s level of intoxication, as well as the amount of alcohol consumed by CSSN S.S. Some relay that she seemed very drunk, while others did not believe she appeared overly intoxicated.[3]

7. CSSN J. K. relayed to investigators that she had seen a video of sexual interactions between CSSN Copeland and CSSN S.S. on the night it occurred, yet later in the same night CSSN S.S. and CSSN Copeland had continued to drink and hang out together before returning to the ship.[4]

8. Multiple witnesses and CSSN Copeland himself attest that he and CSSN S.S. were engaged in flirtatious behavior to include touching and kissing during the evening leading up to the alleged incident of sexual assault.[5]

9. CSSN S.S. alleged that CSSN Copeland followed her into a bathroom and proceeded to penetrate her vagina with his penis. She did not remember these events, however, other witnesses recalled CSSN S.S. leading CSSN Copeland to the bathroom.[6]

10. CSSN S.S. alleges that her friends informed her the following day CSSN Copeland had shown them a video of himself and CSSN S.S. having sexual intercourse in the bathroom of Heidi's Bier Bar.[7]

11. CSSN S.S. claimed to have no recollection of the incident or allowing CSSN Copeland to record such an encounter.[8]

12. One witness informed NCIS agents investigating the allegations that she had seen CSSN S.S. in the same restroom after the incident and she was applying lip gloss and did not exhibit symptoms of being overly intoxicated.[9]

13. CSSN S.S. acknowledged, when interviewed by NCIS, that she had taken 3 shots of tequila and did not recall what happened on the night of the alleged assault.[10]

14. CSSN S.S. informed investigators that she did not remember the sexual intercourse, but the following morning she felt "cramps" and her vagina was "swollen."[11]

15. CSSN S.S. was dating CSSN S.E. another member of the ship's crew at the time of the alleged assault, and she is currently engaged to CSSN S.E. and they are expecting their first child together.[12]

16. CSSN Copeland cooperated with investigators and participated in their investigation into the incident, providing a formal interview to NCIS.[13]

17. Upon investigation into the unauthorized absence of CS3 A.R. in May and June of 2025, NCIS determined that CS3 A.R. was seen with CSSN Copeland on the last morning anyone saw her.[14]

18. FCC Brad Parker saw CS3 A.R. with CSSN Copeland on the morning of 29 May 2025.[15]

19. Witnesses saw CS3 A.R. with CSSN Copeland around 0600 on the morning of 29 May 2025.[16]

20. On 9 June 2025, the remains of CS3 A.R. were located by investigators.[17]

21. An autopsy was performed by Dr. Lameira of the Office of Chief Medical Examiner – Norfolk, which resulted in an "undetermined" cause of death.[18] Despite subsequent investigation, the manner of death remains "undetermined" as of this filing.

22. A second private autopsy was performed by Dr. Nemanja Rodic on 28 June 2025. This autopsy concludes the manner of death is "deferred."[19] Importantly, Dr. Rodic did not see any

23. On 24 October 2025, the Defense requested, in accordance with the Trial Management Order, the assistance of Dr. Reagan Wetherill as an expert consultant in forensic psychology.[21]

24. The Defense request articulated each of the factors necessary to support the appointment of Dr. Wetherill as an expert consultant for the Defense.[22]

25. On 7 November 2025, the Government responded to the Defense request denying the request for three reasons: a failure to assert relevancy as it pertains to the charged offenses, the Defense had already been appointed a forensic psychologist to assist,[23] and the Defense had failed to proffer why Independent Defense Funding could not be used to secure Dr. Wetherill's participation.[24]

BURDEN

26. As the moving party, the defense bears the burden of proof by a preponderance of the evidence.[25]

LAW

27. The right to be represented by counsel who is reasonably effective in investigating, preparing and presenting a defense is a fundamental pillar of American jurisprudence. The Supreme Court has recognized that the Sixth Amendment right to counsel mandates the provision of adequate resources, to include experts, in order to present an effective defense. As a matter of military due process, service members are entitled to expert assistance when necessary for an adequate defense, without regard to indigency.[26] The right to supplement the defense team with expert assistance and witnesses is based on Article 46, UCMJ, Military Rule of Evidence 706, and R.C.M. 703(d). Because the military accused does not have available to him the relatively unlimited assets of the military justice machine, courts have placed the resources of the Federal Government at his or her disposal in order to pay for expert assistance and guarantee an effective defense team.

28. The right to expert assistance attaches when the defense demonstrates that such assistance is necessary.[27] "An accused is entitled to expert assistance provided by the Government if he can demonstrate necessity."[28] The "mere possibility of assistance from a requested expert" is not sufficient to prevail on the request for expert assistance.[29] Instead, "[t]he accused has the burden of establishing that a reasonable probability exists that (1) an expert would be of assistance to the defense and (2) that denial of expert assistance would result in a fundamentally unfair trial."[30] To satisfy the first prong of this test, the Defense must show, "(1) why the expert is necessary; (2) what the expert would accomplish for the accused; and (3) why defense counsel is unable to gather and present the evidence that the expert would be able to develop."[31]

29. In United States v. Warner, the Court of Criminal Appeals for the Armed Forces (CAAF) commented that "Article 46 is a clear statement of congressional intent against government exploitation of its opportunity to obtain an expert vastly superior to the defense's."[32] The playing field at trial is rendered even more uneven when the government benefits from scientific evidence and expert testimony while the defense is wholly denied a necessary expert to prepare for and respond to the government's expert.[33]

30. An accused may request any particular expert, including a government expert. If [the accused] is entitled to an expert, the government must provide the named expert or a suitable substitute.[34]

31. Section 0145 paragraph (7) of the Manual of the Judge Advocate General states action on requests for funding in support of courts-martial should be taken "pursuant to the applicable standard for necessity*, regardless of potential independent Defense Services funding*."[35]

ARGUMENT

Dr. Wetherill's participation is necessary for an adequate defense.

Dr. Wetherill's participation is essential to presenting a full and fair defense for CSSN Copeland against the alleged misconduct, most notably, the two charges referenced above. Dr. Wetherill has years of training, education, and experience related to the effects of alcohol on the ability to create and retain memories, blackout states generally, and the impact of alcohol on a person's ability to perform executive and motor functioning. The allegations made by CSSN S.S. state that she was "blacked out" and does not recall the events underlying the charged offense.

[35] JAGINST 5800.7G, CH 2 (JAGMAN) at §0145(7).

Dr. Wetherill's assistance will be necessary to refute her claims and produce an effective and thorough cross examination of the complaining witness. The Defense counsel, while experienced and educated, do not possess the same level of education, training, or experience that Dr. Wetherill can employ when reviewing evidence and interpreting witness testimony.

As it relates to "fight or flight," Dr. Wetherill will help the Defense understand if there are alternate theories of death and the subsequent response that CSSN Copeland may have had when he awoke next to a deceased person. The impact on the psyche and the subsequent actions that may have been undertaken by CSSN Copeland may need to be explained fully to the members.[36] Dr. Wetherill is qualified to help the Defense understand these impacts and can help explain any attendant extenuating circumstances.

Dr. Wetherill's assistance is necessary for the Defense to adequately meet and test the Government's evidence and witnesses.

Dr. Wetherill would help to accomplish effective cross examinations of Government witnesses and testing the Government's evidence.

As outlined above, these very serious charges require the Defense to test and meet every piece of evidence and witness offered against CSSN Copeland. While the Defense is capable of effective cross examination, the substance of the testimony in the arenas of alcohol induced blackouts and "fight or flight" response, is a highly technical area that requires the assistance of Dr. Wetherill to fully understand and appreciate.

Dr. Wetherill will provide both pretrial assistance to help form the theory of Defense, and at-trial assistance is necessary to meaningfully confront the witnesses against CSSN Copeland. The Defense is not aware of any adequate substitute with similar education, training, experience, and expertise to that of Dr. Wetherill.

The Defense counsel cannot achieve the level of knowledge or expertise necessary to defend CSSN Copeland without the assistance of Dr. Wetherill.

Dr. Wetherill has spent decades studying and working in these areas. She has specialized expertise and skill in the requisite areas, and she has been recognized several times over as an expert in these areas for other courts martial. While Defense counsel will diligently work to achieve the highest level of knowledge they can in order to defend CSSN Copeland, the highly technical nature of the material makes it essential for Dr. Wetherill to assist in his defense. An adequate defense to the charged misconduct can only be achieved with the assistance of this expert.

[36] See generally K. Kozlowska, et al. Fear and the Defense Cascade: Clinical Implications and Management. Harvard Review of Psychiatry. 2015; J. Livermore, et al. Approach-Avoidance Decisions Under Threat: The Role of Autonomic Psychophysiological States. Frontiers in Neuroscience. March 2021.

The denial of Dr. Wetherill's participation would result in a fundamentally unfair trial.

For the reasons articulated above, Dr. Wetherill's participation is absolutely essential to CSSN Copeland receiving a fair trial. The charges discussed herein are the most serious on the charge sheet and carry the most severe punishment available under the UCMJ. If Dr. Wetherill cannot participate, the Defense will not be able to adequately meet and test the Government's evidence and witnesses.

The Government's concerns regarding the utilization of Independent Defense Funding (IDF) for this expert are misplaced and should not factor into the Court's determination regarding production.

The availability of IDF is not contemplated with R.C.M. 703 which discusses the production of relevant and necessary experts to aid in the accused's defense. While these funds exist, the Defense is not required under rule to articulate if, when or how those funds are utilized.

The Government's decision to endorse Dr. Sahni's participation in the sentencing phase has no bearing on Dr. Wetherill's participation in this case.

Dr. Sahni's expertise and assistance was sought specifically with an eye towards mitigation, extenuation, rehabilitation, and sentencing. This is clear from the Defense request. In order for her to complete those steps she will necessarily engage with witnesses, evidence, and CSSN Copeland in a way that is fundamentally different than Dr. Wetherill. For example, if Dr. Sahni interviews CSSN Copeland, and the Defense ultimately chooses not to utilize or present her findings, the Defense would effectively be precluded from using her testimony. At that point the Defense would be limited in the ability to present an adequate defense. By employing Dr. Wetherill with regards to these specific areas and charges, her expertise and findings will NOT overlap with Dr. Sahni and the Defense will still be able to avail itself of all available defenses and angles of attack on the Government's evidence and witnesses.

The availability of IDF and the previous grant of funding for Dr. Sahni's participation in sentencing should not play a factor in determining whether Dr. Wetherill's participation is necessary for an adequate defense for CSSN Copeland.

RELIEF REQUESTED

32. The Defense moves this Court to order the Government to produce Dr. Reagan Wetherill as an expert consultant for the Defense for both pretrial matters and consultation and at trial.

33. If this motion is opposed by the government, and pursuant to R.C.M. 905(h), the defense requests an Article 39(a), UCMJ, hearing to present additional evidence and argument on this motion. The defense is available 22-24 April 2024 for an Article 39(a) motions hearing.

RESULTS OF INTERVIEW OF CSSN ALEXIS RODGERS, USN

1. As background, on 06Nov24, NCISRU USS HARRY S TRUMAN (CVN 75), was notified by ET2 Courtney EFF, USN, Uniformed Victim Advocate (UVA), CVN 75, of a sexual assault wherein CSSN S[redacted] S[redacted] (V/[redacted] USN, CVN 75, reported she was sexually assaulted by CSSN Jermiah COPELAND (S/COPELAND), USN, CVN 75, in a bathroom at a bar in Oslo, Norway, during a port call on 04Nov24 at approximately 2200 hours. During the course of the investigation, CSSN Alexis RODGERS, USN, CVN 75, was indicated as having information in reference to the offense.

2. On 08Nov24 at approximately 1630 hours, CSSN RODGERS was interviewed by Reporting Agent (RA) in the NCIS Office aboard the ship located at 02-88-4-Q. The interview was not recorded.

3. CSSN RODGERS stated she was liberty buddies with V/[redacted] on 04Nov24. CSSN RODGERS explained she and V/[redacted] were coworkers but not particularly close. CSSN RODGERS recalled she and a group of other sailors including V/[redacted] left the ship at approximately 2000 hours and went to a bar called Heidi's. CSSN RODGERS recalled V/[redacted] began drinking alcohol; CSSN RODGERS recalled she had approximately three (3) shots of liquor and stated V/[redacted] had more than that. CSSN RODGERS related she did not know exactly how much V/[redacted] drank but recalled she was drunk.

4. CSSN RODGERS recalled seeing S/COPELAND arrive with another group of sailors but could not recall what time. CSSN RODGERS stated she did not see any interaction between S/COPELAND and V/[redacted] CSSN RODGERS recalled when it was time to leave the bar before liberty expiration, she and SR Jada KNIGHT, USN, CVN 75, and CSSA Jacqueline BITA, USN, CVN 75, had to assist V/[redacted] back to the ship due to her level of intoxication. CSSN RODGERS stated V/[redacted] did not seem to recall where she was.

5. CSSN RODGERS stated she did not hear about a video concerning V/[redacted] and S/COPELAND, but V/[redacted] told CSSN RODGERS the next day she did not have sex with S/COPELAND. CSSN RODGERS stated the group took an Uber to Fleet Landing, but could not recall who had paid for it.

RESULTS OF INTERVIEW OF CSSN JADA KNIGHT, USN

1. As background, on 06Nov24, NCISRU USS HARRY S TRUMAN (CVN 75), was notified by ET2 Courtney EFF, USN, Uniformed Victim Advocate (UVA), CVN 75, of a sexual assault wherein CSSN S[redacted] S[redacted] (V/[redacted] USN, CVN 75, reported she was sexually assaulted by CSSN Jermiah COPELAND (S/COPELAND), USN, CVN 75, in a bathroom at a bar in Oslo, Norway, during a port call on 04Nov24 at approximately 2200 hours. During the course of the investigation, CSSN Jada KNIGHT, USN, VAW 126, was indicated as having information in reference to the offense.

2. On 18Nov24 at approximately 2100 hours, CSSN KNIGHT was interviewed by Reporting Agent (RA) in the NCIS Office aboard the ship located at 02-88-4-Q. The interview was not recorded.

3. CSSN KNIGHT stated on the evening of 04Nov24, her liberty buddy was CSSA Jacqueline BITA, USN, CVN 75. CSSN KNIGHT stated she and CSSA BITA went to a different bar before eventually ending up at Heidi's. CSSN KNIGHT related V/[redacted] was already present at the bar and observed her dancing. CSSN KNIGHT observed V/[redacted] did not appear to be "that drunk."

4. Approximately thirty (30) minutes after arriving at the bar, CSSN KNIGHT recalled she was approached by S/COPELAND who told her not to tell anyone about what he was going to show her. CSSN KNIGHT recalled S/COPELAND showed her a video of him having sexual intercourse with V/[redacted] in a bathroom stall. CSSN KNIGHT stated V/[redacted] face was not present in the video but S/COPELAND indicated she was depicted. CSSN KNIGHT opined she would have been able to identify V/[redacted] regardless due to V/[redacted] "big butt." CSSN KNIGHT recalled the video depicted S/COPELAND's smiling face in the camera before panning to V/[redacted] buttocks and back while his penis thrusted in and out of her vagina. CSSN KNIGHT also recognized the gray sweatpants and sweatshirt V/[redacted] was wearing.

5. The next day, CSSN KNIGHT stated V/[redacted] brought the video up to CSSN KNIGHT and she stated she had seen it. CSSN KNIGHT stated she did not tell V/[redacted] about the video earlier because she assumed V/[redacted] remembered having sexual intercourse with S/COPELAND. CSSN KNIGHT stated V/[redacted] did not appear to be drunk enough to have not remembered the incident, and CSSN KNIGHT related she would have said something earlier if she had known V/[redacted] did not remember.

6. CSSN KNIGHT related she had photographs and videos from the night of the

RESULTS OF INTERVIEW OF S/COPELAND

1. As background, on 06Nov24, NCISRU USS HARRY S TRUMAN (CVN 75), was notified by ET2 Courtney EFF, USN, Uniformed Victim Advocate (UVA), CVN 75, of a sexual assault wherein CSSN S[redacted] S[redacted] (V/S[redacted]), USN, CVN 75, reported she was sexually assaulted by CSSN Jermiah COPELAND (S/COPELAND), USN, CVN 75, in a bathroom at a bar in Oslo, Norway, during a port call on 04Nov24 at approximately 2200 hours.

2. On 18Nov24 at approximately 2230 hours, S/COPELAND was interviewed by Reporting Agent (RA) aboard the USS HARRY S TRUMAN (CVN 75), while at sea in compartment 02-88-4-Q.

3. The interview was audio and video recorded in its entirety utilizing the CaseCracker system. This report serves as a synopsis of the interview and does not necessarily describe the information in the order in which it was discussed. For a verbatim account, please refer to the digital recording; Enclosure (A) pertains.

4. Prior to being interviewed, S/COPELAND was advised of, and waived, his Article 31b Rights utilizing a Military Rights Waiver form; Enclosure (B) pertains.

5. S/COPELAND related on 04Nov24 while in port in Oslo, Norway, he went to an unknown bar with other Culinary Specialists in the evening hours before liberty expiration. S/COPELAND stated approximately an hour in to the evening, he had approximately two (2) drinks and would not consider himself intoxicated when V/[redacted] came up to him at a table he was sitting at and kissed his ear and his neck. S/COPELAND opined V/[redacted] was acting completely normal though he could not estimate how drunk she was. S/COPELAND recalled he was sitting at the table with CSSR Deontae WILLIAMS, USN, CVN 75, and CSSN Kaulise COUSINS, USN, CVN 75. S/COPELAND recalled V/[redacted] took S/COPELAND by the hand and requested he accompany her to the bathroom. S/COPELAND stated he walked to the bathroom with her and attempted to wait outside, but V/[redacted] took him by the hand and pulled him into a bathroom stall in the women's restroom.

6. S/COPELAND stated V/[redacted] faced away from him in the stall and pulled her pants down before bending over. S/COPELAND stated he pushed his penis into her vagina and opined V/[redacted] was consenting to the contact. S/COPELAND stated he took his phone out and began to record a video of the sexual interaction. S/COPELAND stated he did not know if V/[redacted] was aware of him recording as she was facing away from him. S/COPELAND stated the intercourse lasted approximately twenty (20) minutes and that he did not ejaculate because the interaction seemed to be "too good to be true." When asked to explain, S/COPELAND stated he viewed V/[redacted] as a sister and that she had never shown any interest in him sexually. S/COPELAND stated he did not use a condom. Following the interaction, S/COPELAND stated he and V/[redacted] exited the bathroom and everything was "normal" between the two.

7. S/COPELAND recalled showing the video to CSSN COUSINS and CSSN Jada KNIGHT, USN, USS HARRY S TRUMAN (CVN 75), without V/[redacted] knowledge. S/COPELAND stated he showed the video to others because he was excited. After the group left the bar, S/COPELAND recalled V/[redacted] threw up on the liberty boat on the way back to the ship.

8. The day following the sexual intercourse, S/COPELAND stated he was out in Oslo, Norway, with CSSN COUSINS when he received a phone call and text messages from V/[redacted] S/COPELAND related V/[redacted] told him "if you want to run your mouth I'm going to put you on report." S/COPELAND opined CSSN Shamel EADDY, USN, CVN 75, found out about the sexual encounter and became upset which spurred V/[redacted] to report the sexual encounter as a sexual assault. S/COPELAND recalled this made him very upset and he told CSSN COUSINS he would not return to the ship. S/COPELAND initially denied efforts to harm himself, but then admitted to walking in front of motor vehicles intentionally.

9. S/COPELAND stated he gave his cellular telephone to CSSN COUSINS and did not know what CSSN COUSINS did with it. S/COPELAND denied throwing it away on purpose and stated it was lost after his phone fell out of his pocket and the screen shattered. S/COPELAND stated he lost his Air Pod during the same incident and showed RA his Air Pod case with one Air Pod to verify the story.

10. S/COPELAND agreed to provide a sample of his DNA via a Permissive Authorization for Search and Seizure (PASS); Enclosure (C) pertains. RA swabbed the inside of S/COPELAND's mouth and placed the swabs into the NCISRU USS HARRY S TRUMAN (CVN 75) evidence locker under log number 0012-24.

11. At the conclusion of the interview, S/COPELAND was turned over to command representative CSC Shayquan JONES, USN, CVN 75, at approximately 2342 hours.

RESULTS OF INTERVIEW OF CSSA MCKENZIE SANDERS, USN

1. As background, on 06Nov24, NCISRU USS HARRY S TRUMAN (CVN 75), was notified by ET2 Courtney EFF, USN, UVA, (Uniformed Victim Advocate), USS HARRY S TRUMAN (CVN 75), of a sexual assault wherein CSSN S[redacted] S[redacted], USN, USS HARRY S TRUMAN (CVN 75), (V/[redacted] reported she was sexually assaulted by CSSN Jermiah COPELAND, USN, USS HARRY S TRUMAN (CVN 75), (S/COPELAND), in a bathroom at a bar in Oslo, Norway, during a port call on 04Nov24 at approximately 2200 hours. During the course of the investigation, CSSA McKenzie SANDERS, USN, USS HARRY S TRUMAN (CVN 75) was indicated as having information in reference to the offense.

2. On 19Nov24 at approximately 1500 hours, CSSA SANDERS was interviewed by Reporting Agent (RA) in the NCIS Office aboard the ship located at 02-88-4-Q. The interview was not recorded.

3. CSSA SANDERS stated she went out with a group of sailors on from Supply on 04Nov24 in Oslo, Norway. CSSA SANDERS stated V/[redacted] was present with a group of others at Heidi's bar in Oslo. CSSA SANDERS observed V/[redacted] arrive a short time after she did and recalled V/[redacted] was wearing a gray sweatshirt and pants. CSSA SANDERS recalled she did not drink alcohol at all that evening.

4. CSSA SANDERS recalled seeing V/[redacted] throughout the night and specifically recalled V/[redacted] appeared to be flirting with S/COPELAND. CSSA SANDERS explained V/[redacted] laughed at S/COPELAND's jokes even when they were not particularly funny.

5. Towards the end of the night and liberty expiration, CSSA SANDERS stated she was attempting to herd the drunk sailors out the door at approximately 2145 hours. CSSA SANDERS stated she went to check the bathroom and was wearing a ski mask from the dance floor when she walked in and observed V/[redacted] applying lip gloss in the mirror. CSSA SANDERS stated V/[redacted] did not appear to be heavily intoxicated and she (CSSA SANDERS) lifted up her ski mask to wash her hands. CSSA SANDERS stated when she lifted her ski mask, V/[redacted] saw her and asked her if she would take her (V/[redacted] to her liberty buddy. CSSA SANDERS agreed and left the bathroom with V/[redacted] CSSA SANDERS stated V/[redacted] fell onto CSSA SANDERS and needed to be supported to the door of the bar. CSSA SANDERS opined this was very strange as during her interaction in the bathroom with V/[redacted] V/[redacted] did not appear to be that drunk.

6. CSSA SANDERS stated she arrived to Fleet Landing and was on a different liberty boat back to the ship than V/[redacted] The next day, CSSN Shamel EADDY, USN, USS HARRY S TRUMAN (CVN 75), approached CSSA SANDERS and she told him about her encounter with V/[redacted] in the bathroom of the bar. Later, CSSA SANDERS stated V/[redacted] came to the galley and began yelling at CSSA SANDERS for implying V/[redacted] was not intoxicated and V/[redacted] asserted she was blacked out. CSSA SANDERS told V/[redacted] she only had four (4) shots and V/[redacted] told CSSA SANDERS not to discuss the situation with others and asserted she had been blacked out drunk.

7. CSSA SANDERS stated she was friendly with both S/COPELAND and V/[redacted] prior to the incident. CSSA SANDERS recalled approximately two (2) months prior, CSSN EADDY caught V/[redacted] cheating and V/[redacted] reported it as a sexual assault. CSSA SANDERS opined V/[redacted] was upset there was a video of S/COPELAND and herself having sexual intercourse and theorized V/[redacted] did not want to be caught cheating and was embarrassed. CSSA SANDERS stated V/[redacted] appeared to be acting normally following the incident and opined that was inconsistent with how she has seen other sexual assault victims act, though she acknowledged everyone reacts to scenarios differently.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY
1. On 31MAY25, NCIS received a report of a missing person, CSSN A[redacted] R[redacted] (V/[redacted] USN, USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS (DDG-95), who was marked as Unauthorized Absent by DDG-95 along with CSSN Jermiah COPELAND (S/COPELAND), USN, DDG-95. On 01JUN25, base security was able to locate S/COPELAND, however, V/[redacted] was still missing. NCIS responded to Naval Station Norfolk and began conducting field interviews of friends and family members of V/[redacted] NCIS also spoke with S/COPELAND who stated, he along with one of his roommates dropped V/[redacted] off at her barracks, Miller Hall, on the morning on 29MAY25, and he had not seen or spoken to V/[redacted] since. Throughout the course of the investigation, it was determined S/COPELAND was the last person to see V/[redacted] and he had not been truthful about V/[redacted] whereabouts nor his actions through 29MAY25 until 01JUN25. NCIS was able to seize S/COPELAND's cellphone and conducted a forensic review of the cellphone, which lead NCIS to a neighborhood in Norfolk, VA where V/[redacted] body was located inside a black duffel bag. After the discovery, NCIS detained S/COPELAND and attempted to interview him. S/COPELAND requested a lawyer be present for the interview and the interview was terminated. S/COPELAND was then remanded to Pre-Trial Confinement, pending charges. This investigation continues pending

RESULTS OF INITIAL CONTACT WITH FCC BRAD PARKER, USN

1. On 01un25, Reporting Agent (RA) made contact with FCC Brad PARKER, USN, USS JAMES E WILLIAMS (DDG 95), to glean information pertaining to both CSSN Jermiah COPELAND (S/COPELAND), USN, DDG 95 and CSSN A[redacted] R[redacted]s (V/[redacted] USN, DDG 95 Unauthorized Absence (UA) status. As background, V/[redacted] USN, DDG 95 and S/COPELAND, were placed into an UA status subsequent to 29May25, after failing to report to work. On 01Jun25, after speaking with S/COPELAND's mother, Rochell BROWN, CIV, NCIS and BROWN contacted Naval Station Norfolk (NOB) Base Police to conduct a follow-up health and welfare check on both S/COPELAND and V/[redacted] The Naval Station Norfolk Watch Commander advised NOB Security Forces located S/COPELAND in his barracks rooms on NOB, Willis Manor, Room 335. NCIS was advised that Security Forces received no answer at V/[redacted] door when they knocked on her barracks room located on NOB, Miller Hall, Room 1083.

2. FCC PARKER was identified as being V/[redacted] and S/COPELAND's supervisor on DDG 95 and making positive contact with both S/COPELAND and V/[redacted] on Thursday, 29May25 at approximately 0900 hours.

3. FCC PARKER recalled that on 29May25, he went to S/COPELAND's barracks room, Naval Station Norfolk, Willis Manor, and woke him up because he did not show for work in the morning. FCC PARKER recalled it was obvious he had woke S/COPELAND and V/[redacted] up due to their grogginess. FCC PARKER stated he physically observed V/[redacted] in S/COPELAND's barracks, she acknowledged his presence, rolled over, and appeared to go back to sleep. FCC PARKER said he instructed S/COPELAND to report to work after he tended to V/[redacted] and took her home. FCC PARKER said S/COPELAND told him V/[redacted] was having some personal issues and came to his barracks room Wednesday, 28May25 to discuss.

4. FCC PARKER said S/COPELAND was supposed to only work Thursday and have the weekend off.

RESULTS OF INTERVIEW OF PSSN IRBIN GORDILLOCRUZ, USN

1. On 03JUN25, Reporting Agent (RA) and Participating Agent (RA) Fritzner PHILEMON conducted an interview of PSSN Irbin GORDILLOCRUZ, USN, Airborne Command and Control Squadron 124 (VAW-124) in regards to his knowledge of this investigation. PSSN GORDILLOCRUZ is one of 4 roommates of CSSN Jermiah COPELAND (S/COPELAND), USN, USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS (DDG-95).

2. This interview was audio and video recorded utilizing Case Cracker. A copy of the recording was subsequently saved to an optical disc and maintained with the case file. This report should not be treated as a verbatim or comprehensive representation of the interview; Enclosure (A) pertains.

3. PSSN GORDILLOCRUZ stated he returned to his barracks room at approximately 0400 on 28JUN25. PSSN GORDILLOCRUZ had been on leave and flew back to Norfolk at approximately 0300. PSSN GORDILLOCRUZ stated upon his return he walked into the common area of the room and noticed all the lights were off. PSSN GORDILLOCRUZ stated he did not see or notice anyone on the couch or the floor of the common room area. PSSN GORDILLOCRUZ admitted he was exhausted and was really only focused on going to sleep.

4. PSSN GORDILLOCRUZ stated he woke up for work at approximately 0620 and exited his room at approximately 0645 with his roommate, AR John CALISSE, and they both noticed two individuals laying on the ground near the couch opposite their room. PSSN GORDILLOCRUZ stated the female was laying on her back with her breasts exposed and her chest was rising and falling. PSSN GORDILLOCRUZ further described the female as dark skin and having curly hair. PSSN GORDILLOCRUZ stated he had never seen this female but did believe she was in the Navy. PSSN GORDILLOCRUZ described his roommate, S/COPELAND, was naked and was laying with his head on the females stomach. PSSN GORDILLOCRUZ stated he and CALISSE had to maneuver around the two laying on the ground to get to the front door.

5. PSSN GORDILLOCRUZ stated on Saturday, 31MAY25, and Sunday, 01JUN25, he had been woken up in the morning by base security trying to locate S/COPELAND. PSSN GORDILLOCRUZ stated on 01JUN25, base security had arrived and told S/COPELAND he had to check in with his Command due to him being UA. PSSN GORDILLOCRUZ stated S/COPELAND, CALISSE, and himself went to DDG-95, utilizing CALISSE's vehicle. PSSN GORDILLOCRUZ continued saying, S/COPELAND had to check into the Command and do a urinalysis test. Afterwards, they all went to Chipotle for food and returned to the barracks. PSSN GORDILLOCRUZ

RESULTS OF INTERVIEW OF AR JOHN CALISSE, USN

1. On 03Jun25, Reporting Agent (RA) and Participating Investigator (PI) John KOWALSKI conducted an interview of AR John CALISSE, USN, Airborne Command & Control Squadron (VAW) 124 regarding his knowledge related to the whereabouts of CSSN A[redacted] R[redacted] (V/[redacted] USN, USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS (DDG 95).

2. The interview of AR CALISSE was recorded using an audio/visual recording system, and a digital copy was downloaded onto a Digital Video Disc-Recordable (DVD-R). This document is a summary of the interview and not a verbatim transcription. For full details of the interview, refer to the working copy of the original DVD-R; Enclosure (A) pertains.

3. AR CALISSE reported on 29May25, while at his barracks Willis Manor, Building X-2, Room 335, on Naval Station Norfolk, at approximately 0200, he heard his suitemate CSSN Jermiah COPELAND (S/COPELAND), USN, DDG 95, and an unknown female singing karaoke in S/COPELAND's room. AR CALISSE stated he always heard loud music coming from S/COPELAND's room at all times of the night. AR CALISSE did not recall seeing any signs that S/COPELAND was consuming alcohol in the common area. AR CALISSE stated at approximately 1900 on 28May25, S/COPELAND requested to use his white 2014 Jeep Compass to which he obliged. AR CALISSE reported S/COPELAND returned at approximately 2000, knocked on his barracks door, and when he opened the door to obtain the keys, he observed a female in the kitchen area cooking, who he later identified as V/[redacted]

4. AR CALISSE recalled waking up the morning of 29May25, at approximately 0500, to report to work on time. At approximately 0530, AR CALISSE stated he exited his room and upon walking into the common area observed S/COPELAND and an unknown female laying naked in the middle of the common room floor. AR CALISSE stated he observed them on their backs, face up, with their eyes closed. AR CALISSE stated he observed S/COPELAND laying on the thigh of the unknown female. AR CALISSE stated he did not see any clothing belonging to S/COPELAND. AR CALISSE stated he observed the female wearing red pajama pants with flowers, with one pant leg slightly on at the ankle, and her bra pulled down exposing her breast. AR CALISSE reported walking past them in order to leave the room and believed both S/COPELAND and the female to be breathing. AR CALISSE stated when he returned from work at approximately 1700, S/COPELAND and the female were not in the barracks room.

5. AR CALISSE described the female as brown skinned, long brown hair, and with what he believed to be a possible nose piercing. AR CALISSE stated this was his first time seeing the female; however, confirmed it was V/[redacted] when showed a photograph.

6. AR CALISSE stated he did not see S/COPELAND again until Sunday 01Jun25, at approximately 1400, when he asked him for a ride to report to DDG 95. AR CALISSE agreed to provide transportation to S/COPELAND after returning from Walmart. AR CALISSE stated he transported S/COPELAND along with ISSA Irbin GORDILLOCRUZ, USN, VAW 124, at approximately 1700. AR CALISSE stated S/COPELAND was on DDG 95 for approximately one hour while ISSA GORDILLACRUZ and AR CALISSE waited in the parking lot for him to return. AR CALISSE stated when S/COPELAND returned to the vehicle he informed him he was required to do a urinalysis for not reporting to work on 30May25. AR CALISSE stated while driving from DDG 95 back to the barracks they stopped at Chipotle located at 4712 Hampton Blvd, Norfolk, VA 23508, at approximately 1900.

7. AR CALISSE stated when they returned to the barracks, S/COPELAND asked if he could use his car to get something to eat. AR CALISSE allowed S/COPELAND to use his vehicle giving him the key at approximately 2000. AR CALISSE stated when he woke up the next morning and proceeded to go to work, he noticed his car key was not on the kitchen counter where S/COPELAND normally leaves it after borrowing his car. AR CALISSE stated he called S/COPELAND to find out his location and was angry because he caused him to be late for work. AR CALISSE reported meeting S/COPELAND in the X-2 parking lot at approximately 0630 and watched him drive the vehicle into the parking lot. AR CALISSE stated he was unaware of the locations S/COPELAND traveled to while he had his vehicle.

8. During his interview, AR CALISSE signed a Permissive Authorization for Search and Seizure (PASS) for his Jeep Compass which will be documented under separate cover.

9. At the conclusion of the interview, while returning AR CALISSE to VAW-124, he located EZ Pass transactions and provided screenshots of the charges from 27May25 to 02Jun25 without being requested; Enclosure (B) pertains. AR CALISSE stated the charge on 01Jun25 was his return from the ship; however, all other charges were believed to be accrued by S/COPELAND.

Subj: EXPERT CONSULTANT REQUEST IN THE CASE OF UNITED STATES V. CSSN JERMIAH COPELAND, USN – FIGHT OR FLIGHT

Ref: (a) U.S. CONST. amend. VI
(b) Article 46, Uniform Code of Military Justice
(c) Rule for Courts-Martial 703, M.C.M. (2019 ed.)
(d) Military Rule of Evidence 502, M.C.M. (2019 ed.)
(e) Ake v. Oklahoma, 470 U.S. 68 (1985)
(f) United States v. Freeman, 65 M.J. 451 (C.A.A.F. 2008)
(g) United States v. Gonzalez, 39 M.J. 459 (C.A.A.F. 1994)
(h) United States v. Allen, 31 M.J. 572 (N.M.C.C.A. 1990)

Encl: (1) CV of Dr. Reagan Wetherill
(2) Fee Schedule of Dr. Reagan Wetherill

1. Pursuant to references (a) through (h), the defense counsel for CSSN Copeland respectfully requests government funding for an expert consultant in the field of forensic psychology, specifically the psychology surrounding a person's fight or flight response and the effect of alcohol consumption on memory. Specifically, CSSN Copeland requests that you appoint Dr. Wetherill as a representative of the defense so that any communications between her, CSSN Copeland, and defense counsel will be privileged pursuant to reference (d) and other applicable federal laws and regulations.

2. CSSN Copeland is charged with four specifications of violations of Article 120 (sexual assault), a violation of Article 128 (assault consummated by a battery), two specifications of violations of Article 120c (indecent recording/broadcasting), three specifications of violations of Article 131b (obstruction of justice), two specifications of violations of Article 128b (domestic violence), two specifications of violations of Article 107 (false official statement), and a violation of Article 118 (premeditated murder). If CSSN Copeland is convicted of premeditated murder, he is facing a minimum sentence of life with the possibility of parole and a maximum punishment of life without the possibility of parole.

3. A military accused is entitled to expert assistance in the form of expert consultation "to aid in the preparation of his Defense upon a demonstration of necessity…and that denial of an expert would result in a fundamentality unfair trial." United States v. Bresnahan, 62 M.J. 137, 143 (C.A.A.F. 2005); R.C.M. 703(d). Under Article 46, UCMJ, the Defense may request expert consultants to assist the Defense in "evaluating, identifying, and developing evidence," as well as to "test and challenge the Government's case." United States v. Warner, 62 M.J. 114, 118 (C.A.A.F 2005). The right to present evidence guaranteed by the Sixth Amendment, Article 46, UCMJ, and R.C.M. 703 "necessarily includes the right to prepare." United States v. Allen, 31

M.J. 572, 623 (N-M.CM.R. 1990). Consequently, a military member is entitle[d]…to the assistance of an expert when necessary to the preparation of an adequate defense." Id. (quoting United States v. Garries, 22 M.J. 288, 290 (C.M.A. 1986). The right to an "adequate defense" includes "preparation for cross-examination" of Government witnesses well "as presentation of an expert defense witness." Id. (quoting United States v. Durant, 545 F.2d 823, 827 (2d Cir. 1976)). Thus, a Defense expert's assistance as a consultant before trial and during trial may in part be justified by the consultant's ability to provide assistance in preparing the Defense for the presentation of expert testimony. Id.

4. To demonstrate "necessity" as required by R.C.M. 703, the Defense must show "more than the 'mere possibility of assistance from a requested expert' . . . " Bresnahan, 62 M.J. 137, 143 (C.A.A.F. 2005). "The accused must show that a reasonable probability exists 'both that an expert would be of assistance to the defense and that denial of expert assistance would result in a fundamentally unfair trial.'" Bresnahan, 62 M.J. 137, 143 (C.A.A.F. 2005). In order to demonstrate the first prong of that test—that a reasonable probability exists that an expert would be of assistance to the Defense—the Defense must explain: "'(1) why the expert is necessary; (2) what the expert would accomplish for the accused; and (3) why defense counsel is unable to gather and present the evidence that the expert would be able to develop.'" United States v. Hennis, 79 M.J. 370, 382-83 (C.A.A.F. 2020) (quoting United States v. Lloyd, 69 M.J. 95, 99 (C.A.A.F. 2010) (emphasis in original).

5. As delineated in enclosure (1), Dr. Wetherill is a board-certified clinical psychologist with an expertise in clinical and experimental research involving alcohol and the physiological effects on the brain and memory. The evidence in this case raises significant questions that may likely be explained by a comprehensive understanding of the body's immediate "fight or flight" response to any given situation or startling event. Moreover, the allegations involving CSSN S.S. contain the alleged victim having blackouts. Dr. Wetherill's extensive education and experience in forensic psychology makes her participation indispensable to CSSN Copeland's defense and perfecting a case on the merits. The defense is aware of no government substitute that could address the specific nature of the defense's need to the level of knowledge and expertise as Dr. Wetherill.

6. Additionally, based on how defense anticipates the evidence will be presented at trial, defense counsel effectiveness and ability to present a logical defense, through cross and direct examination, will be limited without assistance of Dr. Wetherill. The defense is not an expert in this subject matter. Defense counsel has not received any formal training in psychology. Nor does defense counsel have the necessary time or ability to develop such and expertise prior to trial. This type of evidence requires a level of knowledge the defense does not possess, and cannot gain in a few weeks or even months of study. Furthermore, defense is unable to present this evidence to members without the assistance of an expert witness.

7. Based on the fee schedule in enclosure (2), defense requests twenty (20) hours for pre-trial consultancy at a cost of $8,000.00. Additionally, the Defense requests Dr. Wetherill's presence at trial (21 days), and one day of trial preparation, for a total of 22 days ($4,000/day x 22 days) at a cost of $88,000.00. The total amount requested by defense is approximately $96,000.00, in addition to travel expenses in accordance with Joint Travel Regulations. The defense will submit an additional request if more time is needed.

8. The defense requests that this expert be assigned as a consulting member of CSSN Copeland's defense team, such that all communication between the accused, defense counsel, and the expert are privileged and confidential pursuant to Mil. R. Evid. 502. The defense further requests that the government refrain from any substantive contact with this expert. It is understood that this limitation may be removed if the defense ultimately desires to have Dr. Wetherill testify as an expert witness in this case.

9. Thank you for your careful consideration of this request. If I may provide any additional information, I am available at (757) 341-4486 or clifton.e.morgan4.mil@us.navy.mil to answer any questions about this request.

OTHER APPOINTMENTS

2021 - present Member, Abramson Cancer Center, Perelman School of Medicine at the University of Pennsylvania

2015 – present Member, Institute for Translational Medicine and Therapeutics, Perelman School of Medicine at the University of Pennsylvania

2013 – present Member, David J. Mahoney Institute of Neurological Science, University of Pennsylvania

2013 – present Member, Center for Functional Neuroimaging, University of Pennsylvania

ACADEMIC AND INSTITUTIONAL COMMITTEES

2018 – present Member, Perelman School of Medicine, University of Pennsylvania, Department of Psychiatry Strategic Planning Committee, Environment Team

2017 – present Member, Center for Studies of Addiction Data Safety Monitoring Board

2017 – 2019 Director, Center for Studies of Addiction Seminar Series

2013 – present Member/Mentor, Perelman School of Medicine, University of Pennsylvania, Biomedical Postdoctoral Research Council

2016 – present Member, Perelman School of Medicine, University of Pennsylvania, Department of Psychiatry Faculty Search Committee

AWARDS AND HONORS

2020 Outstanding Field Editor Award, Alcoholism: Clinical and Experimental Research
2018 Annual Field Editors' Award, Alcoholism: Clinical and Experimental Research
2016 - 2018 Alcohol Medical Scholars Program Award, University of California, San Diego
2014 Early Career Investigator Travel Award, College on Problems of Drug Dependence 2013 Women & Sex/Gender Junior Investigator Travel Award, National Institute on Drug Abuse
2011 - 2013 Loan Repayment Program Award, National Institutes of Health

| | |
|---|---|
| 2011 | Junior Investigator Travel Award, Research Society on Alcoholism |
| 2010 | Outstanding Dissertation Award, University of Texas at Austin |
| 2008 | Fellowship for Academic Excellence, University of Texas at Austin |
| 2005 – 2010 | Student Merit Award, Research Society on Alcoholism |
| 2004 – 2010 | Fred Murphy Jones & Homer Lindsey Bruce Endowed Graduate Fellowship, University of Texas at Austin |
| 2004 – 2010 | Endowed Graduate Fellowship, Waggoner Center for Alcohol and Addiction, University of Texas at Austin |
| 2002 – 2003 | Postbaccalaureate Intramural Research Training Award, National Institutes of Health/National Institute on Drug Abuse |

ELECTED OFFICES AND COMMITTEES

|---|---|
| 2019 – 2022 | Program Committee, College on Problems of Drug Dependence |
| 2014 – 2016 | Industry, Academia, and Government Relations Committee, College on Problems of Drug Dependence |
| 2012 – 2014 | Travel Awards/Mentorship Committee, College on Problems of Drug Dependence |

GRANT REVIEW COMMITTEES

| | |
|---|---|
| 2023 | Ad-hoc Member, NIH Neurotoxicology and Alcohol (NAL) Study Section |
| 2022 | Ad-hoc Member, NIH Neural Basis of Psychopathology, Addictions and Sleep Disorders (NPAS) Study Section |
| 2021 | Ad-hoc Member, NIDA Neurobiology of Motivated Behavior (NMB) Study Section |
| 2019 | Ad-hoc Member, Marie Sklodowska-Curie actions (MSCA) Review Group, Universite libre de Bruxelles |
| 2019 | Chair, Special Emphasis Panel/Scientific Review Group EITN |
| 2015 – 2018 | Ad-hoc Member, Perelman School of Medicine at the University of Pennsylvania, Brody Family Trust Grant Review Group |
| 2018 | Chair, NIDA Special Emphasis Panel/Scientific Review Group ZRG1 ETTN-L (50) |
| 2018 | Ad-hoc Member, Special Emphasis Panel/Scientific Review Group ZRG1 PSE-B (64) C |
| 2017 | Chair, NIDA Special Emphasis Panel/Scientific Review Group ZRG1 ETTN-L (51) |
| 2015 – 2017 | Ad-hoc Member, Penn Center for AIDS Research Pilot Grant Program Review Group |
| 2016 | Ad-hoc Member, NIDA Special Emphasis Panel/Scientific Review Group ZRG1 ETTN-L (54) |
| 2016 | Ad-hoc Member, University of Wisconsin Research Growth Initiative Grant Review Group |

EDITORIAL BOARDS/POSITIONS

| | |
|---|---|
| 2022 – present | Associate Editor, Frontiers in Psychiatry – Addictive Disorders |
| 2017 – present | Field Editor, Alcoholism: Clinical and Experimental Research |
| 2021 – present | Editorial Board, Biological Psychiatry: Cognitive Neuroscience and Neuroimaging |
| 2021 – present | Editorial Board, Drug and Alcohol Dependence Reports |

Ad Hoc Reviewer (past 5 years):

Addiction Biology, Addiction, Journal of Addiction Medicine, Biological Psychiatry, Drug and Alcohol Dependence, JAMA Psychiatry, Memory, European Journal of Neuroscience, Behavioral Brain Research, Journal of Psychiatry and Neuroscience, Pain Practice, Pharmacology, Biochemistry, and Behavior, Journal of

Abnormal Psychology, Neuroimage, Neuropsychopharmacology, Alcoholism: Clinical and Experimental Research, Nicotine and Tobacco Research

ORGANIZING ROLES IN SCIENTIFIC MEETINGS

2019 – 2022 Program Committee, College on Problems of Drug Dependence
2019 Symposium Co-Chair, College on Problems of Drug Dependence, San Antonio, Texas
2018 Symposium Co-Chair, American Psychological Association, San Francisco, California
2017, 2018 Program Review, Society for Research on Nicotine and Tobacco, 2015 Symposium Chair, Research Society on Alcoholism, San Antonio, Texas
2014 Program Review, Research Society on Alcoholism, Bellevue, Washington
2008 Symposium Co-Chair, American Psychological Association, Boston, Massachusetts

PROFESSIONAL SOCIETY MEMBERSHIP

2003 – present Research Society on Alcoholism
2012 – present College on Problems of Drug Dependence
2016 – present Research Society on Marijuana
2017 – present American Psychological Association
2006 – 2012 International Neuropsychological Society

CURRENT FUNDED GRANTS

2020 – 2025 National Institute on Drug Abuse, UG1DA050209, A Clinical Laboratory with Integrated Neuroscience (CLIN) for Early Evaluation of Medications for Substance Use Disorders, $2,661,656, K.Kampman/A. Childress (MPIs)
Role: Co-Investigator

2019 – 2024 National Institute on Drug Abuse, P30DA046345, Penn PET Addiction Center of Excellence (Penn PACE), $7,421,303, R. Mach/H. Kranzler (MPIs)
Role: Clinical Core Assistant Director

COMPLETED GRANTS

2019 – 2023 National Heart, Lung, and Blood Institute, R21HL144673, Using PET to Measure Pulmonary Oxidative Stress in E-cigarette Users, $383,204, R. Wetherill (PI)
Role: Principal Investigator

2018 – 2022 National Institute of General Medical Sciences, R44GM130195, Brainaware: Interactive Digital Psychoeducation for Adolescents and Young Adults with Substance Use Disorders, $530,425, K. Schleisman (PI)
Role: Site Principal Investigator

2016 – 2022 National Institute on Drug Abuse, R01DA040670, Influence of the Natural Hormonal Milieu on Perfusion fMRI Smoking Cue Responses, $2,375,661, R. Wetherill (PI)
Role: Principal Investigator

2015 – 2022 National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism, K23AA023894, Effectiveness of Topiramate: Characterizing Individual Differences, $855,562, R. Wetherill (PI) Role: Principal Investigator

|---|---|
| 2018 – 2019 | Institute for Translational Medicine and Therapeutics' (ITMAT) Transdisciplinary Program in Translational Medicine and Therapeutics Pilot Grant, Measuring Pulmonary Oxidative Stress in E-cigarette Users and Smokers with PET, $50,000, R. Wetherill (PI)Role: Principal Investigator |
| 2016 – 2019 | PNC Charitable Trust Grant, Hormones, The Brain, And Behavior: Examining The Causes And Effects Of Alcohol Use And Relapse In Women, $37,999, R Wetherill (PI)Role: Principal Investigator |
| 2017 | Foundation for Alcoholism Research, Baclofen for Alcohol Dependence, $14,000, R. Wetherill (PI)Role: Principal Investigator |
| 2011 – 2015 | National Institute on Drug Abuse, R01DA029845, Characterizing a Cue-Vulnerable Endophenotype in Smokers, $1,221,313, T. Franklin (PI)Role: Co-Investigator |
| 2011 – 2015 | Pennsylvania Department of Health/Commonwealth Universal Research Enhancement Program, CURE Addiction Center of Excellence: Brain Mechanisms of Relapse and Recovery, $6,000,000, A. Childress/T. Franklin/D. Langleben (MPIs)Role: Co-Investigator |
| 2003 – 2008 | National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism, F31AA017022, The Etiology of Fragmentary Blackouts: Memory Processes and Neural Activations, $68,492, R. Wetherill (PI)Role: Principal Investigator |

MAJOR ACADEMIC AND CLINICAL TEACHING RESPONSIBILITIES

|---|---|
| 2022 | Lecturer, "Neurobiology of Addiction: Influence of Biological Sex and Hormones", Addiction: Understanding how we get hooked and how we recover (HSOC 0311-301), University of Pennsylvania |
| 2021 | Lecturer, "Marijuana", Brain & Behavior Course for MS1s, Perelman School of Medicine at the University of Pennsylvania |
| 2021 | Lecturer, "Using PET Imaging to Examine Oxidative Stress in E-cigarette Users", Perelman School of Medicine at the University of Pennsylvania, Department of Psychiatry |
| 2019 | Lecturer, "Functional Magnetic Resonance Imaging Study of Topiramate's Effects", Perelman School of Medicine at the University of Pennsylvania, Department of Psychiatry Grand Rounds |
| 2019 | Lecturer, "Cannabis, Cannabis Use Disorder, & Treatment", Brain & Behavior Course for MS1s, Perelman School of Medicine at the University of Pennsylvania |
| 2018 | Lecturer, "Translational Models of Reward-Motivation in Smoking Behavior", Summer at Penn Neuroscience Research Academy, University of Pennsylvania |
| 2018 | Lecturer, "Cannabis and Cannabis Use Disorder", Brain & Behavior Course for MS1s, Perelman School of Medicine at the University of Pennsylvania |
| 2017 | Lecturer and Consultant, "Alcohol, Memory, and Alcohol-Induced Blackouts: Alcohol-Facilitated Sexual Violence Implications", Office of the Sexual Violence Investigator Officer Annual Panel Member Training, University of Pennsylvania |

2017 Lecturer, "Sex Differences in Nicotine Use Disorder", Center for Studies of Addiction, Perelman School of Medicine at the University of Pennsylvania

2017 Lecturer, "Brain Mechanisms of Topiramate's Effects on Heavy Drinking", Department of Psychiatry Research Trainee Event, University of Pennsylvania

2016 Lecturer and Consultant, "Alcohol-Facilitated Sexual Violence", Office of the Sexual Violence Investigator Officer Annual Panel Member Training, University of Pennsylvania

2016 Lecturer, "Influence of Sex on Neural Processing in Nicotine Use Disorder", Center for Studies of Addiction, Perelman School of Medicine at the University of Pennsylvania, Department of Psychiatry

2015 Lecturer, "Acute Effects of Alcohol on the Brain and Alcohol-Induced Blackouts", Center for Studies of Addiction, Perelman School of Medicine at the University of Pennsylvania, Department of Psychiatry

2014 Lecturer, "Neural Features of Cannabis Use Disorder", Center on Studies of Addiction, Perelman School of Medicine at the University of Pennsylvania

2011 Proctor, "Clinical Foundations" Integrated Scientific Core Curriculum Course for MS1s, University of California, San Diego School of Medicine

INVITED TALKS

2021 "The Influence of Sex and Hormones on Reward-Related Responses and Behavior", Yale School of Medicine, New Haven, Connecticut

2021 "Alcohol Use and the Brain", Corporal Michael J. Crescenz VA Medical Center, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

2019 "Alcohol-Induced Blackouts: What Happened? How Did We Get Here?", Association of Title IX Administrators (ATIXA), Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

2019 "Further Exploration into the Influence of Sex and Hormones on Cigarette Smoking Cue Reactivity", College on Problems of Drug Dependence, San Antonio, Texas

2019 "Classifying and Characterizing Nicotine Use Disorder with High Accuracy Using Machine Learning and Resting-State fMRI", College on Problems of Drug Dependence, San Antonio, Texas

2018 "Sex Differences in Brain Reactivity to Smoking Cues: Consensus across Sites and Methodologies", American Psychological Association, San Francisco, California

2018 Discussant for "Sex Differences in the Nicotine Addicted Brain---Translational Implications" symposium, American Psychological Association, San Francisco, California

2018 "Alcohol-Related Blackouts: Clinical Phenomena & Potential Genetic Influences", Research Society on Alcoholism, San Diego, California

2018 "Sex Differences in Nicotine Use Disorder: Findings from Neuroimaging", Research Institute on Addictions, Buffalo, New York

2018 "Use of Neuroimaging to Explore Sex Differences in Nicotine Use Disorder", National Institutes of Health/National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism, Rockville, Maryland

2017 "Sex Differences in Nicotine Use Disorder: Findings from Neuroimaging", University of Vermont, Vermont Center on Behavior and Health, Burlington, Vermont

2017 "Addiction as a Brain Disease: Sex Differences in Nicotine Use Disorder", University of Connecticut Medical Center, Department of Psychiatry Grand Rounds, Farmington, Connecticut

2017 "Alcohol, Memory, and Alcohol-Induced Blackouts: Title IX Implications", Cornell University, Ithaca, New York

2017 "The impact of sex on brain responses to smoking cues: replication in a new cohort", College on Problems of Drug Dependence, Montreal, Canada

2017 "Resting-state rCBF in Cigarette Smokers: Sated vs Withdrawal States", Society of Biological Psychiatry, San Diego, California

2017 "Influence of Sex and Ovarian Hormones on Neural Processing in Nicotine Use Disorder", Columbia University School of Medicine, New York, New York

---

- All pre-trial consultation and services are billed at a rate of $400 per hour.
- In-person services (consultation, deposition, testimony) are billed at a rate of $4,000 per day.
- All days out of the office are billed. Thus, if I leave for trial on the 1st and return is on the 6th, 6 days are billed.
- All in-person trial consultation/testimony will include a full day of in-person consultation and preparation with trial team the day before trial starts at a rate of $4,000 per day.
- Travel and lodging costs (airfare, rental car or ground transportation costs, lodging, and per diem meals) are to be reimbursed in accordance with the Joint Travel Regulation (JTR).
- If I commit my calendar to a deposition or court appearance, it precludes my availability to provide services in other cases. Therefore, cancelations/rescheduling with less than 3 days' notice are billed a minimum of one-half day ($2000) for the reserved time.
- Payment is expected within 30 days of completion of trial and/or consultation services.

Encl: (1) Defense Expert Request dtd 24 Oct 25 – Dr. Wetherill

1. Pursuant to Section 0145(a)(7)(b) under reference (c), Special Trial Counsel has determined that employment of an additional defense expert in the field of forensic psychology is unnecessary.

2. Defense has not articulated what relevant information and guidance Dr. Wetherill would provide that makes her necessary.

a. Defense states Dr. Wetherill's assistance is necessary because " [t]he evidence in this case raises significant questions that may likely be explained by a comprehensive understanding of the body's immediate 'fight or flight' response to any given situation or startling event." Defense fails to assert the relevancy of this information as it pertains to any of the charged offenses.

b. Moreover, Defense states that "the allegations involving CSSN S.S. contain the alleged victim having blackouts." Defense fails to articulate why their other requested forensic psychologist could not provide the same assistance.

c. Lastly, a showing of necessity has not been made in that Defense has failed to proffer why Independent Defense Funding, which has been specifically allocated for defense needs such as this, has not/cannot be used.

3. I can be reached at lauren.a.mayo2.mil@us.navy.mil or at (757)-341-4598.

Subj: EXPERT CONSULTANT REQUEST IN THE CASE OF UNITED STATES V. CSSN JERMIAH COPELAND, USN – FIGHT OR FLIGHT

Ref: (a) U.S. CONST. amend. VI
(b) Article 46, Uniform Code of Military Justice

Encl: (1) CV of Dr. Reagan Wetherill
(2) Fee Schedule of Dr. Reagan Wetherill

1. Pursuant to references (a) through (h), the defense counsel for CSSN Copeland respectfully requests government funding for an expert consultant in the field of forensic psychology, specifically the psychology surrounding a person's fight or flight response and the effect of alcohol consumption on memory. Specifically, CSSN Copeland requests that you appoint Dr. Wetherill as a representative of the defense so that any communications between her, CSSN Copeland, and defense counsel will be privileged pursuant to reference (d) and other applicable federal laws and regulations.

2. CSSN Copeland is charged with four specifications of violations of Article 120 (sexual assault), a violation of Article 128 (assault consummated by a battery), two specifications of violations of Article 120c (indecent recording/broadcasting), three specifications of violations of Article 131b (obstruction of justice), two specifications of violations of Article 128b (domestic violence), two specifications of violations of Article 107 (false official statement), and a violation of Article 118 (premeditated murder). If CSSN Copeland is convicted of premeditated murder, he is facing a minimum sentence of life with the possibility of parole and a maximum punishment of life without the possibility of parole.

3. A military accused is entitled to expert assistance in the form of expert consultation "to aid in the preparation of his Defense upon a demonstration of necessity…and that denial of an expert would result in a fundamentality unfair trial." United States v. Bresnahan, 62 M.J. 137, 143 (C.A.A.F. 2005); R.C.M. 703(d). Under Article 46, UCMJ, the Defense may request expert consultants to assist the Defense in "evaluating, identifying, and developing evidence," as well as to "test and challenge the Government's case." United States v. Warner, 62 M.J. 114, 118 (C.A.A.F 2005). The right to present evidence guaranteed by the Sixth Amendment, Article 46, UCMJ, and R.C.M. 703 "necessarily includes the right to prepare." United States v. Allen, 31

M.J. 572, 623 (N-M.CM.R. 1990). Consequently, a military member is entitle[d]…to the assistance of an expert when necessary to the preparation of an adequate defense." Id. (quoting United States v. Garries, 22 M.J. 288, 290 (C.M.A. 1986). The right to an "adequate defense" includes "preparation for cross-examination" of Government witnesses well "as presentation of an expert defense witness." Id. (quoting United States v. Durant, 545 F.2d 823, 827 (2d Cir. 1976)). Thus, a Defense expert's assistance as a consultant before trial and during trial may in part be justified by the consultant's ability to provide assistance in preparing the Defense for the presentation of expert testimony. Id.

4. To demonstrate "necessity" as required by R.C.M. 703, the Defense must show "more than the 'mere possibility of assistance from a requested expert' . . . " Bresnahan, 62 M.J. 137, 143 (C.A.A.F. 2005). "The accused must show that a reasonable probability exists 'both that an expert would be of assistance to the defense and that denial of expert assistance would result in a fundamentally unfair trial.'" Bresnahan, 62 M.J. 137, 143 (C.A.A.F. 2005). In order to demonstrate the first prong of that test—that a reasonable probability exists that an expert would be of assistance to the Defense—the Defense must explain: "'(1) why the expert is necessary; (2) what the expert would accomplish for the accused; and (3) why defense counsel is unable to gather and present the evidence that the expert would be able to develop.'" United States v. Hennis, 79 M.J. 370, 382-83 (C.A.A.F. 2020) (quoting United States v. Lloyd, 69 M.J. 95, 99 (C.A.A.F. 2010) (emphasis in original).

5. As delineated in enclosure (1), Dr. Wetherill is a board-certified clinical psychologist with an expertise in clinical and experimental research involving alcohol and the physiological effects on the brain and memory. The evidence in this case raises significant questions that may likely be explained by a comprehensive understanding of the body's immediate "fight or flight" response to any given situation or startling event. Moreover, the allegations involving CSSN S.S. contain the alleged victim having blackouts. Dr. Wetherill's extensive education and experience in forensic psychology makes her participation indispensable to CSSN Copeland's defense and perfecting a case on the merits. The defense is aware of no government substitute that could address the specific nature of the defense's need to the level of knowledge and expertise as Dr. Wetherill.

6. Additionally, based on how defense anticipates the evidence will be presented at trial, defense counsel effectiveness and ability to present a logical defense, through cross and direct examination, will be limited without assistance of Dr. Wetherill. The defense is not an expert in this subject matter. Defense counsel has not received any formal training in psychology. Nor does defense counsel have the necessary time or ability to develop such and expertise prior to trial. This type of evidence requires a level of knowledge the defense does not possess, and cannot gain in a few weeks or even months of study. Furthermore, defense is unable to present this evidence to members without the assistance of an expert witness.

7. Based on the fee schedule in enclosure (2), defense requests twenty (20) hours for pre-trial consultancy at a cost of $8,000.00. Additionally, the Defense requests Dr. Wetherill's presence at trial (21 days), and one day of trial preparation, for a total of 22 days ($4,000/day x 22 days) at a cost of $88,000.00. The total amount requested by defense is approximately $96,000.00, in addition to travel expenses in accordance with Joint Travel Regulations. The defense will submit an additional request if more time is needed.

8. The defense requests that this expert be assigned as a consulting member of CSSN Copeland's defense team, such that all communication between the accused, defense counsel, and the expert are privileged and confidential pursuant to Mil. R. Evid. 502. The defense further requests that the government refrain from any substantive contact with this expert. It is understood that this limitation may be removed if the defense ultimately desires to have Dr. Wetherill testify as an expert witness in this case.

9. Thank you for your careful consideration of this request. If I may provide any additional information, I am available at (757) 341-4486 or clifton.e.morgan4.mil@us.navy.mil to answer any questions about this request.

Encl: (1) CV of Dr. Nameeta Sahni, Psy.D.
(2) Fee Schedule of Dr. Nameeta Sahni, Psy.D.

1. Pursuant to references (a) through (h), CSSN Jermiah Copeland, through counsel, requests the appointment of a confidential forensic psychologist specializing in psychosexual evaluation, sex offender rehabilitation, and recidivism to assist in his defense. Specifically, CSSN Copeland requests that you appoint Dr. Sahni as a representative of the defense so that any communications between her, CSSN Copeland, and defense counsel will be privileged pursuant to reference (d) and other applicable federal laws and regulations.

2. Background:

CSSN Copeland is charged with four specifications of violations of Article 120 (sexual assault), a violation of Article 128 (assault consummated by a battery), two specifications of violations of Article 120c (indecent recording/broadcasting), three specifications of violations of Article 131b (obstruction of justice), two specifications of violations of Article 128b (domestic violence), two specifications of violations of Article 107 (false official statement), and a violation of Article 118 (premeditated murder). If CSSN Copeland is convicted of premeditated murder, he is facing a minimum sentence of life with the possibility of parole and a maximum punishment of life without the possibility of parole.

Dr. Sahni is a licensed and well-credentialed forensic psychologist with over 20 years of experience. Over the course of her career, she has interviewed and evaluated offenders and in many cases made recommendations about their future risk to society.

3. Supporting Law:

The Sixth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution guarantees court-martial defendants a right to the effective assistance of counsel.[1] This includes "the right to present a defense by means of confrontation, cross-examination and going forward with a presentation of [his or her] own evidence." Military due process entitles a service member to the assistance of an expert when necessary for the preparation of an adequate defense."[2]

More specifically, the government must provide expert assistance for the defense when there exists: "a reasonable probability that (1) an expert would be of assistance to the defense and (2) that denial of expert assistance would result in a fundamentally unfair trial."[3]

The first prong is established when the accused demonstrates the following: "(1) why the expert assistance is needed; (2) what the expert assistance would accomplish for the accused; and (3) why the defense counsel [is] unable to gather and present the evidence that the expert assistance would be able to develop."[4]

Even if a defense expert consultant does not become an expert witness, such a consultant may still assist the defense in evaluating, identifying and developing evidence.[5]

4. Reasoning:

a. Expert assistance in the field of psychosexual evaluation and recidivism risk assessment is needed to explore and develop that CSSN Copeland is a low risk to commit crimes in the future.

If convicted, CSSN Copeland has the right to present evidence in extenuation and mitigation to the sentencing authority. This evidence could include an expert opinion that CSSN Copeland is a low risk to society generally. Any such evidence would be a solid basis to adjudicate a lower sentence than CSSN Copeland might otherwise receive without this evidence.

b. Expert assistance in the field of psychosexual evaluation and recidivism risk assessment is the only way for CSSN Copeland to develop and ultimately present the critical evidence described above. This expert assistance requested creates the scientifically-valid basis for testimony that CSSN Copeland is a low risk to commit future offenses.

Dr. Sahni will complete a full recidivism risk analysis. This includes administering several psychological exams, as well as conducting collateral interviews and a review of pertinent evidentiary material. The results of Dr. Sahni's evaluation will be analyzed and explained (possibly via an extensive written report) to allow defense counsel to ascertain if and how to use Dr. Sahni's findings. Depending on the outcome of the psychological testing, Dr. Sahni will also be able to testify as to CSSN Copeland's low risk of committing other offenses.

[1] United States v. Allen, 31 M.J. 572, 623 (N-M.C.C.A. 1990).
[2] United States v. Garries, 22 M.J. 288 (C.M.A. 1986).
[3] United States v. Freeman, 65 M.J. 451, 458 (C.A.A.F. 2008).
[4] Id.
[5] United States v. Warner, 62 M.J. 114, 118 (C.A.A.F. 2005).

c. Defense counsel cannot conduct psychological tests nor ultimately testify to the results in court.

Forensic psychological testing of CSSN Copeland will require a qualified and licensed psychologist trained and experienced in conducting these professional evaluations. Lawyers cannot ethically or practically conduct such tests on their own. Additionally, if the defense decides to use the results of the testing described above, only a qualified expert like Dr. Sahni is competent to testify to the findings at trial. There is no way to develop the necessary psychological evidence demonstrating a low risk of recidivism without the expert assistance requested.

d. Denial of the requested expert assistance would deprive CSSN Copeland of his right to fully explore relevant and compelling evidence in extenuation and mitigation should he need to present a pre-sentencing case. This would result in a fundamentally unfair trial.

CSSN Copeland has the constitutional right to present a defense. This includes presenting and challenging evidence at presentencing proceedings.[6] If there is credible, scientifically sound evidence that CSSN Copeland is a low-risk to society, he must be permitted to explore if and how to present that evidence to the sentencing authority. This evidence would most certainly bear strongly on the issue of any potential sentence, should CSSN Copeland be convicted. CSSN Copeland cannot investigate, develop, or present this important defense without access to the requested expert assistance. Therefore, denying his request ultimately denies him the right to put on his case.

5. Proposed Expert Consultant and Fees:

The defense has estimated the following fees:

| Expense | Rate | Total |
|---|---|---|
| 30 hours pretrial consultation | $450/hour | $13,500.00 |
| Evaluation of CSSN Copeland | $4,500.00 | $4,500.00 |
| Presence at trial – 21 days | $4,500.00/day | $94,500.00 |
| Dr. Sahni's travel expenses in accordance with the JTR | TBD | TBD |

Therefore, the defense requests a total authorization of approximately $112,500.00, not including travel expenses, to be reimbursed in accordance with the Joint Travel Regulations, for the services described above.

The defense further requests that the expert consultant be viewed as a member of the defense team such that all communications between the expert consultant and the accused and his counsel will be viewed as confidential. The defense further requests that the government not have any conversations or other interaction with the requested expert consultant in relation to this case except for any administrative communications in securing their assistance for the defense. The defense understands this limitation may be removed if the defense eventually desires to have the expert testify in the case.

MOTION

Pursuant to R.C.M. 703(d), the defense moves this Court to compel the Government to appoint and fund a sexual sadistic expert as a defense consultant.

BURDEN

As the moving party, the defense bears the burden to prove facts necessary to resolve the motion by a preponderance of evidence. R.C.M. 905(c).

FACTS

1. On 22 August 2025, the Government preferred charges in this case. The Government alleges violations of Article 120, 128, 120c, 131b, 128b, 107, and 118, Uniform Code of Military Justice (UCMJ). (Charge Sheet).

2. Charge VII, the Article 118 specification alleges that CSSN Copeland did, "with premeditation, murder CS3 A.R., U.S. Navy, by means of an act of the Accused." (Charge Sheet).

3. The maximum punishment for the violation of Article 118 on its own is life without the possibility of parole. The mandatory minimum for a violation of the charged violation of Article 118 is life with the possibility of parole. Article 118(d)(1).

4. On 24 October 2025, in accordance with the Trial Management Order, the Defense submitted a request to the Office of Special Trial counsel to Dr. Jamie Dickson, Psy.D., a sexual sadistic behavior expert, as a consultant and potential witness. (Enclosure A).

5. In summary, the Defense stated that Dr. Dickson is necessary to: (1) educate members about the normality of strangulation or choking in a sexual manner, considering the circumstances surrounding ABHAN C.R.'s allegations indicate she was agreeable with this behavior; and (2) assist the Defense with presenting an alternative theory to the Government's claim that CSSN Copeland committed the premeditated murder of CS3 A.R. (Enclosure A).

6. On 7 November 2025, the trial counsel responded denying the request for three reasons. First, the Government claimed there was no credible evidence to indicate that ABHAN C.R. liked to be strangled in a sexual manner. (Enclosure B).

7. When interviewed by NCIS about the sexual contact allegations, both ABHAN C.R. and CSSN Copeland admitted that CSSN Copeland told ABHAN C.R. that he had heard that she like being choked sexually. (Enclosures C, D).

8. Second, the Government stated the Defense failed to specify what alternative theories we intended to present regarding CS3 A.R.'s death. This is despite the fact the Government chose NOT to specify what act it believes CSSN Copeland did to allegedly kill CS3 A.R. (Enclosure B).

9. In its M.R.E. 404(b) notice sent on 5 November 2025, however, the Government claimed CSSN Copeland strangled CS3 A.R. like he did ABHAN C.R. (Enclosure A to Defense Mot. to Exclude M.R.E. 413 Evidence).

10. Finally, the Government suggested a showing why Independent Defense Funding has not/cannot be used is required for the Defense to show necessity. (Enclosure B).

LAW

The right to be represented by counsel who is reasonably effective in investigating, preparing and presenting a defense is a fundamental pillar of American jurisprudence. The Supreme Court has recognized that the Sixth Amendment right to counsel mandates the provision of adequate resources, to include experts, in order to present an effective defense. As a matter of military due process, service members are entitled to expert assistance when necessary for an adequate defense, without regard to indigency.[1] The right to supplement the defense team with expert assistance and witnesses is based on Article 46, UCMJ, Military Rule of Evidence 706, and R.C.M. 703(d). Because the military accused does not have available to him the relatively unlimited assets of the military justice machine, courts have placed the resources of the Federal Government at his or her disposal in order to pay for expert assistance and guarantee an effective defense team.

Importantly, the entitlement for an accused to expert assistance "is not limited to actual expert testimony at trial." United States v. Lee, 64 M.J. 213, 217 (C.A.A.F. 2006).

[1] See e.g., United States v. Kelly, 39 M.J. 235, 237 (CMA 1994); United States v. Burnette, 29 M.J. 473 (CMA 1990); United States v. Garries, 22 M.J. 288, 290 (C.M.A. 1986), cert. denied, 479 U.S. 985 (1986); see also Art. 46, UCMJ, 10 U.S.C. § 846 (establishing "equal opportunity to obtain witnesses and other evidence" for the defense); Rules for Courts-Martial 703(d).

> The right to expert assistance attaches when the defense demonstrates that such assistance is necessary.[2] "An accused is entitled to expert assistance provided by the Government if he can demonstrate necessity."[3] The "mere possibility of assistance from a requested expert" is not sufficient to prevail on the request for expert assistance.[4] Instead, "[t]he accused has the burden of establishing that a reasonable probability exists that (1) an expert would be of assistance to the defense and (2) that denial of expert assistance would result in a fundamentally unfair trial."[5] To satisfy the first prong of this test, the Defense must show, "(1) why the expert is necessary; (2) what the expert would accomplish for the accused; and (3) why defense counsel is unable to gather and present the evidence that the expert would be able to develop."

Section 0145 paragraph (7) of the Manual of the Judge Advocate General states action on requests for funding in support of courts-martial should be taken "pursuant to the applicable standard for necessity, regardless of potential independent Defense Services funding."[6]

ARGUMENT

I. An expert consultant in sexual sadistic behavior is necessary in this case to assist the Defense in developing our theories and to potentially testify at trial.

Dr. Dickson is a licensed forensic psychologist with advanced training in sexual sadistic behavior. The allegations in this case are the most severe under the UCMJ and CSSN Copeland has a right to present an effective defense. The circumstances indicate that ABHAN C.R. liked to be strangled in a sexual manner. In her report of abusive sexual contact, ABHAN C.R. alleged that CSSN Copeland told her he heard she liked to be choked right before he placed his hand on her neck. Additionally, when NCIS interviewed him, CSSN Copeland admitted that he heard ABHAN C.R. liked to be choked and that he told her that. Whether it is factual or not that ABHAN C.R. liked to be choked sexually, at a minimum, CSSN Copeland believed she did at the time of the alleged offense. If CSSN Copeland's statement or beliefs about ABHAN C.R.'s sexual kinks are admitted into evidence at trial, it is imperative that the Defense be able to have Dr. Dickson provide an explanation to the members about the normality of strangulation in a sexual context as a paraphilia (or sexual kink) that does, in fact, exist.

Dr. Dickson is also necessary to assist the Defense in developing and presenting an alternative theory to the Government's claim that CSSN Copeland committed the premeditated murder of CS3 A.R. The Government has not charged a specific act CSSN Copeland allegedly did to cause CS3 A.R.'s death. Because the Government has chosen not to allege a specific act, the Defense is unable to know what act the Government will allege at trial. However, Dr. Dickson's assistance is necessary for the Defense to be prepared if the Government's theory is that CSSN Copeland strangled CS3 A.R. like it claims in the M.R.E. 404(b) notice it provided to the Defense. In addition to Dr. Dickson discussing the normality of strangulation as a sexual kink, Dr. Dickson can also provide evidence of the possibility/likelihood that strangulation during sex has led to unintentional deaths.

The Defense is not required to make a showing that Independent Defense Funding has not/cannot be used in order to show the necessity of this expert. In fact, the JAGMAN states that the standard for necessity is not impacted based on the potential for defense services funding. As such, the Government should not be permitted to deny the Defense's request for an expert on this basis.

II. Defense counsel is unable to gather and present the evidence that Dr. Dickson would be able to at trial, if required, and denial of Dr. Dickson would result in a fundamentally unfair trial.

The Government controls what it decides to present to members in order to prove CSSN Copeland's guilt to the charged offenses. CSSN Copeland has a right to present a defense. Dr. Dickson's participation allows him the opportunity to do so. The defense counsel detailed to CSSN Copeland's case are experienced litigators but are not experts in this field. Furthermore, counsel are not permitted to testify as witnesses at trial. In order for this evidence to be introduced and presented to the members, someone with Dr. Dickson's knowledge, training, and experience must do so through testimony.

Without Dr. Dickson's participation and ability to assist the Defense with developing a defense to the Government's case, CSSN Copeland will not receive a fair trial. Dr. Dickson's knowledge and ability to provide explanation and assistance comes directly from her experience and training that defense counsel cannot acquire prior to trial. Defense counsel will continue to diligently prepare and educate themselves, CSSN Copeland requires the assistance of specially trained expert to also educate the members on information that contradicts the Government's theory. The Government should not be permitted prevent CSSN Copeland from developing and presenting a defense by denying access to Dr. Dickson.

RELIEF REQUESTED

Pursuant to R.C.M. 703(d), the defense moves this Court to compel the Government to appoint and fund Dr. Dickson as a defense consultant in sexual sadistic behavior.

The defense does not request oral argument and asks the military judge to rule on the filings alone.

Encl: (1) CV of Dr. Jamie Dickson
(2) Fee Schedule of Dr. Jamie Dickson

1. Pursuant to references (a) through (h), the defense counsel for CSSN Copeland respectfully requests government funding for an expert consultant in the field of sexual sadistic behavior in the context of strangulation and sexual kinks. Specifically, CSSN Copeland requests that you appoint Dr. Dickson as a representative of the defense so that any communications between her, CSSN Copeland, and defense counsel will be privileged pursuant to reference (d) and other applicable federal laws and regulations.

2. CSSN Copeland is charged with four specifications of violations of Article 120 (sexual assault), a violation of Article 128 (assault consummated by a battery), two specifications of violations of Article 120c (indecent recording/broadcasting), three specifications of violations of Article 131b (obstruction of justice), two specifications of violations of Article 128b (domestic violence), two specifications of violations of Article 107 (false official statement), and a violation of Article 118 (premeditated murder). If CSSN Copeland is convicted of premeditated murder, he is facing a minimum sentence of life with the possibility of parole and a maximum punishment of life without the possibility of parole.

3. A military accused is entitled to expert assistance in the form of expert consultation "to aid in the preparation of his Defense upon a demonstration of necessity…and that denial of an expert would result in a fundamentality unfair trial." United States v. Bresnahan, 62 M.J. 137, 143 (C.A.A.F. 2005); R.C.M. 703(d). Under Article 46, UCMJ, the Defense may request expert consultants to assist the Defense in "evaluating, identifying, and developing evidence," as well as to "test and challenge the Government's case." United States v. Warner, 62 M.J. 114, 118 (C.A.A.F 2005). The right to present evidence guaranteed by the Sixth Amendment, Article 46, UCMJ, and R.C.M. 703 "necessarily includes the right to prepare." United States v. Allen, 31 M.J. 572, 623 (N-M.CM.R. 1990). Consequently, a military member is entitle[d]…to the assistance of an expert when necessary to the preparation of an adequate defense." Id. (quoting United States v. Garries, 22 M.J. 288, 290 (C.M.A. 1986). The right to an "adequate defense" includes "preparation for cross-examination" of Government witnesses well "as presentation of an expert defense witness." Id. (quoting United States v. Durant, 545 F.2d 823, 827 (2d Cir. 1976)). Thus, a Defense expert's assistance as a consultant before trial and during trial may in part be justified by the consultant's ability to provide assistance in preparing the Defense for the presentation of expert testimony. Id.

4. To demonstrate "necessity" as required by R.C.M. 703, the Defense must show "more than the 'mere possibility of assistance from a requested expert' . . . " Bresnahan, 62 M.J. 137, 143 (C.A.A.F. 2005). "The accused must show that a reasonable probability exists 'both that an expert would be of assistance to the defense and that denial of expert assistance would result in a fundamentally unfair trial.'" Bresnahan, 62 M.J. 137, 143 (C.A.A.F. 2005). In order to demonstrate the first prong of that test—that a reasonable probability exists that an expert would be of assistance to the Defense—the Defense must explain: "'(1) why the expert is necessary; (2) what the expert would accomplish for the accused; and (3) why defense counsel is unable to gather and present the evidence that the expert would be able to develop.'" United States v. Hennis, 79 M.J. 370, 382-83 (C.A.A.F. 2020) (quoting United States v. Lloyd, 69 M.J. 95, 99 (C.A.A.F. 2010) (emphasis in original).

5. Dr. Dickson is a licensed forensic psychologist with advanced training in sexual sadistic behavior and will assist CSSN Copeland in developing his theory and defense. The circumstances surrounding the allegations involving ABHAN C.R. indicates that she was into choking, however, in a sexual manner. If the defenses chooses to have Dr. Dickson testify, she can educate the members about this type of behavior associated with sexual acts and what is or is not outside the norm. Furthermore, the government alleges CSSN Copeland committed the premeditated murder of CS3 A.R. The defense has a constitutional right to present alternative theories to the members, and Dr. Dickson's consultancy is necessary to assist the defense with this. Dr. Dickson's extensive training in sexual sadistic behaviors makes her participation indispensable to perfecting a case on the merits.

6. The defense is not an expert in this subject matter. Defense counsel's formal training in this subject matter is extremely limited. Defense counsel also lack the time necessary or ability to develop such an expertise prior to trial. This type of evidence requires a level of knowledge the defense does not possess, and cannot gain in a few weeks or even months of study. Furthermore, defense is unable to present this evidence to members without the assistance of an expert witness.

7. Based on the fee schedule in enclosure (2), defense requests twenty (20) hours for pre-trial consultancy at a cost of $6,000.00. Additionally, the Defense requests Dr. Dickson's presence at trial (21 days), and one day of trial preparation, for a total of 22 days ($3,000/day x 22 days) at a cost of $66,000.00. The total amount requested by defense is approximately $72,000.00, in addition to travel expenses in accordance with Joint Travel Regulations. The defense will submit an additional request if more time is needed.

8. The defense requests that this expert be assigned as a consulting member of CSSN Copeland's defense team, such that all communication between the accused, defense counsel, and the expert are privileged and confidential pursuant to Mil. R. Evid. 502. The defense further requests that the government refrain from any substantive contact with this expert. It is understood that this limitation may be removed if the defense ultimately desires to have Dr. Dickson testify as an expert witness in this case.

9. Thank you for your careful consideration of this request. If I may provide any additional information, I am available at (757) 341-4486 or clifton.e.morgan4.mil@us.navy.mil to answer any questions about this request.

TRIAL CONSULTATION/EXPERT WITNESS FEE SCHEDULE

1. Pre-Trial Consultation Services: Case and document review, which may include but is not necessarily limited to evidence, any related case records, medical and psychological reports, military records and recordings and transcriptions of interviews is billed at $300.00 per hour. Case review, discussion and consultation with counsel, and telephonic testimony at pretrial motions hearings are included in pre-trial consultation and are also billed at $300.00 per hour. Pre-trial consultation generally takes a minimum of 8 hours to complete though this may be significantly greater depending on the complexity of the case. Evaluation of a defendant can take up to three working days. Defendant evaluation is also billed at $300.00 per hour. The number of hours for pre-trial consultation shall be agreed to in writing before work commences. If additional time is required, both parties shall agree in writing before the additional work commences. The fee for any work completed shall be paid even if the case does not ultimately go to trial.

2. Trial Consultation and Expert Testimony: All activities related to attendance at trial, including trial consultation, expert testimony and travel are billed at a daily rate of $3000.00.

3. Expenses:
   a. Round trip airfare is expected to be provided by the Government at standard government rates. Dr. Dickson will book her own air travel, which will be billed at 100% reimbursement of coach class fare.
   b. Driving will be billed at GSA POV rate.
   c. GSA per diem schedules are expected to be used to reimburse the contractor for the cost of lodging, either on a military installation or off base, as well as standard meal rates.
   d. The cost of a rental car, when allowed, will be reimbursed by the government. If a rental car is not provided, the cost of transportation to and from the airport as well as any other transportation costs shall be borne by the Government.

4. Payment: Payment is expected within 30 days of the trial and/or consultation services to the address listed above. If billing is to be handled through WAWF, the government is responsible to provide the contractor with all information needed to effect this process.

1. Pursuant to Section 0145(a)(7)(b) under reference (c), Special Trial Counsel has determined that employment of a defense expert in sexual sadistic behavior is unnecessary.

2. Defense has not articulated what relevant information and guidance Dr. Dickson would provide that makes her necessary.

a. Defense states Dr. Dickson's assistance is necessary because " the circumstances surrounding the allegations involving ABHAN C.R. indicates that she was into choking, however, in a sexual manner." No credible evidence exists to support this assertion.

b. Additionally, Defenses requests assistance to present alternate theories regarding the death of CS3 A.R. Defense fails to articulate what alternate theories based on relevant evidence it is seeking to explore.

c. Lastly, a showing of necessity has not been made in that defense has failed to proffer why Independent Defense Funding, which has been specifically allocated for defense needs such as this, has not/cannot be used.

Furthermore, defense is unable to present this evidence to members without the assistance of an expert witness.

7. Based on the fee schedule in enclosure (2), defense requests twenty (20) hours for pre-trial consultancy at a cost of $6,000.00. Additionally, the Defense requests Dr. Dickson's presence at trial (21 days), and one day of trial preparation, for a total of 22 days ($3,000/day x 22 days) at a cost of $66,000.00. The total amount requested by defense is approximately $72,000.00, in addition to travel expenses in accordance with Joint Travel Regulations. The defense will submit an additional request if more time is needed.

8. The defense requests that this expert be assigned as a consulting member of CSSN Copeland's defense team, such that all communication between the accused, defense counsel, and the expert are privileged and confidential pursuant to Mil. R. Evid. 502. The defense further requests that the government refrain from any substantive contact with this expert. It is understood that this limitation may be removed if the defense ultimately desires to have Dr. Dickson testify as an expert witness in this case.

9. Thank you for your careful consideration of this request. If I may provide any additional information, I am available at (757) 341-4486 or clifton.e.morgan4.mil@us.navy.mil to answer any questions about this request.

TRIAL CONSULTATION/EXPERT WITNESS FEE SCHEDULE

1. Pre-Trial Consultation Services: Case and document review, which may include but is not necessarily limited to evidence, any related case records, medical and psychological reports, military records and recordings and transcriptions of interviews is billed at $300.00 per hour. Case review, discussion and consultation with counsel, and telephonic testimony at pretrial motions hearings are included in pre-trial consultation and are also billed at $300.00 per hour. Pre-trial consultation generally takes a minimum of 8 hours to complete though this may be significantly greater depending on the complexity of the case. Evaluation of a defendant can take up to three working days. Defendant evaluation is also billed at $300.00 per hour. The number of hours for pre-trial consultation shall be agreed to in writing before work commences. If additional time is required, both parties shall agree in writing before the additional work commences. The fee for any work completed shall be paid even if the case does not ultimately go to trial.

2. Trial Consultation and Expert Testimony: All activities related to attendance at trial, including trial consultation, expert testimony and travel are billed at a daily rate of $3000.00.

3. Expenses:
   a. Round trip airfare is expected to be provided by the Government at standard government rates. Dr. Dickson will book her own air travel, which will be billed at 100% reimbursement of coach class fare.
   b. Driving will be billed at GSA POV rate.
   c. GSA per diem schedules are expected to be used to reimburse the contractor for the cost of lodging, either on a military installation or off base, as well as standard meal rates.
   d. The cost of a rental car, when allowed, will be reimbursed by the government. If a rental car is not provided, the cost of transportation to and from the airport as well as any other transportation costs shall be borne by the Government.

4. Payment: Payment is expected within 30 days of the trial and/or consultation services to the address listed above. If billing is to be handled through WAWF, the government is responsible to provide the contractor with all information needed to effect this process.

RESULTS OF INTERVIEW OF V/[redacted]

1. As background, on 26Jul24 NCISRU USS HARRY S TRUMAN (CVN 75) was notified by MA1 Ronald CORTESELLI, USN, CVN 75, of an unrestricted reported of sexual assault aboard the ship that occurred on 23Jul24 at approximately 0200 hours. MA1 CORTESELLI reported ABHAN [redacted]), USN, CVN 75, reported CSSN Jermiah Taylor COPELAND (S/COPELAND), USN, CVN 75, grabbed her vulva, breasts, and buttocks over the clothing while applying pressure to her neck so that it was difficult for her to breathe.

2. On 06Aug24 at approximately 2030 hours, V[redacted] was interviewed by Reporting Agent (RA) aboard CVN 75, while at sea in compartment 02-88-4-Q. IT2 Morgan RODRIGUEZ, USN, Uniform Victim Advocate (UVA), CVN 75, was present for the entirety of the interview.

3. The interview was audio and video recorded in its entirety utilizing the CaseCracker system. This report serves as a synopsis of the interview and does not necessarily describe the information in the order in which it was discussed. For a verbatim account, please refer to the digital recording; Enclosure (A) pertains.

4. V/[redacted] related she is in a relationship with CSSN Fernando CUESTABRAVO, USN, CVN 75, and was in the mess decks with him in the early morning hours of 23Jul24 when he stated he was going to sleep. V/[redacted] stated after CSSN CUESTABRAVO left, she began receiving SnapChat snaps from S/COPELAND, who stated he was headed to the ship and expressed he wanted to talk to her about CSSN CUESTABRAVO. V/[redacted] agreed, and stated S/COPELAND arrived and requested the pair go somewhere private to talk.

5. After arriving to the area of the fantail, S/COPELAND told V[redacted] that CSSN CUESTABRAVO was talking to other women and asserted CSSN CUESTABRAVO was not treating V/[redacted] the way she should be treated. V/[redacted] related S/COPELAND suggested SHE engage in a relationship with him (S/COPELAND) to "get back at" CSSN CUESTABRAVO. V/[redacted] stated she told S/COPELAND she did not "do those types of things." V[redacted] recalled discussing her relationship with S/COPELAND for a short period of time before S/COPELAND began to play a "game" with her wherein he pretended to arrest her. V/[redacted] stated S/COPELAND forced her hands behind her back and grabbed her vulva over the clothing.

6. V/[redacted] related she turned around and punched S/COPELAND in the stomach.

V/[redacted] related S/COPLEAND told her he heard she liked to be choked, at which time S/COPELAND applied pressure to her neck with one hand so that it was difficult for V[redacted] to breathe. V/[redacted] recalled pushing S/COPELAND's hand away from her throat but that he would immediately replace it and keep applying pressure. While applying pressure to her neck, V/[redacted] recalled S/COPELAND kissed her on the lips and grabbed her breasts, buttocks, and vulva over the clothing. V/[redacted] related the physical contact lasted approximately a minute before S/COPELAND stopped of his own accord. V[redacted] stated she told S/COPELAND she was going to bed and left the fantail.

7. V[redacted] recalled being unsure if she should tell CSSN CUESTABRAVO because she was worried about his reaction, but texted him about what happened. V[redacted] stated CSSN CUESTABRAVO encouraged her to report the incident. V[redacted] stated she called the Sexual Assault Prevention and Response (SAPR) phone number she found on a poster aboard the ship, and was informed to get in touch with shipboard SAPR personnel. V/[redacted] stated she did not know how, so CSSN CUESTABRAVO reported the incident to Security. V/[redacted] stated she had bruising on her neck that CSSN CUESTABRAVO observed, but that it was now gone.

8. V/[redacted] stated she told her Chief, CSC Gregory SIMMONS, USN, CVN 75, about the incident. V[redacted] related CSSN Jalen OWENS, USN, CVN 75, told CSSN CUESTABRAVO that S/COPELAND told her (CSSN OWENS) that V[redacted] had reported him.

9. V[redacted] provided RA screen shots of the texts she sent to CSSN CUESTABRAVA via Air Drop, and signed a Permissive Authorization for Search and Seizure (PASS) denoting her consent; Enclosure (B) pertains. The screen shots were subsequently placed on an NCIS Photographic Template for inclusion into the case file; Enclosure (C) pertains.

11. At the conclusion of the interview, V/[redacted] was provided a DD Form 2701 Victim Witness Assistance Pamphlet (VWAP).

2. On 16Aug24 at approximately 2130 hours, S/COPELAND was interviewed by Reporting Agent (RA) and MAC Adam NORMAN, USN, CVN 75, aboard CVN 75, while at sea in compartment 02-88-4-Q.

3. The interview was audio and video recorded in its entirety utilizing the CaseCracker system. This report serves as a synopsis of the interview and does not necessarily describe the information in the order in which it was discussed. For a verbatim account, please refer to the digital recording; Enclosure (A) pertains.

4. Prior to being interviewed, S/COPELAND was advised of, and waived, his Article 31b Rights utilizing a Military Rights Waiver form; Enclosure (B) pertains.

5. S/COPELAND stated he and V/[redacted] saw each other on the mess decks at night on approximately 23Jul24, and went to speak in the area of the fantail aboard the ship. S/COPELAND denied he messaged V/[redacted] to coordinate the meeting. S/COPELAND stated V/[redacted] wanted to talk about her boyfriend CSSN Fernando CUESTABRAVO, USN, CVN 75. S/COPELAND stated V/[redacted] disclosed CSSN CUESTABRAVO does not treat her well and cheating on her, and she asked for his advice concerning their relationship.

6. S/COPELAND recalled the two were "flirting," but emphatically denied he was romantically or sexually interested in V/[redacted]. S/COPELAND stated while they were talking, he was sitting in a chair and she was sitting on the deck. S/COPELAND asked her why she was sitting on the ground and told her to sit with him in his chair. S/COPELAND stated she put her hand up so he could help her up, and he attempted to pick her up by her arms without touching any other part of her body. Following the contact S/COPELAND recalled giving V[redacted] a hug and related V/[redacted] hugged him back. S/COPELAND stated he got close to V/[redacted] with his face close to her face, but denied trying to kiss her. S/COPELAND stated after talking for approximately an hour, the two left the fantail and went to their berthings separately. S/COPELAND denied touching V/[redacted] anywhere else on her body.

7. When asked directly if S/COPELAND strangled V/[redacted], S/COPELAND stated "oh okay yeah I have but it wasn't in like a weird way," and stated he put one hand around her neck without applying any pressure after she pinched his arm. When asked directly if S/COPELAND ever told V/[redacted] he heard she liked to be choked, S/COPELAND admitted he did. S/COPELAND continued to deny applying pressure to V[redacted]' neck, touching her intimate areas, or attempting to kiss her. S/COPELAND directly denied ever telling V/ROGERS she should have sex with him to "get back" at CSSN CUESTABRAVO.

8. S/COPELAND opined V/[redacted] falsely reported the incident as a sexual assault because CSSN CUESTABRAVO wanted to "get back at" S/COPELAND for talking to V[redacted].

9. At the conclusion of the interview, circa 2300, S/COPELAND was turned over to command representative CSC James MUGWE, USN, USS HARRY S TRUMAN (CVN 75).

| UNITED STATESv.JERMIAH T. COPELANDCSSN/E-3USN | DEFENSE MOTION TO SUPPRESS SEARCH AND SEIZURE OF PHONE26 November 2025 |

MOTION

Pursuant to Rules for Courts-Martial (R.C.M.) 905(b)(3), Military Rules of Evidence (M.R.E.) 311, 314, and the Fourth Amendment to the United States Constitution, the Defense moves to suppress all evidence obtained and derived from the 4 June 2025 Permissive Authorization to Search and Seize (PASS) the contents of CSSN Copeland's cellular phone.

BURDEN

Pursuant to M.R.E. 311(d)(5) the prosecution has the burden of proving by a preponderance of the evidence that the evidence was not obtained as a result of an unlawful search or seizure or that some valid exception applies. Pursuant to M.R.E. 314(e)(5), the prosecution must prove consent for a search by clear and convincing evidence.

FACTS

1. CSSN Copeland is charged, inter alia, with committing premeditated murder of CS3 A.R., in violation of Article 118, UCMJ. (Charge Sheet).

2. On 1 June 2025, NCIS initially interviewed CSSN Copeland regarding his whereabouts of CS3 A.R. During this interview, NCIS did not provide him any Article 31(b) rights advisement. (Enclosure A).

3. On 3 June 2025, at 2113 EST, CSSN Copeland was interrogated by two NCIS Special Agents. NCIS did not provide CSSN Copeland a cleansing warning from the 1 June 2025 interview when they chose not to read him his rights. (Enclosure B).

4. As soon as the recording of his interview starts, CSSN Copeland is seen with his head down on the desk resting it in his hands. (Enclosure B: timestamp 00:00:00).

5. In total, the duration of his time in the interview room was approximately 3 hours and 17 min, ending at 0030 EST. (Enclosure D).

6. After collecting biographical information but before reading CSSN Copeland his rights, NCIS informed CSSN Copeland that NCIS had been executing a Command Authorized Search and Seizure (CASS) of CSSN Copeland's barracks room that day because it was CS3 A.R.'s last known location. (Enclosure B: timestamp 13:20).

7. NCIS provided CSSN Copeland his Article 31b rights, notifying him that he is suspected of committing only unauthorized absence and false official statement, in violation of Articles 86 and 107, UCMJ. There was no mention of Article 118, murder. (Enclosure E).

8. During the interrogation, one of the NCIS Agents stated NCIS' main purpose for interviewing CSSN Copeland stating, "Being UA is not a crime that NCIS investigates . . . we're really worried about [CS3 A.R.], which is why we want to talk to you." The agent proceeded to ask about CS3 A.R.'s mental state when he was last with her and where to find her. (Enclosure B; timestamp 01:12:00).

9. The NCIS Agents paused the interview for approximately 43 minutes. As soon as the agents left the room, CSSN Copeland immediately rested his head back on his arms while laying it on the desk, and he proceeded to fall asleep and started snoring. (Enclosure B; timestamps 01:22:00 through 02:05:15).

10. The NCIS Agents come back into the room, waking CSSN Copeland up, and started discussing a Permissive Authorization for Search and Seizure (PASS) to search only his phone. Notably, NCIS requested CSSN Copeland's passcode to his phone prior to presenting him the PASS. The following was stated:

    - SA: "So just a couple more things. So, with you going UA, you think the command is going to get pissed off at you? You think you will be in trouble with them? Do you think they are going to put you on restriction or anything like that?"
    - Copeland: "With me going UA, yeah."
    - SA: "Ok. So, one of the things I wanted to pitch is you said you were in the barracks the whole weekend, right? It's not like you were out in another state, whatever, doing God knows what…a lot of times with sailors go UA, that is what we are worries about, you guys are out doing dumb shit, getting arrested, doing dumb things, hell some of them even defect to friggin North Korea. So, I would like then to look at your phone and place you in the room. And that could maybe potentially help you out with your command. We could pitch it to them like, "Hey man, he didn't go to work, but it's not like he was fucking missing, or gone, or whatever, right?" You would be cool with that?"
    - Copeland: "Yeah"
    - SA: "Ok cool. What's your passcode?
    - Copeland: [redacted]
    - SA: Fills out PASS (Enclosures F, B; timestamp 02:06:00).

11. While the agent went through the PASS with CSSN Copeland, which is the first PASS dated 3 June 2025, CSSN Copeland initially agreed to let NCIS search his phone, but he then requested that he call his mom first before signing. The following conversation occurred immediately following:

    - SA: "Ok. Do you want to call her right now. Ok. Do you want to go ahead and sign that, and then I will . . . ?"
    - Copeland: "can I wait first?"
    - SA: "Yea, sure, absolutely." (Enclosure B; timestamp 02:10:00).

12. It is unclear how NCIS obtained CSSN Copeland's phone, but the phone was never seized during this interview. Notably, about the topic of calling his mom, the second NCIS agent stated that she would allow CSSN Copeland to call his mom from her phone. Instead of calling his mom, agents proceeded to ask CSSN Copeland questions. (Enclosure B).

13. The NCIS agents took another break for approximately 22 minutes. After they left, CSSN Copeland once again laid his head on his arms that were lying on the desk, and he fell asleep and started snoring. When the agents returned, they approached CSSN Copeland with signing a second PASS, dated 4 June 2025. (Enclosure B; timestamps 02:36:40 through 02:58:20).

14. Notably, the 4 June PASS did not list CSSN Copeland's phone like the first one that NCIS presented to him for signing. Instead, this one listed, "backpack, barracks room, and electronic devices." (Enclosure G).

15. CSSN Copeland questioned the agents about whether he is able to revoke consent to search any of the things listed in the 4 June 2025 PASS after signing. Once the agent answered his question, CSSN Copeland signed that PASS. (Enclosure B: 03:00:00).

16. Immediately after he signed the 4 June 2025 PASS, CSSN Copeland reconfirmed that he did not want to sign the 3 June PASS that provided consent to search his phone. The following conversation occurred:

    - SA: "Ok. And then I wanted to revisit the one we talked about with your phone, are you still Ok with that?"
    - Copeland: shakes head no "No, I'm just, can we do this [ ] I'm just tryna go home."
    - SA: "Understood, OK. Alright. So let's make some moves to do that. And we will make those [ ], and . . . we will be right back." (Enclosure B: 03:01:40).

17. CSSN Copeland never called his mom before signing the second PASS that NCIS presented to him. CSSN Copeland never signed the 3 June 2025 PASS for consent to search his phone. (Enclosure F).

18. On 21 November 2025, the Government discovered the Digital Forensic Examiner (DFE) report, which was created from the search of CSSN Copeland's phone that details the following:

a. On 04Jun25, Digital Forensic Examiner (DFE) Samuel BUSH, NCIS Digital Forensics Norfolk, VA, conducted a digital forensic acquisition of a seized iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND maintained on NCIS evidence custody log number NFFO 13Y9L Item XUQP3 pursuant to a Permissive Authorization for Search and Seizure (PASS) executed by S/COPELAND, dated 04Jun25.

b. Between 05Jun25 and 09Jun25, DFE DAVISON conducted a digital forensic examination of a seized iPhone 15 Pro Max belonging to S/COPELAND maintained on NCIS evidence custody log number NFFO 13Y9L Item XUQP3 pursuant to a Command Authorization for Search and Seizure (CASS) executed by Capt Matthew SCHLARMAN, NAS Norfolk, VA, dated 05Jun25. (Enclosure H).

19. However, from NCIS' report that details how and where NCIS found CS3 A.R.'s remains, NCIS specifies "During the interview of S/COPELAND, he signed a Permissive Authorization for Search and Seizure (PASS) for his cellular device which was provided to NCIS Digital Forensic Examiners (DFE) for review. The DFE observed a screenshot on the device of S/COPELAND of a saved marked location near Cary Avenue in Norfolk, VA . . . On 09Jun25, subsequent to receiving the screenshot from the DFE, NCIS conducted a foot search of the area near the marked location and discovered a black duffel bag containing human remains, later identified through DNA as V[redacted]" (Enclosure I).

LAW

The Fourth Amendment states, "The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated, and no Warrants shall issue, but upon probable cause, supported by Oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched, and the persons or things to be seized." US CONST. amend. IV. The "purpose of the Fourth Amendment was to prevent the use of 'governmental force' to search a man's house, his person, his papers or his effects and to prevent their seizure against his will." Love v. United States, 170 F.2d 32, 33 (4th Cir. 1948), cert. denied, 336 U.S. 912 (1949). The Fourth Amendment was "the founding generation's response to the reviled 'general warrants' of the colonial era, which allowed British officers to rummage through homes in an unrestrained search for evidence of criminal activity." Riley v. California, 573 U.S. 373, 403 (2014).

The military rules of evidence have codified the bulk of the Fourth Amendment precedent in M.R.E. 311, 314, and 315. Under M.R.E. 311, absent certain exceptions, "evidence obtained as a result of an unlawful search or seizure made by a person acting in a government capacity is inadmissible against the accused." Under M.R.E. 315, probable cause is required for "evidence obtained from reasonable searches conducted pursuant to a search warrant or search authorization. Under M.R.E. 314, several types of searches which do not require probable cause are outlined, including consent searches.

Consent Searches

One exception to the probable cause requirement is lawful consent searches. Mil. R. Evid. 314. Consent "may be limited in any way by the person granting consent, including limitations in terms of time, place, or property, and may be withdrawn at any time." Id. Consent must be voluntarily given, which is a determination from all circumstances. Id. The fact that a person "was in custody while granting consent is a factor to be considered in determining the voluntariness of consent, but it does not affect the standard of proof." Id.

Mere submission to the color of authority of personnel performing law enforcement duties or acquiescence in an announced or indicated purpose to search is not a voluntary consent. Mil. R. Evid. 314(e)(4).

Reasonable Expectation of Privacy

The Fourth Amendment "protects people, not places,"[1] and this protection includes people's expectations of privacy that "society is prepared to recognize as reasonable." Carpenter, at 2213 (2018) (quoting Smith v. Maryland, 442 U. S.735, 740 (1979).

Modern cellular phones are comparable to "minicomputers" which contain information touching "nearly every aspect" of a person's life "from the mundane to the intimate." Riley, at 393, 395. Even when the Government has the right to seize a cellular phone (as in a search incident to lawful arrest), a warrant is required to search the phone. Id. at 403.

Exclusionary Rule

"Evidence obtained as a result of an unlawful search or seizure made by a person acting in a governmental capacity is inadmissible" if there is a timely motion to suppress, the accused had a reasonable expectation of privacy in the property searched, and "exclusion of the evidence results in appreciable deterrence of future unlawful searches or seizures and the benefits of such deterrence outweigh the costs to the justice system." Mil. R. Evid. 311(a).

ARGUMENT

I. CSSN Copeland expressly did not consent to the search of his iPhone 15, twice, and thus, it should be suppressed.

CSSN Copeland expressly declined consent to NCIS for searching his phone, twice. The 3 June PASS is the only PASS that expressly listed his phone as the item NCIS intended to search. When first presented with the 3 June PASS, CSSN Copeland requested to call his mother to consult with her. In response to his request to call his mom, NCIS indicated if CSSN Copeland were to call his mother, it would have to be on one of the Agent's phones, or on some other NCIS phone-line. However, no call was ever made to CSSN Copeland's mom, and the agents proceeded with interrogating CSSN Copeland. By this point in time, CSSN Copeland was aware his barracks room was searched pursuant to a CASS, and the facts appear to suggest that NCIS had already seized his phone.

The second occasion CSSN Copeland said "No" to NCIS searching his phone was while he expressed hesitancy in signing the second PASS that was presented to him dated 4 June 2025. Despite CSSN Copeland being clear initially that he did not want to sign the PASS for his phone, NCIS then presented him a PASS that included "electronic devices," amongst the backpack and barracks room. The timing of this being presented to CSSN Copeland following his initial declination to a PASS that expressly listed his "iPhone 15," suggests that NCIS likely tried to deceive CSSN Copeland about what he was consenting to. Nevertheless, even after he signed this PASS he shook his head and told the agent "No" when she revisited the 3 June PASS for the search of his phone.

The question of consent to a search must be based on the totality of the circumstances.[2] The entire time CSSN Copeland was within NCIS' interrogation room, he was tired and ready to go home. This is evident by three things. First, the interrogation started at approximately 2113 at night and lasted into the next day, going beyond midnight. Second, CSSN Copeland is seen numerous times laying his head down on the desk and falling asleep. Each time NCIS took a break, CSSN Copeland could be heard snoring into his arms. Each time NCIS chose to approach him about signing a PASS, it was immediately after they had woken him up. Third, CSSN Copeland stated several times prior to signing any PASS that he was tired and ready to go home. One of the agents acknowledged his complaints and stated she wanted to go home as well. However, that did not stop them from proceeding with trying to get his signature on the PASS before they let him leave. Based on these circumstances, CSSN Copeland's consent cannot be construed as an independent act of free will.

Based on the totality of the circumstances, it is clear that CSSN Copeland did not provide voluntary consent to search his phone. The entire DFE report of CSSN Copeland's phone is compiled from an extraction that was done pursuant to consent that never existed. Even if there is a slight perception of voluntariness, the overwhelming facts listed above, in the aggregate, provides fatal impairments to the issue of consent. Therefore, this Court should suppress all evidence derived from the search of CSSN Copeland's phone.

II. CSSN Copeland revoked any consent to search his iPhone 15 that may be construed from the 4 June PASS search of "Electronic Devices."

Even, assuming arguendo, that CSSN Copeland did consent to a search of his iPhone 15 by signing for "electronic devices" on the 4 June PASS, CSSN Copeland revoked that authorization within seconds by: (1) refusing to sign the 3 June PASS when it was re-presented to him to sign; and (2) responding "No" when questioned if NCIS could search the iPhone 15 specifically. NCIS immediately acknowledged, "Understood, OK. Alright" and did not question CSSN Copeland any further. The simple fact that there were two PASS' contemplated by the NCIS agents suggests they were trying to get the information in any convoluted or confusing manner might produce the result they desired.

[2] MIL. R. EVID. 314(e)(4).

III. The evidence obtained from CSSN Copeland's phone should be excluded pursuant to the exclusionary rule.

Exclusion of the evidence discovered in this case from CSSN Copeland's phone is warranted. Although new discovery lists the workable document of CSSN Copeland's phone extraction being made pursuant to a CASS, that information is contradicted by other reports NCIS created in discovery. Moreover, the DFE report makes clear that the initial extraction of CSSN Copeland's phone, which is the search, was completed pursuant to a PASS. However, there was no PASS that CSSN Copeland signed permitting a search of his phone. Further, the CASS later mentioned within the DFE report had not been signed until the following day. Harm to the Government's case would be minimal when balancing the preservation of CSSN Copeland's constitutional rights. Furthermore, excluding the evidence obtained from CSSN Copeland's phone would ensure the protection of the justice system by deterring unconstitutional law enforcement practices, and attempts to deceive, which is the driving purpose of why the exclusionary rule was created.

RELIEF REQUESTED

The Defense respectfully requests this Court to suppress all evidence obtained and derived from the 4 June 2025 Permissive Authorization to Search and Seize (PASS) to include the contents of CSSN Copeland's cellular phone.

U.S. NAVAL CRIMINAL INVESTIGATIVE SERVICE

INVESTIGATIVE ACTION 01JUN25

CONTROL: 01JUN25-NFNF-00237-7HNA

S/COPELAND, JERMIAH TAYLOR/SN USN
[redacted] PII

RESULTS OF INITIAL INTERVIEW OF CSSN JERMIAH COPELAND, USN

1. On 01Jun25, Reporting Agent (RA) and Participating Agent (PA) Jessica GOKEY interviewed CSSN Jermiah COPELAND (S/COPELAND), USN, USS JAMES E WILLIAMS (DDG 95) regarding his knowledge of the whereabouts of V/[redacted]. The interview took place in the lounge area on third floor of building X2, Willis Manor, located on Naval Station Norfolk (NOB), and was not recorded.

2. As background, V/[redacted] and S/COPELAND were placed into a Unauthorized Absence (UA) status subsequent to 29May25, after failing to report to work. On 01Jun25, after speaking with S/COPELAND's mother, NCIS and S/COPELAND's mother contacted Naval Station Norfolk (NOB) Base Police to conduct a follow-up health and welfare check on both S/COPELAND and V/[redacted]. The Naval Station Norfolk Watch Commander advised NOB Security Forces located S/COPELAND in his barracks rooms in Willis Manor, Room 335. NCIS was advised that Security Forces received no answer at V/[redacted]s door when they knocked on her barracks room located on NOB, Miller Hall, Room 1083.

3. During his interview, S/COPELAND described his relationship with V/[redacted] as co-workers. S/COPELAND stated he texted with V/[redacted] on Wednesday, 28May25 to discuss recipes and ingredients for tacos. S/COPELAND stated V/[redacted] came over to his barracks room, made tacos and they both consumed alcohol. S/COPELAND explained V/[redacted] gradually became more upset as the night progressed and they spoke about her current and past romantic relationships. S/COPELAND stated V/[redacted] spoke on the phone to two (2) ex-boyfriends, both of which were confrontational calls. One call was with an ex-boyfriend he still believed was located in Texas (NFI) and the other call was with HT3 Michael GILLESPIE, USN, DDG 95.

4. S/COPELAND explained V/[redacted] and HT3 GILLESPIE argued over returning a motorcycle helmet and that HT3 GILLESPIE wanted it back. S/COPELAND said V/[redacted] explained her relationship with HT3 GILLESPIE was toxic and described her most recent ex-boyfriend, ET3 Daniel RICH, USN, DDG 95, as at first being a sweetheart and then he wasn't. S/COPELAND said ET3 RICH and HT3 GILLESPIE do not get along, that they have issues with each other, and opined it was due to their relationships with V/[redacted]. S/COPELAND said HT3 GILLESPIE has come to the galley on the ship a lot, which sometimes caused issues. S/COPELAND said he did not know of any instances of HT3 GILLESPIE being violent toward V/[redacted] and that HT3 GILLESPIE was more of a topic of conversation than ET3 RICH was during their evening together.

CONTROL:01JUN25-NFNF-00237-7HNA 01JUN25

S/COPELAND described his role during the evening as a sounding board for V[redacted].

5. S/COPELAND recalled one of his roommates walked into the barracks suite (common area) and asked if V[redacted] was okay as she was upset, which he (S/COPELAND) responded yes.

6. S/COPELAND explained V[redacted] spent the night in his barracks room and they did not have sexual intercourse. S/COPELAND said he was supposed to work on Thursday 29May25, however, he woke up late as FCC Brad PARKER, USN, DDG 95, came to his barracks room at approximately 0900 and woke he and V[redacted]. S/COPELAND said he misunderstood FCC PARKER and did not report to work. S/COPELAND said he borrow his roommate's vehicle and drove V/[redacted] back to her barracks at approximately 1000 hours. S/COPELAND said this was the last time he saw V/[redacted]

1_Copeland Interview_3Jun25

MS. BEA: Okay. I didn't know what you prefer, so you all that.

CSSN COPELAND: Thank you.

MS. BEA: Yeah, no problem. I'll be right back with you. Okay.

CSSN COPELAND: All right. Thank you.

[Ms. Bea departed the room.]

MS. BEA: Sorry, Jeremiah, for that delay. You good?

CSSN COPELAND: Yeah, I'm fine.

MS. BEA: Did you eat?

CSSN COPELAND: I ate a little.

MS. BEA: Do you want more and CheezIts?

CSSN COPELAND: [Negative response.]

MS. BEA: Okay. If you change your mind, let me know, okay?

CSSN COPELAND: [Affirmative response.]

MS. BEA: Jess introduced herself, right? You know Justin?

Yeah.

SA GOKEY: I'll do it again. Oh, just for, you know.

CSSN COPELAND: Yes, ma'am.

SA GOKEY: Special Agent Jessica Gokey.

MS. BEA: I'm still Bea.

CSSN COPELAND: [Inaudible 00:07:49.]

SA GOKEY: Your CAC is it in your wallet?

CSSN COPELAND: Yes, ma'am.

SA GOKEY: Okay. [Hands wallet to CSSN Copeland.]

CSSN COPELAND: Yes, ma'am. [Did as directed.]

SA GOKEY: All righty. I'll put that back out here with your stuff. All right.

Okay. So, I know we talked Sunday a little bit about what's going on, but that was more like super informal. Now, we're in like the more formal setting, so I'm just going to get some information from you, okay?

CSSN COPELAND: Yes, ma'am. All right.

Just need--okay. What day did you report to the ship, roughly?

CSSN COPELAND: I believe like February 21st.

SA GOKEY: Okay. Of this year, right?

CSSN COPELAND: Yes, ma'am.

SA GOKEY: Okay. Okey-dokey. What--you're CSSN, right?

CSSN COPELAND: Yes, ma'am.

SA GOKEY: Okay. Okay. Branch? U.S.

Sex?

CSSN COPELAND: Male.

SA GOKEY: Race?

CSSN COPELAND: Black. African American.

SA GOKEY: Okay. U.S. citizen?

CSSN COPELAND: Yes, ma'am.

SA GOKEY: Do you have a clearance?

CSSN COPELAND: I don't think so.

SA GOKEY: Okay. What's your full social?

CSSN COPELAND: [Redacted.]

SA GOKEY: [Redacted.]

CSSN COPELAND: [Redacted.]

SA GOKEY: Just kidding.

CSSN COPELAND: [Redacted.]

SA GOKEY: [Redacted.]

CSSN COPELAND: [Redacted.]

SA GOKEY: [Redacted.]

CSSN COPELAND: [Redacted.]

SA GOKEY: [Redacted.]

All right. Date of birth?

CSSN COPELAND: PII

SA GOKEY: Got another '05.

MS. BEA: It just makes us feel old.

SA GOKEY: It makes me feel old. I was a junior in high school.

How tall are you?

CSSN COPELAND: Like five-ten. Five-nine and a half.

SA GOKEY: I'll give you five-ten.

Weight?

CSSN COPELAND: Like 157.

SA GOKEY: Okay. Hair color?

CSSN COPELAND: Black.

SA GOKEY: Place of birth?

CSSN COPELAND: [redacted].

SA GOKEY: [redacted]. Was that [redacted]?

CSSN COPELAND: Yes, ma'am.

SA GOKEY: Is it [redacted]?

CSSN COPELAND: [redacted].

SA GOKEY: All right. Eye color?

CSSN COPELAND: Brown.

SA GOKEY: Brown. Okay. When are you set to rotate?

CSSN COPELAND: I don't even know.

SA GOKEY: No? Okay.

Is this your first enlistment?

CSSN COPELAND: Yes, ma'am.

SA GOKEY: So, when did you enlist?

CSSN COPELAND: I joined the Navy July 13th, 2023.

SA GOKEY: 13th, July 23. Okay. I see you got tattoos. What's your favorite?

SA GOKEY: Okay. What's it say?

CSSN COPELAND: In life, we all suffer, but I'll find my way through the darkness.

SA GOKEY: Okay. Is that from the Bible?

CSSN COPELAND: No, ma'am.

SA GOKEY: What's it from?

CSSN COPELAND: Just a quote.

SA GOKEY: Okay. And that's your left arm?

CSSN COPELAND: Yes, ma'am.

SA GOKEY: All right. And you currently reside at PII?

CSSN COPELAND: Yes, ma'am.

SA GOKEY: Room number?

CSSN COPELAND: PII.

SA GOKEY: Are you Alpha Bravo?

CSSN COPELAND: I believe--I don't even know.

SA GOKEY: Okay.

CSSN COPELAND: Bravo.

SA GOKEY: Okay. And then in the room, do you know if you're---

CSSN COPELAND: I believe I'm Alpha.

SA GOKEY: You're Alpha in the room. Okay.

CSSN COPELAND: Yes, ma'am.

SA GOKEY: Okay. What's a good note--a good phone number for you?

CSSN COPELAND: PII.

SA GOKEY: PII.

CSSN COPELAND: PII.

SA GOKEY: PII.

CSSN COPELAND: PII.

SA GOKEY: PII Okay. Good email?

CSSN COPELAND: [redacted]

SA GOKEY: Seven at Gmail. Okay. Do you have a vehicle?

CSSN COPELAND: No, no ma'am.

SA GOKEY: Okay. What is your home address of record?

CSSN COPELAND: [redacted]

SA GOKEY: Upland?

CSSN COPELAND: Yes, ma'am.

SA GOKEY: Okay. Is that Durham?

CSSN COPELAND: No, that's in [redacted].

SA GOKEY: Oh, [redacted].

Okay. Do you know the zip code?

CSSN COPELAND: [redacted].

SA GOKEY: [redacted].

Okay. Highest level of education?

CSSN COPELAND: High school diploma.

SA GOKEY: High school. Okay.

You married?

CSSN COPELAND: No, ma'am.

SA GOKEY: All right. Who's your next to kin?

CSSN COPELAND: My mom.

SA GOKEY: Mom. What's Mama's name?

CSSN COPELAND: Rochelle Brown. R-O-C-H-E-L-L. And like--like the color brown.

SA GOKEY: Okay. Do you know Mom's phone number by chance?

CSSN COPELAND: [redacted]

SA GOKEY: All right. Most--most people don't know their parents' number or they're next to kin.

Do you have a civilian occupation? Like, do you Uber Eats or anything on the side?

CSSN COPELAND: No.

SA GOKEY: Okay.

Do you want to see that?

MS. BEA: No.

SA GOKEY: Okay. I figured. We'll just have--have you hold onto that.

Okay. So, I know from past experience you've been down this road before with Ms. Bea here, and kind of like what--why we were at your room today. So, we're executing a CASS, which is a Command Authorized Search and Seizure because Resendez, that was the last place, you know, we--you--somebody saw her, me being you?

CSSN COPELAND: Yes, ma'am.

SA GOKEY: So, that's why we're doing that. Right? So, right now we're classifying her as UA.

CSSN COPELAND: [Affirmative response.]

SA GOKEY: And I would like to talk to you about the time that you were also UA and some other inconsist--inconsistencies I've gotten from the previous statement that we had in order to protect you. I want to read you your rights.

CSSN COPELAND: Yes, ma'am.

SA GOKEY: And then, we can discuss further if you want to, okay?

CSSN COPELAND: Yes, ma'am.

SA GOKEY: Okay. If you don't mind, I'm going to scoot a little closer.

CSSN COPELAND: Yes, ma'am.

SA GOKEY: Okay. So, I am going to read this to you. All right?

CSSN COPELAND: Yes, ma'am.

SA GOKEY: And then, whenever I say like, "One," and then I read it, I'm going to ask you if you understand.

CSSN COPELAND: Yes, ma'am.

SA GOKEY: You're going to say yes or no. If you understand. Yes. If you don't know, and then I'll explain further for you. Okay?

CSSN COPELAND: Yes, ma'am.

SA GOKEY: All right. So, the place is in NCIS U-40. That is this building. The date is 03 June 25. You, Jeremiah Copeland, have been advised by me, Special Agent Jessica Gokey, that you were suspected of Article 86, unauthorized absence, and Article 107, false official.

You have also been advised that:

One, you have the right to remain silent and make no statement at all.

Do you understand this right?

CSSN COPELAND: I understand the right, but what is Article 107 for false official?

SA GOKEY: So, it's the false official statement. So, I'm going to ask you questions that could be incriminating.

CSSN COPELAND: [Affirmative response.]

SA GOKEY: About, you know, the story that we talked about on Sunday.

CSSN COPELAND: [Affirmative response.]

SA GOKEY: So, because you're military, you guys get----

CSSN COPELAND: Articles.

SA GOKEY: Yeah. You guys and you also get to get told what we're talking about it, so there's no surprises. So I am--I'm going to ask you questions that could be incriminating. So, therefore, I have to read you that right? Or excuse me, that article.

CSSN COPELAND: Yes, ma'am.

SA GOKEY: Does that make sense?

CSSN COPELAND: Yes, ma'am.

SA GOKEY: Okay. So, I'll read number one again. All right. You have the right to remain silent and make no statement at all.

Do you understand this right?

CSSN COPELAND: Yes, ma'am.

SA GOKEY: Okay. I'm going to ask you to initial it, it is not that you're waiving your right at that time.

CSSN COPELAND: Yeah, I understand.

SA GOKEY: Okay, perfect. Just saying that you understand.

All right, and so I'll read number two. Any statement you make can be used against you in a trial by court-martial or other judicial or administrative proceedings.

Do you understand this right?

CSSN COPELAND: Yes, ma'am.

SA GOKEY: Okay, go ahead for me.

Three. You have the right to consult with a lawyer prior to any questioning. This lawyer may be a civilian lawyer retained by you at no cost to the United States, a military lawyer appointed to act as your counsel at no cost to you, or both.

Do you understand this right?

CSSN COPELAND: Yes, ma'am.

SA GOKEY: Okay, go ahead.

CSSN COPELAND: [Did as directed.]

SA GOKEY: Four. You have the right to have your retained lawyer and or appointed military lawyer present during this interview.

Do you understand this right?

CSSN COPELAND: Yes, ma'am.

SA GOKEY: Okay. And five, you may terminate this interview at any time for any reason.

Do you understand this right?

CSSN COPELAND: Yes, ma'am.

SA GOKEY: Okay, go ahead.

CSSN COPELAND: [Did as directed.]

SA GOKEY: All right. So, one through five. Do you have any questions about that at all?

CSSN COPELAND: No, ma'am.

SA GOKEY: Okay, perfect.

So, at this time, Jeremiah, do you want to continue this conversation?

CSSN COPELAND: Yes, ma'am.

SA GOKEY: Okay. Go ahead and read that paragraph out loud for me.

CSSN COPELAND: I understand my rights as relative to me and--to me and as set forth above. With that understanding, I have decided that I do not desire to remain silent, consult with a retained or appoint lawyer, or have a lawyer present at this time. I make this decision freely and voluntarily. No threats or promises have been made with me--or been made to me.

SA GOKEY: Perfect. Have I threatened you today?

CSSN COPELAND: No, ma'am.

SA GOKEY: Has any other agent threatened you?

CSSN COPELAND: No, ma'am.

SA GOKEY: Have we made any promises to you?

CSSN COPELAND: No, ma'am.

SA GOKEY: Okay. If you would just initial before and after that paragraph for me.

CSSN COPELAND: [Did as directed.]

SA GOKEY: And then, I'll have you sign and date.

CSSN COPELAND: [Did as directed.]

SA GOKEY: Okay. And then, I will sign it, and I'll have Ms. Bea sign it as well.

CSSN COPELAND: Yes, ma'am.

SA GOKEY: Ms. Bea. [Hands document to Ms. Bea.]

Thank you. All right.

Okay. All right, Jeremiah. Okay. So, if you need a break, if you need to use the restroom, or you need more snackies, let me know. Okay?

CSSN COPELAND: Yes, ma'am.

SA GOKEY: All right. So, we know we're talking about [redacted].

Can you go ahead and tell me, you know, the events leading up to why we're here right now?

CSSN COPELAND: So, I mean, I--what is it? We were at work, and she gave me a recipe to make salsa, and I was like, "I'm probably going to make it by tonight, or some shit." So, she was like, "Cool." And she was like, "If you do end up making tacos, then just call me." I was like, "All right. Bet. Cool."

So, I got home. By the time I got off work and everything, I called her and I was like, "I'm finna make tacos." And she was like, "All right." So, I told her I was just going to go to the store just to grab the rest of the stuff that was on the--like on the menu that she gave me. And then from there I went to the store, got everything, and then I came and picked her up, and we came back home. From there, we cooked--well, she made the salsa. We made tacos. She taught me how to make these, like, little tortillas, like out of the corn tortillas.

From there everything was cool, and we were just chilling, playing music, listening music. From there, she--it took a left turn when I told her something about one of the dudes that she messes with on the boat. And then, from there she was just, she got on the floor and she called one of her ex-boyfriends from Texas. We were sitting there talking for about maybe like 15, 20 minutes, maybe 25, just talking about the situation. Everything.

After that, she hung up, and she was just going on a call spree, calling hella people. And then from there, I guess she just broke down, whatever, saying how he did this. He did that. Cool. And then, from there, my roommate walked--walked in the room, and he asked if everything was good. I was like, "Just let her have a moment." because she's just sitting there crying. I'm not going to sit there and entertain that. So, we went to sleep. The morning comes, and obviously, I had to be at work, so I didn't show up. My Chief came in the room and he asked, "What's going on?" I was just saying, "I'm just having a late start." And he was like, "All right. Cool." He told me, "Do I have a ride to work?" And I said, "I, at the current moment, I was like, my roommate can take me, but I have--I have to wait until he gets off work." So, my Chief was like, "All right. Cool."

And so, my roommate got off late, so by the time my roommate got home, like they were already gone. So, I was just like, "Fuck it." And I was just like, I wasn't going to go in. So, I didn't go in. And then Friday comes, Saturday goes by, and then CS1 and my chief text me saying that I'm being marked UA. And from there, I was just like, all right.

And Sunday comes, the MAs come because my mom called because I haven't contacted my mom. So, I guess that part it was a well welfare check.

So, Sunday, I ended up going to the ship. And from there, I did urinalysis. And after urinalysis, they released me, and I went back home.

SA GOKEY: Okay. Okay. All right. So, you went to--so, let's go back to when--what day did she come over?

CSSN COPELAND: Thursday.

SA GOKEY: Okay. You're positive it was Thursday?

CSSN COPELAND: Yes, ma'am. I believe it was Thursday.

SA GOKEY: Okay. Okay. So, you were going to make tacos, and you were going to go to the store to get the ingredients?

CSSN COPELAND: Yes, ma'am.

SA GOKEY: Okay. And you did go to the store?

CSSN COPELAND: Yes, ma'am.

SA GOKEY: How did you get to the store?

CSSN COPELAND: My roommate took me to the store.

SA GOKEY: Okay. Which roommate?

CSSN COPELAND: I don't specifically know his name, but he's across the room from me. He's the black African dude.

SA GOKEY: Okay. So, the--the black guy in the other room?

CSSN COPELAND: Yes, ma'am.

SA GOKEY: Okay. What kind of car does he drive?

INSTRUCTIONS FOR ASSEMBLING THE CERTIFIED RECORD OF TRIAL

Arrange and bind the record of trial with allied papers in the sequence indicated below. The court reporter is responsible for certifying the record of trial prior to transmittal for appellate review, in accordance with R.C.M. 1112 and JAG/CNLSCINST 5813.1G.

d. Financial account information.

e. Home addresses.

f. Telephone numbers.

g. Personal e-mail addresses.

h. Dates of birth.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR ASSEMBLING THE CERTIFIED RECORD OF TRIAL

i. Any other information that could be used to identify a specific person other than the accused.

*If the report of preliminary hearing or record of trial contains exhibits, proceedings, or other materials ordered sealed by the preliminary hearing officer or military judge, counsel for the Government, the court reporter, or trial counsel shall cause such materials to be sealed to prevent unauthorized examination or disclosure, pursuant to R.C.M. 1113. Sealed material shall be properly marked, individually placed in separate envelopes with a copy of the preliminary hearing officer or military judge sealing order affixed to it, and inserted at the appropriate place in the record of trial. Do not duplicate sealed material to include it in any copy of the record of trial. Instead, insert a copy of the sealing order in lieu of any sealed material, in any copies of the record of trial.

DIVIDERS ARE NOT NECESSARY TO SEPARATE EACH SECTION. IF USED, THEY CAN BE PAPER RATHER THAN CARD STOCK. IF A PARTICULAR COMPONENT IS NOT APPLICABLE IN THE RECORD OF TRIAL, SUCH AS AN ARTICLE 32 HEARING, EXHIBITS NOT ADMITTED, POST-TRIAL PROCEEDINGS AND VACATION HEARINGS, DO NOT INSERT A DIVIDER OR PLACEHOLDER.

FRONT AND BACK COVER MUST BE ON BLUE CARDS STOCK AND LABELED WITH GUM LABELS.

Binding. Each volume of a record of trial should be no more than 1.5 inches thick and bound at the top with metal or plastic fasteners. DO NOT interlace or "piggy-back" prong fasteners to create an oversized volume. DO NOT place hole punches where it covers up the evidence or language in the transcript. When it becomes necessary to assemble the record of trial in more than one volume, the volumes will be numbered consecutively, on the front cover, as illustrated below:

Volume 1 of 4 (Pages 1-250)
Volume 2 of 4 (Pages 251-400)
Volume 3 of 4 (Pages 401-652)
Volume 4 of 4 (Pages 653-901 and Exhibits)

Make the first volume of a multi-volume record an inch thick or smaller to allow for inclusion of post-trial documents. Limit subsequent volumes to 1.5 inches, unless dividing them requires assembling an additional volume smaller than a half inch.

Label the upper right-hand corner or the Preparation and Certification of Record of Trial Form (enclosure (8)) to reflect which copy it is, i.e., "ORIGINAL," "ACCUSED," "REVIEW" etc.
